Son of Sargon, and king of Assyria (B. C. 705-681), to which the kingdom of Judah was at that time tributary. When Hezekiah, the king of Judah, refused to pay tribute to him, Sennacherib invaded Judæa and forced him to submit. But when Hezekiah revolted a second time, the army sent by Sennacherib against him was smitten by a plague, and 185,000 of his soldiers are said to have died in one night (II Ki. 19:35). Sennacherib was slain by two of his sons in the temple of Nisroch at Nineveh, and was succeeded by Esarhaddon, a third son (ver. 36, 37).

SEN'-U-AH (the violated)—R. V., "Hassenuah."
A Benjamite, father of Judah, who was second over Jerusalem in the days of Nehemiah, B. C. 445. See HASENUAH. Neh. 11:9.

SE-O'-RIM (fear, distress).
A priest in the days of David to whom the fourth charge of the Sanctuary was given by lot. I Ch. 24:8.

SE'-PHAR.
A mount of the East in the S. W. of Arabia, on the S. of Yemen; or Thafor in Hadramaut, at the sea, in Arabia Felix. Gen. 10:30.

SEPH'-A-RAD.
The ancient Iberia or Georgia, between Colchis and Albania; or Spain, according to the Targums, Peshito, Ben Gannach, Kimchi, etc. Obad. :20.

SE-PHAR-VA'-IM.
A city in S. Mesopotamia, joined with Babylon, Cutha, Ava, Hamath, Arpad, Hena, Ivah, Gozan, Carchemish, Haran, Rezeph, Telasser, as being conquered by Shalmanezer, II Ki. 17:24, 31; 18:34; 19:13; Isa. 36:19; 37:13.

SE'-PHAR-VITES.
The inhabitants of Sepharvaim; they were accustomed to burn their children in the fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, their gods, even after their removal to Samaria. II Ki. 17:31.

SEP'-TU-A-GINT (seventy) or LXX.
The Greek version of the Old Testament; made by seventy or seventy-two interpreters, at Alexandria, Egypt, in the third century before Christ, for the Jews of the dispersion (called Hellenists). The character of the version varies much in the several books; those of the Pentateuch are the best, and it is probable that they were translated first, when Hebrew MSS. were more correct and Hebrew better known. The poetical parts are, generally speaking, inferior to the historical, the original abounding with rarer words and expressions. In the major prophets, some of the most important prophecies are sadly obscured. The Sept. version of the book of Daniel was not used, that of Theodotion being substituted for it. Ezekiel and the minor prophets (generally) appear to be better rendered. The Sept. was used in the synagogues at the time of Christ, and usually quoted from in the Greek Testament. The oldest manuscripts of the Septuagint are in the Vatican and Sinaitic codices, both of the fourth century; while our oldest Hebrew manuscripts date from the ninth century; hence, the Sept. may, in part, represent an older Hebrew text. See BIBLE.

SEPULCHRE.—When possible, the Jews uniformly disposed of the corpse by entombment, and, failing that, by interment; extending this practice even to the remains of the slain enemy and malefactor (I Ki. 11:15; Deut. 21:23), in the latter case by express provision of the law. To disturb remains was regarded as a barbarity, only justifiable in the case of those who had themselves outraged religion (II Ki. 23:16, 17; Jer. 8:1, 2). A natural cave enlarged and adapted by excavation, or an artificial imitation of one, was the standard type of sepulchre in the earlier times; in later days, however, it was not unusual for a single family to have near their dwelling-house a small building of stone or other durable material, containing only one entrance, in which they deposited their dead. Some of these sepulchres were very expensively built, and were frequently whitened (Mat. 23:27) to make them conspicuous and easy to be avoided, as contact with them rendered one ceremonially unclean (Num. 19:16). See BURYING; GRAVE.

SE'-RAH, SA'-RAH (extension)—R. V., "Serah."
A daughter of Asher, and sister of Jimnah, Ishuah, and Beriah, who went down to Egypt with Jacob. Gen. 46:17; Num. 26:46; I Ch. 7:30.

SE-RA'-IAH (Jehovah is prince).
1. David's scribe. See SCRIBE. II Sa. 8:17.

2. The Son of Azariah, and chief priest at Jerusalem when Nebuchadnezzar took it, B. C. 587. II Ki. 25:18; I Ch. 6:14; Ezra 7:1; Jer. 52:24.

3. Son of Tanhumeth, from Netophah, whom Gedaliah advised to submit to the Chaldeans, B. C. 587. II Ki. 25:23; Jer. 40:8.

4. A son of Kenaz, and brother of Othniel, and father of Joab. I Ch. 4:13, 14.

5. A Simeonite, son of Asiel. I Ch. 4:35.

6. A priest that returned with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:2; Neh. 10:2; 12:1, 12.

7. A priest, son of Hilkiah, dwelling in Jerusalem after the Exile and called "ruler of the house of God." Neh. 11:11.

8. A chief man, son of Aziel, and sent by Jehoiakim to take Jeremiah and Baruch. Jer. 36:26.

9. A prince of Judah, and son of Neriah; he went to Babylon with Zedekiah. Jer. 51:59, 61.

SER'-A-PHIMS (burning ones)—R. V., "Seraphim."
Symbolic beings seen in vision, with six wings each, in attendance on the Lord. Isa. 6:2, 6.

SE'-RED (escape, deliverance).
The eldest son of Zebulun. Gen. 46:14; Num. 26:26.

SER'-GI-US PAU'-LUS.
The Roman deputy of Cyprus when Paul and Barnabas visited it; he was converted by Elymas, or Bar-jesus, being struck with blindness. Acts 13:7.

SERJEANTS.—Roman lictors or officers who attended the chief magistrates when they appeared in public, and who inflicted the punishment that had been pronounced. Acts 16:35, 38.

SERPENT.—Snake; a creature of the reptile class noted for its subtility, its wisdom in avoiding danger, and for the dread it instinctively inspires in man and beast. Systematical nomenclators and travelers enumerate considerably more than forty species of serpents in N. Africa, Arabia, and Syria. Of these, it is scarcely possible to point with certainty a single one named in the Bible, where very few descriptive indications occur beyond what in scientific language would now be applied generically. Serpents were worshipped by the Egyptians and other nations in the East. Frequent allusions are made by sacred writers to the serpent as an emblem of wickedness (Mat. 23:33), cruelty (Prov. 23:32), and treachery (Gen. 49:17). The devil is called "the old serpent" (Rev. 12:9), with reference to our first parents (II Co. 11:3). The "fiery serpents" mentioned in Num. 21:6; Deut. 8:15 were probably so called from the burning sensation produced by their deadly bite. "Fiery flying serpents" (Isa. 14:29; 30:6) is an expression probably referring to the quick, darting movements of some of the Eastern-desert serpents.

SERPENT, BRAZEN.—A metallic ("brazen"; i. e., copper-cast) figure of a serpent erected or hung on a pole by Moses in accordance with divine command; and everyone that had been bitten by a serpent and who looked toward it was cured (Num. 21:5 sq.; cp. Jno. 3:14). This supernatural remedy was made necessary by the fact that the Israelites, while on their way from Mount Hor to the Elanitic Gulf, were bitten by venomous serpents, so that they were dying in large numbers. From the notice in the Gospel (Jno. 3:14), most Christian interpreters infer that the "brazen serpent" was intended as a type of Christ as the Redeemer of the world. This "brazen serpent" was still, in the time of Hezekiah, an object of idolatrous reverence among the Israelites (II Ki. 18:4).

Grandson of Peleg, and father of Nahor, father of Terah; one of the postdiluvian patriarchs. B. C. 2185-1955. Gen. 11:20-23; I Ch. 1:26.

SERVANT.—In the Bible, this word does not always refer to a domestic or slave, for it is sometimes applied to any one under the authority of another; thus, in Mat. 26:58; Mark 14:54, 65; Jno. 18:36, it means "officers" (as usually in the R. V.). In some passages of the O. T., the word properly means young man or minister. On the other hand, in I Ki. 20:14, 15, we should substitute servants for "young men."

SERVITOR.—One who ministers to, or serves. See SERVANT. II Ki. 4:43.

SETH (compensation).
A son of Adam and Eve, born after the death of Abel, and the father of Enos (when 105 years old). He is called SHETH in I Ch. 1:1; and lived to be 912 years old. B. C. 3874-2962. Gen. 4:25, 26; 5:3-8—Lu. 3:38.

SE'-THUR (secreted, hidden).
An Asherite (son of Michael) whom Moses sent to spy out the land. Num. 13:13.

SEVEN.—From the very beginning of time (from the human standpoint), seven has been the number of days in the week; and hence it has a special emphasis attached to it, and is used in Scripture as a round number, or, as some would say, a perfect number, in much the same way in which we use "ten" or "a dozen" (Gen. 7:2; Mat. 12:45). In like manner, "seven times" or "seven-fold" means often, abundantly, while "seventy times seven" denotes a still higher degree (Gen. 4:15; Mat. 18:21, 22). See NUMBER.

SEV'-EN STARS.
The Pleiades: their names are Alcyone, Merope, Maia, Electra, Tayegeta, Sterope, and Celæno; they are also called Atlantides and Hesperides. Amos 5:8.

7. A priest who returned with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Neh. 12:3.

SHE'-CHEM (shoulder).
1. A Levitical city and district in Mount Ephraim, on Gerizim and Ebal; it was also a city of refuge, and the first residence of the kings of Israel or of the ten tribes. In the time of the Romans, it was called Neapolis, and at present Nablus; it is the seat of the Samaritan worship, and has a population of over 10,000, most of whom are Mohammedans. Shechem is also called SICHEM (Gen. 12:6), SYCHEM (Acts 7:16), and is generally supposed to be identical with SYCHAR (Jno. 4:5). It is about 4000 years old, and was a Hivite city when Jacob came from Mesopotamia. It was the first city in Canaan visited by Abraham, B. C. 1921; Joseph was buried in this place, B. C. 1427; here Joshua addressed for the last time the tribes of Israel, B. C. 1427; Abimelech was elected king by its inhabitants, B. C. 1235; and all Israel was assembled there to make Rehoboam king, B. C. 975; at Jacob's well, in its vicinity, Jesus met with the woman of Samaria, A. D. 27; and Justin Martyr was born here, about A. D. 100. Gen. 33:18; 35:4; 37:12-14; Josh, 17:7; 20:7; 21:21; 24:1, 25, 32.

SHEEP.—This well-known animal has, from the earliest times, contributed to the wants of mankind. Sheep were a very important part of the possessions of the ancient Hebrews and of Eastern nations generally. They are first mentioned in Gen. 4:2. The ancient Israelites probably kept the broad-tailed variety, the tail or "rump" of which is a mass of delicate fat weighing from ten to fifteen pounds, and considered the choicest part of the animal (Ex. 29:22).

Sheep were used in the sacrificial offerings, both the adult animal (Ex. 20:24; I Ki. 8:63) and the lamb; but young lambs of the first year were more generally used in offerings (see Ex. 29:38; Lev. 9:3; 12:6, etc.). No lamb under eight days old was allowed to be killed (Lev. 22:27). Sheep and lambs formed an important article of food (I Sa. 25:18; I Ki. 1:19; 4:23), and ewe's milk is associated with that of the cow (Isa. 7:21, 22). Wool was used as clothing (Lev. 13:47; Deut. 22:11; Prov. 31:13). Trumpets may have been made of the horns of rams (Josh. 6:4), though the rendering of the A. V. in this passage is generally thought to be incorrect. "Rams' skins dyed red" were used as a covering for the Tabernacle (Ex. 25:5). Sheep and lambs were sometimes paid as tribute (II Ki. 3:4).

Immense numbers of sheep were raised in Palestine in biblical times (II Ki. 3:4; I Ch. 5:21; II Ch. 15:11; 30:24). Especial mention is made of the sheep of Bozrah (Mic. 2:12; Isa. 34:6), in the land of Edom, a district well suited for pasturing sheep. "Bashan and Gilead" are also mentioned as pastures (Mic. 7:14). "The flocks of Kedar" and "the rams of Nebaioth," two sons of Ishmael (Gen. 25:13) that settled in Arabia, are referred to in Isa. 60:7. Sheep-shearing is frequently alluded to (Gen. 31:19; 38:13; Deut. 15:19; I Sa. 25:4). Sheep-dogs were employed in biblical times, as is evident from Job 30:1. Shepherds in Palestine and the East generally go before their flocks, which they induce to follow by calling to them (cp. Jno. 10:4); though they sometimes drove them (Gen. 33:13). It was customary among the ancient Hebrews to give names to sheep and goats, as we do to our dairy cattle (see Jno. 10:3).

The relation of the sheep to man, in a pastoral country, gave rise to many beautiful symbols and interesting illustrations. Jehovah is frequently alluded to as the shepherd of his people, and Israel as his flock (Psa. 23:1; 80:1; Isa. 40:11; Jer. 23:1, 2); the apostasy of sinners from God is the straying of a lost sheep (Psa. 119:176; Isa. 53:6); and the Son of God coming down to our world is a shepherd seeking his sheep which were lost (Lu. 15:4-6). Christ is the only shepherd; all who do not own Him are thieves and robbers (Jno. 10:8); or wolves in sheep's clothing (Mat. 7:15). He is the Good Shepherd, Who gave his life for the sheep (Jno. 10:11); and now He gives them eternal life in resurrection (ver. 28; Rom. 6:9-11; Col. 2:12). As the sheep is an emblem of meekness, patience, and submission, it is expressly mentioned as typifying these qualities in the person of Christ (Isa. 53:7; Acts 8:32), Who is also called "the lamb of God" (Jno. 1:29).

SHEEP COTE.—Sheep-fold. See FOLD. II Sa. 7:8; I Ch. 17:7.

SHEEP FOLD.—See FOLD. Num. 32:16—Jno. 10:1.

SHE-MID'-A-ITES.
Descendants of Shemidah, son of Gilead. Num. 26:32.

SHEM'-I-NITH (the eighth).—A musical term, the signification of which is doubtful. Some think it probable that Sheminith denotes a certain air known as "the eighth," or a certain key in which the music was to be sung. Most rabbinical writers follow the Targum in regarding the term as referring to a harp with eight strings; but this is probably founded on a misconstruction of I Ch. 15:21. Others think the word means octave. I Ch. 15:21; Psa. 6: title; 12: title.

SHE-MIR'-A-MOTH (fame of the highest).
1. A Levite appointed for the choral service of the Tabernacle. I Ch. 15:18, 20; 16:5.

An official of the king of Persia in the district adjoining Judah. Ezra 5:3, 6; 6:6, 13.

SHE'-VA (self-satisfying).
1. A scribe or secretary of David. II Sa. 20:25.

2. Father of Machbenah, and son of Maachah, concubine of Caleb, son of Jephunneh. I Ch. 2:49.

SHEW.—"Show" in the R. V. This form of the word is now obsolete, except in SHEW-BREAD (which see). Gal. 6:12; I Ti. 5:4.

SHEW BREAD.—Unleavened (Josephus, Ant. III, 6:6; 10:7) bread prepared anew every Sabbath and offered to the Lord on a table of shittim wood (i. e., acacia) two cubits in length, a cubit in breadth, and a cubit and a half in height, overlaid with pure gold, and having "a golden crown to the border thereof round about" (Ex. 25:23-30). The cakes or loaves of bread were to be placed in two rows, six in each. The number of the loaves (twelve) is considered by Philo and Josephus to represent the twelve months; however, if there was such a reference, it must surely have been quite subordinate to that which is obvious at once—the twelve loaves plainly correspond to the twelve tribes of Israel (cp. Rev. 22:2). "Shew bread" or "bread of the face" was so called because it stood continually before the Lord. Only the priests could lawfully eat it (Mat. 12:4). This rite was one of the leading and most solemn appointments of the Sanctuary, but its significance is left wholly unexplained in Scripture.

SHIB'-BO-LETH (stream, or ear of corn).—A word used as a test in separating the Ephraimites from the Gileadites in a battle between them. The Ephraimites were unable to properly pronounce "Shibboleth"—calling it Sibboleth—and 42,000 of them were slain by the Gileadites. See Judg. 12:1-6.

SHIB'-MAH (balsam)—R. V., "Sibmah."
A city in Reuben, once Moabite, near Kirjathaim and Jazer. See SIBMAH. Num. 32:38.

A city in N. W. of Judah. Josh. 15:11.

SHIELD.—A piece of defensive armor, of various forms and sizes, but usually round or oval, borne on the left arm near the elbow, and used to protect the bearer from the missiles and weapons of the enemy. Shields were made of a light wooden framework covered with tough hides, and of metal (II Sa. 1:21; I Ch. 18:7). A long shield that protected the whole body was called a "target" (I Ki. 10:16; R. V., "buckler").

SHIG-GA'-ION.—This word probably means wild and mournful. Psa. 7: title.

SHIG-I-O'-NOTH.—The plural of SHIGGAION (which see). Hab. 3:1.

SHI'-HON (heaps of ruins)—R. V., "Shion."
A city in Issachar, near Haphraim, and N. of Tabor, where are ruins now called Khirbah Shaiin. Josh. 19:19.

SHIL'-HIM (fountains).
A city in the S. of Judah, near Lebaoth and Ain. Josh. 15:32.

SHIL'-LEM (recompense).
The fourth son of Naphtali. See SHALLUM. Gen. 46:24; Num. 26:49.

SHIL'-LEM-ITES.
Descendants of Shillem, son of Naphtali. Num. 26:49.

SHI-LO'-AH (tranquillity, rest).
A fountain in the S. of the valley of the Tyropæon, between the upper and the lower parts of Jerusalem, from which flowed a little brook past Sion and Moriah, and was lost in the gardens S. of Ophel. See SILOAH. Isa. 8:6.

SHI'-LOH.
A description of Messiah, as the Prince of Peace; or as the "Seed" of Judah (so Ben Gannach, Kimchi, etc.). Gen. 49:10.

SHI'-LOH.
A city in Ephraim, N. of Bethel, and E. of the road from Bethel to Shechem, 10 or 12 Roman miles distant from it, and S. of Lebonah. Under Joshua, it was a central city; and till the time of Samuel, it was the seat of the Tabernacle. It was also the residence of Ahijah the prophet, and is now called Seilun. Near it, at the present day, is an open, level court, 412 ft. by 77 ft.; partly hewn out from the rock, which is probably the spot on which the Tabernacle stood. Josh. 18:1, 9, 10; Judg. 21:12, 19, 21.

SHI-LO'-NI—R. V., "the Shilonite."

SHIP.—The Jews were not sailors, and the shipping trade on the Mediterranean and Red Seas was held by their heathen neighbors, who had ships of considerable size. These ships were steered by two large paddles, and though they usually had a mast with a huge sail, they were also propelled by oars in the hands of rowers. When one of these vessels was subjected to any great strain likely to make it leak, chains or ropes called "helps" were passed around (underneath) the vessel to tighten the planks (Acts 27:17). Their anchors were like ours, only they had no flukes. The account of Paul's voyage and shipwreck in Acts 27 gives us more information about ancient navigation than all ancient classics. When applied to vessels on the Sea of Galilee, "ship" denotes a fishing-boat impelled by oars, and sometimes having a mast and sail (Mark 6:48; Lu. 8:23).

SHI'-PHI (abundant).
Father of Ziza, a chief Simeonite. I Ch. 4:37.

SHIPH'-MITE.

A city in Elam, on the river Ulai (or Eulius), the seat of the Persian government; now called Sus, between the Shapur and the Dizful in the province Hus or Chusistan. Neh. 1:1; Esth. 1:2, 5; 2:3, 5, 8; 3:15; Dan. 8:2.

SHU'-SHAN--E'-DUTH.—The same as SHOSHANNIM-EDUTH. See SHOSHANNIM. Psa. 60: title.

SHU'-THAL-HITES—R. V., "Shuthelahites."
Descendants of Shuthelah. Num. 26:35.

SHU'-THE-LAH (setting of Telah).
1. A son of Ephraim. Num. 26:35, 36; I Ch. 7:20.

2. Son of Zabad, a descendant of Ephraim in the fifth or sixth remove. I Ch. 7:21.

SHUTTLE.—An instrument used in weaving for passing or shooting the thread of the woof from one side of the cloth to the other between the threads of the warp. See WEAVER. Job. 7:6.

SI'-A-HA, SI'-A (congregation).
One of the Nethinim whose descendants returned from Babylon with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:44; Neh. 7:47.

SIB'-BE-CHAI, SIB'-BE-CAI (Jehovah is intervening)—R. V., "Sibbecai."
One of the family of Hushah who slew Saph or Sappai, a Philistine giant, in the days of David. II Sa. 21:18; I Ch. 11:29; 20:4; 27:11.

SIB'-BO-LETH.
The Ephraimite pronunciation of SHIBBOLETH, "an ear of corn." Judg. 12:6.

SIB'-MAH (balsam).
A city in Reuben; called in Num. 32:3, SHEBAM, and in ver. 38, SHIBMAH; near Jazer and Kirjathaim. Josh. 13:19; Isa. 16:8, 9; Jer. 48:32.

SIB-RA'-IM (double hill).
A city of Syria, between Damascus and Hamath. Eze. 47:16.

SI'-CHEM (ridge, shoulder)—R. V., "Shechem." A place in the plain of Moreh in Mount Ephraim; now called Nablus. See SHECHEM. Gen. 12:6.

SICKLE.—The implement usually employed in Bible times for cutting grain. The sickles represented on Egyptian monuments resemble very closely those of the present day. The scythe was unknown in the early days. Deut. 16:9; 23:25—Mark 4:29; Rev. 14:14-19.

SID'-DIM (extension).
The region on the shores of the Salt (Dead) Sea wherein were Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboim. Gen. 14:3, 8, 10.

SI'-DON (fortified).
1. The eldest son of Canaan, son of Ham. Gen. 10:15.

2. The city founded by the Phœnicians, 20 miles N. of Tyre, and 20 S. of Beirut; now called Saida. It was founded by Sidon, first-born of Canaan; in the distribution of the Promised Land, it fell to Asher, but was never occupied; in 1210, it was seized by the king of Ascalon, and its inhabitants fled to Tyre; in 1157, they oppressed Israel; in 728, it was taken by Shalmanezer; in 480, it furnished ships for the fleet of Xerxes; in 352, it reverted from Persia; in 351, it was betrayed to Ochus by Tennes, when the people burnt the city, and 40,000 perished by the flames; in 333, it submitted to Alexander the Great; in 323, it was annexed by Ptolemy; in 315, taken from him by Antigonus; in 65, it fell with the rest of Syria into the Roman power; in 20, it was deprived by Augustus of its ancient privileges. In A. D. 1108, it was invested by the Crusaders; in 1111, it was taken by Baldwin; having been retaken by the Saracens, it was recovered in 1197 by the Christians; in 1291, they abandoned it; in 1658, it established commercial relations with France, which had a monopoly of the trade till 1791, when they were driven out by Jezzar Pasha; in 1840, it was bombarded and taken by Admiral Napier; in 1839, Lady Hester Stanhope died at D'Joun, eight miles from Sidon. It is now under the protection of the French.

The manufacture of glass, for which it was renowned, made from the fine sand on the coast near Mount Carmel, is referred to by Pliny, A. D. 77. Sidon was also celebrated for its ship-building industry, its purple-dyed fabrics, its silverware, etc. Though it was frequently rebuked by the prophets on account of its idolatry and moral laxity, it was usually spoken of with less severity than Tyre (Isa. 23:2, 4, 12; Jer. 25:22; 27:3; 47:4; Eze. 27:8; 28:21, etc.). It was once visited by Jesus (Mat. 15:21; Mark 7:24; Lu. 4:26), and some of its inhabitants went to hear his preaching (Mark 3:8; Lu. 6:17). Sidon is frequently called ZIDON in the O. T. (Gen. 49:13; Josh. 11:8; 19:28; etc.).

SI-DO'-NI-ANS.
The inhabitants of Sidon; same as the ZIDONIANS. Deut. 3:9; Josh. 13:4, 6.

SIEVE.—This necessary device for separating the fine meal from the coarse was in very early times made of rushes or papyrus. Evidently, sieves were of different degrees of fineness, for ancient writers mention four kinds of meal. Isa. 30:28; Amos 9:9.

SIGN.—This word is most frequently used in the Bible to denote a token of coming events or a miracle to confirm faith. In Jer. 6:1, the word properly means "signal," as in the R. V. Ex. 4:8, 9, 17, 28, 30; Num. 16:38—Mat. 12:38, 39; 16:1, 3, 4.

SIGNET.—Seal. See RING. Gen. 38:18; Ex. 28:11, 21, 36; Dan. 6:17.

SI'-HON (great, bold).
An Amorite king in Heshbon whose land lay N. of the land of Moab, from which he took all that lay to the N. of the Arnon. Sihon refused to allow the children of Israel to pass through his country; a battle ensued in which he was killed and his army routed. His territory was divided between the tribes of Reuben and Gad. B. C. 1452. Num. 21:21, 23, 26-29, 34; 32:33; Josh. 12:2, 5; 13:10, 21, 27.

SI'-HOR, SHI'-HOR (turbid, slimy)—R. V., "Shihor."
The Wady-el-Arish or Rhinocolura, the S. boundary of Canaan; also called the "river of Egypt" (Gen. 15:18). The word is also applied to the NILE itself. Josh. 13:3; I Ch. 13:5; Isa. 23:3; Jer. 2:18.

SI'-LAS.
A believer who accompanied Paul through Asia Minor and Greece, and was imprisoned with him at Philippi; probably a contracted form of SILVANUS (II Co. 1:19). He was perhaps a native of Antioch, and is called a "prophet" in Acts 15:32. Acts 15:22, 27, 34 (this verse is omitted from the text of the R. V.), 40; 16:19, 25, 29; 17:4, 10, 14, 15; 18:5.

SILK.—In Prov. 31:22, this word should be "fine linen," as in the R. V.; and it is probable that some similar fabric is referred to in Eze. 16:10, 13, as it is a question whether or not the Hebrews knew anything about silk at that time. Silk was known and used, however, in N. T. times (Rev. 18:12).

SIL'-LA (highway).
A locality near or in Jerusalem; the way going from the Jaffa Gate, and ascending to a bank at the Haram-Area. King Joash was killed near this place. II Ki. 12:20.

SI-LO'-AH—R. V., "Shelah."
A pool at the king's gardens, S. of Jerusalem; called SHILOAH in Isa. 8:6, and SILOAM in the N. T. See SILOAM. Neh. 3:15.

SI-LO'-AM (sent).
Doubtless identical with a pool now at the mouth of the Tyropœan valley at Jerusalem. It is referred to in Isa. 8:6 as "the waters of Shiloah that go softly;" in Neh. 3:15 as "the pool of Siloah by the king's garden;" and in Jno. 9:7, 11, as "the pool of Siloam." "The tower in Siloam," to which Jesus alluded as the cause of a great calamity to certain Jews (Lu. 13:4), was doubtless some structure adjoining the fountain. See POOL.

SI-LO'-AM, TOWER IN. See SILOAM. Lu. 13:4.

SIL-VA'-NUS.
1. Probably the same as SILAS (which see). II Co. 1:19; I Th. 1:1; II Th. 1:1.

2. One by whom Peter sent his first epistle to the Jews scattered abroad. I Pe. 5:12.

SILVER.—There is no mention of this metal in Scripture until the time of Abraham, who was rich in gold and silver, as well as in flocks and herds, and silver was in general circulation in his day as money, being uncoined and always estimated by weight. Before that time, brass and iron appear to have been the only metals in use (Gen. 4:22). According to the Bible, silver was used in early times for ornaments (Gen. 24:53), for cups (44:2), for the sockets of the pillars of the Tabernacle (Ex. 26:19, etc.), their hooks and fillets, or rods (27:11), and their capitals (38:17); for dishes, or chargers, and bowls (Num. 7:13), trumpets (10:2), candlesticks (I Ch. 28:15), tables (ver. 16), basins (ver. 17), chains (Isa. 40:19), the settings of ornaments (Prov. 25:11), studs (Song 1:11), and crowns (Zech. 6:11). Images for idolatrous worship were sometimes made of silver or overlaid with it (Ex. 20:23; Hos. 13:2), and the manufacture of silver shrines (see SHRINES) for Diana was a trade in Ephesus (Acts 19:24). But its chief use was as a medium of exchange, and the Hebrew word for "silver" is very frequently used for money, in the O. T. Silver was abundant in Palestine in the time of Solomon (I Ki. 10:27), who had it brought from Tharshish (probably Spain; I Ki. 10:22) and from other places (II Ch. 9:14). The whole operation of mining is vividly depicted in Job 28:1-11, and the process of purifying metals is frequently alluded to in other passages (Psa. 12:6; Prov. 25:4), while it is described with some minuteness in Eze. 22:20-22. Silver mixed with alloy is referred to in Jer. 6:30, and a finer kind, either purer in itself or more thoroughly purified, is mentioned in Prov. 8:19. See MONEY; REFINER; WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

SILVERSMITH.—A worker in silver. See SILVER. Acts 19:24.

SIM'-E-ON (hearing).
1. The second son of Jacob by Leah. He was one of the "twelve patriarchs," and the progenitor of the tribe of Simeon. B. C. 1720. Gen. 29:33; 34:25, 30; 35:23; 42:24, 36; 43:23; 46:10; 48:5; 49:5.

2. One of the tribes of Israel, descended from Simeon, son of Jacob. Their territory was in the S. W. part of Canaan, and within the inheritance of Judah (Josh. 19:1-9). The following localities were in the territory of Simeon:—Ain, Ashan, Azem, Baalah, Balah, Beth-birei, Beth-lebaoth, Beth-marcaboth, Bethuel, Bilhah, Chorashan, Eltolad, En-rimmon, Ether, Hazar-shual, Hazar-susah, Hormah, Moladah, Ramah, Sharuhen, Tochen, Tola, etc.

3. A just and devout man in Jerusalem, waiting for the consolation of Israel, who saw and blessed the child Jesus in the Temple. Lu. 2:25, 34.

4. An ancestor of Jesus. Lu. 3:30.

5. A disciple and prophet at Antioch, and surnamed NIGER. Acts 13:1.

6. The original name of a son of Jonas (or John), and brother of Andrew, an apostle of Christ. See SIMON. Acts 15:14.

SIM'-E-ON-ITES.
The descendants of Simeon, son of Jacob. Num. 25:14; 26:14; I Ch. 27:16.

SIMILITUDE.—"Likeness," "form" (as in the R. V.). Num. 12:8; Deut. 4:12, 15, 16—Heb. 7:15; Jas. 3:9.

SI'-MON (hearing).
1. An early disciple and apostle of Jesus Christ; he was the son of Jonas (or John), and brother of Andrew, a fisherman at Bethsaida by the Sea of Galilee. He was also surnamed PETER (i. e., a stone), and CEPHAS, its equivalent in Syriac. See APOSTLES AND DISCIPLES; also PETER. Mat. 4:18; 10:2; 16:16, 17; 17:25; Mark 1:16, 29, 30, 36; 3:16; 14:37.

2. Another of the twelve apostles, called the "Canaanite," from being a native of Cana in Galilee, or rather from the Hebrew canna, "zealous;" in Greek, ZELOTES. See APOSTLES AND DISCIPLES. Mat. 10:4; Mark 3:18; Lu. 6:15; Acts 1:13.

3. One of the brethren of our Lord. Mat. 13:55; Mark 6:3.

4. A person in Bethany, a leper, in whose house the head of Jesus was anointed with oil. Mat. 26:6; Mark 14:3.

5. A Cyrenian who was compelled to bear the cross after Jesus. Mat. 27:32; Mark 15:21; Lu. 23:26.

6. A Pharisee, in whose house the feet of Jesus were washed with tears and anointed with ointment. Lu. 7:40, 43, 44.

7. The father of Judas Iscariot. Jno. 6:71; 12:4; 13:2, 26.

8. A sorcerer in Samaria, who sought to purchase the gifts of the Spirit from the apostles with money. Acts 8:9, 13, 18, 24.

9. A tanner at Joppa, with whom Simon Peter lodged when sent for by Cornelius the centurion at Cæsarea. Acts 9:43; 10:6, 17, 32.

SIM'-RI (watchful)—R. V., "Shimri."
One of the Merarite Levites. I Ch. 26:10.

SIN (mud, clay).
1. A desert between Elim and Sinai on the E. of the Gulf of Suez. Ex. 16:1; 17:1; Num. 33:11, 12.

2. The most easterly border of Egypt, usually called Pelusium (i. e., "marsh town"). Eze. 30:15, 16.

SIN.—The transgression of the law of God (I Jno. 3:4; "all unrighteousness is sin" (5:17). The word is sometimes used for a sin-offering, as in Hos. 4:8; Rom. 8:3; II Co. 5:21.

SI'-NA—R. V., "Sinai."
The Greek form of the well-known name which is universally given in the O. T. of the A. V., SINAI. Acts 7:30, 38; Judith 5:14.

SI'-NA-I (perhaps [if Shemitic] thorny, i. e., cleft with ravines; possibly [if Egyptian or Zabian] devoted to Sin, i. e., the moon). A well-known mountain in the peninsula formed by the gulfs of Suez and Akabah. The name appears to be primeval, and its meaning is unknown. It occurs thirty-one times in the Pentateuch, but only four times in the remainder of the O. T. (Judg. 5:5; Neh. 9:13; Psa. 68:8, 17), and four times in the N. T. (Acts 7:30, 38; Gal. 4:24, 25). It would thus appear that the name had, in a great measure, become obsolete at an early period.

The peninsula of Sinai is a triangular-shaped district containing about 11,500 square miles. Its W. boundary-line is about 190 miles long; its E., about 130 miles long; and its N. about 150 miles long. The narrow strips of low coast-land along the two gulfs are backed by mountain-masses of granite, with summits rising to the height of over 8500 feet. These mountains, sharply cleft by deep valleys, enclose on the S., E., and W. the wedge-shaped plateau known as the "Wilderness of Wandering." The ancient Egyptians called this peninsula the "land of the gods," and its solitary grandeur impresses all travelers alike.

Mount Sinai, from which the Law was given to the Israelites, is in the S. part of the peninsula of the same name. In the O. T., the name is used interchangeably with Mount HOREB (which see). It is difficult to locate exactly the Mount Sinai of the Bible, but most scholars now agree that it must have been one of the peaks of Jebel-Musa, a gigantic mass two miles long, one mile broad, and running N. E. and S. W. Ras-Sufsafeh, the N. peak of Jebel-Musa, over 7300 feet high, and overlooking a plain that could have easily afforded standing room for over two million Israelites, meets all the requirements of the text (Ex. 19:11-20; 20:18), and is regarded as the place from which the law was given. The impression made upon the traveler by standing on that peak can never be effaced. It is the most appropriate pulpit for the proclamation of the law of Jehovah to his people for all generations. The sound of it could be heard in every spot of the surrounding valley Er-Rahah, which is two miles long and half a mile wide, and embraces 400 acres of available standing-ground. Upon Mount Sinai, the tables of the law were twice given to Moses, with all the details of the rites and ceremonies recorded in the Pentateuch (Ex. 31:18; 34). Sinai was thus emphatically "the mount of the Lord" (Num. 10:33); and there the Lord spake with Moses "face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend" (Ex. 33:11).

A small section of the wilderness through which the Israelites passed took its name from the mountain (Ex. 19:1, 2). In one direction was Rephidim, only a short day's march distant; while Kibroth-hattaavah lay a day's march in another. The "desert of Sinai," therefore, could only have been a very few miles across. The wilderness of Sinai is probably identical with the plain Sebayeh at the S. of Gebel Mousa.

SINEW.—In Gen. 32:32, the thigh-cord or broad nerve, extending from the knee upwards, and really but a continuation of that along the shin. Modern Jews, in general, regard this part, even of clean animals, as inedible, although the law of Moses contains no prohibition on the subject.

SINGLE.—In Mat. 6:22; Lu. 11:34, this word means free from defect (i. e., presenting a clear, single image).

SINGULAR.—In Lev. 27:2, this word means special.

SI'-NIM.
A country in the far east; perhaps China. Isa. 49:12.

SIN'-ITE.
Descendant of Canaan, son of Ham. Gen. 10:17; I Ch. 1:15.

SIN MONEY.—Money sent from a distance to buy the required sin-offerings (the term is so rendered in the R. V., "money for the sin-offerings"). The profit realized from such transactions fell to the priests (Num. 18:9). II Ki. 12:16.

SIN OFFERING.—An offering, consisting of a young bullock for the priest or congregation, a male kid or lamb for a ruler, a female kid or lamb for a private person, in all cases without blemish, made as a confession of, and in atonement for, sin. The ceremonial of the sin-offering, which is closely connected with the TRESPASS OFFERING (which see), but at the same time is clearly distinguished from it, is described in Lev. 4 and 6.

SI'-ON (projecting)—R. V., "Zion" in the N. T.
1. The peak of Mount Hermon; called SIRION by the Sidonians, and SHENIR by the Amorites. Deut. 4:48.

2. The Greek form of ZION (which see). Mat. 21:5; Jno. 12:15; Rom. 9:33.

SIPH'-MOTH (fruitful).
A city in the S. of Judah which David frequented during his free-booting life, and to his friends in which he sent a portion of the spoil taken from the Amalekites. I Sa. 30:28.

SIP'-PAI (Jehovah is preserver).
A son or descendant of Rapha, the gigantic ancestor of the Rephaim; he is called Saph in II Sa. 21:18, and was slain by Sibbechai the Hushathite in the days of David. I Ch. 20:4.

SI'-RAH (turning aside).
A pit, cistern, or well, near Hebron. II Sa. 3:26.

SI'-RI-ON (coat of mail).
The name given by the Sidonians to Hermon, the S. part of Anti-Libanus. Deut. 3:9; Psa. 29:6.

SIS'-A-MAI (Jehovah is distinguished)—R. V., "Sismai."
Son of Eleasah, and father of Shallum, a descendant of Jerahmeel, son of Pharez. I Ch. 2:40.

SIS'-E-RA (mediation, array).
1. Captain of the host of Jabin, king of Canaan; killed by Jael. Judg. 4:2-22; 5:20, 26, 28, 30; I Sa. 12:9; Psa. 83:9.

2. One of the Nethinim whose descendants returned from exile with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:53; Neh. 7:55.

SISTER.—In the Bible, this word is applied not only to a full sister, but also to a step-sister or half-sister (II Sa. 13:2), and to any near female relative (Mat. 13:56). It also denotes one of the same spiritual family (Rom. 16:1). "Sister's son," in Col. 4:10, means "cousin" (as in the R. V.).

SITH.—In Eze. 35:6, "since," as in the R. V.

SIT'-NAH (hatred).
A name given to a well which Isaac's servants dug in Gerar, but which was seized by the servants of Abimelech; still called Shutneh, and is on the W. of Rehoboth or Ruheibah. Gen. 26:21.

SI'-VAN (bright).
The third month of the Hebrew year, from the new moon of June to that of July. See MONTH. Esth. 8:9.

SKILL.—In I Ki. 5:6; II Ch. 2:7, 8, "can skill" is rendered "know(eth) how" in the R. V. In II Ch. 34:12, "could skill of" is changed to "were skilful with" in the R. V. In Dan. 9:22, "wisdom" is substituted for "skill," in the R. V.

SKINS.—The skins of animals were used by the ancients for clothing (Gen. 3:21), for a covering for the Tabernacle (Ex. 26:14), for bottles, and for various other domestic purposes (Num. 31:20). They were also used as coverings for shields. See BOTTLE; GARMENTS; RAM.

SKULL.—See GOLGOTHA. Mat. 27:33; Mark 15:22; Jno. 19:17.

SLAVES.—People held in bondage to others; having no freedom of action, their persons and services being wholly under the control of their masters or owners. Jewish slaves were of two classes—Hebrew and non-Hebrew—and both were protected by the law. Hebrew slaves became such through poverty or debt, through theft and inability to repay, or, in the case of females, because they had been sold by their parents as maid-servants. Theirs was the mildest form of bond-service. The non-Hebrew slaves were captives taken in war or purchased, and they constituted a majority of the slaves among the Hebrews. At the time of Christ, slavery was established throughout the world and interwoven with domestic and social life. It was regarded even by the wisest men as a normal state of society. But Christianity, by teaching the common creation and redemption of men, the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men, and enjoining the law of kindness and love to all, first moderated the evils of slavery, then encouraged emancipation, and the ultimate extinction of the whole institution.

SLIME.—See PITCH. Gen. 11:3; 14:10; Ex. 2:3.

SLING.—An early weapon of war, consisting of a couple of strings of sinew or some fibrous substance attached to a leathern receptacle for the stone in the center. This implement has in all ages been the favorite weapon of the shepherds of Syria (I Sa. 17:40). The Benjamites were expert slingers; even the left-handed could "sling stones at a hair and not miss" (Judg. 20:16; cp. I Ch. 12:2). This simple weapon was that with which David killed the giant Philistine (I Sa. 17:40 sq.); and it was advantageously used in attacking and defending towns (II Ki. 3:25; Josephus, War, IV, 1:3), as well as in skirmishing (ibid. II, 17:5). Sling-stones were selected for their smoothness, and in action were either carried in a bag suspended from the neck (I Sa. 17:40), or were heaped at the feet of the combatant. Slings were recognized as one of the ordinary munitions of war (II Ch. 26:14), and slingers formed part of the regular army (II Ki. 3:25). The violence with which the stone was projected from the sling supplied a vivid image of sudden and forcible removal (Jer. 10:18). The rapidity of the whirling motion of the sling round the head is figuratively used for inquietude (I Sa. 25:29), while the sling-stones are made to represent the enemies of God (Zech. 9:15).

SLINGERS.—See SLING. II Ki. 3:25.

SLIPS.—Young plants. Isa. 17:10.

SLOW BELLIES.—In Tit. 1:12, "idle gluttons" in the R. V.

SLUGGARD.—A person habitually lazy, idle, and inactive. Prov. 6:6, 9; 10:26; 13:4; 20:4; 26:16.

SLUICES.—Improper rendering in the A. V. (Isa. 19:10) of a Hebrew word meaning "hire," as rendered in the R. V.; the same word is translated "reward" in Prov. 11:18.

SMITERS.—See PUNISHMENT; SCOURGE. Isa. 50:6.

SMITH.—See OCCUPATIONS. I Sa. 13:19; II Ki. 24:14, 16; Isa. 44:12; 54:16.

SMOKE.—According to Thomson (Land and Book, II. 311), the "pillars of smoke" mentioned in Joel 2:30; Acts 2:19 ("vapour of smoke" in the latter reference) were "probably those columns of sand and dust raised high in the air by local whirlwinds, which often accompany the sirocco. On the great desert of the Hauran I have seen a score of them moving with great rapidity over the plain."

SMYR'-NA (myrrh).
A city of Ionia, in the W. of Asia Minor, on the E. of the Ægean Sea, fifty miles N. of Ephesus. It was one of the seven churches of Asia (Rev. 1:11; 2:8-11). It was probably founded by Greek colonists B. C. about 1500, and became an important commercial place in the days of Alexander the Great, B. C. 323. Polycarp, a pupil of the apostle John, was martyred there, A. D. 155. It is still a flourishing city with about 180,000 inhabitants, and is now called Ismir.

SNAIL.—In Lev. 11:30, a kind of lizard is probably meant; perhaps the "sand-lizard" (as in the R. V.), which is found in the desert of Sinai and in Palestine. The Arabs eat it, but the Jews regard it as unclean. In Psa. 58:8, the common snail is evidently meant. In moving, it leaves behind a trail of thick slime. It may be to this peculiarity of the creature, or to the effect of the summer heat, which shrivels it up, that the Psalmist alludes in the expression, "As a snail which melteth."

SNARE.—See HUNTER; NET. II Sa. 22:6; Job 18:10 (R. V., "trap"); 22:10; 40:24—I Co. 7:35.

SNOUT.—In Prov. 11:22, the fair woman without discretion is likened to "a jewel of gold in a swine's snout."

SNOW.—Snow is only once mentioned in the historical books of the Bible as actually falling (II Sa. 23:20), but the allusions in the poetical books are so numerous that there can be no doubt that it was an ordinary occurrence in winter months. For instance, the snow-storm is mentioned among the ordinary operations of nature which are illustrative of the Creator's power (Psa. 147:16; 148:8); the beneficial effect of snow on the soil is also alluded to (Isa. 55:10); and its color is adduced as an image of brilliancy (Dan. 7:9; Mat. 28:3; Rev. 1:14), of purity (Isa. 1:18; Lam. 4:7, in reference to the white robes of the princes), and of the blanching effects of leprosy (Ex. 4:6; Num. 12:10; II Ki. 5:27). Job (9:30) refers to the supposed cleansing effects of snow-water, to the rapid melting of snow under the sun's rays (24:19) and the consequent flooding of the brooks (6:16). The thick falling of the flakes forms the point of comparison in the obscure passage of Psa. 68:14. The liability to snow must of course vary considerably in a country of such varying altitude as Palestine. Josephus (War, IV, 8:3) mentions as a peculiarity of the low plain of Jericho that it was warm there even when snow was prevalent in the remainder of the country. A comparison of the notices of snow contained in Scripture and in the works of modern travelers, however, leads to the conclusion that more fell in ancient times than at the present day. See CLIMATE; PALESTINE.

SNUFF DISHES, SNUFFERS.—Articles of furniture belonging to the golden candlestick (see CANDLESTICK). The "snuffers" were tongs used for removing the snuff from the wicks of the lamps, and the "snuff dishes" received the snuff thus removed. Ex. 25:38; 37:23; I Ki. 7:50; II Ki. 12:13; 25:14.

SO.
A king of Egypt, of Ethiopian descent; or Sevechus, the second king of the twenty-fifth dynasty in Manetho, who reigned fourteen years and was succeeded by Tirhakah. His alliance was sought by Hoshea, the last king of Israel, who had become tributary to Shalmanezer, king of Assyria. B. C. 728. II Ki. 17:4.

SOAP.—See SOPE.

SO'-CHO, SHO'-CO, SHO'-CHO—R. V., "Soco."
1. A son of Heber. I Ch. 4:18.

2. A city in Judah, rebuilt by Rehoboam; perhaps SOCOH, in the N. W. of the plain of Judah. II Ch. 11:7; 28:18.

SOCKETS.—The bases—of the planks of the Tabernacle (Ex. 26:19 sq.); the pedestals—of pillars (38:10 sq.; Song 5:15).

SO'-COH, SHO'-CHOH, SO'-CHOH — R. V., "Socoh."
1. A city in the N. W. of the plain of Judah, near Adullam or Azekah. Josh. 15:35; I Sa. 17:1; I Ki. 4:10.

2. Another city in the hill-country of Judah, near Jattir. Josh. 15:48.

SOD, SODDEN.—"Boiled," as in the R. V. Gen. 25:29; Num. 6:19; II Ch. 35:13; Lam. 4:10.

SODERING.—"Soldering," as in the R. V. Isa. 41:7.

SO'-DI (an acquaintance).
A Zebulunite, father of Gaddiel, one of the twelve spies sent out to view the land. Num. 13:10.

SO'-DOM (place of lime).
A city on the shore of the Salt (Dead) Sea, south of Engedi; destroyed in the days of Abraham and Lot, along with Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboim. The exact location of Sodom is not known. Some place it at the S., others at the N. end of the Dead Sea. Gen. 10:19; 13:3, 10-13; 19:1-29—Mat. 10:15; 11:23, 24.

SOD'-O-MA—R. V., "Sodom."
Greek form of SODOM (which see). Rom. 9:29.

SOD'-OM-ITE.—This word does not refer to an inhabitant of Sodom, but rather to one guilty of the crime to which the people of that city were addicted. Deut. 23:17; I Ki. 14:24; 15:12; 22:46; II Ki. 23:7.

SOD'-OM, VINE OF.—Perhaps an allusion to one of several plants, growing near the Dead Sea, which bear a beautiful fruit, resembling the apple, that is not fit to eat. Deut. 32:32.

SOIL.—See PALESTINE. Eze. 17:8.

SOLDIER.—In the earlier times, every man above the age of twenty was a soldier (Num. 1:3); and each tribe formed a regiment, with its own banner and its own leader (Num. 2:2; 10:14). Up until the time of David, the army consisted entirely of infantry (I Sa. 4:10; 15:4), the use of horses having been restrained by divine command (Deut. 17:16). The Jews had, however, experienced the great advantage to be obtained by chariots, both in their encounters with the Canaanites (Josh. 17:16; Judg. 1:19), and at a later period with the Syrians (II Sa. 8:4; 10:18); and hence much importance was eventually attached to them by the Hebrews. David reserved a hundred chariots from the spoil of the Syrians (II Sa. 8:4); and these probably served as the foundation of the force which Solomon afterward enlarged through his alliance with Egypt (I Ki. 10:28, 29). At this period, the organization of the army was complete; and we have, in I Ki. 9:22, apparently a list of the various gradations of rank in the service, as follows:—(1) "Men of war"—privates; (2) "servants," the lowest rank of officers—lieutenants; (3) "princes"—captains; (4) "captains"—perhaps staff-officers; and (5) "rulers of his chariots and his horsemen"—cavalry officers. The maintenance and equipment of the soldiers at the public expense dates from the establishment of a standing army; before which, each soldier armed and equipped himself, and obtained his food either by voluntary offerings (II Sa. 17:28, 29), by forced exactions (I Sa. 25:13), or by the natural resources of the country (I Sa. 14:27); upon one occasion only do we hear of any systematic arrangement for provisioning the host (Judg. 20:10). It is doubtful that the Jewish soldier ever received pay, even under the kings (the only instance of pay being mentioned applies to mercenaries, II Ch. 25:6); but that he was maintained, while on active service, and provided with arms, appears from I Ki. 4:27; 10:16, 17; II Ch. 26:14—and notices occur of an armory or arsenal, in which the weapons were stored (I Ki. 14:28; Neh. 3:19; Song 4:4). See BOW; SLING; WAR.

SOLE.—See FOOT. Gen. 8:9; Deut. 11:24; 28:35, 56, 65.

SOL'-O-MON (the peaceful one).
The tenth and last son of David, second by Bathsheba, and the third king of Israel; born B. C. 1033, crowned 1015, died 975 (according to Kautzsch, Solomon reigned B. C. 970-931). The comparative scantiness of historical data for a life as important as that of Solomon is itself significant. While that of David occupies I Sa. 16-31; II Sa. 1-24; I Ki. 1, 2; I Ch. 10:29, that of Solomon fills only the eleven chapters, I Ki. 1-11, and the nine, II Ch. 1-9. Doubtless the compilers of those books felt, as by a true inspiration, that the wanderings, wars, and sufferings of David were better fitted for the instruction of afterages than the magnificence of his son. They manifestly give extracts only from larger works which were before them:—"The book of the acts of Solomon" (I Ki. 11:41); "The book of Nathan the prophet, the book of Ahijah the Shilonite, the visions of Iddo the seer" (II Ch. 9:29). Those which they do give bear upon the early glories of his reign, and speak but little (those in II Ch. not at all) of its later sins and misfortunes, and it is consequently impossible to follow the annals of Solomon step by step.

Solomon was noted for his wisdom, and also for his great wealth. The principal event in his reign was the building of the Temple (see TEMPLE) in Jerusalem. His character in early life was noted for its excellence, but in his latter days he was led into idolatry and other sins by his numerous foreign wives and concubines. Ecclesiastes (see BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE) contains the lesson of his life. Solomon was the chief author of the book of Proverbs.

SOL'-O-MON, POOLS OF.
Three large reservoirs, in a narrow valley S. W. of Bethlehem, which supplied Jerusalem with water. They are built on different levels, one slightly above the other, and connected by subterranean passages, so that the water collected in the highest pool can be emptied into the lower pools. Through the introduction of modern machinery, these pools have again become one of the chief sources of Jerusalem's water-supply. See FOUNTAIN; POOL. Ecc. 2:6.

SOL'-O-MON, PROVERBS OF.—See PROVERB; also BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE. Prov. 1:1.

SOL'-O-MON'S GARDENS.—See GARDEN. Ecc. 2:5.

SOL'-O-MON, SONG OF.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

SOL'-O-MON'S PORCH.—A cloister or colonnade on the E. side of the Temple in Jerusalem. A double row of white marble Corinthian columns supported the ceiling, which was finished with cedar and forty feet above the floor. See TEMPLE. Jno. 10:23; Acts 3:11; 5:12.

SOL'-O-MON'S SERVANTS.—Probably the descendants of the slaves of Solomon. The starting-point of their history is probably to be found in I Ki. 5:13, 14; 9:20, 21; II Ch. 8:7, 8. They were of even lower rank than the Nethinim, who were "given to the Lord," their servitude being thus softened by the idea of dedication. The Nethinim, as in the case of the Gibeonites, were appointed to be hewers of wood (Josh. 9:23), and this was enough for the services of the Tabernacle; but the construction and repairing of the Temple required another kind of labor, so the new slaves were set to the work of hewing and squaring stones (I Ki. 5:17, 18). The descendants of these slaves or servants appear to have formed a distinct order, probably inheriting the same duties and the same skill. The 392 of Ezra 2:58 (including the Nethinim) must have been but a small fragment of the descendants of the 150,000 employed by Solomon (I Ki. 5:15).

SOL'-O-MON'S TEMPLE.—See TEMPLE. (I Ki. 6 and 7; II Ch. 3 and 4.)

SOMETIME.—In Eph. 2:13; I Pe. 3:20, this word properly means "once" in the first passage, and "aforetime" in the second, as in the R. V.

SON.—A word used in the Bible to indicate almost any kind of descent or relationship. In Gen. 29:5, it is used for grandson; in Mat. 22:42, for a remoter descendant; in I Pe. 5:13, for disciple. "Sons of God" or "children of God" are those that are born of God or regenerated by the Holy Spirit. Adam is called "the son of God," as his creature made in his image (Lu. 3:38). See CHILD; FIRSTBORN.

SONG OF SOL'-O-MON, SONG OF SONGS, or CAN'-TI-CLES.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

SOOTHSAYER.—One who pretends to foretell future events. Josh. 13:22; Dan. 2:27; 4:7; 5:7, 11—Acts 16:16.

SOP.—Morsel. Among the Hebrews and other nations of the East, very few table utensils were known or used. Food was conveyed to the mouth by the fingers, and in eating liquid food a small piece of bread was dipped into it. The handing of the "sop" to Judas (Jno. 13:26) would seem to indicate that his position at the table was near the Lord.

SOP'-A-TER (savior of his father).
A Christian from Berœa who accompanied Paul from Greece to Asia on his way to Syria; perhaps the same as SOSIPATER. Acts 20:4.

SOPE.—"Soap," as in the R. V. It was made from oil or other fatty substances and potash obtained from the ashes of alkaline shrubs that grew along the Dead Sea and the Mediterranean. It was a soft soap that was thus made, and it was used from very early times not only for washing purposes, but in the refining of metals. Jer. 2:22; Mal. 3:2.

SOPH'-E-RETH (scribe, learning)—R. V., "Hassophereth."
A servant of Solomon whose descendants returned to Palestine with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:55; Neh. 7:57.

SORCERER, SORCERESS. — Person practicing sorcery, one of the arts of the magicians, by which they pretended to foretell events with the assistance of evil spirits. Ex. 7:11; Isa. 57:3; Jer. 27:9—Acts 13:6, 8.

SORE.—A painful or diseased place, such as an ulcer or boil. In Gen. 43:1; Deut. 6:22, etc., the word means grievous. Lev. 13:42, 43; II Ch. 6:28, 29; Isa. 1:6.

SO'-REK (vineyard).
A valley (and stream) between Askelon and Gaza, not far from Zorah: the stream was part of the boundary-line between Dan and Simeon. Judg. 16:4.

SO-SIP'-A-TER (saver of his father).
A kinsman of Paul whose salutation was sent to the church at Rome. Rom. 16:21.

SOS'-THE-NES (perhaps safe in strength).
1. The chief ruler of the synagogue at Corinth who was beaten by the Hellenistic Greeks because of the tumult of the Jews when they brought Paul before Gallio during his second missionary journey into Greece. Acts 18:17.

2. A believer whom Paul unites with himself in addressing the Corinthian church. I Co. 1:1.

SO'-TAI (Jehovah is turning aside).
One of Solomon's servants whose descendants returned from Babylon with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:55; Neh. 7:57.

SOTTISH.—Dull, senseless, stupid. Jer. 4:22.

SOUL.—In some places, the Bible evidently distinguishes between the soul and the spirit (I Th. 5:23; Heb. 4:12). The word "soul" is used to denote mere animal life—the seat of sensations, appetites, and passions. The spirit, in contrast with the soul, is the higher portion of our nature—the seat of the reason, conscience, and the loftier affections—"the holy of holies in that temple which God has constructed for Himself within us." But the word "soul" is sometimes used in the Bible and in all languages in a wider sense for the internal, spiritual side of the constitution of man, as consisting of a mortal body and an immortal soul (Gen. 2:7; Mat. 10:28). In Gen. 1:20, the Hebrew word translated "life" is identical with that which is (most often) elsewhere rendered "soul." In many passages, "soul" means person (Rom. 13:1).

SOUTH RA'-MOTH.
A place bordering on the desert S. of Judah. I Sa. 30:27.

SOUTH COUNTRY.
A certain tract of country or portion of Palestine which was variously designated as "the South," "the South Country," or "the Land of the South." It is spoken of in Judg. 1:16 as "the wilderness of Judah, south of Arad;" and it is found to be, according to the meaning of the word wilderness, a hilly region, a strip of hilly country, running from the Dead Sea W. across the land of Palestine, or somewhat obliquely to the S. W. It constituted, in general, the portion of Judah that was assigned to the tribe of Simeon, and its boundaries are to be defined by the cities specified in Josh. 15:21-32; 19:1-6. It was spoken of as "the South," etc., not only by persons who stood to the north of it, but also by those living to the south of it as well. Thus, Abraham, though traveling northward, is said to have gone into "the south," and then "went on his journeys from the south even to Bethel" (Gen. 13:1, 3). When Moses sent the spies from Kadesh to search the land, he said, "Get you up this [way] southward" (Num. 13:17) —not towards the south, or that point of the compass, which he could not mean when he was directing them northward, but, according to the Hebrew, into the south (i. e., the South Country). King Arad, when the Israelites were at Kadesh, is said to have dwelt in "the south," when his seat lay at the time to the north of them (Num. 21:1).

SOW.—See SWINE. II Pe. 2:22.

SOWER.—See OCCUPATION. Mat. 13:3 sq.; Mark 4:3 sq.

SPAIN.
The peninsula at the S. W. of Europe, 700 miles long and 500 broad; whether Paul ever visited it is uncertain. It was known to the ancient Greeks under the name of Iberia, and to the Romans by that of Hispania. In B. C. 237, Hamilcar, the Carthagenian general, establishes his authority in it; in 229, his son-in-law, Hasdrubal, founds Carthagena; in 221, Hannibal succeeds, on the murder of his father; in 218, he takes Saguntum, and begins the second Punic war; in 212, Scipio is defeated; in 210, Scipio Africanus takes Carthagena; in 206, the Carthagenians finally expelled; in 205, it is divided into Hither and Further Spain; in 179, the Celtiberians revolt, but are suppressed; in 145, Viriathus defeats the Romans; in 140, he is murdered by them; in 133, they secure Central Spain; in 104, it is ravaged by Cimbrian invaders; in 77, Sertorius rises against Sylla; in 72, he is defeated and murdered; in 60, Julius Cæsar gains several victories; in 55, Pompey invested with its full government; in 27, Augustus divides it into three provinces; in 25, he subdues the N. tribes, the Cantabri and the Astures; in A. D. 251, Christianity is first introduced. Rom. 15:24, 28.

SPAN.—A measure of length, equal to one-half cubit, or about nine inches. "Spanned," in Isa. 48:13, means "spread out," as in the R. V. See WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. Ex. 28:16; 39:9; I Sa. 17:4.

SPARK.—See FIRE; FLAME. Job 41:19; Isa. 50:11.

SPARROW.—Small birds of the sparrow-like species that are very numerous in Palestine. They were "clean" according to the Mosaic law; and were sold for food at a very low price, usually in pairs. Psa. 84:3; 102:7—Mat. 10:29, 31; Lu. 12:6, 7.

SPEAR.—A weapon of warfare consisting of a long wooden staff with a heavy metal point on one end. The dart and the javelin were similar to the spear, only lighter, and were probably thrown with the hand ((II Ch. 32:5; Num. 25:7). The spear of Ishbibenob, a giant of the Philistines slain by Abishai, is said to have weighed "three hundred shekels" (II Sa. 21:16), or about 12½ pounds (troy); while the head of Goliath's spear is said to have weighed twice as much (I Sa. 17:7).

SPEARMEN. — Probably light-armed, irregular troops, having the spear for their chief weapon. Doubtless the Roman soldiers who were on duty at the crucifixion of Christ were of this type (see Jno. 19:34).

SPECKLED BIRD.—This term probably refers to the Hyæna. Jer. 12:9.

SPICERY, SPICES.—The former word, in Gen. 37:25, and the latter, in Gen. 43:11, are translated from the same Hebrew word, which is rendered "gum tragacanth" in the marginal notes of the R. V. This gum had a medicinal value. "Spices," as used elsewhere in the Bible, denotes not only fragrant gums, roots, and barks, but also various sweet, aromatic odors, the chief of which is that of the balsam, or balm of Gilead. Ex. 25:6; 30:23; 35:8; Song 4:10, 14, 16—Mark 16:1; Jno. 19:40.

SPIDER.—A well known insect of very singular structure and habits, and numerous in Palestine. The hopes and schemes of wicked men are compared with the frailty of the spider's web (Job 8:14; Isa. 59:5). In Prov. 30:28, according to most interpreters, "spider" refers to some kind of "lizard" (as in the R. V.), perhaps some species of gecko; though some are disposed rather to accept the rendering of the A. V., and to understand the house-spider.

SPIES.—For names of the twelve spies sent by Moses to spy out the land of Canaan, see Num. 13:4-15. Of the twelve, only two (Caleb and Joshua) advised a conquest of the land; the ten others making "an evil report of the land" (Num. 13:27 sq.; 14:6 sq.). See ATHARIM.

SPIKENARD.—A far-famed and very valuable perfume of the East. It is mentioned (Song 4:13, 14) along with many of the most valued aromatics which were known to the ancients, all of which, with perhaps the exception of saffron, must have been obtained by foreign commerce from distant countries, as Persia, the E. coast of Africa, Ceylon, the N. W. and the S. E. of India, and in the present instance even from the remote Himalayan Mountains. This valuable perfume formed the ointment which the woman poured upon the head of Jesus at Bethany (Mark 14:3), and also that with which Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus, anointed the Savior's feet (Jno. 12:3).

SPINDLE.—Wheel-spinning was apparently unknown among the nations of antiquity. The fibres were drawn from the distaff and twisted into thread by means of the spindle, which was usually made of wood, having a circular head of gypsum or some species of composition. In some instances, the spindle appears to have been of light plaited work, made of rushes or palm-leaves, stained in various colors, and furnished with a loop of the same materials for securing the yarn after it was wound. Spinning was distinctively a woman's occupation. Woolen and linen cloth were made from wool and flax, and camels' and goats' hair were spun for sackcloth. Prov. 31:19.

SPIRIT.—The primary sense of this term is wind; hence the comparison in Jno. 3:8. In Scripture, the word "spirit" is used to denote:—The Spirit of God (Gen. 6:3; Num. 11:17; Neh. 9:20; Prov. 1:23, etc.), or the Holy Ghost (Mat. 3:11; Mark 1:8; Lu. 1:15; Jno. 1:33, etc.); an evil, lying, "unclean spirit," or "devil" (I Sa. 16:14, 15; 18:10; II Ch. 18:21; Zech. 13:2, etc.); an apparition, or spectre (Mat. 14:26; Lu. 24:37, 39); the actuating spirit or power in man (II Co. 7:1; Eph. 4:23; Jas. 4:5) as contrasted with the SOUL (which see).

SPITTLE.—Sputum; saliva. Spittle, although, like all the other natural secretions, a ceremonial impurity, was employed by the Lord as a curative means for blindness (Mark 8:23; Jno. 9:6).

SPOIL.—Plunder taken in war (Num. 31:9; Nah. 2:9). The modern Arab nomads, or Bedouin, derive their means of livelihood largely from the plunder of caravans or single travelers, and do not regard the robbers' trade as dishonorable. This was the case with their ancestors, the Ishmaelites, as well as the neighboring Chaldees (Gen. 16:12; Job 1:17). The same is related of Israelitish hordes in the times of the Judges (Judg. 9:25; 11:3; cp. I Ch. 7:21), and many of the invasions by the Philistines, Amalekites, etc., were merely attacks from bands of robbers (cp. I Sa. 23:1; 27:8 sq.; Judg. 2:14, 16), such as are still frequent in the villages of Palestine. See ROBBERS.

SPOKES.—An incorrect rendering in the A. V. (I Ki. 7:33) of a Hebrew word which denotes rather "naves" (as in the R. V.), or hubs, where the spokes unite, while the term rendered "felloes" in the same verse really refers to the "spokes" (as in the R. V.) themselves.

SPONGE.—Although the commercial value of the sponge was known from very early times, there appears to be no mention of it in the O. T.; yet it is probable that it was used by the ancient Hebrews, who could readily have obtained it from the Mediterranean. The sponge is mentioned in the N. T. only in those passages which relate the incident of "a sponge filled with vinegar and put on a reed" (Mat. 27:48; Mark 15:36), or "on hyssop" (Jno. 19:29), being offered to the Savior on the cross.

SPOON.—A hollow dish or pan used as a censer for the Tabernacle and Temple (Ex. 25:29; Num. 4:7; 7:14 sq.; I Ki. 7:50; II Ki. 25:14; Jer. 52:18, 19). The people of the East generally eat with the fingers, and so have no occasion for knives, forks, etc. Among the ancient Egyptians, spoons were sometimes used when required for soup or other liquids.

SPORT.—The occasions for festivity and recreation among the Jews were afforded principally by the various events incident to domestic life. Thus, Abraham made a great feast on the day Isaac was weaned (Gen. 21:8). Weddings were always seasons of rejoicing; so, also, were the seasons of sheep-shearing (I Sa. 25:36; II Sa. 13:23) and harvest (see FESTIVALS). To these may be added the birthdays of monarchs (Gen. 40:20; Mark 6:21). Music and dancing were usual accompaniments of most of these festivities (Lam. 5:14). Children were anciently accustomed to play in the streets and squares (Zech. 8:5; Mat. 11:16). See GAMES.

SPRIGS.—Shoots, twigs. See PLANTS. Isa. 18:5; Eze. 17:6.

SPRING.—In I Sa. 9:26, this word means commencement. "Springs of Pisgah" (Deut. 4:49) should be "slopes of Pisgah," as in the R. V. See FOUNTAIN.

SPRINKLING, BLOOD OF.—This expression refers to the custom of the high-priest, who, once a year, entered the Holy of Holies and sprinkled blood on the mercy-seat, to "make an atonement for the holy [place] because of the uncleanness of the children of Israel" (Lev. 16:15, 16). Heb. 12:24.

SPUE, (SPEWING).—"Spew" in the R. V. "Shameful spewing," in Hab. 2:16, is rendered "foul shame" in the R. V. Jer. 25:27.

SPY.—See SPIES.

STABLE.—Habitation, dwelling (for animals). See STALL. Eze. 25:5.

STA'-CHYS (ear of corn).
A Christian in Rome to whom Paul sent salutation. Rom 16:9.

STACK.—See SHOCK. Ex. 22:6.

STACTE.—Probably either a substance that flowed from the balsamodendron or a gum from the styrax-tree. Modern storax is an entirely different substance. Stacte was one of the ingredients of the sacred incense (Ex. 30:34).

STAFF.—Rods and staffs were put to various uses by the ancient Israelites. Both men and animals were goaded with them (Ex. 21:20; Num. 22:27; I Sa. 17:43; II Sa. 7:14; Prov. 10:13; 13:24); fruit was beaten from the trees with them (Judg. 6:11; Ruth 2:17; Isa. 28:27), especially olives. Old and infirm people carried them as supports or for defence (Ex. 21:19; Zech. 8:4), as did travelers also (Gen. 32:10; Ex. 12:11; II Ki. 4:29; Mat. 10:10). The baton, like the ring, was often a sign of rank (cp. Herod. I, 19), and especially a badge of office (Num. 20:8; 21:18). The shepherd carried a staff, which he used not only as a support in climbing hills, but also for the purpose of beating bushes and low brush-wood in which the flocks strayed, and where snakes and other reptiles abounded. See SCEPTRE.

STAIRS.—This word usually signifies an ascent, and once (Song 2:14, R. V., "steep place"), a precipice. The expression translated "on the top of the stairs" (II Ki. 9:13) is one the clue to which is lost, or unknown. The Hebrew word rendered "top" denotes, literally, a bone, and the meaning appears to be that they placed Jehu on the substance (i. e., the very stairs themselves, without any seat or chair below him).

STAKES.—Pegs or nails, especially tent-pins. Isa. 33:20; 54:2.

STALK.—A word used to denote the woody or fibrous part of the flax-stem (Josh. 2:6), the strawy stem of grain (Gen. 41:5, 22), or "standing grain" (as in the R. V., Hos. 8:7).

STALL.—Among the ancient Egyptians, the stables or stalls for horses were in the center of the villa; but the farm-yard, where the cattle were kept, stood at some distance from the house, like the Roman rustica. It consisted of two parts —the sheds for housing the cattle, which stood at the upper end; and the yard, where rows of rings were fixed in order to tie them while feeding in the daytime (Wilkinson, Anc. Egypt. I, 30). King Solomon had 4,000 (40,000, according to I Ki. 4:26) "stalls for horses and chariots" (II Ch. 9:25).

STAMMERER.—One who stutters, or speaks unintelligibly (Isa. 32:4); hence, "stammering" (Isa. 28:11; 33:19) signifies "strange," as in the R. V.

STANDARD.—Standards and ensigns are efficient instruments for maintaining the ranks and files of bodies of troops; and the Israelites, while on their journey from Egypt, were enjoined not only to encamp "each by the standard of his tribe and the ensign of his father's house" (Num. 2:2), but also, as the sense evidently implies, in orders or lines. The Hebrews probably had three kinds of ensigns or standards:—(1) The great standards of the tribes, serving as rallying-signals for marching, forming in battle array, and for encamping; (2) the divisional standards of clans; and (3) those of houses or families, which, after the occupation of the Promised Land, may have gradually been applied more immediately to corps and companies, when the tribes, as such, no longer took the field. The symbols on several standards may be referred to in Daniel, as the Medo-Persian "ram with two horns"—the he-goat with one horn for Alexander; the goat with four horns for Alexander's successors; and the goat with the little horn for Antiochus Epiphanes (Dan. 8:3-25; cp. 7:3-27).

STANDARD BEARER.—Doubtless an office of great importance among the Hebrews, as it was among the Egyptians, Assyrians, etc. See STANDARD. Isa. 10:18.

STAR GAZERS. — Astronomical observers, for which the Chaldæans were famous. See STARS. Isa. 47:13.

STAR IN THE EAST.—Two theories have been advanced in explanation of this phenomenon, or miracle:—(1) A miraculous star, seen only by the wise men, and serving as their guide until it led them to "where the young child was" (Mat. 2:9). (2) A remarkable conjunction of Jupiter, Saturn, Mars, and a star of extraordinary brilliancy, which took place about the time of Christ's birth (according to astronomical calculations), and which would naturally attract the Magi, with their ideas of astrology and their expectations of the coming Messiah.

STARS.—Under the name of "stars," the Hebrews comprehended all constellations, planets, and heavenly bodies, with the exception of the sun and moon, which were, of course, readily distinguished from the other celestial luminaries (Gen. 1:16; Psa. 136:7; Jer. 31:35) on account of their superior size and brilliancy.

STARS, SEVEN.—The Great Bear, which never sets, and is the emblem of the everlasting state of the Church (Rev. 1:20).

STATUTE.—See LAW; also "LAWS OF THE BIBLE." Ex. 18:16; Lev. 6:18, 22 (in v. 18, "it shall be a statute" is rendered "as his portion" in the R. V.).

STAY.—Prop, support. II Sa. 22:19; I Ki. 10:19.

STEEL.—In all cases where this word occurs in the A. V., the true meaning of the Hebrew is copper or bronze. The R. V. rendering is "brass;" but the composition which we call "brass" was invented as late as the thirteenth century A. D. (see BRASS). There is, however, a Hebrew word which occurs only in Nah. 2:3, and is there rendered "torches," but which most probably denotes "steel" (as in the R. V.) or hardened iron, and refers to the flashing scythes of the Assyrian chariots. It is thought by some that the "iron from the north" mentioned in Jer. 15:12 was a superior kind of metal, hardened in an unusual manner, like the steel obtained from the Chalybes of the Pontus, the ironsmiths of the ancient world. Whether the ancient Hebrews were acquainted with steel, however, is not perfectly certain.

STEM.—In Isa. 11:1, "stock" in the R. V.

STEPH'-A-NAS (crown).
A Christian of Corinth whose household was baptized by Paul. I Co. 1:16; 16:15, 17.

STE'-PHEN (crown).
One of the seven disciples who were appointed to superintend the distributions to the poor. He was "full of faith and of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 6:5), and "did great wonders and miracles among the people" (Acts 6:8). This zealous Hellenist is generally thought to have been the first martyr in behalf of Christianity after the death of Christ himself, having been stoned to death by the Jews (Acts 7:59). Saul (Paul) was present, "consenting unto his death" (Acts 8:1). See APOSTLES AND DISCIPLES.

STEWARD.—One to whose care is committed the management of the household (Gen. 43:19; Lu. 16:1); hence, the term is applied to ministers (I Co. 4:1) and to Christians (I Pe. 4:10). The meaning of the word is different in Gen. 15:2, where it is rendered "he that shall be possessor" in the R. V.

STICK.—The use of billets or staves of wood for writing upon, as illustrated in Eze. 37:16-20, is a common practice with primitive nations; and, indeed, this is not the first instance of the practice recorded in Scripture—so early as the time of Moses, we find a parallel example of writing upon rods (Num. 17:6).

STINGS.—See SCORPION. Rev. 9:10.

STOCKS.—A frame of timber, with holes in which the legs, or the legs and arms, and sometimes the neck, of prisoners were confined by way of punishment. Jer. 20:2, 3—Acts 16:24.

STOICKS.—R. V., "Stoic."
A sect of Greek philosophers who received their name from the Stoa, a porch at Athens, where Zeno taught. They were severe and lofty pantheists, and affected indifference in all circumstances. Zeno was born at Citium, a small town in the island of Cyprus, about B. C. 357, taught at Athens B. C. 299, and died B. C. 263. Acts 17:18.

STOMACHER.—An article of female attire, the character of which is a matter of mere conjecture. Isa. 3:24 (R. V., "robe").

STONE.—Owing to the rocky nature of some sections of the Bible lands (as Mount Sinai and Syria, for instance), stones were naturally referred to quite frequently by the inspired writers. The kinds of ordinary stone mentioned by ancient and modern authorities as found in Palestine are chiefly limestone (Isa. 27:9), especially marble, and sandstone; occasionally basalt (Josephus, Ant. VIII, 7:4), flint, and firestone (II Macc. X, 3). Stones were used for the ordinary purposes of building, in which instances they were frequently of very large size (Mark 13:1). For most public edifices, hewn stones were used; but an exception to this practice was made in the erection of altars, which were to be built of unhewn stone (Ex. 20:25; Deut. 27:5; Josh. 8:31). Pavements were sometimes made of stone (II Ki. 16:17; cp. Esth. 1:6). Large stones were used for closing the entrances of caves (Josh. 10:18; Dan. 6:17), sepulchres (Mat. 27:60; Jno. 11:38; 20:1), and springs (Gen. 29:2). Flint-stones occasionally served as knives, being used particularly for circumcision and similar objects (Ex. 4:25; Josh. 5:2, 3). Stones were further used as a munition of war, being discharged from slings (I Sa. 17:40, 49), catapults (II Ch. 26:14), and bows (Wisd. 5:22); also as boundary marks (Deut. 19:14; 27:17); as weights for scales (Deut. 25:13; Prov. 16:11); and for mills (II Sa. 11:21). Idols were sometimes made of stone (Lev. 26:1; Hab. 2:19). See PILLAR; ROCK; STONES, PRECIOUS.

STONES, PRECIOUS. — Though about twenty names of precious stones are mentioned in the Bible, it is impossible to identify them positively with the gems we now know by the same names. The same term was often used for different substances that possessed common properties. For example, "crystal" (kerach) denotes either ice or rock crystal (transparent quartz). Gems, however, were highly prized by the ancients. They were used in the high-priest's breast-plate (Ex. 28:15-21); and were mentioned by the sacred writers to denote value, beauty, and durability (Isa. 54:11, 12; Rev. 4:3; 21:11, 18-20). For the different precious stones, see their respective names.

STONE SQUARERS.—See GIBLITES. I Ki. 5:18.

STONING.—See PUNISHMENT. Lev. 20:2, 27; 24:14, 16, 23.

STOOL.—See SEAT. The meaning of the word "stools," in Ex. 1:16, is unknown. The Hebrew term so rendered is translated "wheels" (of a potter) in Jer. 18:3.

STORE CITY.—A place of deposit, or entrepot, for merchandise. See STOREHOUSE. II Ch. 8:4, 6; 16:4.

STOREHOUSE.—Treasury; receptacle for provisions, barn, granary. Joseph is said to have built store-houses in Egypt, in which he laid up the superabundance of corn against the years of dearth (Gen. 41:48, 49).

STORK.—A bird similar in appearance and habits to the crane, but much larger. It feeds on insects and frogs, and seeks its food in marshes, swamps, and lakes. In flying, the stork presents a noble sight, with its long red legs extending far beyond its tail. It is fond of the society of men, being superstitiously protected in the East, and is noted for its tenderness to its young. This bird was "unclean" according to the Mosaic law (Lev. 11:19).

STORM.—See PALESTINE. Isa. 4:6; Mark 4:37.

STRAIN AT.—In Mat. 23:24, "strain out," as in the R. V. See CAMEL.

STRAIT.—This word, in Mat. 7:13, is rendered "narrow" in the R. V.

STRAITLY.—Strictly or sternly. Gen. 43:7—Mark 1:43 (R. V., "strictly").

STRAKES.—"Streaks" in the R. V. "Strake sail" (Acts 27:17) is rendered "lowered the gear" in the R. V. Gen. 30:37; Lev. 14:37.

STRANGE.—This word is sometimes used in the Bible to denote "foreign" (as in the R. V., Ex. 21:8; Neh. 13:27).

STRANGER.—A term applied by the Jews to any person of foreign birth or who was not a Jew, even though that person lived among them (Ex. 20:10; II Ch. 2:17; Isa. 14:1). It was also sometimes used to designate one who was not of priest (Num. 3:10), or who was of a different family (Mat. 17:25).

STRANGE GODS.—A title often applied to the false gods, or idols, of heathen nations (Deut. 32:12; Psa. 81:9).

STRANGE WOMAN.—Usually "foreign woman" in the R. V. See HARLOT. Prov. 6:24; 20:16; 23:27; 27:13.

STRAW.—The straw of wheat and barley was used as fodder (Gen. 24:25, 32); and also in making brick (Ex. 5:7-18). As a verb, "straw" means to "spread" or "scatter" (as in the R. V., Mat. 21:8; 25:24). See HAY; PROVENDER.

STREAMS.—See RIVER. Ex. 7:19; 8:5; Psa. 78:16; Song 4:15.

STREET.—The streets of the East are usually made very narrow, in order to secure shade from the hot sun. Mats are sometimes stretched across the streets from roof to roof for the same purpose. Streets were not lighted at night, and the houses rarely having any windows on the street side, travelers were obliged to carry a lantern. Men used to spread their rugs and sit at prominent places on the street (Job 29:7), and they also performed their devotions there (Mat. 6:5). To "make streets" (I Ki. 20:34) probably means to obtain commercial advantages.

STRENGTH OF ISRAEL.—Descriptive title of the God of Israel. I Sa. 15:29.

STRIKER.—Reviler. I Ti. 3:3; Tit. 1:7.

STRING.—The bow-string was probably at first some bind-weed or natural cord, since one of the Hebrew words (yether) so rendered is used in Judg. 16:7-9 for (green) "withs." In Mark 7:35, "string" means "bond," as in the R. V. Psa. 11:2; 21:12.

STRIPES. — See PUNISHMENT. Ex. 21:25; Deut. 25:3.

STRIPLING.—Youth, youngster. See CHILD. I Sa. 17:56.

STRONG HOLD—See FORT; HOLD. Num. 13:19; II Sa. 24:7; II Ki. 8:12.

STUBBLE.—The stumps of grain left in the ground by the sickle. In Egypt, the reapers cut off only the ears of the corn with the sickle, leaving the straw, which they deemed worthless, to rot on the ground. Hence, when the cruel Pharaoh commanded the Hebrew brickmakers to gather straw for themselves (Ex. 5:12), he did not, as some have supposed, ordain a physical impossibility. Ex. 15:7; Joel 2:5—I Co. 3:12.

STUDS.—Engraved ORNAMENTS (which see). Song 1:11.

STUFF.—Goods, property. See WEALTH. Gen. 31:37; 45:20; Ex. 22:7.

STUMP.—That part of a thing which is left after a portion has been cut off or destroyed; the stub. Dan. 4:15, 23, 26.

SU'-AH (distinction).

SUBORNED.—Procured privately, or by collusion; incited secretly. Acts 6:11.

SUBURBS.—Usually the rendering in the A. V. of a Hebrew word which properly denotes pasture lands; hence, the open country around a city used for grazing (Num. 35:2; Josh. 21:11, etc.), or for any other purpose (Eze. 27:28; 45:2; 48:17).

SUC'-COTH (booths).
1. A place E. of Jordan where Jacob went after Esau departed from him; now called Sakut. Gen. 33:17.

2. The first station of Israel after leaving Rameses in Egypt. Ex. 12:37; 13:20; Num. 33:5, 6.

3. A place in Gad, near Beth-nimrah; perhaps the same as No. 1. Josh. 13:27; Judg. 8:5, 6, 8, 14-16.

4. A city in Ephraim, near Zarthan; now called Sakut. I Ki. 7:46; II Ch. 4:17; Psa. 60:6; 108:7.

SUC'-COTH--BE'-NOTH (booths for the daughters).
A Babylonian god, mentioned along with Nergal, Ashima, Nibhaz, Tartak, Adrammelech, Anammelech, and other Assyrian gods. II Ki. 17:30.

SU'-CHATH-ITES—R. V., "Sucathites."
A family of scribes that dwelt in Jabez, near Judah. I Ch. 2:55.

SUIT OF APPAREL.—See GARMENTS. Judg. 17:10.

SUK'-KI-IMS (nomads)—R. V., "Sukkiim."
An African or Egyptian tribe, mentioned with the Lubim and the Ethiopians. They were among the allies of the Egyptian king Shishak, who invaded Judæa. II Ch. 12:3.

SUMMER.—See CLIMATE; PALESTINE. Gen. 8:22; Psa. 32:4; 74:17—Mat. 24:32.

SUN.—In the account of the Creation, the sun is described as the "greater light," in contradistinction to the moon, or "lesser light," in conjunction with which it was to serve "for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years," while its particular office was "to rule the day" (Gen. 1:14-16). The sun was an object of idolatrous worship from the earliest times. Sun-worship existed among all the nations near Palestine, and the Jews themselves, at times, burned incense to the sun (II Ki. 23:5, 11; Eze. 8:16).

SUN OF RIGHTEOUSNESS.—A title of the Messiah. Mal. 4:2.

SUNDAY.—See SABBATH.

SUPERSTITIOUS.—"Too superstitious," in Acts 17:22, is rendered "very religious" in the R. V., and this is a better rendering of the Greek original. Paul was too courteous and prudent to insult and alienate his Athenian hearers by charging them with superstition; he meant rather to compliment them for their overreligiousness that had led them to build an altar even to the "unknown God," Whom they "unknowingly" worshipped, and Whom he came to preach to them.

SUPPER.—A word used indifferently in ancient times to denote either the early or the late meal, its special meaning being the principal meal. In later times, however, the term came to be applied exclusively to the late meal. This was the chief meal of the Jews, and also of the Greeks and Romans, being taken towards or at evening, after the labors of the day were over. In the N. T., "supper" is employed as a designation of the paschal supper (Jno. 13:2, 4; 21:20), of the Lord's supper (I Co. 11:20), and of any meal

(v. 21); metaphorically of a marriage-feast, as figurative of the Messiah's kingdom (Rev. 19:9); and of heaps of the slain, as a feast for birds of prey (v. 17). See SUPPER, THE LORD'S.

SUPPER, THE LORD'S.—The Scriptural sources of the doctrine are Mat. 26:26-28; Mark 14:22-24; Lu. 22:19, 20; I Co. 10:16; 11:23-25. That it was instituted by Christ at the very close of his ministry, on the night of his betrayal, and in the small group of his closest disciples, chosen as future apostles, is most important for the correct estimate of this holy ordinance. As Baptism is the sacrament of initiation into discipleship, so the Lord's Supper is the sacrament of mature Christian faith, to be administered only to those qualified for that self-examination which is laid down as a positive condition. From the very beginning of his ministry, Jesus preached in all its fulness the simple Gospel, offering all who heard it the forgiveness of sins and sonship with God. When, then, He was about to depart, He left in this institution a pledge which seals to the individual believer all that had been previously announced in the general offer of salvation. The words of institution, "given and shed for you," carry a personal message to each communicant. Beside this, they enforce that message by the mysterious and absolutely inexplicable presence, with the bread and wine, of the Lord's glorified body and blood. Thus the stress of the ordinance lies in its individualization of the general promise of the Gospel. The blessing which it brings is realized only by those who with faith, however feeble, truly accept salvation on the simple terms offered in the Gospel, and recognize the assurance of that salvation which is made by Christ Himself with the heavenly gift which He therein bestows. The unbelieving and hypocritical bring only condemnation on themselves by partaking unworthily.

Thus it is in no sense an expiatory sacrifice, by which an offering is made by a priest for the sins of the living and the dead; but it is, on the contrary, an offering to men made by God, Who in Christ's death has Himself made satisfaction for all the sins of men, the purpose of the offering being to strengthen their weak faith, and confirm to them his own promise of forgiveness and union with Him.

While the principal object of the sacrament, therefore, is directed toward the relation of the believing communicant to God, and communion with his Saviour, it inevitably, as a common meal of those cherishing a common faith and admitted to common privileges, has respect also to the relation of individual believers thus participating, to one another. Even though I Co. 10:16 teaches more than this, nevertheless, this conception of the meal of fellowship of the Christian Church is probably most frequently in mind when it is designated the Holy Communion.

Neither should the prophetic element of the ordinance be overlooked. It not only brings the pledge of completed redemption and of its application to the individual, but also, in the words, "till he come," I Co. 11:26, declares the perpetuity and final triumph of the Church, and directs attention to the complete consummation of all Christ's promises at his Second Coming.

SUR (turning aside, entrance).
A gate of the Temple (or of the king's house) in Jerusalem; called "gate of the foundation" in II Ch. 23:5. II Ki. 11:6.

SURETY.—One who is bound with and for another. Judah offered himself as surety for the safe return of Benjamin from Egypt (Gen. 43:9). The danger of such an action is clearly shown in Prov. 6:1; 11:15. To strike or join hands with another (Job 17:3) was a token of suretyship.

SU'-SAN-CHITES—R. V., "Shushanchites."
The inhabitants of the city Shushan, or Susa, or of the country (Susis or Susiana) of which this city was the capital, whom the Assyrians settled in Samaria, and whose descendants still occupied the country in the reign of the Pseudo-Smerdis. Ezra 4:9.

SU-SAN'-NA (lily).
One of the women who ministered to Christ's personal wants out of their private means. Lu. 8:3.

SU'-SI (horseman).
Father of Gaddi, one of the twelve men sent to spy out the land. Num. 13:11.

SWALLOW.—Whatever be the proper rendering of the Hebrew terms translated "swallow" in the Bible, the characters ascribed to the bird alluded to in the several passages where those terms occur are strictly applicable to the swallow; viz., its swiftness of flight, its nesting in the buildings of the Temple, its mournful, garrulous note, and its regular migration, shared, indeed, in common with several others. Swallows still make their nests in the buildings which now stand on the site of Solomon's Temple. Psa. 84:3; Prov. 26:2; Isa. 38:14; Jer. 8:7.

SWAN.—The swan is mentioned in the Bible only in Lev. 11:18; Deut. 14:16 (R. V., "horned owl" in both passages), where it is said to be "unclean." The same Hebrew word rendered "swan" in these passages occurs, in Lev. 11:30, among the unclean "creeping things that creep upon the earth," evidently no longer standing for the name of a bird, and is rendered "mole" by the A. V., while the R. V. understands "chameleon." The swan is very rare in Palestine and neighboring countries.

SWARM.—See PLAGUE. Ex. 8:21 sq.

SWEAR, SWEARING.—See OATH. Gen. 21:24; Hos. 4:2.

SWEAT.—One of the physical phenomena attending Christ's agony in the garden of Gethsemane, as described by Luke (22:44): "His sweat was as it were great drops (literally, clots) of blood falling down to the ground." The genuineness of this verse and of the preceding has been questioned, but is now generally acknowledged. Examples of this malady, known in medical science by the term diapedesis, are recorded, both in ancient and modern times. The cause assigned is usually violent mental emotion.

SWINE.—The flesh of swine, or hogs, was forbidden as food by the law of Moses (Lev. 11:7; Deut. 14:8). The abhorrence which the Jews as a nation had of it may be inferred from Isa. 65:4, where some of the idolatrous people are represented as "eating swine's flesh," and as having the "broth of abominable things in their vessels" (see also 66:3, 17). The occupation of the prodigal son (Lu. 15:15) was extremely degrading. The herd of swine miraculously destroyed (Mat. 8:32), if it belonged to Jews, was kept contrary to their usual custom. The wild boar of the wood (Psa. 80:13) is frequently met with in the forest sections of Palestine, especially in Mount Tabor; and the allusion in the psalm to the injury it does to the vineyards is well borne out by fact. The domestic animal, however, is but rarely found in the Holy Land; it being alike despised by the Jews and the Mohammedans.

SWORD.—In ancient times, the sword was short and two-edged, resembling a dagger. It was carried in a scabbard, which was suspended from the belt or girdle. The first mention of this most important offensive weapon in the Bible is in the narrative of the massacre at Shechem, when "Simeon and Levi took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly and slew all the males" (Gen. 34:25). After this, during the account of the conquest and of the monarchy, the mention of the sword is frequent, but very little can be gathered from the casual notices of the text as to its shape, size, material, or mode of use.

SYCAMINE.—The common black mulberry tree, still called sycamenea by the Greeks. It belongs to the same order as the sycamore and the fig. Lu. 17:6.

SY'-CHAR (drunken ?).
A city of Samaria where Jesus met with a woman, and stayed two days teaching the people; perhaps Asker, the ruins of which are on Mount Ebal. Jno. 4:5.

SY'-CHEM—R. V., "Shechem."
The Greek form of the name SHECHEM, applied to persons and to a city. See SHECHEM. Acts 7:16.

SYCOMORE.—Sycamore; a large tree common in Egypt, and once very abundant in the Jordan Valley, but not often found now in Palestine, except near the coast. The Eastern tree is entirely different from that of the same name in the United States and England. Its fruit closely resembles that of the common fig-tree, and is edible; but its leaf is shaped like that of the mulberry, and is aromatic. The sycamore of the East bears fruit several times in the year without being confined to fixed seasons, and is thus, as a permanent food-bearer, invaluable to the poor. Its wood is exceedingly durable, suffering from neither moisture nor heat. The Egyptian mummy coffins, which were made from this material, are still perfectly sound after an entombment of thousands of years. So great was the value of these trees that David appointed a special overseer for them in his kingdom, as he did for the olives (I Ch. 27:28); and it is mentioned as one of the heaviest of Egypt's calamities that her sycamores were destroyed by hail-stones (Psa. 78:47). It was into a sycamore in the plain of Jericho that Zacchæus climbed in order to get a sight of Christ passing by (Lu. 19:4).

SY-E'-NE (opening or key)—R. V., "Seveneh."
A city in the S. of Egypt, on the Nile and bordering on Ethiopia. The modern town, called Aswan or Es-Suan, is slightly to the N. of the old site, which is marked by an interesting early Arab burial-ground, covered with remarkable tomb-stones, having inscriptions in the Cufic character. Eze. 29:10.

SYNAGOGUE.—Originally, a religious assemblage; but subsequently, an appointed and recognized Jewish place of worship (Mat. 4:23; 6:2, 5; 9:35, etc.). Sometimes the word is also applied, in a narrower sense, to the tribunal which was connected with or sat in the synagogue (Lu. 12:11; 21:12). The synagogues probably originated in the religious meetings held on Sabbaths and fasts in the time of Ezra and Nehemiah, just after the return from Babylon, near the Temple and in other localities, for the purpose of instructing the exiles in the divine law, and to admonish them to obey the divine precepts (Ezra 10:1-9; Neh. 8:1, 3; 9:1-3; 13:1-3). In N. T. times, we find that synagogues were very numerous in Palestine—in Nazareth (Mat. 13:54), Capernaum (12:9); and in Jerusalem alone there are said to have been 480 (Jerusalem Megillah, III, 1) for the accommodation of the Jews from foreign lands who visited the Temple. Eventually, synagogues were established in the different cities of Syria, Asia Minor, Greece, Egypt, and wherever the Jews resided; for it is recorded that the apostles visited the synagogues in Damascus, Antioch, Iconium, Thessalonica, Berea, Athens, Corinth, Ephesus, etc. (Acts 9:2, 20; 13:14; 14:1; 17:1, 10, 17; 18:4, 19; 19:8). The synagogues were the scenes of no small portion of Christ's work. In them were wrought some of his mightiest miracles of healing (Mat. 12:9; Mark 1:23, etc.); in them were spoken some of the most glorious of his recorded words (Lu. 4:16; Jno. 6:59)—many more, beyond all reckoning, which are not recorded (Mat. 4:23; 13:54, etc.).

SYN'-TY-CHE (event).
A female member of the Christian church at Philippi. Phil. 4:2.

SYR'-A-CUSE.
A famous ancient city on the S. E. corner of the island of Sicily, with a capacious harbor; birthplace of Archimedes, B. C. 250-212. It was the most ancient of the Greek colonies in the island, and founded by the Corinthians under Archias, B. C. 734. In 648, the party called the Myletidæ are expelled; in 486, also the oligarchy called Geomori or Gamori; in 478-467, Hieron patronizes literature and the arts; in 414, it is besieged by the Athenians; in 394, it wars against Carthage; in 344, 60,000 immigrants introduced; in 275-216, Hieron II. makes a treaty with Rome; in 214-212, it is taken by the Romans; in 21, Augustus sends a Roman colony to revive it. Syracuse was visited by Paul on his voyage to Rome (Acts 28:12).

SYR'-I-A (the high land).
The Greek name for the country which the Hebrews called ARAM, or "the region of Tyre." It was inhabited by the Hittites and other Hamitic tribes; and is, strictly speaking, bounded by Amanus and Taurus on the N., by the Euphrates and the Arabian Desert on the E., by Palestine on the S., and by the Mediterranean near the mouth of the Orontes, and then by Phœnicia, on the W.—being about 300 miles from N. to S., and from 50 to 150 miles from E. to W., embracing an area of about 30,000 square miles (the size of Scotland or the State of Maine). Its principal divisions were—Syria of Damascus, Syria of Zobah, the Plain of Aram, and Aram of the two Rivers (the Euphrates and the Tigris). The name "Syria" is evidently derived from the city TYRE (or Tzur), with which the ancient Greeks and Romans traded. In 1921 B. C., Abraham, leaving Ur, comes to Haran; in 1857, his servant goes to get a wife for Isaac; in 1760, Jacob visits Laban; in 1452, Balaam is called to curse Israel; in 1040, David subdues Zobah and Damascus; in 975, these recover their independence; in 838-836, Joash or Jehoash obtains three important victories over Benhadad; in 740, Tiglath-pilezer defeats Rezin, its last independent ruler, and reduces it to a dependency of Assyria; in 604, attacked by Pharaoh-Necho, it is captured by Nebuchadnezzar; in 333, it comes under Alexander the Great; in 323, Seleucus Nicator founds his dynasty; in 301, he founds Antioch as its capital; in 114, Antiochus Cyzicenus sets himself up at Damascus; in 65, the country becomes subject to Rome; in 47, Julius Cæsar confirms the rights of many cities. In A. D. 6, Judæa and Samaria are added to Syria; in 117, Hadrian fixes its E. boundary at the Euphrates; in 258, it is overrun by Sapor I., king of Persia; in 264, Odenathus delivers it; in 611, Chosroes II. destroys Antioch; in 614, he subdues Palestine; in 630, Mahommed takes some places in Syria; in 661, Damascus becomes its capital; in 762, Bagdad becomes the capital; in 868, the Tulonides dynasty set up; in 906, recovered by Caliph Moktofee; in 970, Fatimite dynasty set up, with Cairo for capital; in 1076, Syria invaded by the Turks; in 1096, Caliph Mostali dispossessed by the Crusaders; in 1099, the Christian kingdom of Jerusalem set up; in 1187, Saladin founds the Eyoobite dynasty; in 1250, it is partially destroyed by the revolt of the Baharite Mamlooks; in 1400, Tamerlane invades it; in 1516, Selim I. unites it to the Ottoman empire; in 1799, Bonaparte invades it from Egypt; in 1831, Ibrahim Pasha invades it; in 1841, it reverts to Turkey. In 1868, a general attack on the Maronites near Beyrout and Lebanon was made by the Druses, when 1200 persons were murdered; altogether about 12,000 persons lost their lives, 200 of whom were priests; 163 villages, 224 churches, and seven convents, were destroyed. See SYRIA OF TODAY. Judg. 10:6; II Sa. 8:6, 12; 15:8; I Ki. 10:29; 11:25; 15:18; 19:15; 20:1, 20, 22, 23; 22:1, 3, 31.

SYR'-I-A OF TODAY.
The history of Modern Syria, which began with the conquest by the Turks in 1517, is largely the history of Turkish rule. In 1831, Syria was taken by Ibrahim Pasha, acting for his father, Mohammed Ali, ruler of Egypt; but in 1840, it was restored to Turkey by the help of British guns. Turkish rule in Syria came to an end in October, 1918, when it was occupied by the forces of the Entente, who had taken Palestine ten months previously. Ottoman rule had been disastrous to the development of the country, partly owing to the natural operation of Mohammedan law—which has some excellent features, but which in other important features discriminates against non-Moslems—but more especially to the dishonest administration of Turkish officials and of their native underlings, Moslem, Christian, and Druze alike.

For about a year after the Entente occupation, while the British held full military control, the civil administration of the sea-board including Mount Lebanon and the Nusdiriyeh range, was in the hands of the French; that of Palestine was directed by the British; and that of the Hinterland, including the trans-Jordanic territory, the Anti-Libanus, and the towns of Damascus, Hums, Hama and Aleppo, was allotted to the Arab government of the Emir Faisal, third son of the King of the Hejaz. In December, 1919, the British turned over the military control of Syria to the French, but retained that of Palestine. At the San Remo Conference of the Supreme Council of the Entente, the mandate over Syria was assigned to the French and the mandate over Palestine to the British. In the summer of 1920, friction having arisen between the French and the Arabs, the Emir Faisal, whom the All-Arab Congress at Damascus had elected King of Syria, was eliminated, and the French extended their direct control over the districts which he had governed, recognizing a certain amount of local autonomy. On September first, 1920, General Gouraud proclaimed the new State of Greater Lebanon, including with that range, the sea-coast towns of Tyre, Sidon, Beirut and Tripoli. A promise was made of local self-government, under French supervision.

Exact statistics of the population of Syria and Palestine are wanting. The number of inhabitants were estimated before the War approximately at 3,125,000. Of these, some 1,900,000 were Moslems; 400,000 represented the heretical off-shoots of Islam—Druzes, Nusairiyeh and Isma-iliyeh; 130,000 were Jews; and the balance consisted mainly of native Christians, for the European residents were comparatively few. Of the native Christians, the majority were Maronites (papal), Orthodox Greeks, and United Greeks (papal). The smaller Christian bodies were, the Protestants, Latins, Jacobite Syrians, United Syrians, Armenians, and United Armenians. Severe inroads were made on these numbers by the starvation and disease incident to the War.

The two outstanding features of Syria of Today are the desire for education and the passion for independence. The center of education is Beirut, where are found the two universities, the Syrian Protestant College (newly called the American University of Beirut), opened in 1866; and the University of St. Joseph, established by the French Jesuits a few years later. Both have medical schools, whose doctors are to be found all over the Near-East. Scattered over the land are found numerous secondary and primary schools, founded by British, American, French, Hebrew, native and other organizations. The schools of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions of the United States may be especially signalized.

SYR'-I-ACK, SYR'-I-AN—R. V., "Syrian." The language of the inhabitants of Aram, or Syria; substantially the same as Chaldee. II Ki. 18:26; Ezra 4:7; Isa. 36:11; Dan. 2:4.

SYR'-I-A--DA-MAS'-CUS — R. V., "Syria of Damascus." See DAMASCUS; SYRIA. I Ch. 18:6.

SYR'-I-A--MA'-A-CHAH — R. V., "Aram-maachah." A region on the N. E. border of Palestine. I Ch. 19:6.

SYR'-I-AN. Native of Syria, or Aram. Gen. 25:20; 28:5; 31:20, 24.

SY'-RO-PHE-NI'-CI-AN—R. V., "Syrophœnician." A native of Phœnicia, or that part of Syria which was near Tyre and Sidon. Mark 7:26.

T

TA'-A-NACH (battlement). A royal city of the Canaanites, W. of the Jordan. It was captured by Joshua; and, though situated in Issachar, was assigned to Manasseh, and became a Levitical city. It is called TANACH in Josh. 21:25; and is probably identical with the modern Taanuk, a small village on the slope of the western mountains that border on the plain of Jezreel, S. of el-Lejjun. Josh. 12:21; 17:11; Judg. 1:27; 5:19; I Ki. 4:12; I Ch. 7:29.

TA'-A-NATH--SHI'-LOH (circle of Shiloh). A city on the borders of Ephraim and Benjamin; now called Tana, between Shechem and the Jordan, and W. of Janohah. Josh. 16:6.

TAB-BA'-OTH (spots). One of the Nethinim whose descendants returned from exile with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:43; Neh. 7:46.

TAB'-BATH (extension). A city S. of Abel-meholah, in Issachar or Ephraim; perhaps the modern Tubukhet Fahil. Judg. 7:22.

TA'-BE-AL (God is good)—R. V., "Tabeel." Father of one whom Syria and Ephraim sought to make king of Judah instead of Ahaz. Isa. 7:6.

TAB'-EEL (God is good). An official in Samaria who wrote against the Jews to the king of Persia. Ezra 4:7.

TAB'-E-RAH (place of feeding). A place situated in the wilderness of Paran, three days' journey N. of Sinai, where the children of Israel were punished for murmuring; called also KIBROTH-HATTAAVAH (Num. 11:34). Num. 11:3; Deut. 9:22.

TABERING.—Beating as upon the TABRET (which see). Nah. 2:7 (R. V., "beating").

TABERNACLE.—This word originally denoted simply a tent (Num. 24:5; Job 11:14, etc.), but later received a specific signification as the name of that tent which Moses constructed under divine direction for the worship of God by the Jews. The details concerning it are given in Ex. 26 and 36:8-38.

This Tabernacle was built by the Israelites near the close of their encampment at the foot of Mount Sinai, and was carried with them in their wanderings in the wilderness, in which they were directed by a cloud (Ex. 40:36-38). About nine months' labor was required to complete the structure, and it was so built that it could be conveniently taken down and set up again. It was consecrated to the service of Jehovah with solemn ceremonies (Ex. 30:23-33; 40:9-11; Heb. 9:21), and "a cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle" (Ex. 40:34).

The Tabernacle stood in an enclosure, or court, 150x75 feet, made of canvas screens hung by hooks and fillets of silver from brazen pillars eight feet apart. This enclosure was broken only on the E. side, where there was an entrance 30 feet wide hung with curtains of fine twined linen embroidered with figures of cherubim.

At the upper end of the enclosure, and facing the entrance, stood the Tabernacle, which was 45 feet long, 15 feet wide, and 15 feet high. Its two sides and rear were enclosed with boards, each of which had at its lower end two tenons which fitted into silver sockets placed on the ground, and at the top were fastened by bars of acacia-wood run through rings of gold. The entrance was hung with costly curtains. The top of the Tabernacle was covered with fine linen embroidered with colored figures of cherubim; over this was goats'-hair cloth, above which was a covering of rams' skins dyed red, and outside of all was another covering which was composed of "badgers' skins."

The Tabernacle was divided into two apartments by a veil or richly-wrought curtain extending entirely across it and from top to bottom. This veil is called the "second veil" in Heb. 9:3, because the outside entrance was also curtained. The outer apartment was called the "sanctuary" or "holy place," also the "first tabernacle," and the inner was the "second tabernacle," or the "most holy place," or the "Holiest of all" (Heb. 9:2, 3).

Within the court, and opposite the entrance, stood the ALTAR OF BURNT-OFFERING (see ALTAR), and between that altar and the Tabernacle was the brazen LAVER (Ex. 30:18), in the form of an urn, and containing water for washing the hands and the feet of the priests before they entered the Sanctuary.

In the Sanctuary, at the left of a person entering it, stood the golden CANDLESTICK, opposite to which, on the right, was the table of SHEW BREAD. Beyond the golden candlestick and the table of shew-bread, and in front of the ark of the covenant, but separated from it by the "second veil," was the ALTAR OF INCENSE (see ALTAR).

The Tabernacle was always placed in the middle of the camp, surrounded by the tents of the priests and the Levites in appointed order, at some distance from which were the tents of the other tribes, in four large divisions. On the arrival at Canaan, the Tabernacle was first placed at Gilgal (Josh. 4:19); then at Shiloh (I Sa. 1:3); then at Nob (I Sa. 21:1-9); and finally, in the reign of David, at Gibeon (I Ch. 21:29), where it was when the reign of Solomon began (II Ch. 1:1-13).

Two Tabernacles are mentioned in the O. T. One was made in the wilderness, and in the other the ARK was put by David, where it remained till the Temple was completed (II Sa. 6:17; I Ki. 8:1; I Ch. 16:1). The old Tabernacle was meanwhile at Gibeon.

TABERNACLES, FEAST OF.—The third of the three great annual festivals of the Jews—the other two being the feasts of the Passover and Pentecost—at the observance of which the entire male population was required to appear before the Lord in the national Sanctuary. The Feast of Tabernacles was held at Jerusalem, and began on the fifteenth day of the seventh month (Tishri), about the time when the fruits were gathered, and hence it was also called the "feast of ingathering" (Ex. 23:16). It lasted eight days, and commemorated the long tent-life of the children of Israel while wandering in the wilderness (Num. 29:12-40). During its celebration, the people all lived in booths (Neh. 8:14-18). See FESTIVALS.

TA-BI'-THA (gazelle).
A woman in Joppa who was restored to life by the prayer of Peter; called also DORCAS. Acts 9:36, 40.

TABLE.—The "table" of ancient times was simply a piece of skin or leather spread on the floor, thus serving both as table and cloth. Later, a very low table, scarcely more than a span high, was used; and in the time of Christ, the Jews had adopted the Persian custom of reclining at meals. See EATING; SEAT. "Table" in Ex. 24:12; Prov. 3:3; Lu. 1:63, etc., means a tablet for writing. See TABLET; also SHEW BREAD.

TABLET.—A flat piece of stone or metal on which to write or engrave—such were the "tables" on which the ten commandments were written by the finger of God (Ex. 24:12; 32:15, 16, 19, etc.). Stones were sometimes covered with plaster, on which, while soft, the characters were traced (Deut. 27:2-4). A framework covered with wax was also employed, on which writing was traced with a pointed instrument called a "stylus." See PEN. "Tablets," in Ex. 35:22; Num. 31:50, refers to "armlets" (R. V. text) or "necklaces" (R. V. marginal notes); and in Isa. 3:20, "perfume boxes," as in the R. V.

TA'-BOR (mountain height).
1. An isolated mountain in Zebulun and Issachar, between the plains of Jezreel and Scythopolis, six miles S. E. of Nazareth, in the midst of Galilee. Barak gathered his army there to overthrow Sisera (Judg. 4:6-14). It is now called Jebel et Tur, and its summit is about 2000 feet above the Mediterranean Sea. It rises from the plain as an isolated mass in the shape of a dome. According to tradition, the Transfiguration took place on Mount Tabor, but the majority of modern scholars place the scene of that great event on Mount Hermon, since it occurred only a few days after Christ's arrival in that region. Josh. 19:22; Psa. 89:12; Jer. 46:18; Hos. 5:1.

2. A Levitical city in the E. of Zebulun. I Ch. 6:77.

TA'-BOR, PLAIN OF.
A place in Benjamin; called "oak of Tabor" in the R. V. I Sa. 10:3.

TABRET.—It is supposed that the tabret and the timbrel were musical instruments very closely resembling the tambourine. A piece of skin was stretched over a rim like the end of a drum, and on this skin the player beat with one hand while shaking the timbrel with the other. Small bells were also attached to the rim. In Job 17:6, "and aforetime I was as a tabret" is rendered "and they spit in my face" in the R. V. Gen. 31:27; I Sa. 10:5; 18:6; Isa. 5:12.

TAB-RIM'-ON (Rimmon is good)—R. V., "Tabrimmon."
Son of Hezion, and father of Benhadad, king of Syria in the days of Asa. I Ki. 15:18.

TACHES.—Fastenings made of gold and brass, used in connecting the curtains of the Tabernacle. Ex. 26:6, 11, 33; 35:11; 36:13, 18; 39:33 (uniformly "clasps" in the R. V.).

TACH'-MON-ITE.
An appellation applied to the first of David's valiant men. HACHMONITE, in I Ch. 11:11, refers to the same family. II Sa. 23:8.

TACKLING.—In Isa. 33:23, the ropes attached to the mast; but in Acts 27:19 the word has a wider meaning, and includes the furniture of the ship—in fact, everything except what was necessary for the preservation of the vessel.

TAD'-MOR (city of palms ?)—R. V., "Tamar."
A city rebuilt by Solomon, B. C. 1000, in the wilderness E. of Gilead, between Damascus and the Euphrates, at the foot of a range of chalky hills. Though this city has never been positively identified, it is generally considered to be the ancient Palmyra, which submitted to Hadrian in A. D. 130; in 260, Odenathus defeated Sapor, king of Persia, here; in 266, his wife Zenobia took the title of Queen of the East; in 272-273, Aurelian besieged and took it; in 527, Justinian I. rebuilt it; in 1400, Tamerlane plundered it; in 1691, its ruins were discovered by some English merchants; in 1816, Forby and Mangles visited it. Its ruins cover several miles; it has an immense temple of the sun, and out of 390 columns 90 still remain; it lies on the great highway of traffic between Palestine and Thapsachus, on the Euphrates. I Ki. 9:18; II Ch. 8:4.

TA'-HAN (graciousness).
1. A son of Ephraim. Num. 26:35.

2. A descendant of the same in the fourth generation. I Ch. 7:25.

TA'-HAN-ITES.
The descendants of Tahan, son of Ephraim. Num. 26:35.

TA-HAP'-A-NES, TAH'-PAN-HES—R. V., "Tahpanhes."
A city in Egypt, on the Nile, near Pelusium, on the S. extremity of Palestine; called in the LXX., Taphne or Taphnai; and by classical writers, Daphne; and now Tell Defenneh. Thither many Jews fled from the Chaldeans, carrying with them by force Jeremiah and Baruch. Also called TEHAPHNEHES. Jer. 2:16; 43:7-9; 44:1; 46:14.

TA'-HATH (depression, humility).
1. The twenty-seventh station of Israel from Egypt, and the eleventh from Sinai; between Makheloth and Tarah. Num. 33:26, 27.

2. A Kohathite, son of Assir, and father of Uriel. I Ch. 6:24, 37.

3. Grandson of Shuthelah the son of Ephraim. I Ch. 7:20.

4. A grandson of the preceding. I Ch. 7:20.

TAH'-PEN-ES.
Queen of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, in the days of Solomon, B. C. 1000. Her sister became wife of Hadad, a descendant of the kings of Syria and an adversary of Solomon. I Ki. 11:19, 20.

TAH-RE'-A (flight).
Son of Micah, grandson of Jonathan, son of Saul. Called TAREA in I Ch. 8:35. I Ch. 9:41.

TAH'-TIM--HOD'-SHI (nether land newly inhabited ?).
A district N. of Gilead, in the extremity of Bashan; mentioned with Dan-jaan and Sidon. II Sa. 24:6.

TAIL.—Frequently used in a figurative sense to denote the rear, or last, of anything. Deut. 28:13, 44; Isa. 9:14.

TALE.—In Ex. 5:8, 18; I Ch. 9:28, "number" or "count," as in the R. V.

TALENT.—A weight said to contain 3000 shekels (cp. Ex. 38:25, 26). The Hebrew talent of gold is worth about $15,000; of silver, about $1,000. See WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

TAL'-I-THA CU'-MI.
A Syro-Chaldaic expression which is interpreted in Mark 5:41, "Damsel, I say unto thee, Arise."

TAL'-MAI (bold, spirited).
1. A son of Anak, in Hebron, in the days of Joshua. Num. 13:22; Josh. 15:14; Judg. 1:10.

2. A king of Geshur, and father of Maacah, one of David's wives. II Sa. 3:3; 13:37; I Ch. 3:2.

TAL'-MON (oppressor, violent).
A Levite in Jerusalem in the days of Ezra. I Ch. 9:17; Ezra 2:42; Neh. 7:45; 11:19; 12:25.

TA'-MAH—R. V., "Temah." See THAMAH.
Neh. 7:55.

1. Wife of Er the eldest son of Judah, and mother of Pharez and Zarah by Judah. Gen. 38:6, 11, 13, 24; Ruth 4:12; I Ch. 2:4.

2. Daughter of David violated by Amnon, and avenged by Absalom. II Sa. 13:1 sq.; I Ch. 3:9.

3. A daughter of Absalom. II Sa. 14:27.

4. A city in the S. of Judah, near the Salt (Dead) Sea; perhaps EN-GEDI. Eze. 47:19; 48:28.

TAM'-MUZ.
A Syrian and Phœnician idol; the Greek Adonis. Eze. 8:14.

TA'-NACH—R. V., "Taanach." See TAANACH.
Josh. 21:25.

TAN-HU'-METH (comfort).
A Netophathite, whose son Seraiah was one of the captains whom Gedaliah tried to persuade to serve the Chaldeans. II Ki. 25:23; Jer. 40:8.

TANNER.—Among the ancient Jews, ceremonial uncleanness was attached to the occupation of the tanner, and hence he was obliged to pursue his calling outside of the town. The tanneries of Joppa are now on the shore south of the city. Several circumstances, however, confirm the tradition of the present "house of Simon" there (Stanley, Palest. p. 269). Acts 9:43; 10:6, 32.

TAPESTRY.—Cloth woven or wrought with figures. Prov. 7:16; 31:22.

TA'-PHATH (ornament).
A daughter of Solomon who became the wife of one of his officers. I Ki. 4:11.

TAP'-PU-AH (apple, hill place).
1. A city in the W. of Judah, near Hebron; now called Teffuk. Josh. 12:17; 15:34.

2. A city in Ephraim or Manasseh; now called Atuf. Josh. 16:8; 17:8.

3. A son of Hebron. I Ch. 2:43.

TA'-RAH (station, turning)—R. V., "Terah."
The twenty-third station of Israel from Egypt, and the twelfth from Sinai; between Tahath and Mithcah. Num. 33:27, 28.

TAR'-A-LAH (power of God).
A city in Benjamin, near Irpeel. Josh. 18:27.

TA-RE'-A (flight).
A son of Micah, grandson of Jonathan, son of Saul; also called TAHREA. I Ch. 8:35.

TARES.—There can be little doubt that the word "tares" refers to the weed called darnel, a widely distributed grass, and the only species of the order that has deleterious properties. It is very difficult to distinguish it from wheat until the head appears. The grain of this weed is poisonous, and even when a small quantity of it is mixed with wheat and made into bread it produces dizziness. This grain, however, is so much smaller than that of wheat that the two can be easily separated. Mat. 13:25 sq.

TARGET.—SHIELD (which see). In I Sa. 17:6, the word so rendered in the A. V. means "javelin," and is so translated in the R. V. I Ki. 10:16; II Ch. 9:15; 14:8.

TAR'-PEL-ITES.
An Assyrian tribe—in Tapur, E. of Elam, or in Tarpet, in the Mæotic swamp—transported to Samaria by Shalmaneser after the removal of the Israelites, B. C. 722. Ezra 4:9.

TAR'-SHISH, THAR'-SHISH (hard)—R. V., "Tarshish."
1. A son of Javan, grandson of Noah; probably the progenitor of the Tyrseni in W. Italy. Gen. 10:4; I Ch. 1:7.

2. A place frequently mentioned in the O. T., and always as a distant region and situated on the sea-coast, but it has never been identified. Some consider it the same as TARSUS in Cilicia, and others as Tartessus in S. Spain. I Ki. 10:22; 22:48; II Ch. 9:21; 20:36, 37.

3. Son of Bilhan, grandson of Benjamin. I Ch. 7:10.

4. One of the seven princes of Persia who saw the king's face at pleasure. Esth. 1:14.

TAR'-SUS.
The birth-place of Paul the Apostle, and the capital of Cilicia in Asia Minor, on the river Cydnus. It was a noted seat of philosophy and literature, ranking with Athens and Alexandria. There Paul learned the Greek language and acquired some knowledge of Greek literature, although he got his theological (rabbinical) education at Jerusalem, under Gamaliel. Tarsus was made a free city by Augustus, being said to have been founded by Sardanapalus, B. C. 820; in 401, it was taken and plundered by the younger Cyrus; in 333, it was taken by Alexander the Great; in 47, it sided with Cæsar against Pompey, and took the name of Juliopolis. It was seized by the Saracens in the early days of their empire, was taken from them in the second half of the tenth century, but restored; councils were held here in A. D. 431, 435, and 1177. Tarsus is still a city of some importance. An orphan asylum has been established there by American missionaries. Acts 9:11, 30; 11:25; 21:39; 22:3.

TAR'-TAK (hero of darkness).
A god worshipped by the Avites whom Shalmaneser removed to Samaria. II Ki. 17:31.

TAR'-TAN.
An official of Sargon and of Sennacherib, kings of Assyria, sent to Hezekiah. II Ki. 18:17; Isa. 20:1.

TASKMASTER.—One whose duty is to assign tasks; an overseer, or bond-master. See SLAVES. Ex. 1:11; 3:7; 5:6, 10, 13, 14.

TAT'-NAI (gift ?)—R. V., "Tattenai."
A governor of the king of Persia on the W. of the Jordan, in Samaria, who opposed the Jews, and wrote to Darius to stop the work on the Temple. Ezra 5:3, 6; 6:6; 6:13.

TATTLERS.—Gossipers. I Ti. 5:13.

TAV'-ERNS, THE THREE.
A place 33 miles S. E. of Rome, and where Paul met some of "the brethren." Acts 28:15.

TAXES.—Up until the time of the kings, the taxes of the Hebrews were very light and were applied to the support of the priests and Levites, being called "first-fruits," "tithes," etc.; but with the kings came heavier taxation (II Ki. 23:35). They were levied for almost every conceivable purpose, until finally the ten tribes rebelled against Rehoboam (I Ki. 12:4, 18). The foreign nations that conquered the Hebrews burdened them so heavily with taxes that the people were often in great distress (see Neh. 5 & 9:37). In the time of Christ, under the Romans, the taxes were farmed out, and this led to great extortion and oppression. See PUBLICAN; TITHES.

TAXING.—As employed in Lu. 2:1-3, 5; Acts 5:37, this word signifies a writing off, registering, or, as the R. V. renders it, "enrollment." It was the taking of a census of the people, and its object was taxation. This numbering or registering of the people was done by the order of the Roman emperor, but, following the Jewish custom, was made according to the tribes or families (Lu. 2:4). See NUMBERING.

TEACHER.—One who imparts instruction, and communicates knowledge of religious truth or other matters. "Doctors," or teachers, are mentioned among divine gifts in Eph. 4:11, where the apostle seems to reckon them among the extraordinary donations of God, and uses no mark of distinction or separation between "apostles," with which he begins, and "doctors," with which he ends—the latter term doubtless referring to well-informed persons, to whom inquiring Christian converts might have recourse for removing their doubts and difficulties concerning Christian observances, the sacraments, and other rituals, and for receiving from Scripture the demonstration that "this is the very Christ," and that the things relating to the Messiah were accomplished in Jesus. Among the Jews, there were three principal classes of teachers:—(1) The apostles, who were public instructors; (2) the prophets (see PROPHET); and (3) the "doctors" (teachers), who were private instructors. See SCHOOL; also JESUS, and "TEACHINGS OF JESUS IN SUBJECTS."

TEARS.—Tears are often the symbol of divine judgments, as they are sometimes also of human oppression (see Ecc. 4:1; Jer. 14:17; Acts 20:19). They are sometimes the fruit of repentance and contrition (see Mat. 26:75; Heb. 12:17). But they are most commonly the result of natural affection deploring a beloved object, of which the examples are too obvious and numerous to cite. The expression "put thou my tears into thy bottle" (Psa. 56:8) is thought by some to refer to an ancient custom in which the falling tears of the mourners at funerals were collected and put into an urn or bottle, and preserved as a memorial of the grief of the survivors. Others think that the so-called lachrymatories, or "tear-bottles," were rather vessels for perfumery or flowers. Jesus shed tears of sorrow over the unbelief of Jerusalem (Lu. 19:41), and tears of friendship at the grave of Lazarus (Jno. 11:35). For the "valley of tears" (Psa. 84:6; R. V., "valley of weeping"), see BACA.

TEATS.—Breasts; paps. Isa. 32:12; Eze. 23:3, 21.

A son of Nahor the brother of Abraham. Gen. 22:24.

TEB-A-LI'-AH (Jehovah is protector).
A son of Hosah, a Merarite, a gate-keeper for the Tabernacle in the days of David. I Ch. 26:11.

TE'-BETH (winter).
The tenth Jewish month, from the new moon of January till that of February. See MONTH. Esth. 2:16.

TEETH.—The Jewish law of retaliation required "a tooth for a tooth" (Ex. 21:24). Figurative references are frequently made to the teeth; thus, "cleanness of teeth" (Amos 4:6) signifies a famine, and "gnashing of teeth" (Mat. 8:12) indicates terror, despair.

TE-HAPH'-NE-HES.
Another form of TAHPANHES, or TAHAPANES (which see). Eze. 30:18.

TE-HIN'-NAH (entreaty).
One of the sons of Eshton, a descendant of Judah, and father of Ir-nahash. I Ch. 4:12.

TEIL TREE.—The rendering, in Isa. 6:13, of a Hebrew word which is rendered "elm" in Hos. 4:13, and "oak" in many other passages. In all these cases, probably the "terebinth" (as in the R. V.), a noble-looking tree somewhat resembling the oak, is meant. This tree was abundant in Palestine. It furnished a pure quality of turpentine, and was noted for its great length of life.

TE'-KEL.—See MENE. Dan. 5:25, 27.

TE-KO'-AH, TE-KO'-A (firm, settlement)—R. V., "Tekoa."
1. A city in Judah, six miles S. E. of Bethlehem, and twelve S. of Jerusalem, and now called Tekua; here dwelt the wise woman who interceded with David; also the prophet Amos. II Sa. 14:2, 4, 9; II Ch. 11:6; 20:20; Jer. 6:1; Amos 1:1.

2. Family or possession of Asshur, a descendant of Hezron, grandson of Judah. I Ch. 2:24; 4:5.

TE-KO'-ITE.
An inhabitant of the preceding city. II Sa. 23:26; I Ch. 11:28; 27:9.

TEL--A'-BIB (hill of grass).
A height on the river Chebar or Chaboras where Ezekiel stayed with the Jewish exiles a week. Eze. 3:15.

TE'-LAH (vigor).
Father of Tahan, and a descendant of Ephraim through Beriah. I Ch. 7:25.

TE-LA'-IM (lambs).
A place in Judah, near Edom, and where Saul collected his forces to attack the Amalekites. I Sa. 15:4.

TE-LAS'-SAR. See THELASAR. Isa. 37:12.

1. A city in Judah near Ziph or Bealoth. Josh. 15:24.

2. A gate-keeper of the Sanctuary who returned from exile, and had married a "strange" (foreign) wife. Ezra 10:24.

TEL--HA-RE'-SHA, TEL--HAR'-SA (hill of the magus)—R. V., "Tel-harsha."
A place on the river Chebar or Chaboras from which some Jewish exiles returned to Jerusalem, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:59; Neh. 7:61.

TEL--ME'-LAH (hill of salt).
A place on the river Chebar or Chaboras from which some Jewish exiles who could not prove their genealogy returned to Jerusalem. Ezra 2:59; Neh. 7:61.

TE'-MA (sun burnt).
1. A son of Ishmael, and his posterity at the Persian Gulf. Gen. 25:15; I Ch. 1:30.

2. A city or district on the N. of Arabia, near the desert of Syria; perhaps Teyma, on the Haj route. Job 6:19; Isa. 21:14; Jer. 25:23.

TE'-MAN (on the right hand).
1. A son of Eliphaz, son of Esau. Gen. 36:11, 15; I Ch. 1:36.

2. An Edomite chief. Gen. 36:42; I Ch. 1:53.

3. A race and district in or at the N. E. of Edom. Jer. 49:7, 20; Eze. 25:13; Amos 1:12.

TE'-MAN-I, TE'-MAN-ITE—R. V., "Temanite(s)."
Inhabitants of TEMAN, No. 3. Gen. 36:34; I Ch. 1:45; Job 2:11; 4:1; 15:1.

One of the sons of Ashur, and a descendant of Caleb, son of Hur. I Ch. 4:6.

TEMPERANCE, TEMPERATE. — Self-restraint, moderation, self-control in all things, eating as well as drinking. In Tit. 2:2, "temperate" means prudent or discreet. See "TEMPERANCE" in "SCRIPTURE QUOTATIONS." Acts 24:25; Gal. 5:23.

TEMPEST.—Furious storm. See PALESTINE. Job 27:20—Mat. 8:24.

TEMPLE.—A building dedicated to the worship of a deity. In the Bible, this word usually refers to one of the sacred edifices erected in Jerusalem for the worship of the Jewish Church. Hence the word "temple" is used in a figurative sense to denote the Church of Christ (Rev. 3:12); and the martyrs in heaven are said to be "before the throne of God, and to serve him day and night in his temple" (Rev. 7:15). The soul of the righteous man is the temple of God, because it is inhabited by the Holy Spirit (I Co. 3:16, 17; 6:19; II Co. 6:16).

The Jews had three Temples, built respectively by Solomon, Zerubbabel, and Herod the Great. They were as follows:—

1. Solomon's Temple (I Ki. 6 and 7; II Ch. 3 and 4), B. C. 1005-587.—The idea of erecting a stone-built sanctuary was first suggested to the mind of David (I Ch. 17:1), who collected an enormous quantity of the precious metals, as well as immense quantities of brass (copper or bronze), iron, stone, timber, etc., and secured skilled mechanics and artificers for every branch of the work (I Ch. 22:14; 29:4, 7). He also furnished, in accordance with divine instruction, the design, plan, and location of the building (I Ch. 21; 22; 28:11-19); however, the prophet Nathan, who had at first approved of David's plan to erect the structure himself, was later instructed to inform the king that such a work was less appropriate for him, who had been a warrior from his youth, and had shed much blood, than for his son, who should enjoy in prosperity and peace the rewards of his father's victories. Nevertheless, the design itself was highly approved, and led to the pronouncing of rich and everlasting blessings upon the house of David.

In the fourth year of his reign, in the month Zif (May), King Solomon began the building of the first Hebrew Temple. It was built on Mount Moriah, one of the summits of a range of hills generally called "Mount Zion;" and was seven years in the building. According to II Kings, there were 183,300 (II Chronicles, 183,600) workmen employed by Solomon in the work on the Temple; of Jews, 30,000, by rotation 10,000 a month; of Canaanites, 153,300, 70,000 of whom were bearers of burdens, 80,000 hewers of wood and stone, and 3,300 (II Ch., 3,600) overseers. The skilled workmen, as well as much of the materials, for the erection of the structure were chiefly procured from Hiram, king of Tyre, who was rewarded by a liberal importation of wheat and oil. Josephus (Ant. VIII, 2:9) informs us that the persons employed in collecting and arranging the materials for the Temple were instructed to search out the largest stones for the foundation, and to prepare them for use on the mountains where they were procured, and then to convey them to Jerusalem. The men of Solomon were assisted in this work by the Tyrians. Josephus adds (in the following chapter) that the foundation was sunk to a very great depth, being composed of stones of astonishing magnitude, and very durable. These stones were closely mortised into the rock with great ingenuity, thus forming a basis adequate to the support of the intended structure. The same writer says (loc. cit.) that the walls were composed entirely of white stone; that the walls and ceilings were wainscoted with cedar, which was covered with the purest gold; that the stones were put together with such ingenuity that the smallest interstices were not perceptible, and that the timbers were joined by means of iron cramps. It is remarkable that the Temple, when finished, was not consecrated by the high-priest, but by a layman, by the king in person, by means of extemporaneous prayers and sacrifices.

The Temple proper was an oblong building, 60 cubits (about 90 feet) long and 20 cubits (30 feet) wide, with a porch in front, facing eastwards, of the same width as the main building and 10 cubits (15 feet) in depth. These, however, are inside measurements, as is apparent from a comparison with I Ki. 6:20, 24, 27. The corresponding outside measurements depend, of course, upon the thickness of the walls, which is nowhere stated. The interior was divided into two chambers by a transverse partition; the anterior chamber, corresponding to the Holy Place of the Tabernacle, was 40 cubits (60 feet) long and 20 cubits (30 feet) wide, being twice as large as the inner chamber, the Oracle or Most Holy Place, which was only 20 cubits (30 feet) square. The latter, in fact, formed a perfect cube, since its height was also 20 cubits (30 feet), while that of the holy place was 30 cubits (45 feet). The holy of holies was separated from the holy by a wall, which probably consisted not of stone, but of beams of cedar-wood. It seems certain, from the descriptions of the Temple, that the oracle, or holy of holies, was an adytum without windows; and to this fact Solomon appears to refer when he says, "The Lord said that he would dwell in the thick darkness" (I Ki. 8:12). The doors of the oracle were made of olive-wood; but the doors of the outer Temple had posts of olive-wood and leaves of fir. Both the door which led into the Temple and that which led from the holy to the holy of holies had folding-leaves, which, however, seem to have been usually kept open, the aperture being closed by a suspended curtain. The floor of the Temple was throughout of cedar, but boarded over with boards of fir. We are told that "the weight of the nails" employed in the Temple "was fifty shekels of gold;" and also that Solomon "overlaid the upper chambers with gold" (II Ch. 3:9). Though the framework of the Temple probably consisted of massive stone, the interior was wainscoted with cedar-wood, which was covered with gold. The boards within the Temple were ornamented by beautiful carvings representing cherubim, palms, and flowers; the ceiling was supported by beams of cedar-wood.

On all sides, except the front, which was taken up by the porch, the Temple proper was surrounded by a triple story of chambers, each of which stories was five cubits (7½ feet) high and contained a number of small chambers for storage purposes. The beams forming the floors and ceilings of these side-chambers were not let into the Temple wall, but were supported by making three successive rebatements of a cubit (about 1½ feet) each in the wall. Thus the chambers increased a cubit in width in each story, from 5 in the lowermost story to 6 and 7 in those above. The entrance to these side-chambers was on the south side of the building; but the nature and position of the windows made "for the house" are alike uncertain. Openings fitted with lattice-work seem most likely; and their position was probably in the side walls above the roof of the lateral building. The windows of the Temple probably served chiefly for ventilation, since the building was lighted by means of the sacred candlesticks.

The original cost of the Temple appears to have been defrayed by royal bounty, and largely by treasures collected by David for that purpose. There was a treasury in the Temple in which funds were kept for the maintenance of public worship. The gold and silver of the Temple were, however, frequently applied to political purposes (I Ki. 15:18 sq.; II Ki. 12:18; 16:8; 18:15). The Temple treasury was repeatedly plundered by foreign invaders: for instance, by Shishak, king of Egypt (I Ki. 14:26), who, within the short space of thirty years after its completion, carried away all the treasures of the Temple; by Jeroboam, king of Israel (II Ki. 14:14); by Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (24:13); and, lastly, again by Nebuchadnezzar, who, having removed its valuables, caused the Temple to be burned down (25:9 sq.), summer, B. C. 587, and carried the leading people of the nation into captivity. The building had stood, since its completion, 418 years (Josephus says 470, and Rufinus 370, years).

2. Zerubbabel's Temple (Ezra 2:68–6:15), B. C. 516-20 or 19.—In the year B. C. 536, the Jews obtained permission from Cyrus the Great, emperor of Persia, to whom Judæa had become tributary (Isa. 44:28; 45:13), to return to their native land. Cyrus also commanded that the sacred utensils which had been taken from the first Temple by Nebuchadnezzar should be restored, and that substantial assistance should be granted in the restoration of the Temple. In the second year after the return of the first colony of Jews to Judæa, the rebuilding of the Temple was begun under the superintendence of Zerubbabel, the Jewish governor, and Jeshua, or Joshua, the high-priest, B. C. 535 (or 534), with the assistance of Phœnician workmen. The Sidonians brought rafts of cedar-trees from Lebanon to Joppa. The Jews spurned the co-operation of the Samaritans, who, being offended by this course, induced Artaxerxes (probably the impostor Smerdis) to prohibit the continuation of the building; and it was not until the second year of Darius Hystaspes (B. C. 520) that the work was resumed. The building was completed in the sixth year of this king (B. C. 516); and though inferior in many respects to the first Temple, having no ark, no mercy-seat, no sacred fire, no Urim and Thummim, no visible revelation of the divine glory, and no spirit of prophecy (Ezra 3:12, 13), yet it provided a fixed place of worship, and subsequently became the scene of far more glorious illustrations of the divine glory than the first Temple ever witnessed (Hag. 2:6-9; Mal. 3:1; Col. 2:9; I Ti. 3:16).

In June, B. C. 168, Antiochus Epiphanes, king of Syria, subdued and plundered Jerusalem, pillaging and desecrating the Temple. He also ordered the discontinuance of the daily sacrifice; and, in December of the same year, he caused an altar for sacrifice to Jupiter Olympius to be placed on the altar of Jehovah in the Temple (II Macc. VI, 2, 5). For the next three years, the upkeep of the Temple was neglected, and the sacred edifice became so desolate that it was overgrown with vegetation (I Macc. IV, 38; II Macc. VI, 4); but at the end of this time, Judas Maccabæus, having defeated the Syrian armies, cleansed the Temple, and again commenced sacrificing to Jehovah upon the altar there, Dec. 25, B. C. 165. The building was repaired, new utensils were procured, and fortifications were erected against future attacks (I Macc. IV, 43-60; VI, 7; XIII, 53; II Macc. I, 18; X, 3). Alexander Jannæus, B. C. cir. 106, separated the court of the priests from the outer court by a wooden railing (Josephus, Ant. XIII, 13:5). In B. C. 63, during the contentions among the later Maccabees, Pompey attacked the Temple from the north side, caused a great massacre in its courts, but abstained from plundering the treasury, though he did go so far as to enter the holy of holies (ibid. XIV, 4). In B. C. 37, Herod the Great, assisted by the Romans, stormed the Temple, and destroyed or damaged some of its surrounding walls, leaving the Temple in a great state of desolation.

3. Herod's Temple (Talmud, Middoth; Josephus, Ant. XV, 11; War, V, 5; VI, 4), B. C. 20 or 19–A. D. 70.—The Temple of Zerubbabel had stood nearly 500 years, and was much decayed, when Herod the Great, wishing to ingratiate himself with the people, and being fond of architectural display, undertook to rebuild it. He began the work in the eighteenth or nineteenth year (B. C. 20 or 19) of his reign; and the priests and Levites, who had charge of the work, finished the Temple itself in one year and a half, but the outbuildings and courts required eight years. However, some building operations were constantly in progress under the successors of Herod, and it is in reference to this that we are informed that the Temple was "forty and six years" in building (Jno. 2:20). Thus the entire work was not completed until shortly before the Jewish war in which the Temple was again destroyed.

The outer wall of Herod's Temple was about one-eighth of a mile square; it was built up from the valley below, and extended nearly 40 feet above the summit of the mount. Recent excavations have shown that the south wall of the Haram, which rises to a height of 80 feet above the present surface, descends, through a mass of debris, 53 feet below it, and hence originally stood more than 130 feet above its foundation on the rock. It also appears certain that on this side the wall must have presented an unbroken front of about 1000 feet in length. The entrances through these walls consisted of seven massive and costly gates, each 15 feet wide and 30 feet high. These were in addition to the Beautiful Gate (Acts 3:2), which was on the east side, and was so called because it was composed of the finest "brass" (copper or bronze), highly polished and richly adorned; it was of the Corinthian type, and very massive, being 75 feet high and having doors 60 feet high. Between the gates, along the inside of the wall, were porticoes, supported partly by the wall itself and partly by a double row of columns, except on the south side, where were three rows of columns. On the east side was Solomon's Porch (Jno. 10:23), so called because Solomon built the gigantic wall on which it rested. All of the area enclosed by these walls was called The Temple.

The greater part of this area was vacant, being completely paved with marble, and was known as the Court of the Gentiles, because all classes of persons were permitted to enter it. This court was separated from the next inward by what the apostle Paul terms "the middle wall of partition" (Eph. 2:14), beyond which no uncircumcised person might lawfully pass—a prohibition which was inscribed upon the gate-post of the entrance to the second court. Around this outer court, the stock for the supply of the Temple-service was kept, and here the money-changers had their stands or tables. The second court, which was inclosed by a wall, was usually designated as the Court of the Women, because women were not permitted to go beyond it toward the sanctuary, unless they brought a sacrifice. Here men and women performed their ordinary worship, without sacrifices (Lu. 18:10-14; Acts 3:1; 21:26-30); and here the Temple treasury was located (Mark 12:41). Some of our Savior's most impressive discourses were delivered in this court (Jno. 8:20).

The next court inward, or toward the sanctuary, was the Court of Israel. The outer half of this enclosure was entered by common Israelites (those who were not priests or Levites) to attend on particular services; but the inner half, next to the sanctuary and separated from the outer half by a low railing, was reserved for the priests and Levites, and was called the Court of the Priests. Within the court of the priests stood the Altar of Burnt-Offering and the Brazen Laver. Not even an Israelite could pass the railing enclosing these, except when he came to offer his sacrifice upon the altar.

Next came the Sanctuary, which was composed of the most beautiful and costly of materials (Mark 13:1). The main building was 30 feet wide, and rose, at the highest elevation, to nearly 180 feet; and across its front extended a porch, 150 feet long, with an entrance 135x37 feet, but having no door. The sanctuary itself was 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 90 feet high; and around it, except in front, was a structure of three stories high, similar to that attached to the first Temple. The sanctuary had two apartments, separated from each other by a curtain or veil (it was this veil that was rent at the time of Christ's death, Mat. 27:51)—viz., the Holy Place, or Holy, which occupied 60 feet of the whole length, and in which were the Altar of Incense, the Golden Candlestick, and the Table of Shewbread; and the Most Holy Place, or Holy of Holies, which was entirely empty, except for the stone which occupied the place of the ark (Mishna, Yoma, V, 2), and on which the high-priest set the censer. The holy place had an entrance with two gold-plated door-leaves, which, according to Josephus (War, V, 5:4), were 55 cubits (82½ feet) high and 16 cubits (24 feet) broad; but, according to the Mishna (Middoth, IV, 1), 20 cubits (30 feet) high and 10 cubits (15 feet) broad—a difference which Lightfoot reconciles by supposing that Josephus includes the decorations (cornice, entablature, etc.).

During the final struggle of the Jews against the Romans, A. D. 70, the Temple was the last scene of the conflict. The Romans rushed from the Tower of Antonia into the sacred precincts, the halls of which were set on fire by the Jews themselves. Contrary to the will of Titus, one of the Roman soldiers threw a firebrand into the northern out-buildings of the Temple, which caused the conflagration of the whole structure, although Titus himself endeavored to extinguish the fire. The sacred utensils, the golden table of the shew-bread, the book of the law, and the golden candlestick were displayed in the triumph of Rome; and representations of them are still to be seen sculptured in relief on the triumphal arch of Titus.

Subsequent Buildings Erected on the Site of the Hebrew Temples—Temple of Jupiter, Mosque of Omar.—In A. D. 136, the Emperor Hadrian built and dedicated a temple to Jupiter Capitolinus on the ruins of the Temple of Jehovah. Henceforth, no Jew was permitted to approach the site of the ancient Temple, although the worshippers of Jehovah were, in derision, compelled to pay a tax for the maintenance of the heathen temple then occupying the sacred hill.

In 363, the Emperor Julian undertook to rebuild the Temple; but, after considerable preparation and much expense, he was compelled to desist by flames which burst forth from the foundations.

The next building to occupy the site of the ancient Hebrew Temples was the Mohammedan mosque now erroneously called The Mosque of Omar. The following information concerning this structure is furnished by Dr. Edgar J. Banks, a recently returned traveler in the lands of the Bible: "It was built by Abdel-Melek, and an Arabic inscription in the interior says that it dates from the year 691 A. D. It is octagonal in shape, measuring 66 feet on each of its sides. Within, the mosque is 170 feet in diameter. It is divided into three parts by two concentric rows of columns, and in the innermost part is the rock sacred to all Mohammedans. High on the wall is a long inscription in the beautiful Cufic character, beginning: 'Praise be to God who has had no son or companion in his government, and who needs no helper to save him from dishonor. . . . The Messiah Jesus is only the son of Mary, the ambassador of God. . . . God is one, and far be it from him that he should have had a son.' To the Jew, however, the place is as sacred as it was in the days of old. It is said that no faithful Jew, under any pretext whatever, will enter the Haram area, for fear that he may tread upon the spot where once was the Holy of Holies." This mosque is now called El Aksa, "the outer" or "northern," because it is the third of the most celebrated mosques, two of which (those of Mecca and Medina) are in a more southern latitude.

TEMPTER.—An appellation applied to Satan. Mat. 4:3; I Th. 3:5.

TEN COMMANDMENTS.—The name applied to the writing on the two tables (tablets) of stone given by Jehovah to Moses on Mount Sinai; called by the Jews "The Ten Words." Five of the commandments enjoin the duties to God, and five the duties to our neighbor. Taken together, they form a complete and comprehensive summary of the moral law. Christ summed them up in the two great commandments:—"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind;" and "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" (Mat. 22:37-40). Ex. 20:3-17.

TENON.—A projecting member left by cutting away the wood around it, and made to insert into a mortise; in this way securing together the parts of a frame. The directions for the construction of the Tabernacle specified that each board was to have two tenons on its lower end, which were to fit into silver sockets placed on the ground (Ex. 26:17 sq.). See TABERNACLE.

TENTH DEAL.—Tenth part—probably referring to the tenth part of an EPHAH (which see). Ex. 29:40; Lev. 14:10; 23:17.

TENTS.—Among the leading characteristics of the nomad races, those two have always been numbered whose origin has been ascribed to Jabal, the son of Lamech (Gen. 4:20); viz., to be tent-dwellers (cp. 25:27) and keepers of cattle. Accordingly, the patriarchal fathers were dwellers in tents, and we read but little of houses among them until some time after their settlement in the Holy Land; though, while in Egypt, the Hebrews, for the most part, left off tent life, and lived in houses during their bondage. Hence the phraseology of tent life remained among the people long after it had ceased to be their normal condition (I Ki. 12:16); and it may be remarked that the tradition of tent-usage survived for many years after the Hebrews became inhabitants of cities, in the Tabernacle of Shiloh, which consisted, as many Arab tents still do, of a walled enclosure covered with curtains. The first tents were undoubtedly covered with skins, of which there are traces in the Pentateuch (Ex. 26:14); but nearly all the tents mentioned in the Bible were doubtless of goats' hair, spun and woven by the women (35:26; 36:14), such as are now, in W. Asia, used by all who dwell in tents—tents of linen being used only occasionally for holiday or traveling purposes. The manufacture of tents formed a regular and lucrative trade, by which Paul supported himself while preaching the gospel, especially in connection with Aquila, at Corinth (Acts 18:3). See TABERNACLE.

TENT MAKERS.—See TENTS. Acts 18:3.

TE'-RAH (turning, duration, wandering).
Son of Nahor, and father of Abraham, Nahor, and Haran; he died in Haran, aged 205 years. B. C. 2126-1921. Gen. 11:24-28, 31, 32; Josh. 24:2; I Ch. 1:26.

TER'-A-PHIM.
Probably small images resembling the human figure and regarded as household gods. The original is rendered (in the A. V.) "images" in Gen. 31:19, 34, 35; "idolatry" in I Sa. 15:23; and "idols" in Zech. 10:2 (uniformly "teraphim" in the R. V.). Judg. 17:5; 18:14 sq.; Hos. 3:4.

TE'-RESH (strictness, reverence).
A chamberlain at the court of Persia that combined against Ahasuerus, along with Bigthana, and was defeated by Mordecai discovering the plot. Esth. 2:21; 6:2.

TERRACES.—Staircases, constructed by Solomon for his edifices out of the algum-trees imported from the East Indies. The Hebrew word so rendered is usually translated "highway." II Ch. 9:11.

TER'-TIUS (the third).
The person who wrote the Epistle to the Romans from Paul's dictation at Corinth; thought to have been SILAS. Rom. 16:22.

TER-TUL'-LUS.
A Roman (from his name) orator who accompanied the high-priest and elders from Jerusalem to Cæsarea to accuse Paul before Felix, the Roman governor. Acts 24:1, 2.

TESTAMENT.—When applied to the Scriptures, this word is used in the same sense as COVENANT (which see). The old covenant (which was a type of the new) is spoken of in Ex. 24:8, and was ratified by the blood of sacrifices; the new covenant, mentioned in Mat. 26:28, was ratified by the blood of Christ. In the R. V., the word is always rendered "covenant," except in Heb. 9:16, 17, where it evidently refers to the legal instrument, a will.

TESTAMENT, OLD or NEW.—See BIBLE.

TESTATOR.—Person who makes a will, or testament; rendered "him (he) that made it" (the testament) in the R. V. Heb. 9:16, 17.

TESTIMONY.—A solemn declaration or affirmation made for the purpose of establishing or proving some fact (Jno. 8:17; 21:24). The word is also used to denote the whole revelation of God's will (Psa. 119:88); the two tables of stone, or the law which was written on them (Ex. 25:16); the ark of the covenant, in which those stones were deposited (v. 22); and the gospel (I Co. 1:6).

TE'-TRARCH.—Ruler of the fourth part of a kingdom or province. In the Bible, this title is applied to anyone who governed a Roman province. His authority was similar to that of a king, and that title was often given to him (Mat. 14:9). Mat. 14:1; Lu. 3:1, 19; 9:7; Acts 13:1.

THAD-DÆ'-US (breast).
One of the twelve apostles of Christ, called also LEBBÆUS; perhaps the same as JUDE, who wrote the Epistle of Jude. See APOSTLES AND DISCIPLES. Mat. 10:3; Mark 3:18.

THA'-HASH (reddish)—R. V., "Tahash."
A son of Reumah, concubine of Nahor, Abraham's brother. Gen. 22:24.

THA'-MAH, TA'-MAH (combat) — R. V., "Temah."
One of the Nethinim whose descendants returned to Palestine with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:53; Neh. 7:55.

THA'-MAR—R. V., "Tamar."
The Greek form of TAMAR. See TAMAR, No. 1. Mat. 1:3.

THANK OFFERING, THANKSGIVING.—See OFFERING; PEACE OFFERING. Lev. 22:29; II Ch. 29:31.

THA'-RA—R. V., "Terah."
The Greek form of TERAH (which see). Lu. 3:34.

THAR'-SHISH—R. V., "Tarshish." See TARSHISH. I Ki. 10:22; 22:48.

THEATRE.—A place for games and dramatic productions, and, among the Greeks, for holding assemblies. The theatre at Ephesus was a building of great grandeur in full view of the temple of Diana. Ruins of its walls still exist. Acts 19:29, 31.

THE'-BEZ (seen afar).
A town in Ephraim, eleven miles N. E. of Shechem and thirteen miles S. W. of Beth-shean, and the place where Abimelech was killed by a woman. Now called Tubaz. Judg. 9:50; II Sa. 11:21.

THE-LA'-SAR, TE-LAS'-SAR (hill of Asshur)—R. V., "Telassar."
A city and district in Mesopotamia, inhabited by the children of Eden, and once subject to Assyria; perhaps Theleda or Thelesa, S. E. of Racca, near Palmyra; or in Artemita, in S. Assyria, N. of Babylonia; others say Resen, now called Kalah Shergat. II Ki. 19:12; Isa. 37:12.

THE-OPH'-I-LUS (loved by God).
An early and noted Christian disciple and friend of Luke, to whom the latter addressed his Gospel and the book of Acts. Lu. 1:3; Acts 1:1.

THES-SA-LO'-NI-ANS.
Inhabitants of Thessalonica. Acts 20:4; I Th. 1:1; II Th. 1:1.

THES-SA-LO'-NI-ANS (people of Thessalonica), FIRST AND SECOND EPISTLES TO THE.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

THES-SA-LO-NI'-CA.
The most populous city of Macedonia, on the shore of the Ægean Sea, at the head of the Gulf of Salonika, its modern name. Cassander called it "Thessalonica" after his wife, Philip's daughter. Under the Romans, it was the capital of one of the four divisions of Macedonia, and the station of a Roman prætor and quæstor. In ancient times, it was variously called Emathia Helia, and Therma; in B. C. 481, Xerxes rested here in his invasion of Greece; in 479, it was taken by Pausanias; in 421, by the Athenians; in 315, it was rebuilt; in 168, it surrendered to Rome; in 58, Cicero found refuge in it; in 42, it was made a free city. In A. D. 52-53, Paul addressed two Epistles to the Christians there; in the third century, it was made a Roman colony; in 313, Diocletian's widow and daughter were beheaded there; in 390, its inhabitants were put to death for sedition, by Theodosius the Great; in 479, Sabinianus defeated the Ostrogoths; in 904, the Saracen fleet attacked it; in 1185, the Normans of Sicily took it; in 1204, Boniface founded the Latin kingdom of Thessalonica; in 1222, Theodore Angelus became emperor; in 1234, it was united to the empire of Nicæa; in 1284, it was given up to Andronicus; in 1430, it was taken from the Venetians by Sultan Amurath II.; it was delivered from Turkish rule during the late World War, by the allied armies, and is now under the jurisdiction of Greece.

Thessalonica was the seat of a large colony of Jews, who had their synagogue outside the city. Paul visited it (Acts 17:1-14) on his second missionary journey, A. D. 51, coming from Philippi, but after a short stay was compelled to leave the place by the fanaticism of the Jews. The young church which had been founded was left in charge of Timothy, and it was his report of the state of affairs, not unfavorable it would seem, which called forth from Paul two epistles to the Thessalonians. An arch at Thessalonica, considerably older than the first century of our era, has an inscription containing the names of seven of the Thessalonian magistrates, whom it calls "politarchs," thus confirming the accuracy of the writer of Acts in using this rare word (in the original) to describe the "rulers" (17:6, 8) of this city. Thessalonica now has a mixed population of about 85,000 (Turks, Jews and Greeks), and a large commerce by land and sea.

A Jewish impostor, mentioned by Gamaliel before the Sanhedrin as having stirred up 400 men, who were destroyed with him. Acts 5:36.

THICKET.—A dense growth of trees, shrubs, etc. See GROVE. Gen. 22:13; Isa. 9:18; 10:34; Jer. 4:7, 29.

THIEF.—Under the Mosaic law, the thief was severely punished for his crime. Restitution, equal to double the amount taken, was required to be made, and if the offender could not conform with this requirement, he was to be sold into temporary bondage (Ex. 22:1 sq.). In later times, the fine is thought by some to have been increased (Prov. 6:30, 31). The criminals who were crucified with Christ (Mat. 27:38-44; Mark 15:27; Lu. 23:39-43) appear to have been, not "thieves" in the ordinary sense of the word, but rather robbers or highwaymen; i. e., fellow-insurgents with Barabbas—for it is said that he "lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him in the city, who had committed murder in the insurrection" (Mark 15:7). These malefactors were not thieves who robbed all for profit, but men who had taken up arms in resistance to the Roman oppression, and to what they thought an unlawful burden, the tribute-money; who made no scruple to rob all the Romans, and when engaged in these unlawful causes made less distinction between Jews and Romans than they probably at first meant to. Crucifixion was the penalty imposed by the Romans at once upon the robber and the rebel (Josephus, War, II, 13:2). See ROBBERS.

THIGH.—Putting the hand under the thigh probably denoted obedience or subjection. Abraham required this of his oldest servant when he made him swear that he would not take a wife for Isaac of the daughters of the Canaanites (Gen. 24:2-9); and Jacob required it of his son Joseph when he bound him by oath not to bury him in Egypt, but with his fathers in the land of Canaan (47:29-31). The angel smote Jacob's thigh to show that he had yielded in mercy, and not from force (Gen. 32:25). The inscription on the thigh mentioned in Rev. 19:16 probably refers to the custom of ancient conquerors bearing on their weapons and garments their names and deeds. "Thigh," in Isa. 47:2 of the A. V., should be "leg," as in the R. V.

THIM'-NA-THAH (portion)—R. V., "Timneh." A town in Dan, near Elon or Ekron. See TIMNATH. Josh. 19:43.

THISTLE, THORN.—Thistles and thorns are very abundant in Palestine, and occasion the husbandman much trouble and annoyance, often attaining such a prodigious size and growing so luxuriantly that they must be burned off before the plow can operate. They were a symbol of desolation (Prov. 24:31); and were much used as fuel (Isa. 33:12), as well as for hedges (Hos. 2:6). There are no less than twenty-two words in the original languages of the Bible variously translated "thorn," "thistle," "brier," etc., and signifying thorny and prickly plants. Some of these, however, are probably so interpreted only because they are unknown, and may merely denote insignificant shrubs.

THOM'-AS (twin).
One of the twelve apostles of Jesus, and called also DIDYMUS. He was zealous and inquisitive, yet at first incredulous at the report of the resurrection of Christ. See APOSTLES AND DISCIPLES. Mat. 10:3; Mark 3:18; Jno. 20:24-29.

THONGS.—Straps of leather. Paul was bound with thongs at Jerusalem, and would have been scourged had he not made known his identity as a Roman citizen (Acts 22:25 sq.).

THORNS.—See THISTLE. Gen. 3:18; Judg. 8:7, 16.

THOUGHT.—"Take no thought," in Mat. 6:25, 34; Lu. 12:11, is rendered "Be not anxious" in the R. V.

THREAD.—See NEEDLEWORK; SPINDLE. Gen. 14:23; Josh. 2:18; Judg. 16:9, 12.

THREE TAVERNS. — See TAVERNS, THE THREE. Acts 28:15.

THRESH, THRESHING FLOOR.—In ancient times threshing was performed in the East by means of the flail (Ruth 2:17); by oxen who trod out the grain (Deut. 25:4); and with a threshing-machine or sledge (Isa. 28:27, 28), a rude affair having a heavy frame in which were fitted three or four rollers. This machine was drawn by oxen, and the rollers, passing over the grain, crushed it out. Another form of threshing-machine consisted of several planks fastened together, through the under side of which projected pieces of flint or sharpened iron (Isa. 41:15). These served as teeth, and tore the husk of the grain in pieces as they passed over it. When the grain had been well loosened, it was winnowed (see WINNOWING), and for this purpose the threshing-floors were situated on a hill-top open on all sides to the wind. The threshing-floor consisted simply of a piece of ground that had been leveled and beaten down hard (I Ch. 21:15-28). Frequently a whole village would have but a single threshing-floor, each husbandman, in a fixed order, taking his turn in using it.

THRESHOLDS.—In Neh. 12:25, this word means "store-houses," as in the R. V. See DOOR POST.

THROAT.—"Their throat [is] an open sepulchre" is an expression indicative of deadly falsification, and used upon two occasions in the Bible—by David (Psa. 5:9), in denouncing his enemies upon this earth; and by Paul (Rom. 3:13), in showing the unworthiness of both Jews and Gentiles.

THRONE.—The seat of monarchs upon state occasions, and the emblem of royalty. Solomon's throne was noted for its magnificence. It is described in I Ki. 10:18-20. In Rev. 4:4; 11:16, the elders who represent the Church as reigning with Christ are depicted as seated on thrones placed around his; and, in 2:13, Satan is represented as imitating the royal seat of Christ. The throne was the symbol of supreme power and dignity (Gen. 41:40); and hence was attributed to Jehovah, both in respect to his heavenly abode (Psa. 11:4; 103:19; Acts 7:49) and to his earthly abode at Jerusalem (Jer. 3:17), particularly in the Temple (17:12; Eze. 43:7). Likewise, "to sit upon the throne" implied the exercise of regal power (Deut. 17:18; I Ki. 16:11); and "to sit upon the throne of another person," succession to the royal dignity (I Ki. 1:13). The term "throne" is sometimes equivalent to kingdom (II Ch. 9:8; Acts 2:30); and so, also, "thrones" designates earthly potentates and celestial beings, archangels (Col. 1:16). See IVORY; PALACE.

THROUGHLY.—"Thoroughly," as usually in the R. V. Gen. 11:3; Job 6:2 (R. V., "but"); Psa. 51:2; Jer. 6:9; 7:5; 50:34.

THUMB.—A part of the ceremony prescribed for consecrating Aaron and his sons to the priesthood consisted of taking the blood of a ram upon whose head they had previously placed their hands and putting it "upon the tip of the right ear of Aaron, and upon the tip of the right ear of his sons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot" (Ex. 29:19, 20).

THUM'-MIM (perfection).—See URIM. Ex. 28:30; Lev. 8:8; Deut. 33:8.

THUNDER.—Thunder was regarded as Jehovah's voice (Job 37:2; Isa. 30:30, 31), and as a symbol of divine power (I Sa. 2:10; Isa. 29:6). "Hot thunderbolts," in Psa. 78:48, refers to lightning.

THY-A-TI'-RA.
A city of Lydia in Asia Minor, near the river Lycus, 27 miles N. W. of Sardis, and 56 N. E. of Smyrna; once called Pelopia and Euhippia, now Ak-Hissar ("white castle"); it was famous for the art of dyeing. Thyatira is mentioned as one of the seven churches of Asia in Rev. 2:18, 24. Acts 16:14; Rev. 1:11.

THYINE WOOD.—Valuable wood of a small tree of N. Africa closely resembling our cedar. It was peculiarly adapted for fine cabinet work, being close-grained, fragrant, and of a beautiful brown color, often variegated by knots. Rev. 18:12.

TI-BE'-RI-AS.
A city on the W. side of the Sea of Galilee or Lake of Tiberias; it was built by Herod Antipas (who killed John the Baptist), and named by him in honor of the emperor Tiberius. It is noted for its hot springs; was destroyed by Vespasian, but, quickly recovering, became the seat of a rabbinical school till the fourth century, where the Mishna, the Jerusalem Talmud, and the Masora were composed. It is now called Tabarieh, and was almost destroyed by an earthquake in A. D. 1837; it is, after Jerusalem, Hebron, and Safed, the fourth most holy city in Jewish estimation. According to Jerome, it is the CHINNERETH of the O. T. It is mentioned only once (under this name) in the Bible (Jno. 6:23).

TI-BE'-RI-AS, SEA OF. See GALILEE, SEA OF. Jno. 6:1; 21:1.

TI-BE'-RI-US.
The stepson of Augustus, and third emperor of Rome, A. D. 14-37; surnamed Claudius Nero, and born B. C. 42. Lu. 3:1.

TIB'-HATH (extension).
A city in Aram-Zobah which David spoiled along with Chun. I Ch. 18:8.

The son of Ginath, whom some wished to be king after Zimri. I Ki. 16:21, 22.

TI'-DAL (splendor, renown).
A king of Goyim, confederate with Chedorlaomer, Amraphel, and Arioch, who invaded the cities of the plain in the days of Abraham. Gen. 14:1, 9.

TIG'-LATH--PI-LE'-SER or TIL'-GATH--PIL-NE'-SER.
An Assyrian king who invaded Naphtali in the days of Pekah, king of Israel. He succeeded Pul, or more probably is Pul, conquered the N. of Palestine and Damascus, and carried off the people to Kir. B. C. 742. II Ki. 15:29; 16:7, 10; I Ch. 5:6, 26; II Ch. 28:20.

TIK'-VAH, TIK'-VATH (strength) — R. V., "Tikvah," "Tokhath."
1. Father of Shallum, husband of Huldah the prophetess in the days of Josiah. II Ki. 22:14; II Ch. 34:22.
2. Father of Jahaziah, who was employed in taking account of those that had married "strange" (foreign) wives. Ezra 10:15.

TILE, TILING.—Baked clay, used for covering the roofs of houses, etc. Eze. 4:1—Lu. 5:19.

TILLER.—See OCCUPATION. Gen. 4:2.

TI'-LON (mockery, scorn).
A son of Shimon, descended from Judah through Caleb, son of Jephunneh. I Ch. 4:20.

TI-MÆ'-US (polluted ?).
Father of the blind beggar cured by Christ at Jericho, the son being thence called BARTIMÆUS. Mark 10:46.

TIMBER.—See TREES. Ex. 31:5; Lev. 14:45; I Ki. 5:6, 8, 18.

TIMBREL.—See TABRET. Ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:34; II Sa. 6:5.

TIM'-NA, TIM'-NAH (restraining) — R. V., "Timna."
1. Concubine of Eliphaz, son of Esau. Gen. 36:12.
2. Daughter of Seir the Horite, and sister of Lotan. Gen. 36:22; I Ch. 1:39.
3. A chief of Edom, descended from Esau. Gen. 36:40; I Ch. 1:51.
4. A son of Eliphaz, son of Esau. I Ch. 1:36.

A city in Judah, between Ekron and Beth-shemesh; now called Tibneh. Josh. 15:10, 57; II Ch. 28:18.

TIM'-NATH (allotment)—R. V., "Timnah."
1. A city in Judah; now called Tibneh, two miles W. of Beth-shemesh. Gen. 38:12-14.
2. A city in Dan, near Philistia. See THIMNATHAH. Judg. 14:1, 2, 5.

TIM'-NATH--HE-RES (allotment or portion of the sun).
The portion allotted to Joshua in Mount Ephraim, N. E. side of the hill of Gaash; now called Tibneh, six miles W. of Jifneh. Judg. 2:9.

TIM'-NATH--SE'-RAH (allotment of the remainder).
The same as the preceding. Josh. 19:50; 24:30.

TIM'-NITE.
An inhabitant of Timnath. Judg. 15:6.

TI'-MON (honorable).
One of the seven disciples ordained as deacons by the apostles. Acts 6:5.

TI-MO'-THE-US (honored of God)—R. V., "Timothy."
The name generally applied to TIMOTHY (which see) in the A. V. Acts 16:1; Rom. 16:21.

TIM'-O-THY (honored of God).
A favorite disciple of Paul, first mentioned in Acts 16:1, where he is described as the son of a Greek, by a Jewish mother. His father's name is unknown; his mother's was EUNICE, and his grandmother's LOIS (II Ti. 1:5). The family resided either at Derbe or Lystra, which is uncertain (Acts 16:2). He became a disciple of Paul during the apostle's first visit to Lystra, was his friend and traveling companion, and shared for a time his imprisonment at Rome (Heb. 13:23). While still a young man, he took charge of the church at Ephesus (I Ti. 4:12); and tradition makes him bishop of Ephesus. He possessed the confidence and affection of Paul (Acts 16:1; 17:14), who addressed two of his epistles to him. Timothy is also called TIMOTHEUS in the A. V.; but not in the R. V., which introduces uniform spelling of proper names.

TIM'-O-THY, FIRST AND SECOND EPISTLES TO.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

TIN.—A well-known white metal, easily melted, and very malleable. It was known to the Hebrews at an early period (Num. 31:22), and was one of the articles brought by the ships of Tyre from Tarshish (Eze. 27:12). It was used for plummets (Zech. 4:10), and was known to the Hebrew metal-workers as one of the inferior metals. Tin-ore has recently been found in the land of Midian; it is probable that the mines of Britain were the chief source of supply to the ancient world.

TIPH'-SAH (passage, ford).
1. The city Thapsacus, on the W. bank of the Euphrates; from the time of Seleucus Nicator, it was also called Amphipolis. I Ki. 4:24.
2. A city in Judah, on the Jordan; perhaps TAPPUAH. II Ki. 15:16.

TI'-RAS.
A son of Japheth, and his posterity in Thracia. Gen. 10:2; I Ch. 1:5.

TI'-RA-THITES.
A family or race of scribes who dwelt at Jabez. I Ch. 2:55.

TIRES.—Ornaments used in dressing the hair, and perhaps also worn as necklaces. In II Ki. 9:30, "tired" means "attired," as in the R. V. Isa. 3:18; Eze. 24:17, 23.

TIR-HA'-KAH.
A king of Ethiopia and Thebais, same as Tarakos, the third and last king of the twentieth dynasty, and successor of Sevechus; he was contemporary with Hezekiah. B. C. 726. II Ki. 19:9; Isa. 37:9.

TIR-HA'-NAH (kindness).
A son of Caleb, son of Hezron, through Maacah, his concubine. I Ch. 2:48.

TI'-RI-A (foundation).
A son of Jehaleleel, a descendant of Judah through Caleb, son of Jephunneh. I Ch. 4:16.

TIR-SHA'-THA (the fear, the reverence)—R. V., "governor."
A title given to Zerubbabel and Nehemiah as "governors" (as in the R. V.) of Judah under the king of Persia. Ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65, 70; 8:9; 10:1.

TIR'-ZAH (delight).
1. The youngest daughter of Zelophehad. Num. 26:33; 27:1; 36:11; Josh. 17:3.
2. A city in Ephraim or Manasseh; perhaps Tersa, three hours E. of Samaria; or Taluza, six miles N. E. of Nablus. Josh. 12:24; I Ki. 14:17; 15:21, 33; 16:6, 8, 9, 15, 17, 23.

TISH'-BITE.
An inhabitant of Tisbeh or Tesheb, supposed to have been in Naphtali, or in Gilead. Applied as a patronymic to Elijah the prophet. I Ki. 17:1; 21:17, 28.

TIS'-RI or TISH'-RI.
The seventh month of the Jewish sacred year; also called ETHANIM (I Ki. 8:2). See MONTH.

TITHES (tenths).—A word referring to the Mosaic form of taxation, which required the Hebrews to render a certain proportion (one-tenth) of the produce of the earth, trees, herds, etc., to the service of God (Lev. 27:30). This one-tenth went to the Levites, who had no part in the soil and were dependent upon their brethren for means of subsistence. The Levites, in turn, gave one-tenth of what they received to the priests (Num. 18:26-28). Every third year, a special provision was made for the poor, either out of the regular tithe or in addition to it (Deut. 14:28, 29).

TITLE.—In II Ki. 23:17, this word properly signifies a "monument," as rendered in the R. V.

TITTLE.—A very small particle. The word is used in Mat. 5:18; Lu. 16:17 to refer to the fine stroke or minute turn which often distinguishes one letter of the Hebrew alphabet from another.

TI'-TUS (protected ?).
A Greek disciple who accompanied Paul in several of his journeys, was sent by him to Dalmatia, and had charge of the church in Crete when Paul wrote his epistle to him. Gal. 2:1, 3; II Ti. 4:10; Tit. 1:4.

TI'-TUS, EPISTLE TO.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

TI'-ZITE.
Patronymic of Joha, one of David's valiant men. I Ch. 11:45.

TO'-AH (humility).
Father of Eliel, and grandfather of Jeroham the grandfather of Samuel the prophet; called also NAHATH, in v. 26; and TOHU, in I Sa. 1:1. I Ch. 6:34.

TOB (fruitful, good).
A district in Syria, N. E. of Gilead, to which Jephthah fled, and which sent out mercenary troops (II Sa. 10:6). Also called ISH-TOB. Judg. 11:3, 5.

TOB--AD-O-NI'-JAH (the Lord Jehovah is good).
A Levite sent by Jehoshaphat to teach the people in the cities of Judah. II Ch. 17:8.

TO-BI'-AH, TO-BI'-JAH (Jehovah is good) —R. V., "Tobiah."
1. A Levite sent by Jehoshaphat to teach the people in the cities of Judah. II Ch. 17:8.

2. A person whose descendants returning from exile were unable to prove their genealogy. Ezra 2:60; Neh. 7:62.

3. An Ammonite who opposed Nehemiah, B. C. 445. Neh. 2:10, 19; 4:3, 7; 6:1, 12, 14, 17, 19.

4. A chief man whose posterity returned from exile. Zech. 6:10, 14.

TO'-CHEN (establishment).
A city in Simeon, near Rimmon; omitted in Josh. 19:7. I Ch. 4:32.

TOE.—See THUMB. Ex. 29:20; Judg. 1:6, 7.

TO-GAR'-MAH (rugged).
A son of Gomer, son of Japheth. His descendants are supposed to have settled in the N. part of ARMENIA (which see). Gen. 10:3; I Ch. 1:6; Eze. 27:14; 38:6.

TO'-HU (humility, depression).
A Kohathite, ancestor of Samuel; called NAHATH in I Ch. 6:26, and TOAH in I Ch. 6:34. I Sa. 1:1.

TO'-I, TO'-U (error, wandering).
A king of Hamath in the days of David. II Sa. 8:9, 10; I Ch. 18:9, 10.

TOKEN.—See PRESENT; SIGN. Gen. 9:12, 17; Ex. 3:12—Mark 14:44.

1. A son of Issachar. Gen. 46:13; Num. 26:23; I Ch. 7:1, 2.

2. A judge of Israel, of the tribe of Issachar. B. C. 1206-1183. Judg. 10:1.

TO'-LAD (begetter).
A city in Simeon, near Ezem; same as EL-TOLAD in Josh. 15:30. I Ch. 4:29.

TO'-LA-ITES.
Descendants of Tola, son of Issachar. Num. 26:23.

TOLL.—One of the three branches of the king's revenue; probably a payment required from those crossing bridges or fords or traveling on the public roads. Ezra 4:13, 20; 7:24.

TOMB.—See BURYING; SEPULCHRE. Job 21:32—Mat. 8:28; 23:29; 27:60.

TONGS.—Pincers, either for holding coals or for trimming lamps (Ex. 25:38; Num. 4:9, etc.; R. V., usually "snuffers"), but in Isa. 44:12, "axe," as in the R. V.

TONGUE.—This word is variously used in the Bible. It stands, literally, for the human tongue (Judg. 7:5); it is personified (Isa. 45:23; cp. Rom. 14:11); it is used by metonymy for speech generally (Prov. 15:4; I Jno. 3:18); it is used for a particular language or dialect spoken by any particular people (Gen. 10:5, 20, 31), or for the people speaking a certain language (Isa. 66:18; Dan. 3:4, 7); it is used figuratively for anything resembling a tongue in shape (Isa. 5:24).

TOOL.—See BRONZE; COPPER; IRON; OCCUPATIONS. Ex. 20:25; I Ki. 6:7.

TOP.—In Judg. 15:8, 11; Isa. 2:21, "cleft," as in the R. V.

TOPAZ.—This word is thought by many to refer to the modern chrysolite, a rather soft stone of a greenish hue. It was one of the precious stones in the high-priest's breast-plate (Ex. 28:17); was one of the jewels that adorned the apparel of the king of Tyre (Eze. 28:13); and was the bright stone that garnished the ninth foundation of the heavenly Jerusalem (Rev. 21:20). In Job 28:19, where wisdom is contrasted with precious articles, it is said that "the topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it."

TO'-PHEL (mortar).
A place in the wilderness of Sinai over against Paran; now called Tufileh, S. E. of the Dead Sea. Deut. 1:1.

TO'-PHET, TO'-PHETH (altar)—R. V., "Topheth."
A place in the valley of Hinnom where human sacrifices were offered to Molech (Moloch) and the dead bodies buried or consumed. II Ki. 23:10; Jer. 7:31; 19:11-14.

TORCH.—Torches were made of pieces of resinous wood or bunches of flax twisted together and covered with an inflammable substance. The "lanterns" carried by the men who arrested Jesus on the night preceding his crucifixion (Jno. 18:3) were probably torches of some kind. Nah. 2:3, 4; Zech. 12:6.

TORMENTORS.—In Mat. 18:34, probably keepers of the prison who endeavored, by torturing the prisoner, to find out if he had any money or other valuables hidden away.

TORTOISE.—"Great lizard" in the R. V.; probably the dhabb, or Arabian lizard, a slow-moving reptile which sometimes attains a length of two feet. The Arabs eat it, but it was "unclean" among the Hebrews (Lev. 11:29).

TOU. See TOI. I Ch. 18:9.

TOW.—The coarse and broken part of flax. In Isa. 43:17, the word means flax; hence the R. V. renders it "wick." See FLAX; LINEN. Judg. 16:9; Isa. 1:31.

TOWEL.—The apron worn by servants and persons in waiting. Jno. 13:4, 5.

TOWER.—This word usually denotes a high building erected in vineyards, which served as a shelter and refuge for the watchmen and afforded an extensive view of the surrounding country (Isa. 5:2; Mat. 21:33). Shepherds erected towers for similar purposes. Such towers are still in use in Palestine in vineyards, especially near Hebron, and serve as lodges for the keepers of the vineyards. During the vintage, they are filled with the persons employed in the work of gathering the grapes. Mural towers were in all ages built as part of the fortifications of towns, especially at the corners of the walls and the gates (II Ch. 14:7; 26:9, 15; 32:5); also, towers in the interior of cities served as citadels (Judg. 9:46 sq.). Jerusalem was especially provided with towers of this description, many of which had special names (see below). Those on the walls and at the gates were used for sentries (II Ki. 9:17; 17:9; 18:8; Eze. 27:11). The Temple was likewise provided with numerous towers. The "tower in Siloam" (Lu. 13:4) was probably some mural fortification near that fountain. See towers listed below.

TOWER OF BA'-BEL. See BABYLON; BABYLON OF TODAY.

TOWER OF DA'-VID.
Part of the castle in Zion. Song 4:4.

TOWER OF E'-DAR—R. V., "Eder."
Between Bethlehem and Hebron. Gen. 35:21.

TOWER OF THE FLOCK.
Same as the preceding, or in Zion. Mic. 4:8.

TOWER OF THE FURNACES.
On the wall of Jerusalem, near the Valley Gate. Neh. 3:11; 12:38.

TOWER OF HAN'-A-NEEL—R. V., "Hananel."
On the wall of Jerusalem, near the Sheep Gate. Neh. 3:1; 12:39; Jer. 31:38; Zech. 14:10.

TOWER OF LEB'-A-NON.
On the E. of Lebanon. Song 7:4.

TOWER OF ME'-AH—R. V., "Ham-meah."
On the wall of Jerusalem, between the Sheep Gate and the tower of Hananeel. Neh. 3:1; 12:39.

TOWER OF PEN'-U-EL.
In Penuel, a city of Gilead. Judg. 8:17.

TOWER OF SHE'-CHEM.
In Shechem, a city of Ephraim. Judg. 9:46, 47.

TOWER OF SY-E'-NE—R. V., "Seveneh."
In Syene, a city in the S. of Egypt. Eze. 29:10; 30:6.

TOWN.—Towns of all sizes were spoken of as "cities." For list of the principal towns and cities of Palestine, see PALESTINE. Gen. 25:16; Num. 32:41—Mat. 10:11; Mark 8:23, 26, 27.

TOWN CLERK.—Probably an official of great importance, whose duties consisted of keeping the public records, presiding over public gatherings, and performing the functions of the chief magistrate when the latter was away. Acts 19:35.

TRA-CHO-NI'-TIS.
A small rocky part of the tetrarchy of Philip, on the E. of the Jordan, having the Arabian desert on the E. and Auranitis and Gaulonitis on the S. W., and extending from the territory of Damascus on the N. to near Bostra on the S.; now called Lejah, anciently ARGOB, and is nearly in the centre of ancient Bashan. Lu. 3:1.

TRADE.—See MERCHANDISE; OCCUPATIONS. Gen. 46:32, 34.

TRADITIONS.—Certain rules handed down by word of mouth from generation to generation; not written in the law, but claimed by the Jews to have been given by God to Moses. Mat. 15:2, 3, 6; Gal. 1:14.

TRAITOR.—Designation applied to Judas Iscariot, the most noted and most despised traitor of all history. Lu. 6:16.

TRAIN.—In I Ki. 10:2, a body of attendants; a retinue. In Isa. 6:1, that part of a garment which trails after the wearer; hence, the garment itself or the whole attire of the wearer.

TRANSFIGURATION, THE. — A supernatural manifestation of the Savior's inherent glory, in which his divinity and mission were most solemnly attested. This is one of the most wonderful incidents in the life of Christ upon earth, and one so instructive that we can never exhaust its lessons. Both the apostles Peter (II Pe. 1:18) and John (1:14), who were eye-witnesses of the great event, refer to the convincing power of the glory exhibited upon that occasion, and the events connected with it are particularly described in Mat. 17:1-9; Mark 9:2-10; Lu. 9:28-36. The Mount of Transfiguration is traditionally thought to have been Mount Tabor; but as this height is fifty miles from Cæsarea Philippi, where Jesus last taught, it is now generally supposed to have been a mountain much less distant—Mount Hermon.

TRANSLATE.—In II Sa. 3:10; Heb. 11:5, to remove from one place to another; to "transfer," as rendered in the former passage in the R. V.

TRAP.—See HUNTER; NET. Job 18:10; Psa. 69:22—Rom. 11:9.

TRAVAIL.—Labor; pain; trouble generally. Job 15:20; Isa. 53:11—Jno. 16:21.

TRAVELLER.—A "travelling company" (Gen. 37:25) in the East is still much more cumbersome than with us, since it is almost exclusively undertaken solely on errands of business, and rarely for purposes of pleasure. Commerce is carried on by means of caravans, which carry all necessaries with them, and are often so large as to seem like a considerable army. Single travelers in the interior of the well-inhabited country, or in Palestine proper, usually ride upon asses (see I Sa. 25:20, 42; II Sa. 17:23, etc.); tourists, however, and sheiks, upon horses; and, in some instances, wagons were anciently used as vehicles (Gen. 45:19; II Ki. 9:21; Acts 8:28) in certain parts of the country; but most persons went on foot (cp. Jno. 4:6) and carried their most essential supplies with them (Judg. 19:18 sq.). Journeying on the Sabbath was forbidden in postexilian times (see Josephus, Ant. XIII, 8:4).

TREADER.—See PRESS. Isa. 16:10; Amos 9:13.

TREASURE CITIES and HOUSES. — Fortified cities and well-guarded houses in which the king stored his treasures for safe-keeping. See STORE CITY; STOREHOUSE. Ex. 1:11; Ezra 5:17.

TREASURER. — Important officer in Oriental courts, probably having charge of the receipts and disbursements of the public treasury. Ezra 1:8; 7:21; Isa. 22:15.

TREASURY.—In Mark 12:41, 43; Lu. 21:1; Jno. 8:20, etc., the place in the Temple where gifts were received. According to the rabbins, this treasury was in the court of the women, where stood thirteen chests, called trumpets from their form or funnel-shaped mouth, into which the Jews cast their offerings (cp. Ex. 30:13 sq.).

TREES.—The Hebrews were forbidden to destroy the fruit-trees of their enemies in time of war, "for the tree of the field is man's life" (Deut. 20:19, 20). Trees of any kind are not now very abundant in Palestine. Some trees of the East are found, by an examination of the internal zones, to have attained a very great age. There are some in existence which are stated to have attained a longevity of 3,000 years, while for others a still higher antiquity is claimed. Individual trees in Palestine are often notable for historical and sacred associations. See GROVES; FORESTS; PALESTINE.

TRENCH.—Besides denoting a ditch, as in I Ki. 18:32, 35, 38, this word is used in the Bible to designate a rampart or bulwark formed by arranging the vehicles and baggage of a camp in a circle. See I Sa. 26:5, 7 (R. V., "place of the wagons"); II Sa. 20:15 (R. V., "rampart").

TRESPASS OFFERING.—An individual sacrifice, or offering, made for some specific sin or offense. Restitution was first to be made, and then this offering presented to God for an atonement. See OFFERING; RESTITUTION. Lev. 5:1 sq.; 6:6, 17; 7:1 sq.; 14:12 sq.; 19:21, 22.

TRIAL.—See JESUS, TRIAL OF; PUNISHMENT; SANHEDRIN. Job 9:23; Eze. 21:13—Heb. 11:36; I Pe. 1:7; 4:12.

TRIBE.—The posterity of each of the twelve sons of Jacob formed a tribe (Num. 1:4). Jacob, on his death-bed, adopted Ephraim and Manasseh, the sons of Joseph, as his own children (Gen.

48:5), and thus made two tribes of one. In dividing the Promised Land, however, only twelve shares were made, the Levites not receiving any of the land, as they were to minister in the Temple and were to be supported by contributions from the remainder (see LEVITES; TITHES). The twelve (thirteen, including the Levites) tribes lived together as one people until after the death of Solomon, B. C. 975 (or 931), when ten of them revolted, forming the kingdom of ISRAEL under Jeroboam. The tribes of Benjamin and Judah remained faithful to Rehoboam, the successor of Solomon, and were known as the kingdom of JUDAH. For each of the tribes, see separate articles under their respective names. See also ISRAEL; JACOB; JEWS; JUDAH, KINGDOM OF; and PALESTINE (History).

TRIBUTE.—A tax, consisting of an annual or stated sum of money or other valuable thing, paid for the support of the government, or levied on a people by their conquerors. Every Hebrew over twenty years of age was required to pay a tribute of a half-shekel (about 30 cents) for the maintenance of the Temple-service (Ex. 30:13, 14). See PUBLICAN; TAXES; TITHES.

TRO'-AS.
Strictly Alexandria-Troas, a seaport of Phrygia Minor, in Mysia, on the shores of the Archipelago, a little S. W. of the Hellespont, 25 miles N. of Asso, and a little S. of ancient Troy; now called Eski-Stamboul or "Old Constantinople." It was twice visited by Paul (Acts 16:8-11; 20:5-10). II Co. 2#12; II Ti. 4:13.

TRO-GYL'-LI-UM.
A city and promontory at the foot of Mount Mycale, in Caria (the S. W. province of Asia Minor), nearly opposite to Samos, and not far from Miletus. It was visited by Paul on his third missionary journey (Acts 20:15; A. V. only).

TROOP.—A word used in the Bible to denote a company or band of any size. See ROBBERS; SOLDIER. Gen. 49:19; I Sa. 30:8; II Sa. 2:25.

TROPH'-I-MUS.
A believer in Ephesus who accompanied Paul to Jerusalem when he returned from Greece. Acts 20:4; 21:29; II Ti. 4:20.

TROUBLER OF ISRAEL.—Term applied to Achar, or ACHAN (which see). I Ch. 2:7.

TROUGH.—A vessel of wood or stone for watering animals. See KNEADING TROUGHS. Gen. 24:20; 30:38; Ex. 2:16.

TROW.—Think; believe. The expression "I trow not," in Lu. 17:9 of the A. V., is omitted from the R. V.

TRUMPET.—The difference between this instrument and the HORN (which see), as they were used by the ancient Hebrews, is not known. The Lord commanded Moses to make two trumpets of beaten silver, for the purpose of calling the people together when they were to decamp (Num. 10). These trumpets were chiefly used, however, to proclaim the beginning of the civil year, the beginning of the sabbatical year (Lev. 23:24; Num. 29:1), and the beginning of the jubilee (Lev. 25:9, 10). According to Josephus (Ant. III, 12:6), they were near a cubit long, and their tube or pipe was of about the thickness of a common flute. In the time of Joshua, there were seven of these instruments (Josh. 6:4); and at the dedication of the Temple of Solomon, there were 120 priests that sounded trumpets (II Ch. 5:12). In addition to the sacred trumpets of the Temple, whose use was restricted, even in war and in battle, to the priests, there were others used by the Hebrew generals. Ehud sounded the trumpet to assemble Israel against the Moabites, whose king, Eglon, he had slain (Judg. 3:17-30). Gideon took a trumpet in his hand, and gave each of his followers one, when he assaulted the Midianites (7:2, 16). Joab sounded the trumpet as a signal of retreat to his soldiers, in the battle against Abner (II Sa. 2:28), in that against Absalom (18:16), and in the pursuit of Sheba, son of Bichri (20:22).

TRUMPETS, FEAST OF.—A festival celebrated on the first day, or new moon, of the seventh month (Tishri) of the sacred year, which was the New Year's Day of the Jewish civil year. The feast was begun with the sound of trumpets, and, besides the usual sacrifices that took place on the first of each month (see MOON), there was a total cessation from labor and a special burnt-offering unto the Lord of a young bullock, a ram, and seven lambs (Num. 29:1-6). Various meanings have been assigned to the Feast of Trumpets. It was an odd fancy of the rabbins that on this day, every year, God judges all men, and that they pass before Him as a flock of sheep pass before a shepherd (Rosh hash-Shan. I, 2).

TRY-PHE'-NA (delicate)—R. V., "Tryphæna."
A woman disciple in Rome to whom Paul sent salutation. Rom. 16:12.

TRY-PHO'-SA.
A Roman female disciple to whom Paul sent salutation. Rom. 16:12.

TU'-BAL (production ?).
1. A son of Japheth. Gen. 10:2; I Ch. 1:5.
2. The name "Tubal" is also applied to the descendants of Tubal, who are thought to have settled S. of the Black Sea, and W. of Colchis, whence they went to Spain, Sicily, etc. Isa. 66:19; Eze. 27:13; 32:26.

TU'-BAL--CAIN (producer of weapons ?).
Son of Lamech by Zillah, and brother of Naamah, of the race of Cain. He is described as "an instructor of every artificer in brass (copper) and iron" (Gen. 4:22), and is the first smith mentioned in the Bible.

TURTLE.—A word which always refers to the TURTLE DOVE (which see). Song 2:12; Jer. 8:7.

TURTLE DOVE.—A species of dove found in great numbers in Palestine. It is smaller than the pigeon, differently marked, and has a soft plaintive note. According to the Mosaic law, the poor, who could not afford a more costly sacrifice, were permitted to offer two pigeons or turtle-doves (Lev. 12:8), and their use by Joseph and Mary (Lu. 2:24) would seem to indicate that the parents of Christ were people of very moderate means. "Turtle" is frequently used in the Bible for turtle-dove, and should always be so understood.

TUTORS.—"Guardians," as in the R. V. Gal. 4:2.

TWAIN.—"Two," as often rendered in the R. V. Jer. 34:18—Mat. 5:41; 19:5, 6.

TWIGS.—The gospel is represented, in Eze. 17:4, 22, as a tender twig which the Lord would plant, and which would "bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar" (v. 23).

TWINS.—Esau and Jacob were twins, of whom Esau was the first born (Gen. 25:24, 25); so also were Pharez and Zarah, the former being the first born (Gen. 38:29, 30). It is probable, however, that in both instances the second born received the birthright to which the first born was ordinarily entitled (see Gen. 25:31-34; 27:6 sq.; 38:28-30; and also MEDICINE).

TYCH'-I-CUS (fortunate).
A believer in Asia Minor who accompanied Paul to Jerusalem when he left Greece, and was sent by him first to Ephesus, and then to Colosse. Acts 20:4; Eph. 6:21; Col. 4:7; II Ti. 4:12; Tit. 3:12.

TY-RAN'-NUS (tyrant).
A man of Ephesus in whose school Paul preached for two years, the Jews having compelled him to stop visiting the synagogue. Acts 19:9.

TYRE, TY'-RUS (rock)—R. V., "Tyre."
A city in the centre of Phœnicia, on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea, five miles S. of the Leontes River, midway between Accho and Sidon, and three miles W. of Raamah. Said to have been founded B. C. 2750; it was assigned to the tribe of Asher, but was never occupied by them; in 1210, it received many fugitives from Sidon; in 1014, Hiram, its king, helped Solomon in his great works; in 721-716, it successfully resisted Shalmaneser, king of Assyria; in 585-572, it did the same to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, when the inhabitants founded insular Tyre, which, in 332, was taken by Alexander the Great (after a siege of seven months), by his constructing a mole connecting it with the mainland; in 315, it was taken by Antigonus of Syria, after a siege of 15 months; in 248, it was treacherously surrendered to Antiochus the Great by Theodotus, lieutenant of Ptolemy Philopater. In A. D. 1124, it was taken by the Crusaders from the Saracens, after a siege of five and a half months, when a third of it was assigned to Venice; in 1187, it successfully resisted Saladin; in 1391, it was taken by the Turks; in 1766, the Metalwileh, a sect of the Shiites, settled at it, and established a trade in grain and tobacco; in 1841, it was taken by the allied fleet. Councils were held here, A. D. 335 and 518. Eze. 27:1-32 contains a glowing account of its ancient riches and extensive traffic, from Spain to India, including Greece, Cyprus, Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Arabia, and Persia, in gold, silver, iron, lead, tin, copper; wheat, cereals, honey, oil, balm; wools and linen fabrics; ivory and ebony; jewelry, and dyes of all kinds. Tyre was a flourishing town in N. T. times; Paul visited it and spent seven days there (Acts 21:3, 4). It is now an insignificant town of about 4,000 inhabitants, and was under Turkish rule until the late World War, when it passed under the control of the French. It is now called Es-Sur.

U

U'-CAL (I am strong).
Mentioned only in Prov. 30:1. Nothing is known of him except that he was one of those to whom Agur spoke.

U'-EL (will of God).
A son of Bani who had taken a foreign wife during the Exile. Ezra 10:34.

U'-LAI (strong water).
A river surrounding Susa, falling into the Euphrates below its junction with the Tigris; called by the Greeks Eulæus or Choaspes; and now Kerah, or Kerkhah. Dan. 8:2, 16.

U'-LAM (solitary).
1. A son of Sheresh, grandson of Manasseh. I Ch. 7:16, 17.

2. A son of Eshek, a Benjamite of the family of Saul. I Ch. 8:39, 40.

UL'-LA (burden).
An Asherite, father of Arah, Haniel, and Rezia. I Ch. 7:39.

UM'-MAH (union, kindred).
A city in Asher, near Aphek or Rehob; now called Alma, near Ras Nakhura. Josh. 19:30.

UNBELIEVERS.—A term generally applied to those who reject, or do not accept, the doctrine and teachings of Christ. I Co. 6:6; 14:23.

UNCIRCUMCISED.—The Gentiles, in contrast with the Jews, who were circumcised. "Uncircumcision" is also used to denote impurity or wickedness (Rom. 2:25-27). I Sa. 17:26, 36; 31:4.

UNCLE.—Brother of a parent. Lev. 10:4; I Sa. 10:14-16; 14:50.

UNCLEAN.—See CLEAN. Lev. 5:2; 7:19, 21; 11:4-8, 26.

UNCOVER.—To uncover the head was a sign of grief or mourning, and also a token of captivity. Uncovering the arm was a preparation for the siege, by removing every encumbrance. Eze. 4:7; Isa. 47:2.

UNCTION.—"Anointing," as in the R. V. I Jno. 2:20.

UNDERGIRDING.—See HELPS; SHIP. Acts 27:17.

UNDERSETTERS.—Projections on the bases of the brazen laver. They may have served as supports or ornaments. See LAVER. I Ki. 7:30, 34.

UNICORN.—This word does not refer to the fabulous animal known to us by that name, but to the "wild ox," as rendered in the R. V. Num. 23:22; Job. 39:9; Psa. 22:21.

UNLEAVENED BREAD.—See BREAD, UNLEAVENED. Gen. 19:3; Ex. 12:8, 15, 17, 18, 20.

UN'-NI (depressed).
1. A Levite over the choral services in the Tabernacle in the days of David. I Ch. 15:18, 20.

2. A Levite who returned from exile with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Neh. 12:9.

UNTOWARD.—Perverse or "crooked," as in the R. V. Acts 2:40.

UNWITTINGLY.—In Josh. 20:5, "unawares" in the R. V.

U-PHAR'-SIN.—See MENE. Dan. 5:25.

U'-PHAZ.
A place in S. Arabia where gold was obtained; perhaps the same as OPHIR. Jer. 10:9; Dan. 10:5.

UPPER COASTS.
The countries of Galatia and Phrygia, in Asia Minor, which Paul passed through on his third missionary journey. Acts 19:1.

UPPER ROOMS.—In Mark 12:39, "chief places" in the R. V. See HOUSE.

UR (light, brightness).
Father of Eliphal, one of David's valiant men. I Ch. 11:35.

UR OF THE CHAL'-DEES.
The place where Abram lived before he was called to go into Canaan. Stephen spoke of it (Acts 7:2) as being in Mesopotamia. It was probably in the extreme N. of that country, near the source of the river Tigris. Gen. 11:28, 31; 15:7; Neh. 9:7.

UR'-BANE (polite)—R. V., "Urbanus."
A Christian at Rome to whom Paul sent salutation. Rom. 16:9.

U'-RI (enlightened).
1. Son of Hur, and father of Bezaleel, who was filled with the spirit of wisdom to prepare the Tabernacle. Ex. 31:2; 35:30; 38:22; I Ch. 2:20; II Ch. 1:5.

2. Father of Geber, one of Solomon's officers in Gilead. I Ki. 4:19.

3. A gate-keeper that had taken a "strange" (foreign) wife during the Exile. Ezra 10:24.

U-RI'-AH, U-RI'-JAH (Jehovah is light).
1. A Hittite, husband of Bath-sheba, and one of David's valiant men. David contrived his death, in order to secure Bath-sheba for himself. II Sa. 11:3-26; 12:9, 10, 15; 23:39; I Ki. 15:5.

2. A priest in Jerusalem who built an altar according to the pattern sent him by King Ahaz. II Ki. 16:10, 11, 15, 16.

3. A priest, father of Meremoth, who rebuilt part of the wall of Jerusalem at the instance of Nehemiah. Ezra 8:33; Neh. 3:4, 21.

4. A priest, Levite, or ruler who stood beside Ezra when he read the book of the law to the people. Neh. 8:4.

5. A priest whom Isaiah took as a witness. Isa. 8:2.

6. A prophet, son of Shemaiah, whom Jehoiakim sent for into Egypt, and slew. Jer. 26:20, 21, 23.

U-RI'-AS—R. V., "Uriah." See URIAH, No. 1. Mat. 1:6.

U'-RI-EL (God is light).
1. A Kohathite, son of Tahath. I Ch. 6:24; 15:5, 11.

2. Father of Michaiah, one of Rehoboam's wives; a Gibeathite. II Ch. 13:2.

U'-RIM and THUM'-MIM (light and perfection).
The Anglicized form of two Hebrew words used with reference to some obscure mode of divination in connection with the sacerdotal regalia (Ex. 28:30; Lev. 8:8), but concerning which both ancient and modern interpreters have greatly differed. Neither Scripture nor Jewish tradition throws any light whatsoever upon the subject. The two words are always used together except in Num. 27:21; I Sa. 28:6, where "Urim" occurs alone. Deut. 33:8; Ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65.

USURY.—In the Bible, this word means simply "interest" (as in the R. V.), and does not have the significance that is now attached to it. Under the Mosaic code, the Jews were not permitted to receive interest from each other for the loan of money or anything else, though they might require interest of strangers. See LENDER; PLEDGE. Ex. 22:25; Lev. 25:36, 37; Deut. 23:19, 20.

U'-THAI (Jehovah is help).
1. Son of Ammihud, a descendant of Pharez, son of Judah, dwelling in Jerusalem. I Ch. 9:4.

2. A chief man, of the sons of Bigvai, that returned from exile with Ezra in the time of Artaxerxes, B. C. 458. Ezra 8:14.

UTTER.—In Eze. 42:1, 3, etc., "outer," as in the R. V.

UTMOST SEA.
A term referring to the Mediterranean Sea. Deut. 34:2 (R. V., "hinder sea"); Joel 2:20 (R. V., "eastern sea").

UTTERMOST SEA.
Term referring to the Mediterranean Sea. Deut. 11:24.

UZ (firmness).
1. A son of Aram, son of Shem. Gen. 10:23; I Ch. 1:17.

2. A son of Dishon, of the family of Seir, and ancestor of the Horim. Gen. 36:28; I Ch. 1:42.

3. A region at the S. of Edom and W. of the great Arabian desert which extends into Chaldea. Job 1:1; Jer. 25:20; Lam. 4:21.

U'-ZAI (hoped for).
Father of Palal, who repaired part of the wall of Jerusalem, B. C. 445. Neh. 3:25.

U'-ZAL (wanderer).
The sixth son of Joktan, of the family of Shem, who settled in S. Arabia, in Zanaa. Gen. 10:27; I Ch. 1:21.

UZ'-ZA, UZ'-ZAH (strength).
1. A son of Abinadab who was miraculously killed for touching the ark of God (see Num. 4:15) while it was being carried back from the country of the Philistines (II Sa. 6:3-8). I Ch. 13:7, 9-11.

2. A person in whose garden Manasseh and Amon, kings of Judah, were buried. II Ki. 21:18, 26.

3. Son of Shimei, a Merarite. I Ch. 6:29.

4. A Benjamite, brother of Ahihud. I Ch. 8:7.

5. Ancestor of a family of the Nethinim that returned from Babylon with Zerubbabel, B. C. 536. Ezra 2:49; Neh. 7:51.

UZ'-ZEN--SHE'-RAH (portion or top of Sherah) —R. V., "Uzzen-sheerah."
A city in Ephraim, near the two Beth-horons; now called Beit Sira. I Ch. 7:24.

UZ'-ZI (Jehovah is strong).
1. A son of Bukki, and father of Zerahiah, a descendant of Phinehas, grandson of Aaron. I Ch. 6:5, 6, 51; Ezra 7:4.

2. Grandson of Issachar, and father of Izrahiah. I Ch. 7:2, 3.

3. Son of Bela, son of Benjamin. I Ch. 7:7.

4. Father of Elah, a Benjamite, whose descendants dwelt in Jerusalem after the Exile. I Ch. 9:8.

5. An overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem after the Exile. Neh. 11:22.

6. A priest of the family of Jedaiah in the days of Joiakim, grandson of Jozadah. Neh. 12:19, 42.

An Ashterathite, one of David's valiant men. I Ch. 11:44.

UZ-ZI'-AH (Jehovah is strong).
1. Son of Amaziah, and father of Jotham, kings of Judah; called also AZARIAH. He reigned 52 years, B. C. 810-758, but was smitten with leprosy by the Lord (II Ki. 15:2-5). See AZARIAH, No. 3. II Ch. 26:1-23; 27:2; Isa. 1:1; 6:1; 7:1.

2. Son of Uriel, a Kohathite. I Ch. 6:24.

3. Father of Jehonathan, keeper of the storehouses in the days of David. I Ch. 27:25.

4. A priest that had taken a "strange" (foreign) wife. Ezra 10:21.

5. Father of Athaiah, who dwelt in Jerusalem after the Exile. Neh. 11:4.

UZ'-ZI-EL (God is strong).
1. A son of Kohath, son of Levi. Ex. 6:18, 22; Lev. 10:4; Num. 3:19, 30.

2. A Simeonite, son of Ishi, who, with Pelatiah and Neariah and Rephaiah and five hundred men, went to Mount Seir, smote the Amalekites, and dwelt there. I Ch. 4:42.

3. A son of Bela, son of Benjamin. I Ch. 7:7.

4. A son of Heman set by David over the service of song. I Ch. 25:4.

5. A Levite who helped to cleanse the Temple in the days of Hezekiah. II Ch. 29:14.

6. Son of Hashaiah, and a goldsmith who repaired part of the wall of Jerusalem. Neh. 3:8.

UZ'-ZI-EL-ITES.
Descendants of Uzziel, son of Kohath. Num. 3:27; I Ch. 26:23.

V

VAGABOND.—"Wanderer," "fugitive" (as sometimes rendered in the R. V.). In Acts 19:13, the R. V. renders the word "strolling." Gen. 4:12, 14; Psa. 109:10.

VAIL, VEIL.—In ancient times, the veil was worn only on special occasions (Gen. 24:65; 38:14), the Hebrew women usually appearing in public without it (Gen. 12:14; I Sa. 1:12). In the present day, however, the veil is an indispensable article of female apparel in the East (especially among the Mohammedans), where custom forbids women to show their faces to men other than their husbands. See GARMENTS.

VA-JE-ZA'-THA (born of Ized)—R. V., "Vaizatha."
The tenth son of Haman the Agagite, in the days of Esther and Ahasuerus. He was hanged with his father and brothers, after death (Esth. 9:9, 14).

VALE, VALLEY.—See PALESTINE; also see below.

VALLEY GATE.
A gate on the N. W. of Jerusalem; probably the present Jaffa Gate. II Ch. 26:9; Neh. 2:13; 3:13.

VALLEY OF A'-CHOR.
Near Jericho. Josh. 7:24, 26; 15:7; Isa. 65:10; Hos. 2:15.

VALLEY OF AJ'-A-LON—R. V., "Aijalon."
In Dan. Josh. 10:12.

VALLEY OF BA'-CA—R. V., "Weeping."
Near Jerusalem. Psa. 84:6.

VALLEY OF BE-RA'-CHAH—R. V., "Beracah."
West of Tekoa. II Ch. 20:26.

VALLEY OF CHA-RA'-SHIM—R. V., "Ge-harashim."
In Judah. See CHARASHIM. I Ch. 4:14.

VALLEY OF CRAFTS'-MEN.
Same as VALLEY OF CHARASHIM. Neh. 11:35.

VALLEY OF DE-CI'-SION.
In the vicinity of Jerusalem. Joel 3:14.

VALLEY OF THE PAS'-SEN-GERS.
In the E. of Chinnereth. Called also VALLEY OF HAMON-GOG. Eze. 39:11.

VALLEY OF REPH'-A-IM.
N. part of the VALLEY OF HINNOM, on the S. of Jerusalem. II Sa. 5:18, 22; 23:13; I Ch. 11:15; 14:9; Isa. 17:5.

VALLEY OF SALT.
At the S. end of the Salt (Dead) Sea. II Sa. 8:13; II Ki. 14:7; I Ch. 18:12; Psa. 60: title.

VALLEY OF SHA'-VEH.
Same as the VALLEY OF THE KING. Gen. 14:17.

VALLEY OF SHIT'-TIM.
VALLEY OF THE ACACIAS. See SHITTIM. Joel 3:18.

VALLEY OF SID'-DIM.
S. W. of the Salt (Dead) Sea. Gen. 14:3, 8, 10.

VALLEY OF SLAUGH'-TER.
A symbolic name. Jer. 7:32; 19:6.

VALLEY OF THE SON OF HIN'-NOM.
See VALLEY OF HINNOM. Josh. 15:8; 18:16; II Ki. 23:10; II Ch. 28:3; 33:6.

VALLEY OF SO'-REK.
In Dan. Judg. 16:4.

VALLEY OF SUC'-COTH.
In Gad. Psa. 60:6; 108:7.

VALLEY OF VI'-SION.
Symbolic name for the lower part of Jerusalem. Isa. 22:1, 5.

VALLEY OF ZA'-RED—R. V., "Zered."
E. of the Salt (Dead) Sea. Num. 21:12.

VALLEY OF ZE-BO'-IM.
In Benjamin. I Sa. 13:18.

VALLEY OF ZEPH'-A-THAH.
In Simeon. II Ch. 14:10.

VA-NI'-AH (Jehovah is praise).
One of the sons of Bani that had taken a "strange" (foreign) wife. Ezra 10:36.

VANITY.—In Job. 7:3, "misery" in the R. V.

VAPOUR.—See CLOUD; SMOKE. Psa. 135:7—Acts 2:19; Jas. 4:14.

VASH'-NI (strong)—R. V., "Joel."
The "first-born" of Samuel the prophet, according to I Ch. 6:28; but I Sa. 8:2 shows that the true reading should be "the second," and that the name of Joel, the eldest son, has dropped out.

VASH'-TI (a beautiful woman).
A queen whom Ahasuerus repudiated, and whom Esther succeeded, B. C. 478. Esth. 1:9, 11, 12, 15-17, 19; 2:1, 4, 17.

VAT.—See PRESS.

VEIL.—See VAIL.

VE-A'-DAR. See MONTH.

VEIN.—In Job 28:1, "mine" in the R. V.

VENGEANCE.—As used in the Bible, this word does not always imply a revengeful state of mind, but rather denotes retribution or punishment inflicted as an act of justice. Gen. 4:15; Deut. 32:35—Rom. 12:19.

VENISON.—As used in the Bible, this word denotes the flesh of any wild animal. The Hebrew words so rendered are frequently translated "hunting." Gen. 25:28; 27:3, 5, 7, 19, 25, 31, 33.

VENOM.—Poison, particularly the poisonous matter which certain animals, such as serpents, scorpions, etc., secrete in a state of health, and communicate by biting or stinging. See SCORPION; SERPENT. Deut. 32:33.

VERMILION.—A bright red coloring substance much prized in the Orient for ornamenting dwellings and painting images. Jer. 22:14; Eze. 23:14.

VESSEL.—See DISH; PITCHER; POT; etc. Gen. 43:11; Lev. 6:28—Mat. 13:48.

VESTMENT, VESTURE.—See GARMENTS. Gen. 41:42; II Ki. 10:22—Mat. 27:35 (R. V., "garments").

VESTRY.—The wardrobe chamber of a temple—as that of Baal (II Ki. 10:22)—containing, doubtless, the fine official apparel of the priests.

VIAL.—In I Sa. 10:1, a bottle or flask; in Rev. 5:8; 15:7; 16:1 sq., etc., a bowl.

VICTUALS.—See EATING; FOOD, etc. Gen. 14:11—Mat. 14:15 (R. V., "food").

VILE.—In Lam. 1:11, "abject" in the R. V. In Isa. 32:6, "vile person" is rendered "fool" in the R. V.

VILLAGES.—See PALESTINE. Neh. 6:2; 11:25, 30; 12:28, 29—Mat. 9:35.

VILLANY.—"Folly" in the R. V. Isa. 32:6; Jer. 29:23.

VINE, VINEYARD.—The first mention of the vine or vineyard in Scripture occurs in Gen. 9:20, where we are informed that "Noah began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard." The grape-vine is found wild at this day in the supposed neighborhood of Noah's first vineyard, at the foot of Mount Ararat. The next mention of the vine in the Bible is in Gen. 40:9-11, where mention is made of the vine of Egypt. This country is not nowadays, however, at all eminent for its grapes; but the frequency with which the plant or its fruit is figured on Egyptian monuments shows how important it must once have been.

Even before Israel took possession, the Promised Land was a land of vineyards (Num. 13:23; Deut. 6:11); and it is interesting to note the exceeding minuteness with which the great law-giver enacted rules and regulations for the culture of their vineyards, while the prospective owners still wandered in a burning desert (Ex. 22:5; 23:11; Lev. 25:5, 11; Num. 6:3, etc.). For vine-culture, the territory allotted to Judah was especially adapted, and in obtaining for his inheritance the hilly slopes of the south, the prophecy of his ancestor was fulfilled—"he washed his garments in wine and his clothes in the blood of grapes" (Gen. 49:11). The grapes of Hebron are still considered the finest in the Holy Land; and bunches weighing from five to seven pounds are said to be by no means uncommon. In the Mosaic ritual, the vine was subject to the usual restrictions of the "seventh year" (Ex. 23:11) and the jubilee of the fiftieth year (Lev. 25:11). The gleanings were to be left for the poor and the stranger (Deut. 24:21; Jer. 49:9). The vineyard was not to be sown with "divers seeds" (Deut. 22:9), but fig-trees were sometimes planted in vineyards (Lu. 13:6; cp. I Ki. 4:25). Persons passing through the vineyard were permitted to eat the grapes therein, but not to carry any away (Deut. 23:24).

At present, the finest grapes of Palestine are dried as raisins, and the juice of the remainder, after they have been trodden and pressed, is boiled down to a syrup which, under the name of dibs, is extensively used by all classes, wherever vineyards are found, as a condiment with their food. The vineyard, which was generally on a hill (Isa. 5:1), was surrounded by a wall or hedge in order to keep out the wild boars (Psa. 80:13), jackals, and foxes (Num. 22:24; Song 2:15), which commit sad havoc among the vines, both by treading them down and by eating the fruit. Within the vineyard were one or more towers of stone in which the vine-dressers lived (see TOWERS). The press and vat (see PRESS), which were dug (Mat. 21:33) or hewn out of the rocky soil, were among the articles of vineyard furniture. The human foot is still used in the East for expressing the juice of the grape in making wine.

To dwell under the vine and fig-tree is an emblem of domestic happiness and peace (I Ki. 4:25; Psa. 128:3; Mic. 4:4). The rebellious people of Israel are compared to "wild grapes," "an empty vine," "the degenerate plant of a strange vine" (Isa. 5:2, 4; Jer. 2:21; Hos. 10:1), etc. It is the vine which the Lord selects to show the spiritual union which exists between Himself and his members (Jno. 15:1-6).

VINE OF SOD'-OM.—See SODOM, VINE OF. Deut. 32:32.

VINEGAR.—A beverage consisting generally of wine or strong drink turned sour (whence its use was prohibited to the Nazarite, Num. 6:3), but sometimes artificially made by an admixture of barley and wine, and thus liable to fermentation. It was acid even to a proverb (Prov. 10:26), and by itself formed a nauseous draught (Psa. 69:21), but was serviceable for the purpose of sopping bread, as used by laborers (Ruth 2:14), being refreshing in the heat. The degree of its acidity may be inferred from Prov. 25:20, where its effect on nitre is noticed. The beverage of which the Savior partook in his dying moments (Mat. 27:48; Mark 15:36; Jno. 19:29, 30) was the acetum of the Romans—a thin, sour wine consumed by soldiers—which was doubtless refreshing to his exhausted frame, though offered in derision either on that occasion or previously (Lu. 23:36). The same liquid, mingled with gall (as Matthew states, probably with the view of marking the fulfillment of the prediction in Psa. 69:21), or with myrrh (as Mark states, with an eye to the exact historical fact), was offered to the Savior at an earlier stage of his sufferings, in order to deaden the perception of pain (Mat. 27:34; Mark 15:23).

VINEYARD.—See VINE. Ex. 22:5; 23:11.

VINEYARDS, PLAIN OF THE.
On the E. of the Jordan; perhaps Beit-el-Kerm, N. of Kerak. Judg. 11:33.

VINTAGE.—This season, which formerly was one of general festivity, as is the case more or less in all vine-growing countries, commences in September. The grapes were gathered with shouts of joy by the "grape-gatherers" (Jer. 25:30), and put into baskets (see 6:9). They were then carried on the head and shoulders, or slung upon a yoke, to the "wine-press." See VINE.

VIOL.—A stringed instrument of music, supposed to have been similar to the PSALTERY (which see). Isa. 5:12 (R. V., "lute"); 14:11; Amos 5:23; 6:5.

VIPER.—In the O. T., this word probably designates some particular kind of hissing and venomous serpent. In the N. T., it refers to any sort of poisonous snake. Job 20:16—Mat. 3:7; 12:34.

VIRGIN.—Among the Hebrews, the population of a place or city was sometimes personified as a female and called virgin; as, the inhabitants of Tyre (Isa. 23:12), of Babylon (47:1), of Egypt (Jer. 46:11), and of Judah and Israel—the Hebrews (Lam. 1:15; Jer. 14:17; 18:13; 31:4, 21).

VIRGIN MA'-RY. See MARY, No. 1.

VISAGE.—See FACE. Lam. 4:8; Dan. 3:19.

VISION.—As used in the Bible, this word usually denotes a supernatural or prophetic sight. This was the means God often employed in early times to reveal Himself and his will to men. See PROPHET. I Ch. 17:15; II Ch. 32:32; Dan. 2:19, 28—Acts 9:10, 12 (in v. 12, "in a vision" is omitted from the R. V.).

VOCATION.—See OCCUPATIONS. Eph. 4:1 (R. V., "calling").

VOLUME.—See BOOK. Psa. 40:7 (R. V., "roll") —Heb. 10:7 (R. V., "roll").

VOPH'-SI (rich).
Father of Nahbi, of the tribe of Naphtali, one of those sent to spy out the land. Num. 13:14.

VOW.—A solemn promise or covenant with God, binding one to do certain things by his help. See NAZARITE; OATH. Gen. 28:20; 31:13—Acts 18:18.

VOYAGE.—See JONAH; PAUL. Acts 27:10.

VULGATE.—The Latin Version of the Bible made by Jerome about A. D. 400. It is the "Authorized Version" in the Church of Rome. See BIBLE.

VULTURE.—Almost certainly an incorrect translation, in the A. V., of words which refer to some of the smaller species of raptorial birds, as buzzards, kites, falcons, etc. In Lev. 11:14; Deut. 14:13, where it is pronounced "unclean," and in Isa. 34:15, where it is mentioned in connection with the desolation of the sinful nations, the "kite" (as in the R. V.) is probably referred to. In Job 28:7, where its piercing sight is noticed, the reference is doubtless to the "falcon" (as in the R. V.).

W

WAFER.—A thin cake made of fine flour. Unleavened wafers, anointed with oil, were used in various offerings. Ex. 29:2, 23; Lev. 2:4; 7:12.

WAGES.—Under the Mosaic law, wages were to be paid daily (Lev. 19:13; Deut. 24:14, 15), and failure to pay for services received is denounced (Jer. 22:13; Mal. 3:5). In very early times, wages were paid in produce or in kind (Gen. 29:15-18; 30:28). In the time of Christ, the common laborer received "a penny" (the Greek denarius, a silver coin worth about fifteen cents) a day for his work (Mat. 20:2-13).

WAGON.—The wagons mentioned in Num. 7:3, 8, and used for carrying the Tabernacle, were doubtless similar to those of the Egyptians, which were very simple affairs, resembling our carts. They consisted of two solid wooden wheels connected by an axle on which rested the body. Vehicles of any kind are used very little in the East, where travelers and merchandise are carried almost exclusively on the backs of mules, horses, and camels. Gen. 45:19, 21, 27; 46:5; Eze. 23:24.

WALL OF PARTITION.—See PARTITION, MIDDLE WALL OF. Eph. 2:14.

WALLS.—Eastern cities were usually surrounded with walls as a means of defense. These walls were generally built of earth, or of bricks of clay mixed with reeds or straw and hardened in the sun. When any breach occurred in such a mass of earth, either by heavy rains or by some defect in the foundation, the consequences were serious (Gen. 49:6; Psa. 62:3; Isa. 30:13). Walls were sometimes constructed in such a rude and perishable manner that they might easily be destroyed by fire (Amos 1:7, 10, 14). Not unfrequently, however, fortified cities had walls made of stone, having towers and a fosse (Neh. 4:3; Isa. 2:15; 9:10; 26:1; Zeph. 1:16). Houses abutting on the city wall often had windows which communicated with the exterior (Josh. 2:15; I Sa. 19:12; Acts 9:24, 25). Three chariots could be driven abreast upon the wall of Nineveh; while six might be driven together upon the wall of Babylon, which was 87 feet broad. In Bible language, a wall is the symbol of resistance or separation (Jer. 1:18; 15:20; Eph. 2:14).

WANDERERS.—In Jer. 48:12, "them that pour off" in the R. V.

WAR.—War has been defined as "an attempt to decide a contest between princes, states, or large bodies of people, by resorting to excessive acts of violence, and compelling claims to be conceded by force."

Before entering into a war of aggression, the Hebrews sought for the divine sanction by consulting either the URIM AND THUMMIM (Judg. 1:1; 20:27, 28) or some acknowledged prophet (I Ki. 22:6; II Ch. 18:5). The heathen resorted to various kinds of divination for the same purpose (Eze. 21:21). As a further means of securing divine aid in actual warfare, the ark of the covenant, which was the symbol of Jehovah himself, was brought upon the field of battle (I Sa. 4:4-18; 14:18)—a custom which prevailed certainly down to the time of David (II Sa. 11:11; cp. Psa. 68:1, 24). During the exodus from Egypt, the signal for warlike preparations was sounded by priests with the silver trumpets of the Sanctuary (Num. 10:9; 31:6).

It was not customary for belligerents to exchange formal proclamations of war; but occasionally deprecatory or defiant messages were sent, as in the cases of Jephthah and the Ammonites (Judg. 11:12-27), Ben-hadad and Ahab (I Ki. 20:2), and again Amaziah and Jehoash (II Ki. 14:8). Before entering the enemy's territory, spies were sent to ascertain the character of the country and the preparations of its inhabitants for resistance (Num. 13:17; Josh. 2:1; I Sa. 26:4). When an engagement was imminent, a sacrifice was offered (I Sa. 7:9; 13:9), and an inspiriting address was made either by the commander (II Ch. 20:20) or a priest (Deut. 20:2). The battle-signal was then sounded forth from the silver trumpets of the priests, to which the host responded by shouting the war-cry (I Sa. 17:52; Isa. 42:13; Jer. 50:42).

The conflict usually assumed the character of a number of hand-to-hand contests, depending upon the prowess of the individual soldier rather than the disposition of masses. Consequently, very high value was attached to fleetness of foot and strength of arm (II Sa. 1:23; 2:18; I Ch. 12:8). Various strategic devices were practiced, also; such as, the ambuscade (Josh. 8:2, 12; Judg. 20:36), surprise (7:16), or circumvention (II Sa. 5:23). Another mode of settling the dispute was by the selection of champions (I Sa. 17; II Sa. 2:14), who were incited by the offer of high reward (I Sa. 17:25; 18:25). The contest having been decided, the conquerors were called from the pursuit by the sound of a trumpet (II Sa. 2:28; 18:16; 20:22).

In besieging a town or fortress, a line of circumvallation was drawn round the place (Eze. 4:2; Mic. 5:1), constructed out of trees (Deut. 20:20) and earth or any other materials at hand. The next step was to throw out from this line one of more "mounts" or "banks" in the direction of the city (II Sa. 20:15; II Ki. 19:32), which was gradually increased in height until it was about half as high as the city wall. On this mound or bank, towers were erected (II Ki. 25:1; Jer. 52:4), from which the slingers and archers might attack with effect. Battering-rams (Eze. 4:2; 21:22) were brought up to the walls under cover of the banks, and scaling-ladders might also be placed upon them. Sometimes the walls were attacked near the foundation by soldiers who protected themselves from above by means of their shields (Eze. 26:8), or by the further use of such a machine as the helepolis, referred to in I Macc. XIII, 43. Burning the gates was another mode of obtaining ingress (Judg. 9:52). The water-supply would naturally be cut off, if it were possible (Judith 7:7). Meanwhile, the besieged strengthened and repaired their fortifications (Isa. 22:10), and repelled the enemy from the walls by missiles (II Sa. 11:24), by throwing over beams and heavy stones (Judg. 9:53; II Sa. 11:21), by pouring down boiling oil (Josephus, War, III, 7:28), or, lastly, by erecting fixed engines for the propulsion of stones and arrows (II Ch. 26:15). Sallies were also made for the purpose of burning the besiegers' works (I Macc. 6:31), and driving them away from the neighborhood.

Mercy was seldom shown the vanquished, who were treated with extreme severity in most cases. The leaders were put to death (Josh. 10:26), with the occasional indignity of decapitation after death (I Sa. 17:51). The bodies of soldiers killed in action were plundered (I Sa. 31:8); the survivors were either killed in some savage manner (Judg. 9:45), mutilated (I Sa. 11:2), or carried into captivity (Num. 31:26; Deut. 20:14). Women and children were sometimes put to death with the greatest barbarity (II Ki. 8:12; 15:16; Isa. 13:16, 18); but it was more usual to retain the maidens as concubines or servants (Judg. 5:30; II Ki. 5:2). The bulk of the population of a subjugated country was sometimes removed to a distant locality; as in the case of the Israelites when conquered by the Assyrians (17:6), and of the Jews by the Babylonians (24:14; 25:11). In addition to these measures, the towns were destroyed (Judg. 9:45; II Ki. 3:25); the idols and shrines were carried off (Isa. 46:1, 2) or destroyed (I Macc. V, 68); the fruit-trees were cut down, and the fields ruined by overspreading them with stones (II Ki. 3:19, 25); and the horses were lamed (II Sa. 8:4). If, however, the war was waged simply for the purpose of plunder or supremacy, these extreme measures would hardly be carried into execution; the victor would restrict himself to rifling the treasuries (II Ki. 14:14; 24:13), or levying contributions (18:14).

To a certain extent, the Mosaic law mitigated the ancient practices in dealing with the vanquished. The Israelites were forbidden (except in the case of the inhabitants of Canaan, who were delivered over to the ban of extermination by the express command of God, Deut. 20:16 sq.), to put to death any others than males bearing arms; the women and children were to be kept alive (ver. 13, 14). The Jews were also prohibited from felling fruit-trees for the purpose of making siege-works (ver. 19). The law further restricted the power of the conqueror over females, and demanded humane treatment of them (21:10-14). Most of the savage acts recorded as having been practiced by the Jews were either in retaliation for some gross provocation, as instanced in the case of Adonibezek (Judg. 1:6, 7), and of David's treatment of the Ammonites (II Sa. 10:2-4; 12:31); or else they were committed by lawless usurpers, as in Menahem's treatment of the women of Tiphsah (II Ki. 15:16; cp. Judg. 9:45). The Jewish kings generally appear to have obtained credit for clemency (I Ki. 20:31; cp. II Ki. 6:20-23; Isa. 16:5).

Conquerors celebrated their success by the erection of monumental stones (I Sa. 7:12; II Sa. 8:13, where, instead of "gat him a name," we should read "set up a memorial"), by hanging up trophies in their public buildings (I Sa. 21:9; 31:10), and by triumphal songs and dances, in which the whole population took part (Ex. 15:1-21; Judg. 5; I Sa. 18:6-8). The death of a hero was commemorated by a dirge (II Sa. 1:17-27; II Ch. 35:25), or by a national mourning (II Sa. 3:31). Fallen warriors were duly buried (I Ki. 11:15), their arms being deposited in the grave beside them (Eze. 32:27), while the enemies' corpses were exposed to the beasts of prey (I Sa. 17:44; Jer. 25:33). Israelites who had come in personal contact with a dead body were required to undergo a process of purification before entering the precincts of the camp of the Sanctuary (Num. 31:19).

The end of wars is prophesied (Isa. 2:4; Mic. 4:3). See BOW; OFFICER; JEWS; PALESTINE; SOLDIER, etc.

WARD.—A prison-cell or guard-room; also applied to the guards themselves, or to persons set aside for any certain duty. The context usually makes clear the particular application of the word. Gen. 40:3; I Ch. 26:16; Neh. 12:24, 25 (R. V., "watch"); Jer. 37:13—Acts 12:10 (R. V., "guard").

WARDROBE.—The place where the royal robes or priests' vestments were kept. II Ki. 22:14; II Ch. 34:22.

WARE.—"Were ware" (Acts 14:6) is rendered "became aware" in the R. V.

WARE, WARES.—See MERCHANDISE. Neh. 13:16, 20; Jer. 10:17.

WARP.—The threads which are extended lengthwise in the loom, and crossed by the woof, which is usually carried by the shuttle, in weaving. Lev. 13:48 sq.

WARRIOR.—See BOW; SOLDIER; WAR. I Ki. 12:21.

WASH, WASHING.—Among the Hebrews, great stress was laid upon cleanliness. In bathing the face and hands, the water was not first poured into the basin, as is common with us, but the servant poured the water from a pitcher on his master's hands, and the basin was used simply to receive the falling water. See FEET; HAND. II Ki. 5:10—Mark 7:3, 4.

WATCHES OF THE NIGHT.—The Hebrews originally divided the night (from sunset to sunrise) into three watches—"the beginning of the watches," "the middle watch," and "the morning watch"—but after the Captivity they adopted the custom of the Romans and Greeks and divided the night (twelve hours, from 6 P. M. to 6 A. M.) into four watches of three hours each—"even," "midnight," "cock-crowing," and "morning." Judg. 7:19; I Sa. 11:11—Mat. 14:25; Lu. 12:38.

WATCHER, WATCHMAN.—Watchmen were stationed at the gates of the city and in the towers on its walls. They also patrolled the streets, and, besides protecting the city and its inhabitants from violence, were required to call out the hours of the night. II Sa. 18:24-27; Song 5:7; Isa. 21:11, 12.

WATCH TOWER.—See TOWER. II Ch. 20:24; Isa. 21:5, 8 (in ver. 5, "watch in the watchtower" is rendered "they set the watch" in the R. V.).

WATER.—During summer and autumn, when the small streams are dried up through want of rain, the inhabitants of Palestine are entirely dependent upon the water derived from wells, or preserved in cisterns or reservoirs, which sometimes becomes unpleasant; hence, the water of running streams and fountains, as opposed to that of stagnant cisterns, pools, or marshes, is called "living water" (Gen. 26:19, R. V., "spring water;" Jno. 4:10, 11; 7:38). In the hot countries of the East, the assuaging of thirst is one of the most delightful sensations that can be felt (Psa. 143:6); and public pools or reservoirs are opened in several parts of Egypt and Arabia for the benefit of travelers and strangers (Mat. 10:42). Water is commonly drawn out of the wells or cisterns by females, and carried, in large leathern or earthen vessels, upon the shoulder or head (Gen. 24:45). Water was sometimes paid for (Num. 20:17, 19; Lam. 5:4), and is now, occasionally, in the East. It is customary in Eastern countries to irrigate fields and gardens by means of small canals or rivulets, which distribute the water in every direction (Psa. 1:3)—an allusion to which practice is probably made in Eze. 31:3, 4. These channels are sometimes bordered with stone, and accompanied with troughs; at other times they are mere ridges of earth, to regulate the flow (Prov. 21:1).

Water sometimes signifies literally the element of water (Gen. 1:10), and occasionally its parallel in tears (Jer. 9:1, 7); hence, figuratively, trouble (Psa. 56:1) and misfortune (Lam. 3:54; Psa. 69:1). Water is put for children or posterity (Num. 24:7; Isa. 48:1); for the clouds (Psa. 104:3); for the ordinances of the gospel (Isa. 12:3; 35:6, 7). "Stolen waters" denotes unlawful pleasures with women (Prov. 9:17). As bread is frequently put for all sorts of food or solid nourishment, so water is used for all sorts of drink; thus, the Moabites and Ammonites are reproached for not meeting the Israelites with "bread and water" (Deut. 23:4)—that is, with proper refreshments. Many waters, because of their noise, number, disorder, and the confusion of the waves, are the symbols of peoples, multitudes, nations, and tongues (Jer. 47:2; Rev. 17:15). The torments of wicked men were represented by the ancients under the symbol of a lake whose waters were full of mud and filth (Isa. 57:20). See CISTERN; FOUNTAIN; PITCHER; POOL, etc.

WATER OF JEALOUSY.—A mixture prescribed as a test in cases where a woman was accused by her husband of adultery. See Num. 5:11-31.

WATER OF PURIFICATION or SEPARATION.—Water mixed with the ashes obtained by burning a red heifer together with cedar-wood, hyssop, and scarlet. It was sprinkled upon a person defiled by contact with the dead. See Num. 19:2-10, 17-22.

WATERPOTS.—Vessels for holding the water which was used by the family and guests for washing the hands and feet. See POT; WASH. Jno. 2:6, 7; 4:28.

WATERS OF ME'-ROM.
A lake ten miles N. of the Sea of Chinnereth, and now called el-Huleh, through which the Jordan flows in its passage southward. Josh. 11:5, 7.

WAVE OFFERING.—A peculiar feature of the ceremony attending the service of the peace-offering; the right shoulder or "thigh" (as in the R. V.) of the animal sacrificed was "heaved" upward, and the breast "waved" from side to side before the Lord (Lev. 10:14, 15). Num. 6:20; 18:11.

WAVES.—See SEA; WATER. Job 9:8 — Mat. 14:24.

WAX.—The well-known substance made from the combs of bees. When used as a verb, the word means grow or become. Psa. 22:14; Mic. 1:4—Lu. 13:19 (R. V., "grew, and became").

WAYMARKS.—Path-marks; guiding objects by which to mark a path or way. Jer. 31:21.

WEALTH.—See RICHES. Gen. 34:29; Ruth 2:1—Acts 19:25.

WEAPONS.—See respective names of weapons mentioned; also ARMOR; SOLDIER; WAR. Gen. 27:3; Num. 35:18; Deut. 1:41.

WEASEL.—Probably the mole or the polecat, both of which are common in Palestine. It was classed among the "unclean" animals. Lev. 11:29.

WEATHER.—See CLIMATE; PALESTINE. Prov. 25:20—Mat. 16:2, 3.

WEAVER.—Doubtless the art of weaving was learned by the Hebrews during their sojourn in Egypt, for the people of that country were very proficient in the manipulation of the loom, and mention is made of curtains of goats' hair, woollen garments, etc., having been produced by the Israelites after their departure from the land of bondage and during their wanderings (Ex. 26:1, 7; 28:4, 39; Lev. 13:47). No mention of the loom is made in the Bible, but the shuttle, spindle, beam, and pin are referred to. See SPINDLE. Ex. 35:35; Job 7:6.

WEB.—In Judg. 16:13, 14, the fabric woven in a loom; elsewhere, the spider's web, a cobweb. Job 8:14; Isa. 59:5, 6.

WEDDING, WEDDING GARMENTS.—Wedding garments were furnished by the host, who required all those who attended the feast to wear them. It is still customary for Oriental princes to provide apparel for their guests at marriage-suppers; and each guest must appear wearing the royal gift. See MARRIAGE. Mat. 22:3, 8, 10-12; Lu. 12:36; 14:8 (frequently "marriage" in the R. V.).

WEDGE.—In Isa. 13:12, "gold wedge" (as in the A. V.) is rendered "pure gold" in the R. V. The gold wedge stolen by Achan (Josh. 7:18 sq.) was worth from $300.00 to $500.00.

WEEDS.—The Hebrew word so rendered in Jon. 2:5 refers to sea-weeds.

WEEK.—The division of time into periods of seven days appears to have had its origin in the earliest stage of human history and its sanction in the seven periods of the Creation story (Gen. 7:4-10; 8:10, 12); traces of this custom are found in every quarter of the world. Besides the week of seven days, from one Sabbath to another, the Jews also observed a week of years, or seven years, and a week of seven times seven years, which brought in the fiftieth, or jubilee, year. They had no special names for the days of the week, designating them simply as the "first day," "second day," etc. See DAY; JUBILEE; SABBATH; SABBATICAL YEAR. Gen. 29:27, 28—Mat. 28:1.

WEEKS, FEAST OF.—See PENTECOST. Ex. 34:22.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—Weights.—It appears that stones were used in the most ancient times by the Hebrews for weights, as they were also among many other nations. In later times, weights were made of lead (Zech. 5:6, 7). These weights were carried in a bag (Deut. 25:13; Prov. 16:11) suspended from the girdle, and were very early made vehicles of fraud. The practice of carrying two sets of weights is denounced in Deut. 25:13 and Prov. 20:10, and the necessity of observing strict honesty in this matter is enjoined in several precepts of the Mosaic law (Lev. 19:36; Deut. 25:13). Yet the custom continued, and remained in full force to the days of Micah (6:11), and even to those of Zechariah, who appears (ch. 5) to pronounce a judgment against fraud of a kindred nature. Between ancient weights and money there was a very intimate connection; but the subject of Hebrew weights is very obscure. Their principal weight was the shekel, which was the standard by which others were regulated. There appears no sufficient warrant for the opinion that the Jews had two kinds of weights. When the phrase "shekel of the sanctuary" is used (Ex. 30:13), it means, not that this was different from the common shekel, but that it was a true standard weight, according to the authorized standard preserved in the Sanctuary, or, as we should say, a sealed weight or measure, to denote that its accuracy is certified by authority. Gold, even as late as the time of David, was not used as a standard of value, but was considered merely as a very precious article of commerce, and was weighed like other articles. The notices of weights and measures in the Bible are few and incomplete, making it necessary to supply the wanting information from other sources; largely from the systems of ancient nations, which were nearly uniform everywhere, but varied from one age to another. See MONEY.

Gold was reckoned at 10, 12 or 13 times the value of silver in different ages. Silver was 60 to 80, and once even as high as 112 times the value of copper.

Measures.—With regard to the use of fair measures, various precepts are contained in the Mosaic law and other parts of the Bible (Lev. 19:35, 36; Deut. 25:14, 15; Prov. 20:10; Eze. 45:10); and standard measures were doubtless kept in the Temple, just as standard weights were apparently kept there, but were destroyed with that sacred edifice, and afterwards the measures and weights of the people among whom the Jews dwelt were adopted. The later Jewish measures were somewhat smaller than the earlier. Much perplexity has attended all investigations of this subject, and it is therefore necessary to be contented with mere approximations to truth.

Cilicia or in Ceylon, it is certain that the common white shark might have been seen on the voyage. It is impossible, however, to explain by simply natural causes how Jonah could have been swallowed whole unhurt, or how he could have existed so long in the shark's belly; though naturalists have recorded that sharks have the habit of throwing up, whole and alive, the prey they have seized (see Couch, Hist. of Fishes, I, 33).

WHEAT.—The most important of all grains cultivated in Palestine, both Syria and Palestine having produced wheat of fine quality and in large quantities (Psa. 81:16; 147:14, etc.). There ap-

The measuring-line (Zech. 2:1) is generally considered to have equaled about 140 feet.
The fathom (Acts 27:28), a nautical measure, is usually reckoned at about 6¾ feet (strictly, 6.81 feet).

MEASURES OF DISTANCE.

The furlong (Lu. 24:13)—a Greek measure equal to ⅛ MILE (which see).
The mile (Mat. 5:41)—probably 1612 yards, or about one-twelfth less than ours.
The day's journey (Num. 11:31)—the distance ordinarily traveled in one day, usually reckoned from 16 to 20 miles. The first day's journey (Lu. 2:44) was a short one, so that travelers might easily return for any thing which they had left behind.
The Sabbath-day's journey (Acts 1:12)—reckoned by the Hebrews at 1¾ miles.

WELL.—See BEER-SHEBA; JACOB'S WELL; WATER. Gen. 16:14; 21:19, 25, 30.

WEN.—A festering sore, or tumor. Lev. 22:22.

WENCH.—"Maidservant" in the R. V. II Sa. 17:17.

WHALE.—In Gen. 1:21 "whales" is rendered "sea-monsters" in the R. V., which also makes a similar rendering in Job 7:12; Eze. 32:2. The white shark of the Mediterranean Sea grows to an enormous size, and is very likely the "great fish" (correct translation) referred to in Jon. 1:17; Mat. 12:40. This shark, which sometimes attains the length of thirty feet, is quite able to swallow a man (Pluche, Nature Displayed, III, 140; Baird, Cyclop. of Nat. Sciences, p. 514); and wherever the "Tarshish" to which Jonah's ship was bound was situated, whether in Spain or in pear to be two or three kinds of wheat grown in Palestine at present, one of which is apparently the same as the Egyptian variety, and all of which are bearded. This grain was usually sown broadcast, and then either plowed in or trampled in by cattle (Isa. 32:20). Wheat was planted in the winter, and some time after barley; consequently, in the Egyptian plague of hail, the barley suffered, but the wheat had not appeared, and so escaped injury (Ex. 9:31, 32). In the A. V., wheat is frequently mentioned under the general name CORN (which see). The "meat offerings" (R. V., "meal-offerings") were all composed of wheat-flour (Lev. 2:1). See FLOUR; GRINDERS; MEAL; THRESH, etc.

WHEEL.—We are told that the wheels under the brazen laver in Solomon's Temple were cast, as were those of chariots (I Ki. 7:33). See CHARIOT; WAGON.

WHELP.—The cub of a lion (Gen. 49:9; Deut. 33:22), or of a jackal (Lam. 4:3, R. V.). The cubs of a bear (II Sa. 17:8; Prov. 17:12) are not so designated in the Bible. See BEAR; LION.

WHIP.—See SCORPION; SCOURGE. I Ki. 12:11, 14; Nah. 3:2.

WHISPERER.—A secret informer; a slanderer. Prov. 16:28—Rom. 1:29.

WHITED SEPULCHRES.—See SEPULCHRE. Mat. 23:27.

WHORE, WHOREMONGER.—See FORNICATION. Lev. 21:7—Eph. 5:5.

WIDOW.—The rights of widows and orphans were carefully guarded, and they were specially provided for, by the Mosaic law (Ex. 22:22; Deut. 14:29; 24:17-21). We are told that to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction is an evidence of pure and undefiled religion (Jas. 1:27). Mark 12:40, 42, 43.

WIFE.—See CONCUBINE; DIVORCE; MARRIAGE; also CHILD. Gen. 2:24; Ex. 4:20—Mat. 1:20.

WILDERNESS, or DESERT.—These words do not necessarily denote a mere waste, but rather extensive tracts not under cultivation, yet frequently affording rich and abundant pasturage (Josh. 15: 61; Isa. 42:11). The wilderness in which the Israelites wandered forty years while on their way from Egypt to the Land of Promise is included in the peninsula of SINAI (which see). Following are the most important wildernesses mentioned in the Bible:—

Beer-sheba.—S. of the city of Beer-sheba and in Simeon. Gen. 21:14.

Bethaven.—In the N. of Benjamin and a little E. of Bethel. Josh. 18:12.

Damascus.—Near the city of Damascus, in Syria. I Ki. 19:15.

Edom.—S. and E. of the Dead Sea. II Ki. 3:8.

Engedi.—On the W. side of the Dead Sea, in Judah. I Sa. 24:1.

Etham.—On the E. side of the W. gulf (Suez) of the Red Sea. Num. 33:8.

Gibeon.—Probably on the W. of Gibeon, and in Benjamin. II Sa. 2:24.

Jeruel.—S. of Judah, W. of the hill of Ziph. II Ch. 20:16.

Judah.—In the S. of Judah. Judg. 1:16; Psa. 63: title.

Kadesh.—Near Kadesh-barnea. Psa. 29:8.

Kedemoth.—E. side of the Dead Sea and N. of the river Arnon. Deut. 2:26.

Maon.—W. side of the Dead Sea, toward its S. end. I Sa. 23:24, 25.

Moab.—Part of the land of Moab, nearly E. of the Dead Sea. Deut. 2:8.

Paran.—See PARAN. Gen. 21:21; Num. 10:12; 12:16; 13:3, 26; I Sa. 25:1.

Red Sea.—Same as ETHAM. Ex. 13:18.

Shur.—Near W. gulf (Suez) of the Red Sea, on its E. side. Ex. 15:22.

Sin.—Between Elim and Sinai, on the E. of the Gulf of Suez. Ex. 16:1; 17:1; Num. 33:11, 12.

Sinai.—In the vicinity of Mount Sinai. See SINAI. Ex. 19:1; Num. 1:19.

Zin.—On the S. of Judah, and W. of the S. end of the Dead Sea. Num. 13:21; 20:1; 33:36.

Ziph.—Between Hebron and the Dead Sea. I Sa. 23:14, 15; 26:2.

WILLOW.—This well-known tree flourished in marshy places and along the banks of rivers in the East, and before their captivity the Jews regarded it as an emblem of joy, and bore its branches in token of rejoicing during the Feast of Tabernacles (see TABERNACLES, FEAST OF). After the Captivity, however, the willow became emblematic of sorrow, and is frequently thus alluded to in the poetry; and there can be little doubt that the dedication of the tree to sorrow is to be traced to the pathetic passage in the Psalm (137:2) which so beautifully represents Israel's sorrow during the time of the captivity in Babylon. With respect to the tree alluded to in this passage, doubtless the weeping willow, or Babylonian willow, is intended. Willows are also mentioned in Lev. 23:40, among the trees whose branches were to be used in the construction of booths at the Feast of Tabernacles; in Job 40:22, as a tree which provided shade for Behemoth ("the hippopotamus"); in Isa. 44:4, where it is said that Israel's offspring should spring up "as willows by the watercourses;" and in Eze. 17:5, a passage in which some think the willow is not intended, but there appear to be no strong grounds to doubt that some variety of this tree is alluded to.

WILLOWS, BROOK OF THE.
A stream on the S. boundary of Moab. It flows into the S. E. extremity of the Dead Sea, and is now called Wady el-Aksa. Isa. 15:7.

WIMPLES.—"Shawls" in the R. V. Isa. 3:22.

WINDS.—Owing to the great desert on the S. and E. of Palestine, the winds from those directions are hot and dry, the E. wind in particular being very injurious to vegetation. Winds from the S. W. and N. bring fair weather, while the W. wind, coming from the Mediterranean Sea, brings rain (Prov. 25:23; Lu. 12:54, 55). See CLIMATE; PALESTINE.

WINDOW.—Lattice-work is still the usual, and with the poor the only, contrivance for closing windows in the East, though glass has been introduced as a protection against the cold of winter. When the lattice-work was open, there was apparently nothing in early times to prevent a person from falling through the aperture (Acts 20:9). Windows usually look into the inner court of the house, but in every house one or more look into the street, and hence it is possible for a person to observe the approach of another without being himself seen (Judg. 5:28; II Sa. 6:16; Prov. 7:6). Houses abutting on the town wall usually have projecting windows surmounting the wall and looking into the country; through such a window the spies escaped from Jericho (Josh. 2:15), and Paul from Damascus (II Co. 11:33). See HOUSE; LATTICE.

WINE.—The use of wine was common among the Hebrews, as it is among the people of all wine-producing countries. The first mention of wine in the Bible is in the case of Noah, who "planted a vineyard, and did drink of the wine, and was drunken" (Gen. 9:20, 21). The second notice is in the history of Lot, whose daughters "made their father drink wine," so that he became stupidly intoxicated (Gen. 19:32 sq.). The next mention of the beverage occurs in Isaac's blessing pronounced upon Jacob (Gen. 27:28). Wine is frequently mentioned in the Mosaic law as forming the usual drink-offering that accompanied the daily sacrifice (Ex. 29:40), the presentation of the firstfruits (Lev. 23:13), and other offerings (Num. 15:5). Tithes were to be paid of wine, as of other products (Deut. 12:17); the priests were to receive firstfruits of wine, as of other articles (18:4; cp. Ex. 22:29)—and a promise of plenty was attached to the faithful payment of these dues (Prov. 3:9, 10). Wine was forbidden to the priests during the performance of their sacred duties in the Tabernacle (Lev. 10:9). The Nazarites, while under their vow, were prohibited from using, not only wine, but also vinegar, and the fruit of the vine generally, in every form (Num. 6:3, 4). The Israelites were permitted to drink wine even at their national sacred festivals when rejoicing before the Lord (Deut. 14:22-26). The law did not prescribe the use of wine at the paschal feast, but this became an established custom, at all events in the post-exilian period.

The Pastoral Epistles contain directions as to the moderate use of wine on the part of all holding office in the Church (I Ti. 3:3; Tit. 2:3); yet Paul advises Timothy himself to be no longer an habitual water-drinker, but to take a little wine for his health's sake (I Ti. 5:23). The precepts cited above, as well as others to the same effect addressed to the disciples generally (Rom. 13:13; Gal. 5:21; I Pe. 4:3), evidence the extent to which intemperance prevailed in the early Christian era, and the extreme danger to which the Church was subjected from this quarter.

Mixed wine is frequently alluded to in Scripture. This was sometimes mixed with water (Isa. 1:22); sometimes with milk (Song 5:1); and sometimes, by lovers of strong drink, with spices of various kinds, to give it a richer flavor and greater potency (Psa. 75:8; Isa. 5:22; see VINEGAR). The "royal wine" (Esth. 1:7) was probably the best wine, such as the king of Persia himself was accustomed to drink. "Wine of Lebanon" is referred to in such a way as to indicate its peculiar excellence (Hos. 14:7). The "wine of Helbon" (Eze. 27:18) is mentioned as one of the importations of Tyre, and was very famous. To the intemperate use of wine are attributed the "darkly flashing eye" (Gen. 49:12; A. V., "red"), the unbridled tongue (Prov. 20:1; Isa. 28:7), the excitement of the spirit (Prov. 31:6; Isa. 5:11), the enchained affections of its votaries (Hos. 4:11), the perverted judgment (Prov. 31:5; Isa. 28:7), the indecent exposure (Hab. 2:15, 16), and the sickness resulting from the heat (A. V., "bottles") of wine (Hos. 7:5).

There is no positive proof that the fluid used by Christ in instituting the sacred communion was alcoholic; it is nowhere expressly called wine, but simply the "fruit of the vine" (Mat. 26:29). See PRESS; VINE.

WINE BIBBER.—Wine-drinker; one addicted to the intemperate use of wine. Prov. 23:20—Mat. 11:19; Lu. 7:34.

WINE FAT or PRESS.—See FAT; PRESS; VINE. Judg. 6:11; Isa. 63:2 (R. V., "winevat").

WING.—God says that He has borne his people on the wings of eagles (Ex. 19:4; cp. Deut. 32:11); that is, He had brought them out of Egypt as an eagle carries its young ones upon its wings. The psalmist begs of God to protect him under his wings (Psa. 17:8), and says that the children of men put their trust in the protection of his wings (36:7). The word is frequently used figuratively (Psa. 18:10; Mal. 4:2) or metaphorically (Mat. 23:37).

WINNOWING.—Jewish threshing-floors were situated on hill-tops, exposed on all sides to the wind; and the grain was winnowed by throwing it up in the air by means of a shovel, and letting the wind carry off the chaff and straw. This operation was sometimes aided by means of the fan. See FAN; THRESH. Ruth 3:2; Isa. 30:24.

WINTER.—See CLIMATE; PALESTINE; SNOW. Gen. 8:22; Psa. 74:17—Mat. 24:20.

WINTERHOUSE.—The Hebrews, at a very ancient date, like the Orientals, had not only summer and winter rooms (Jer. 36:22), but palaces (Judg. 3:20; I Ki. 7:2-6; Amos 3:15). The winter residences were warmed (of which they had great need, as glass windows were unknown) by means of a fire-pot (Jer. 36:32), which was merely a vessel of burnt clay placed in a round hole in the middle of the room. The summer residences were very spacious, and the lower stories were frequently under ground. The front of these buildings face the north, so as to secure the advantage of the breezes, which in summer blow mostly from that direction. See HOUSE.

WIRES.—See LACE. Ex. 39:3.

WISE.—"Shalt in any wise rebuke" (Lev. 19:17) is rendered "shalt surely rebuke" in the R. V.

WISE MEN.—See MAGI. Mat. 2:1.

WIT, TO.—"Do you to wit of" (II Co. 8:1) is "make known to you" in the R. V.

WITCH.—A woman who professed to be able to communicate with demons and the spirits of the dead, by means of which the pretender claimed to reveal future events. The man who practiced witchcraft was called a "wizard" (Lev. 20:6). Ex. 22:18 (R. V., "sorceress"); Deut. 18:10 (R. V., "sorcerer").

WITCHCRAFT.—See WITCH. II Ki. 9:22; Mic. 5:12; Nah. 3:4.

WITHOUT.—In II Co. 10:13, 15, "beyond" in the R. V.

WITHS.—Bands made by twisting together pliable twigs; used as a substitute for ropes. The word is more correctly spelled "withes" in the R. V. Judg. 16:7-9.

WITNESS.—Under the Mosaic law, it was necessary to have at least two witnesses in order to convict a prisoner (Deut. 17:6); and if the offender were condemned to be stoned, the witnesses were obliged to cast the first stones (Deut. 17:7). A false witness was to receive the punishment which he had endeavored to bring upon the prisoner by his testimony (Deut. 19:19). See PUNISHMENT.

WITTY.—"Knowledge of witty inventions" (Prov. 8:12) is rendered "knowledge [and] discretion" in the R. V.

WIZARD.—See WITCH. Deut. 18:11; I Sa. 28:3, 9.

WOE.—A word frequently used as an exclamation to denote sympathy, compassion, or lamentation (Num. 21:29; I Sa. 4:7; Mat. 24:19). It is also used as threatening future punishment (Hab. 2:6, 9, 15; Zech. 11:17).

WOLF.—A fierce carnivorous animal of a pale fawn color, very nearly allied to the dog. The wolf is still found in Palestine; it is a terrible enemy of the sheep, and the dread of the shepherds. Isa. 11:6; Jer. 5:6—Mat. 10:16.

WOMAN.—When used as a term of salutation, as in Mat. 15:28, this word implies no disrespect, but great tenderness and courtesy. It was thus that the Savior addressed his mother at the feast in Cana (Jno. 2:4); and also Mary, under the most touching circumstances (20:15).

In very early times, women apparently had more freedom—there was no harem, and the sexes mingled together freely (Gen. 24:65; 29:11). They went about openly, carrying water (Gen. 24:15); watched the flocks (29:6); prepared food (18:6), and were present at meals. But in the period just prior to the coming of Christ, the estimate of woman, perhaps in consequence of the growth of city life and luxury, had come to be mainly a low one. This attitude toward woman appears as early as many of the Proverbs—which regard the good woman as the exception—and it is borne out by the rabbinic literature. We find a hint of this feeling in the disciples' surprise, at Sychar, that the Lord was found speaking to a woman (Jno. 4:27). And for centuries, Eastern women have been enslaved and degraded, and forced to live in seclusion; their mind is left uncultivated, and the best affections of their heart are not developed.

Christianity has elevated the female character, and has given it a nobleness and a tenderness to which it is almost a stranger in heathen countries. Woman is honored throughout Christendom for her loyalty and self-sacrificing devotion to the tenets of Christianity. Woman was among the (if not the) last at the Cross (Mat. 27:55-61; Mark 15:40-47; Lu. 23:55, 56); the first at the Sepulchre on the day of our Lord's resurrection (Mat. 28:1; Mark 16:1 sq.; Lu. 23:55–24:10; Jno. 20:1); and the first to greet the resurrected Savior (Mat. 28:9, 10; Mark 16:9; Jno. 20:14-17). It is also worthy of notice in this connection that it was a woman, Empress Helena, the mother of Constantine, who built the magnificent Church of the Nativity (see BETHLEHEM) over the traditional spot where Christ was born. Paul acknowledges, with gratitude, women as fellow-workers in the gospel (Rom. 16:1 sq.; Phil. 4:3). See CHILD; MAN.

WOMB.—The "fruit of the womb" (Gen. 30:2) is children; and the psalmist describes them as the blessing of marriage (Psa. 127:3-5).

WONDERFUL.—A title applied to the Messiah. Isa. 9:6.

WOOD.—That the advantage of forests was a common property does not follow from Lam. 5:4, and is of itself very improbable in a land where a strict system of proprietorship was in vogue. As ships were not built by the Hebrews, and stone being the ready material for building, architecture had little use for wood (see HOUSE). The chief woodworkers among the Hebrews were carpenters (Ex. 35:30 sq.; Mat. 13:55), cabinetmakers (Ex. 25:10 sq.; 37:1, 10, 15, 25, etc.), wheel-wrights (Judg. 4:13; I Sa. 6:7, etc.), basket-weavers (Num. 6:15 sq.; Deut. 26:2, 4), and (unlawfully) image-carvers (see IDOL). See TREES.

WOOF.—See WARP. Lev. 13:48 sq.

WOOL.—The chief material used in the manufacture of clothing, and highly prized by the Hebrews (Lev. 13:47; Prov. 31:13). It appears, from the allusion in Eze. 27:18, that the wool of Damascus was valued highly in the markets of Tyre. See SHEEP.

WORD.—"Word" is used as a name or title of the eternal Son of God (Jno. 1:1, 14), and also as a name for the gospel generally (Mark 7:13; Lu. 5:1). See BIBLE.

WORK, WORKER, WORKMAN, WORKMANSHIP.—See OCCUPATION. Ex. 12:16; I Ki. 7:14; II Ki. 12:14—Eph. 2:10.

WORK FELLOW.—"Fellow-worker" in the R. V. Rom. 16:21; Col. 4:11.

WORKS.—The works of God are the things created and governed by his wisdom and power. The miracles of Christ are frequently referred to as "mighty works" (Mat. 11:20, 21, 23; 13:54, etc.)

WORLD.—A word used in the Bible in a number of senses, each of which can usually be distinguished by the context. Thus, in Psa. 33:8, it refers to the habitable earth; in Isa. 45:17, to time; in Lu. 2:1, the nations subject to Rome at that time; and in Jno. 3:16, to all mankind. In the widest sense, however, it denotes the universe, or all things visible and invisible, which is usually expressed in the Bible by the term "heaven and earth" (Gen. 1:1) or "all things" (Jno. 1:3). See EARTH; HEAVEN.

WORMS.—A term evidently used to designate the caterpillar of the clothes-moth, the maggot, and possibly the earth-worm. Job 7:5—Mark 9:48.

WORMWOOD.—A plant found in Palestine, and noted for its extreme bitterness. The word is frequently used in the same sense as "gall," to denote whatever is bitter or offensive. In Rev. 8:11, the name of the star which, at the sound of the third angel's trumpet, fell upon the rivers, is called "Wormwood." Deut. 29:18; Jer. 9:15; 23:15.

WORSHIP.—A word frequently used in the Bible to denote simply an act of respect, without implying any religious emotion (Josh. 5:14; Mat. 9:18; Acts 10:25). Worship, as an act of religious reverence and homage paid to God, is commanded in the Scriptures (Psa. 150:1; Jno. 4:23, 24).

WORSHIPPER.—See WORSHIP. Jno. 9:31.

WORTHIES.—"He shall recount his worthies" (Nah. 2:5) is rendered "He remembereth his nobles" in the R. V.

WOT, WOTTETH.—Other forms of the old verb to wit, which means "to know," as rendered in the R. V. Gen. 39:8—Acts 3:17; 7:40.

WOUNDS.—The healed wounds of Christ were a means of identification after his resurrection (Jno. 20:24 sq.). In Obad. :7, "wound" is rendered "snare" in the R. V. Prov. 18:8 (R. V., "dainty morsels")—Lu. 10:34.

WREATHEN.—Twisted; twined. Ex. 28:14, 22; II Ki. 25:17 (R. V., "net").

WRINKLES.—In Job 16:8, "filled me with wrinkles" is rendered "laid fast hold on me" in the R. V.

WRITER, WRITING.—See INK; PAPER; PARCHMENTS; PEN; SCRIBE; TABLET, etc.

WROUGHT.—Frequently rendered "work," "did," etc., in the R. V. Ex. 36:1, 4, 8; I Ki. 16:25.

Y

YARN.—"Linen yarn" (I Ki. 10:28; II Ch. 1:16) is rendered "droves" (referring to horses) in the R. V. See SPINDLE; WEAVER.

YEAR.—The Jews had two kinds of year—the religious, or sacred, and the civil. The sacred year commenced with the month of Abib, or Nisan, which began with the first new moon after the vernal equinox; and the civil year commenced six months later with the month of Ethanim, or Tishri. See DAY; MONTH; WEEK; JUBILEE; SABBATICAL.

YEAR OF JUBILEE.—See JUBILEE, YEAR OF. (Lev. 25:8-12.)

YEAR, SABBATICAL.—See SABBATICAL YEAR. (Lev. 25:2-7.)

YESTERDAY, YESTERNIGHT.—The day or night preceding; time past. Gen. 31:29, 42—Heb. 13:8.

YOKE.—In its essential features, the yoke of the ancient Hebrews did not differ materially from those now used. It was probably lighter, and made so that the cattle stood farther apart. Two straight pieces of wood, fastened in the beam at the top and joined at the bottom by thongs, supplied the place of the modern wooden bow. "Yoke" is frequently used in the Bible to denote servitude or oppression (I Ki. 12:4-14); or, figuratively, burden (Mat. 11:29; Acts 15:10).

YOKE FELLOW.—Fellow-laborer; comrade. Phil. 4:3.

YOUTH.—For laws and customs concerning children, see CHILD; FATHER; INHERITANCE. I Sa. 17:33; Prov. 7:7.

15. A Kohathite, one of the overseers of the repairs of the Temple in the days of Josiah. II Ch. 34:12.

16. A prince of Judah in the days of Josiah. II Ch. 35:8.

17. The eleventh in order of the twelve minor prophets, and a priest. He was born in Babylon of priestly descent, and returned to Jerusalem with Zerubbabel and the high-priest Joshua. Little else is known of his personal history. In his prophecy, he is called the son of Berechiah and the grandson of Iddo, whereas in the book of Ezra (5:1; 6:14) he is said to have been the son of Iddo. Various attempts have been made to reconcile this discrepancy, the most probable of which seems to be, as the prophet himself gives his father's name as Berechiah, whereas the historical books of Ezra and Nehemiah mention only Iddo, that Berechiah had died early, and that there was then no intervening link between the grandfather and the grandson. The son, in giving his pedigree, does not omit his father's name—the historian passes it over as of one who was but little known or already forgotten. Zechariah prophesied about B. C. 520-518. Zech. 1:1, 7; 7:1, 8.

18. A chief man that returned from exile with Ezra, B. C. 458. Ezra 8:3.

19. Another that did the same. Ezra 8:11, 16.

20. One that had taken a "strange" (foreign) wife. Ezra 10:26.

21. A prince that stood beside Ezra. Neh. 8:4.

22. A descendant of Pharez, some of whose descendants dwelt in Jerusalem. Neh. 11:4.

23. Another whose descendants dwelt in Jerusalem. Neh. 11:5.

24. A priest, some of whose descendants dwelt in Jerusalem. Neh. 11:12.

25. A priest in the time of Joiakim, son of Jeshua. Neh. 12:16.

26. A priest of the family of Asaph who officiated in the ceremony of purifying the walls of Jerusalem. Neh. 12:35, 41.

27. One whom Isaiah took as a witness; perhaps the same as No. 13. Isa. 8:2.

28. Father of Abi or Abijah. See ZACHARIAH, No. 2. II Ch. 29:1.

ZECH-A-RI'-AH, BOOK OF.—See BIBLE, BOOKS OF THE.

PRAYERS OF JESUS

In Their Probable Chronological Order

WHERE OFFERED	THE LESSON WE SHOULD LEARN	WHERE RECORDED
The Jordan	We must not attempt to "fulfil righteousness" without prayer—God answers promptly and unmistakably	Lu. 3:21, 22.
"A Solitary Place," Capernaum	The duty of early morning prayer—of secret prayer also—that we should enter upon the discharge of duties with prayer	Mark 1:35, see Isa. 26:9; Psa. 5:3; 63:1.
Chorazin—Wilderness	To withdraw from the multitude and pray in secret	Lu. 5:16; see Mat. 6:5.
Capernaum — Mountain	Every work designed to advance God's glory should open with prayer; we should not limit the time	Lu. 6:12, see I Thes. 5:17; Col. 4:2; Psa. 55:17.
Nain	We must be as babes if we would receive Divine Light; we should be thankful for what "seems good in God's sight"	Mat. 11:25, 26; see Isa. 28:9; Mat. 15:36.
Sea of Galilee, Jerusalem, Emmaus	The duty of giving thanks at our meals (three examples)	Lu. 9:16; Mat. 26:26, 27; Lu. 24:30.
Bethsaida—Mountain	The duty of closing the day's work with prayer—secret	Mat. 14:23; Jno. 6:15; see Psa. 55:17.
District of Cæsarea Philippi	The duty of frequent secret prayer	Lu. 9:18.
Mount Tabor	The duty of social prayer	Lu. 9:28, 29.
Bethany	We should recognize God's power; God hears prayer at all times	Jno. 11:41, 42; see Psa. 123:1, 2.
Gethsemane (probably)	We should learn of Jesus how to pray	Lu. 11:1-4; see Mat. 6:7, 8.
Borders of Judæa	"Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven"	Mat. 19:13; see I Pe. 2:1, 2; Mat. 18:5; Psa. 8:2.
Jerusalem — Temple	Not to pray for deliverance, even from the severest sufferings, when such lie in the course of our duty, but seek God's glory in all things	Jno. 12:27, 28; see Jno. 13:31, 32; Phil. 1:20, 21.
Jerusalem—Upper chamber	We should remember first, in all our prayers, God's glory; we should so live that we may, at death, say with Jesus, "I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do"; it is our duty to pray for others	Jno. 17.
Jerusalem—Upper chamber	The duty of intercessory prayer	Lu. 22: 32.
Gethsemane	The thrice-uttered Prayer of Jesus' Agony should teach us: 1st, A higher sense of His sufferings for us; 2nd, That it is not wrong to be "exceeding sorrowful"; 3rd, While we pray to be delivered from evil, we should ever say from the heart, "Not as I will, but as thou wilt"	Mat. 26:36-44; Mark 14:32-40; Lu. 22:40-44; note carefully, Lu. 22:40, 43, 44, 46.
Calvary	That we must pray even for our bitterest enemies	Lu. 23:34; see Mat. 5:44.
Calvary	The Love that induced our Savior to bear such sufferings for us as called for this prayer should teach us to love Him more and more each day	Mat. 27:46; Mark 15:34, see Jno. 19:30.
Calvary	May we be able to utter the same glorious prayer	Lu. 23:46.
Bethany	May we share therein	Lu. 24:50, 51.

RECENT PHOTOGRAPHS

ILLUSTRATIONS of the Bible are as old as Christianity itself. We are told that St. Luke painted a portrait of the holy mother; and that the face of Jesus himself remained imprinted on the cloth which wiped the beads of agony from his brow. These in "The System Bible Study" are genuine reproductions of actual things as they are today.

The Bible is an oriental book. It is oriental in its composition: its most ancient parts having been written from right to left, on tables of stone. It is oriental in style. Orientals think and speak in poetry; Asia is one world, America is another. It is oriental in thought: God is pictured as a Man walking in the cool of the day about the Garden of Eden. It is oriental in its geography. Who would surmise that the term "wilderness" in the Bible means prairie, or pasture land? It is also oriental in its customs, standards of morality, and religion. In short, the Orient is the key to a correct appreciation and understanding of the Bible.

Palestine is as one prophet calls it "the holy land," Zechariah 2:12; and as another describes it, "the glory of all lands," Ezekiel 20:6, 15. And the Chinese Proverb is all too painfully true, that "One seeing is better than a thousand people telling you of it." But not all Bible students are able to go in person to Palestine; hence, it becomes important that Palestine—its life, its scenery, and its conditions—be brought home to us. As George Adam Smith remarks in his Historical Geography of the Holy Land, "Students of the Bible desire to see a background and to feel an atmosphere . . . above all to discern between what physical nature contributed to the religious development of Israel, and what was the product of purely moral and spiritual forces."

All these particulars, and many more, the accompanying photographic reproductions of things, as they still exist in the East, help to set forth. Their quality is their supreme virtue. No better, truer, more genuine, or more representative examples of Oriental conditions can be found anywhere.

—George L. Robinson.

Emphasis is placed on the value of having the present-day photographic record of the Holy Land combined with the old written record of the Bible.

The descriptions of the photographs are by Dr. George L. Robinson of the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, who has spent four years in the Holy Land.

RELIEF MAP OF PALESTINE.—This Relief Map of Palestine is the product of the Palestine Exploration Fund; having been constructed, scientifically, on the basis of exact measurements, altitudes, etc. The numbers on it designate well-known localities as follows: 1 Hebron, 2 Bethlehem, 3 Mount of Olives, 4 Jerusalem, 5 Bethel, 6 Jericho, 7 Joppa, 8 Shechem, 9 Samaria, 10 Dothan, 11 Plain of Esdrælon, 12 Jezreel, 13 Bethshean, 14 Mount Tabor, 15 Nazareth, 16 Mount Carmel, 17 Tiberias, 18 Mount of Beatitudes, 19 Capernaum, 20 Bethsaida Julias, 21 Tyre, 22 Sidon, 23 Dan, 24 Cæsarea Philippi, 25 Mount Hermon, 26 Damascus, 27 Gerasa, 28 The Ford Jabbok, 29 Mount Nebo. The land as a whole is very small, being less than 200 miles from Dan to Beersheba, and scarcely 60 miles on the average from east to west. The one outstanding feature in its topography is the deep geological cleft of the Dead Sea and Jordan Valley, known as the Arabah; the whole valley for over 150 miles being below the level of the Mediterranean Sea.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN.—Forty years ago Friedrich Delitzsch published a volume entitled, "Wo lag das Paradies?" and came to the conclusion that, because the plain of Babylonia was called an edinu, the site of the Garden of Eden is most probably to be sought about the head of the Persian Gulf. In the Bible it is located thus: "And Jehovah God planted a garden eastward, in Eden." Genesis 2:8. And it is further more explicitly defined as having in it a river, which, on leaving the garden, "parted and became four heads," verse 10. Opinions differ as to its site, some locating it on an island in the Persian Gulf; others, in Armenia. Calvin, with characteristic conservatism, left its location undefined, remarking that it was "somewhere between the writer and the rising sun!" The mention of the Euphrates, however, in Genesis 2:14, would seem to limit it to the region of Babylonia. The name Eden, which means "delight," would most appropriately fit a fertile land like the region round about the head of the Persian Gulf.

STATUE OF RAMESES II.—This magnificent statue was discovered at Memphis in 1820, nearly covered with the annual deposit of Nile mud. In 1887 it was lifted out of its hollow bed, but because of its colossal size (38½ by 27 feet; and weighing 100 tons) it was left in situ. This statue, together with its companion, which lies close at hand, once stood probably in front of the temple of Ptah in Memphis, within the court of which the sacred bull Apis was kept, whose movements, as interpreted by the priests, directed the policy of the nation. It is supposed to be the portrait-statue of the great oppressor, Rameses II., "who knew not Joseph," and built "treasure cities" by means of forced labor, Exodus 1:8, 11; 5:14. Once he vaunted himself as a god and received divine honors; "now his companions are the jackals, and his only sentinels are the palms which in the night winds moan his requiem. How are the mighty fallen!" Like a warrior taking his rest, he lies face upward.

PYRAMID OF CHEOPS.—Cheops is the largest of the three great pyramids of Gizeh, located some eight miles southwest of the city of Cairo. It is one of the oldest monuments of antiquity; being 746 feet square and 450 feet in perpendicular height. Before its outermost covering of smaller stones was removed these dimensions were considerably larger. It is built exactly facing the four cardinal points. According to Petrie's calculation, about 2,300,000 separate blocks of stone, averaging about 2½ tons, were required to build it, and some of them were quarried on the east bank of the Nile, and had to be ferried across the river. According to Herodotus, 100,000 men were employed annually three months, for twenty years, in constructing this one great Pyramid of Cheops. It was intended, as all Pyramids were, as a tomb. There are no unfinished Pyramids! During the 20th Dynasty (ca 1200 B. C.) sacrilegious robbers plundered the Pyramids, as they did the tombs of the kings at Thebes. Strange that the Pyramids are not alluded to in the Bible; cf. however, I Maccabees 13:28.

CLIMBING CHEOPS.—It is customary for visitors to climb one of the Pyramids, and usually Cheops is chosen for the experience. By moonlight it leaves an indelible impression. Arab attendants are deputed by their Sheikh to accompany travelers to the apex and bring them safely down. The ascent, though fatiguing, is perfectly safe. Each layer is about three feet thick. A full half hour should be spent in going up, though it is quite possible to do it in half that time. The descent is scarcely less fatiguing. The space at the top is about 35 feet square. The view is unique. Looking West one sees the boundless stretches of burning sand of the Libyan Desert; turning east, the eye welcomes the deep green of the fertile and luxuriant Valley of the Nile. To rise early, and reach the apex in time to watch the sun rise over the Arabian wilderness is also an experience never to be forgotten. A trip to the top is usually followed by a visit to the interior chambers of the King and of the Queen.

THE SPHINX AND THE PYRAMID OF CHEPHREN.—The Sphinx is sometimes spoken of as "the oldest stone monument in the world." Its form is that of a recumbent lion, with the head of a king wearing the royal headcloth. Originally, it was probably just a bit of natural rock which from a distance resembled a lion. But the workmen who built the Pyramid of Chephren are supposed to have improved this resemblance, carving the face into the likeness of Chephren. Later it was identified with the sun-god and worshipped as "Horus on the horizon." The head is now deplorably mutilated. But in spite of all its defacement, it preserves even now an impressive expression of strength and majesty, and sits as a sentinel guarding the royal dead of the adjacent necropolis. Its height is 66 feet, and its length is 187; the ear is 4½ feet long, the nose is 5 feet 7 inches, and the breadth of the face is 13 feet, 8 inches. Near the apex of the Pyramid remains of the primitive covering of smaller stones are visible.

THE TEMPLE AT KARNAK.—Karnak, Luxor and Thebes are three names for essentially the same place, located 450 miles from Cairo on the east bank of the Nile. Ancient Thebes stood on both sides of the river. It was the capital of Upper Egypt, as Memphis was that of Lower. In Ezekiel 30:14 it is called "No," in Nahum 3:8, "No-Amon." Diodorus speaks of Thebes as the most ancient city of Egypt. Be that as it may, the ruins of the buildings of Karnak are perhaps the most wonderful of any in Egypt. The two great temples of Luxor and Karnak were united by an avenue of sphinxes about 6500 feet long, and 80 feet wide. Originally there were but two, both of which are dedicated to Amon, and built during the reign of Amenophis III. Now, these temples are a wilderness of broken walls, fallen columns, and mutilated statues and obelisks; yet still carved and painted, telling in unmistakable language of the transcendent majesty of Egypt's ancient kings. Those in the picture are typical.

THE OBELISK POPULARLY KNOWN AS "CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE."—The small inset above is from a photograph of this famous obelisk before it was removed from Alexandria, Egypt, to Central Park, New York City, U. S. A., while the larger picture shows the gigantic column after the removal. The obelisk was presented to the City of New York by the Khedive of Egypt, in 1879, but was not placed in position at that place until 1881, after an expenditure of nearly $100,000, paid by Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt, and about three years' effort on the part of Lt. Com. Henry H. Gorringe, U. S. N. From base to tip, the shaft measures 69 feet, 2 inches; the tip now on it is new. This obelisk was first erected at Heliopolis by Thothmes III., of the eighteenth dynasty, 1600 B. C., and was later (22 B. C.) removed to Alexandria, probably by Pontius; thus it stands looking down upon the people of a city whose site was unknown to the Eastern world at a time when the obelisk had been in existence over 3000 years.

MOUNT SINAI (Ex. 31:18; 34:2).—Sinai, the mountain on which Moses received from Jehovah the Tables of the Ten Commandments, is an individual peak in the vast rocky mass that almost fills the peninsula of Sinai, a triangular-shaped district lying between the two arms (gulfs) of the Red Sea. It is difficult to locate exactly the Mount Sinai of the Bible, but most modern scholars agree that it must have been one of well marked peaks of Jebel-Katherin, the northern of which is called Horeb, and the southern, Jebel-Musa ("Mountain of Moses"). It is the latter summit that tradition has selected as the sacred mountain of the Hebrew law-giving. In a ravine at its foot stands the fortress called the "Monastery of St. Catharine" (shown in the picture above), and a short distance above is the "Chapel of St. Elias" (Elijah), while on its summit is a little pilgrim church. Ras Sufsafeh, the N. peak of Jebel-Musa, is over 7300 feet high, and overlooks a plain that could easily afford standing-room for over 2,000,000 people.

THE SYRIAC GOSPELS.—These ancient manuscript was discovered thirty years ago in the Monastery of St. Catherine at the base of Mt. Sinai, by Mrs. Agnes Smith Lewis and her twin sister, Mrs. Margaret Dunlop Gibson, of Cambridge, England, and published by them in 1893. It is a palimpsest in Syriac, containing all of the four Gospels except about eight pages, and is thought to date from the fourth or fifth century A. D., but was probably taken from the wide-spread Greek text of the second century. Every page of the ancient document has been carefully photographed by the discoverers, who together made in all six visits to Mt. Sinai, and provided the richly carved case in which the precious manuscript is carefully locked and kept by the Greek Orthodox monks, who reside in the Monastery and are its legitimate custodians. It is of special interest because of its variant readings.

MOUNT NEBO.—It was from the top of Nebo that Moses obtained a panoramic view of Canaan just before his death, Deuteronomy 34:1-6. There he died and Jehovah buried him; and as Thomas Fuller quaintly adds, "buried also his grave." The mountain is located twelve miles directly east of the north end of the Dead Sea, "in the land of Moab, over against Jericho." The Arabs call it Jebel Neba. Its altitude is 4035 feet above the Dead Sea, or 2643 above the Mediterranean. About four miles west of Jebel Neba the ridge terminates in a height known as Ras Siaghah, which is sometimes identified with Mt. Pisgah. The view from these peaks is very extensive, including the mountains of Palestine from Hebron north to Galilee, the Dead Sea and the Jordan Valley, and even the mountains far to the north, namely, Carmel, Tabor and Hermon. On the top of Mt. Nebo are to be seen, as shown in the picture, certain stone ruins and dolmens, some of which are sacred to the Arabs.

THE JORDAN RIVER (Josh., ch. 3).—The eastern boundary of Palestine, and the most important and most sacred river of the Holy Land. It has two principal sources (Hasbany, which flows from a large fountain near Hasbeiya; and the Banias, near the ruins of Cæsarea Philippi), which are situated among the mountains of Anti-Lebanon, but is also fed by countless streams and rivulets that flow from the snow-clad peaks among which the river rises. Across the Jordan, Joshua led the hosts of Israel, dry-shod, to the martial raid on Jericho, the first of the conquests of the Promised Land, and since that time the history of this people has been closely interwoven with that of the sacred river. Near where the river empties into the Dead Sea, Elijah is said to have divided the waters with his mantle, and many of the events of N. T. history are connected with this stream. Prior to the World War, the Jordan was regarded as the personal property of the Sultan of Turkey, who would under no consideration allow pleasure steamers to ply upon its waters. Since the armistice, the British have placed motor launches upon it, and have also thrown two steel bridges across it. See Page 401.

JERICHO.—Modern Jericho consists of a few wretched hovels and Bedouin tents, capable of housing some 300 poor, degenerate inhabitants; beside a Russian Hospice and two or three intermittent hotels for the accommodation of travelers. It lies fully 800 feet below sea-level, surrounded by a fertile plain of almost fabulous capabilities, and is hence appropriately called "the pantry of Palestine." No other place on earth can boast of as hot a climate. This has a very enervating effect upon the inhabitants. In the southeastern side of the town there is a building resembling a tower, which since the fifteenth century has been pointed out as the site of the house of Zacchaeus, Luke 19:1-10. It was at Jericho that Jesus healed the two blind men, Matthew 20:29-34. In Old Testament times Jericho is called "the city of palm-trees," Deuteronomy 34:3. It was the first stronghold of the Canaanites captured by Joshua after Israel crossed the Jordan, Joshua 6:20. Hiel rebuilt it in the days of Ahab, I Kings 16:34.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF THE VALLEY OF AJALON, THROUGH WHICH THE ARMY OF JOSHUA PASSED (Josh. 10).—On one of these hills, one eventful and memorable day, stood Joshua, the great general of the Israelites, who, looking back toward Gibeon and down upon the noble valley before him, uttered his famous command, "'Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ajalon.' And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies." Down the valley, past Beth-horon, fled the confederate army that had been defeated in their attempt to take Gibeon, and the victorious army "chased them . . . and smote them to Azekah and unto Makkedah." This valley is beautiful and picturesque; it abounds with rocky ravines, clothed with dwarf oak, arbutus, and other shrubs, and with many a plantation of olive and carob trees, the colorful foliage of which lend life and lightness to the landscape. See PLOWING IN THE VALLEY OF AJALON.

ELISHA'S FOUNTAIN.—About one mile northwest of Modern Jericho a copious fountain, known to the Arabs as Ain es-Sultan, gushes forth from under the edge of a huge mound which apparently was the site of an ancient city. According to an early tradition this was the water which Elisha healed for the sons of the prophets, II Kings 2:19-22; and, therefore, by Christians it is called "Elisha's Fountain." Its copious waters are collected in a reservoir. Formerly, they seem to have been made use of in a practical way, as the ruins of two mills near by witness. A little stream flows down from the spring through Modern Jericho. The hill above the Fountain has been identified as the site of Ancient Jericho. Among the "finds" of the Germans who excavated the entire mound in 1907-09, were the foundations of the old city wall, very probably just that portion on which Rahab's house stood, and over which hung "the line of scarlet thread," Joshua 2:18. The wall rested on a foundation of huge squared stones.

BETH-EL.—Twelve miles north of Jerusalem Bethel is located, where Abraham reared an altar to Jehovah, Genesis 12:8, and Jacob, fleeing from Esau, tarried all night, taking one of the stones of the place and putting it under his head for a pillow, Genesis 28:10, 11. The Arabs call it Beitin. It is a squalid little village of some 400 Moslems, standing on a hill 2890 feet above sea-level, and commanding from the roof of the Sheikh's house, an extensive view. It is possible indeed from Bethel to see distinctly many of the domes and minarets of Jerusalem. To the northwest, on the highest point in the village, lie the ruins of a tower; a little lower down are the remains of a Crusaders' church; in the valley to the south is a fine reservoir, 315 feet long by 216 feet wide. The environs are exceedingly rocky, yet to some extent cultivated. It was at Bethel that Jeroboam set up a golden calf for Israel to worship, I Kings 12:29.

THE CAVE OF MACHPELAH.—The picture shows us the enclosure built over the Cave of Machpelah where Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and their wives were buried, Genesis 23:9; 25:9; 49:30, 31; 50:13. It is called by the Arabs the Haram, or sacred area; and is situated in Hebron, 22 miles south of Jerusalem. No site is more authentic in all Palestine, except it be the other Haram, or Temple Area, in Jerusalem. The entire structure consists of a quadrangular wall, 197 by 111 feet, 40 feet high and 8 feet thick. Few visitors have ever been allowed to enter it. Yet, Dean Stanley, King Edward VII, the Hon. James P. Angell, Ambassador Morgenthau, and a few others, have been given permission by the Sultan to do so. Within the Enclosure stands a Mosque, which was formerly a Christian church, built by the Crusaders. Through two openings in the floor, it is possible to look down into the Cave itself; but no one under any circumstances is ever allowed to descend into it.

THE TOMB OF RACHEL.—The drive from Jerusalem to Bethlehem takes one by the so-called Tomb of Rachel which is situated at the fork of the road, four and one-half miles south of the Holy City, one branch of which leads to Bethlehem, the other to Hebron. The tomb with its dome and the whitewashed sarcophagus within, is modern. Yet it is revered by Christians, Jews and Moslems alike, whose pilgrim names cover its plastered walls. Rachel was the much beloved wife of Jacob. She died, as we know, in giving birth to Benjamin when the patriarch was returning from Paddan-aram (Genesis 35:19). The Mohammedans regard her as their great ancestress. The identification of this modern structure as Rachel's actual tomb is by some disputed. According to I Samuel 10:2 her sepulchre is described as "in the border of Benjamin at Zelzah," and according to Jeremiah 31:15, in the neighborhood of Ramah. In the time of Christ, however, the tomb was definitely located near Bethlehem, as modern tradition avers.

SHILOH.—Identified with the modern ruins of Seilun, nine miles north of Bethel. The spring which supplied the inhabitants with water is situated three-quarters of a mile to the east. The remaining ruins of the place are mainly of comparatively modern houses, among them perhaps those of a synagogue. On the highest terrace of the site there is a quadrangle cut in the rock some 800 feet long by 400 feet broad. This is supposed to be the historic site of the ancient sanctuary of Shiloh. For, it was in Shiloh that Joshua set up the Tabernacle, Joshua 18:1. From Judges 18:31 it is evident that Shiloh continued to be the central sanctuary of Israel during the period of the Judges. It was here the boy Samuel grew to manhood under the supervision of the High Priest Eli. Hence the ark was carried in Israel's wars with the Philistines, which resulted in the utter destruction of both the sanctuary and the city, Jeremiah 7:12, 14; 26:6, 9.

THE DEAD SEA.—Others so known in Scripture as the "Salt Sea," Genesis 14:3. The Arabs call it Bahr Lut, or the Lake of Lot. It lies 1292 feet below the level of the Mediterranean, and consequently has no outlet. The Jordan river empties into it, but the evaporation is almost equally rapid. Half a century ago its length was 47 miles; today it is 53. An island near the northern end has within the last thirty years entirely disappeared. Its greatest breadth is about 10 miles. If Sodom and Gomorrah were by at its southern end, they have become in due time submerged. This is credible for the reason, that the southern third of the Sea is not more than 12 feet deep, whereas the remainder is from 1200 to 1300 feet deep! Trees formerly growing upon its shores now stand dead, having been killed by the rising water. It is almost impossible to sink in it, its waters are so dense. A steam launch today sails its surface.

TOMB OF DAVID.—Just outside the Zion Gate of the city of Jerusalem, on the southwestern and highest hill of the city, stand a congeries of comparatively modern buildings known as those of "the Prophet David." On the first floor of the main building is the so-called Cœnaculum, or Chamber of the Last Supper, and in its subterranean chambers the supposed tomb of David. Both are held in peculiar reverence by the Moslems; especially the latter, access to which is often denied pious pilgrims. The Chamber of the Last Supper is a spacious room, 48 by 30 feet, quite capable of accommodating the 120 persons who were present on the occasion of Pentecost, Acts 1:15; 2:2. For the tradition which associates this place with the establishment of the Lord's Supper, also identifies it with the descent of the Holy Spirit. In recent years excavations have been conducted by the Jews on the southeastern hill of Jerusalem, with the hope of finding the true historic tomb of David, Acts 2:29.

JERUSALEM.—"If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, Let my right hand forget." Psalms 137:5, expressed the feelings of the captives when in captivity. The view in the picture is from the Mount of Olives, looking west. At the extreme bottom of the picture is the Garden of Gethsemane. Number 1 is the Golden Gate; 2, the Gate of St. Stephen; 3, the terraces in the Kidron Valley; 4, the Haram esh-Sherif, or the Temple Area of some 21 acres; 5, the Dome of the Rock, or Mosque of Omar; 6, the Tower of Antonia, or palace of Pilate where Jesus was tried and condemned; 7, the tower of Hippicus, more commonly called the Tower of David; 8, the Church of the Holy Sepulchre marking the site of Calvary which in Jesus' day must have been outside the city; and 9, the Mohammedan tombs close to the city walls. The extensive suburbs as above and beyond to the upper right. Today the city has a population of some 55,000 to 200,000.

GENERAL ALLENBY'S ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM.—On December 6 and 7, 1917, the fighting on the hills W. of Jerusalem and the rapid advance of a British force from Hebron caused great excitement in the city. Upon receipt of the news of the near approach of the British, a sudden panic fell upon the Turks W. and S. W. of the town, and there was a furious galloping of Turkish troops along the Jaffa Road. Enthusiastic joy filled the hearts of the Jewish population, and the cry arose: "The Turks are running; the day of deliverance is come!" The Governor was the last civil official to leave the city; but before dawn, Sunday, December 9, he hastened down the Jericho Road, leaving behind him a letter of surrender, which the Mayor, as the sun rose, set forth to deliver to the British Commander. The last Turkish soldier left Jerusalem at seven o'clock, by the East Gate, and the Ottoman power, which had been supreme for four centuries in the Holy City, came to an end. The General, passing through the Jaffa Gate, entered the city on foot and left it on foot; and no pageantry profaned the historic solemnity of the hour.

THE MOSQUE AT JERUSALEM UNDER SNOW.—Upon Mount Moriah, where once stood the magnificent Temple designed by David and erected by Solomon, is now the so-called "Mosque of Omar" in an enclosure known as Haram esh-Sherif, surrounded by a high wall. It was built by Abd el-Melek, and, according to an Arabic inscription in the interior, dates from the year 691 A. D. Beneath the dome of the Mosque is the Sacred Rock, upon which, it is claimed, the prince-priest Melchizedek offered sacrifice, Abraham placed his young and only son Isaac as an offering, and the Ark of the Covenant stood; and there is still to be seen the circular hole through which the sacrificial blood passed to the brook Kidron. The above photograph is very unusual, and we are greatly indebted to the Underwood artist who was so fortunate as to secure a picture of this remarkable old building under snow, which is but rarely seen in Jerusalem. For further information concerning the "Mosque of Omar," see TEMPLE in the HISTORICAL DIGEST.

TEMPLES AT JERUSALEM—COMPOSITE MODEL OF SOLOMON'S AND HEROD'S.—No other building that has ever been erected anywhere holds the interest and inspires the reverence of Christian people the world over as do the magnificent Sanctuaries that once occupied the crown of that most sacred of all hills, Mount Moriah in Jerusalem. Elaborate in design, magnificent in construction, and richly endowed with a dignity supreme by the omnipresence of the Divine Being, the Temples of Jerusalem are without peer as objects of interest to the student of biblical history. In general design, the three Temples (Solomon's, Zerubbabel's, and Herod's) were very probably similar, and the above picture will be found of especial advantage in obtaining a general idea of the appearance of any one of the three, though the model here depicted is based on descriptions of two—Solomon's and Herod's. This model is now the property of Harvard University, and was designed and constructed by Mr. Conrad Schick. For complete description and history of the Temples, see TEMPLE in the HISTORICAL DIGEST.

THE TOMB OR MONUMENT OF ABSALOM.—"And they took Absalom, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and laid a very great heap of stones upon him. . . . Now Absalom in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himself a pillar, which [is] in the king's dale: for he said, I have no son to keep my name in remembrance: and he called the pillar after his own name: and it is called unto this day, Absalom's place" (II Sa. 18:17, 18). It would appear from the foregoing that Absalom was not buried in this place; hence it is more generally called the "Pillar of Absalom." It is situated in the valley of the Kidron, and is cut out of solid rock. Over the columns is a dark frieze, and an Egyptian cornice above this; it stands 54 feet above the surface, and each side measures 22 feet. It is not known with certainty that this is the pillar erected by Absalom, but it is the one to which tradition points, and which still answers to the name of "Absalom's place."

THE STABLES OF SOLOMON.—"And Solomon had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots" (I Ki. 4:26). It was through Solomon's intercourse with Egypt that horses came into extensive use in Israel; and he was perhaps the first to ride in a chariot through the streets of Jerusalem, though both David and Absalom had had horses before him. Above is a view of the so-called stables of Solomon, situated under the Temple area. The floor of these stables is 38 feet below the surface of the pavement above; the arches are 11 feet 5 inches in span, and 5 feet 9 inches in height. These vaults are represented as being capable of accommodating 2,000 horses, and were probably used as stables in the time of the Crusaders. They probably do not date back further than the Byzantine period, but the stones of which they are constructed evidently belonged to buildings of an earlier time—as far back as Herod, and perhaps Solomon. During the fierce and prolonged struggle with the Romans, these underground passages afforded shelter to large numbers of the Jews.

THE POOLS OF SOLOMON.—Situated about eight miles south of Jerusalem, in a valley, on the way to Hebron, and serving in ancient times as a reservoir for the old aqueduct of the Holy City. They lie end to end about 150 feet from one another, the second being about 19 feet higher than the first and the third the same height above the second. The Lowest Pool, which is shown in the picture, is the finest of the three; its dimensions being 582 feet long, by 147 to 207 feet broad, and at places 48 feet deep. It is partly hewn in the rock and partly lined with masonry. While known as Solomon's, there is no evidence whatever as to the date of their construction. Their association with his name is based upon the supposition that the gardens of Solomon were in this valley, and upon an arbitrary interpretation of Ecclesiastes 2:6. Pontius Pilate is supposed to have repaired the conduit, which connects them with Jerusalem. Today, by pipes, their water is again conveyed to the Holy City.

THE CEDARS OF LEBANON.—No such trees grew in the land of Israel. Accordingly, Solomon caused cedars to be brought from Lebanon for the building of the Temple, I Kings 5:6; and, indeed, made cedar wood as common in Jerusalem as the sycamore trees in the lowlands, I Kings 10:27. The Second Temple was likewise embellished with cedars brought from the same source, Ezra 3:7. To-day only a few remain far up among the snows of Lebanon, 6315 feet and more above the sea. One famous grove, protected by a wall, is to be found near the source of the Kadisha. It contains about 400 very old trees, the tallest of which, however, does not exceed 80 feet in height. Near these stand seven others known as "the oldest." The largest of all has a circumference of 47 feet. Doubtless many summits of the Lebanons now bare were once covered with these stately trees, which the ancient Israelites regarded as the ornaments of the mountains and the types of manly strength and beauty, Ezekiel 31:3: Psalms 92:12; 104:16.

TOMB OF HIRAM OF TYRE.—The above monument is situated just beyond the village of Hunaweh, on the road from Safed to Tyre, and is known to the common people of that section as the Kubr Hooran, or "Sepulchre of Hiram." It is an immense sarcophagus of limestone, resting upon a pedestal of large hewn stones. The sarcophagus measures 12 feet in length by 6 feet in height and breadth; the lid is 3 feet thick, and is still in its original position, but a hole has been broken through the sarcophagus at one end; and the pedestal consists of three layers of the same kind of stone, each 2 feet thick, the uppermost of which projects out beyond the others. This gray, weather-beaten monument stands here alone and solitary, bearing the marks of high antiquity; but the name and the record of him by whom or for whom it was erected have perished, like his ashes, forever. It is possible that the present name of this sepulchre has come down by tradition, and that the dust of the friend and ally of David and Solomon was once contained therein, but it is more probable that it is mere Mohammedan application.

THE DAMASCUS GATE AT JERUSALEM.—The most ornamental of all the gates in the wall of Jerusalem, being, with its many turrets and picturesque battlements, a very fine specimen of ancient architectural skill. It is on the N. side of the city, toward Galilee and Damascus, and, next to the Jaffa Gate, is the most used gate in the walls of Jerusalem. The Damascus Gate is near the place that is now generally supposed to be the site of the Crucifixion, and is only about half a mile to the S. of the Tombs of the Kings. It occupied a prominent place, because of its massive style, along the ancient "second wall" of the city, and connected with its structures are the immense underground quarries, on which, as well as out of which, Jerusalem may be said to be built. According to an inscription on it, this gate was built, or at least restored, by Suleiman in the year 944 of the Hegira (which year began June 10, 1537). Its modern name is Bab el Amud.

THE JEWS' WAILING PLACE.—On the west side of the Temple Area in Jerusalem there is a celebrated stretch of ancient masonry 156 feet in length by 59 feet in height, known as the Jews' Wailing Place. Thither every Friday afternoon about four o'clock multitudes of Jews and Jewesses assemble, and, with tears in their eyes, solemnly repeat the 79th Psalm and the Lamentations of Jeremiah, and pray for the restoration of the Temple. It is a touching sight to watch them, as they lean against the weather-beaten blocks and kiss and caress them, sometimes tucking in between the stones old rags and pieces of paper on which are inscribed their vows and petitions. It is said that they have perpetuated this custom without interruption since, at latest, the twelfth century A. D. Having been forbidden for centuries by the Moslems to enter the Temple Area itself, they often sit or stand for hours and repeat their well-known litany: "For the temple that is desolate. . . . We sit in solitude and mourn, etc." The wall in the picture is a beautiful sample of Jewish architecture.

MOUNT CARMEL AND THE RIVER KISHON.—When Deborah and Barak fought against Jabin and Sisera in the great battle which decided the fate of the Canaanites, the poetess tells us in her song, "The river Kishon swept them away, that ancient river, the river Kishon," Judges 5:21. The name Kishon means "crooked." It is a small river, but it drains the great plain of Esdraelon in Galilee. Mt. Carmel is a low range, extolled in the Bible for its beauty, Isaiah 35:2; Song of Solomon 7:5, stretching from Megiddo northwest some 14 miles, attaining an elevation at its highest point of some 1810 feet, and thrusting a high promontory into the Mediterranean Sea, opposite Galilee. It is covered with rich vegetation, and looks like an "orchard," as its name implies; being noted for its oaks, almond and pear trees and pines. Because of the heavy dews, which it collects, Mt. Carmel remains green throughout the year, a very unusual phenomenon in Palestine. It was on Carmel that Elijah contended with the 450 prophets of Baal, I Kings 18.

BETH-LEHEM (Mat. 2:1) AT CHRISTMAS-TIDE.—Beth-lehem is a village of Judah about five miles S. of Jerusalem, and is noted as the birthplace of David and of the Savior; it was also the native place of Samuel's father, the home of Boaz and Ruth, and the scene of Rachel's death and burial. This town was originally called Ephrath, and is sometimes spoken of as "the city of David;" it is now called Beit-lahm, and is visited by many travelers every year. Christmas is a protracted affair at Beth-lehem—first come the Latin ceremonies, which take place on our own Christmas Day, December 25; these are followed 14 days later by the service of the Greeks, who still adhere to the old calendar; and 13 days later comes the Armenian Christmas feast. The services are held in the CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY (which see), which is believed to mark the actual site of the manger where our Savior was born. The photograph above depicts a procession of the Latin priests on their way to the Church.

ENTRANCE TO THE CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY.—The Church of the Nativity is generally supposed to have been erected at the instigation of the Empress Helena, mother of Constantine the Great, A. D. about 327, over the traditional spot where Christ was born. Though the edifice has suffered much from time, it still bears manifest traces of its Grecian origin, and is alleged to be the most chaste architectural building now remaining in Palestine. It is an immense structure, more like a fortress than a church, and is apportioned to the various religious sects. In the above photograph, note the walled-up entrance, with its low portal; the original size of the doorway was reduced for the purpose of keeping the Moslem Turks from using the church as a stable. The entrance to the building is now guarded by English soldiers, ensuring freedom and protection to all who visit this holy place in the proper spirit. See the succeeding pictures of this wonderful and ancient shrine.

HALL OF THE CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY.—This section of the church is very spacious, and handsome, consisting of a central nave amid aisles separated from each other by rows (48 in all) of tall Corinthian monolith pillars of marble, each of which is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ feet in diameter and 17 feet in height. As there is no ceiling, the lofty roof is exposed to view, composed (according to tradition) of the cedars of Lebanon, still in good preservation, and affords a fine specimen of the architecture of that age. This hall forms the main part of the cross made up by the entire building; the other portions of the church, forming the arms of the cross, are walled up. One notable fact is associated with a portion of the crypt of this church; namely, that here "beside what he believed to be the cradle of the Christian faith," St. Jerome lived for more than 30 years, leaving a lasting monument of his sojourn (as is commonly believed) in the Vulgate translation of the Bible.

THE MANGER (Lu. 2:7) IN THE GROTTO UNDER THE CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY.—Two spiral staircases lead from the hall of the church to the cave called the "Grotto of the Nativity," which is about 20 feet below the level of the church. The walls of this cave are covered with costly tapestries, and from its ceiling hang lamps of gold and silver which light the sacred precinct. A silver star, seen in the picture, marks the supposed exact spot where the Savior was born, and corresponds to that in the firmament occupied by the meteor which intimated that great event. Here, hewn out of the rock, is seen the manger in which our Lord is supposed to have been placed immediately after his birth. Much controversy has arisen regarding the claims of this cave to be regarded as the place in which the Savior was born. It is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to identify the spot where Jesus was born; and there is no decided proof that this spot, though fixed on in an early century, is the exact locality.

NAZARETH.—A city of approximately 10,000, nestled in the hills of Galilee, and often spoken of as "the White City," but without any history before the coming of the Messiah. The large open space in the center of the picture is a favorite camping-place of pilgrims. The inhabitants are of a turbulent disposition. In the time of our Lord the town was apparently small and unimportant, John 1:46. Today, it throbs with life and interest, and is filled with sacred sites which attract the Christian. For example, the Church of the Annunciation, Luke 1:26-38; the Workshop of Joseph, Luke 2:51, over which a chapel has been erected; the Synagogue in which Jesus preached, Luke 4:16-27; the Table of Christ, at which Jesus is said to have dined with his disciples after the Resurrection; and above all in importance, the Fountain of Mary, from which the Virgin doubtless often filled her pitcher, as there is no other fountain in or near the town. The view from the hill above the city, to the west, is one well worth the climb.

THE RIVER JORDAN (Mat. 3:13).—The principal river of Palestine, and the most sacred stream in the world. Its whole length, in a direct line, is only 120 miles, though in its windings it is about 240 miles; and it flows through one of the most beautiful gorge-like valleys in the world, its banks in some places being covered with a luxuriant growth of ferns and trees, while in others their extreme ruggedness but serves to impress one with the peculiar dignity of this little but all-important stream. Apart from its great scenic beauty and well-known fertility, this Valley of the Jordan is rich in the sacred, historical and picturesque stories of the Holy Land. It was the scene of some of the most memorable of the events recorded in the O. T. (see Page 374); here Christ and multitudes of others were baptized by John the Baptist, and many other events in the Ministry of Jesus took place along the shores and in the vicinity of this most interesting of all rivers. N. of the Sea of Galilee, the Jordan is now called el-Urdan; S. of it to the Dead Sea, Es-Sahriat, "the ford." Thousands of pilgrims visit its shores every year to be baptized.

MOUNT OF TEMPTATION—In describing the third (the order is different in Lu. 4) temptation of our Lord, Matthew says, "The devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; and saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me" (Mat. 4:8, 9). In the absence of further light on the matter from other writers, it is, of course, impossible to locate exactly where this mountain was, but tradition points to a certain mountain in Palestine now called Mt. Quarantana as the Mount of Temptation. This mountain is near Jericho, and overlooks a fertile plain which, in the time of Christ, was cultivated and kept like a garden; here Herod lived in great style and luxury, and hither Cleopatra had come to satiate her impeding appetite for revelry—it was a place well suited to the evil designs of the Prince of Sin. However, Robinson and other careful students of the country declare that this cannot be the scene of the Temptation; but it is not for us to declare for or against it positively.

CANA OF GALILEE. Where "the conscious water saw its God and blushed." Known to the thousand, more or less, inhabitants of the modern place as Kafr Kenna. It is located nine miles from Nazareth on the carriage road to Tiberias. Near the fountain which supplies the squalid villagers with water we may see the inevitable sarcophagus used as a drinking trough. Antonio of Piacenza relates that he took a bath in the fountain out of devotion, because it was from this spring that the water was drawn which Jesus changed into wine at the wedding feast, John 2:1-11! There are two churches in the village; a Latin chapel replacing the Crusaders' church which is supposed to have been built on the site of the house of Nathanael, who was a native of Cana. John 1:45; and a Greek church, in which stone jars are shown which are said to have been used on the occasion of the miracle. By some it is believed that Jesus was in Cana when he healed at a distance the nobleman's son, John 4:46-54.

JACOB'S WELL.—Famous because of Christ's conversation there with the woman of Samaria, John 4. It is to be found at the eastern end of the valley between Mounts Ebal and Gerizim, about half a mile to the east of Nablus, the site of ancient Shechem. The well is "deep" as stated in John 4:11. For years it was partly filled with rubbish, but in 1910 the rubbish was cleared out, and now its depth is known to be 32 meters, or about 105 feet. Though narrow at the opening the well gradually widens until it reaches a diameter of nine feet. The upper part is built of stones, while the lower portion is cut out of the limestone rock. Pilgrims in days gone by could always rely on finding plenty of clear, fresh water, but in our own day it sometimes runs dry in summer. In the larger of the pictures above the well is shown before the erection of the small limestone chapel now inclosing it and seen in the smaller picture. This chapel was erected in recent years by the Greeks, following the example of the Crusaders, who built a church on the spot; and before them, the Latins in Jerome's day.

CAPERNAUM.—Located on the northwest shore of the Sea of Galilee, and best identified with Tell Hum, of which this is a photograph. The rival site which by some is claimed as the probable location is Khan Minyeh, a few miles farther south on the same side of the Lake. At Capernaum Jesus made his home after his ejection from Nazareth, Matthew 4:13. The extensive ruins of Tell Hum point to an ancient place of considerable importance. The Franciscans have surrounded them with a wall, and built a hospice in the midst of them. Excavations by the Germans have revealed the interesting remains of a Synagogue built of fine white limestone which probably is alluded to in Luke 7:5. It was in Capernaum that Matthew was sitting as a tax-collector when Jesus called him, Matthew 9:9. It was here that Jesus raised the daughter of Jairus, Matthew 9:18-26; and healed the woman suffering from an issue of blood, Mark 5:25. In no other town did Jesus work more miracles, or preach more sermons.

THE SEA OF GALILEE.—The view shown in the photograph is that of the western shore north of Tiberias, including the Plain of Gennesaret. The Sea is 13 miles long by 7½ broad at its widest point. It is really pear-shaped. Hills surround it on every side. The Jordan River flows into it, and its turbid waters may be traced a long distance. The Jordan flows through it, indeed, making it a body of sweet water. The greatest depth of the Sea is 157 feet. Many varieties of fish abound in it not found elsewhere except in the tropics. Its surface is 682 feet below the level of the Mediterranean, and accordingly, the atmosphere above and about it is correspondingly hot and feverish. Sudden gusts of wind easily perturb its surface. It was on Galilee that Jesus stilled the tempest, Matthew 8:23-27. And it was on its indented shores that He spoke many of his parables, Matthew 13. At Bethsaida, He fed the 5000, Matthew 14:13-23. In Capernaum Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, Matthew 8:14.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF TIBERIAS (Jno. 6:1) AND THE SEA OF TIBERIAS (GALILEE).—We have no record that the Savior was ever in the City of Tiberias, but it is very probable that he visited it many times, for much of his active life was spent in this neighborhood. This is one of the most picturesque cities in the world; around it may be seen the cacti and the palm-trees, the cliffs and the plains, the little boats in the lake, and the nets of the fishermen hanging out to dry. Most of the inhabitants appear to be extremely poor. The city was founded by Herod Antipater, A. D. 16-22, and named in honor of the emperor Tiberius. For years after the destruction of Jerusalem, it was the seat of the Sanhedrin and of Jewish learning; and the "Jerusalem Talmud" was prepared there. The principal objects of interest in the environs of the city are the ruins of a large castle (perhaps Herodian), a very ancient synagogue, and—half an hour's journey to the S.—the hot springs of Emmaus (the Hammath of Josh. 19:35), mentioned by Josephus and Pliny. The city was almost destroyed by a great earthquake in 1837.

MOUNT OF BEATITUDES.—Midway between Cana and Capernaum and about six miles west of the Sea of Galilee rise two low peaks called by the natives Kern Hattin, or the Horns of Hattin. They stand less than 200 feet above the surrounding plain and only 1000 above the Mediterranean Sea. These two peaks with the hollow between them give the appearance of an Arabian saddle. Here it was in Crusading times that Saladin gave a death blow to the power of the Franks in Palestine, July 4, 1187 A. D. It was about this time that currency was given to the tradition that between these two peaks Jesus delivered the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew 5:7. The defeat of the Crusaders was utter. The Moslem conquered. There "a militant and truculent Christianity, as false as the relics of the 'True Cross' round which it was rolled, met its judicial and sudden ruin on the summit where Christ proclaimed the Gospel of Peace, and went about doing good" (George Adam Smith). But true Christianity is always sure to reassert itself!

POOL OF SILOAM.—A small basin, 52 by 19 feet in size, and 21 feet deep, situated on the southwest side of the city of David, and within the ancient city's walls. The Arabs call it Ain Silwan. It was supplied with water by means of an artificial underground tunnel, which was cut through the hill Ophel on which the ancient city of David stood, and which connected it with the so-called Virgin's Fountain, or Gihon of the Old Testament. Hither Jesus sent the man born blind to wash and be healed, John 9:7. A basilica was erected near it in the early centuries of our era to commemorate this event; but this has long since been replaced by a mosque which the Moslems have constructed on the same site. Isaiah rebukes his contemporaries for refusing "the waters of Shiloah that go softly," Isaiah 8:6. In 1881, near the lower end of the tunnel, a Hebrew inscription in five lines was discovered which recounts the cutting and opening of the aqueduct.

SNOW-CAPPED RIDGE OF MOUNT HERMON (Psa. 89:12)—"And after six days Jesus taketh [with him] Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them. And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus . . . And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him" (Mk. 9:2-7; cp. Mat. 17:1-5). Most modern scholars are inclined to accept Mount Hermon as the scene of this awe-inspiring event, rejecting the old traditional site, Mount Tabor. Mount Hermon is regarded as the great land-mark of Palestine, it can be clearly seen from Gilead and Bashan, and is visible, not only from Galilee, but from many points in Samaria and Judæa, as well as from the Mount of Olives and the Red Sea, thus being in view from nearly every section of the country. It is the highest mountain in Palestine, the above picture being taken at an altitude of 1966 feet.

"ROSES OF SHARON" (Song 2:1), WITH MOUNT TABOR (Judg. 4:6) IN THE BACKGROUND.—The fertility and beauty of the Plain of Sharon, with its roses of proverbial fame, are often alluded to by sacred writers, and have been most enthusiastically described by modern travelers. Standing almost alone in the plain, Mount Tabor (here seen in the background) presents a most striking appearance. It is somewhat in the shape of a sugar-loaf, flattened at the top into a broad plateau, its sides presenting the appearance of a series of well-planted terraces, and on its slopes are to be seen the remains of towers, houses, cisterns, and vaults probably belonging to the age of the Crusaders. Looking from the top of Mount Tabor—which is the traditional site of the Transfiguration, though most modern scholars are inclined to place that event on Mount Hermon—an altitude of 2017 feet, the eye can range from the vicinity of Dan on the north toward Beersheba on the south. It was on this mountain that Barak marshaled his forces preparatory to his successful conflict with Sisera.

BETHANY.—Two miles distant from Jerusalem, on the eastern slopes of Olivet and close to the road which leads to Jericho. It is called by the Arabs El-Azariyeh. Only Moslems inhabit the little ruined village. Bethany was the home of Mary and Martha, and Lazarus whom Jesus loved, John 11:5. At Lazarus' tomb "Jesus wept," John 11:35. It was here in the house of Simon that the woman anointed Jesus' feet, John 12:1-10. Bethany was a favorite resort of Jesus. Two monuments of his time are still pointed to by the villagers: one, the Tomb of Lazarus, a grotto hewn deep in the limestone rocks; and the other, the "Castle of Lazarus," now generally known as the "House of Simon the Leper." Even the house of Mary and Martha is pointed to as still in existence. From the immediate neighborhood the Risen Jesus ascended, Luke 24:50. Today the village is but a confused mass of hovels built of stones that have been used for the same purpose through the centuries.

TOMB OF LAZARUS (Jno., ch. 11).—The tomb of Lazarus is a deep vault hewn in the rock and lined with masonry, and is in Bethany, a small village about two miles E. of Jerusalem, where Lazarus and his two sisters, Mary and Martha, lived. Christians and Mohammedans alike regard this place with reverence; and it appears reasonably certain that it is indeed the place where Lazarus was buried, and from which he emerged on the fourth day after his death, at the command of the Great Physician. The tomb of Lazarus is visited by many pilgrims every year, and Bethany, though now a dilapidated and miserable village, will always hold, as the home of the family who were so close to the Savior, a unique place in the mind and heart of all Christians who pass that way. On no occasion, perhaps, were the sympathy, power, and dignity of Christ more conspicuous than at the time of the raising of Lazarus from the dead; and the domestic scenes connected with his sojourn in the home of Lazarus and his sisters are extremely beautiful and instructive.

THE GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE.—The Gospels describe the place called Gethsemane as "an enclosed piece of ground," Matthew 26:36; Mark 14:32,—"a garden," John 18:1, in which were olive trees. Indeed the name Gethsemane means "oil-press." Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples, John 18:2. Near by there was a grotto, known as "the Cavern of the Agony." It was here, according to tradition, that the sweat of Jesus "became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground," Luke 22:44. Both the grotto and the Garden belong exclusively to the Franciscan order of the Roman Catholic Church; the grotto since 1392; the garden since 1681. Within the wall which surrounds the Garden, there are eight olive trees whose circumference is from twenty-four to thirty feet. They are the most venerated trees in the world, and are said by the Franciscans to date from the time of our Lord. That in the foreground is sometimes called "the tree of agony." Historically, the Moslems have never levied any tax upon them.

CALVARY.—Golgotha, "the place of a skull." One of the problems which confront every intelligent student of the topography of ancient Jerusalem is the true location of Calvary. Tradition points steadfastly through the centuries to the site long occupied by the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. The picture shows us the so-called "Garden Tomb," first suggested as the true Golgotha by Miss Louise Hope, who several years ago purchased a portion of the cemetery lying north of the Damascus Gate, including a garden and certain rock-hewn tombs, built a fence about them, and started a "Maintenance Fund" to perpetuate her identification of the site. The fact that General Gordon, on the occasion of his visit to Jerusalem, reverenced it, helped to give it prominence. Modern tourists from Protestant lands almost with one consent favor this new identification. The garden has in it a rock-hewn tomb with a rolling stone; the form of the knoll as seen from the Mount of Olives resembles the shape of a human skull; and the place is "nigh to the city," John 19:20.

MOUNT OF OLIVES.—The mount called "Olivet" rises directly east of the Holy City and overlooks it. It is approximately 2500 feet above sea-level. The view it affords of Judæa and Ephraim, the Dead Sea and the Jordan, Gilead and Moab is a panorama, which to the Bible student is without a parallel. Upon it, a little to the north, the Zionists plan to build a great University. No better site exists. Olive trees grow on its many terraces. In the foreground of the picture is the Kidron. Beyond the double wall, the Gethsemane of the Roman Catholics. A little further on, the Gethsemane of the Russians. The road is possibly that followed by David when pursued by Absalom, II Samuel 15:14. On the summit stands a Russian tower to mark the place of the Ascension, Acts 1:12; also a Latin church and a convent, where Jesus taught his disciples to pray, Luke 11:1-4. It was on the top of Olivet, too, that Jesus paused in his triumph to weep over the Holy City, Luke 19:41-44.

THE HOUSE OF SIMON THE TANNER.—It is located in the city of Joppa, near the sea. Two traditions concerning its site still persist: one, that it stood where now we find the Latin Hospice. This tradition, however, can be traced back no further than to 1654. The other, that it once stood where now we find an insignificant mosque, near the lighthouse. The view of the harbor and the sea from the roof of this building is very extensive. In the court yard there is a well from which the Moslems in the vicinity obtain water. The masonry of the whole structure is quite modern; yet, the location is "by the sea," as we should expect from Acts 10:6, and this southern portion of the city is still occupied by tanners. It was from the roof of Simon's house that Peter obtained the vision of a great sheet filled with clean and unclean animals, and heard a voice from heaven admonishing him not to exclude the Gentiles from the kingdom of heaven, Acts 10:17.

RUINS OF ST. PAUL'S PRISON ON TOP OF THE HILL OF THE ANCIENT PHILIPPI (Acts 16:12-40).—What Christian child is not familiar with the story of the apostle Paul's imprisonment and miraculous release at Philippi? In the picture above is seen what remains of the prison where this remarkable event is generally supposed to have taken place. It is also possible to see here something of the desolation to which the one-time proud city of Philippi has fallen heir. Philippi was anciently one of the chief cities of Macedonia, and received its name from Philip II. of Macedon, who enlarged it because of the gold mines in its neighborhood. It is famous on account of the two battles fought in its vicinity, B. C. 42, between Antony and Octavianus on the one side, and the Republicans under Brutus and Cassius on the other, in the second of which the Republic finally perished. Paul visited the city twice, and one of his Epistles is addressed to the Christians of the church which he had founded there.

JOPPA.—The Arabs call it Jaffa, "the Beautiful." It is the sea port of Palestine, though without any harbor facilities worthy of the name. Some 50,000 Moslems, Christians and Jews inhabit the city. A railroad connects it with Jerusalem 40 miles away. The rich plain of Sharon borders it on the east. The town itself rises by terraces to a height of 115 feet. The streets are generally narrow and dusty; or, after a rain, muddy. The fruit-gardens which surround the city are celebrated. As early as the fourteenth century B. C., an officer of Rameses II. boasted of "the delicious fruit in the splendid gardens of Japu." Orange, pomegranate, citron, fig, almond, palm, and other fruit trees form a dense grove, the perfume of which, when in blossom, is enjoyed for miles around. It was at Joppa Jonah found a ship going to Tarshish, Jonah 1:3. And it was from the roof of Simon the tanner's house that Peter saw his vision of "a great sheet let down from heaven," Acts 10:11.

PLOWING IN THE VALLEY OF AJALON.—The Valley of Ajalon, which is less than a two hours' journey by horse and carriage from Ramleh, the traditional "Arimathea" of the Gospel of Matthew, is brought into prominence in the Bible by the record of Joshua's commanding the moon to stand still there. Some parts of the valley are very beautiful, being carpeted with vari-colored flowers of many varieties; and, interspersed with cultivated fields like the one shown above, the undulating plain stretch away from Gaza on the S. to Mount Carmel on the N., and from the hill-country of Judah and Benjamin on the E. to the Mediterranean Sea on the W. Here one sees the clumsy single-handed plow of the ancients still in use, drawn by teams of oxen, as in the days of old, and driven by the swarthy Syrian who drinks from wells like those used by Jacob; and it was probably not far from this neighborhood that David slung the stone that buried itself in the forehead of Goliath, the giant champion of the Philistines, the arch-enemies of the children of Israel.

"SHIPS OF THE DESERT" MOVING SLOWLY BUT STEADILY OVER THE HILLS OF GALILEE TO DAMASCUS.—Camels have been much used in the Eastern countries from very early times for riding, drawing chariots, carrying burdens and messengers, and in war; and are still among the chief possessions of the rich Orientals. All camels, from their birth, are taught to bend their limbs and lie down to receive a load or a rider. They are often placed circularly in a recumbent posture, and, together with their loads, form a sufficient rampart of defence against robbers on horseback. Those seen in the picture above are of the Arabian species, which has only one hump and is the kind most commonly referred to in the Bible. Damascus is close to the desert, and hence has ever been a place of camels. Caravans like the above are constantly seen slowly wending their way toward the "Pearl of the East," the faithful animals plodding along with the swaying movement that has won for them the name, "Ships of the Desert."

RUINS OF BABYLON.—"And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the Lord. . . . And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant" (Jer. 51:24, 37). How truly, how literally, has this prophecy been fulfilled! The proud metropolis of the Chaldees has been humbled, and the magnificent capital of Nebuchadrezzar has sunk into oblivion. Babylon stood on both sides of the river Euphrates, and, according to the description of the Greek historian Herodotus, was one of the largest and most magnificent cities of the world. It was built in the form of a square, each of its sides measuring about 120 stadia, making a circumference of about 56 miles, enclosing an area of about 200 square miles. It was surrounded by a wall 200 cubits (about 300 feet) high and 50 cubits (about 75 feet) thick, furnished with 100 brazen gates. The famous "Hanging Gardens" were on the E. side of the river, the newer part of the city, among the buildings of the Neo-Babylonian period.

ABANAH RIVER.—Without the cool, refreshing and perennial waters of the Abanah river, Damascus "the Pearl set in Emeralds," as the Orientals call it, "the Immortal City," and "the oldest city in the world with a continuous history," would never have become the home of 200,000 people, and flourished ever since the days of Abraham. Rome proudly boasts of being "the Eternal City," but Damascus is more justly entitled to the claim. Long ages before Rome was born, Damascus was just as beautiful, and populous, and thriving, as she is today. The secret of her prosperity and opulence is unquestionably the Abanah. The Greeks called it "the golden stream." Like the Pharpar, which also rushes down from the mountains of Anti-Lebanon, when it reaches the plain it is divided into several branches, two of which water the city, the others irrigate the orchards and the gardens round it. It was this river which Naaman the leper preferred when told by Elisha to go and bathe in the Jordan, II Kings 5:12.

THE WALL OF DAMASCUS (II Co. 11 33).—Being unable to successfully refute the bold teachings of the apostle Paul, the Jews of Damascus resolved to assassinate him. The apostle and his friends became acquainted with the conspiracy, and took all due precautions to evade the danger, the church continuing in earnest prayer for his safety. Doubtless under cover of night, the apostle was let down in a basket from a window in some house overhanging the outside of the wall of the city. Along the S. E. angle of the wall of Damascus is Bab Kisan, a gate which has been walled up for many centuries, and moslem tradition still points to the wall between this gate and the round tower to the E. as the place from which Paul was let down at the time of his escape from his enemies in the city. In front of this gate is a tomb, said to be that of St. George, who is credited with assisting the apostle in eluding his persuers. The monks claim to have recently located in this vicinity the spot where Saul (later Paul) was converted.

THESSALONICA.—Known today as Salonika, situated on the famous Via Egnatia, the overland route from Italy to the East, at the northeastern corner of the Thermaic Gulf. Its general appearance is beautiful, the buildings rising above one another in tiers on the slopes of the hills. The city was founded by Cassander, about 315 B. C., and named after his wife, who was the step-sister of Alexander the Great. It was a "free city" in the sense that it enjoyed a self-governing democracy; its magistrates were designated Politarchs, Acts 17:6, 8. In Paul's day many Jews resided there and they had a synagogue, Acts 17:1. Today it is pre-eminently a city of Moslems and minarets. Paul on his second missionary journey, 51 A. D., preached here both to Jews and Gentiles. A serious riot drove him eventually on to Berœa, Acts 17:10. Several monuments of its ancient grandeur remain, including Roman triumphal arches, a Corinthian colonnade, and a building resembling the Pantheon at Rome, now used, however, as a mosque.

BEIRUT.—The metropolis of Syria and Lebanon, and the sea-port of Damascus, having over 100,000 people. Beirut is one of the oldest cities on the Phœnician coast, Sidon and Gebal being older probably. According to Eusebius the ancients believed that Beirut was the daughter of Gebal. Its name is variously derived from Berothai, mentioned in II Samuel 8:8, or from Berothah, which occurs in Ezekiel 47:16. Others would derive it from the Semitic root for wells, biaroth, which indicates that the place was noted for its wells originally. Today the city is supplied with water from the Dog River some ten miles to the north. Its name occurs first in the Tell el-Amarna tablets of the fifteenth century B. C. The American University on Ras Beirut, the modern promontory, is the largest and most influential of all America's educational institutions outside of America herself. The Mission Printing Press is the distributing center of Arabic literature of the Mohammedan world. The harbor of the city is the best on the entire coast.

THE LAWS OF THE BIBLE

Laws of the Old Testament, With New Testament Comments

BY
FINIS K. FARR

Love is the fulfilling of the law.—Rom. 13:10.

FOREWORD

THE Laws of the Old Testament are found, in various connections, throughout the books of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. The arrangement by subjects, as given here, will be found most useful for a thorough study of the legal portions of Scripture. It is believed that every subject upon which the Old Testament Law speaks is here included. That Law is simple, yet fundamental; the student of law, the student of morals, the student of history, cannot afford to neglect it. The Index will enable the reader to find at once, in this arrangement, any passage he may desire. If a particular verse is not found herein, some parallel passage bearing on the same subject will be found.

The Gospel Dispensation is not of law, but of grace; yet the Moral Law is for all men, and the Christian can make no greater mistake than to think he is not bound by that law. Our Lord and His apostles, in the New Testament, often refer to the Old Testament Laws, sometimes to confirm them, sometimes to expand them, sometimes to show how a new law of the spirit has taken the place of the old. For the student's convenience, the New Testament passages here given are printed in italics.

May the student of this compilation of the LAWS OF THE BIBLE be led to fulfill the Law in love toward God and toward all men!

LAWS OF THE BIBLE

I. THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

THE FIRST TABLE: DUTIES TOWARD GOD

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: 30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.—Mark 12:29, 30.

I

2 I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. 3 THOU SHALT HAVE NO OTHER GODS BEFORE ME.—Ex. 20:2, 3.

6 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. 7 THOU SHALT HAVE NONE OTHER GODS BEFORE ME.—Deut. 5:6, 7.

37 Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the first and great commandment.
—Mat. 22:37, 38.

II

4 THOU SHALT NOT MAKE UNTO THEE ANY GRAVEN IMAGE, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: 5 Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; 6 And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.—Ex. 20:4-6.

8 THOU SHALT NOT MAKE THEE ANY GRAVEN IMAGE, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth: 9 Thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, 10 And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.—Deut. 5:8-10.

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.
—Jno. 4:24.

III

7 THOU SHALT NOT TAKE THE NAME OF THE LORD THY GOD IN VAIN: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.—Ex. 20:7.

11 THOU SHALT NOT TAKE THE NAME OF THE LORD THY GOD IN VAIN: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.—Deut. 5:11.

33 Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: 35 Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King. 36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. 37 But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.—Mat. 5:33-37.

IV

8 REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY, TO KEEP IT HOLY. 9 Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: 10 But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: 11 For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day:

12 KEEP THE SABBATH DAY TO SANCTIFY IT, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. 13 Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work: 14 But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou. 15 And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day.—Deut. 5:12-15.

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath: 28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.—Mark 2:27, 28.

THE SECOND TABLE: DUTIES TOWARD MAN

39 And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.—Mat. 22:39, 40.

V

12 HONOUR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Ex. 20:12.

16 HONOUR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deut. 5:16.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? 4 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. 5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; 6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.—Mat. 15:3-6.

VI

13 THOU SHALT NOT KILL.—Ex. 20:13.

17 THOU SHALT NOT KILL.—Deut. 5:17.

21 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: 22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.—Mat. 5:21, 22.

VII

14 THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY.—Ex. 20:14.

18 NEITHER SHALT THOU COMMIT ADULTERY.—Deut. 5:18.

27 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.—Mat. 5:27, 28.

VIII

15 THOU SHALT NOT STEAL.—Ex. 20:15.

19 NEITHER SHALT THOU STEAL.—Deut. 5:19.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.—Mark 10:19.

IX

16 THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS AGAINST THY NEIGHBOUR.—Ex. 20:16.

20 NEITHER SHALT THOU BEAR FALSE WITNESS AGAINST THY NEIGHBOUR.—Deut. 5:20.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. 37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.—Mat. 12:35-37.

X

17 THOU SHALT NOT COVET thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.—Ex. 20:17.

21 NEITHER SHALT THOU DESIRE thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.—Deut. 5:21.

15 And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.—Lu. 12:15.

Christ's New Commandment

34 A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. 35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.—Jno. 13:34, 35.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. 9 For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Rom. 13:8-10.

II. THE ORGANIZATION OF CIVIL GOVERNMENT

THE KING

1. He Must be Native, not Foreign.

14 When thou art come unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt possess it, and shalt dwell therein, and shalt say, I will set a king over me, like as all the nations that are about me; 15 Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the Lord thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother.—Deut. 17:14, 15.

2. He Must Not Covet Wealth.

16 But he shall not multiply horses to himself, nor cause the people to return to Egypt, to the end that he should multiply horses: forasmuch as the Lord hath said unto you, Ye shall henceforth return no more that way. 17 Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that his heart turn not away: neither shall he greatly multiply to himself silver and gold.—Deut. 17:16, 17.

3. He Must Study the Law.

18 And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests the Levites: 19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life; that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them: 20 That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and his children, in the midst of Israel.—Deut. 17:18-20.

4. Reverence Is Due the King.

28 Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.—Ex. 22:28.

5. Christian Submission to Organized Government.

13 Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; 14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well. 15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: 16 As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. 17 Honour all* men. *Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.—I Pe. 2:13-17.

6. Jesus Christ the Rightful Head of All Government.

5 And from Jesus Christ,* who is the faithful witness, and *the firstbegotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth.—Rev. 1:5.

THE ARMY

7. Compulsory Service of All Adult Males.

2 Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, from twenty years old and upward, throughout their fathers' house, all that are able to go to war in Israel.—Num. 26:2.

8. Jehovah Is with the Army.

1 When thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lord thy God is with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. 2 And it shall be, when ye are come nigh unto the battle, that the priest shall approach and speak unto the people, 3 And shall say unto them, Hear, O Israel, ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies: let not your hearts faint, fear not, and do not tremble, neither be ye terrified because of them; 4 For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you.—Deut. 20:1-4.

9. Exemptions from Military Service.

5 And the officers shall speak unto the people, saying, What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it. 6 And what man is he that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not yet eaten of it? let him also go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat of it. 7 And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her. 8 And the officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart. 9 And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people.—Deut. 20:5-9.

5 When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken.—Deut. 24:5.

47 But the Levites after the tribe of their fathers were not numbered among them. 48 For the Lord had spoken unto Moses, saying, 49 Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Levi, neither take the sum of them among the children of Israel.—Num. 1: 47-49.

10. Opportunity of Surrender to Be Offered to the Enemy.

10 When thou comest nigh unto a city to fight against it, then proclaim peace unto it. 11 And it shall be, if it make thee answer of peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein shall be tributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee.—Deut. 20:10, 11.

11. Fruit Trees Not to Be Destroyed in War.

19 When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an axe against them: for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut them down (for the tree of the field is man's life) to employ them in the siege: 20 Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until it be subdued.—Deut. 20:19, 20.

12. The Christian Life as Warfare.

11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. 12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. 13 Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. 14 Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; 15 And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; 16 Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. 17 And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: 18 Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints.—Eph. 6:11-18.

CITIZENSHIP

13. Exclusions from Citizenship.

1 He that is wounded in the stones, or hath his privy member cut off, shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord.—Deut. 23:1.

2 A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord.—Deut. 23:2.

14. Excluded Races.

3 An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever: 4 Because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt; and because they hired against thee Balaam the son of Beor of Pethor of Mesopotamia, to curse thee. 5 Nevertheless, the Lord thy God would not hearken unto Balaam; but the Lord thy God turned the curse into a blessing unto thee, because the Lord thy God loved thee. 6 Thou shalt not seek their peace nor their prosperity all thy days for ever.—Deut. 23:3-6.

15. Admitted Races.

7 Thou shalt not abhor an Edomite; for he is thy brother: thou shalt not abhor an Egyptian; because thou wast a stranger in his land. 8 The children that are begotten of them shall enter into the congregation of the Lord in their third generation.—Deut. 23:7, 8.

16. Citizenship in the Kingdom of Christ.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.—Mat. 19:12.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: 35 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

11 Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.—Col. 3:11.

PRIVILEGES OF ALIENS

17. Alien Inhabitants Are Subject to the Law.

16 One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.—Num. 15:16.

29 Ye shall have one law for him that sinneth through ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them. 30 But the soul that doeth aught presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.—Num. 15:29, 30.

18. Aliens May Worship Jehovah with Offerings.

14 And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord; as ye do, so he shall do. 15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, and also for the stranger that sojourneth with you, an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.—Num. 15: 14, 15.

19. Aliens May Observe the Passover.

14 And if a stranger shall sojourn among you, and will keep the passover unto the Lord; according to the ordinance of the passover, and according to the manner thereof, so shall he do: ye shall have one ordinance, both for the stranger, and for him that was born in the land.—Num. 9:14.

20. Aliens Are Free from Certain Prohibitions.

21 Ye shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art a holy people unto the Lord thy God.—Deut. 14:21.

20 Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to in the land whither thou goest to possess it.—Deut. 23:20.

THE JUDICIARY

21. Judges and Administrators,—How Chosen.

21 Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens: 22 And let them judge the people at all seasons: and it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear the burden with thee. 23 If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace. 24 So Moses hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said. 25 And Moses chose able men out of all Israel, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.—Ex. 18:21-25.

22. Judges Must Render Justice to All.

18 Judges and officers shalt thou make thee in all thy gates, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, throughout thy tribes: and they shall judge the people with just judgment.—Deut. 16:18.

1 If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.—Deut. 25:1.

23. Jesus' Warning to Judges.

24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.—Jno. 7:24.

24. Judges Warned Against Partiality and Bribes.

6 Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause. 7 Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked. 8 And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. 9 Also thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.—Ex. 23:6-9.

15 Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment; thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.—Lev. 19:15.

19 Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous. 20 That which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and inherit the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deut. 16:19, 20.

16 And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear the causes between your brethren, and judge righteously between every man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him. 17 Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God's: and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it.—Deut. 1:16, 17.

19 Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow: and all the people shall say, Amen. —Deut. 27:19.

25 Cursed be he that taketh reward to slay an innocent person: and all the people shall say, Amen.—Deut. 27:25.

25. A Supreme Court of Civil and Criminal Appeal.

8 If there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the Lord thy God shall choose; 9 And thou shalt come unto the priests the Levites, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and inquire; and they shall shew thee the sentence of judgment: 10 And thou shalt do according to the sentence, which they of that place which the Lord shall choose shall shew thee; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee: 11 According to the sentence of the law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the sentence which they shall shew thee, to the right hand, nor to the left.—Deut. 17:8-11.

26. Judges and Rulers the Ministers of God.

1 Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. 2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. 3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same: 4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. 5 Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake. 6 For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.—Rom. 13:1-6.

WITNESSES

27. The Testimony of One Witness Shall Not Convict.

15 One witness shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established. —Deut. 19:15.

30 Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.—Num. 35:30.

6 At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death.—Deut. 17:6.

28. Responsibility of Witnesses in a Capital Case.

7 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you.—Deut. 17:7.

29. Witnesses Must Tell the Whole Truth and Nothing But the Truth.

16 Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people; neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:16.

1 And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall bear his iniquity.—Lev. 5:1.

30. Perjury and Its Penalty.

1 Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness. 2 Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment: 3 Neither shalt thou countenance a poor man in his cause. —Ex. 23:1-3.

16 If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong; 17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the Lord, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days; 18 And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother; 19 Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. 20 And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you. 21 And thine eye shall not pity; but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.—Deut. 19:16-21.

31. The Christian Rule as to Witnesses.

15 Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. 16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. 17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican.—Mat. 18:15-17.

AUTHORITY AND ITS LIMITS

32. The Limit of Scourging Which May Be Inflicted.

2 And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault, by a certain number. 3 Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.—Deut. 25:2, 3.

33. Rejection of Lawful Authority Is Punishable with Death.

12 And the man that will do presumptuously, and will not hearken unto the priest that standeth to minister there before the Lord thy God, or unto the judge, even that man shall die: and thou shalt put away the evil from Israel. 13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously.—Deut. 17:12, 13.

34. Christian Submission to Lawful Authority.

7 Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.—Rom. 13:7.

PUBLICATION OF THE LAW

35. The Law to Be Publicly Inscribed.

1 And Moses with the elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, Keep all the commandments which I command you this day. 2 And it shall be, on the day when ye shall pass over Jordan unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, that thou shalt set thee up great stones, and plaster them with plaster: 3 And thou shalt write upon them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over, that thou mayest go in unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey; as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.—Deut. 27:1-3.

8 And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law very plainly.—Deut. 27:8.

36. The Law to Be Publicly Read.

10 And Moses commanded them, saying, At the end of every seven years, in the solemnity of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles, 11 When all Israel is come to appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou shalt read this law before all Israel in their hearing. 12 Gather the people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the Lord your God, and observe to do all the words of this law: 13 And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear the Lord your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jordan to possess it.—Deut. 31:10-13.

37. The Law to Be Taught and Kept in Mind.

6 And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: 7 And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. 8 And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. 9 And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.—Deut. 6:6-9.

20 And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded you? 21 Then thou shalt say unto thy son, We were Pharaoh's bondsmen in Egypt; and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand: 22 And the Lord shewed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his household, before our eyes: 23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he sware unto our fathers. 24 And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the Lord our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day. 25 And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.—Deut. 6:20-25.

38. The Gospel to Be Preached and Taught Even as the Law.

15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.—II Ti. 2:2.

39. Continual Reminders of the Law.

38 Speak unto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments, throughout their generations, and that they put upon the fringe of the borders a ribband of blue: 39 And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them; and that ye seek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring: 40 That ye may remember, and do all my commandments, and be holy unto your God.—Num. 15:38-40.

40. The Law to Be Strictly Observed.

4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: I am the Lord your God. 5 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord.—Lev. 18:4, 5.

32 Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. 33 Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.—Deut. 5:32, 33.

III. CIVIL LAWS

PARENTS AND CHILDREN

41. Parents to Be Obeyed and Honored.

15 And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death.—Ex. 21:15.

17 And he that curseth his father, or his mother, shall surely be put to death.—Ex. 21:17.

9 For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death: he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him.—Lev. 20:9.

18 If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, which will not obey the voice of his father, or the voice of his mother, and that, when they have chastened him, will not hearken unto them: 19 Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the elders of his city, and unto the gate of his place; 20 And they shall say unto the elders of his city, This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton, and a drunkard. 21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die: so shalt thou put evil away from among you; and all Israel shall hear, and fear.—Deut. 21: 18-21.

42. Obligations of Parents and Children under Christ's Rule.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? 4 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. 5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; 6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.—Mat. 15:3-6.

1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. 2 Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise; 3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. 4 And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. —Eph. 6:1-4.

RIGHTS OF WOMEN

43. An Unmarried Woman May Not Bind Herself by a Vow, Without Her Father's Consent.

3 If a woman also vow a vow unto the Lord, and bind herself by a bond, being in her father's house in her youth; 4 And her father hear her vow, and her bond wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father shall hold his peace at her; then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she hath bound her soul shall stand. 5 But if her father disallow her in the day that he heareth, not any of her vows, or of her bonds wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall stand; and the Lord shall forgive her, because her father disallowed her.—Num. 30:3-5.

44. A Married Woman May Not Bind Herself Without Her Husband's Consent.

6 And if she had at all a husband, when she vowed, or uttered aught out of her lips, wherewith she bound her soul; 7 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her in the day that he heard it: then her vows shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soul shall stand. 8 But if her husband disallowed her on the day that he heard it, then he shall make her vow which she vowed, and that which she uttered with her lips, wherewith she bound her soul, of none effect; and the Lord shall forgive her.—Num. 30: 6-8.

45. A Widow or a Divorced Woman May Bind Herself.

9 But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced, wherewith they have bound their souls, shall stand against her. —Num. 30:9.

46. Rightful Headship and Duty of a Husband.

22 Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. 23 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church; and he is the Saviour of the body. 24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing. 25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it.—Eph. 5:22-25.

MARRIAGE

47. Prohibited Degrees of Kinship in Marriage: a Man May Not Marry His Mother, His Father's Wife, His Sister, Half-Sister, Granddaughter, Aunt, Aunt by Marriage, Daughter-in-Law, Brother's Wife; Nor Have as Wives a Woman and her Daughter or Granddaughter, Nor a Woman and Her Sister.

6 None of you shall approach to any that is near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness: I am the Lord. 7 The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. 8 The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness. 9 The nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover. 10 The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover: for theirs is thine own nakedness. 11 The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. 12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister: she is thy father's near kinswoman. 13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister: for she is thy mother's near kinswoman. 14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife: she is thine aunt. 15 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law: she is thy son's wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. 16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness. 17 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness. 18 Neither shalt thou take a wife to her sister, to vex her, to uncover her nakedness, besides the other in her life time.—Lev. 18:6-18.

20 Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife; because he uncovereth his father's skirt: and all the people shall say, Amen. . . . 22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother: and all the people shall say, Amen. 23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother in law: and all the people shall say, Amen.—Deut. 27: 20, 22, 23.

48. Apostolic Condemnation of an Incestuous Alliance.

1 It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.—I Co. 5:1.

49. For the Perpetuation of Families, the Husband's Brother Is to Marry a Childless Widow.

5 If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger: her husband's brother shall go in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and perform the duty of a husband's brother unto her. 6 And it shall be, that the firstborn which she beareth shall succeed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Israel. 7 And if the man like not to take his brother's wife, then let his brother's wife go up to the gate unto the elders, and say, My husband's brother refuseth to raise up unto his brother a name in Israel, he will not perform the duty of my husband's brother. 8 Then the elders of his city shall call him, and speak unto him: and if he stand to it, and say, I like not to take her; 9 Then shall his brother's wife come unto him in the presence of the elders, and loose his shoe from off his foot, and spit in his face, and shall answer and say, So shall it be done unto that man that will not build up his brother's house. 10 And his name shall be called in Israel, The house of him that hath his shoe loosed.—Deut. 25:5-10.

50. The Christian Widow Is at Liberty to Marry Any Christian Man.

39 The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.—I Co. 7:39.

51. Intermarriage with the Heathen Is Forbidden.

1 When the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possess it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hittites, and the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, seven nations greater and mightier than thou; 2 And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor shew mercy unto them: 3 Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son. 4 For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: so will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly.—Deut. 7:1-4.

52. Intermarriage with Unbelievers Is Forbidden.

14 Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? 16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.—II Co. 6: 14-16.

53. A Captive Woman, If Taken as Wife, May Not Afterward Be Sold as a Slave.

10 When thou goest forth to war against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken them captive, 11 And seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife; 12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house; and she shall shave her head, and pare her nails; 13 And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife. 14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt let her go whither she will; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.—Deut. 21:10-14.

DIVORCE

54. A Husband May Divorce a Wife; She May Marry Another, But Not Remarry the First Husband.

1 When a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found some uncleanness in her: then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house. 2 And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife. 3 And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife; 4 Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the Lord: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.—Deut. 24:1-4.

55. A Slave, Taken as Wife, May Not Be Sold; and If Divorced, Is Freed.

7 And if a man sell his daughter to be a maidservant, she shall not go out as the menservants do. 8 If she please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed: to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath dealt deceitfully with her. 9 And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters. 10 If he take him another wife, her food, her raiment, and her duty of marriage, shall he not diminish. 11 And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.—Ex. 21:7-11.

56. A Wife Married After Seduction May Not Be Divorced.

28 If a man find a damsel that is a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found; 29 Then the man that lay with her shall give unto the damsel's father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife; because he hath humbled her, he may not put her away all his days.—Deut. 22:28, 29.

57. Jesus' Law Concerning Divorce.

3 The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? 4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, 5 And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh? 6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 7 They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away? 8 He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. 9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.—Mat. 19:3-9.

58. Apostolic Command and Counsel Concerning Separation.

10 And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband: 11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife. 12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away. 13 And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him. 14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.—I Co. 7:10-15.

MARITAL INFIDELITY

59. Divorce Is Forbidden Where Pre-Marital Infidelity Has Been Charged and Not Proved.

13 If any man take a wife, and go in unto her, and hate her, 14 And give occasions of speech against her, and bring up an evil name upon her, and say, I took this woman, and when I came to her, I found her not a maid: 15 Then shall the father of the damsel, and her mother, take and bring forth the tokens of the damsel's virginity unto the elders of the city in the gate: 16 And the damsel's father shall say unto the elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife, and he hateth her; 17 And, lo, he hath given occasions of speech against her, saying, I found not thy daughter a maid; and yet these are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the elders of the city. 18 And the elders of that city shall take that man and chastise him; 19 And they shall amerce him in a hundred shekels of silver, and give them unto the father of the damsel, because he hath brought up an evil name upon a virgin of Israel: and she shall be his wife; he may not put her away all his days. 20 But if this thing be true, and the tokens of virginity be not found for the damsel: 21 Then they shall bring out the damsel to the door of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones that she die; because she hath wrought folly in Israel, to play the whore in her father's house: so shalt thou put evil away from among you.—Deut. 22:13-21.

60. Pre-Marital Infidelity of a Free Woman—Both Parties Punishable with Death.

23 If a damsel that is a virgin be betrothed unto a husband, and a man find her in the city, and lie with her; 24 Then ye shall bring them both out unto the gate of that city, and ye shall stone them with stones that they die; the damsel, because she cried not, being in the city; and the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife: so thou shalt put away evil from among you.—Deut. 22:23, 24.

61. Pre-Marital Infidelity of a Bond-Woman—How Punished.

20 And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman, that is a bondmaid, betrothed to a husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her; she shall be scourged: they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.—Lev. 19:20.

62. Post-Marital Infidelity of Wife—Trial by Ordeal.

11 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 12 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If any man's wife go aside, and commit a trespass against him, 13 And a man lie with her carnally, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and be kept close, and she be defiled, and there be no witness against her, neither she be taken with the manner; 14 And the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled; or if the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled: 15 Then shall the man bring his wife unto the priest, and he shall bring her offering for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley meal; he shall pour no oil upon it, nor put frankincense thereon; for it is an offering of jealousy, an offering of memorial, bringing iniquity to remembrance.

16 And the priest shall bring her near, and set her before the Lord: 17 And the priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel; and of the dust that is in the floor of the tabernacle the priest shall take, and put it into the water: 18 And the priest shall set the woman before the Lord, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering: and the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that causeth the curse: 19 And the priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman, If no man have lain with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside to uncleanness with another instead of thy husband, be thou free from this bitter water that causeth the curse: 20 But if thou hast gone aside to another instead of thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man have lain with thee besides thine husband: 21 Then the priest shall charge the woman with an oath of cursing, and the priest shall say unto the woman, The Lord make thee a curse and an oath among thy people, when the Lord doth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly to swell; 22 And this water that causeth the curse shall go into thy bowels, to make thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot. And the woman shall say, Amen, amen. 23 And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and he shall blot them out with the bitter water: 24 And he shall cause the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter.

25 Then the priest shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall wave the offering before the Lord, and offer it upon the altar: 26 And the priest shall take a handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water.

27 And when he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman shall be a curse among her people. 28 And if the woman be not defiled, but be clean; then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed.

29 This is the law of jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another instead of her husband, and is defiled; 30 Or when the spirit of jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the Lord, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law. 31 Then shall the man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman shall bear her iniquity.—Num. 5:11-31.

63. Mutual Consideration of Marital Rights Enjoined Upon Husband and Wife.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. 3 Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. 4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.—I Co. 7:2-4.

MASTER AND HIRED SERVANT

64. Punctual and Full Payment of Wages Commanded.

14 Thou shalt not oppress a hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates: 15 At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee.—Deut. 24:14, 15.

13 Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning.—Lev. 19:13.

65. Hired Servants Not to Have All Privileges of the Family (Compare Sec. 76).

10 There shall no stranger eat of the holy thing: a sojourner of the priest, or a hired servant, shall not eat of the holy thing.—Lev. 22:10.

66. The Christian Master's Model.

1 Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.—Col. 4:1.

67. The Christian Servant's Obligation.

18 Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.—I Pe. 2:18.

MASTER AND SLAVE

68. Hebrews May Not Enslave Their Brethren for Life Without Their Consent After Six Years' Service.

2 If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve: and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing. 3 If he came in by himself, he shall go out by himself: if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him. 4 If his master have given him a wife, and she have borne him sons or daughters; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself. 5 And if the servant shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free: 6 Then his master shall bring him unto the judges; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post; and his master shall bore his ear through with an awl; and he shall serve him for ever.—Ex. 21:2-6.

39 And if thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not compel him to serve as a bondservant: 40 But as a hired servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubilee: 41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return. 42 For they are my servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold as bondmen. 43 Thou shalt not rule over him with rigour; but shalt fear thy God.—Lev. 25: 39-43.

12 And if thy brother, a Hebrew man, or a Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee. 13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty: 14 Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy winepress: of that wherewith the Lord thy God hath blessed thee thou shalt give unto him. 15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day. 16 And it shall be, if he say unto thee, I will not go away from thee; because he loveth thee and thine house, because he is well with thee; 17 Then thou shalt take an awl, and thrust it through his ear unto the door, and he shall be thy servant for ever. And also unto thy maidservant thou shalt do likewise.—Deut. 15:12-17.

69. A Female Slave, When Made a Wife, Is Not to Be Put Away or Sold.

7 And if a man sell his daughter to be a maidservant, she shall not go out as the menservants do. 8 If she please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed: to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath dealt deceitfully with her. 9 And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters. 10 If he take him another wife; her food, her raiment, and her duty of marriage, shall he not diminish. 11 And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.—Ex. 21:7-11.

70. Hebrews May Possess Other Nations as Slaves.

44 Both thy bondmen, and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids. 45 Moreover of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: and they shall be your possession. 46. And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Israel, ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.—Lev. 25:44-46.

71. A Hebrew Enslaved for Debt May Be Redeemed at Any Time.

47 And if a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, and thy brother that dwelleth by him wax poor, and sell himself unto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stock of the stranger's family: 48 After that he is sold he may be redeemed again; one of his brethren may redeem him: 49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or any that is nigh of kin unto him of his family may redeem him; or if he be able, he may redeem himself. 50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he was sold to him unto the year of jubilee: and the price of his sale shall be according unto the number of years, according to the time of a hired servant shall it be with him. 51 If there be yet many years behind, according unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the money that he was bought for. 52 And if there remain but few years unto the year of jubilee, then he shall count with him, and according unto his years shall he give him again the price of his redemption. 53 And as a yearly hired servant shall he be with him: and the other shall not rule with rigour over him in thy sight. 54 And if he be not redeemed in these years, then he shall go out in the year of jubilee, both he, and his children with him. 55 For unto me the children of Israel are servants; they are my servants whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.—Lev. 25:47-55.

72. A Fugitive Slave to Be Protected.

15 Thou shalt not deliver unto his master the servant which is escaped from his master unto thee: 16 He shall dwell with thee, even among you, in that place which he shall choose in one of thy gates, where it liketh him best: thou shalt not oppress him.—Deut. 23:15, 16.

73. Penalty for Killing a Slave.

20 And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely punished. 21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished: for he is his money.—Ex. 21:20, 21.

74. Slave Injured by Master Must Be Set Free.

26 And if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake. 27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.—Ex. 21:26, 27.

75. Money Value of a Slave's Life, Thirty Pieces of Silver.

32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maidservant; he shall give unto their master thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.—Ex. 21:32.

76. Slaves May Share in Religion with the Family (Compare Sec. 65).

43 And the Lord said unto Moses and Aaron, This is the ordinance of the passover: There shall no stranger eat thereof: 44 But every man's servant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall he eat thereof. 45 A foreigner and a hired servant shall not eat thereof.—Ex. 12:43-45.

17 Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill offerings, or heave offering of thine hand: 18 But thou must eat them before the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God in all that thou puttest thine hands unto.—Deut. 12:17, 18.

77. Master and Servant Are Equal in the Lord.

10 I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds: 11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me: 12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels: 13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel: 14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly. 15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever; 16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?—Phm.:10-16.

78. Conversion Does Not Alter Earthly Relations.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather. 22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant. 23 Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men. 24 Brethren, let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.—I Co. 7:21-24.

79. The Duties of Masters and of Servants Are Christian Duties.

5 Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ; 6 Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; 7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men: 8 Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free. 9 And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him.—Eph. 6:5-9.

1 Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed. 2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.—I Ti. 6:1, 2.

REAL PROPERTY

80. The Title to All Land Is in God, Not in Man.

23 The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me.—Lev. 25:23.

81. Land Reverts to the Descendants of the Original Owner Every Fiftieth Year.

13 In the year of this jubilee ye shall return every man unto his possession.—Lev. 25:13.

82. Price of Land Sold to Be Determined According to Time Remaining Before the Fiftieth, the Jubilee Year.

24 And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land. 25 If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeem it, then shall he redeem that which his brother sold. 26 And if a man have none to redeem it, and himself be able to redeem it; 27 Then let him count the years of the sale thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he may return unto his possession. 28 But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubilee: and in the jubilee it shall go out, and he shall return unto his possession.—Lev. 25:24-28.

15 According to the number of years after the jubilee thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee. 16 According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.—Lev. 25:15, 16.

83. Houses in Walled Cities an Exception to the Law of Return in the Fiftieth Year.

29 And if a man sell a dwellinghouse in a walled city, then he may redeem it within a whole year after it is sold; within a full year may he redeem it. 30 And if it be not redeemed within the space of a full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall be established for ever to him that bought it throughout his generations: it shall not go out in the jubilee. 31 But the houses of the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: they may be redeemed, and they shall go out in the jubilee.—Lev. 25:29-31.

84. The Eldest Son Must Be the Chief Heir.

15 If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have borne him children, both the beloved and the hated; and if the firstborn son be hers that was hated: 16 Then it shall be, when he maketh his sons to inherit that which he hath, that he may not make the son of the beloved firstborn before the son of the hated, which is indeed the firstborn: 17 But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, by giving him a double portion of all that he hath: for he is the beginning of his strength; the right of the firstborn is his.—Deut. 21:15-17.

85. If There Are No Sons, Daughters Inherit, Then Brothers, Then Uncles, Then Next of Kin.

8 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a man die, and have no son, then ye shall cause his inheritance to pass unto his daughter. 9 And if he have no daughter, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his brethren. 10 And if he have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his father's brethren. 11 And if his father have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his kinsman that is next to him of his family, and he shall possess it: and it shall be unto the children of Israel a statute of judgment, as the Lord commanded Moses.—Num. 27:8-11.

86. An Heiress Must Marry Within Her Father's Tribe, to Avoid Confusion of Tribal Rights.

8 And every daughter, that possesseth an inheritance in any tribe of the children of Israel, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, that the children of Israel may enjoy every man the inheritance of his fathers. 9 Neither shall the inheritance remove from one tribe to another tribe; but every one of the tribes of the children of Israel shall keep himself to his own inheritance.—Num. 36:8, 9.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

87. Double Value of Property Held in Trust for Another to Be Restored, in Case of Theft or Loss.

88. Restitution to Be Made for Domestic Animals, If Estrayed, Stolen or Injured, Except When Hired Together with Owner.

10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it: 11 Then shall an oath of the Lord be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good. 12 And if it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof. 13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn. 14 And if a man borrow aught of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he shall surely make it good. 15 But if the owner thereof be with it, he shall not make it good: if it be a hired thing, it came for his hire.—Ex. 22:10-15.

89. Unlawful Appropriation of Property: The Value of the Property, Plus One-Fifth, to Be Repaid to the Owner.

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 2 If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the Lord, and lie unto his neighbour in that which was delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour; 3 Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein: 4 Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found, 5 Or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass offering.—Lev. 6:1-5.

90. Strayed Animals and Lost Property to Be Restored to the Owner or Kept for Him.

4 If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again.—Ex. 23:4.

1 Thou shalt not see thy brother's ox or his sheep go astray, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt in any case bring them again unto thy brother. 2 And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it unto thine own house, and it shall be with thee until thy brother seek after it, and thou shalt restore it to him again. 3 In like manner shalt thou do with his ass; and so shalt thou do with his raiment; and with all lost things of thy brother's, which he hath lost, and thou hast found, shalt thou do likewise: thou mayest not hide thyself.—Deut. 22:1-3.

LOVE, HUMANITY, CHARITY

91. Hate and Revenge Not to Be Cherished.

17 Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him. 18 Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:17, 18.

92. Kindness to Be Shown Toward Immigrants.

18 He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. 19 Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.—Deut. 10:18, 19.

93. Respect to Be Shown Toward the Aged.

32 Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and fear thy God: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:32.

94. Consideration for Misfortune.

14 Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:14.

4 Thou shalt not see thy brother's ass or his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again.—Deut. 22:4.

5 If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him.—Ex. 23:5.

95. A Borrower Is Not to Be Dealt with Oppressively.

10 When thou dost lend thy brother any thing, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge. 11 Thou shalt stand abroad, and the man to whom thou dost lend shall bring out the pledge abroad unto thee. 12 And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge: 13 In any case thou shalt deliver him the pledge again when the sun goeth down, that he may sleep in his own raiment, and bless thee: and it shall be righteousness unto thee before the Lord thy God.—Deut. 24:10-13.

6 No man shall take the nether or the upper millstone to pledge: for he taketh a man's life to pledge.—Deut. 24:6.

96. Corporal Punishment Not to Be Excessive.

3 Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.—Deut. 25:3.

97. Precaution to Be Taken Against Accident.

8 When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence.—Deut. 22:8.

98. Rights of Immigrants, Orphans, Widows, to Be Especially Respected.

17 Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger, nor of the fatherless; nor take a widow's raiment to pledge: 18 But thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee thence: therefore I command thee to do this thing.—Deut. 24:17, 18.

99. Hebrews Who Are Enslaved to Be Set Free, with Gifts, in the Seventh Year.

12 And if thy brother, a Hebrew man, or a Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee. 13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty: 14 Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy winepress: of that wherewith the Lord thy God hath blessed thee thou shalt give unto him. 15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day.—Deut. 15:12-15.

100. Captive Woman, If Taken as Wife, Not to Be Enslaved or Sold.

10 When thou goest forth to war against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken them captive, 11 And seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife; 12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house; and she shall shave her head, and pare her nails; 13 And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife. 14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt let her go whither she will; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.—Deut. 21:10-14.

101. Gleanings of Field and Vineyard to Be Left for the Poor.

19 When thou cuttest down thine harvest in thy field, and hast forgot a sheaf in the field, thou shalt not go again to fetch it: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hands. 20 When thou beatest thine olive tree, thou shalt not go over the boughs again: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow. 21 When thou gatherest the grapes of thy vineyard, thou shalt not glean it afterward: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow. 22 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt: therefore I command thee to do this thing.—Deut. 24:19-22.

9 And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest. 10 And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger: I am the Lord your God.—Lev. 19:9, 10.

102. All Are to Share the Rejoicing of the Feast of Tabernacles.

13 Thou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine: 14 And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates. 15 Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose: because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.—Deut. 16:13-15.

103. Levites and Dependent Persons to Receive the Tithe Every Third Year.

28 At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates: 29 And the Levite, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.—Deut. 14:28, 29.

12 When thou hast made an end of tithing all the tithes of thine increase the third year, which is the year of tithing, and hast given it unto the Levite, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled; 13 Then thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I have brought away the hallowed things out of mine house, and also have given them unto the Levite, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow, according to all thy commandments which thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments, neither have I forgotten them.—Deut. 26: 12, 13.

104. The Poor Are to Be Helped; Interest Not to Be Exacted from Them.

35 And if thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee; then thou shalt relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that he may live with thee. 36 Take thou no usury of him, or increase: but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee. 37 Thou shalt not give him thy money upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.—Lev. 25:35-37.

105. Hebrews to Release Each Other's Debts in the Seventh Year.

1 At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. 2 And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth aught unto his neighbour shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother; because it is called the Lord's release. 3 Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release; 4 Save when there shall be no poor among you; for the Lord shall greatly bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it: 5 Only if thou carefully hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all these commandments which I command thee this day. 6 For the Lord thy God blesseth thee, as he promised thee: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee. 7 If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother: 8 But thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth. 9 Beware that there be not a thought in thy wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand; and thine eye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him nought; and he cry unto the Lord against thee, and it be sin unto thee. 10 Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him: because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto.—Deut. 15:1-10.

106. The Christian Law of Love.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.—I Co. 13:3.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: 32 And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. —Eph. 4:31, 32.

107. The Christian Use of Riches.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; 18 That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate; 19 Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.—I Ti. 6:17-19.

108. The Law of Rest in the Seventh Day.

12 Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.—Ex. 23:12.

109. The Law of Rest in the Seventh Year.

10 And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof: 11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard.—Ex. 23:10, 11.

6 And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee, 7 And for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.—Lev. 25: 6, 7.

HUMANE LAWS

110. Kindness to Animals Both Great and Small.

10 And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof: 11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard. 12 Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.—Ex. 23:10-12.

Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.—Ex. 34:26.

6 If a bird's nest chance to be before thee in the way in any tree, or on the ground, whether they be young ones, or eggs, and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young: 7 But thou shalt in any wise let the dam go, and take the young to thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days.—Deut. 22:6, 7.

4 Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn.—Deut. 25:4.

4. CRIMINAL LAWS

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

111. The Criminal Himself, and No Other, Must Answer for His Crime.

16 The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin. —Deut. 24:16.

CRIMES AGAINST RELIGION—THE FIRST COMMANDMENT

112. Worship of Any God Except Jehovah Forbidden: the Penalty, Death.

14 For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God.—Ex. 34:14.

20 He that sacrificeth unto any god, save unto the Lord only, he shall be utterly destroyed.—Ex. 22:20.

2 If there be found among you, within any of thy gates which the Lord thy God giveth thee, man or woman, that hath wrought wickedness in the sight of the Lord thy God, in transgressing his covenant, 3 And hath gone and served other gods, and worshipped them, either the sun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded; 4 And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and inquired diligently, and, behold, it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought in Israel: 5 Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die.—Deut. 17:2-5.

21 And thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to Molech, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord.—Lev. 18:21.

2 Again, thou shalt say to the children of Israel, Whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, that giveth any of his seed unto Molech; he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land shall stone him with stones. 3 And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people; because he hath given of his seed unto Molech, to defile my sanctuary, and to profane my holy name. 4 And if the people of the land do any ways hide their eyes from the man, when he giveth of his seed unto Molech, and kill him not; 5 Then I will set my face against that man, and against his family, and will cut him off, and all that go a whoring after him, to commit whoredom with Molech, from among their people.—Lev. 20:2-5.

29 When the Lord thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land; 30 Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou inquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise. 31 Thou shalt not do so unto the Lord thy God: for every abomination to the Lord which he hateth have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods.—Deut. 12: 29-31.

1 If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder, 2 And the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them; 3 Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the Lord your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul. 4 Ye shall walk after the Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him. 5 And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath spoken to turn you away from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in. So shalt thou put the evil away from the midst of thee. 6 If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers; 7 Namely, of the gods of the people which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth; 8 Thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him: 9 But thou shalt surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people. 10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to thrust thee away from the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. 11 And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you. 12 If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying, 13 Certain men, the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known; 14 Then shalt thou inquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you; 15 Thou shalt surely smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, destroying it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, with the edge of the sword. 16 And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the Lord thy God: and it shall be a heap for ever; it shall not be built again. 17 And there shall cleave nought of the cursed thing to thine hand: that the Lord may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and shew thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers; 18 When thou shalt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep all his commandments which I command thee this day, to do that which is right in the eyes of the Lord thy God.—Deut. 13:1-18.

113. Christian Worship Must be Rendered From a Pure Heart to God Alone.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.—Mat. 4:10.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord: 15 Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled; 16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. 17 For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.—Heb. 12:14-17.

114. Sorcery and All Idolatrous Practices Forbidden: The Penalty, Death.

9 When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. 10 There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, 11 Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. 12 For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord: and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee. 13 Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. 14 For these nations, which thou shalt possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.—Deut. 18:9-14.

18 Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live.—Ex. 22:18.

6 And the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people.—Lev. 20:6.

115. Heathen Mourning Customs Forbidden.

27 Ye shall not round the corners of your heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard. 28 Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:27, 28.

116. False and Presumptuous Prophecy Forbidden: The Penalty, Death.

20 But the prophet, which shall presume to speak a word in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or that shall speak in the name of other gods, even that prophet shall die. 21 And if thou say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord hath not spoken? 22 When a prophet speaketh in the name of the Lord, if the thing follow not, nor come to pass, that is the thing which the Lord hath not spoken, but the prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: thou shalt not be afraid of him.—Deut. 18:20-22.

117. The Christian Church Warned Against False Prophets.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.—Mat. 7:15.

CRIMES AGAINST RELIGION—THE SECOND COMMANDMENT

118. Making and Worshipping of Idols Forbidden.

1 Ye shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it: for I am the Lord your God.—Lev. 26:1.

15 Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire; 16 Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female, 17 The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air, 18 The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth: 19 And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the Lord thy God hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven.—Deut. 4:15-19.

23 Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee. 24 For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God.—Deut. 4:23, 24.

25 The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination to the Lord thy God. 26 Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing.—Deut. 7:25, 26.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.—Acts 17:29.

CRIMES AGAINST RELIGION—THE THIRD COMMANDMENT

119. Blasphemy Forbidden: The Penalty, Death.

15 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, Whosoever curseth his God shall bear his sin. 16 And he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, shall be put to death.—Lev. 24: 15, 16.

120. Blasphemy Against the Holy Spirit.

31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.—Mat. 12:31.

CRIMES AGAINST RELIGION—THE FOURTH COMMANDMENT

121. The Sabbath to Be Kept as a Day of Rest: The Penalty of Its Violation, Death.

13 Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you. 14 Ye shall keep the sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you. Every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people. 15 Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the sabbath of rest, holy to the Lord: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death. 16 Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant. 17 It is a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.—Ex. 31:13-17.

21 Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest: in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest.—Ex. 34:21.

2 Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you a holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death. 3 Ye shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day.—Ex. 35:2, 3.

122. "It Is Lawful to Do Well on the Sabbath Days."

1 At that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were a hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. 2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day. 3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was a hungered, and they that were with him; 4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests? 5 Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless? 6 But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple. 7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day. 9 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue: 10 And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. 11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? 12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. 13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.—Mat. 12:1-13.

CRIMES AGAINST THE PUBLIC RIGHT

123. Bribery and Corruption.

8 And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous.—Ex. 23:8.

15 Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment; thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.—Lev. 19:15.

19 Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous. 20 That which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and inherit the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deut. 16:19, 20.

124. The Christian Rule of Fair Dealing.

7 Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour. 8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.—Rom. 13: 7, 8.

125. Perjury.

16 If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong; 17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the Lord, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days; 18 And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother; 19 Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. 20 And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you. 21 And thine eye shall not pity; but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.—Deut. 19: 16-21.

126. Perjury Punished in the Christian Dispensation.

1 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, 2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet. 3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? 4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. 5 And Ananias hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things. 6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him. 7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. 8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much. 9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out. 10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.—Acts 5:1-10.

127. Contempt of Court and of the Law.

30 But the soul that doeth aught presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people. 31 Because he hath despised the word of the Lord, and hath broken his commandment, that soul shall utterly be cut off; his iniquity shall be upon him.—Num. 15:30, 31.

1 Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. 2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.—Rom. 13:1, 2.

128. Oppression of One Class of the People by Another.

21 Thou shalt neither vex a stranger, nor oppress him: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. 22 Ye shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child. 23 If thou afflict them in any wise, and they cry at all unto me, I will surely hear their cry; 24 And my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.—Ex. 22:21-24.

18 Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way: and all the people shall say, Amen. 19 Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow: and all the people shall say, Amen.—Deut. 27:18, 19.

14 Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the Lord.—Lev. 19:14.

33 And if a stranger sojourn with thee in your land, ye shall not vex him.—Lev. 19:33.

129. Mutual Kindness the Christian Law.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—Jas. 1:27.

CRIMES AGAINST PUBLIC OR PRIVATE MORALS

130. Adultery: The Penalty, Death.

20 Moreover thou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.—Lev. 18:20.

22 If a man be found lying with a woman married to a husband, then they shall both of them die, both the man that lay with the woman, and the woman: so shalt thou put away evil from Israel.—Deut. 22:22.

23 If a damsel that is a virgin be betrothed unto a husband, and a man find her in the city, and lie with her; 24 Then ye shall bring them both out unto the gate of that city, and ye shall stone them with stones that they die; the damsel, because she cried not, being in the city; and the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife: so thou shalt put away evil from among you.—Deut. 22:23, 24.

[See also Num. 5:11-31, and Sec. 47.]

131. Christ's Law of Purity.

27 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.—Mat. 5:27, 28.

132. Prostitution.

29 Do not prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness.—Lev. 19:29.

9 And the daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: she shall be burnt with fire.—Lev. 21:9.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid. 16 What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh. 17 But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. 18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body. —I Co. 6:15-18.

133. Bestiality.

19 Also thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness.—Lev. 18:19.

18 And if a man shall lie with a woman having her sickness, and shall uncover her nakedness; he hath discovered her fountain, and she hath uncovered the fountain of her blood: and both of them shall be cut off from among their people.—Lev. 20:18.

22 Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination. 23 Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion.—Lev. 18:22, 23.

13 If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.—Lev. 20:13.

15 And if a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death; and ye shall slay the beast. 16 And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.—Lev. 20:15, 16.

24 Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves: 25 Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen. 26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: 27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.—Rom. 1:24-27.

CRIMES AGAINST THE PERSON

134. Murder and Its Penalty.

5 And surely your blood of your lives will I require: at the hand of every beast will I require it, and at the hand of man; at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man. 6 Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man.—Gen. 9:5, 6.

12 He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death.—Ex. 21:12.

16 And if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. 17 And if he smite him with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. 18 Or if he smite him with a hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.—Num. 35:16-18.

135. Penalty of Murder to Be Executed by "The Revenger of Blood."

19 The revenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him. 20 But if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him by laying of wait, that he die; 21 Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer: the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.—Num. 35:19-21.

136. No Commutation or Right of Sanctuary for Deliberate Murder.

31 Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death.—Num. 35:31.

14 But if a man come presumptuously upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile; thou shalt take him from mine altar, that he may die.—Ex. 21:14.

11 But if any man hate his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities: 12 Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die. 13 Thine eye shall not pity him, but thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Israel, that it may go well with thee.—Deut. 19:11-13.

137. The Killing of a Slave.

20 And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely punished. 21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished: for he is his money.—Ex. 21:20, 21.

138. Christ's Law Concerning the Murderous Spirit.

21 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: 22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.—Mat. 5:21, 22.

139. Manslaughter—The Cities of Refuge.

13 And if a man lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee.—Ex. 21:13.

6 And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Levites there shall be six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the manslayer, that he may flee thither: and to them ye shall add forty and two cities.—Num. 35:6.

2 Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it. 3 Thou shalt prepare thee a way, and divide the coasts of thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherit, into three parts, that every slayer may flee thither. . . .

8 And if the Lord thy God enlarge thy coast, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers; 9 If thou shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, and to walk ever in his ways; then shalt thou add three cities more for thee, beside these three; 10 That innocent blood be not shed in thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and so blood be upon thee.—Deut. 19:2, 3, 8-10.

4 And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he may live: Whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past; 5 As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the axe to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live: 6 Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and slay him; whereas he was not worthy of death, inasmuch as he hated him not in time past.—Deut. 19:4-6.

22 But if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without laying of wait, 23 Or with any stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing him not, and cast it upon him, that he die, and was not his enemy, neither sought his harm: 24 Then the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these judgments: 25 And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which was anointed with the holy oil.—Num. 35:22-25.

1 The Lord also spake unto Joshua, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses: 3 That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood. 4 And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them. 5 And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime. 6 And he shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days:

then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.—Josh. 20:1-6.

140. Assault and Battery.

18 And if men strive together, and one smite another with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed: 19 If he rise again, and walk abroad upon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit: only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.—Ex. 21:18, 19.

141. Assault and Battery Upon a Parent.

15 And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death.—Ex. 21:15.

142. Christ's Law of Non-Resistance.

38 Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: 39 But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.—Mat. 5:38, 39.

143. Mayhem.

19 And if a man cause a blemish in his neighbour; as he hath done, so shall it be done to him; 20 Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as he hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again.—Lev. 24:19, 20.

144. Mayhem Upon a Slave.

26 And if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake. 27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.—Ex. 21:26, 27.

145. Injury to a Pregnant Woman.

22 If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine. 23 And if any mischief follow, then thou shalt give life for life, 24 Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, 25 Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.—Ex. 21:22-25.

146. Criminal Carelessness.

28 If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die: then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit. 29 But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death. 30 If there be laid on him a sum of money, then he shall give for the ransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him. 31 Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him. 32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maidservant; he shall give unto their master thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned. 33 And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein; 34 The owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his. 35 And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it; and the dead ox also they shall divide. 36 Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in; he shall surely pay ox for ox; and the dead shall be his own.—Ex. 21:28-36.

8 When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence.—Deut. 22:8.

147. Rape: The Penalty, Death.

25 But if a man find a betrothed damsel in the field, and the man force her, and lie with her; then the man only that lay with her shall die: 26 But unto the damsel thou shalt do nothing; there is in the damsel no sin worthy of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour, and slayeth him, even so is this matter: 27 For he found her in the field, and the betrothed damsel cried, and there was none to save her.—Deut. 22:25-27.

148. Seduction: Marriage Required, and Payment of a Fine.

16 And if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her to be his wife. 17 If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay money according to the dowry of virgins.—Ex. 22: 16, 17.

28 If a man find a damsel that is a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found; 29 Then the man that lay with her shall give unto the damsel's father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife; because he hath humbled her, he may not put her away all his days.—Deut. 22: 28, 29.

149. Christ's Law of Purity in Thought.

27 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.—Mat. 5:27, 28.

150. Kidnapping.

7 If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of the children of Israel, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him; then that thief shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you.—Deut. 24: 7.

CRIMES AGAINST PROPERTY RIGHTS

151. Theft.

1 If a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep. 2 If a thief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him. 3 If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution: if he have nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft. 4 If the theft be certainly found in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall restore double. —Ex. 22:1-4.

2 If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the Lord, and lie unto his neighbour in that which was delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour; 3 Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein: 4 Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found, 5 Or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass offering. 6 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the Lord, a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: 7 And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.—Lev. 6:2-7.

152. The Apostolic Rule: Industry a Preventive of a Thievish Disposition.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.—Eph. 4:28.

153. Abuse of Wayside Privileges.

24 When thou comest into thy neighbour's vineyard, then thou mayest eat grapes thy fill at thine own pleasure; but thou shalt not put any in thy vessel. 25 When thou comest into the standing corn of thy neighbour, then thou mayest pluck the ears with thine hand; but thou shalt not move a sickle unto thy neighbour's standing corn.—Deut. 23:24, 25.

1 And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.—Lu. 6:1.

154. Unlawful Appropriation of Property.

5 If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.—Ex. 22:5.

7 If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, let him pay double. 8 If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the judges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods. 9 For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his, the cause of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour. 10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it: 11 Then shall an oath of the Lord be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good. 12 And if it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof. 13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn.—Ex. 22:7-13.

155. Falsification of Boundaries.

14 Thou shalt not remove thy neighbour's landmark, which they of old time have set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it.—Deut. 19:14.

17 Cursed be he that removeth his neighbour's landmark: and all the people shall say, Amen.—Deut. 27:17.

156. False Weights and Measures.

13 Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small: 14 Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small: 15 But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. 16 For all that do such things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the Lord thy God.—Deut. 25:13-16.

35 Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in meteyard, in weight, or in measure. 36 Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have: I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt.—Lev. 19: 35, 36.

157. The Apostolic Command of Honesty in All Things.

17 Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.—Rom. 12:17.

5. CEREMONIAL LAWS

SACRED OBJECTS

158. The Ark of the Covenant.

10 And they shall make an ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof. 11 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a crown of gold round about. 12 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put them in the four corners thereof; and two rings shall be in the one side of it, and two rings in the other side of it. 13 And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold. 14 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, that the ark may be borne with them. 15 The staves shall be in the rings of the ark: they shall not be taken from it. 16 And thou shalt put into the ark the testimony which I shall give thee. 17 And thou shalt make a mercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof. 18 And thou shalt make two cherubim of gold, of beaten work shalt thou make them, in the two ends of the mercy seat. 19 And make one cherub on the one end, and the other cherub on the other end: even of the mercy seat shall ye make the cherubim on the two ends thereof. 20 And the cherubim shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercy seat with their wings, and their faces shall look one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the cherubim be. 21 And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark; and in the ark thou shalt put the testimony that I shall give thee. 22 And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel.—Ex. 25:10-22.

159. The Tent of Meeting.

7 And Moses took the tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, and called it the Tabernacle of the congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which sought the Lord went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the camp. 8 And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man at his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the tabernacle. 9 And it came to pass, as Moses entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses. 10 And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man in his tent door. 11 And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp; but his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.—Ex. 33:7-11.

160. The Tabernacle and Its Furniture.

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 2 Speak unto the children of Israel, that they bring me an offering: of every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take my offering. 3 And this is the offering which ye shall take of them; gold, and silver, and brass, 4 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, 5 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood, 6 Oil for the light, spices for anointing oil, and for sweet incense, 7 Onyx stones, and stones to be set in the ephod, and in the breastplate. 8 And let them make me a sanctuary; that I may dwell among them. 9 According to all that I shew thee, after the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make it.—Ex. 25:1-9. (See Exodus, chs. 25, 26, 27.)

161. The Heavenly Work of Christ Under the Figure of the Tabernacle.

1 Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary. 2 For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary. 3 And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the holiest of all; 4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant; 5 And over it the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercy seat; of which we cannot now speak particularly. 6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God. 7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people. . . . 11 But Christ being come a high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; 12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having ob- tained eternal redemption for us. . . . 24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us.—Heb. 9:1-7, 11, 12, 24.

162. Altars to the Lord.

24 An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep and thine oxen: in all places where I record my name I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee. 25 And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone: for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it. 26 Neither shalt thou go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.—Ex. 20:24-26.

163. One Sanctuary to Be Established.

10 But when ye go over Jordan, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety; 11 Then there shall be a place which the Lord your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye vow unto the Lord: 12 And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and the Levite that is within your gates; forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you. 13 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest: 14 But in the place which the Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.—Deut. 12:10-14.

164. Christian Worship Must Be in the Spirit and Is Confined to No Place or Places.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. 22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews. 23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.—Jno. 4:21-23.

SACRED PERSONS

165. The Tribe of Levi.

5 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 6 Bring the tribe of Levi near, and present them before Aaron the priest, that they may minister unto him. 7 And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle. 8 And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Israel, to do the service of the tabernacle. 9 And thou shalt give the Levites unto Aaron and to his sons: they are wholly given unto him out of the children of Israel.—Num. 3:5-9.

166. Aaron and His Descendants Priests.

10 And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons, and they shall wait on their priest's office: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.—Num. 3:10.

[For the consecration of Aaron and his sons, see Leviticus, chs. 8 to 10, and Numbers, ch. 18.]

167. Rules Concerning Those Who Serve as Priests.

16 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 17 Speak unto Aaron, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, let him not approach to offer the bread of his God.—Lev. 21:16, 17.

8 And the Lord spake unto Aaron, saying, 9 Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations.—Lev. 10:8, 9.

168. The High Priest's Duty of Making Atonement, Once a Year.

32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments: 33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar: and he shall make an atonement for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation. 34 And this shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Israel for all their sins once a year. And he did as the Lord commanded Moses.—Lev. 16:32-34.

169. Rules Concerning the High Priest.

10 And he that is the high priest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil was poured, and that is consecrated to put on the garments, shall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes; 11 Neither shall he go in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother; 12 Neither shall he go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for the crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the Lord. 13 And he shall take a wife in her virginity. 14 A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, or a harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife. 15 Neither shall he profane his seed among his people: for I the Lord do sanctify him.—Lev. 21:10-15.

170. The Priesthood of Christian Believers.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious, 5 Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. 6 Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded. 7 Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner. 8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed. 9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light.—I Pe. 2:4-9.

171. The High Priesthood and Offering of Christ.

17 Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.—Heb. 2:17.

1 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus.—Heb. 3:1.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.—Heb. 4:14.

24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us: 25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others; 26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment: 28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.—Heb. 9:24-28.

SACRED DUES

172. The Firstborn.

19 All that openeth the matrix is mine; and every firstling among thy cattle, whether ox or sheep, that is male. 20 But the firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb: and if thou redeem him not, then shalt thou break his neck. All the firstborn of thy sons thou shalt redeem. And none shall appear before me empty. —Ex. 34:19, 20.

15 Every thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem. 16 And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to thine estimation, for the money of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs. 17 But the firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: thou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the Lord. 18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the wave breast and as the right shoulder are thine. —Num. 18:15-18.

173. Christ the Firstborn of Creation.

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature.—Col. 1: 15.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son? 6 And again, when he bringeth in the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him. —Heb 1: 5, 6.

174. The Firstfruits.

26 The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring unto the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.—Ex. 34:26.

3 And this shall be the priest's due from the people, from them that offer a sacrifice, whether it be ox or sheep; and they shall give unto the priest the shoulder, and the two cheeks, and the maw. 4 The firstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him.—Deut. 18:3, 4.

175. Christ as the Firstfruits of Those Who Shall Rise.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept.—I Co. 15:20.

176. The Tithe.

30 And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord. 31 And if a man will at all redeem aught of his tithes, he shall add thereto the fifth part thereof. 32 And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord. 33 He shall not search whether it be good or bad, neither shall he change it: and if he change it at all, then both it and the change thereof shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.—Lev. 27:30-33.

22 Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year. 23 And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there, the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the firstlings of thy herds and of thy flocks; that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God always. 24 And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or if the place be too far from thee, which the Lord thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the Lord thy God hath blessed thee: 25 Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose: 26 And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul desireth: and thou shalt eat there before the Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice, thou, and thine household, 27 And the Levite that is within thy gates; thou shalt not forsake him: for he hath no part nor inheritance with thee. 28 At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates: 29 And the Levite, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.—Deut. 14:22-29.

177. The Christian Law of Living and Giving.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.—Mat. 23:23.

6 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. 7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. 8 And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work.—II Co. 9:6-8.

178. The Poll Tax.

11 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 12 When thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man a ransom for his soul unto the Lord, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them. 13 This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary: (a shekel is twenty gerahs:) a half shekel shall be the offering of the Lord. 14 Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the Lord. 15 The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less, than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls. 16 And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Israel, and shalt appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Israel before the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls.—Ex. 30:11-16.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute? 25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? 26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free. 27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.—Mat. 17:24-27.

179. Free-Will Offerings.

17 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 18 Speak unto Aaron, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Israel, and say unto them, Whatsoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers in Israel, that will offer his oblation for all his vows, and for all his freewill offerings, which they will offer unto the Lord for a burnt offering; 19 Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats. 20 But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.—Lev. 22:17-20.

10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.—Deut. 16:10.

16 Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the Lord empty: 17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee.—Deut. 16:16, 17.

180. The Christian Offering of Self.

1 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. 2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.—Rom. 12:1, 2.

181. Vows and Their Payment.

21 When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it: for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee. 22 But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee. 23 That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a free-will offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the Lord thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth.—Deut. 23:21-23.

[See also Leviticus, ch. 27.]

182. Christian Service Accepted Like Sacrifice.

16 But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.—Heb. 13:16.

SACRED OFFERINGS

183. The Daily Sacrifice.

38 Now this is that which thou shalt offer upon the altar; two lambs of the first year day by day continually. 39 The one lamb thou shalt offer in the morning; and the other lamb thou shalt offer at even: 40 And with the one lamb a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of a hin of beaten oil; and the fourth part of a hin of wine for a drink offering. 41 And the other lamb thou shalt offer at even, and shalt do thereto according to the meat offering of the morning, and according to the drink offering thereof, for a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the Lord. 42 This shall be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord, where I will meet you, to speak there unto thee.—Ex. 29:38-42.

184. Our Lord's Sacrifice.

10 By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. 11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: 12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God; 13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.—Heb. 10:10-13.

26 For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; 27 Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself. 28 For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.—Heb. 7:26-28.

185. The Peace Offering.

1 And if his oblation be a sacrifice of peace offering, if he offer it of the herd, whether it be a male or female, he shall offer it without blemish before the Lord. 2 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's sons the priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about. 3 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the Lord; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards. 4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away. 5 And Aaron's sons shall burn it on the altar upon the burnt sacrifice, which is upon the wood that is on the fire: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord. 6 And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering unto the Lord be of the flock, male or female, he shall offer it without blemish.—Lev. 3:1-6.

13 But now, in Christ Jesus, ye who sometime were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. 14 For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us.—Eph. 2:13, 14.

186. The Burnt Offering.

2 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If any man of you bring an offering unto the Lord, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock. 3 If his offering be a burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male without blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord. 4 And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him. 5 And he shall kill the bullock before the Lord: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall bring the blood, and sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.—Lev. 1:2-5.

10 And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a male without blemish.—Lev. 1:10.

14 And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the Lord be of fowls, then he shall bring his offering of turtledoves, or of young pigeons.—Lev. 1:14.

187. The Meat Offering or Meal Offering.

1 And when any will offer a meat offering unto the Lord, his offering shall be of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put frankincense thereon. 2 And he shall bring it to Aaron's sons the priests: and he shall take thereout his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn the memorial of it upon the altar, to be an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord: 3 And the remnant of the meat offering shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire. 4 And if thou bring an oblation of a meat offering baken in the oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers anointed with oil. 5 And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in a pan, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil. 6 Thou shalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: it is a meat offering. 7 And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in the fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil. 8 And thou shalt bring the meat offering that is made of these things unto the Lord: and when it is presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar. 9 And the priest shall take from the meat offering a memorial thereof, and shall burn it upon the altar: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord. 10 And that which is left of the meat offering shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire. 11 No meat offering, which ye shall bring unto the Lord, shall be made with leaven: for ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the Lord made by fire. 12 As for the oblation of the firstfruits, ye shall offer them unto the Lord: but they shall not be burnt on the altar for a sweet savour. 13 And every oblation of thy meat offering shalt thou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering: with all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt. 14 And if thou offer a meat offering of thy firstfruits unto the Lord, thou shalt offer for the meat offering of thy firstfruits green ears of corn dried by the fire, even corn beaten out of full ears. 15 And thou shalt put oil upon it, and lay frankincense thereon: it is a meat offering. 16 And the priest shall burn the memorial of it, part of the beaten corn thereof, and part of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof: it is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.—Lev. 2:1-16.

188. The Trespass Offering.

14 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 15 If a soul commit a trespass, and sin through ignorance, in the holy things of the Lord; then he shall bring for his trespass unto the Lord a ram without blemish out of the flocks, with thy estimation by shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering: 16 And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him. 17 And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the Lord; though he wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity. 18 And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him. 19 It is a trespass offering: he hath certainly trespassed against the Lord.—Lev. 5:14-19.

1 Likewise this is the law of the trespass offering: it is most holy. 2 In the place where they kill the burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar. 3 And he shall offer of it all the fat thereof; the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, 4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away: 5 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an offering made by fire unto the Lord: it is a trespass offering. 6 Every male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: it is most holy. 7 As the sin offering is, so is the trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it.—Lev. 7:1-7.

1 And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall bear his iniquity. 2 Or if a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcass of an unclean beast, or a carcass of unclean cattle, or the carcass of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be unclean, and guilty. 3 Or if he touch the uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty. 4 Or if a soul swear, pronouncing with his lips to do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these. 5 And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall confess that he hath sinned in that thing: 6 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the Lord for his sin which he hath sinned, a female from the flock, a lamb, or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sin. 7 And if he be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the Lord; one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering. 8 And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering first, and wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder: 9 And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar: it is a sin offering. 10 And he shall offer the second for a burnt offering, according to the manner: and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he hath sinned, and it shall be forgiven him. 11 But if he be not able to bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon: for it is a sin offering. 12 Then shall he bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take his handful of it, even a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the Lord: it is a sin offering. 13 And the priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and the remnant shall be the priest's, as a meat offering.—Lev. 5:1-13.

189. The Sin Offering.

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 2 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a soul shall sin through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and shall do against any of them: 3 If the priest that is anointed do sin according to the sin of the people; then let him bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a young bullock without blemish unto the Lord for a sin offering. 4 And he shall bring the bullock unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the Lord. 5 And the priest that is anointed shall take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation: 6 And the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the vail of the sanctuary. 7 And the priest shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar of sweet incense before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation; and shall pour all the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. 8 And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, 9 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away, 10 As it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering. 11 And the skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung, 12 Even the whole bullock shall he carry forth without the camp unto a clean place, where the ashes are poured out, and burn him on the wood with fire: where the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.—Lev. 4:1-12.

[See also the entire chapter, Leviticus 4.]

190. Christ Likened to the Sin Offering.

10 We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. 11 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp. 12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.—Heb. 13:10-12.

SACRED TIMES

191. The Sabbath.

3 Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, a holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings.—Lev. 23:3.

12 Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. 13 Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work: 14 But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou. 15 And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day.—Deut. 5:12-15.

192. Christ is Lord of the Sabbath.

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath: 28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.—Mark 2: 27, 28.

193. The Rest of the Land in the Seventh Year.

10 And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof: 11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard.—Ex. 23:10, 11.

1 At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. 2 And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth aught unto his neighbour shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother; because it is called the Lord's release. 3 Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release.—Deut. 15:1-3.

194. The Fiftieth Year, the Year of Jubilee.

8 And thou shalt number seven sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years. 9 Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubilee to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land. 10 And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubilee unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family. 11 A jubilee shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed. 12 For it is the jubilee; it shall be holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field. 13 In the year of this jubilee ye shall return every man unto his possession. 14 And if thou sell aught unto thy neighbour, or buyest aught of thy neighbour's hand, ye shall not oppress one another: 15 According to the number of years after the jubilee thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee. 16 According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.—Lev. 25: 8-16.

195. The Passover.

1 Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God: for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. 2 Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the passover unto the Lord thy God, of the flock and the herd, in the place which the Lord shall choose to place his name there. 3 Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; for thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt in haste: that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of thy life. 4 And there shall be no leavened bread seen with thee in all thy coast seven days; neither shall there any thing of the flesh, which thou sacrificedst the first day at even, remain all night until the morning. 5 Thou mayest not sacrifice the passover within any of thy gates, which the Lord thy God giveth thee: 6 But at the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name in, there thou shalt sacrifice the passover at even, at the going down of the sun, at the season that thou camest forth out of Egypt. 7 And thou shalt roast and eat it in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose: and thou shalt turn in the morning, and go unto thy tents. 8 Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work therein.—Deut. 16: 1-8.

5 In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's passover.—Lev. 23:5.

196. The Last Passover and First Supper of Our Lord.

26 And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. 27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; 28 For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. —Mat. 26:26-28.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.—Jno. 6:51.

197. Christ Our Passover.

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: 8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.—I Co. 5:7, 8.

198. The Feast of Unleavened Bread.

18 The feast of unleavened bread shalt thou keep. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Abib: for in the month Abib thou camest out from Egypt. —Ex. 34:18.

6 And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the Lord: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread. 7 In the first day ye shall have a holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein. 8 But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days: in the seventh day is a holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.—Lev. 23:6-8.

199. Purge Out the Old Leaven.

6 Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? 7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: 8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.—1 Co. 5:6-8.

200. The Feast of Firstfruits.

9 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 10 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a sheaf of the firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest: 11 And he shall wave the sheaf before the Lord, to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it. 12 And ye shall offer that day when ye wave the sheaf a he lamb without blemish of the first year for a burnt offering unto the Lord. 13 And the meat offering thereof shall be two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the Lord for a sweet savour: and the drink offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth part of a hin. 14 And ye shall eat neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, until the selfsame day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.—Lev. 23:9-14.

201. The Feast of Weeks, or Pentecost.

9 Seven weeks shalt thou number unto thee: begin to number the seven weeks from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn. 10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee: 11 And thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the Lord thy God hath chosen to place his name there.—Deut. 16:9-11.

15 And ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete: 16 Even unto the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number fifty days; and ye shall offer a new meat offering unto the Lord. 17 Ye shall bring out of your habitations two wave loaves of two tenth deals: they shall be of fine flour; they shall be baken with leaven; they are the firstfruits unto the Lord. 18 And ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the Lord, with their meat offering, and their drink offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savour unto the Lord. 19 Then ye shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin offering, and two lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace offerings. 20 And the priest shall wave them with the bread of the firstfruits for a wave offering before the Lord, with the two lambs: they shall be holy to the Lord for the priest. 21 And ye shall proclaim on the selfsame day, that it may be a holy convocation unto you: ye shall do no servile work therein: it shall be a statute for ever in all your dwellings throughout your generations.—Lev. 23:15-21.

202. The Feast of Trumpets.

23 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 24 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation. 25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord.—Lev. 23: 23-25.

203. The Day of Atonement.

26 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 27 Also on the tenth day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement: it shall be a holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord. 28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God. 29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people. 30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people. 31 Ye shall do no manner of work: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings. 32 It shall be unto you a sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your sabbath.—Lev. 23:26-32.

29 And this shall be a statute for ever unto you: that in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall afflict your souls, and do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you: 30 For on that day shall the priest make an atonement for you, to cleanse you, that ye may be clean from all your sins before the Lord. 31 It shall be a sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, by a statute for ever. 32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments: 33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar: and he shall make an atonement for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation. 34 And this shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Israel for all their sins once a year. And he did as the Lord commanded Moses.—Lev. 16:29-34.

204. Atonement Not Completed Under the Law.

1 For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices, which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect. 2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins. 3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.—Heb. 10:1-3.

205. The Feast of Tabernacles or Booths.

13 Thou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine: 14 And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates. 15 Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose: because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice. 16 Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the Lord empty: 17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee.—Deut. 16:13-17.

33 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 34 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, The fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the Lord. 35 On the first day shall be a holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein. 36 Seven days ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord; on the eighth day shall be a holy convocation unto you, and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord: it is a solemn assembly; and ye shall do no servile work therein. 37 These are the feasts of the Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, a burnt offering, and a meat offering, a sacrifice, and drink offering, every thing upon his day: 38 Beside the sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the Lord. 39 Also in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days: on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath. 40 And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days. 41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the Lord seven days in the year: it shall be a statute for ever in your generations; ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month. 42 Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; all that are Israelites born shall dwell in booths: 43 That your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.—Lev. 23:33-43.

CEREMONIAL CLEANNESS AND UNCLEANNESS

206. Clean and Unclean Food.

3 Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing. 4 These are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat, 5 The hart, and the roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the pygarg, and the wild ox, and the chamois. 6 And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat. 7 Nevertheless these ye shall not eat, of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you. 8 And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcass. 9 These ye shall eat, of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat: 10 And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you. 11 Of all clean birds ye shall eat. 12 But these are they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray, 13 And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind, 14 And every raven after his kind, 15 And the owl, and the nighthawk, and the cuckoo, and the hawk after his kind, 16 The little owl, and the great owl, and the swan, 17 And the pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant, 18 And the stork, and the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat. 19 And every creeping thing that flieth is unclean unto you: they shall not be eaten. 20 But of all clean fowls ye may eat. 21 Ye shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art a holy people unto the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.—Deut. 14:3-21.

31 And ye shall be holy men unto me: neither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.—Ex. 22:31.

207. Fat and Blood Not to Be Eaten.

22 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 23 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat. 24 And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it. 25 For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which men offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, even the soul that eateth it shall be cut off from his people. 26 Moreover ye shall eat no manner of blood, whether it be of fowl or of beast, in any of your dwellings. 27 Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.—Lev. 7:22-27.

208. Fruit of Young Trees Not to Be Eaten.

23 And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted all manner of trees for food, then ye shall count the fruit thereof as uncircumcised: three years shall it be as uncircumcised unto you: it shall not be eaten of. 24 But in the fourth year all the fruit thereof shall be holy to praise the Lord withal. 25 And in the fifth year shall ye eat of the fruit thereof, that it may yield unto you the increase thereof: I am the Lord your God. —Lev. 19:23-25.

209. Uncleanness from Loathsome Diseases.

[See Leviticus, chapters 13 to 15.]

210. Uncleanness from Childbirth.

[See Leviticus, chapter 12.]

211. Uncleanness from Contact with Dead or Unclean Things.

2 Or if a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcass of an unclean beast, or a carcass of unclean cattle, or the carcass of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be unclean, and guilty.—Lev. 5:2.

11 He that toucheth the dead body of any man shall be unclean seven days. 12 He shall purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean. 13 Whosoever toucheth the dead body of any man that is dead, and purifieth not himself, defileth the tabernacle of the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from Israel: because the water of separation was not sprinkled upon him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him. 14 This is the law, when a man dieth in a tent: all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, shall be unclean seven days. 15 And every open vessel, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean. 16 And whosoever toucheth one that is slain with a sword in the open fields, or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean seven days. 17 And for an unclean person they shall take of the ashes of the burnt heifer of purification for sin, and running water shall be put thereto in a vessel: 18 And a clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slain, or one dead, or a grave: 19 And the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day, and on the seventh day: and on the seventh day he shall purify himself, and wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and shall be clean at even. 20 But the man that shall be unclean, and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he hath defiled the sanctuary of the Lord: the water of separation hath not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean. 21 And it shall be a perpetual statute unto them, that he that sprinkleth the water of separation shall wash his clothes; and he that toucheth the water of separation shall be unclean until even. 22 And whatsoever the unclean person toucheth shall be unclean; and the soul that toucheth it shall be unclean until even.—Num. 19:11-22.

212. Christ's Teaching About Cleanness and Uncleanness.

14 And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: 15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. 16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. 17 And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable. 18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? 20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: 23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.—Mark 7:14-23.

213. Christian Charity in Matters of Difference.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.—Rom. 14:14, 15.

[See also First Corinthians, chapter 8.]

214. THE FULFILLING OF THE LAW

And if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Rom. 13:9, 10.

FINIS K. FARR

FOREWORD

IT WAS the great duty of the prophets in Israel to declare God's good will toward the penitent sinner and His judgment upon the unrepentant. To enforce this preaching, the prophets were continually uttering predictions of the future. These predictions are usually referred to as "prophecies," although, strictly speaking, a "prophecy" is any inspired utterance of a prophet, whether or not it contains a prediction. The prophets' predictions were of events both near and distant in time and in place; concerning individuals, families, or whole nations.

In the following pages, there are gathered together those predictions of which the fulfillment, or some part of it, is to be found recorded in the Old Testament. Following the prophecy, the passage recording the fulfillment is given, the latter being printed in italics. In the case of certain great subjects, such as the Call of Abraham,—where the predictions appear to have been given directly to Abraham himself,—the Captivity and the Return of Israel, a selection only of the prophets' predictions has been given, for the reason that otherwise it would be necessary to reprint almost entire books of Scripture here; which would defeat the purpose of this table of prophecies, to show by a convenient method how much use is made of prediction by the prophets, and how often they were enabled by the Spirit of God to declare the future in advance, whether as means of establishing their own authority and commanding attention and belief, as a warning to the wicked, or as a source of comfort to the people of God.

Prophecies concerning the Christ and His Kingdom are to be found, in this edition of the Scriptures, arranged under a separate heading: PROPHECIES CONCERNING JESUS AND THEIR FULFILLMENTS.

GENERAL PROPHECIES AND THEIR FULFILLMENTS

1. Abraham to Be a Father of Many Nations, Which Shall Possess a Great Territory.

1 Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: 2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing: 3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.—Gen. 12:1-3.

23 So Joshua took the whole land, according to all that the Lord said unto Moses; and Joshua gave it for an inheritance unto Israel according to their divisions by their tribes. And the land rested from war.—Josh. 11:23.

14 And the Lord said unto Abram, after that Lot was separated from him, Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward: 15 For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever. 16 And I will make thy seed as the dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered.—Gen. 13:14-16.

20 Judah and Israel* were many, as the sand which is *by the sea in multitude, eating and drinking, and making merry.—I Ki. 4:20.

5 And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be. —Gen. 15:5.

10 The Lord your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye* are *this day as the stars of heaven for multitude.—Deut. 1: 10.

18 In that same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates.—Gen. 15:18.

1 And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. 2 And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly. 3 And Abram fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying, 4 As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations. 5 Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee. 6 And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. 7 And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee. 8 And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God.—Gen. 17:1-8.

1 Then again Abraham took a wife, and her name* was Keturah. 2 And she bare him Zimran, and Jokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Ishbak, and Shuah. 3 And Jokshan begat Sheba, and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were Asshurim, and Letushim, and Leummim. 4 And the sons of Midian; Ephah, and Epher, and Hanoch, and Abidah, and Eldaah. All these were *the children of Keturah.—Gen. 25:1-4.

15 And the angel of the Lord called unto Abraham out of heaven the second time, 16 And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son, 17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies; 18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.—Gen. 22: 15-18.

3 David smote also Hadadezer, the son of Rehob, king of Zobah, as he went to recover his border at the river Euphrates. 5 And when the Syrians of Damascus came to succour Hadadezer king of Zobah, David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.—II Sa. 8:3, 5.

21 And Solomon reigned over all kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Philistines, and unto the border of Egypt: they brought presents, and served Solomon all the days of his life.—I Ki. 4:21.

(a) The Same Promise Confirmed to Isaac.

2 And the Lord appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt: dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of. 3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father; 4 And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed. —Gen. 26:2-4.

23 And he went up from thence to Beersheba. 24 And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.—Gen. 26:23, 24.

(b) The Promise Confirmed to Jacob.

10 And God said unto him, Thy name is Jacob: thy name shall not be called any more Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name; and he called his name Israel. 11 And God said unto him, I am God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins; 12 And the land which I gave Abraham and Isaac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land.—Gen. 35:10-12.

2. The Descendants of Ishmael to Be a Numerous People.

8 And he said, Hagar, Sarai's maid, whence camest thou? and whither wilt thou go? And she said, I flee from the face of my mistress Sarai. 9 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Return to thy mistress, and submit thyself under her hands. 10 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, I will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be numbered for multitude. 11 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name Ishmael; because the Lord hath heard thy affliction.—Gen. 16:8-11.

12 Now these are the generations of Ishmael, Abraham's son, whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's handmaid, bare unto Abraham: 13 And these are the names of the sons of Ishmael, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Ishmael, Nebajoth; and Kedar, and Adbeel, and Mibsam, 14 And Mishma, and Dumah, and Massa, 15 Hadar, and Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah: 16 These are the sons of Ishmael, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their castles; twelve princes according to their nations. 17 And these are the years of the life of Ishmael, a hundred and thirty and seven years: and he gave up the ghost and died, and was gathered unto his people. 18 And they dwelt from Havilah unto Shur, that is before Egypt, as thou goest toward Assyria: and he died in the presence of all his brethren.—Gen. 25:12-18.

3. A Son to Be Born to Abraham and Sarah.

2 And Abram said, Lord God, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Eliezer of Damascus? 3 And Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, one born in my house is mine heir. 4 And, behold, the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.—Gen. 15:2-4.

15 And God said unto Abraham, As for Sarai thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sarai, but Sarah shall her name be. 16 And I will bless her, and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; kings of people shall be of her. . . . 19 And God said, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him. . . . 21 But my covenant will I establish with Isaac, which Sarah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.—Gen. 17:15, 16, 19, 21.

10 And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life; and, lo, Sarah thy wife shall have a son. And Sarah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him.—Gen. 18:10.

1 And the Lord visited Sarah as he had said, and the Lord did unto Sarah as he had spoken. 2 For Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him. 3 And Abraham called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Sarah bare to him, Isaac.—Gen. 21:1-3.

4. The Descendants of Esau to Serve the Descendants of Jacob.

23 And the Lord said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.—Gen. 25:23.

32 And Esau said, Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me? 33 And Jacob said, Swear to me this day; and he sware unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob. —Gen. 25:32, 33.

38 And Esau said unto his father, Hast thou but one blessing, my father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And Esau lifted up his voice, and wept. 39 And Isaac his father answered and said unto him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above; 40 And by thy sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother: and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.—Gen. 27:38-40.

12 Moreover, Abishai the son of Zeruiah slew of the Edomites in the valley of salt eighteen thousand. 13 And he put garrisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's servants. Thus the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went.—I Ch. 18:12, 13.

5. Jacob's Descendants to Become a Great Nation in Egypt.

2 And God spake unto Israel in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here am I. 3 And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation. 4 I will go down with thee into Egypt; and I will also surely bring thee up again: and Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.—Gen. 46:2-4.

6 And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation. 7 And the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them.—Ex. 1:6, 7.

6. The Exodus Foretold to Abraham.

12 And when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and, lo, a horror of great darkness fell upon him. 13 And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years; 14 And also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance.—Gen. 15:12-14.

35 And the children of Israel did according to the word of Moses; and they borrowed of the Egyptians jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: 36 And the Lord gave the people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they lent unto them such things as they required: and they spoiled the Egyptians. . . . 40 Now the sojourning of the children of Israel, who dwelt in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years. 41 And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt.—Ex. 12: 35, 36, 40, 41.

7. Joseph to Have Authority Over His Brothers.

5 And Joseph dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more. 6 And he said unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed: 7 For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf. 8 And his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words. 9 And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me.—Gen. 37:5-9.

6 And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.—Gen. 42:6.

26 And when Joseph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and bowed themselves to him to the earth.—Gen. 43:26.

15 And when Joseph's brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Joseph will peradventure hate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we did unto him. . . . 18 And his brethren also went and fell down before his face; and they said, Behold, we be thy servants. 19 And Joseph said unto them, Fear not: for am I in the place of God? 20 But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive.—Gen. 50:15, 18-20.

8. Israel to Be Delivered from Bondage in Egypt.

16 Go, and gather the elders of Israel together, and say unto them, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, appeared unto me, saying, I have surely visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Egypt: 17 And I have said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt unto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, unto a land flowing with milk and honey. . . . 19 And I am sure that the king of Egypt will not let you go, no, not by a mighty hand. 20 And I will stretch out my hand, and smite Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and after that he will let you go. 21 And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty.—Ex. 3:16, 17, 19-21.

1 And the Lord said unto Moses, Yet will I bring one plague more upon Pharaoh, and upon Egypt; afterwards he will let you go hence: when he shall let you go, he shall surely thrust you out hence alto- gether. 2 Speak now in the ears of the people, and let every man borrow of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold. —Ex. 11:1, 2.

6 Wherefore say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will redeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments: 7 And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians.—Ex. 6:6, 7.

13 And Moses said unto the people, Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you to day: for the Egyptians whom ye have seen to day, ye shall see them again no more for ever. 14 The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. . . . 30 Thus the Lord saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore. 31 And Israel saw that great work which the Lord did upon the Egyptians: and the people feared the Lord, and believed the Lord, and his servant Moses.—Ex. 14:13, 14, 30, 31.

9. Israel's Greatness as Predicted by Balaam.

7 And he took up his parable, and said, Balak the king of Moab hath brought me from Aram, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jacob, and come, defy Israel. 8 How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I defy, whom the Lord hath not defied? 9 For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I behold him: lo, the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations. 10 Who can count the dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!—Num. 23:7-10.

18 And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balak, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zippor: 19 God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? 20 Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it. 21 He hath not beheld iniquity in Jacob, neither hath he seen perverseness in Israel: the Lord his God is with him, and the shout of a king is among them. 22 God brought them out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of a unicorn. 23 Surely there is no enchantment against Jacob, neither is there any divination against Israel: according to this time it shall be said of Jacob and of Israel, What hath God wrought! 24 Behold, the people shall rise up as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion: he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.—Num. 23:18-24.

43 And the Lord gave unto Israel all the land which he sware to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein. 44 And the Lord gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand. 45 There failed not aught of any good thing which the Lord had spoken unto the house of Israel; all came to pass. —Josh. 21:43-45.

3 And he took up his parable, and said, Balaam the son of Beor hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said: 4 He hath said, which heard the words of God, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open: 5 How goodly are thy tents, O Jacob, and thy tabernacles, O Israel! 6 As the valleys are they spread forth, as gardens by the river's side, as the trees of lignaloes which the Lord hath planted, and as cedar trees beside the waters. 7 He shall pour the water out of his buckets, and his seed shall be in many waters, and his king shall be higher than Agag, and his kingdom shall be exalted. 8 God brought him forth out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of a unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows. 9 He couched, he lay down as a lion, and as a great lion: who shall stir him up? Blessed is he that blesseth thee, and cursed is he that curseth thee.—Num. 24:3-9.

15 And he took up his parable, and said, Balaam the son of Beor hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said: 16 He hath said, which heard the words of God, and knew the knowledge of the Most High, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open: 17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth. 18 And Edom shall be a possession, Seir also shall be a possession for his enemies; and Israel shall do valiantly. 19 Out of Jacob shall come he that shall have dominion, and shall destroy him that remaineth of the city. 20 And when he looked on Amalek, he took up his parable, and said, Amalek was the first of the nations; but his latter end shall be that he perish for ever. 21 And he looked on the Kenites, and took up his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwelling-place, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock. 22 Nevertheless the Kenite shall be wasted, until Asshur shall carry thee away captive. 23 And he took up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doeth this! 24 And ships shall come from the coast of Chittim, and shall afflict Asshur, and shall afflict Eber, and he also shall perish for ever.—Num. 24:15-24.

11 Them also king David dedicated unto the Lord, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations; from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek. 12 Moreover, Abishai the son of Zeruiah slew of the Edomites in the valley of salt eighteen thousand. 13 And he put garrisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's servants. Thus the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went.—I Ch. 18:11-13.

2 And he smote Moab, and measured them with a line, casting them down to the ground; even with two lines measured he to put to death, and with one full line to keep alive. And so the Moabites became David's servants, and brought gifts. —II Sa. 8:2.

7 And Saul smote the Amalekites from Havilah until thou comest to Shur, that is over against Egypt. 8 And he took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, and utterly destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.—I Sa. 15:7, 8.

10. The Site of Jericho to Be Accursed.

26 And Joshua adjured them at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jericho: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it.—Josh. 6:26.

34 In his days did Hiel the Beth-elite build Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his firstborn, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest son Segub, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by Joshua the son of Nun.—I Ki. 16:34.

11. The Priestly Line of Eli to Be Cut Off, Another Family to Have the Priesthood.

31 Behold, the days come, that I will cut off thine arm, and the arm of thy father's house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house. . . . 34 And this shall be a sign unto thee, that shall come upon thy two sons, on Hophni and Phinehas; in one day they shall die both of them. 35 And I will raise me up a faithful priest, that shall do according to that which is in mine heart and in my mind: and I will build him a sure house; and he shall walk before mine anointed for ever.—I Sa. 2:31, 34, 35.

11 And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were slain.—I Sa. 4:11.

17 And Zadok the son of Ahitub, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests; and Seraiah was the scribe.—II Sa. 8:17.

12. The Rule of Future Kings to Be Oppressive.

10 And Samuel told all the words of the Lord unto the people that asked of him a king. 11 And he said, This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots. 12 And he will appoint him captains over thousands, and captains over fifties; and will set them to ear his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and instruments of his chariots. 13 And he will take your daughters to be confectionaries, and to be cooks, and to be bakers. 14 And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. 15 And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. 16 And he will take your menservants, and your maidservants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put them to his work. 17 He will take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. 18 And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day.—I Sa. 8:10-18.

13 And king Solomon raised a levy out of all Israel; and the levy was thirty thousand men.—I Ki. 5:13.

3 And Jeroboam and all the congregation of Israel came, and spake unto Rehoboam, saying, 4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee. . . . 13 And the king answered the people roughly, and forsook the old men's counsel that they gave him; 14 And spake to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father also chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.— I Ki. 12:3, 4, 13, 14.

13. Samuel Declares to Saul the Circumstances of Saul's Reception of the Spirit of God.

2 When thou art departed from me today, then thou shalt find two men by Rachel's sepulchre in the border of Benjamin at Zelzah; and they will say unto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seek are found: and, lo, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, What shall I do for my son? 3 Then shalt thou go on forward from thence, and thou shalt come to the plain of Tabor, and there shall meet thee three men going up to God to Beth-el, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine: 4 And they will salute thee, and give thee two loaves of bread; which thou shalt receive of their hands. 5 After that thou shalt come to the hill of God, where is the garrison of the Philistines: and it shall come to pass, when thou art come thither to the city, that thou shalt meet a company of prophets coming down from the high place with a psaltery, and a tabret, and a pipe, and a harp, before them; and they shall prophesy: 6 And the Spirit of the Lord will come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man.—I Sa. 10:2-6.

9 And it was so, that, when he had turned his back to go from Samuel, God gave him another heart: and all those signs came to pass that day. 10 And when they came thither to the hill, behold, a company of prophets met him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them.—I Sa. 10:9, 10.

14. David's Son to Build the Temple.

12 And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will set up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. 13 He shall build a house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for ever.—II Sa. 7:12, 13.

1 And it came to pass in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month Zif, which is the second month, that he began to build the house of the Lord. . . . 38 And in the eleventh year, in the month Bul, which is the eighth month, was the house finished throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the fashion of it. So was he seven years in building it.—I Ki. 6:1, 38.

15. Disgrace to Come Upon David for His Great Sin.

10 Now therefore the sword shall never depart from thine house; because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife. 11 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thine own house, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun. 12 For thou didst it secretly: but I will do this thing before all Israel, and before the sun.—II Sa. 12:10-12.

21 And Ahithophel said unto Absalom, Go in unto thy father's concubines, which he hath left to keep the house; and all Israel shall hear that thou art abhorred of thy father: then shall the hands of all that are with thee be strong. 22 So they spread Absalom a tent upon the top of the house; and Absalom went in unto his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel.—II Sa. 16:21, 22.

16. The Firstborn of David and Bathsheba to Die.

14 Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die.—II Sa. 12:14.

18 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that the child died.—II Sa. 12:18.

17. Solomon's Kingdom to Be Divided.

11 Wherefore the Lord said unto Solomon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant. 12 Notwithstanding, in thy days I will not do it for David thy father's sake: but I will rend it out of the hand of thy son. 13 Howbeit I will not rend away all the kingdom; but will give one tribe to thy son for David my servant's sake, and for Jerusalem's sake which I have chosen.—I Ki. 11:11-13.

30 And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelve pieces: 31 And he said to Jeroboam, Take thee ten pieces: for thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee: 32 (But he shall have one tribe for my servant David's sake, and for Jerusalem's sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel:) . . . 34 Howbeit I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand: but I will make him prince all the days of his life for David my servant's sake, whom I chose, because he kept my commandments and my statutes: 35 But I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand, and will give it unto thee, even ten tribes.—I Ki. 11:30-32, 34, 35.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents. . . . 20 And it came to pass, when all Israel heard that Jeroboam was come again, that they sent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Israel: there was none that followed the house of David, but the tribe of Judah only.—I Ki. 12:16, 20.

18. The Altar Set Up by Jeroboam I. to Be Desecrated by Josiah.

1 And, behold, there came a man of God out of Judah by the word of the Lord unto Beth-el: and Jeroboam stood by the altar to burn incense. 2 And he cried against the altar in the word of the Lord, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith the Lord; Behold, a child shall be born unto the house of David, Josiah by name; and upon thee shall he offer the priests of the high places that burn incense upon thee, and men's bones shall be burnt upon thee.—I Ki. 13:1, 2.

15 Moreover the altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burned the high place, and stamped it small to powder, and burned the grove. 16 And as Josiah turned himself, he spied the sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burned them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.—II Ki. 23:15, 16.

19. The Line of Jeroboam I. to Be Cut Off.

10 Therefore, behold, I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam . . . and will take away the remnant of the house of Jeroboam, as a man taketh away dung, till it be all gone.—I Ki. 14:10.

25 And Nadab the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned over Israel two years. . . . 27 And Baasha the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him; and Baasha smote him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines; for Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon. . . . 29 And it came to pass, when he reigned, that he smote all the house of Jeroboam; he left not to Jeroboam any that breathed, until he had destroyed him, according unto the saying of the Lord, which he spake by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite.—I Ki. 15:25, 27, 29.

20. The Line of Baasha to Be Cut Off.

1 Then the word of the Lord came to Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha, saying, 2 Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and made thee prince over my people Israel; and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins; 3 Behold, I will take away the posterity of Baasha, and the posterity of his house; and will make thy house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat.—I Ki. 16:1-3.

8 In the twenty and sixth year of Asa king of Judah began Elah the son of Baasha to reign over Israel in Tirzah, two years. 9 And his servant Zimri, captain of half his chariots, conspired against him, as he was in Tirzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza steward of his house in Tirzah. 10 And Zimri went in and smote him, and killed him, in the twenty and seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his stead. 11 And it came to pass, when he began to reign, as soon as he sat on his throne, that he slew all the house of Baasha: he left him not one . . . of his kinsfolks, nor of his friends.—I Ki. 16:8-11.

21. The Drouth Announced by Elijah to Continue Until the Prophet Declares It at an End.

1 And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. —I Ki. 17:1.

1 And it came to pass after many days, that the word of the Lord came to Elijah in the third year, saying, Go, shew thyself unto Ahab; and I will send rain upon the earth.—I Ki. 18:1.

22. Ahab to Have a Victory Over Syria.

13 And, behold, there came a prophet unto Ahab king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. 14 And Ahab said, By whom? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Even by the young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he said, Who shall order the battle? And he answered, Thou.—I Ki. 20:13, 14.

19 So these young men of the princes of the provinces came out of the city, and the army which followed them. 20 And they slew every one his man: and the Syrians fled; and Israel pursued them: and Ben-hadad the king of Syria escaped on a horse with the horsemen.—I Ki. 20:19, 20.

23. The Doom of Ahab and Jezebel.

19 And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou killed, and also taken possession? And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine. 20 And Ahab said to Elijah, Hast thou found me, O mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: because thou hast sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the Lord. 21 Behold, I will bring evil upon thee, and will take away thy posterity, and will cut off from Ahab him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Israel. 22 And will make thine house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah, for the provocation wherewith thou hast provoked me to anger, and made Israel to sin. 23 And of Jezebel also spake the Lord, saying, The dogs shall eat Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel. 24 Him that dieth of Ahab in the city the dogs shall eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the air eat.—I Ki. 21:19-24.

28 And the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 29 Seest thou how Ahab humbleth himself before me?

because he humbleth himself before me, I will not bring the evil in his days: but in his son's days will I bring the evil upon his house.—I Ki. 21:28, 29.

24 And Jehu drew a bow with his full strength, and smote Jehoram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he sunk down in his chariot. 25 Then said Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember how that, when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lord laid this burden upon him.—II Ki. 9:24, 25.

30 And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it; and she painted her face, and tired her head, and looked out at a window. 31 And as Jehu entered in at the gate, she said, Had Zimri peace, who slew his master? 32 And he lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side? who? And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs. 33 And he said, Throw her down. So they threw her down: and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trode her under foot. 34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and said, Go, see now this cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a king's daughter. 35 And they went to bury her: but they found no more of her than the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands. 36 Wherefore they came again, and told him. And he said, This is the word of the Lord, which he spake by his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, In the portion of Jezreel shall dogs eat the flesh of Jezebel.—II Ki. 9:30-36.

11 So Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men, and his kinsfolks, and his priests, until he left him none remaining.—II Ki. 10:11.

24. Ahab to Die in Battle Against the Syrians.

42 And he said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people.—I Ki. 20:42.

15 So he came to the king. And the king said unto him, Micaiah, shall we go against Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we forbear? And he answered him, Go, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliver it into the hand of the king. 16 And the king said unto him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the Lord? 17 And he said, I saw all Israel scattered upon the hills, as sheep that have not a shepherd: and the Lord said, These have no master: let them return every man to his house in peace.—I Ki. 22:15-17.

34 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the king of Israel between the joints of the harness: wherefore he said unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the host; for I am wounded. 35 And the battle increased that day: and the king was stayed up in his chariot against the Syrians, and died at even: and the blood ran out of the wound into the midst of the chariot. . . . 38 And one washed the chariot in the pool of Samaria; and the dogs licked up his blood; and they washed his armour; according unto the word of the Lord which he spake.—I Ki. 22:34, 35, 38.

25. Elisha Foretells the Victory of the Three Kings Over Moab.

16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches. 17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye, and your cattle, and your beasts. 18 And this is but a light thing in the sight of the Lord: he will deliver the Moabites also into your hand.—II Ki. 3:16-18.

20 And it came to pass in the morning, when the meat offering was offered, that, behold, there came water by the way of Edom, and the country was filled with water. . . . 24 And when they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them: but they went forward smiting the Moabites, even in their country. 25 And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land cast every man his stone, and filled it; and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: only in Kir-haraseth left they the stones thereof; howbeit the slingers went about it, and smote it.—II Ki. 3:20, 24, 25.

26. King Jehoram Warned of the Syrians' Hostile Plans.

9 And the man of God sent unto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou pass not such a place; for thither the Syrians are come down.—II Ki. 6:9.

10 And the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God told him and warned him of, and saved himself there, not once nor twice.—II Ki. 6:10.

27. End of the Siege of Samaria; Death of a Mocker.

1 Then Elisha said, Hear ye the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord, Tomorrow about this time shall a measure of fine flour be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, in the gate of Samaria. 2 Then a lord on whose hand the king leaned answered the man of God, and said, Behold, if the Lord would make windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof. —II Ki. 7:1, 2.

6 For the Lord had made the host of the Syrians to hear a noise of chariots, and a noise of horses, even the noise of a great host: and they said one to another, Lo, the king of Israel hath hired against us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come upon us. 7 Wherefore they arose and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses, even the camp as it was, and fled for their life. . . . 16 And the people went out, and spoiled the tents of the Syrians. So a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord. 17 And the king appointed the lord on whose hand he leaned to have the charge of the gate: and the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had said, who spake when the king came down to him.—II Ki. 7:6, 7, 16, 17.

28. Hazael to Kill His Master and Seize the Throne of Syria.

8 And the king said unto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and go, meet the man of God, and inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease? . . . 10 And Elisha said unto him, Go, say unto him, Thou mayest certainly recover: howbeit the Lord hath shewed me that he shall surely die.—II Ki. 8:8, 10.

14 So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master; who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He told me that thou shouldest surely recover. 15 And it came to pass on the morrow, that he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and spread it on his face, so that he died: and Hazael reigned in his stead.—II Ki. 8:14, 15.

29. Hazael, as King, to Conquer Israel.

11 And he settled his countenance steadfastly, until he was ashamed: and the man of God wept. 12 And Hazael said, Why weepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I know the evil that thou wilt do unto the children of Israel: their strong holds wilt thou set on fire, and their young men wilt thou slay with the sword, and wilt dash their children, and rip up their women with child.—II Ki. 8:11, 12.

32 In those days the Lord began to cut Israel short: and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel.—II Ki. 10:32.

3 And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he delivered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Ben-hadad the son of Hazael, all their days.—II Ki. 13:3.

30. The Line of Jehu to Continue for Four Generations.

30 And the Lord said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel.—II Ki. 10:30.

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers: and they buried him in Samaria. And Jehoahaz his son reigned in his stead.—II Ki. 10:35.

9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Samaria: and Joash his son reigned in his stead.—II Ki. 13:9.

13 And Joash slept with his fathers; and Jeroboam sat upon his throne: and Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.—II Ki. 13:13.

8 In the thirty and eighth year of Azariah king of Judah did Zachariah the son of Jeroboam reign over Israel in Samaria six months. . . . 12 This was the word of the Lord which he spake unto Jehu, saying, Thy sons shall sit on the throne of Israel unto the fourth generation. And so it came to pass.—II Ki. 15:8, 12.

31. Jehoash, King of Israel, to Conquer the Syrians.

17 And he said, Open the window eastward. And he opened it. Then Elisha said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, The arrow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria: for thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphek, till thou have consumed them. 18 And he said, Take the arrows. And he took them. And he said unto the king of Israel, Smite upon the ground. And he smote thrice, and stayed. 19 And the man of God was wroth with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times; then hadst thou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Syria but thrice.—II Ki. 13: 17-19.

25 And Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz took again out of the hand of Ben-hadad the son of Hazael the cities, which he had taken out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father by war. Three times did Joash beat him, and recovered the cities of Israel.—II Ki. 13:25.

32. According to an Unrecorded Prediction Uttered by Jonah, Jeroboam II. Regains All the Territory Which Formerly Belonged to Israel.

25 He restored the coast of Israel from the entering of Hamath unto the sea of the plain, according to the word of the Lord God of Israel, which he spake by the hand of his servant Jonah, the son of Amittai, the prophet, which was of Gath-hepher.—II Ki. 14:25.

33. Jonah's Preaching Moves the King and People of Nineveh to Repent.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying, 2 Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey. 4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.—Jon. 3:1-4.

5 So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. 6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. . . . 10 And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not.—Jon. 3:5, 6, 10.

34. The Kingdom of Israel (The "Northern Kingdom") to Fall.

6 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes.—Amos 2:6.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself: 15 Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself. 16 And he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.—Amos 2:14-16.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.—Hos. 1:4.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the foam upon the water.—Hos. 10:7.

5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return.—Hos. 11:5.

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as a heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.—Mic. 1:6.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people.—Isa. 7:8.

1 Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine! 2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand. 3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet: 4 And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.—Isa. 28:1-4.

29 In the days of Pekah king of Israel came Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, and took Ijon, and Abel-beth-maachah, and Janoah, and Kedesh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali, and carried them captive to Assyria.—II Ki. 15:29.

5 Then the king of Assyria came up throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it three years. 6 In the ninth year of Hoshea the king of Assyria took Samaria, and carried Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes. 7 For so it was, that the children of Israel had sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared other gods. . . . 18 Therefore the Lord was very angry with Israel, and removed them out of his sight: there was none left but the tribe of Judah only.—II Ki. 17:5-7, 18.

35. Damascus to Be Taken by the King of Assyria.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.—Isa. 8:4.

9 And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin.—II Ki. 16:9.

36. The Kingdom of Judah to Suffer from an Attack by the King of Assyria.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.—Isa. 7:17.

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks: 8 And he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.—Isa. 8:7, 8.

5 O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation. 6 I will send him against a hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.—Isa. 10:5, 6.

13 Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah did Sennacherib king of Assyria come up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them. 14 And Hezekiah king of Judah sent to the king of Assyria to Lachish, saying, I have offended; return from me: that which thou puttest on me will I bear. And the king of Assyria appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.—II Ki. 18:13, 14.

37. Judah's Attempted Alliance with Egypt to Be of No Use.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. 6 And the inhabitant of this isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and how shall we escape?—Isa. 20:5, 6.

14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem. 15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves: 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. 17 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. 18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.—Isa. 28:14-18.

1 Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin. 2 That walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt! 3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.—Isa. 30:1-3.

1 Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help; and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord!—Isa. 31:1.

19 And Rab-shakeh said unto them, Speak ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? 20 Thou sayest, (but they are but vain words,) I have counsel and strength for the war. Now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me? 21 Now, behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that trust on him.—II Ki. 18:19-21.

38. Jerusalem to Be Threatened by the Assyrian, but to Be Saved by the Power of God.

9 Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces. 10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.—Isa. 8:9, 10.

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that, when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.—Isa. 10:12.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it. 34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the Lord. 35 For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.—Isa. 37:33-35.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.—Hos. 1:7.

1 Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt! add ye year to year; let them kill sacrifices. 2 Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel. 3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee. . . . 5 Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly.—Isa. 29:1-3, 5.

9 And when he heard say of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee; he sent messengers again unto Hezekiah, saying, 10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.—II Ki. 19:9, 10.

14 And Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the house of the Lord, and spread it before the Lord. . . . 20 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, That which thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria I have heard. . . . 35 And it came to pass that night, that the angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. 36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh. 37 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Armenia. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead. —II Ki. 19:14, 20, 35-37.

39. Nineveh, Capital of Assyria, to Fall; the Power to Pass to Babylon.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt. 25 For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction. 26 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.—Isa. 10:24-26.

31 For through the voice of the Lord shall the Assyrian be beaten down, which smote with a rod.—Isa. 30:31.

8 But Nineveh is of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry; but none shall look back.—Nah. 2:8.

7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee? . . . 12 All thy strong holds shall be like fig trees with the first ripe figs: if they be shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater. 13 Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy bars. . . . 18 Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.—Nah. 3:7, 12, 13, 18.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness. 14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the cormorant and the bittern shall lodge in the upper lintels of it; their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he shall uncover the cedar work. 15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.—Zeph. 2:13-15.

5 Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you. 6 For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwellingplaces that are not theirs.—Hab. 1:5, 6.

[The fulfillment of these predictions occurred between the times of the two events recorded in the passages given below.]

29 In his days Pharaoh-nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah went against him; and he slew him at Megiddo, when he had seen him.—II Ki. 23:29.

1 In his days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years: then he turned and rebelled against him.—II Ki. 24:1.

40. The Fall of Jerusalem Before the King of Babylon, and the Captivity of Judah.

25 When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and shall do evil in the sight of the Lord thy God, to provoke him to anger; 26 I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed. 27 And the Lord shall scatter you among the nations, and ye shall be left few in number among the heathen, whither the Lord shall lead you.—Deut. 4:25-27.

49 The Lord shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand; 50 A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young: . . . 52 And he shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the Lord thy God hath given thee.—Deut. 28:49, 50, 52.

6 But if ye shall at all turn from following me, ye or your children, and will not keep my commandments and my statutes which I have set before you, but go and serve other gods, and worship them; 7 Then will I cut off Israel out of the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight; and Israel shall be a proverb and a byword among all people.—I Ki. 9:6, 7.

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I am bringing such evil upon Jerusalem and Judah, that whosoever heareth of it, both his ears shall tingle. 13 And I will stretch over Jerusalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it, and turning it upside down. 14 And I will forsake the remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies; and they shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies; 15 Because they have done that which was evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger, since the day their fathers came forth out of Egypt, even unto this day.—II Ki. 21:12-15.

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim: 5 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their king; and shall fear the Lord and his goodness in the latter days.—Hos. 3:4, 5.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts. 12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them. 13 And I will visit upon her the days of Baalim, wherein she burned incense to them, and she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the Lord.—Hos. 2: 11-13.

4 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked: 5 But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.—Amos 2:4, 5.

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.—Amos 9:8.

10 They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? none evil can come upon us. 12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be ploughed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.—Mic. 3:10-12.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the Lord shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.—Mic. 4:10.

1 For, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water, . . . 8 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.—Isa. 3:1, 8.

5 And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down: 6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. 7 For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.—Isa. 5:5-7.

26 And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly: 27 None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken: 28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind: 29 Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions; yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it. 30 And in that day they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and sorrow; and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.—Isa. 5:26-30.

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts: 6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.—Isa. 39:5, 6.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities. 6 Set up the standard toward Zion: retire, stay not; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction. 7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.—Jer. 4:5-7.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.—Jer. 5:15.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.—Jer. 9:11.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.—Jer. 19:7.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarim with the priests; 5 And them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship and that swear by the Lord, and that swear by Malcham; 6 And them that are turned back from the Lord; and those that have not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.—Zeph. 1:4-6.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are settled on their lees: that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil. 13 Therefore, their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.—Zeph. 1:12, 13.

1 Woe to her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city! 2 She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God. 3 Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow. 4 Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.—Zeph. 3:1-4.

41. The Exile of King Jehoahaz (Also Called Shallum).

10 Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him; but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country. 11 For thus saith the Lord touching Shallum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place; He shall not return thither any more: 12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.—Jer. 22:10-12.

31 Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 32 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done. 33 And Pharaoh-nechoh put him in bands at Riblah in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem; and put the land to a tribute of a hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold. 34 And Pharaoh-nechoh made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in the room of Josiah his father, and turned his name to Jehoiakim, and took Jehoahaz away: and he came to Egypt, and died there.—II Ki. 23:31-34.

42. The Shameful Death of King Jehoiakim.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah; They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory! 19 He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.—Jer. 22:18, 19.

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Jehoiakim king of Judah; He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.—Jer. 36:30.

1 In his days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years: then he turned and rebelled against him. . . . 5 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah? 6 So Jehoiakim slept with his fathers: and Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead.—II Ki. 24:1, 5, 6.

5 Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord his God. 6 Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon.—II Ch. 36:5, 6.

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. 2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God: which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god; and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.—Dan. 1:1, 2.

43. King Jehoiachin (Coniah) to Die in Captivity.

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; 25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. 26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.—Jer. 22:24-26.

11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants did besiege it. 12 And Jehoiachin the king of Judah went out to the king of Babylon, he, and his mother, and his servants, and his princes, and his officers: and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.—II Ki. 24:11, 12.

27 And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon in the year that he began to reign did lift up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of prison; 28 And he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon; 29 And changed his prison garments: and he did eat bread continually before him all the days of his life.—II Ki. 25:27-29.

44. King Jehoiachin (Coniah) to Leave No Son to Succeed Him on the Throne.

28 Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not? . . . 30 Thus saith the Lord, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.—Jer. 22:28, 30.

15 And he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his officers, and the mighty of the land, those carried he into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon. . . . 17 And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his father's brother king in his stead, and changed his name to Zedekiah. —II Ki. 24:15, 17.

45. The Vessels of the Temple to Be Carried to Babylon and to Remain There Until the End of the Captivity.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city, 20 Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; 21 Yea, thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah and of Jerusalem; 22 They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be until the day that I visit them, saith the Lord; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.—Jer. 27:19-22.

13 And he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold which Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said.—II Ki. 24:13.

7 Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods; 8 Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and numbered them unto Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah. 9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty knives, 10 Thirty basins of gold, silver basins of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. 11 All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with them of the captivity that were brought up from Babylon unto Jerusalem. —Ezra 1:7-11.

13 And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Chaldees break in pieces, and carried the brass of them to Babylon. 14 And the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away. 15 And the firepans, and the bowls, and such things as were of gold, in gold, and of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away.—II Ki. 25:13-15.

46. The False Prophet Hananiah to Die.

15 Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; The Lord hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the Lord. —Jer. 28:15, 16.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.—Jer. 28: 17.

47. The Certain Fall of Jerusalem Before the King of Babylon's Army.

5 Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem. 6 Then came the word of the Lord unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 7 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel; Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. 8 And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.—Jer. 37:5-8.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you. 22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.—Jer. 34:21, 22.

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live; for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live. 3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it.—Jer. 38:2, 3.

1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and they besieged it. 2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up. 3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon. 4 And it came to pass, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain. 5 But the Chaldeans' army pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him. 6 Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. 7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains, to carry him to Babylon. 8 And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.—Jer. 39:1-8.

48. King Zedekiah to Be Taken Captive in the Fall of Jerusalem.

3 Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: 4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city. 5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. 6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence. 7 And afterward, saith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.—Jer. 21:3-7.

8 And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil; surely thus saith the Lord, So will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt: 9 And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.—Jer. 24:8, 9.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; 4 And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; 5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?—Jer. 32:3-5.

2 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel; Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: 3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. 4 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Judah; Thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword; 5 But thou shalt die in peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burn odours for thee; and they will lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have pronounced the word, saith the Lord. 6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem.—Jer. 34:2-6.

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon; 13 And hath taken of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land: 14 That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. 15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered? 16 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.—Eze. 17: 12-16.

25 And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high. 27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.—Eze. 21:25-27.

18 Zedekiah was twenty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 19 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. 20 For through the anger of the Lord it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.—II Ki. 24: 18-20.

1 And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his host, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it; and they built forts against it round about. 2 And the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. 3 And on the ninth day of the fourth month the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land. 4 And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden: (now the Chaldees were against the city round about:) and the king went the way toward the plain. 5 And the army of the Chaldees pursued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army were scattered from him. 6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah; and they gave judgment upon him. 7 And they slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of brass, and carried him to Babylon. 8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month, which is the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, unto Jerusalem: 9 And he burnt the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and every great man's house burnt he with fire. 10 And all the army of the Chaldees, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jerusalem round about. 11 Now the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away. —II Ki. 25:1-11.

18 And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door: 19 And out of the city he took an officer that was set over the men of war, and five men of them that were in the king's presence, which were found in the city, and the principal scribe of the host, which mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land that were found in the city: 20 And Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard took these, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah: 21 And the king of Babylon smote them, and slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away out of their land.—II Ki. 25:18-21.

14 Moreover all the chief of the priests, and the people, transgressed very much after all the abominations of the heathen; and polluted the house of the Lord which he had hallowed in Jerusalem. 15 And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising up betimes, and sending; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwellingplace: 16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy. 17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man, or him that stooped for age: he gave them all into his hand. 18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes; all these he brought to Babylon. 19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels thereof. —II Ch. 36:14-19.

49. Ezekiel Declares to Those of the First Captivity, in Babylonia, That the Fall of Jerusalem Is Certain.

1 Thou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and portray upon it the city, even Jerusalem: 2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it; set the camp also against it, and set battering rams against it round about. 3 Moreover take thou unto thee an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.—Eze. 4:1-3.

12 A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.—Eze. 5:12.

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth not. 10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.—Eze. 9:9, 10.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel, 3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.—Eze. 21:1-3.

21 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten.— Eze. 33:21.

50. The Captivity to Continue Seventy Years.

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you.— Jer. 27:14.

9 For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord. 10 For thus saith the Lord, That after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place.—Jer. 29:9, 10.

20 And them that had escaped from the sword carried he away to Babylon; where they were servants to him and his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Persia: 21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths: for as long as she lay desolate she kept sabbath, to fulfill threescore and ten years.—II Ch. 36: 20, 21.

51. The Sufferings of Those Left in the Land of Judah.

23 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 24 Son of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. 25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? 26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? 27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the forts and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. 28 For I will lay the land most desolate, and the pomp of her strength shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. 29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.—Eze. 33:23-29.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen. 22 And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, even over them he made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, ruler. 23 And when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, there came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan the son of Careah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men. 24 And Gedaliah sware to them, and to their men, and said unto them, Fear not to be the servants of the Chaldees: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon; and it shall be well with you. 25 But it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah, that he died, and the Jews and the Chaldees that were with him at Mizpah. 26 And all the people, both small and great, and the captains of the armies, arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldees.—II Ki. 25:12, 22-26.

52. Daniel Foretells the Insanity of Nebuchadnezzar.

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: 25 That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. —Dan. 4:24-26.

28 All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29 At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon. 30 The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty? 31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee. 32 And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.—Dan. 4:28-33.

53. The Fall of Babylon and the Rise of the Medo-Persian Kingdom.

1 The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see. . . . 17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it. . . . 19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.—Isa. 13:1, 17, 19.

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me; The treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media: all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.—Isa. 21:2.

9 And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground. —Isa. 21:9.

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.—Hab. 2:8.

1 Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the twoleaved gates; and the gates shall not be shut.—Isa. 45:1.

14 All ye, assemble yourselves, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans.—Isa. 48: 14.

1 Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth; their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy laden; they are a burden to the weary beast. 2 They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.—Isa. 46: 1, 2.

1 Come down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate. . . . 5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.—Isa. 47:1, 5.

12 And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.—Jer. 25: 12.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces; her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces. 3 For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.—Jer. 50:2, 3.

9 For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty expert man; none shall return in vain.—Jer. 50:9.

11 Make bright the arrows; gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is against Babylon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance of his temple.—Jer. 51:11.

25 And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it. 27 TEKEL; Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.—Dan. 5:25-28.

30 In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain. 31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.—Dan. 5: 30, 31.

54. A Remnant to Survive the Captivity, Return, and Restore the Jewish Nation.

1 And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the Lord thy God hath driven thee, 2 And shalt return unto the Lord thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul; 3 That then the Lord thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.—Deut. 30:1-3.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old.—Amos 9:11.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.—Hos. 1:10.

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. 21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God. 22 For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.—Isa. 10:20-22.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. 12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.—Isa. 11:11, 12.

1 For the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. 2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors. 3 And it shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve, 4 That thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased! 5 The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers.—Isa. 14:1-5.

3 Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.—Zeph. 2:3.

13 The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid. 14 Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. 15 The Lord hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy: the King of Israel, even the Lord, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not see evil any more. 16 In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: and to Zion, Let not thine hands be slack. 17 The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing. 18 I will gather them that are sorrowful for the solemn assembly, who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden. 19 Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out; and I will get them praise and fame in every land where they have been put to shame. 20 At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the Lord.—Zeph. 3:13-20.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.—Jer. 4:27.

10 Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the Lord's. —Jer. 5:10.

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you. —Jer. 5:18.

14 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; 15 But, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.—Jer. 16:14, 15.

10 Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid. 11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.—Jer. 30:10, 11.

18 Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwellingplaces; and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.—Jer. 30:18.

1 At the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people. . . . 4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry. . . . 12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all.—Jer. 31:1, 4, 12.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.—Eze. 5:13.

8 Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. 9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives.—Eze. 6:8, 9.

22 Yet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.—Eze. 14:22.

22 Thus saith the Lord God; I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent: 23 In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.—Eze. 17:22, 23.

11 For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. 12 As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. 13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country. 14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. 15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. 16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment.—Eze. 34:11-16.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land: 22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all.—Eze. 37:21, 22.

1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. 2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins.—Isa. 40:1, 2.

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!—Isa. 40:9.

5 Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west: 6 I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.—Isa. 43:5, 6.

20 Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth; say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.—Isa. 48:20.

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.—Isa. 51:11.

1 Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. 2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion. 3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye have sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money.—Isa. 52:1-3.

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! 8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion. 9 Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. 10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God. 11 Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. 12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the Lord will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rearward.—Isa. 52:7-12.

1 Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying, 2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. 3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel, (he is the God,) which is in Jerusalem. 4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, besides the freewill offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem. 5 Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests, and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised, to go up to build the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem. 6 And all they that were about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered. 7 Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods; 8 Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and numbered them unto Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah. 9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty knives, 10 Thirty basins of gold, silver basins of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. 11 All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with them of the captivity that were brought up from Babylon unto Jerusalem. —Ezra 1:1-11.

64 The whole congregation together was forty and two thousand three hundred and threescore, 65 Besides their servants and their maids, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and there were among them two hundred singing men and singing women. 66 Their horses were seven hundred thirty and six; their mules, two hundred forty and five; 67 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five; their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty. 68 And some of the chief of the fathers, when they came to the house of the Lord which is at Jerusalem, offered freely for the house of God to set it up in his place: 69 They gave after their ability unto the treasure of the work threescore and one thousand drams of gold, and five thousand pounds of silver, and one hundred priests' garments. 70 So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities. —Ezra 2:64-70.

1 Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, 2 The son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, 3 The son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth, 4 The son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, 5 The son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest: 6 This Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had given: and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the Lord his God upon him. 7 And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king. 8 And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king. 9 For upon the first day of the first month began he to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him. 10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments.—Ezra 7:1-10.

11 Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his statutes to Israel. 12 Artaxerxes, king of kings, unto Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time. 13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Israel, and of his priests and Levites, in my realm, which are minded of their own freewill to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee. 14 Forasmuch as thou art sent of the king, and of his seven counsellors, to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine hand; 15 And to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counsellors have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem, 16 And all the silver and gold that thou canst find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the people, and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God which is in Jerusalem: 17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this money bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat offerings and their drink offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem. 18 And whatsoever shall seem good to thee, and to thy brethren, to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, that do after the will of your God. 19 The vessels also that are given thee for the service of the house of thy God, those deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem. 20 And whatsoever more shall be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the king's treasure house.—Ezra 7:11-20.

24 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them, 25 And weighed unto them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king, and his counsellors, and his lords, and all Israel there present, had offered: 26 I even weighed unto their hand six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels a hundred talents, and of gold a hundred talents; 27 Also twenty basins of gold, of a thousand drams; and two vessels of fine copper, precious as gold. 28 And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the Lord; the vessels are holy also; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the Lord God of your fathers. 29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the priests and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Israel, at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the Lord. 30 So took the priests and the Levites the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem unto the house of our God. 31 Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of such as lay in wait by the way. 32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days. 33 Now on the fourth day was the silver and the gold and the vessels weighed in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, Levites; 34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.—Ezra 8:24-34.

1 And the rulers of the people dwelt at Jerusalem: the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities. 2 And the people blessed all the men, that willingly offered themselves to dwell at Jerusalem.—Neh. 11:1, 2.

55. The Temple to Be Rebuilt by Those Who Returned from Captivity.

1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the Lord's house should be built. 3 Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying, 4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste? . . . 7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.—Hag. 1:1-4, 7, 8.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.—Hag. 1:13.

14 So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. 15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction. 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord; I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the Lord of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.—Zech. 1:14-16.

8 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you.—Zech. 4:8, 9.

14 And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the Lord of hosts, their God.—Hag. 1:14.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they builded, and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia. 15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king. 16 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy, 17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin offering for all Israel, twelve he goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel. 18 And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem; as it is written in the book of Moses.—Ezra 6:14-18.

PROPHECIES CONCERNING JESUS

AND

THEIR FULFILLMENTS

BY

FINIS K. FARR

FOREWORD

WITHOUT Christ we could not understand the Old Testament. It all points to Him. Many passages speak plainly of the expected Saviour, the Messiah, the Son of David, the King of Israel; of His sufferings, His triumph, and His everlasting Kingdom.

The greatest of these passages have been chosen and arranged here for reading and study. They will show that, from the first, a Saviour was promised to all mankind, and that He was no other than the Son of God. Following each section of the prophecies, the New Testament passages referring to the fulfillment are given in italics.

PROPHECIES CONCERNING JESUS AND THEIR FULFILLMENTS

I. A Saviour of Mankind Is to Be Born of the Seed of the Woman

14 And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life: 15 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.—Gen. 3:14, 15.

4 But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law.—Gal. 4:4.

II. The Saviour's Descent Traced

1. He Comes of the Family of Shem.

18 And the sons of Noah, that went forth of the ark, were Shem, and Ham, and Japheth: and Ham is the father of Canaan.—Gen. 9:18.

27 God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant.—Gen. 9:27.

36 Which was the son of Cainan, which was the son of Arphaxad, which was the son of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the son of Lamech. . . . — Lu. 3:36.

2. And of Abraham, Through Isaac and Jacob.

1 Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: 2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing: 3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed.—Gen. 12:1-3.

17 And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do; 18 Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him? —Gen. 18:17, 18.

18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.—Gen. 22:18.

18 And Abraham said unto God, O that Ishmael might live before thee! 19 And God said, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him.—Gen. 17:18, 19.

12 And God said unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for in Isaac shall thy seed be called.—Gen. 21:12.

1 And there was a famine in the land, besides the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar. 2 And the Lord appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt: dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of. 3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee: for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father; 4 And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed.—Gen. 26:1-4.

1 And Isaac called Jacob, and blessed him, and charged him, and said unto him, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan. 2 Arise, go to Padanaram, to the house of Bethuel thy mother's father; and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Laban thy mother's brother. 3 And God Almighty bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, that thou mayest be a multitude of people; 4 And give thee the blessing of Abraham, to thee, and to thy seed with thee; that thou mayest inherit the land wherein thou art a stranger, which God gave unto Abraham.—Gen. 28:1-4.

10 And Jacob went out from Beersheba, and went toward Haran. 11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep. 12 And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it. 13 And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed; 14 And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth; and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.—Gen. 28:10-14.

17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth.—Num. 24:17.

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified. 4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God. 5 And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength. 6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.—Isa. 49:3-6.

1 The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham. 2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren.—Mat. 1:1, 2.

34 Which was the son of Jacob, which was the son of Isaac, which was the son of Abraham, which was the son of Thara, which was the son of Nachor.—Lu. 3:34.

25 Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. 26 Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.—Acts 3:25, 26.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.—Heb. 2:16.

17 By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son, 18 Of whom it was said, That in Isaac shall thy seed be called.—Heb. 11: 17, 18.

7 Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.—Rom. 9:7.

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a free woman. 23 But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; but he of the free woman was by promise. 24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar. 25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children. 26 But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all. 27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband. 28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.—Gal. 4:22-28.

3. He Comes of the Tribe of Judah.

9 Judah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up: he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up? 10 The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be.—Gen. 49:9, 10.

2 For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's.—I Ch. 5:2.

2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.—Mic. 5:2.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, 6 And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.—Mat. 2:3-6.

33 Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda.—Lu. 3:33.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.—Heb. 7: 14.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.—Rev. 5:5.

4. He Comes of the Royal Line of David.

12 And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will set up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. 13 He shall build a house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for ever. 14 I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men: 15 But my mercy shall not depart away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before thee. 16 And thine house and thy kingdom shall be established for ever before thee: thy throne shall be established for ever. 17 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak unto David.—II Sa. 7:12-17.

1 Now these be the last words of David. David the son of Jesse said, and the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet psalmist of Israel, said, 2 The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his word was in my tongue. 3 The God of Israel said, the Rock of Israel spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. 4 And he shall be as the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain. 5 Although my house be not so with God; yet he hath made with me an everlasting covenant, ordered in all things, and sure: for this is all my salvation, and all my desire, although he make it not to grow.—II Sa. 23:1-5.

3 I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn unto David my servant, 4 Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations.—Psa. 89:3, 4.

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips. 35 Once have I sworn by my holiness that I will not lie unto David. 36 His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me. 37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven.—Psa. 89:34-37.

10 For thy servant David's sake turn not away the face of thine anointed. 11 The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne. 12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, their children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore. 13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation. 14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell; for I have desired it. 15 I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread. 16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation: and her saints shall shout aloud for joy. 17 There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed. —Psa. 132:10-17.

7 Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.—Isa. 9:7.

1 And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots.—Isa. 11:1.

10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.—Isa. 11:10.

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. 4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.—Isa. 55:3, 4.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. 6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.—Jer. 23:5, 6.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old.—Amos 9:11.

23 And I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.—Eze. 34:23.

1 The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.—Mat. 1:1.

27 And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.—Mat. 9:27.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.—Mat. 21:9.

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he?

They say unto him, The son of David.—Mat. 22:41, 42.

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?—Jno. 7: 40-42.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.—Rev. 5:5.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.—Rev. 22:16.

III. The Saviour's Birth Foretold

1. He Is Born of a Virgin.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also? 14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.—Isa. 7:13, 14.

1 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.—Isa. 49:1.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.—Mic. 5:3.

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. 19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. 20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. 21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. 22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, 23 Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. 24 Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: 25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JESUS.—Mat. 1:18-25.

26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. 29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. 31 And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: 33 And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.—Lu. 1:26-35.

2. He Is Born in Bethlehem, the City of David.

2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.—Mic. 5:2.

1 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, 2 Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. 3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, 6 And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. 7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. 9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. 11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.—Mat. 2:1-11.

1 And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. 2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) 3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David,) 5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. 6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.—Lu. 2:1-7.

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?—Jno. 7: 40-42.

IV. A Forerunner Prepares the Way for the Saviour

1 Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. 2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap.—Mal. 3:1, 2.

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord: 6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.—Mal. 4:5, 6.

3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.—Isa. 40:3.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? 23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.—Jno. 1:22, 23.

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; 2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. 4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. 5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. 6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey; 7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.—Mark 1:1-7.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. 10 For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. 11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.—Mat. 11:9-11.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come. 15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.—Mat. 11:14-15.

V. The Blessed Kingdom of the Divine Saviour

1. The King Enthroned.

1 Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? 2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his Anointed, saying, 3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. 4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision. 5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure. 6 Yet have I set my King upon my holy hill of Zion. 7 I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. 8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth, for thy possession. 9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. 10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth. 11 Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling. 12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.—Psa. 2.

2. The King's Delight.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. 7 Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me, 8 I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart. 9 I have preached righteousness in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O Lord, thou knowest. 10 I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great congregation.—Psa. 40:6-10.

3. The King's Bridal.

1 My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer. 2 Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever. 3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most Mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty. 4 And in thy majesty ride prosperously, because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things. 5 Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the King's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee. 6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. 7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. 8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad. 9 Kings' daughters were among thy honourable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir. 10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy father's house; 11 So shall the King greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord; and worship thou him. 12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall entreat thy favour. 13 The King's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold. 14 She shall be brought unto the King in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee. 15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the King's palace. 16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth. 17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.—Psa. 45.

4. The King in Peace.

1 Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son. 2 He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment. 3 The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness. 4 He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor. 5 They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations. 6 He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass: as showers that water the earth. 7 In his days shall the righteous flourish; and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth. 8 He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth. 9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust. 10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts. 11 Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him. 12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor also, and him that hath no helper. 13 He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy. 14 He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence: and precious shall their blood be in his sight. 15 And he shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: prayer also shall be made for him continually; and daily shall he be praised. 16 There shall be a handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth. 17 His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed. 18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things. 19 And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen, and Amen.—Psa. 72.

5. The King Victorious.

1 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. 2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. 3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth. 4 The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. 5 The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath. 6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies; he shall wound the heads over many countries. 7 He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head.—Psa. 110.

6. The Everlasting Kingdom.

1 Nevertheless the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee of the nations. 2 The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. 3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. 4 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian. 5 For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire. 6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. 7 Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.—Isa. 9: 1-7.

7. The Spirit of God Upon the King.

1 And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots: 2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord; 3 And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears: 4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. 5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins. 6 The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them. 7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. 8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice' den. 9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.—Isa. 11:1-9.

8. The King, God's Chosen Servant—His Call.

1 Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my Spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. 2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street. 3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth. 4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law. 5 Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: 6 I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; 7 To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.—Isa. 42:1-7.

9. The Servant's Mission to All the World.

1 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name. 2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me; 3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified. 4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God. 5 And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength. 6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. 7 Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee. 8 Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages; 9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.—Isa. 49:1-9.

10. The Servant's Work as Comforter; His Sufferings.

4 The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned. 5 The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back. 6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. 7 For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. 8 He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. 9 Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.—Isa. 50:4-9.

11. The Humiliation and Exaltation of the Servant.

13 Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high. 14 As many were astonied at thee; his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men: 15 So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider. 1 Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed? 2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. 3 He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. 4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. 5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. 6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. 7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. 8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken. 9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. 10 Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. 11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. 12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.—Isa. 52:13–53:12.

[The fulfillment of these great hopes and promises is to be seen in the whole of the Gospel history, throughout the New Testament, and on through all time.]

VI. The Saviour Shows Himself as King of Peace

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.—Isa. 62:11.

9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass. 10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off: and he shall speak peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall be from sea even to sea, and from the river even to the ends of the earth.—Zech. 9:9, 10.

and straightway he will send them. 4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, 5 Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. 6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, 7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. 8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.—Mat. 21:1-9.

12 On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. 14 And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, 15 Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. 16 These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.—Jno. 12:12-16.

VII. The Saviour Suffers and Dies

1. He Is Betrayed by a Disciple.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me.—Psa. 41:9.

43 And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely. 45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him. 46 And they laid their hands on him, and took him. 47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me? 49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the Scriptures must be fulfilled.—Mark 14:43-49.

1 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples. 2 And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples. 3 Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye? 5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them. —Jno. 18:1-5.

2. The Betrayer Returns His Price, the Thirty Pieces.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver. 13 And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.—Zech. 11:12, 13.

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. 9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value: 10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.—Mat. 27:3-10.

3. Another Is Chosen to Fill the Betrayer's Vacant Place.

25 Let their habitation be desolate; and let none dwell in their tents.—Psa. 69:25.

8 Let his days be few; and let another take his office.—Psa. 109:8.

15 And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were about a hundred and twenty,) 16 Men and brethren, this Scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus. 17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry. . . . 20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and, His bishoprick let another take.—Acts 1:15-17, 20.

4. The Saviour's Followers Forsake Him in His Peril.

7 Awake, O sword, against my Shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.—Zech. 13:7.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.—Mat. 26:31.

55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me. 56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.—Mat. 26:55, 56.

5. He Is Scourged, Mocked, Abused.

6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. —Isa. 50:6.

1 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.—Jno. 19:1.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.—Mark 14:65.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. 28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. 29 And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! 30 And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. 31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.—Mat. 27:27-31.

6. A Sacrificial Lamb, He Suffers in Silence.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. 5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. 6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. 7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. —Isa. 53:4-7.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!—Jno. 1:29.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing. 4 And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee. 5 But Jesus yet answered nothing; so that Pilate marvelled.—Mark 15:2-5.

32 The place of the Scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth: 33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth. 34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man? 35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.—Acts 8:32-35.

7. He Is Crucified—His Hands and Feet Are Pierced.

16 For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.—Psa. 22:16.

33 And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.—Lu. 23:33.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first born.—Zech. 12:10.

6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.—Zech. 13:6.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: 23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. . . . 37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?—Acts 2:22, 23, 37.

8. Vinegar and Gall Are Given Him to Drink.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none. 21 They gave me also gall for my meat; and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.—Psa. 69:20, 21.

33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.—Mat. 27:33, 34.

9. His Executioners Divide His Garments.

18 They part my garments among them; and cast lots upon my vesture.—Psa. 22: 18.

23 Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.—Jno. 19:23, 24.

10. He Endures Even to the Death of the Cross.

1 My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? 2 O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent. 3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel. 4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them. 5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. 6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. 7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying, 8 He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him. 9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts. 10 I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly. 11 Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help. 12 Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round. 13 They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion. 14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels. 15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou hast brought me into the dust of death. 16 For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet. 17 I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me. 18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. 19 But be not thou far from me, O Lord: O my strength, haste thee to help me. 20 Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. 21 Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.—Psa. 22:1-21.

46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?—Mat. 27:46.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: 26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? 27 And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.—Lu. 24:25-27.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come: 23 That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.—Acts 26:22, 23.

11. He Dies.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.—Isa. 53:8.

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.—Lu. 23:46.

12. In His Death He Is with Both the Wicked and the Rich.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.—Isa. 53:9.

38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left.—Mat. 27:38.

57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: 58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. 59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed. —Mat. 27:57-60.

VIII. The Saviour Is Raised from the Dead

10 For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.—Psa. 16:10.

15 As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness.—Psa. 17:15.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.—Jon. 1:17.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas: 40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.—Mat. 12:39, 40.

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. . . . 22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.—Jno. 2: 19, 22.

1 Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. 2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. 3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. 4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: 5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? 6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, 7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.—Lu. 24:1-7.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. 35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. 36 For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: 37 But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.—Acts 13:34-37.

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: 24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. 25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: 26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: 27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. 28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.—Acts 2:23-28.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; 4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures.—I Co. 15:3, 4.

IX. The Risen Saviour Ascends to His Father in Heaven

5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour. 6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet.—Psa. 8:5, 6.

1 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.—Psa. 110:1.

50 And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven. 52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: 53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.—Lu. 24:50-53.

19 So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.—Mark 16:19.

8 Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. 9 (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)—Eph. 4:8-10.

3 Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high.—Heb. 1:3.

X. He Sends the Holy Spirit, According to His Promise

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: 29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit.—Joel 2:28, 29.

1 And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. 2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. 4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.—Acts 2:1-4.

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words: 15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day. 16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel; 17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: 18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy.—Acts 2:14-18.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.—Acts 2:33.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.—Acts 4:31.

XI. He Makes, in the Gospel, a New Covenant with All Men

1. The Forgiveness of Sins.

31 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was a husband unto them, saith the Lord: 33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. 34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.—Jer. 31:31-34.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days. 25 Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. 26 Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.—Acts 3:24-26.

2. One Heart, One Way.

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God: 39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them: 40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.—Jer. 32:38-40.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. 33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.—Acts 4:32, 33.

3. Righteousness Through Faith.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith.—Hab. 2:4.

11 But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith. 12 And the law is not of faith; but, The man that doeth them shall live in them. 13 Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree.—Gal. 3:11-13.

16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. 17 For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.—Rom. 1:16, 17.

4. The Spirit Given.

25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. 26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. 27 And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. 28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.—Eze. 36:25-28.

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. 39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.—Acts 2:38, 39.

5. The Gentiles Are Included.

10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.—Isa. 11:10.

6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.—Isa. 49:6.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land: 25 Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.—Isa. 19:24, 25.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: 35 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. 46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. 47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.—Acts 13:45-47.

6. Christ Is the Corner Stone.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.—Isa. 28:16.

22 The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. 23 This is the Lord's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes.—Psa. 118:22, 23.

11 This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. 12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.—Acts 4:11, 12.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God; 20 And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. —Eph. 2:19, 20.

XII. The Saviour Will Come Again in Glory

25 For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.—Job 19:25.

6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies; he shall wound the heads over many countries.—Psa. 110:6.

14 For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.—Ecc. 12:14.

13 I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.—Dan. 7:13, 14.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. 3 And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.—Dan. 12:2, 3.

1 For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. 2 But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.—Mal. 4:1, 2.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.—Mat. 24:29, 30.

hand, but the goats on the left.—Mat. 25: 31-33.

64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mat. 26:64.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, 29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.—Jno. 5:28, 29.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent: 31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.—Acts 17:30, 31.

28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.—Heb. 9:28.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. 12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. 13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. 14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. 15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.—Rev. 20: 11-15.

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. 2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. 4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. 5 And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful. 6 And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.—Rev. 21:1-6.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. 24 And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. 25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there. 26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. 27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.—Rev. 21:23-27.

THE PROPHECIES MADE BY JESUS

AND

THEIR FULFILLMENTS

BY

FINIS K. FARR

FOREWORD

OUR Lord Jesus Christ was a Prophet in all His work of revealing to men the truth which God the Father gave to Him for them. Like the prophets who went before Him, He made use of definite predictions, and foretold events both near and distant in the future. The following collection of the predictive prophecies uttered by our Lord will be of use to any who desires to know how He made use of His prophetic power.

Where the fulfillment, complete or partial, is definitely recorded or referred to in the New Testament, the passage containing the fulfillment is given in italics following the prophecy. The references enclosed within parentheses are parallel passages.

PROPHECIES MADE BY JESUS AND THEIR FULFILLMENTS

I. Of Particular Events in the Lives and Affairs of Others

1. The Draught of Fishes.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.—Lu. 5:4.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.—Lu. 5:6.

2. Peter to Find a Coin in a Fish's Mouth.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee. —Mat. 17:27.

3. James and John to Suffer Martyrdom.

23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with. —Mat. 20:23 (Mark 10:39).

1 Now about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church. 2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.—Acts 12:1, 2.

4. The Woman Who Anointed Jesus to Be Remembered for All Time.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.—Mat. 26:13 (Mark 14:9).

5. Two Disciples to Be Guided to the Place of Jesus' Last Passover.

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him. 14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.—Mark 14:13-15 (Lu. 22: 10-12).

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.—Mark 14:16 (Lu. 22:13).

6. Lazarus to Be Raised from the Dead.

11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.—Jno. 11:11.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.—Jno. 11:23.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. 44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.—Jno. 11:43, 44.

7. The Dreadful End of the Betrayer.

24 The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born. —Mat. 26:24 (Mark 14:21; Lu. 22:22).

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.—Mat. 27:3-5.

8. Peter to Suffer Martyrdom.

36 Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards. —Jno. 13:36.

18 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. 19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God.—Jno. 21:18, 19.

9. The Second Draught of Fishes.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.—Jno. 21:6.

II. Of the Circumstances of His Own Betrayal, Suffering, Death and Resurrection

10. Jesus to Suffer Many Things at the Hands of Men.

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.—Mat. 9:15 (Mark 2:19, 20; Lu. 5:34, 35).

43 And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.—Lu. 9:43, 44 (Mat. 17:22; Mark 9:31).

12 But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.—Mat. 17:12 (Mark 9:13).

11. Jesus' Sufferings to End in His Death.

31 The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected. 33 Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. —Lu. 13:31-33.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always. 12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.—Mat. 26:10-12 (Mark 14:6-9).

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: 15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—Jno. 3:14, 15.

33 And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.—Lu. 23:33 (Mat. 27:35; Mark 15:24).

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.—Lu. 23:46 (Mat. 27:50; Mark 15:37).

50 And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just: 51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them:) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; who also himself waited for the kingdom of God. 52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.—Lu. 23:50-53 (Mat. 27:57-60; Mark 15:42-46).

12. Judas to Betray His Master.

70 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil? 71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.—Jno. 6:70, 71.

1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, 2 Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.—Mat. 26:1, 2.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. . . . 23 And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.—Mat. 26:21, 23.

25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.—Mat. 26:25 (Mark 14:18-21; Lu. 22:21, 22; Jno. 13:10, 21, 26).

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; hold him fast. 49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.—Mat. 26:47-50.

13. The Disciples to Leave Jesus at His Arrest.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.—Mat. 26:31 (Mark 14:27, 28).

32 Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.—Jno. 16:32.

56 Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.—Mat. 26:56.

14. Peter to Deny His Lord.

33 Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended. 34 Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.—Mat. 26:33, 34 (Mark 14:29, 30; Lu. 22:33, 34).

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake. 38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.—Jno. 13:37, 38.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.—Jno. 18:17.

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not. 26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? 27 Peter then denied again; and immediately the cock crew.—Jno. 18:25-27.

69 Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man. 73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74. Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.—Mat. 26:69-75 (Mark 14:66-72; Lu. 22:56-62).

15. Jesus' Death, by Crucifixion, after Mocking and Scourging, to be Followed by His Resurrection the Third Day.

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.—Jno. 2:19.

29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. 30 For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.—Lu. 11:29, 30 (Mat. 12:39, 40).

31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.—Mark 9:31.

22 And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men: 23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.—Mat. 17:22, 23 (Lu. 9:44).

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. 32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.—Mark 8:31, 32 (Mat. 16:21; Lu. 9:22).

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.—Mark 9:9 (Mat. 17:9).

17 And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them, 18 Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, 19 And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.—Mat. 20:17-19 (Mark 10:32-34; Lu. 18:31-34).

The Condemnation.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.—Mark 14:53 (Mat. 26:57; Lu. 22:54; Jno. 18:12, 13).

55 And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none. 56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together. 57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. 59 But neither so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? 62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. 63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses? 64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. 65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.—Mark 14:55-65 (Mat. 26:59-68; Lu. 22:63-71; Jno. 18:19-23).

The Delivery to Gentile Authority.

1 And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate. 2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing. 4 And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee. 5 But Jesus yet answered nothing; so that Pilate marvelled.—Mark 15:1-5 (Mat. 27:1, 2, 11-14; Lu. 23:1, 3; Jno. 18:28-38).

The Mocking and Scourging.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man. 5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place. 6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. 7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. 8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. 9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. 11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.—Lu. 23:4-11.

15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified. 16 And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium; and they call together the whole band. 17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews! 19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him. 20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.—Mark 15:15-20 (Mat. 27:26-31; Lu. 23:25; Jno. 19:1-16).

The Crucifixion.

22 And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. 25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.—Mark 15:22-25 (Mat. 27:33-35; Lu. 23:33, 34; Jno. 19:17, 18).

29 And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, 30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross. 31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save. 32 Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him.—Mark 15:29-32 (Mat. 27:39-42; Lu. 23:35).

The Death of Jesus.

37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.—Mark 15:37 (Mat. 27:50; Lu. 23:46; Jno. 19:30).

The Burial.

42 And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead. 45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph. 46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.—Mark 15:42-46 (Mat. 27:57-60; Lu. 23:50-53; Jno. 19:38-42).

The Resurrection.

1 Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. 2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. 3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. 4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: 5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? 6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, 7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.—Lu. 24:1-7 (Mat. 28:1-10; Mark 16:1-8; Jno. 20:1-10).

Appearances of the Risen Lord.

11 But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. 13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. 14 And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. 15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. 16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master. 17 Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.—Jno. 20:11-17.

13 And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs. 14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened. 15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. 16 But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.—Lu. 24:13-16.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. 31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.—Lu. 24: 30, 31.

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. 35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread. 36 And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.—Lu. 24:33-36.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. 26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. 27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing. 28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.—Jno. 20:24-28.

16 Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. 19 Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: 20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.—Mat. 28:16-20.

1 After these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he himself.—Jno. 21:1 (see the whole chapter).

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God.—Acts 1:3.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; 4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures: 5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve: 6 After that, he was seen of about five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep. 7 After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles. 8 And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.—I Co. 15:3-8.

III. Of His Own Ascension to Heaven, and of His Return

16. Jesus to Ascend to Heaven Whence He Came.

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you? 62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?—Jno. 6:61, 62.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me. 34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.—Jno. 7:33, 34.

19 So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.—Mark 16:19.

50 And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.—Lu. 24:50, 51.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.—Acts 1:9.

17. Jesus to Return in Power and Glory.

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mat. 26: 63, 64 (Mark 14:61, 62; Lu. 22:66-69).

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.—Jno. 14:3.

IV. Of the Gift of the Holy Spirit to Believers

18. Believers to Receive the Holy Spirit, After Jesus' Ascension and Glorification.

37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. 39 (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)—Jno. 7:37-39.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.—Acts 4:31.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: 15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: 16 (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.) 17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. —Acts 8:14-17.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. 45 And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost. 46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God.—Acts 10:44-46.

19. The Holy Spirit to Be the Comforter of Believers.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; 17 Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.—Jno. 14:16-18.

26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.—Jno. 14:26.

26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.—Jno. 15:26.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.—Rom. 8:26.

20 But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.—I Jno. 2:20.

27 But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you.—I Jno. 2:27.

20. The Holy Spirit to Reprove the World.

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. 8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment.—Jno. 16:7, 8.

21. The Holy Spirit to Be the Guide of Believers.

13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.—Jno. 16:13.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father. —Jno. 16:25.

32 And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.—Acts 5:32.

22. The Holy Spirit to Be Given to the Company of Believers, in Jerusalem.

49 And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.—Lu. 24:49.

1 And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. 2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. 4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.—Acts 2: 1-4.

V. Of the Work to Be Done by His Followers, and the Treatment They Are to Receive from Men

23. The Apostles to Become Fishers of Men.

18 And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.—Mat. 4:18, 19 (Mark 1:16, 17).

10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men. —Lu. 5:10.

41 Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.—Acts 2:41.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all. —Acts 4:33 (so throughout the book of Acts).

24. Those Who Preach the Gospel to Meet With Hatred and Persecution.

17 But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues; 18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. 19 But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. 20 For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. 21 And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. 22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.—Mat. 10:17-23.

16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.—Jno. 13:16.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.—Jno. 15:20, 21.

1 And as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them, 2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.—Acts 4: 1-3.

17 Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation, 18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.—Acts 5:17, 18.

59 And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.—Acts 7:59.

3 As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.—Acts 8:3.

[See also Acts 12:1-11; 13:50; 14:5, 6, 19; 16:22-26, 35-39; 17:5; 18:12, 13; 21:27; 28:31, and II Co. 11:23-27.]

25. The Faithful Confessor to Be Owned By His Lord in Heaven.

1 In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. 2 For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. 3 Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. 4 And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? 7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God: 9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.—Lu. 12: 1-9 (Mat. 10:26-33).

26. The Lord to Reward and Punish His Professed Followers According to Their Works.

38 Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.—Mark 8:38 (Lu. 9:26).

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works.—Mat. 16:27.

27. The Lord Himself to Reward Those Who Befriend His Faithful Followers.

39 He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it. 40 He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.—Mat. 10:39-42.

28. The Apostles to Have Power to Confirm Their Preaching by Signs.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.—Lu. 10:19.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; 18 They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.—Mark 16:17, 18.

20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.—Mark 16:20.

29. The Lord's Followers to Have Need of Prudence and of Self-Defence.

35 And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing. 36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.—Lu. 22:35, 36.

30. Believers to Accomplish Greater Works, Through the Glorified Christ.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.—Jno. 14:12.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.—Jno. 5:20.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.—Jno. 4:37.

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. . . . 41 Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.—Acts 2:38, 41.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.—Acts 4:4.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;) 15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. 16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.—Acts 5:14-16.

5 Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. 6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.—Acts 8:5, 6.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.—Acts 9:40.

VI. Of the Growth and Progress of His Own Kingdom

31. The Kingdom Not to Be Revealed to the Unbelieving.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. 12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.—Mark 8:11, 12 (Mat. 16:1-4).

32. False Kingdoms to Be Destroyed.

13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.—Mat. 15:13.

33. The Growth of the Kingdom to Be Great, Though Unseen.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; 27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. 28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. 29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.—Mark 4:26-29.

31 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: 32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.—Mat. 13:31, 32 (Mark 4:30-32; Lu. 13:18, 19).

33 Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.—Mat. 13:33 (Lu. 13:20, 21).

34. The Kingdom to Come in Power within the Life-Time of Some of Jesus' Hearers.

1 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.—Mark 9:1 (Mat. 16:28; Lu. 9:27).

[See throughout the Book of Acts.]

35. The Message of the Kingdom to Be a Cause of Division.

51 Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: 52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. 53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.—Lu. 12:51-53 (Mat. 10:34-36).

36. The Church of Jesus Christ to Have Authority in the Kingdom, as Christ's Representative.

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. 19 And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.—Mat. 16:16-19.

18 Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 19 Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.—Mat. 18:18, 19.

37. The Christ Himself to Be the Way of Communion and Fellowship with God.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.—Jno. 1:51.

38. True Worship to Be Universal, Not Local.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.—Jno. 4:21.

39. The Dead in Sin to Be Raised to Spiritual Life in the Kingdom.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.—Jno. 5:25.

40. The Kingdom to Be World-Wide under the Lord of All.

16 And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.—Jno. 10:16.

VII. Of the Destruction of Jerusalem

41. Jerusalem to Be Besieged and Taken.

41 And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it, 42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. 43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.—Lu. 19:41-44.

42. The Fall of the City to Be a Time of Great Distress.

28 But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. 29 For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. 30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?—Lu. 23:28-31.

43. Spiritual Leadership to Pass Away from the Jewish People.

42 Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. 45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.—Mat. 21:42-45 (Mark 12:10, 11; Lu. 20: 17, 18).

44. The Punishment for Past Sins of the People Is Imminent.

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.—Mat. 23:35, 36 (Lu. 11:50, 51).

37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! 38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. 39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Mat. 23:37-39 (Lu. 13:34, 35).

45. The Temple to Suffer Complete Destruction.

1 And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. 2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.—Mat. 24:1, 2 (Mark 13:1, 2; Lu. 21:5, 6).

VIII. Of His Second Coming, and of the End of the World

46. The Beginning of Sorrows.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. 5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceive many. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. 7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. 8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.—Mat. 24:3-8 (Mark 13:4-8; Lu. 21:7-11).

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand,) 16 Then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains: 17 Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house: 18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes. 19 And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! 20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day: 21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.—Mat. 24: 15-22 (Mark 13:14-20; Lu. 21:20-23).

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.—Lu. 21:24.

47. Good and Bad to Grow Together until the Last.

24 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: 25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. 26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. 27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? 28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? 29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.—Mat. 13:24-30.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; 38 The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; 39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. 40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. 41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; 42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.—Mat. 13:37-43.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind: 48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.—Mat. 13:47, 48.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just, 50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.—Mat. 13:49, 50.

48. Rejection of the Gospel to Meet with Due Punishment.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city.—Mat. 10:14, 15 (Lu. 9:5; 10:12).

21 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you. 23 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. 24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.—Mat. 11:21-24 (Lu. 10: 13-15).

49. The Son of Man to Come in Power and Glory.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.—Mat. 24:29-31 (Mark 13:24-27; Lu. 21:25-27).

50. Pretended Followers to Be Rejected.

13 Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: 14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.—Mat. 7:13, 14.

23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.—Lu. 13:23, 24.

21 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? 23 And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.—Mat. 7:21-23 (Lu. 13:26, 27).

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?—Lu. 6:46.

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets. 27 But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.—Lu. 13:26, 27.

11 And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.—Mat. 8: 11, 12.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out. 29 And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And, behold, there are last which shall be first; and there are first which shall be last.—Lu. 13:28-30.

51. Faithful Followers to Be Rewarded.

29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, 30 But he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life.—Mark 10:29, 30.

28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. 30 But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.—Mat. 19:28-30 (Lu. 18:29, 30).

28 Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. 29 And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me; 30 That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.—Lu. 22:28-30.

52. The Faithful to Inherit Eternal Life.

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: 32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: 33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. 34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: 35 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: 36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. 37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? 38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? 39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? 40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. 41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: 42 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: 43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. 44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? 45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. 46 And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.—Mat. 25: 31-46.

THE FOUR GOSPELS PARALLELED

OR

A HARMONY OF THE GOSPELS

For a Comparative and Thorough Study of The Life of Jesus Christ Our Lord

BY A. T. ROBERTSON

FOREWORD

THE FOUR GOSPELS PARALLELED is intended to promote an interest in the study of the life of Jesus; to give the facts only, in the words of the Gospels; to give valuable assistance in the study of the teachings of our Lord; to make the historical part of the Gospels more impressive; to show the right relations of the Gospels, one with another; and to show forth the great Nazarene and His teachings in all their majesty and power.

THE FOUR GOSPELS PARALLELED

PART I.

THE SOURCES OF OUR KNOWLEDGE OF JESUS

1. Luke's Explanation of His Own Research.

Luke 1:1-4.

1 Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us, 2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word; 3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus, 4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

PART II.

THE PRE-INCARNATE STATE OF CHRIST

2. The Picture of the Logos by John.

John 1:1-18.

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. 4 In him was life; and the life was the light of men. 5 And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. 6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. 7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe. 8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light. 9 That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. 10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. 11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not. 12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: 13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 14 And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. 15 John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me; for he was before me. 16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. 17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. 18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

PART III.

THE TWO GENEALOGIES OF JESUS

3. That of Joseph in Matthew; That of Mary in Luke.

Matthew 1:1-17.

1 The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham. 2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren; 3 And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram; 4 And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon; 5 And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; 6 And Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias; 7 And Solomon begat Roboam;

Luke 3:23-38.

23 And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli, 24 Which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Janna, which was the son of Joseph, 25 Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Amos, which was the son of Naum, which was the son of Esli, which was the son of Nagge, 26 Which was the son of Maath, which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Semei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Juda, 27 Which was the son of Joanna, and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa; 8 And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias; 9 And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias; 10 And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias; 11 And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon: 12 And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel; 13. And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; 14 And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; 15 And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; 16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ. 17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

which was the son of Rhesa, which was the son of Zorobabel, which was the son of Salathiel, which was the son of Neri, 28 Which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Addi, which was the son of Cosam, which was the son of Elmodam, which was the son of Er, 29 Which was the son of Jose, which was the son of Eliezer, which was the son of Jorim, which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, 30 Which was the son of Simeon, which was the son of Juda, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Jonan, which was the son of Eliakim, 31 Which was the son of Melea, which was the son of Menan, which was the son of Mattatha, which was the son of Nathan, which was the son of David, 32 Which was the son of Jesse, which was the son of Obed, which was the son of Booz, which was the son of Salmon, which was the son of Naasson, 33 Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda, 34 Which was the son of Jacob, which was the son of Isaac, which was the son of Abraham, which was the son of Thara, which was the son of Nachor, 35 Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragau, which was the son of Phalec, which was the son of Heber, which was the son of Sala, 36 Which was the son of Cainan, which was the son of Arphaxad, which was the son of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the son of Lamech, 37 Which was the son of Mathusala, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleleel, which was the son of Cainan, 38 Which was the son of Enos, which was the son of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the son of God.

PART IV.

THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF JOHN AND JESUS (Probably B.C. 6 to 5)

4. The Annunciation to Zacharias in the Temple.

Luke 1:5-25.

5 There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. 6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. 7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren; and they both were now well stricken in years. 8 And it came to pass, that, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, 9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord. 10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense. 11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. 12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. 17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord. 18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings. 20 And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless. 23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. 24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

5. The Annunciation to the Virgin Mary at Nazareth.

Luke 1:26-38.

26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. 29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. 31 And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: 33 And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God. 36 And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren. 37 For with God nothing shall be impossible. 38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

6. The Song of Elisabeth upon Mary's Visit to the Hill Country of Judea.

Luke 1:39-45

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda; 40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost: 42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? 44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

7. The Magnificat of Mary in Reply to Elisabeth's Greeting.

Luke 1:46-56.

46 And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, 47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. 48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. 49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. 50 And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation. 51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. 52 He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. 53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away. 54 He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy; 55 As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever. 56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

8. The Birth and Childhood of John the Baptist in the Hill Country of Judea (Probably B.C. 6).

Luke 1:57-80.

57 Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called. 63 And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God. 65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea. 66 And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him. 67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying, 68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people, 69 And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; 70 As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began: 71 That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us; 72 To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant; 73 The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, 74 That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, 75 In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. 76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; 77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins, 78 Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us, 79 To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace. 80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

9. The Annunciation to Joseph in Nazareth.
Matthew 1:18-25.

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. 19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. 20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. 21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. 22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, 23 Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. 24 Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: 25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JESUS.

10. The Birth of Jesus in Bethlehem (Probably B.C. 6 or 5).
Luke 2:1-7.

1 And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. 2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) 3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David,) 5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. 6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

11. The Song of the Angels to the Shepherds Near Bethlehem.
Luke 2:8-20.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. 9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. 11 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. 12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. 13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. 15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. 17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. 18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. 19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

12. The Circumcision of Jesus in Bethlehem.
Luke 2:21.

21 And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

13. The Presentation of Jesus in the Temple in Jerusalem.
Luke 2:22-38.

22 And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord; 23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;) 24 And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. 25 And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. 26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. 27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law, 28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, 29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word: 30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, 31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; 32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. 33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him. 34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against; 35 (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also;) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity; 37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day. 38 And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

14. The Visit of the Wise Men to Jerusalem and to Bethlehem.
Matthew 2:1-12.

1 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, 2 Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. 3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, 6 And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. 7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. 9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. 11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. 12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

15. The Flight of Joseph and Mary with the Child Jesus to Egypt (B.C. 5 or 4).
Matthew 2:13-15.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: 15 And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16. The Slaughter of the Children in Bethlehem (Probably B.C. 5 or 4).

Matthew 2:16-18.

16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men. 17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

17. The Return of Joseph and Mary with the Child Jesus to Nazareth (Probably B.C. 4).

Matthew 2:19-23.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life. 21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee: 23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

Luke 2:39.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

18. Visit of the Boy Jesus to Jerusalem at the Age of Twelve (Probably A.D. 7).

Luke 2:40-52.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him. 41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast. 43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. 44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. 45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. 46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. 47 And all them that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. 48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. 49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? 50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. 51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. 52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

PART V.

THE EARLY MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

(About Six Months. Probably A.D. 25.)

19. The Time of the Beginning of John's Preaching.

Mark 1:1.

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Luke 3:1, 2.

1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene, 2 Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

20. The Message and the Messenger.

Mark 1:2-6.

2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. 4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. 5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. 6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey.

Matthew 3:1-6.

1 In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, 2 And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. 4 And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey. 5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan, 6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

Luke 3:3-6.

3 And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins; 4 As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. 5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth; 6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

21. The Courage of John the Baptist.

Matthew 3:7-10

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance: 9 And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

Luke 3:7-14.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 9 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then? 11 He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise. 12 Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do? 13 And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you. 14 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages.

22. John's Picture of the Messiah.

Mark 1:7, 8.

7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. 8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

Matthew 3:11, 12.

11 I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire: 12 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor,

Luke 3:15-18.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not; 16 John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

(Luke 3:15-18.)

worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: 17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable. 18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.

PART VI.

THE FIRST YEAR OF CHRIST'S MINISTRY IN VARIOUS PARTS OF PALESTINE (Probably A.D. 26 and 27).

23. The Baptism of Jesus in the Jordan.

Mark 1:9-11.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. 10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: 11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Matthew 3:13-17.

13 Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. 14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? 15 And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him. 16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: 17 And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Luke 3:21, 22.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, 22 And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

24. The Three Temptations of Jesus.

Mark 1:12, 13.

12 And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness. 13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

Matthew 4:1-11.

1 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. 2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward a hungered. 3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread. 4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. 5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, 6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge

Luke 4:1-13.

1 And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, 2 Being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered. 3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread. 4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. 5 And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. 6 And the devil said unto him, All this power concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. 7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. 8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. 10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. 11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

(Matthew 4:1-11.)

will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will, I give it. 7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine. 8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. 9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: 10 For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee: 11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. 12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. 13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

25. The Witness of John to the Committee of the Sanhedrin, at Bethany Beyond Jordan. John 1:19-28.

19 And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou? 20 And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ. 21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No. 22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? 23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias. 24 And they which were sent were of the Pharisees. 25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that Prophet? 26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not; 27 He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose. 28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

26. John's Identification of Jesus as the Messiah, at Bethany Beyond Jordan. John 1:29-34.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! 30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me; for he was before me. 31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water. 32 And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him. 33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. 34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

27. The First Disciples of Jesus, at Bethany Beyond Jordan, Find Him to Be the Messiah. John 1:35-51.

35 Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples; 36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. 38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou? 39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour. 40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ. 42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone. 43 The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me. 44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile! 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. 49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel. 50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. 51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

28. The First Miracle of Jesus, at Cana in Galilee.

John 2:1-11.

1 And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. 3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. 4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. 5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece. 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. 9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, 10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. 11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

29. The First Visit to Capernaum.

John 2:12.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples; and they continued there not many days.

30. The First Cleansing of the Temple at the Passover in Jerusalem.

John 2: 13-22.

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem, 14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; 16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise. 17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up. 18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. 20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? 21 But he spake of the temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

31. The Interview with Nicodemus in Jerusalem.

John 2:23–3:21.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. 24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, 25 And needed not that any should testify of man; for he knew what was in man. . . . 1 There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: 2 The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. 3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. 4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? 5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. 6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. 7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. 8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. 9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? 10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? 11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness. 12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? 13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven. 14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: 15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. 16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. 17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. 18 He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. 20 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. 21 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

32. John's Freedom from Jealousy About Jesus.

John 3:22-36.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized. 23 And John also was baptizing in Enon near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. 24 For John was not yet cast into prison. 25 Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying. 26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. 27 John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. 28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. 29 He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. 30 He must increase, but I must decrease. 31 He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. 32 And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. 33 He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true. 34 For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. 35 The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. 36 He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

33. Jesus Leaving Judea.

Mark 1:14.	Matthew 4:12.	Luke 3:19, 20; 4:14.	John 4:1-4.
14 Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God.	12 Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee.	19 But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison. . . . 14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.	1 When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John, 2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) 3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee. 4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

34. The Interview with the Woman of Samaria at Jacob's Well, and the Revival in Sychar.

John 4:5-42.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. 6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour. 7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. 8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.) 9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. 10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldst have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. 11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? 12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle? 13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: 14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. 15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. 16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. 17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband: 18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly. 19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. 20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. 21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. 22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews. 23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. 24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. 25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things. 26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he. 27 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her? 28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ? 30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him. 31 In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. 33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him aught to eat? 34 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. 35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. 36 And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. 37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth. 38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours. 39 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did. 40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days. 41 And many more believed because of his own word; 42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

35. The Return to Galilee.

John 4:43-45.

43 Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee. 44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. 45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

PART VII.

THE GALILEAN MINISTRY

(Probably a year and a half in A.D. 27 and 28)

36. Christ's Message in Galilee.

Mark 1:14, 15.	Matthew 4:17.	Luke 4:14, 15.
14 Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus	17 From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say,	14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. 15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

37. The Second Visit to Cana, with the Healing of the Capernaum Courtier's Son.

John 4:46-54.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death. 48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe. 49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die. 50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way. 51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. 52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house. 54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

38. The First Rejection at Nazareth.

Luke 4:16-30.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. 17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written, 18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord. 20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country. 25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land; 26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian. 28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong. 30 But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way.

39. The New Home in Capernaum.

Matthew 4:13-16.

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim: 14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, 15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles; 16 The people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

40. Finding Four Fishers of Men.

Mark 1:16-20.
16 Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. 18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him. 19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets. 20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

Matthew 4:18-22.

fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship. 4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. 6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake. 7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink. 8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken: 10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men. 11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

41. In the Synagogue in Capernaum on the Sabbath.

Mark 1:21-28.

21 And they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught. 22 And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes. 23 And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. 25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. 26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him. 27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him. 28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

Luke 4:31-37.

31 And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath days. 32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with power. 33 And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, 34 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God. 35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not. 36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

42. At the Home of Simon in Capernaum on the Sabbath.

Mark 1:29-34.

29 And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her. 31 And he came and took her by the hand, and

Matthew 8:14-17.

14 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. 15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them. 16 When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were pos-lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them. 32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

sessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick: 17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

ministered unto them. 40 Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

43. The First Tour of Galilee with the Four Fishermen.

Mark 1:35-39.

35 And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. 36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him. 37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee. 38 And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth. 39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

Matthew 4:23-25.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. 24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers dieases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them. 25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

Luke 4:42-44.

42 And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them. 43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent. 44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

44. The Excitement Caused by the Healing of a Leper during this Tour.

Mark 1:40-45.

40 And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. 42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. 43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away; 44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a

Matthew 8:2-4.

2 And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

Luke 5:12-16.

12 And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him. 14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. 15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to testimony unto them. 45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities. 16 And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

45. Healing the Paralytic Let Down Through the Roof of Peter's House in Capernaum.

Mark 2:1-12.

1 And again he entered into Capernaum after some days: and it was noised that he was in the house. 2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them. 3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four. 4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. 5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee. 6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only? 8 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? 10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,) 11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house. 12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

Matthew 9:2-8.

2 And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee. 3 And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? 5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk? 6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. 7 And he arose, and departed to his house. 8 But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

Luke 5:17-26.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them. 18 And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him. 19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jesus. 20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. 21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone? 22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts? 23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? 24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house. 25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God. 26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

46. The Call of Matthew (Levi) and His Reception in Honor of Jesus.

Mark 2:13-17.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. 14 And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alpheus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. 15 And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him. 16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? 17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Matthew 9:9-13.

9 And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him. 10 And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples. 11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your master with publicans and sinners? 12 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. 13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Luke 5:27-32.

27 And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me. 28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them. 30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners? 31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick. 32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

47. Christ's Defense of His Disciples for Feasting instead of Fasting.

Mark 2:18-22.

18 And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? 19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. 20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days. 21 No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse. 22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

Matthew 9:14-17.

14 Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not? 15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast. 16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment; for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse. 17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

Luke 5:33-39.

33 And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink? 34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days. 36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. 38 But new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved. 39 No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new; for he saith, The old is better.

48. The Healing of the Woman with an Issue of Blood.

Mark 5:25-34.

25 And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years, 26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment. 28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole. 29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague. 30 And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes? 31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? 32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

Matthew 9:20-22.

20 And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment: 21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. 22 But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

Luke 8:43-48.

43 And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any, 44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanched. 45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? 46 And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.

49. The Raising of Jairus's Daughter.

Mark 5:22-24, 35-43.

22 And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live. 24 And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him. . . . 35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead; why troublest thou the Master any further? 36 As soon as Jesus heard the

Matthew 9:18, 19, 23-26.

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. 19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. . . . 23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise, 24 He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose. 26 And

Luke 8:41, 42, 49-56.

41 And, behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue; and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house: 42 For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him. . . . 49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master. 50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole. 51 And when he came into the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe. 37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. 38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly. 39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. 40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying. 41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say unto thee,) arise. 42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment. 43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden. 52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, but sleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. 54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise. 55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat. 56 And her parents were astonished: but he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

50. Two Blind Men Healed Who Spread the Fame of Jesus.

Matthew 9:27-31.

27 And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us. 28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this: They said unto him, Yea, Lord. 29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you. 30 And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. 31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

51. The First Blasphemous Accusation by the Pharisees.

Matthew 9:32-34.

32 As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil. 33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 34 But the Pharisees said, He casteth out devils through the prince of the devils.

52. Jesus Healing a Lame Man on the Sabbath, and Claiming Equality with God in Defense of His Conduct.

John, chap. 5.

1 After this there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. 2 Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. 4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. 5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. 6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? 7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. 8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. 9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath. 10 The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. 11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. 12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? 13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place. 14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. 15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole. 16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day. 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work. 18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. 19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The

(John, chap. 5.)

Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. 20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will. 22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son: 23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. 26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself; 27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man. 28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, 29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. 30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me. 31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. 32 There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. 33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth. 34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved. 35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light. 36 But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. 37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. 38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not. 39 Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. 40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life. 41 I receive not honour from men. 42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you. 43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. 44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only? 45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust. 46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me. 47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

53. Another Controversy with the Pharisees Because the Disciples Pluck Ears of Grain on the Sabbath.

Mark 2:23-28.

Matthew 12:1-8.

1 At that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were a hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. 2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day. 3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was a hungered, and they that were with him; 4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests? 5 Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless? 6 But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple. 7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

Luke 6:1-5.

1 And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath days? 3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was a hungered, and they which were with him; 4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone? 5 And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

54. A Third Sabbath Controversy with the Pharisees Because Jesus Healed a Man with a Withered Hand in a Synagogue in Galilee.

Mark 3:1-6.

1 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand. 2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him. 3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth. 4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace. 5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other. 6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

Matthew 12:9-14.

9 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue: 10 And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. 11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? 12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. 13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other. 14 Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

Luke 6:6-11.

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him. 8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. 9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it? 10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other. 11 And they were filled with madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

55. Jesus Teaching the Crowds by the Sea of Galilee.

Mark 3:7-12.

7 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea, 8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him. 9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him. 10 For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues. 11 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God. 12 And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

Matthew 12:15-21.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all; 16 And charged them that they should not make him known: 17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, 18 Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles. 19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets. 20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory. 21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

56. The Choice of the Twelve Apostles.

Mark 3:13-19.

13 And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him. 14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, 15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils: 16 And Simon he surnamed Peter; 17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder: 18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alpheus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into a house.

(Luke 6:12-16.)

and continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named apostles; 14 Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew, 15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

57. The Sermon on the Mount.

(a) The Place and Audience.

Matthew 5:1, 2.

1 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: 2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

Luke 6:17-19.

17 And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed. 19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

(b) The Introduction: the Beatitudes.

Matthew 5:3-12.

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. 5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. 6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. 7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. 8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. 9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. 10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. 12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Luke 6:20-26.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. 21 Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. 22 Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. 23 Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets. 24 But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. 25 Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. 26 Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

(c) The Theme of the Discourse: Christ's Idea of Righteousness in Contrast with That of the Scribes and Pharisees.

Matthew 5:13-20.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. 14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. 15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. 16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. 17 Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. 19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

(d) Christ's Ethical Teaching Superior to That of the Old Testament, and of the Scribes.

Matthew 5:21-48.

21 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: 22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. 23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee; 24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. 25 Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. 26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing. 27 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. 29 And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. 30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. 31 It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32 But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery. 33 Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shall perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: 35 Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King. 36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. 37 But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil. 38 Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: 39 But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. 40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also. 41 And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain. 42 Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away. 43 Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. 44 But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; 45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. 46 For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same? 47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so? 48 Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

Luke 6:27-36.

27 But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, 28 Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you. 29 And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also. 30 Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. 31 And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. 32 For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them. 33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same. 34 And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again. 35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil. 36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

(e) The Practice of Real Righteousness Unlike the Hypocrisy of the Pharisees. (The Lord's Prayer.)

Matthew 6:1-18.

1 Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. 2 Therefore when thou doest thine

(Matthew 6:1-18.)

alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: 4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly. 5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. 7 But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. 8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. 9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. 10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. 11 Give us this day our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. 13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. 14 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you: 15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. 16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face; 18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

(f) Trust in God the Cure for Worldly Anxiety: Lay up Treasures in Heaven.

Matthew 6:19-34.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: 20 But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: 21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. 22 The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness! 24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. 25 Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? 26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? 27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature? 28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? 31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. 34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

(g) Captious Criticism.

Matthew 7:1-6.

1 Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye? 5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

Luke 6:37-42.

37 Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: 38 Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again. 39 And he spake a parable unto them; Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch? 40 The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his

(Matthew 7:1-6.)

6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

(Luke 6:37-42.)

master. 41 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

(h) Earnestness in Prayer.

Matthew 7:7-11.

7 Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? 10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

(i) The Golden Rule.

Matthew 7:12.

12 Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

Luke 6:31.

31 And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

(j) The Two Gates and the Two Ways.

Matthew 7:13, 14.

13 Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: 14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

(k) The Final Test of Character.

Matthew 7:15-27.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. 16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? 17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. 18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. 21 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? 23 And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. 24 Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: 25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. 26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house

Luke 6:43-49.

43 For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 44 For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. 45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh. 46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? 47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: 48 He is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it; for it was founded upon a rock. 49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

upon the sand: 27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

(l) The Effect of the Sermon.

Matthew 7:28, 29.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine: 29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

58. The Healing of the Centurion's Servant at Capernaum.

Matthew 8:1, 5-13.

1 When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. . . . 5 And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, 6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. 7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. 9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

Luke 7:1-10.

1 Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum. 2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. 3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant. 4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this: 5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue. 6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself; for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof: 7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed. 8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. 10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

59. The Raising of Son of the Widow of Nain.

Luke 7:11-17.

11 And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. 12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. 13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. 14 And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. 15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. 16 And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people. 17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

60. The Embassy from John the Baptist in Prison.

Matthew 11:2-6.

2 Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, 3 And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? 4 Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things

Luke 7:18-23.

18 And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things. 19 And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? 20 When the men were come unto him, they which ye do hear and see: 5 The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

(Luke 7:18-23.)

said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? 21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight. 22 Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached. 23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

61. Jesus' Praise of John the Baptist.

Matthew 11:7-19.

7 And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? 8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. 9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. 10 For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. 11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. 13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come. 15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented. 18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil. 19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.

Luke 7:24-35.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind? 25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts. 26 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. 28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he. 29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John. 30 But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him. 31 And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like? 32 They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept. 33 For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil. 34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! 35 But wisdom is justified of all her children.

62. Jesus Upbraiding the Cities of Galilee.

Matthew 11:20-24.

20 Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not: 21 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you. 23 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. 24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

63. The Son's Relation to the Father Qualifying Him as the Teacher.

Matthew 11:25-30.

25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. 26 Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. 27 All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. 28 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

64. The Anointing of Christ's Feet by the Sinful Woman in the House of Simon the Pharisee.

Luke 7:36-50.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. 37 And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment, 38 And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. 39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him; for she is a sinner. 40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. 41 There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty. 42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. 45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet. 46 My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also? 50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

65. The Second Tour of Galilee (with the Twelve and the Band of Women)

Luke 8:1-3.

1 And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him, 2 And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils, 3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance.

66. The Second Blasphemous Accusation in Galilee, and Christ's Defense.

Mark 3:19-30.

19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house. 20 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself. 22 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils. 23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand. 26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand,

Matthew 12:22-37.

22 Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. 23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the Son of David? 24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils. 25 And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: 26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? 27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they but hath an end. 27 No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house. 28 Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: 29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation: 30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

shall be your judges. 28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you. 29 Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house. 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. 31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. 32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. 33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit. 34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. 37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

67. Christ's Refusal to Give a Sign to the Scribes and Pharisees.

Matthew 12:38-45.

38 Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee. 39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas: 40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. 41 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. 42 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here. 43 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. 44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. 45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

68. Christ's Mother and Brothers Coming to Take Him Home.

Mark 3:31-35.

31 There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him. 32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren? 34 And he looked round about on them which sat about

Matthew 12:46-50.

46 While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him. 47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee. 48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? 49 And he

Luke 8:19-21.

19 Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press. 20 And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! 50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The First Group of Parables on a Large Scale

69. To the Crowds by the Sea of Galilee:
(a) The Parable of the Sower.

Mark 4:1-25.

1 And he began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land. 2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine, 3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow: 4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up. 5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth: 6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. 7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred. 9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable. 11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables: 12 That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them. 13 And he said unto them, Know ye

Matthew 13:1-23.

1 The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. 2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore. 3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow; 4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up: 5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. 7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them: 8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold. 9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? 11 He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. 14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye

Luke 8:4-18.

4 And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable: 5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it. 6 And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture. 7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it. 8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be? 10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand. 11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. 12 Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved. 13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. 14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 But that on the good ground are they, not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables? 14 The sower soweth the word. 15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts. 16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness; 17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended. 18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word, 19 And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. 20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred. 21 And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick? 22 For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad. 23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear. With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you; and unto you that hear shall more be given. 25 For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

(Matthew 13:1-23.)

shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive: 15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them. 16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear. 17 For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them. 18 Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower. 19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side. 20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it; 21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended. 22 He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. 23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

(Luke 8:4-18.)

which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience. 16 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light. 17 For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad. 18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

(b) The Parable of the Seed Growing of Itself.

Mark 4:26-29.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; 27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. 28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. 29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

(c) The Parable of the Tares.

Matthew 13:24-30.

24 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: 25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. 26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. 27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? 28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? 29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

(d) The Parable of the Mustard Seed.

Mark 4:30-32.

30 And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it? 31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: 32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

Matthew 13:31, 32.

31 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: 32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

(e) The Parable of the Leaven.

Matthew 13:33.

33 Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

(f) The Many Parables.

Mark 4:33, 34.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it. 34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

Matthew 13:34, 35.

34 All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them: 35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

(g) To the Disciples in the House:

Explanation of the Parable of the Tares.

Matthew 13:36-43.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field. 37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; 38 The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; 39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. 40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. 41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; 42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

(h) The Parable of the Hidden Treasure.

Matthew 13:44.

44 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

(i) The Parable of the Pearl of Great Price.

Matthew 13:45, 46.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchantman, seeking goodly pearls: 46 Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

(j) The Parable of the Net.

Matthew 13:47-50.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind: 48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. 49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just, 50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

(k) The Parable of the Householder.

Matthew 13:51-53.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. 52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old. 53 And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

70. Jesus Stilling the Storm at Sea.

Mark 4:35-41.

35 And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side. 36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships. 37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full. 38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? 39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. 40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

Matthew 8:18, 23-27.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. . . . 23 And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him. 24 And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. 25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. 27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

Luke 8:22-25.

22 Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm. 25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

71. The Gadarene Demoniac.

Mark 5:1-20.

1 And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes. 2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, 3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains: 4 Because that he

Matthew 8:28-34.

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way. 29 And, behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hith-

Luke 8:26-39.

26 And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs. 28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him. 5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones. 6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him, 7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. 8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.) 9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many. 10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. 11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding. 12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. 13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea. 14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done. 15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind; and they were afraid. 16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine. 17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts. 18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. 19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. 20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

(Matthew 8:28-34.)

er to torment us before the time? 30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils. 34 And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

(Luke 8:26-39.)

with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee, torment me not. 29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.) 30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him. 31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep. 32 And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. 33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked. 34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country. 35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. 36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed. 37 Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again. 38 Now the man, out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him. 2 And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? 3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him. 4 But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. 5 And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. 6 And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.

gogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works? 55 Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things? 57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house. 58 And he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

73. The Third Tour of Galilee After Instructing the Twelve and Sending Them Ahead by Twos.

Mark 6:7-13.

7 And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits; 8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse: 9 But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats. 10 And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place. 11 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city. 12 And they went out, and preached that men should repent. 13 And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

Matthew 9:35—11:1.

35 And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. 36 But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. 37 Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; 38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest. 1 And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. 2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his

Luke 9:1-6.

1 Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. 2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. 3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece. 4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them. 6 And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

brother; 3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus; 4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him. 5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: 6 But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. 8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. 9 Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses; 10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat. 11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. 12 And when ye come into a house, salute it. 13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. 14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city. 16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues; 18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. 19 But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. 20 For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. 21 And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. 22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come. 24 The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. 25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household? 26 Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. 27 What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops. 28 And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. 30 But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows. 32 Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. 33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven. 34 Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. 35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. 36 And a man's foes shall be they of his own household. 37 He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. 39 He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it. 40 He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. 1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

74. The Guilty Fears of Herod Antipas about Jesus Because He Had Beheaded John the Baptist.

Mark 6:14-29.

14 And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him. 15 Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets. 16 But

Matthew 14:1-12.

1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus, 2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him. 3 For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for

Luke 9:7-9.

7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead; 8 And of some, that Elias had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. 9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded;

(Mark 6:14-29.)

when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead. 17 For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her. 18 For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. 19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not: 20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly. 21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee; 22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. 23. And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom. 24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist. 25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist. 26 And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her. 27 And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. 29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

(Matthew 14:1-12.)

Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife. 4 For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her. 5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet. 6 But when Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod. 7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask. 8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger. 9 And the king was sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her. 10 And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison. 11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. 12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

(Luke 9:7-9.)

but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

PART VIII.

THE SPECIAL TRAINING OF THE TWELVE CONCERNING THE PERSON AND MISSION OF THE MESSIAH

(A half year: Passover to Tabernacles, A. D. 29).

The period of four withdrawals from Galilee into surrounding mountainous regions in heated seasons to escape the hatred of the Pharisees, the excitement of the populace, the suspicion of Herod Antipas, and to obtain rest by change of environment and the opportunity to teach the twelve Apostles the true nature of His Messiahship and the fact of His approaching death.

75. The First Retirement to the Mountain Slopes Near Bethsaida Julias in the Tetrarchy of Philip with the Feeding of the Five Thousand.

Mark 6:30-44.

30 And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught. 31 And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. 32 And they departed into a desert place by ship privately. 33 And the people saw

Matthew 14:13-21.

13 When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities. 14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick. 15 And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past;

Luke 9:10-17.

10 And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida. 11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing. 12 And when the day began to wear away, then

John 6:1-13.

1 After these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased. 3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh. 5 When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities and outwent them, and came together unto him. 34 And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things. 35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed: 36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat. 37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat? 38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes. 39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass. 40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. 41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. 42 And they did all eat, and were filled. 43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes. 44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

(Mark 6:30-44.)

(Matthew 14:13-21.)

send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals. 16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart; give ye them to eat. 17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. 18 He said, Bring them hither to me. 19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. 20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full. 21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

(Luke 9:10-17.)

came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place. 13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people. 14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company. 15 And they did so, and made them all sit down. 16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

(John 6:1-13.)

he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many? 10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. 11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would. 12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. 13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

76. The Prevention of the Revolutionary Purpose to Proclaim Jesus King.

Mark 6:45, 46.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people. 46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

Matthew 14:22, 23.

22 And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away. 23 And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

John 6:14, 15.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world. 15 When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

77. The Peril of the Twelve in the Storm on the Lake and Christ's Coming to Them on the Water in the Darkness.

Mark 6:47-52.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. 48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them. 49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out: 50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid. 51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered. 52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their heart was hardened.

Matthew 14:24-33.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary. 25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea. 26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear. 27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid. 28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water. 29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. 30 But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me. 31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? 32 And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased. 33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

John 6:16-21.

16 And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, 17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them. 18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew. 19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid. 20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. 21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

78. The Reception in Gennesaret.

Mark 6:53-56.

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore. 54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was. 56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

Matthew 14:34-36.

34 And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gennesaret. 35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased; 36 And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

79. The Collapse of the Galilean Campaign and the Disgust of the Galilean Crowd in the Synagogue in Capernaum on Learning that Jesus Disclaimed Being a Political Messiah and Claimed Only to Be the Bread of Heaven.

John 6:22-71.

22 The day following, when the people, which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone; 23 Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks: 24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus. 25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? 26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled. 27 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed. 28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

(John 6:22-71.)

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. 30 They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work? 31 Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat. 32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. 33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. 34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread. 35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. 36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not. 37 All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. 38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. 39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. 40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day. 41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven. 42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven? 43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. 46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life. 48 I am that bread of life. 49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead. 50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. 51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world. 52 The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat? 53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. 54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. 56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. 57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father; so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me. 58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. 59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum. 60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear it? 61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you? 62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before? 63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. 64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him. 65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. 66 From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away? 68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life. 69 And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God. 70 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil? 71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

80. Christ's Defense of the Twelve Against the Attack of the Jerusalem Pharisees for Their Violation of the Pharisee Tradition about Eating with Unwashen Hands (Probably in Capernaum).

Mark 7:1-23.

1 Then came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem. 2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault. 3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except

Matthew 15:1-20.

1 Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying, 2 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. 3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? 4 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He

John 7:1.

1 After these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

(Mark 7:1-23.)

they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. 4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brazen vessels, and of tables. 5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands? 6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. 7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. 8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do. 9 And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. 10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death: 11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free. 12 And ye suffer him no more to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye. 14 And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: 15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. 16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. 17 And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable. 18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? 20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: 23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

(Matthew 15:1-20.)

that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. 5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; 6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition. 7 Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying, 8 This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. 9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. 10 And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: 11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. 12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying? 13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. 14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. 15 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable. 16 And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? 17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? 18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man. 19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: 20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

81. The Second Withdrawal to the Region of Tyre and Sidon with the Healing of the Daughter of the Syro-Phœnician Woman.

Mark 7:24-30.

24 And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid. 25 For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet: 26 The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter. 27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs. 28 And she answered and

Matthew 15:21-28.

21 Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. 23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. 24 But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. 26 But he answered and said, It is not meet said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. 29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

(Matthew 15:21-28.)

to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. 27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. 28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

82. The Third Withdrawal North and East then South into Decapolis with the Healing of the Deaf and Dumb Man and the Feeding of the Four Thousand.

Mark 7:31–8:9.

31 And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis. 32 And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him. 33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue; 34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. 35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. 36 And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it; 37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak. 1 In those days the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them, 2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat: 3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far. 4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness? 5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven. 6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people. 7 And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them. 8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets. 9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

Matthew 15:29-38.

29 And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there. 30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: 31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel. 32 Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way. 33 And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes. 35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground. 36 And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. 37 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full. 38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

83. The Brief Visit to Magdala (Dalmanutha) and the Sharp Collision with the Pharisees and Sadducees. (Please Note Their Appearance Now Against Christ.)

Mark 8:10-12.

10 And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha. 11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. 12 And he sighed

Matthew 15:39–16:4.

39 And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala. 1 The Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven. 2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red. 3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times? 4 A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

84. The Fourth Retirement to Bethsaida Julias with Sharp Rebuke of the Dullness of the Disciples and the Healing of a Blind Man.

Mark 8:13-26.

13 And he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side. 14 Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod. 16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread. 17 And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened? 18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. 20 And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand? 22 And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him. 23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw aught. 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking. 25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up; and he was restored, and saw every man clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

Matthew 16:5-12.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread. 6 Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. 7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread. 8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread? 9 Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up? 10 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up? 11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees? 12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

85. The Faith of the Twelve in the Messiahship of Jesus Put to the Test Near Cæsarea-Philippi.

Mark 8:27-30.

27 And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am? 28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets. 29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answer-

Matthew 16:13-20.

13 When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am? 14 And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist; some, Elias; and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets. 15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou

Luke 9:18-21.

18 And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am? 19 They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again. 20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The art the Christ, the Son of the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. 19 And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20 Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

(Luke 9:18-21.)
Christ of God. 21 And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing.

86. Plain Prediction of Christ's Death and Resurrection on the Third Day.

Mark 8:31-37.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. 32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men. 34 And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. 36 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? 37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Matthew 16:21-26.

21 From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day. 22 Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee. 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men. 24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. 25 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. 26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Luke 9:22-25.

22 Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day. 23 And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. 24 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it. 25 For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

87. The Coming of the Kingdom in That Generation.

Mark 8:38; 9:1.

38 Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. 1 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

Matthew 16:27, 28.

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. 28 Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

Luke 9:26, 27.

26 For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels. 27 But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

88. The Transfiguration of Jesus on a Mountain Near Cæsarea-Philippi (Probably Mount Hermon).

Mark 9:2-8.

2 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them. 3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. 6 For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid. 7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. 8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

Matthew 17:1-8.

1 And after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart, 2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. 3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him. 4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. 5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid. 8 And when they had lifted up their eyes they saw no man, save Jesus only.

Luke 9:28-36.

28 And it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray. 29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering. 30 And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias: 31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem. 32 But Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. 33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said. 34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. 35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. 36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

89. Discourse About Elijah on the Way Down the Mountain.

Mark 9:9-13.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead. 10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come? 12 And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought. 13 But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

Matthew 17:9-13.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come? 11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things. 12 But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. 13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

90. The Failure of the Nine Disciples to Heal the Demoniac Boy at the Foot of the Mountain.

Mark 9:14-29.

14 And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit; 18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not. 19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child. 22 And ofttimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. 24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief. 25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out? 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

Matthew 17:14-21.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour. 19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out? 20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. 21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

Luke 9:37-42.

37 And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him. 38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son; for he is mine only child. 39 And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him. 40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not. 41 And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither. 42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

91. Return to Galilee and Renewed Prediction by Christ of His Death and Resurrection on the Third Day.

Mark 9:30-32.

30 And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day. 32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

Matthew 17:22, 23.

22 And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men: 23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

Luke 9:43-45.

43 And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. 45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

92. Jesus Paying the Temple Tax for Himself and Peter on Reaching Capernaum.

Matthew 17:24-27.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute? 25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? 26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free. 27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

93. The Dispute of the Disciples in Capernaum over Primacy in the Kingdom and Their Rebuke by Jesus.

Mark 9:33-37.

33 And he came to Capernaum: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way? 34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest. 35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all. 36 And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, 37 Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

Matthew 18:1-5.

1 At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, 3 And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

Luke 9:46-48.

46 Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest. 47 And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him, 48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

94. Christ's Rebuke of the Mistaken Zeal of the Apostle John.

Mark 9:38-50.

38 And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us. 39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me. 40 For he that is not against us is on our part. 41 For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward. 42 And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. 43 And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: it is

Matthew 18:6-14.

6 But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh! 8 Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire. 9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast

Luke 9:49, 50.

49 And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. 50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

(Mark 9:38-50.)

better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched: 44 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. 45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched: 46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. 47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire: 48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. 49 For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt. 50 Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

(Matthew 18:6-14.)

into hell fire. 10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. 11 For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost. 12 How think ye? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray. 14 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

95. Conduct of One with a Personal Grievance Toward a Church Member and Forgiveness Illustrated by the Parable of the Wicked Servant.

Matthew 18:15-35.

15 Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. 16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. 17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican. 18 Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 19 Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. 20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. 21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? 22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven. 23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants. 24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents. 25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. 26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt. 28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow servants, which owed him a hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. 29 And his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. 31 So when his fellow servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. 32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: 33 Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee? 34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. 35 So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

96. Rash and Reluctant Following of Jesus.

Matthew 8:19-22.

19 And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 21 And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

Luke 9:57-62.

57 And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 59 And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house. 62 And Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

97. Christ Rejecting the Scornful Advice of His Brothers about Going to Jerusalem.

John 7:2-9.

2 Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand. 3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest. 4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world. 5 For neither did his brethren believe in him. 6 Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready. 7 The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil. 8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come. 9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

98. The Private Journey to Jerusalem Through Samaria and the Anger of James and John.

Luke 9:51-56.

51 And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. 53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem. 54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did? 55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. 56 For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

John 7:10.

10 But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

PART IX.

THE LATER JUDEAN MINISTRY

(Three months, Tabernacles to Dedication, A. D. 29.)

99. The Excitement of the Various Groups at the Feast of Tabernacles about Jesus and the Failure of the Rulers to Seize Him.

John 7:11-52.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people. 13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews. 14 Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. 15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? 16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. 17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. 18 He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 19 Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me? 20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee? 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel. 22 Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man. 23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day? 24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. 25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill? 26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ? 27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is. 28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. 29 But I know him; for I am from him, and he hath sent me. 30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come. 31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done? 32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him. 33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me. 34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come. 35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? 36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come? 37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. 39 (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) 40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was? 43 So there was a division among the people because of him. 44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him. 45 Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him? 46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man. 47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived? 48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him? 49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed. 50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,) 51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

100. The Story of the Woman Taken in Adultery (Not in the Oldest Manuscripts). John 7:53–8:11.

53 And every man went unto his own house. 1 Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. 3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, 4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou? 6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not. 7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. 9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. 10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? 11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

101. After the Feast of Tabernacles Jesus Claims to Be the Light of the World and Arouses the Indignation of the Pharisees. John 8:12-20.

12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. 15 Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. 16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. 17 It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. 18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also. 20 These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

102. The Pharisees Roused to Fury by Christ's Exposure of Their Sinfulness.

John 8:21-59.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come. 23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world. 24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. 25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him. 27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father. 28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. 29 And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him. 30 As he spake these words, many believed on him. 31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; 32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. 33 They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? 34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin. 35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever. 36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. 37 I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you. 38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father. 39 They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham. 40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham. 41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. 42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me. 43 Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word. 44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. 45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not. 46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? 47 He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God. 48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? 49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. 50 And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. 51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death. 52 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death. 53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? 54 Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God: 55 Yet ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying. 56 Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. 57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. 59 Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

103. The Healing of the Man Born Blind Who Outwits the Pharisees in Their Efforts to Entrap Him.

John 9:1-41.

1 And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. 2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? 3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. 4 I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. 5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world. 6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, 7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. 8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged? 9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he. 10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened? 11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight. 12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not. 13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. 14 And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. 15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. 16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them. 17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet. 18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight. 19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? 20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: 21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself. 22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. 23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. 24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner. 25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. 26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? 27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples? 28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples. 29 We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is. 30 The man answered and said unto them, Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes. 31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. 32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. 33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing. 34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out. 35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? 36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? 37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee. 38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. 39 And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind. 40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also? 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

(John 9:1-41.)

104. The Allegory of the Good Shepherd with the Picture of the Hostile Pharisees and of Christ's Own Redemption Sacrifice.

John 10:1-21.

1 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. 2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. 4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. 5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers. 6 This parable spake Jesus unto them; but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them. 7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. 8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. 9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. 10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy:

(John 10:1-21.)

I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. 11 I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. 12 But he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. 13 The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. 14 I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. 15 As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. 16 And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. 17 Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again. 18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father. 19 There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings. 20 And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him? 21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?

105. The Mission of the Seventy and Christ's Joy in Their Success. Luke 10:1-24.

1 After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come. 2 Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest. 3 Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. 4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way. 5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house. 6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again. 7 And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. 8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you: 9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. 10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, 11 Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. 12 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city. 13 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you. 15 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell. 16 He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me. 17 And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name. 18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. 19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you. 20 Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. 21 In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. 22 All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. 23 And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: 24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

106. The Parable of the Good Samaritan in Response to a Lawyer's Quibbling. Luke 10:25-37.

25 And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? 27 And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. 28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. 29 But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? 30 And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. 32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. 33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. 35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him: and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. 36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? 37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

107. Jesus in the Home of Martha and Mary in Bethany Near Jerusalem.

Luke 10:38-42.

38 Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. 41 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: 42 But one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

108. The Model Prayer Repeated with the Parable of the Importunate Friend.

Luke 11:1-13.

1 And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. 2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. 3 Give us day by day our daily bread. 4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil. 5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves; 6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him? 7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee. 8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. 9 And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 11 If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? 12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion? 13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

109. Another Blasphemous Accusation of Being in League with Beelzebub.

Luke 11:14-36.

14 And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered. 15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils. 16 And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven. 17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth. 18 If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub. 19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you. 21 When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace: 22 But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils. 23 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 24 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out. 25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished. 26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. 27 And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked. 28 But he said, Yea, rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it. 29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. 30 For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. 31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here. 32 The men of Nineveh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. 33 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light. 34 The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. 35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkness. 36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

110. Three Woes Upon the Pharisees and Three Upon the Lawyers at a Breakfast in a Pharisee's House.

Luke 11:37-54.

37 And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat. 38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness. 40 Ye fools, did not he, that made that which is without, make that which is within also? 41 But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you. 42 But woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets. 44 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them. 45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. 49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute: 50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; 51 From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation. 52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered. 53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things: 54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

111. Warning to the Multitude Against Hypocrisy, Blasphemy Against the Holy Spirit, and Covetousness with the Parable of the Rich Fool.

Luke 12:1-21.

1 In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. 2 For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. 3 Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. 4 And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? 7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God: 9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God. 10 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. 11 And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say. 13 And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. 14 And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15 And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: 17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits? 18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. 19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. 20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? 21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God.

112. Warning to the Disciples Against Anxiety and Lack of Readiness for the Coming of the Son of Man with the Parables of the Waiting Servants and of the Wise Steward.

Luke 12:22-48.

22 And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. 23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. 24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls? 25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit? 26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest? 27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith? 29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. 30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 31 But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. 32 Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. 33 Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. 34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. 35 Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; 36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. 37 Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. 38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants. 39 And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. 40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not. 41 Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all? 42 And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? 43 Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath. 45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken; 46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers. 47 And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. 48 But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

113. The Eagerness of Christ for the Fire and the Baptism of His Death.

Luke 12:49-53.

49 I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled? 50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished! 51 Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: 52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. 53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

114. Warning the Multitudes to Interpret the Times.

Luke 12:54-59.

54 And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is. 55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass. 56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; but how is it that ye do not discern this time? 57 Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right? 58 When thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison. 59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last mite.

115. The Lesson of Repentance from Two Current Tragedies with the Parable of the Barren Fig Tree.

Luke 13:1-9.

1 There were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. 2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things? 3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. 4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? 5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. 6 He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none. 7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground? 8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: 9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

116. The Healing of a Crippled Woman in a Synagogue with Rebuke of the Rulers.

Luke 13:10-17.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. 11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. 12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. 13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. 14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day. 15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? 16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day? 17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

117. Repetition of the Parables of the Mustard Seed and of the Leaven.

Luke 13:18-21.

18 Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it? 19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it. 20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

118. Renewal of the Attack of the Pharisees on Christ's Appearance in the Temple at the Feast of Dedication.

John 10:22-39.

22 And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter. 23 And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch. 24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. 25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. 26 But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. 27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: 28 And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. 29 My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. 30 I and my Father are one. 31 Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him. 32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? 33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. 34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? 35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken; 36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? 37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. 38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works; that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him. 39 Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their hand.

(John 10:22-39.)

PART X.

THE LATER PEREAN MINISTRIES

(Three Months. Dedication to Last Journey, A. D. 30.)

119. The Withdrawal from Jerusalem to Bethany Beyond Jordan (Perea).

John 10:40-42.

40 And went away again beyond Jordan into the place where John at first baptized; and there he abode. 41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man were true. 42 And many believed on him there.

120. On a Journey Toward Jerusalem (cf. S. 98) with the Inquiry Concerning the Number of the Saved and the Warning Against Herod Antipas.

Luke 13:22-35.

22 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem. 23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. 25 When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are: 26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets. 27 But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. 28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out. 29 And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And, behold, there are last which shall be first; and there are first which shall be last. 31 The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected. 33 Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 34 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not! 35 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

121. Breakfast with a Pharisee and the Healing of a Man with the Dropsy and Three Parables for the Occasion (One for the Host and Two for the Guests).

Luke 14:1-24.

1 And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him. 2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? 4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go; 5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day? 6 And they could not answer him again to these things. 7 And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; 9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. 11 For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. 12 Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. 13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: 14 And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just. 15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many: 17 And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. 22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

122. Warning the Crowds to Count the Cost of Discipleship.

Luke 14:25-35.

25 And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? 29 Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace. 33 So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

123. Christ's Defense to the Pharisees for Receiving Sinners by Three Parables (the Lost Sheep; the Lost Coin; the Lost [Prodigal] Son).

Luke 15:1-32.

1 Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him. 2 And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them. 3 And he spake this parable unto them, saying, 4 What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost. 7 I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. 8 Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it? 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth. 11 And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. 13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. 16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. 17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! 18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. 20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. 21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. 22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: 23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: 24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him. 29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: 30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. 31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. 32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

124. Teaching the Disciples Stewardship (the Wise Use of One's Opportunity) by the Parable of the Unjust Steward.

Luke 16:1-13.

1 And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward. 3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. 7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore. 8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light. 9 And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations. 10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. 11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? 12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own? 13 No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

125. Rebuking the Pharisees for Avarice and Covetousness by the Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus.

Luke 16:14-31.

14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him. 15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God. 16 The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it. 17 And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail. 18 Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery. 19 There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day: 20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. 22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried; 23 And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame. 25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. 26 And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. 27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: 28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. 30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

(Luke 16:14-31.)

126. Warning the Disciples Against Being Stumbling-Blocks and Urging Whole-Hearted Service by the Parable of the Unprofitable Servant.

Luke 17:1-10.

1 Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come! 2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones. 3 Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. 4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him. 5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. 6 And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you. 7 But which of you, having a servant ploughing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat? 8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? 9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not. 10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

127. The Raising of Lazarus From the Dead at Bethany Near Jerusalem.

John 11:1-44.

1 Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. 2 (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.) 3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. 4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. 5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was. 7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again. 8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? 9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. 10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him. 11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well. 13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. 14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. 15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. 16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him. 17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. 18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off: 19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. 20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house. 21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 22 But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee. 23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. 24 Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. 25 Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: 26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? 27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world. 28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee. 29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him. 30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him. 31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there. 32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, 34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. 35 Jesus wept. 36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him! 37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died? 38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it. 39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days. 40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God? 41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. 42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me. 43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. 44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

128. The Effect of the Raising of Lazarus on the People and on the Sanhedrin.

John 11:45-53.

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. 46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done. 47 Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. 48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him; and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation. 49 And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, 50 Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. 51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; 52 And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. 53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

129. The Withdrawal of Jesus to the City of Ephraim Near the Wilderness of Judea.

John 11:54.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

130. Starting on the Last Journey to Jerusalem by Way of Samaria and Galilee and Perea with the Healing of the Ten Lepers.

Luke 17:11-19.

11 And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. 12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: 13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. 14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed. 15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, 16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan. 17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? 18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger. 19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

131. The Coming of the Kingdom Explained to the Pharisees and to the Disciples.

Luke 17:20-37.

20 And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

(Luke 17:20-37.)

21 Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you. 22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. 23 And they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them. 24 For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day. 25 But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation. 26 And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. 27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. 28 Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; 29 But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. 30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed. 31 In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back. 32 Remember Lot's wife. 33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it. 34 I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left. 36 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. 37 And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

132. Two Parables on Prayer (the Importunate Widow, the Pharisee and the Publican).

Luke 18:1-14.

1 And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint; 2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man: 3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. 4 And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; 5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me. 6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith. 7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? 8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? 9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others: 10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. 11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. 12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess. 13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. 14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

133. The Teaching of Jesus Concerning Divorce in Answer to a Query From the Pharisees.

Mark 10:1-12.

1 And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again. 2 And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him. 3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? 4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. 5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept. 6 But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female. 7 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; 8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh. 9 What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 10

Matthew 19:1-12.

1 And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea beyond Jordan; 2 And great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there. 3 The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? 4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, 5 And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh? 6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 7 They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away? 8 He saith unto them, Moses be-

(Mark 10:1-12.)

And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter. 11 And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her. 12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

(Matthew 19:1-12.)

cause of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. 9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery. 10 His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. 11 But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given. 12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

134. Christ and Little Children, with a Rebuke to the Disciples.

Mark 10:13-16.

13 And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. 14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God. 15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. 16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

Matthew 19:13-15.

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for of such is the kingdom of heaven. 15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

Luke 18:15-17.

15 And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them. 16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. 17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.

135. The Grip of Money on the Soul Shown by the Rich Young Ruler and the Amazement of the Disciples at the Words of Jesus with the Parable of the Laborers in the Vineyard to Illustrate the Sovereign Power of God in Rewards.

Mark 10:17-31.

17 And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? 18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God. 19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother. 20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth. 21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing

Matthew 19:16–20:16.

16 And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? 17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. 18 He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept

Luke 18:18-30.

18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is God. 20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother. 21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up. 22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me. 22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions. 23 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! 24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved? 27 And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible. 28 Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, 30 But he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life. 31 But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.

(Mark 10:17-31.)

from my youth up: what lack I yet? 21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me. 22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions. 23 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. 24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved? 26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible. 27 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore? 28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. 30 But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first. 1 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. 2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. 3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace. 4 And said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. 5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. 6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? 7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. 8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. 9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. 10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they like-come, follow me. 23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich. 24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! 25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved? 27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. 28 Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee. 29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

(Matthew 19:16–20:16.)

wise received every man a penny. 11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house. 12 Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. 13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? 14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

136. Repeated Prediction of the Death of Jesus Followed by the Ambitious Request of James and John.

Mark 10:32-45.

32 And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him, 33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles: 34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him; and the third day he shall rise again. 35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire. 36 And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you? 37 They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. 38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? 39 And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized: 40 But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared. 41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John. 42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are

Matthew 20:17-28.

17 And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them, 18 Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, 19 And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again. 20 Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him. 21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom. 22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able. 23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. 26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; 27 And whosoever will be chief among

Luke 18:31-34.

31 Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. 32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: 33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death; and the third day he shall rise again. 34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

(Mark 10:32-45.)

accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. 43 But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister: 44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. 45 For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

(Matthew 20:17-28.)

you, let him be your servant: 28 Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

137. Blind Bartimæus and Another Blind Man Healed at Jericho (Probably Between the Old and New Jericho West of the Jordan in Judea).

Mark 10:46-52.

46 And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway side begging. 47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. 48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. 49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee. 50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight. 52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

Matthew 20:29-34.

29 And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David. 31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

Luke 18:35-43.

35 And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: 36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant. 37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. 38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. 39 And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. 40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. 42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee. 43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

138. The Conversion of Zacchæus the Chief Publican at Jericho (New Jericho) and the Parable of the Pounds to Check the Wild Enthusiasm of the Multitude with Christ.

Luke 19:1-28.

1 And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. 2 And, behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. 3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature. 4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him; for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must abide at thy house. 6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. 8 And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. 9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham. 10 For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost. 11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear. 12 He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. 13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come. 14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us. 15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading. 16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds. 17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. 18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds. 19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities. 20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin: 21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. 22 And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow: 23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury? 24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds. 25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.) 26 For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. 27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me. 28 And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

PART XI.

THE CLOSING MINISTRY IN JERUSALEM

(Friday to Tuesday of Passion Week A. D. 30.)

139. Jesus at Bethany Near Jerusalem Friday Afternoon.

John 11:55–12:1, 9-11.

55 And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves. 56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast? 57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him. 1 Then Jesus six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead. . . . 9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; 11 Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

140. The Messianic Demonstration by Jesus with the Galilean Multitude in Defiance of the Sanhedrin from Bethany to the Temple and Back on Sunday.

Mark 11:1-11.

1 And when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples, 2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him. 3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye

Matthew 21:1-11, 14-17.

1 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, 2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any man say aught unto you,

Luke 19:29-44.

29 And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither. 31 And if any man ask you, Why

John 12:12-19.

12 On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. 14 And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, 15 Fear not, this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither. 4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met; and they loose him. 5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? 6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let him go. 7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him. 8 And many spread their garments in the way; and others cut down branches off the trees, and strewed them in the way. 9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: 10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest. 11 And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

(Mark 11:1-11.)

(Matthew 21:1-11, 14-17.)

ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, 5 Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. 6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, 7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. 8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest. 10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee. . . . 14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. 15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David; they were sore displeased, 16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? 17 And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany; and he lodged there.

(Luke 19:29-44.)

do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him. 32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them. 33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt? 34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him. 35 And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon. 36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way. 37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen; 38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest. 39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples. 40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out. 41 And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it. 42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. 43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

(John 12:12-19.)

daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. 16 These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. 17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record. 18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle. 19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

141. Cursing the Barren Fig Tree on the Way to the Temple Which Is Cleansed Again Amid the Enthusiasm of the Multitude (Monday).

Mark 11:12-18.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry: 13 And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. 14 And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it. 15 And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves; 16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple. 17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves. 18 And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

Matthew 21:18, 19, 12, 13.

18 Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he hungered. 19 And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. . . . 12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

Luke 19:45-48.

45 And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought; 46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves. 47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, 48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

142. The Desire of the Greeks to See Jesus (Monday) with the Agitation of Jesus and the Promise of Drawing All Men to Him by the Cross.

John 12:20-50.

20 And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast: 21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. 22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus. 23 And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. 25 He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. 26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour. 27 Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. 28 Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him. 30 Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. 31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. 32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. 33 This he said, signifying what death he should die. 34 The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? 39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, 40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. 41 These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. 42 Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: 43 For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God. 44 Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me. 45 And he that seeth me seeth him that sent me. 46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. 47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. 49 For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. 50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

143. The Discovery of the Withered Fig Tree (Tuesday Morning) on the Way to the Temple.

Mark 11:19-26.

19 And when even was come, he went out of the city. 20 And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots. 21 And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. 22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God. 23 For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith. 24 Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. 25 And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. 26 But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

Matthew 21:19-22.

19 And presently the fig tree withered away. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away! 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. 22 And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

Luke 21:37, 38.

37 And in the daytime he was teaching in the temple; and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives. 38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

144. Jesus Challenged in the Temple by a Committee of the Sanhedrin Who Are Completely Answered by a Counter-Question about the Baptism of John and by Three Parables (the Two Sons, the Wicked Husbandmen, the Marriage Feast of the King's Son).

Mark 11:27–12:12.

27 And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders, 28 And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things? 29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me. 31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? 32 But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all

Matthew 21:23–22:14.

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? 24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? 26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet. 27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We

Luke 20:1-19.

1 And it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders, 2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? 3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me: 4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? 5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not? 6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet. 7 And they an-men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed. 33 And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things. 1 And he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country. 2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard. 3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. 4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled. 5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some. 6 Having yet therefore one son, his well beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. 8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. 9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. 10 And have ye not read this Scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner: 11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes? 12 And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people; for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. 28 But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard. 29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went. 30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not. 31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you. 32 For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him. 33 Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country: 34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it. 35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. 36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise. 37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. 38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance. 39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him. 40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen? 41 They say unto him, He will swered, that they could not tell whence it was. 8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. 9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable; A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time. 10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. 11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. 12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out. 13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. 15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them? 16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid. 17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner? 18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. 19 And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

ye never read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes? 43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. 45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet. 1 And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said, 2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son, 3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come. 4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage. 5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise: 6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. 7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. 8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. 9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. 10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests. 11 And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: 12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are called, but few are chosen.

145. The Pharisees Send Some of Their Disciples (Students) with the Herodians to Catch Jesus with the Dilemma about Paying Tribute to Cæsar.

Mark 12:13-17.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words. 14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not? 15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it. 16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cesar's. 17 And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Cesar the things that are Cesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

Matthew 22:15-22.

15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk. 16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him, Cesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. 22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

Luke 20:20-26.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor. 21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly: 22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no? 23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me? 24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's. 25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's. 26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

146. The Sadducees Next Try Their Hand with a Stock Conundrum about the Resurrection with Which They Had Long Bothered the Pharisees.

Mark 12:18-27.

asked him, saying, 19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed. 21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise. 22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also. 23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. 24 And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God? 25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as the angels which are in heaven. 26 And as touching the dead, that they rise; have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

rection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother: 26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh. 27 And last of all the woman died also. 28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. 29 Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven. 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

urrection; and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children. 30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless. 31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died. 32 Last of all the woman died also. 33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife. 34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage: 35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: 36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. 37 Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. 38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him. 39 Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said. 40 And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

147. The Pharisees Muster Up Courage in Their Glee Over the Discomfiture of the Sadducees to Send a Lawyer with a Legal Inquiry.

Mark 12:28-34.

28 And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? 29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: 30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. 31 And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment

Matthew 22:34-40.

34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. 35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law? 37 Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the first and great commandment. 39 And the second is like unto it. Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

(Mark 12:28-34.)

greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he: 33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

148. Jesus Puts Them All to Silence by His Question about the Messiah being David's Son and David's Lord (Humanity and Deity).

Mark 12:35-37.

35 And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David? 36 For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. 37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

Matthew 22:41-46.

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. 43 He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? 45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? 46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Luke 20:41-44.

41 And he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son? 42 And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool. 44 David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

149. The Terrible Arraignment of the Pharisees by Jesus in His Last Public Discourse in the Temple.

Mark 12:38-40.

38 And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the marketplaces, 39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts: 40 Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

Matthew 23:1-39.

1 Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples, 2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: 3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not. 4 For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. 5 But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, 6 And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi. 8 But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. 9 And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. 10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. 11 But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. 12 And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted. 13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. 14 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. 15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one

Luke 20:45-47.

45 Then in the audience of all the people he said unto his disciples, 46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts; 47 Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

(Matthew 23:1-39.)

proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. 16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor! 17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold? 18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty. 19 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? 20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. 21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein. 22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon. 23. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 24 Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel. 25 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also. 27 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity. 29 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, 30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. 32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 33 Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell? 34 Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city: 35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation. 37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! 38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. 39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

150. Christ's Last Act in the Temple—His Comment on the Poor Widow's Contribution.

Mark 12:41-44.

41 And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. 42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing, 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury: 44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

Luke 21:1-4.

1 And he looked up, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury. 2 And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. 3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all: 4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said, 6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come,

(Mark 13:1-37.)

unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. 3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately, 4 Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled? 5 And Jesus answering them began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you: 6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. 7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet. 8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows. 9 But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. 10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations. 11 But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. 12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. 13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. 14 But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then

(Matthew 24:1-25:46.)

See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. 3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. 5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. 7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. 8 All these are the beginning of sorrows. 9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. 10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. 12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. 13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come. 15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand,) 16 Then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains: 17 Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house: 18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes. 19 And woe unto them that are with child, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. 7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass? 8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them. 9 But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by. 10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: 11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven. 12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. 13 And it shall turn to you for a testimony. 14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer: 15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist. 16 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death. 17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. 18 But there shall not a hair of your head perish. 19 In your patience possess ye your souls. 20 And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh. 21 Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto. 22 For these be the days of

(Luke 21:5-36.)

(Mark 13:1-37.)

let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains: 15 And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house: 16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment. 17 But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. 19 For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be. 20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days. 21 And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not: 22 For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. 23 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things. 24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, 25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken. 26 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven. 28 Now learn a parable of the fig tree: When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near: 29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors. 30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done. 31 Heaven and earth shall pass away:

(Matthew 24:1-25:46.)

and to them that give suck in those days! 20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day: 21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. 23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not. 24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect. 25 Behold, I have told you before. 26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not. 27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. 28 For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together. 29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. 32 Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh: 33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors. 34 Verily I say

(Luke 21:5-36.)

vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. 23 But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people. 24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 25 And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; 26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. 27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. 28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. 29 And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees; 30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. 31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. 32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled. 33 Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away. 34 And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. 35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth. 36 Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

(Mark 13:1-37.)

but my words shall not pass away. 32 But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father. 33 Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. 34 For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. 35 Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning: 36 Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping. 37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled. 35 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. 36 But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. 37 But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. 38 For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, 39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. 40 Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. 41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left. 42 Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. 43 But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up. 44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. 45 Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? 46 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 47 Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods. 48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; 49 And shall begin to smite his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; 50 The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of, 51 And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 1 Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish. 3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: 4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. 5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. 6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. 7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. 9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. 10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut. 11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us. 12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not. 13 Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh. 14 For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. 15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey. 16 Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents. 17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two. 18 But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. 19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. 20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more. 21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 22 He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beside them. 23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strewed: 25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine. 26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewed: 27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury. 28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents. 29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath. 30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: 32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: 33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. 34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: 35 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: 36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. 37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? 38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? 39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? 40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. 41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: 42 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: 43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. 44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? 45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. 46 And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

152. Jesus at Bethany Predicts His Death Two Days Hence (Jewish Friday) on Our Tuesday Evening (Jewish Wednesday).

Mark 14:1.

1 After two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread.

Matthew 26:1, 2.

1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, 2 Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

Luke 22:1.

1 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the passover.

153. The Postponement of the Plot of the Rulers Till After the Feast at a Meeting Tuesday Night in Jerusalem.

Mark 14:1, 2.

1 After two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death. 2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

Matthew 26:3-5.

3 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas, 4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. 5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

Luke 22:2.

2 And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

154. The Feast in Honor of Jesus at the House of Simon the Leper in Bethany with the Anointing of Jesus by Mary of Bethany.

Mark 14:3-9.

3 And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head. 4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made? 5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her. 6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me. 7 For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always. 8 She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying. 9 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

(Matthew 26:6-13.)

having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat. 8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? 9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor. 10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always. 12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial. 13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

him. 3 Then took Mary a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. 4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor? 6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein. 7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this. 8 For the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

155. The Bargain of Judas with the Sanhedrin (Tuesday Night).

Mark 14:10, 11.

10 And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them. 11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

Matthew 26:14-16.

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, 15 And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. 16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

Luke 22:3-6.

3 Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. 4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them. 5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. 6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

156. The Preparation of the Paschal Meal at the Home of a Friend in Jerusalem (Thursday Afternoon).

Mark 14:12-16.

12 And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover? 13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him. 14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith,

Matthew 26:17-19.

17 Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? 18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

Luke 22:7-13.

7 Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed. 8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat. 9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare? 10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in. 11 And ye shall say

(Mark 14:12-16.)

Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us. 16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready. 13 And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

157. The Jealousy of the Twelve at the Paschal Meal with Christ's Rebuke and Object Lesson by Washing Their Feet.

Luke 22:14-16, 24-30.

14 And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. 15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: 16 For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. .... 24 And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest. 25 And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors. 26 But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. 27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth. 28 Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. 29 And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me; 30 That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

John 13:1-17.

1 Now before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. 2 And supper being ended, the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him; 3 Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God; 4 He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself. 5 After that he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. 6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter. 8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. 9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. 10 Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all. 11 For he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean. 12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you? 13 Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. 14 If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet. 15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. 16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him. 17 If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

158. Pointing Out Judas at the Paschal Meal as the Betrayer.

John 13:18-30.

18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen:

(Mark 14:17-21.)
as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me. 19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I? 20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish. 21 The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

twelve. 21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. 22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I? 23 And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. 24 The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born. 25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

on the table. 22 And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed! 23 And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

(John 13:18-30.)
but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me. 19 Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he. 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. 22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. 23 Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. 24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake. 25 He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? 26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon. 27 And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly. 28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. 29 For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor. 30 He then, having received the sop, went immediately out; and it was night.

159. Warning the Disciples, and Peter in Particular, of Desertion After the Departure of Judas.

Mark 14:27-31.
27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. 28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee. 29 But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I. 30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. 31 But he

Ye shall seek me; and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you. 34 A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one

Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards. 37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake. 38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

160. The Institution of the Lord's Supper at the Close of the Paschal Meal.

Mark 14:22-25.
22 And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. 23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it. 24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many. 25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

Matthew 26:26-29.
26 And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. 27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; 28 For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. 29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

Luke 22:17-20.
17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: 18 For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come. 19 And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. 20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

I Co. 11:23-26.
23 For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: 24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 And after the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. 26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

161. The Farewell Discourse in the Upper Room.

John 14:1-31.

1 Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. 2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. 3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. 4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. 5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? 6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. 7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. 8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father? 10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. 11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake. 12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. 13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it. 15 If ye love me, keep my commandments. 16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; 17 Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. 19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also. 20 At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. 21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. 22 Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? 23 Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. 24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me. 25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. 26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. 27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. 28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I. 29 And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe. 30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me. 31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

162. The Discourse Continued After Leaving the Upper Room. John 15:1–16:33.

1 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. 2 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. 3 Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. 4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. 5 I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing. 6 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. 7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. 8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. 9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love. 10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. 11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. 12 This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. 13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. 14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. 15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. 16 Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. 17 These things I command you, that ye love one another. 18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. 19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. 20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me. 22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; but now they have no cloak for their sin. 23 He that hateth me hateth my Father also. 24 If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. 25 But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause. 26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me: 27 And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

1 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. 2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. 3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. 4 But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. 5 But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? 6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. 8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: 9 Of sin, because they believe not on me; 10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; 11 Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. 12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. 13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come. 14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. 15 All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you. 16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. 17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? 18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith. 19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me? 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. 21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. 22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. 23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. 24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full. 25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father. 26 At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: 27 For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. 28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father. 29 His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb. 30 Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God. 31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? 32 Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. 33 These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

163. The Intercessory Prayer of Jesus.
John 17:1-26.

1 These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: 2 As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. 3 And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. 4 I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. 5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. 6 I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word. 7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee. 8 For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me. 9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. 10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. 11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. 12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the Scripture might be fulfilled. 13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves. 14 I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. 15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. 16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. 17 Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth. 18 As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. 19 And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. 20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; 21 That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. 22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: 23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me. 24 Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. 25 O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. 26 And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

164. The Struggle in the Garden of Gethsemane and Christ's Victory Over Temptation.

Mark 14:26, 32-42.

26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. . . . 32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray. 33 And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy; 34 And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch. 35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. 36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt. 37 And he cometh,

Matthew 26:30, 36-46.

30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. . . . 36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. 37 And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy. 38 Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me. 39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. 40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What,

Luke 22:39-46.

39 And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him. 40 And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation. 41 And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done. 43 And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him. 44 And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. 45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found

John 18:1.

1 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

(Mark 14:26, 32-42.)
and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour? 38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak. 39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words. 40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him. 41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

(Matthew 26:30, 36-46.)
could ye not watch with me one hour? 41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done. 43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words. 45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

(Luke 22:39-46.)
them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

PART XIII.

THE CAPTURE, CONDEMNATION, AND CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST

(Thursday Night and Friday and Saturday of Passion Week.)

165. The Betrayal of Jesus by Judas, Arrest by the Soldiers, and Desertion by the Apostles in the Garden of Gethsemane (Friday after Midnight).

Mark 14:43-52.

43 And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely. 45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him. 46 And

Matthew 26:47-56.

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; hold him fast. 49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and

Luke 22:47-53.

47 And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. 48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? 49 When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword? 50 And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. 51

John 18:2-12.

2 And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples. 3 Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye? 5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus they laid their hands on him, and took him. 47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me? 49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled. 50 And they all forsook him, and fled. 51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him: 52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

(Mark 14:43-52.)

(Matthew 26:47-56.)

laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear. 52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. 53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels? 54 But how then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? 55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me. 56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

(Luke 22:47-53.)

And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him. 52 Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves? 53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

(John 18:2-12.)

saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them. 6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground. 7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: 9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none. 10 Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. 11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it? 12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him.

166. The Preliminary Examination of Jesus by Annas the Ex-High Priest in the Residence of Caiaphas His Son-in-law. John 18:13, 14, 19-23.

13 And led him away to Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year. 14 Now Caiaphas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. . . . 19 The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine. 20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing. 21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said. 22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? 23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

the elders and the scribes. . . . 55 And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none. 56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together. 57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. 59 But neither so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? 62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. 63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses? 64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. 65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

scribes and the elders were assembled. . . . 59 Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death; 60 But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, 61 And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 63 But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. 66 What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death. 67 Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands, 68 Saying, Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

168. Peter's Three Denials of His Lord During the Stages of the Jewish Trial in the Court of the House of Caiaphas.

Mark 14:54, 66-72.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire. . . . 66 And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest: 67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. 68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. 69 And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. 70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto. 71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

Matthew 26:58, 69-75.

58 But Peter followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end. . . . 69 Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man. 73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy speech betrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

Luke 22:54-62.

54 Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off. 55 And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them. 56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him. 57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not. 58 And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him; for he is a Galilean. 60 And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. 61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. 62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

John 18:15-18, 25-27.

15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest. 16 But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. 17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. 18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals, for it was cold; and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself. . . . 25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not. 26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? 27 Peter then denied again; and immediately the cock crew.

169. The Formal Ratification of the Condemnation of Jesus by the Sanhedrin After Dawn (Friday) in the House of Caiaphas.

Mark 15:1.

1 And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

Matthew 27:1.

1 When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.

Luke 22:66-71.

66 And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying, 67 Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe: 68 And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go. 69 Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God. 70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am. 71 And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

170. The Remorse and Suicide of Judas the Traitor.

Matthew 27:3-10.

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. 9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value; 10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

Acts 1:18, 19.

18 Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. 19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called, in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

171. The First Appearance of Jesus Before Pilate in the Palace (Early Friday Morning).

Mark 15:2-5.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing. 4 And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee. 5 But Jesus yet answered nothing; so that Pilate marvelled.

Matthew 27:2,11-14.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor. . . . 11 And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. 12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. 13 Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? 14 And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

Luke 23:1-5.

1 And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying that he himself is Christ a king. 3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it. 4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man. 5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

John 18:28-38.

28 Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover. 29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man? 30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee. 31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 32 That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die. 33 Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me? 35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? 36 Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. 37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice. 38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all.

(John 18:28-38.)

172. Jesus Sent to Herod Antipas the Tetrarch of Galilee and Perea in Jerusalem (Early Friday Morning).

Luke 23:6-12.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. 7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. 8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. 9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. 11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate. 12 And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

173. Jesus Before Pilate the Second Time with the Surrender to the Demand of the Sanhedrin for Christ's Death (Friday About Sunrise, John 19:14).

Mark 15:6-15.

6 Now at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired. 7 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection. 8 And the multitude crying aloud began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them. 9 But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy. 11 But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify

Matthew 27:15-26.

15 Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him. 19 When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him. 20 But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye

Luke 23:13-25.

13 And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, 14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people; and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: 15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him. 16 I will therefore chastise him, and release him. 17 (For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.) 18 And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: 19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.) 20 Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again

John 18:39–19:16.

39 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 40 Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber. 1 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. 2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe, 3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands. 4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him. 5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man! 6 When the chief priests there-that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. 23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified. 24 When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it. 25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children. 26 Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

to them. 21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. 22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go. 23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed. 24 And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required. 25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

(John 18:39-19:16)

fore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. 7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid; 9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer. 10 Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? 11 Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. 12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar. 13 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. 14 And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King! 15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cesar. 16 Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

174. The Mocking of Jesus by the Soldiers Between Six and Nine A.M.

Mark 15:16-19.

16 And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium; and they call together the whole band. 17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews! 19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.

Matthew 27:27-30.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. 28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. 29 And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! 30 And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus. 27 And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him. 28 But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. 29 For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. 30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in a dry? 32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death. 33 And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

Mark 15:24-32.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. 25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. 28 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors. 29 And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, 30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross. 31 Likewise also the chief priests

Matthew 27:35-44.

35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots. 36 And sitting down they watched him there; 37 And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left. 39 And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, 40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God. 36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself. 38 And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS

John 19:18-27.

18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. 19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. 20 This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin. 21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews. 22 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written. 23 Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; an mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. 43 He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God. 44 The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

IS THE KING OF THE JEWS. 39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us. 40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? 41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss. 42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. 43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did. 25 Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. 26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son! 27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

177. The Three Hours of Darkness (Noon to Three P.M.) with Four More Sayings and the Death of Christ on the Cross (Three P.M.).

Mark 15:33-37.
33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? 35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias. 36 And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him

Matthew 27:45-50.
45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? 47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias. 48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. 49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will

Luke 23:44-46.
44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour. 45 And the sun was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst. 46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

John 19:28-30.
28 After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst. 29 Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth. 30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

down. 37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

come to save him. 50 Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

178. The Phenomena Attending the Death of Christ.

Mark 15:38-41.

38 And the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. 39 And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God. 40 There were also women looking on afar off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome; 41 Who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him; and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

Matthew 27:51-56.

51 And, behold, the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent; 52 And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. 54 Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God. 55 And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: 56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children.

Luke 23:45, 47-49.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst. . . . 47 Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. 48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned. 49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

179. The Preparation and Burial of the Body of Jesus in the Tomb of Joseph of Arimathea Near Golgotha (After Three P.M. Friday) with the Watching of the Women and Preparation of Spices Before the Sabbath Began (Six P.M.).

Mark 15:42-47.

42 And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead. 45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph. 46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped

Matthew 27:57-61.

57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: 58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. 59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed. 61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

Luke 23:50-56.

50 And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just: 51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them:) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; who also himself waited for the kingdom of God. 52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid. 54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on. 55 And the women

John 19:31-42.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. 32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. 33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: 34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water. 35

(Mark 15:42-47.)
him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre. 47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

(Luke 23:50-56.)
also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid. 56 And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day according to the commandment.

(John 19:31-42.)
And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe. 36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken. 37 And again another Scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced. 38 And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus. 39 And there came also Nicodemus, (which at the first came to Jesus by night,) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. 40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury. 41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. 42 There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

180. The Women Rest on the Sabbath (Beginning Six P.M.) and the Pharisees Have a Guard of Roman Soldiers Placed at the Tomb of Jesus with the Roman Seal on the tomb

Matthew 27:62-66.

62 Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I will rise again. 64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first. 65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye can. 66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

Luke 23:56.

56 And rested the sabbath day according to the commandment.

PART XIV.

CHRIST'S RESURRECTION, APPEARANCES DURING THE FORTY DAYS AND ASCENSION

(Spring of A.D. 30 or 29 in Judea and Galilee.)

181. The Visit of the Women to the Tomb Late on the Sabbath and the Purchase of Spices After the Sabbath Was Past (After Six P.M. Saturday).

Mark 16:1.

1 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

Matthew 28:1.

1 In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

182. The Earthquake, the Rolling Away of the Stone, and the Fright of the Guard (Before Sunrise on Sunday).

Matthew 28:2-4.

2 And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. 3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow: 4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

183. The Visit of the Women to the Empty Tomb and the Message of the Angels (About Sunrise Sunday Morning).

Mark 16:2-8.

2 And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun. 3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away

Matthew 28:5-8.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. 6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place

Luke 24: 1-8.

1 Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. 2

John 20:1.

1 The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

(Mark 16:2-8.)
the stone from the door of the sepulchre? 4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great. 5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted. 6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. 7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you. 8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

(Matthew 28:5-8.)
where the Lord lay. 7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

(Luke 24:1-8.)
And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. 3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. 4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: 5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? 6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, 7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. 8 And they remembered his words.

184. The Visit of Peter and John to the Empty Tomb in Response to the Story of Mary and of the Other Women.

John 20:2-10.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. 3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. 4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. 5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in. 6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie, 7 And the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself. 8 Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed. 9 For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. 10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

Luke 24:9-12.

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest. 10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles. 11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not. 12 Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

185. The Appearance of Jesus to Mary Magdalene with the Message to the Disciples (On Sunday).

Mark 16:9-11.

9 Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils. 10 And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept. 11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

John 20:11-18.

11 But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. 13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. 14 And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. 15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. 16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master. 17 Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God. 18 Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

(John 20:11-18.)

186. The Appearance of Jesus to the Other Women with the Message to the Disciples (On Sunday).

Matthew 28:9, 10.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him. 10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

187. The Report of the Guard to the Jewish Rulers.

Matthew 28:11-15.

11 Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done. 12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. 14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you. 15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

188. The Appearance to the Two Disciples on the Way to Emmaus (Sunday Afternoon).

Mark 16:12, 13.

12 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country. 13 And they went and told it unto the residue: neither believed they them.

Luke 24:13-32.

13 And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about three-score furlongs. 14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened. 15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. 16 But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. 17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad? 18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? 19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: 20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him. 21 But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done. 22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre; 23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. 24 And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. 25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: 26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? 27 And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. 28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further. 29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. 30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. 31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight. 32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures?

189. The Report of the Two Disciples and the Appearance to Simon Peter in Jerusalem.

Luke 24:33-35.

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the

I Cor. 15:5.

5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.

(Luke 24:33-35.)

eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. 35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

190. The Appearance to the Company of Disciples Sunday Night (Thomas Absent) in Jerusalem with a Commission from Jesus.

Mark 16:14.

14 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

Luke 24:36-43.

36 And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. 37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit. 38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? 39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. 40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet. 41 And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat? 42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a honeycomb. 43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

John 20:19-23.

19 Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. 20 And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord. 21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. 22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: 23 Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.

191. Failure of the Disciples to Convince Thomas of the Resurrection of Jesus.

John 20:24, 25.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

192. The Appearance to the Disciples the Next Sunday Night in Jerusalem and the Convincing of Thomas.

John 20:26-31.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. 27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing. 28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. 29 Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. 30 And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book: 31 But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

I Cor. 15:5.

5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.

193. The Appearance to the Seven Disciples by the Sea of Galilee and the Testing of Simon.

John 21.

1 After these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he himself. 2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. 3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing. 4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. 5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No. 6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. 7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. 8 And the other disciples came in a little ship, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes. 9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread. 10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught. 11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. 12 Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. 13 Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise. 14 This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead. 15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. 16 He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. 17 He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. 18 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. 19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me. 20 Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee? 21 Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? 22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. 23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? 24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true. 25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

194. The Appearance by Appointment to the Apostles and Five Hundred Others on a Mountain in Galilee with a Commission from Jesus.

Mark 16:15-18.

15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. 16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. 17 And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; 18 They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

Matthew 28:16-20.

16 Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. 19 Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: 20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

I Cor. 15:6.

6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

195. The Appearance to James the Brother of Jesus.

I Cor. 15:7.

7 After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.

196. The Appearance to All the Apostles with a Commission from Jesus.

Luke 24:44-49.

44 And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. 45 Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures, 46 And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: 47 And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. 48 And ye are witnesses of these things. 49 And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

Acts 1:3-8.

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God: 4 And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me. 5 For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. 6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel? 7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. 8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

I Cor. 15:7.

7 After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.

197. The Ascension (Probably Olivet Near Bethany).

Mark 16:19.

19 So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

Luke 24:50, 51.

50 And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

Acts 1:9-11.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. 10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; 11 Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

198. The Joyful Worship of the Risen Christ.

Mark 16:20.

20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

Luke 24:52, 53.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: 53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

Acts 1:12.

12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath day's journey.

THE INTERWOVEN GOSPELS
OR THE FOUR-IN-ONE GOSPEL

BY WILLIAM M. REESE

FOREWORD

THE four Gospels form one history of the life of our Lord Jesus Christ. The best "Harmony of the Gospels" can only arrange them for parallel reading. The purpose of this Interwoven Gospel is to interweave the four Gospels into one, omitting nothing recorded in the four, and repeating nothing. At such a task did the late Dr. William M. Reese labor during a period of seven years.

His work is based upon the original Greek text, following closely the Authorized Version, occasionally using the Revised, very rarely departing from both. Faithfulness to the original, and clearness, have alike been kept in mind as obligatory and essential. Every detail given by any of the Gospel writers, has been interwoven into this one, complete, "Four-in-One" Gospel narrative.

Dr. Reese having passed away upon the completion of his manuscript, without having had an opportunity of re-reading and verifying his work, we count ourselves fortunate in having been able to arrange with Dr. Finis K. Farr, Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, to carefully review the manuscript, thus completing Dr. Reese's "labor of love."

In reviewing and verifying, Dr. Farr used the Authorized and Revised Versions, the Twentieth Century Version, The New Testament Version of Moffat, a Greek Harmony, an English Harmony, the Greek Testament, and quite a number of lexicons, commentaries and appropriate standard reference works.

May THE INTERWOVEN GOSPELS add much to an interest in and a knowledge of the life and teachings of Jesus; may it lead many to prize more highly, to read and study more faithfully the Gospels themselves; may it add much to the power of the Gospel unto salvation; may it impress the one gospel message they all contain; may all see anew in THE INTERWOVEN GOSPELS, THE IRRESISTIBLE CHRIST!

THE INTERWOVEN GOSPELS

Or

THE FOUR-IN-ONE GOSPEL

MATTHEW'S TITLE (Mat. 1:1):—The Book of the Generation of Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham.

LUKE'S PREFACE (Lu. 1:1-4):—Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a narrative of the things that have been fully accomplished among us, even as they delivered them to us, who from the beginning were eye-witnesses and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having accurately traced out all things from the first, to write unto thee an orderly account, most excellent Theophilus, that thou mightest fully know the certainty of the things wherein thou wast instructed.

JOHN'S INTRODUCTION (Jno. 1:1-18):—In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made through Him; and without Him was not even one thing made that has been made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness apprehended it not.

There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, that he might testify of the Light, that all might believe through him. He was not the Light, but came that he might testify of the Light. The true Light, that lighteth every man, was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, and the world knew Him not. He came to His own, and His own received Him not; But as many as received Him, He gave to them the right to become children of God—to them that believe in His name: who were born, not of human blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth; and we beheld His glory—glory as of an Only Begotten from a Father.

John testifieth of Him, and cried, saying: "This was He of whom I said, 'He that cometh after me hath become before me;' because He was before me; for from His fullness we all received, and grace upon grace."

For the law was given through Moses; the grace and the truth came through Jesus Christ. No man ever yet saw God; but the Only Begotten Son, Who is ever with the Father, He hath revealed Him.

THE ANNUNCIATIONS

ANNUNCIATION OF JOHN THE BAPTIST (Lu. 1:5-25):—There was in the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest, Zachariah by name, of the course of Abijah; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren; and they both were advanced in their days.

Now it came to pass, in performing his priestly service in the order of his course before God, that according to the custom of the priest's office, it fell to his lot to enter into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right of the altar of incense. And Zachariah, seeing him, was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said to him, "Fear not, Zachariah, for thy supplication was heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink at all, and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. And many of the sons of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. And he shall go forth before His face in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of fathers to their children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous—to make ready for the Lord a people fully prepared." And Zachariah said to the angel, "By what them concerning this little Child. And all who heard wondered at the things told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept in mind all these sayings, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all that they had heard and seen, even as it was told them.

JESUS CIRCUMCISED AND NAMED (Mat. 1:25; Lu. 2:21):—And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising Him, His name was called JESUS, the name which He was given by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

THE GENEALOGIES OF JESUS

(1) HIS LEGAL GENEALOGY THROUGH JOSEPH (Mat. 1:2-17):—Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and his brothers; and Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat Hezron; and Hezron begat Ram; and Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; and Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; and Jesse begat David the king.

And David begat Solomon of the widow of Uriah; and Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat Asa; and Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Uzziah; and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat Amon; and Amon begat Josiah; and Josiah begat Jechoniah and his brethren, at the removal to Babylon.

And after the removal to Babylon, Jechoniah begat Shealtiel; and Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; and Azor begat Zadoc; and Zadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, Who is called Christ.

Therefore, all the generations from Abraham to David were fourteen generations; and from David to the removal to Babylon, fourteen generations; and from the removal to Babylon to the Christ, fourteen generations.

(2) THE REAL GENEALOGY OF JESUS THROUGH MARY HIS MOTHER (Lu. 3:23-38):—Jesus was, as was supposed, a son of Joseph, the son-in-law of Heli, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph, the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai, the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri, the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmadam, the son of Er, the son of Jesus, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Symeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eliakim, the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David, the son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, the son of Nahshon, the son of Amminadab, the son of Arni, the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, the son of Judah, the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nahor, the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah, the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech, the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaleel, the son of Cainan, the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

THE INFANT JESUS IN THE TEMPLE (Lu. 2:22-38):—And when the days of their purification, according to the law of Moses, were fulfilled, they brought Him to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord: "Every male that openeth a womb shall be called holy to the Lord"), and to offer sacrifice according to what is said in the law of the Lord: "A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons."

And behold there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Spirit was upon him. And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death before he should have seen the Lord's Christ. And he came in the spirit into the temple, and when the parents brought in the little child Jesus, that they might do for Him according to the custom of the law, he then received Him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,

[THE SONG OF SIMEON.]

"Now dismiss Thy bondservant, Master,
In peace according to Thy word;
For my eyes have seen Thy Salvation,
Which Thou hast prepared before the face of all the peoples,
A Light for a revelation to the nations,
And a glory to Thy people Israel."

And His father and mother were wondering at the things spoken concerning Him. And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary His mother, "Behold, this Child is set for the fall and rising up of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against (and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also), that thoughts may be revealed out of many hearts."

And there was Anna, a prophetess, a daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was advanced in many days, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, and having been a widow up to eighty-four years; who departed not from the temple, serving night and day with fastings and prayers. And coming up in that same hour, she gave praise to God and spake concerning Him to all those waiting for the redemption of Jerusalem.

VISIT OF THE MAGI (Mat. 2:1-12):—Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judæa, in the days of Herod the king, behold, Magi from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For in the east we saw His star, and we are come to worship Him."

But Herod the king, hearing it, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born. Then they said to him, "In Bethlehem of Judæa; for thus it is written through the prophet:

'And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,
Art by no means least among the princes of Judah;
For out of thee shall come forth a Governor
Who shall shepherd my people Israel.' "

Then Herod, having privately called the Magi, ascertained accurately from them the time of the star's appearing. And sending them to Bethlehem, he said, "Go, and inquire carefully about the little Child; and when ye have found Him, bring word back to me, that I also, may come and do homage to Him." Then they, having heard the king, went on their way, and behold, the star which they saw in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the little Child was. Now when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And coming into the house, they saw the little Child with Mary His mother, and falling down, they worshipped Him. And opening their treasures, they presented to Him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being divinely warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed by another way into their own country.

THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT (Mat. 2:13-15):—Now when they had departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, "Arise, take with thee the little Child and His mother and flee into Egypt, and be there until I tell thee; for Herod is about to seek the little Child to destroy Him." Then he arose and took with him the little Child and His mother, by night, and departed into Egypt, and was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, "Out of Egypt I called my son."

MASSACRE OF THE LITTLE CHILDREN BY HEROD (Mat. 2:16-18):—Then Herod, seeing that he was mocked by the Magi, was exceedingly enraged; and he sent forth and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem and in all her borders, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had accurately ascertained from the Magi. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

"A voice was heard in Ramah,
Weeping and great mourning;
Rachel weeping for her children,
And not willing to be comforted,
Because they are not."

JOSEPH AND FAMILY RETURN TO NAZARETH (Mat. 2:19-23; Lu. 2:39, 40):—But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, "Arise, take with thee the little Child and His mother, and go into the land of Israel; for they are dead who sought the life of the little Child." Then he arose and took with him the little Child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. But hearing that Archelaus reigns over Judæa instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; moreover being divinely warned in a dream, and having performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into the region of Galilee, and came and dwelt in their own city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets: "He shall be called a Nazarene."

Now the little Child grew and became strong, being filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him.

THE CHILD JESUS VISITS JERUSALEM (Lu. 2:41-52):—Now His parents used to go every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover. And when He was twelve years old, they went up according to the custom of the feast. And having fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the Boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and His parents knew it not, but supposing Him to be in the company, they went a day's journey, and sought Him among their kindred and their acquaintance. And not finding Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking diligently for Him. And it came to pass, after three days, they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and asking them questions. Now all those who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers. And when they saw Him they were amazed; and His mother said to Him, "Child, why didst Thou do so to us? Behold, Thy father and I, greatly distressed, were seeking Thee." And He said to them, "Why is it that ye were seeking Me? did ye not know that I must be at My Father's work?" And they understood not the saying which He spake to them. And He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them. And His mother kept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

THE FORERUNNER: PREPARATION FOR JESUS' MINISTRY

JOHN PREACHES AND BAPTIZES PENITENTS (Mat. 3:1-12; Mk. 1:1-8; Lu. 3:1-18):—The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ the Son of God.

Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judæa, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip, his brother, being tetrarch of Ituræa and of the province of Trachonitis, and Lysanias being tetrarch of Abilene, in the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John the Baptist, the son of Zachariah, in the wilderness. Then, in those days, he came into all the country adjacent to the Jordan, in the wilderness of Judæa, preaching the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins, saying, "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven has come near." For this is he that was spoken of through the prophet, even as it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, saying,

"Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face,
Who shall prepare Thy way;
A voice of one crying in the wilderness,
'Prepare the way of the Lord,
Make straight His paths.'
Every ravine shall be filled up,
And every mountain and hill shall be made low;
And the crooked shall become straight ways,
And the rough become smooth ways;
And all flesh shall see the salvation of God."

Now John himself was clothed in camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; also his food was locusts and wild honey; and he baptized in the wilderness.

At that time there went out to him all they of Jerusalem, and all the country of Judæa, and all the region of the Jordan, and they were baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins. But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, in the crowds coming out to be baptized by him, he said to them, "Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? Bring forth, therefore, fruits worthy of repentance; and do not begin or think to say within yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father': for I say unto you, that God is able out of these stones to raise up children to Abraham. But even now the axe also is lying at the root of the trees; therefore every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and cast into the fire."

And the common people asked him, saying, "What, then, must we do?" Then he, answering, said to them, "He that hath two coats, let him share with him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise." Then came also publicans to be baptized; and they said to him, "Teacher, what must we do?" Then he said to them, "Exact nothing more than that which is appointed you." Then soldiers also asked him, saying, "What must we also do?" And he said to them, "Do violence to no one, neither accuse anyone falsely; and be content with your wages."

Now as the people were in expectation, and all were reasoning in their hearts concerning John, whether indeed he himself were the Christ, John answered and preached, saying, "I indeed baptize you in water unto repentance; but He that cometh after me is mightier than I, Whose sandals I am not fit to carry; of Whom, even the latchet of His sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose: He shall baptize you in the Holy Spirit and fire: Whose winnowing-fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly cleanse His threshing-floor and will gather His wheat into His garner, but the chaff He will consume with fire unquenchable." Then also with many other exhortations he preached the gospel to the people.

JOHN THE BAPTIST BAPTIZES JESUS (Mat. 3:13-17; Mk. 1:9-11; Lu. 3:21-23):—Now it came to pass in those days, when all the people were baptized, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptized by him. But John earnestly restrained Him, saying, "I have need to be baptized by Thee, and dost Thou come to me?" But Jesus answering said to him, "Allow it now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he alloweth Him. Now Jesus having been baptized by John in the Jordan, and coming up immediately out of the water and praying, behold, He saw the heavens rent asunder and opened to Him, and the Spirit of God descending in a bodily form like a dove and coming upon Him; and lo, a voice came out of the heavens, saying, "Thou art My beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased." And Jesus Himself was beginning to be about thirty years old.

JESUS TEMPTED BY THE DEVIL (Mat. 4:1-11; Mk. 1:12, 13; Lu. 4:1-13):—Then Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan. And immediately the Spirit driveth Him forth into the wilderness, to be tempted by the devil. And He was in the wilderness forty days, tempted by Satan; and He was with the wild beasts. Moreover in those days He ate nothing. And having fasted forty days and forty nights, He was afterwards, when they were ended, very hungry. And the devil, coming near, said to Him, "If Thou art the Son of God, speak, that these stones may become loaves." But Jesus, answering, said to him, "It is written, 'Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.'"

Then the devil taketh Him into the holy city, Jerusalem; and he placed Him upon the summit of the temple and said to Him, "If Thou art the Son of God, cast Thyself down from hence; for it is written,

'He shall command His angels concerning
Thee, to protect Thee,
And upon their hands they shall bear
Thee,
Lest perhaps Thou dash Thy foot against a stone.'"

And Jesus answering said to him, "Again it is written, 'Thou shalt not try the Lord thy God.'"

Again the devil taketh Him into an exceedingly high mountain, and showeth Him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory, in a moment of time. And the devil said to Him, "To Thee will I give all this authority and their glory; because to me it hath been delivered, and to whomsoever I will I give it. If Thou, therefore, wilt fall down and worship before me, all shall be Thine." Then saith Jesus to him, "Begone, Satan! for it is written, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him alone shalt thou serve.'" And having finished every temptation, the devil departed from Him until another opportune time; and behold, the angels came and ministered to Him.

JOHN TESTIFIES TO JESUS (Jno. 1:19-34):—This also is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites to him from Jerusalem to inquire of him, "Who art thou?" And he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, "I am not the Christ." And they asked him, "What then? Art thou Elijah?" And he saith, "I am not." "Art thou the Prophet?" And he answered, "No." They said therefore to him, "Who art thou? that we may give an answer to those who sent us. What sayest thou concerning thyself?" He said, "I am 'a voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord,' as said Isaiah the prophet." Now they had been sent from the Pharisees. And they asked him, and said to him, "Why, then, dost thou baptize, if thou art not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?" John answered them, saying, "I baptize in water: but in the midst of you standeth He whom ye know not: the One coming after me, of Whom I am not worthy to loose the latchet of His sandal." These things occurred at Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

On the morrow, he seeth Jesus coming to him, and saith, "Behold the Lamb of God, Who taketh away the sin of the world. This is He of Whom I said, 'After me cometh a Man Who hath taken precedence of me; because He was before me.' And I knew Him not; but that He should be manifested to Israel, therefore I came baptizing in water." And John testified, saying, "I saw the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven, and it abode upon Him. And I knew Him not; but He Who sent me to baptize in water, the same said to me, 'Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending and abiding upon Him, the same is He who baptizeth in the Holy Spirit.' And I have seen, and have testified that this is the Son of God."

JESUS MAKES HIS FIRST DISCIPLES AND RETURNS TO GALILEE (Jno. 1:35:51):—Again on the morrow, John was standing, and two of his disciples; and looking upon Jesus as He walked along, he saith, "Behold the Lamb of God!" And the two disciples heard him speak, and followed Jesus. Then Jesus turned and beheld them following, and saith to them, "What seek ye?" Then they said to Him, "Rabbi" (which is to say, being translated, Teacher), "where abidest Thou?" He saith to them, "Come, and ye shall see." They went, therefore, and saw where He abode; and they abode with Him that day: it was about the tenth hour.

Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard this from John and followed Him. He findeth first his own brother Simon and saith to him, "We have found the Messiah" (which is, being translated, the Christ). He brought him to Jesus. Jesus, looking upon him, said, "Thou art Simon, the son of John; thou shalt be called Cephas" (which is translated, Peter).

On the morrow, He desired to go forth into Galilee; and He findeth Philip, and Jesus saith to him, "Follow me." Now Philip was of Bethsaida, from the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth Nathanael and saith to him, "We have found Him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, wrote: Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael said to him, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Philip saith to him, "Come and see." Jesus saw Nathanael coming to Him, and saith of him, "Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile." Nathanael saith to him,

"How knowest Thou me?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee." Nathanael answered Him, "Rabbi, Thou art the Son of God; Thou art King of Israel." Jesus answered and said to him, "Because I said to thee, 'I saw thee beneath the fig-tree,' believest thou? Greater things than these shalt thou see." And He saith to him, "Verily, verily, I say to you, ye shall see the heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man."

MARRIAGE AT CANA: JESUS' FIRST MIRACLE (Jno. 2:1-12):—Now on the third day, there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. And Jesus also was invited, and His disciples, to the marriage. And the wine having failed, the mother of Jesus saith to Him, "They have no wine." Jesus saith to her, "Woman, what dost thou want of Me? My hour is not yet come." His mother saith to the servants, "Whatsoever He saith to you, do it." Now there were six waterpots of stone placed there, in conformity with the purification customs of the Jews, each holding two or three firkins. Jesus saith to them, "Fill the waterpots with water." And they filled them to the brim. And He saith to them, "Draw out now, and bear to the ruler of the feast." And they bore it to him. Now when the ruler of the feast tasted the water that had become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom and saith to him, "Every man setteth on the good wine first; and when they have drunk freely, then the inferior: thou hast kept the good wine till now." This beginning of His signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and manifested His glory; and His disciples believed on Him.

After this, He went down to Capernaum, He and His mother and His brothers and His disciples, and they abode there not many days.

FIRST PASSOVER; CLEANSING THE TEMPLE (Jno. 2:13-25):—And the passover of the Jews was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. And He found in the temple those selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money-changers sitting there. And having made a whip of cords, He drove all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen, and He poured out the coin and overturned the tables of the money-changers; and to those who sold the doves, He said, "Take these things hence; make not the house of My Father a market-house." His disciples remembered that it is written, "The zeal of Thy house shall consume me." The Jews therefore answered and said to Him, "What sign showest Thou to us, since Thou doest these things?" Jesus answered and said to them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up." Then said the Jews, "Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt Thou raise it up in three days?" But He spake of the temple of His body. When, therefore, He was risen from the dead, His disciples remembered that He spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus said.

Now while He was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed in His name, when they saw His signs which He did. Nevertheless Jesus did not trust Himself to them, because He knew all men, and because He had no need that any one should testify about man, for He Himself knew what was in man.

JESUS AND NICODEMUS (Jno. 3:1-21):—Now there was a man of the Pharisees, whose name was Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. This man came to Him by night and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that Thou art come a Teacher from God; for no one is able to do these signs which Thou art doing, unless God be with him." Jesus answered and said to him, "Verily, verily, I say to thee, unless one be born from above, he cannot see the Kingdom of God." Nicodemus saith to Him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?" Jesus answered, "Verily, verily, I say to thee, unless one be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God. That which hath been born of the flesh is flesh; and that which hath been born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not wonder that I said to thee, It is necessary for you to be born from above. The wind bloweth where it will, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but thou knowest not whence it cometh and whither it goeth: so is every one that hath been born of the Spirit." Nicodemus answered and said to Him, "How can these things be?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Art thou the teacher of Israel, and understandest not these things? Verily, verily, I say to thee, We speak that which We know, and testify that which We have seen; and ye receive not Our testimony. If I told you the earthly things and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you the heavenly things? And no one hath ascended into heaven, but He who descended out of heaven, the Son of man (Who is in the heaven). And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so it is necessary that the Son of Man be lifted up, that every one who believeth in Him may have everlasting life. For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that every one who believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world might be saved through Him.

He that believeth in Him is not judged; he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. Now this is the judgment, that the Light hath come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the Light; for their works were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the Light, and cometh not to the Light, that his works may not be exposed. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the Light, that his works may be made manifest, because they have been wrought in God."

JESUS AND JOHN BAPTIZING (Jno. 3:22-24):—After these things came Jesus and His disciples into the land of Judæa; and there He tarried with them and baptized. Now John also was baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there: and men came and were baptized. For John was not yet cast into prison.

AGAIN JOHN TESTIFIES TO JESUS (Jno. 3:25-36):—Then there arose from the disciples of John a dispute with a Jew about purification. And they came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou hast testified, behold, He is baptizing, and all are coming to Him." John answered and said, "A man can receive nothing unless it be given him from heaven. Ye yourselves testify of me, that I said, 'I am not the Christ, but, I am sent before Him.' He that hath the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the voice of the bridegroom: this my joy, therefore, is complete. He must increase, but I must decrease. He Who cometh from above is above all; he that is of the earth, is of the earth and speaketh of the earth: He that cometh from heaven is above all. What He hath seen and heard, that He testifieth; and no one receiveth His testimony. He that hath received His testimony, hath set his seal to it, for God is true. For He whom God sent, speaketh the words of God: for He giveth not the Spirit by measure. The Father loveth the Son and hath given all things into His hand. He that believeth in the Son hath everlasting life; but he that obeyeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him."

JOHN THE BAPTIST IMPRISONED (Mat. 14:3-5; Mk. 6:17-20; Lu. 3:19, 20):—Now Herod the Tetrarch, being reproved by John concerning Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip, and for all the evils which Herod had done, added this also to them all, that he sent forth and laid hold of John and bound him and put him in prison, for the sake of Herodias: because he had married her. For John said to Herod, "It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife." Then Herodias held it against him and desired to kill him, but she could not; for Herod, when he desired to put him to death, feared the multitude, because they held him as a prophet; also he feared John, knowing him to be a righteous and holy man: therefore he kept him safe; and when he heard him, he was much perplexed, and yet he heard him gladly.

JESUS LEAVES JUDÆA FOR GALILEE (Mat. 4:12; Mk. 1:14; Lu. 4:14; Jno. 4:1-4):—Now after John was delivered up, as the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John (although Jesus Himself was not baptizing, but His disciples), hearing that John was delivered up, He withdrew and went away again, and returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee. Now it was necessary for Him to pass through Samaria.

JESUS AT SYCHAR, SAMARIA (Jno. 4:5-44):—He cometh, therefore, to a city of Samaria called Sychar, near the portion of land that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus, therefore, being wearied from the journey, sat in that condition by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith to her, "Give Me to drink"; for His disciples had gone away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman therefore saith to Him, "How is it that Thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, being a Samaritan woman?" (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said to her, "If thou knewest the gift of God, and Who it is that saith to thee, 'Give Me to drink,' thou wouldst have asked Him, and He would have given thee living water." The woman saith to Him, "Sir, Thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep; whence, then, hast Thou that living water? Art Thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and himself drank of it, and his sons, and his cattle?" Jesus answered and said to her, "Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall thirst no more forever; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto everlasting life." The woman saith to Him, "Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come all the way hither to draw." Jesus saith to her, "Go, call thy husband, and come here." The woman answered and said, "I have no husband." Jesus saith to her, "Well didst thou say, 'I have no husband'; for thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this thou hast said truly." The woman saith to Him, "Sir, I perceive that Thou art a prophet.

Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where one must worship." Jesus saith to her, "Woman, believe Me, that an hour is coming when neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem shall ye worship the Father. Ye know not what ye worship; we know what we worship, because salvation is of the Jews. But an hour cometh and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father also seeketh for such to be His worshippers. God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him, must worship in spirit and truth." The woman saith to Him, "I know that Messiah is coming, Who is called Christ; when He cometh, He will tell us all things." Jesus saith to her, "I that speak to thee am He." And upon this came His disciples, and wondered that He was speaking with a woman. No one, however, said, "What seeketh thou?" or "Why speakest Thou with her?" Then the woman left her waterpot and went away into the city and saith to the men, "Come, see a man Who told me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ?" Then they went forth out of the city and came unto Him.

In the meantime, the disciples were entreating Him, saying, "Rabbi, eat." But He said to them, "I have food to eat that ye know not of." The disciples therefore said to one another, "Hath any one brought Him anything to eat?" Jesus saith to them, "My food is to do the will of Him Who sent Me, and finish His work. Do ye not say, 'It is yet four months and the harvest cometh'? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and see the fields, that they are already white for harvest. He that reapeth receiveth wages and gathereth fruit unto life everlasting, that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. For in this the saying is true: 'The sower is one, and the reaper another.' I sent you to reap that where ye have not toiled. Others have toiled and ye have entered into their toil."

Now many of the Samaritans from that city believed in Him through the statement of the woman, who testified: "He told me all things that ever I did." When, therefore, the Samaritans came to Him, they besought Him to abide with them; and He abode there two days. And many more believed because of His word, and said to the woman, "No longer do we believe because of thy report; for we ourselves have heard, and we know that this is truly the Savior of the world." Now after the two days, He departed thence into Galilee; for Jesus Himself testified, that a prophet hath no honor in his own country.

JESUS ARRIVES IN GALILEE AND BEGINS TO PREACH (Mat. 4:17; Mk. 1:14, 15; Jno. 4:45):—When, therefore, He came into Galilee, the Galileans received Him, having seen all that He did in Jerusalem during the feast; for they also went to the feast. From that time Jesus began to preach the gospel of God, and to say, "The time hath been fulfilled and the Kingdom of God hath drawn near; repent ye, and believe in the gospel."

JESUS AT CANA, HEALS THE SON OF A NOBLEMAN OF CAPERNAUM (Jno. 4:46-54; Lu. 4:14, 15):—Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. Now there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick in Capernaum. He, having heard that Jesus had come out of Judæa into Galilee, went to Him and entreated Him that He would come down and heal his son; for he was about to die. Jesus said, therefore, to him, "Unless ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe." The nobleman saith to Him, "Sir, come down before my little child die." Jesus saith to him, "Go thy way; thy son liveth." The man believed the word which Jesus spake to him, and went his way. Now as he was already going down, his servants met him and brought word, saying that his child liveth. He therefore inquired of them the hour in which he got better. Then they said to him, "Yesterday, at the seventh hour, the fever left him." So the father knew that it was that hour in which Jesus said to him, "Thy son liveth." And he himself believed and his whole house. This again is a second sign Jesus did after coming out of Judæa into Galilee. And a report concerning Him went out through all the surrounding country. And He taught in their synagogues, being praised by all.

REJECTED AT NAZARETH, JESUS DWELLS AT CAPERNAUM (Mat. 4:13-16; Lu. 4:16-31):—And He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up. And He entered, according to His custom on the Sabbath days, into the synagogue, and stood up to read. And there was given to Him the book of the prophet Isaiah. And having unrolled the book, He found the place where it was written,

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me:
Wherefore He anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor;
He hath sent Me to proclaim deliverance to captives,
And recovery of sight to the blind,
To send away the oppressed in freedom,
To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord."

And having rolled up the book and given it back to the attendant, He sat down. And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed upon Him. Then He began to say to them: "Today hath this scripture been fulfilled in your ears." And all bore witness to Him, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of His mouth. And they said, "Is not this the son of Joseph?" And He said to them, "Surely ye will say to Me this parable, 'Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we heard of as being done in Capernaum, do also here in Thy country.'" Then He said, "Verily, I say to you, that no prophet is acceptable in his own country. But, in truth, I say to you, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine upon all the land; and to none of them was Elijah sent, except to Zarephath, of Sidon, to a widow woman. And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them were cleansed, except Naaman, the Syrian." And all in the synagogue were filled with wrath on hearing these things; and rising up, they thrust Him out of the city, and led Him unto the brow of the mountain on which their city was built, to throw Him down headlong. But He, passing through the midst of them, went away.

And leaving Nazareth, He came down and dwelt in Capernaum, a city of Galilee, by the seaside, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

"Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali,
The way of the sea beyond the Jordan,
Galilee of the nations:
The people that sat in darkness
Saw a great Light,
And to those sitting in a land and shadow of death,
To them did Light arise."

JESUS CALLS FOUR FISHERMEN (Mat. 4:18-22; Mk. 1:16-20):—Now Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a large fishing-net into the sea; for they were fishers. And He saith to them, "Come ye after Me, and I will make you become fishers of men." Then they, immediately leaving their nets, followed Him. And going on thence a little farther, He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and He called to them. Then they, immediately leaving the boat and their father with the hired servants, followed Him.

MIRACULOUS DRAUGHT OF FISHES (Lu. 5:1-11):—Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon Him to hear the word of God, that He was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. And He saw two boats moored by the lake shore; but the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. Then entering into one of the boats, which was Simon's, He asked him to launch forth a little from the land. And sitting down, He taught the multitude from the boat.

Now when He ceased speaking, He said to Simon, "Launch forth into the deep and lower your nets for a draught." And Simon answering said, "Master, we toiled through the whole night, yet we took nothing; but at Thy word, I will lower the nets." And having done this, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their nets were breaking; and they beckoned to their partners in the other boat, to come and help them. And they came and they filled both boats, so that they began to sink. Then Simon Peter seeing it, fell down at the knees of Jesus, saying, "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord." For astonishment seized him and all those with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken, and also James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, "Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men." And having brought the boats to land, they left all and followed Him.

JESUS TEACHES AND HEALS IN CAPERNAUM (Mat. 8:14-17; Mk. 1:21-34; Lu. 4:31-41):—Now He was accustomed to teach on the Sabbaths. And they go into Capernaum; and immediately on the Sabbath He entered into the synagogue, and taught: and they were astonished at His teaching, for He taught them the word as one having authority, and not as the scribes. And in the synagogue, there was a man that had a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Ah! what have we to do with each other, Jesus, Nazarene? Art Thou come to destroy us? I know Thee who Thou art, the Holy One of God." And Jesus rebuked it, saying, "Hold thy peace and come out of him." And the demon, having convulsed him and thrown him down into the midst and cried with a loud voice, came out of him, having injured him in no respect. And they were all amazed, and talked to one another and questioned among themselves, saying, "What is this word? A new teaching! For with authority and power He commandeth even the unclean spirits and they obey Him and come out." And the report of Him went out straightway everywhere into every place in all the region of Galilee round about.

Then rising up from the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew with James and John. Now Simon's mother-in-law was lying sick with a great fever; and straightway they tell Him, and besought Him for her. And coming to her, He stood over her and rebuked the fever, and taking her by the hand, He raised her up and the fever left her; and immediately she arose and ministered to them.

Then at evening, when the sun set, they brought to Him all that were sick and those possessed by demons. And the whole city was gathered together at the door. And those that were sick with many kinds of diseases, He laid His hands on every one of them and healed them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, "Himself took our infirmities and bore our diseases." And demons also came out from many, crying out and saying, "Thou art the Son of God." And rebuking them, He did not suffer them to speak, because they knew Him to be the Christ.

MINISTRY OF JESUS

PREACHING AND HEALING IN GALILEE (Mat. 4:23-25; Mk. 1:35-39; Lu. 4:42-44):—And Jesus, rising very early while it was yet night, went out and departed into a desert place and there prayed. Then when it was day, Simon and those with him followed after Him and found Him and said to Him, "All are seeking Thee." And He saith to them, "Let us go elsewhere into the neighboring country towns, that I may preach there also; for to this end I came forth." And the multitudes sought for Him and came to Him and tried to detain Him, that He should not go from them. But He said to them, "I am bound to preach the gospel of the kingdom of God to the other cities also; because for this I was sent forth." And He went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity among the people, and casting out demons. And the report of Him went forth into all Syria: and they brought to Him all that were sick, afflicted with various diseases and torments, demoniacs and epileptics and paralytics, and He healed them. And there followed Him great multitudes from Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judæa, and beyond the Jordan.

A LEPER HEALED (Mat. 8:2-4; Mk. 1:40-45; Lu. 5:12-16):—And it came to pass, as Jesus was in one of the cities, behold, a man full of leprosy: and seeing Jesus, he came to Him, and kneeling down, fell on his face and worshipped Him, and besought Him, saying, "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou art able to cleanse me." And Jesus, moved with compassion, stretched forth His hand and touched him and saith to him, "I will; be cleansed." And immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. And having strictly charged him to tell no one, He immediately sent him away, and saith to him, "See thou say nothing to any one; but go, shew thyself to the priest and offer for thy cleansing the gift which Moses enjoined, for a testimony to them." But he, going forth, began to publish it much and to spread abroad the matter, so that Jesus could no longer enter into a city openly, but was without in desert places; but much more the report concerning Him was spread abroad, and great multitudes came together to Him from every quarter, to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. But He was accustomed to retire into the deserts and pray.

JESUS HEALS A PARALYTIC (Mat. 9:2-8; Mk. 2:1-12; Lu. 5:17-26):—And when He entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was heard that He is at home. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room, not even about the door; and He spake the word to them. And it came to pass on one of these days, as He was teaching, and there were sitting by Pharisees and teachers of the law, who were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord was upon Him to heal, that, behold, men brought to Him a man who was paralyzed, lying on a couch borne by four. And they sought to bring him in and to place him before Him. And not being able to come near Him on account of the crowd, they went up on the housetop and uncovered the roof where He was; and having broken it up, they let down the couch on which the paralytic was lying, through the tiles, into the midst before Jesus. And seeing their faith, He said to the paralytic, "Child, thy sins are forgiven thee." And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason in their hearts, saying, "Why doth this man speak thus? He blasphemeth. Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?" But Jesus immediately perceiving in His spirit that they are so reasoning within themselves, and knowing their thoughts, saith to them, "Why reason ye these things in your hearts? Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? Which is easier to say to the paralytic, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, take up thy couch and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins" (He saith to the paralytic), "I say to thee, Arise, take up thy couch, and go to thy house." And immediately he arose and took up that on which he was lying and departed to his house before them all, glorifying God. And amazement seized them all, and they glorified God Who gave such authority to men, and they were filled with fear, saying, "We never saw it thus! We have seen strange things today!"

MATTHEW'S CALL AND FEAST (Mat. 9:9-13; Mk. 2:13-17; Lu. 5:27-32):—Now after these things, Jesus went forth again by the sea, and all the multitude came to Him and He taught them. And passing by He saw a tax-collector, named Levi (also called Matthew), the son of Alphæus, sitting at the tax-office, and said to him, "Follow Me." And forsaking all, he arose and followed Him. And Levi made

Him a great banquet in his house. And it came to pass, as He reclined at table in the house, behold, a great crowd of tax-collectors and sinners came and reclined at table with Jesus and His disciples: for there were many, and they followed Him. And the Pharisees and their scribes, seeing Him eating with tax-collectors and sinners, murmured against His disciples, saying to them, "Why do ye and your Teacher eat and drink with the tax-collectors and sinners?" And Jesus, hearing it, answered and said to them, "They that are well have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. But go, learn what this meaneth: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice'; for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

DISCOURSE ON FASTING (Mat. 9:14-17; Mk. 2:18-22; Lu. 5:33-39):—And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees were fasting. Then come to Him the disciples of John, saying, "Why do we fast often and make supplications, likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but Thy disciples fast not, but eat and drink?" And Jesus said to them, "Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber mourn and fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast. But there will come days, when the bridegroom will be taken away from them: then they will fast in those days." And He spake also a parable to them: "No one rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it on an old garment; if so, he will both rend the new, and the piece from the new will not agree with the old. And no one seweth a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; for the patch taketh away from the garment, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made.

"And no one putteth new wine into old skins; if so, the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be spilled, and the skins will be destroyed. But new wine must be put into fresh skins, and both are preserved together. And no one having drunk old wine desireth new; for he saith, 'The old is better.' "

A WOMAN HEALED AND JAIRUS' DAUGHTER RAISED (Mat. 9:18-26; Mk. 5:22-43; Lu. 8:41-56):—While Jesus is speaking these things to them, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, named Jairus. And seeing Jesus, he fell at His feet and worshipped Him and besought Him much to come into his house, saying, "My little daughter is at the point of death; I pray that Thou wouldst come and lay Thy hands upon her, that she may be saved and live." And Jesus arose and followed him, also His disciples. And a great multitude followed Him, and as He went, they thronged Him.

And behold, a woman who had a flow of blood twelve years, and had suffered much under many physicians, and had spent all that she had upon them, and could be cured by no one and was in no respect benefited, but rather grew worse, having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind Him and touched the fringe of His garment: for she said within herself, "If I only touch His garment, I shall be healed." And immediately the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she perceived in her body that she was healed of her plague. And immediately Jesus, knowing in Himself that power from Him had gone forth, turned about in the crowd and said, "Who touched My garments? Who is it that touched Me?" Then when all denied it, Peter and His disciples said to Him, "Master, the multitudes press upon Thee and crush Thee. Thou seest the crowd pressing on Thee, and sayest Thou, 'Who touched Me?' " But Jesus said, "Some one touched Me; for I perceived that power had gone out from Me." And He looked around to see her who had done this. Then the woman, seeing that she was not hid, came fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, and fell down before Him and told Him all the truth, and declared before all the people for what cause she touched Him and how she was healed instantly. Then He said to her, "Daughter, be of good cheer, thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace and be well of thy plague." And the woman was saved from that hour.

While He is yet speaking, they come from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, "Thy daughter is dead; why still trouble the Teacher?" But Jesus, disregarding the word thus spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, "Fear not; only believe, and she shall be saved." And entering into the ruler's house, He did not suffer any one to enter in with Him except Peter and James and John, the brother of James, and the father and mother of the child. And they were all weeping and bewailing her. And seeing the fluteplayers and the crowd making a tumult, He saith to them, "Why make ye a tumult and weep? Give place: weep not; for the child is not dead, but sleepeth." And they laughed at Him in scorn, knowing that she was dead. But He, having put them all out, taketh with Him the father and the mother of the child and those who were with Him, and goeth in where the child was. And taking the hand of the child, He called, saying to her, "Talitha kumi"; which is, being translated, "Damsel (I say to thee), arise." And her spirit returned, and she arose immediately and walked; for she was twelve years old. And He commanded that something should be given her to eat. And her parents were amazed immediately with a great amazement. And He charged them much to tell no one what had been done. And yet the report of this went forth into all the land.

TWO BLIND MEN AND A DUMB DEMONIAC HEALED (Mat. 9:27-34):—And as Jesus passed on from thence, two blind men followed Him, crying out and saying, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!" Then when He had entered into the house, the blind men came to Him; and Jesus saith to them, "Believe ye that I am able to do this?" They say to Him, "Yea, Lord." Then He touched their eyes, saying, "According to your faith, be it done to you." And their eyes were opened. And Jesus charged them strictly, saying, "Beware, let no one know this." But they went forth and spread abroad His fame in all that land.

Now as they were going forth, behold, they brought to Him a dumb man, possessed by a demon. And when the demon was cast out, the dumb spake. And the multitude wondered, saying, "It was never seen thus in Israel." But the Pharisees said, "By the prince of the demons, He casteth out the demons."

JESUS HEALS AN IMPOTENT MAN ON THE SABBATH (Jno. 5:1-15):—After these things, there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep-gate, a pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. In these were lying a multitude of sick, blind, lame, withered, (waiting for the moving of the water. For an angel from time to time, descended into the pool and agitated the water. Whosoever then first entered in after the agitation of the water, was made well of whatever disease he had). Now a certain man was there who had been in his infirmity thirty-eight years. Jesus seeing this man lying there and knowing that he hath been already a long time thus, saith to him, "Dost thou wish to be made well?" The sick man answered Him, "Sir, I have no man, when the water hath been agitated, to put me into the pool; but while I am coming, another goeth down before me." Jesus saith to him, "Arise, take up thy couch and walk." And immediately the man was made well, and took up his couch and walked. Now on that day was a Sabbath. Therefore the Jews said to him that had been cured, "It is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for thee to carry the couch." But he answered them, "He who made me well, the Same said to me, 'Take up thy couch and walk'." They asked him, "Who is the Man that said to thee, 'Take it up and walk'?" But he who had been healed knew not Who it was; for Jesus had withdrawn, a multitude being in the place. After these things, Jesus findeth him in the temple, and saith to him, "Behold, thou hast been made well; sin no more, lest something worse befall thee." The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who made him well.

JESUS DEFENDS HIMSELF BEFORE THE JEWS (Jno. 5:16-47):—Now on this account the Jews persecuted Jesus: because He did these things on the Sabbath. But Jesus answered them, "My father worketh until now, and I work." For this cause, therefore, the Jews sought the more to kill Him: because He not only broke the Sabbath, but also called God His own Father, making Himself equal with God. Jesus, therefore, answered and said to them, "Verily, verily, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, except what He seeth the Father doing: for whatsoever He doeth, these things the Son also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and showeth Him all things that He Himself doeth; and greater works than these will He show Him, that ye may wonder. For as the Father raiseth the dead and maketh them alive, so also the Son maketh alive whom He will. For neither doth the Father judge any one; but all judgment He hath given to the Son, that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son, honoreth not the Father Who sent Him.

"Verily, verily, I say to you, he that heareth My word and believeth Him Who sent Me, hath everlasting life, and cometh not into judgment, but hath passed out of death into life. Verily, verily, I say to you, the hour cometh and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in Himself, so also He gave to the Son also to have life in Himself; and He gave Him authority to execute judgment, because He is Son of man. Wonder not at this; for an hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs shall hear His voice and shall come forth: those who did good, into a resurrection of life; but those who practiced evil, into a resurrection of judgment.

"I can of Myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge, and My judgment is just; because I seek not My own will, but the will of Him Who sent Me. If I testify concerning Myself, My testimony is not true. There is Another Who testifieth concerning Me, and I know that the testimony which He testifieth concerning Me is true. Ye have sent to John, and he hath testified to the truth. But I receive not the testimony from man: but these things I say that ye may be saved. He was the burning and shining lamp, and ye were willing to rejoice for a time in his light. But the testimony I have is greater than John's; for the works which the Father hath given Me to accomplish, these very works that I am doing, testify concerning Me, that the Father hath sent Me. And the Father Who sent Me, He hath testified concerning Me. Ye have neither heard His voice at any time, nor have ye seen His form. And ye have not His word abiding in you; because Whom He sent, Him ye believe not. Ye search the Scriptures, because ye think through them to have everlasting life, and these are they that testify concerning Me; yet ye are not willing to come to Me that ye may have life. I do not take to Myself honor from men. But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in yourselves. I have come in the name of My Father, and ye receive Me not; if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, who receive honor from one another, while the honor that is from the only God, ye seek not? Think not that I will accuse you to the Father.

"There is one that accuseth you, Moses, in whom you have hoped. For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe Me: for he wrote concerning Me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe My words?"

JESUS DEFENDS HIS DISCIPLES FOR PLUCKING EARS OF GRAIN ON THE SABBATH (Mat. 12:1-8; Mk. 2:23-28; Lu. 6:1-5):—Now it came to pass, in that season, Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. And His disciples were hungry and began to pluck the heads of grain and to eat, rubbing them in their hands. But some of the Pharisees, seeing it, said, "Why do ye that which it is not lawful to do on the Sabbath?" And they said to Him, "Behold, Thy disciples are doing that which it is not lawful to do on the Sabbath." But Jesus, answering, said to them, "Have ye not read even this that David did when he had need and was hungry, himself and those with him: how he entered into the house of God, when Abiathar was high-priest, and took and ate the shewbread, and gave also to those with him; which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those with him, but for the priests only? Or have ye not read in the law that on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple violate the Sabbath and are guiltless? But I say to you, that a Greater than the temple is here. But if ye had known what this meaneth, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice', ye would not have condemned the guiltless." And He said to them, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath: therefore, the Son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath."

JESUS HEALS A WITHERED HAND ON THE SABBATH (Mat. 12:9-14; Mk. 3:1-6; Lu. 6:6-11):—And he departed thence; and it came to pass on another Sabbath that He entered again into their synagogue and taught. And behold, there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. And the scribes and Pharisees were watching whether He would heal on the Sabbath: that they might find whereof to accuse Him. And they asked Him, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbaths?"—that they might accuse Him. But He knew their thoughts. Then said He to the man who had the withered hand: "Arise, and stand in the midst." And rising up, he stood there. Then Jesus said to them: "I ask you, if it is lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to destroy it?" But they kept silent. Then He said to them, "What man shall there be of you, who shall have one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the Sabbath, will he not lay hold of it and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? So then it is lawful to do well on the Sabbaths." And having looked around on them all with anger, being grieved at the hardness of their hearts, He saith to the man, "Stretch out thy hand." And he stretched it out, and his hand was restored, sound as the other. Then the Pharisees were filled with madness, and consulted with one another what they should do to Jesus. And they went out, and immediately took counsel with the Herodians against Him, how they might destroy Him.

JESUS WORKING MIRACLES AT THE SEA OF GALILEE (Mat. 12:15-21; Mk. 3:7-12):—Then Jesus, knowing these things, withdrew from thence, with His disciples to the sea. And a great multitude from Galilee followed Him. Also from Judæa, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumæa, and beyond the Jordan, and around Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing how great things He was doing, came to Him. And He spake to His disciples that a small boat should wait on Him, on account of the crowd, that they might not press upon Him. For He had healed many, so that as many as had plagues pressed upon Him, that they might touch Him. And He healed them all. Also the unclean spirits, whenever they beheld Him, fell down before Him and cried out, saying, "Thou art the Son of God." And He charged them repeatedly that they should not make Him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

"Behold, My Servant Whom I have chosen,
My Beloved in Whom My Soul is well pleased.
I will put My Spirit upon Him,
And He shall declare judgment to the nations.
He shall not strive nor cry aloud;
Nor shall any one hear His voice in the streets.
A bruised reed He shall not break,
And smoking flax He shall not quench,
Till He send forth judgment unto victory.
And in His name shall the nations hope."

THE TWELVE APOSTLES SELECTED (Mat. 10:2-4; Mk. 3:13-19; Lu. 6:12-16):—Now it came to pass in those days, that He went out into the mountain to pray, and spent the whole night in prayer to God. And when it was day, He called His disciples to Him, whom He would, and they went to Him. And He selected from them twelve, whom He also named apostles, and appointed them that they might be with Him, and that He might send them forth to preach, and to have authority to cast out demons. Now the names of the twelve apostles are these:

First, Simon, whom he also surnamed Peter,
(2) and Andrew, his brother;
(3) and James, the son of Zebedee,
(4) and John, the brother of James; (and He surnamed them Boanerges, that is, Sons of thunder;)
(5) and Philip,
(6) and Bartholomew, [who is probably the Nathanael of Jno. 1:45 and 21:2],
(7) and Thomas, called Didymus [Jno. 20:24],
(8) and Matthew, the tax-collector,
(9) and James, the son of Alphæus,
(10) and Judas, (or) Thaddæus, the son of James,
(11) and Simon, the Cananæan, who was called Zelotes,
(12) and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor and betrayed Him.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT (Mat. 5:1–7:29; Lu. 6:17-19):—And He came down with them, and stood on a level place, with a large crowd of His disciples, and a great multitude of the people, who came from all Judæa and Jerusalem and the seacoast of Tyre and Sidon, to hear Him and to be healed of their diseases. And those troubled with unclean spirits were healed: and all the multitude sought to touch Him, because power came forth from Him and healed them all.

(Mat. 5:1–7:29; Lu. 6:20-49):—But seeing the multitude, He went up into the mountain; and when He had sat down, His disciples came to Him. And He lifted up His eyes upon them, and opened His mouth and taught them, saying, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God. Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now, for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now, for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall excommunicate you, and shall reproach you and persecute you, and cast out your name as evil, and shall say every evil thing against you falsely for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice in that day, and be exceeding glad and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for after the same manner did their fathers to the prophets who were before you.

"But woe to you that are rich, for ye are receiving your consolation. Woe to you that are full now, for ye shall hunger. Woe to you that laugh now, for ye shall mourn and weep. Woe to you when all men speak well of you, for after the same manner did their fathers to the false prophets.

"Ye are the salt of the earth; but if the salt have become tasteless, with what shall it be salted? It is good for nothing thenceforth, but, when cast out, to be trampled upon by men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set upon a hill cannot be hid. Neither do they light a lamp and put it under a measure, but upon the lampstand, and it gives light to all that are in the house. So let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

"Do not think that I came to abolish the law or the prophets: I came not to abolish, but to fulfill them. For verily I say to you, Until the heaven and the earth shall pass away, one iota or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, until all things come to pass. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I say to you, Unless your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

"Ye have heard that it was said to them of old, 'Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be liable to the judgment.' But I say to you, that every one who is angry with his brother shall be liable to the judgment; also whosoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca!' shall be liable to the Sanhedrin; but whosoever shall say, 'Thou impious fool!' shall be liable to hell-fire. If, therefore, thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath anything against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar and go, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then return and offer thy gift.

"Agree with thy adversary quickly, while thou art with him in the way; lest perhaps the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. Verily I say to thee, thou shalt in no wise come out thence, till thou hast paid the last farthing.

"Ye have heard that it was said, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery.' But I say to you, that every one that looketh upon a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. Therefore if thy right eye enticeth thee to sin, pluck it out and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into hell. And if thy right hand enticeth thee to sin, cut it off and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go away into hell. Also it was said, 'Whosoever would put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorce.' But I say to you, that every one that putteth away his wife, except for the reason of fornication, maketh her commit adultery; and whosoever shall marry her that hath been put away, committeth adultery.

"Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old, 'Thou shalt not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord thy oaths.' But I say to you, 'Swear not at all'; neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the Great King's city. Nor shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou art not able to make one hair white or black. But let your word be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay. Now what is more than these is of the evil one.

"Ye have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.' But I say to you, 'Resist not him that is evil'; but whosoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also; and to him that would go to law with thee and take away thy coat, give up to him thy cloak also; and whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him two. Give to every one that asketh thee; and turn not away from him that would borrow from thee; and of him who taketh away what is thine, ask it not back.

"Ye have heard that it was said, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thy enemy.' But I say to you that hear, 'Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, bless them that curse you, and pray for them that abuse you and persecute you'; that ye may be sons of your Father Who is in heaven; for He causeth His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the righteous and on the unrighteous. For if ye love those who love you, what reward or benefit have ye? do not even the tax-collectors the same? for sinners also love those who love them. And if ye do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is it to you? for even sinners do the same. And if ye lend to those from whom ye hope to receive, what benefit is it to you? even sinners lend to sinners, that they may receive back as much. And if ye salute your brethren only, what more do ye than others do? do not even the heathen the same? Nevertheless love your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be sons of the Highest; for He is kind to the unthankful and evil. Be ye merciful, even as your Father is merciful. Then shall ye be perfect, as your Heavenly Father is perfect.

"Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, in order to be seen by them; otherwise ye have no reward with your Father Who is in heaven. Therefore when thou doest alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by men. Verily I say to you, they have received their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand is doing, so that thy alms may be in secret; and thy Father Who seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

"And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the streets, so that they may be seen by men. Verily I say to you, they have received their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy private chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father Who is in secret; and thy Father Who seeth in secret, will recompense thee. But when ye pray, do not use vain repetitions, like the heathen; for they think that by their much speaking they shall be heard. Therefore be not like them; for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him. In this manner, therefore, pray ye:

"Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come: Thy will be done, as in heaven so also on earth. Give us today our needful bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. (For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, unto the ages. Amen.)

"For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your Heavenly Father will also forgive you; but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

"Moreover when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance; for they disfigure their faces so that they may appear to men to be fasting. Verily I say to you, they have received their reward. But thou, when fasting, anoint thy head and wash thy face, so that thou mayest not appear to men to be fasting, but to thy Father Who is in secret; and thy Father, Who seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures on the earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break through and steal; but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumeth, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also.

"The lamp of the body is the eye. If, therefore, thy eye be sound, thy whole body will be full of light; but if thy eye be bad, thy whole body will be dark. If, therefore, the light that is in thee is darkness, how great the darkness!

"No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. On this account I say to you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your Heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? But who of you, by being anxious, can add one cubit to his life-span? And why are ye anxious about raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; but I say to you that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed like one of these. Now if God thus clothe the herbage of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into an oven, shall He not much rather clothe you, O ye of little faith? be not anxious, therefore, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or, 'What shall we drink?' or, 'What shall we wear?' for after all these things do the heathen seek: for your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you. Be not anxious, therefore, for the morrow; for the morrow will have anxiety of its own. Sufficient for the day is its own evil.

"Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; pardon and ye shall be pardoned; give, and it shall be given to you; good measure pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." [Compare Acts 20:35:—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He Himself said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."]

Then He spake also a parable to them: "Can a blind man guide a blind man? Will they not both fall into a pit? A disciple is not above the teacher; but every one, when perfected, shall be as his teacher.

"But why gazest thou at the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thy own eye? Or how canst thou say to thy brother, 'Brother, suffer me to cast out the mote that is in thy eye,' and behold, the beam is in thy own eye and thou thyself seest it not? Hypocrite! first cast out the beam that is in thy own eye, and thou shalt see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

"Give not that which is holy to the dogs, nor cast pearls before the swine; lest they trample upon them with their feet, and, turning, rend you.

"Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you: for every one that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask of him bread, will give him a stone? or if he shall ask a fish, will give him a serpent? If, therefore, ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father Who is in heaven give good things to those who ask Him. Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, so also do ye likewise to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

"Enter ye in through the narrow gate; because wide is the gate and broad the way that leadeth to destruction, and many are they who enter in through it; because narrow is the gate and straitened the way that leadeth to life, and few are they who find it.

"Beware of the false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but within are ravening wolves. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? So every good tree beareth good fruit, but the corrupt tree beareth bad fruit. For there is not a good tree bearing bad fruit, nor a corrupt tree bearing good fruit. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor a corrupt tree bear good fruit: therefore, each tree is known by its own fruit: for from thorns men do not gather figs, nor from a bramble-bush do they harvest clusters of grapes. Every tree that doth not bear good fruit is cut down and cast into the fire. So then by their fruits ye shall know them. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth that which is evil: for out of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

"But why do ye call me, 'Lord, Lord,' and do not the things which I say? Not every one that saith to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of My Father Who is in heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by Thy name, and by Thy name cast out demons, and by Thy name perform many mighty works?' And then will I profess to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, ye that work iniquity.'

"Every one, therefore, that cometh to Me and heareth these words of Mine and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like. He is like a wise man building a house, who dug and went deep and laid a foundation and built his house upon the rock. And the rain descended, and the winds blew, and beat against that house; then a flood coming, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it: it fell not, because it was well built and was founded upon the rock. But every one that heareth these words of Mine and doeth them not, is like a foolish man who built his house upon the sand, without a foundation: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and the stream broke against it, and immediately it fell in; and the fall and ruin of that house was great."

And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words, the multitudes were astonished at His teaching; for He was teaching them as One having authority, and not as their scribes.

JESUS HEALS A CENTURION'S SERVANT (Mat. 8:1, 5-13; Lu. 7:1-10):—Now when Jesus came down from the mountain, after He had finished all His sayings in the hearing of the people, great multitudes followed Him. And He entered into Capernaum. But as He was entering into Capernaum, a certain centurion's servant, who was dear to him, was sick and was about to die. And having heard about Jesus, he sent to Him elders of the Jews, requesting Him and beseeching Him that He would come and save his servant, saying, "Lord, my servant lieth in the house paralyzed, grievously tormented." Then they, having come to Jesus, besought Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy that Thou do this for him; for he loveth our nation, and himself built the synagogue for us." Then Jesus went with them, saying, "I will come and heal him." But when He was now not far distant from the house, the centurion sent to Him friends, saying to Him, "Lord, trouble not Thyself; for I am not worthy that Thou shouldst come under my roof. Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come to Thee; but only command by word, and let my servant be healed. For I also am a man appointed under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goeth; and to another, 'Come,' and he cometh; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he doeth it." Then Jesus, hearing these things, wondered at him; and turning to the multitude following Him, said, "Verily, I say to you, Not even in Israel have I found so great faith. Moreover I say to you, that many from the east and the west will come and recline with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven; but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast out into the outer darkness: there will be weeping and gnashing of the teeth." And Jesus said to the messengers of the centurion, "Go, and as he hath believed, so be it done to him." And the servant was healed in that hour. And they that were sent, having returned to the house, found the servant well.

JESUS RAISES THE WIDOW'S SON AT NAIN (Lu. 7:11-17):—And it came to pass soon afterwards, that He went into a city called Nain, and there went with Him His disciples and a great multitude. Now as He came near to the gate of the city, behold, there was being carried out dead one, an only son of his mother, and she was a widow; also a considerable crowd of the city was with her. And seeing her the Lord had compassion on her and said to her, "Weep not." And coming forward, He touched the bier; then the bearers stood still. And He said, "Young man, I say to thee, Arise." And the dead sat up and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother. Then fear came upon all, and they glorified God, saying, "A great Prophet hath arisen among us;" and, "God hath visited His people." And this report concerning Him went out into the whole of Judæa and all the surrounding country.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BAPTIST TO JESUS (Mat. 11:2-19; Lu. 7:18-35):—Now the disciples of John told him all about these things. Then John, having heard in the prison the works of Christ, called to him two of his disciples and sent them to the Lord, saying, "Art Thou He that cometh, or are we to expect another?" Now when the men had come to Him, they said, "John the Baptist hath sent us to Thee, saying, 'Art Thou He that cometh, or are we to expect another?'" In that hour, He healed many of diseases and scourges and evil spirits; and to many blind, He gave sight. And Jesus answered and said to them, "Go, tell John what ye have seen and heard: the blind receive sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor hear the gospel preached; and blessed is he who shall not be offended at Me."

Now when the messengers of John had departed, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John: "What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, those that wear soft raiment, that are clothed gorgeously and live in luxury, are in the palaces of kings. But what went ye out to see? A prophet? Yea, I say to you, and much more than a prophet. This is he about whom it is written,

'Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face,
Who shall prepare Thy way before Thee.'

Verily, I say to you, among those born of woman, there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist; but he that is but little in the kingdom of heaven, the kingdom of God, is greater than he. But from the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven is taken as by violence, and violent ones are eagerly seizing upon it; for all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. And if ye are willing to receive it, he is Elijah who was to come. He that hath ears, let him hear.

"But to what, then, shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? They are like little children sitting in a marketplace and calling to their fellows, one to another, saying, 'We piped to you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not weep nor beat the breast.' For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and ye say, 'He hath a demon.' The Son of man hath come eating and drinking, and ye say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man and a wine-drinker, a friend of tax-collectors and sinners.' And wisdom is justified by all her children." And all the people and the tax-collectors hearing it, justified God, having been baptized by John's baptism. But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected the counsel of God for themselves, not having been baptized by him.

JESUS UPBRAIDS FAVORED CITIES (Mat. 11:20-24):—Then Jesus began to upbraid the cities in which most of His mighty works were done, because they did not repent: "Woe to thee, Chorazin! Woe to thee, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. Of a truth I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you. And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? Thou shalt descend even to Hades. For if the mighty works which were done in thee had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this very day. Of a truth I say to thee, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee."

JESUS THANKS THE FATHER AND INVITES THE WEARY TO COME TO HIM (Mat. 11:25-30):—At that time, Jesus answered and said, "I give Thee thanks, O Father, Lord of Heaven and of earth, because Thou didst hide these things from the wise and discerning and didst reveal them to babes. Yea, Father, for thus it was well-pleasing in Thy sight. All things have been delivered to Me by My Father. And no one knoweth perfectly the Son, except the Father; neither doth any one know perfectly the Father except the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son may will to make Him known. Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you and learn from Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest for your souls: for My yoke is easy and My burden is light."

A PENITENT WOMAN ANOINTS JESUS (Lu. 7:36-50):—Now one of the Pharisees requested Jesus to eat with him. And having entered into the house of the Pharisee, He reclined at table. And behold, a woman who was in the city, a sinner; and learning that He was reclining at table in the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster flask of ointment, and standing behind at His feet, weeping, she began to wet His feet with her tears, and wiped them off with the hair of her head, and kissed His feet affectionately and anointed them with the ointment. Now the Pharisee who had invited Him, seeing it, spake in himself, saying, "This Man, if He were a prophet, would know who and what sort of woman this is that toucheth Him, for she is a sinner." And Jesus answering said to him, "Simon, I have something to say to thee." Then he saith, "Teacher, say on." "A certain moneylender had two debtors. The one owed five hundred shillings and the other fifty. But they having nothing to pay with, he forgave them both. Which of them, therefore, will love him the more?" Simon, answering, said, "I suppose, he to whom he forgave the more." Then He said to him, "Thou hast judged rightly." And turning to the woman, He said to Simon, "Seest thou this woman? I entered into thy house; thou gavest Me no water for My feet: but she hath wet My feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. Thou gavest Me no kiss; but she, from the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss affectionately My feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint; but she hath anointed My feet with ointment. For this reason, I say to thee, her sins, which are many, have been forgiven; because she loved much: but he, to whom little is forgiven, loveth little." Then said He to her, "Thy sins have been forgiven." And those reclining with Him began to say among themselves, "Who is this that even forgiveth sins?" But He said to the woman, "Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace."

JESUS JOURNEYS THROUGH GALILEE (Lu. 8:1-3):—And it came to pass soon afterwards, that He went about through city and village, preaching and publishing the gospel of the kingdom of God; and with Him the twelve, and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary who is called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out, and Joanna wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others who were ministering to them of their substance.

JESUS HEALS A BLIND DEMONIAC AND ANSWERS THE BLASPHEMY OF THE PHARISEES (Mat. 12:22-37; Mk. 3:19-30):—And He cometh into a house, and the multitude cometh together again so that they are unable even to eat bread. And His relatives, when they heard of it, went out to lay hold of Him; for they said, "He is beside Himself."

Then there was brought to Him one possessed by a demon, blind and dumb; and He healed him, so that the dumb man spake and saw. And all the multitudes were astonished, and said, "Can this be the Son of David?" But the Pharisees, and the scribes who came down from Jerusalem, hearing it, said, "This fellow hath Beelzebub, and He doth not cast out demons, except by Beelzebub, the prince of the demons." But He, knowing their thoughts, called them to Him and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan? Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation—it cannot stand; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. And if Satan casteth out Satan, he hath risen up against himself and is divided: he cannot stand, but hath an end: how then shall his kingdom stand? Moreover, if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges. But if by God's Spirit I cast out the demons, then the kingdom of God hath already come to you. Or how can any one enter into the house of the strong man and seize upon his household goods, unless he first bind the strong man? and then he will plunder his house.

"He that is not with Me is against Me; and he that gathereth not with Me scattereth. Wherefore, verily I say to you, All the sins shall be forgiven the sons of men, and the blasphemies, how greatly soever they shall blaspheme; but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit, hath no forgiveness forever, but is guilty of an everlasting sin. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age, nor in that to come." (Because they were saying, "He hath an unclean spirit.")

"Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad; for from the fruit, the tree is known. Ye offspring of vipers! How can ye, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. The good man out of his good treasure, sendeth forth good things; and the evil man out of his evil treasure, sendeth forth evil things. But I say to you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account of it in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."

THE SCRIBES AND PHARISEES SEEK A SIGN (Mat. 12:38-45):—Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we desire to see a sign from Thee." But He, answering, said to them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeketh for a sign; and no sign shall be given to it except the sign of Jonah, the prophet: for as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. Men of Nineveh shall stand up in judgment with this generation and condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, One greater than Jonah is here. The southern queen shall arise in the judgment with this generation and condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, One greater than Solomon is here.

"But when the unclean spirit is gone out from the man, it goeth through waterless places seeking rest, and findeth it not. Then it saith, 'I will return into my house whence I came out.' And coming, it findeth it vacant, swept, and set in order. Then it goeth and taketh with itself seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and entering in they dwell there: and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first. So shall it be also with this evil generation."

CHRIST'S MOTHER AND BROTHERS SEEK HIM (Mat. 12:46-50; Mk. 3:31-35; Lu. 8:19-21):—Even while He was speaking to the multitudes, behold, His mother and brothers came to Him; and they could not get to Him on account of the crowd. And standing outside, they sent to Him calling Him and seeking to speak to Him. Now a crowd was sitting around him, and they say to Him, "Behold, Thy mother and Thy brothers stand outside, desiring to see Thee and to speak to Thee." But He, answering, said to them that told Him, "Who is My mother? And who are My brothers?" And looking round about on those sitting around Him, and stretching forth His hand toward His disciples, He said, "Behold, My mother and My brothers. My mother and My brothers are these who hear and do the word of God. For whosoever shall do the will of My Father Who is in heaven, the same is My brother and sister and mother."

JESUS TEACHING BY PARABLES: PARABLE OF THE SOWER (Mat. 13:1-9; Mk. 4:1-9; Lu. 8:4-8):—On that day Jesus went forth from the house and sat down by the sea. And there were gathered together to Him great multitudes from every city, so that He entered into a boat and sat down; and all the multitude stood on the beach beside the sea. And He taught them many things in parables, and said to them in His teaching:

"Hearken: Behold, the sower went forth to sow his seed. And it came to pass, as he sowed, some seeds fell by the wayside and were trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven came and devoured them. And others fell on the rocky places where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no depth of earth; and as soon as they grew up, and the sun arose, they were scorched; and because they had no root nor moisture, they withered away. And others fell among the thorns, and the thorns growing up with them choked them and they yielded no fruit. But others fell upon the good ground, and growing up and increasing, brought forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixtyfold, and some a hundredfold." As He said these things, He cried, "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

JESUS EXPLAINS WHY HE SPEAKS IN PARABLES (Mat. 13:10-17; Mk. 4:11, 12; Lu. 8:10):—And the disciples came and said to Him: "Why dost Thou speak to them in parables?" And He answered and said to them, "To you it hath been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to the rest that are outside, it hath not been given, but to them all things are done in parables. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but whosoever hath not, even what he hath shall be taken away from him. On this account I speak to them in parables, that seeing they may see and not perceive, and hearing they may hear and not understand; lest haply they should turn and be forgiven. And to them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

'With hearing ye shall hear and shall not at all understand;
And seeing ye shall see and shall not at all perceive;
For the heart of this people hath become gross,
And with their ears they hear heavily,
And their eyes they have closed;
Lest they should see with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And return and I should heal them.'

But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. For verily I say to you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things ye see, and did not see them, and to hear the things ye hear, and heard them not."

THE PARABLE OF THE SOWER EXPLAINED (Mat. 13:18-23; Mk. 4:10, 13-20; Lu. 8:9, 11-15):—And when He was alone, His disciples who were around Him with the twelve asked Him concerning the parables, what this parable of the sower might mean. And He saith to them, "Perceive ye not this parable? and how shall ye understand all the parables? Hear ye then the parable of the sower. Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The sower soweth the word. And those by the wayside, where the word is sown, are those who have heard the word of the kingdom and understand it not; and when they have heard, immediately Satan, the evil one, cometh and taketh away from their heart, the word which hath been sown in them, lest they should believe and be saved. And these likewise are they that are sown on the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, immediately with joy receive it; and they have no root in themselves, but are unstable; then when tribulation or persecution ariseth on account of the word, immediately they stumble. And others are those sown among the thorns. These are they that have heard the word, and as they go on, the anxieties of the age, and the deceitfulness of riches and pleasures of life, and the lusts respecting other things, entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful and bringeth nothing to maturity. And these are they that were sown upon the good ground: such as, in an honest and good heart, hear the word, understand it, accept it, hold it fast, and bear fruit with endurance, some thirtyfold, some sixtyfold, and some a hundredfold."

THE LIGHTED LAMP (Mk. 4:21-25; Lu. 8:16-18):—And He said to them, "Is the lamp brought to be put under the measure, or under the bed? Is it not to be put on the lampstand? for no one, having lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but he putteth it on a lampstand, that those entering in may see the light. For there is nothing secret that shall not become manifest, nor hidden away that shall not be known and come to light. If any one hath ears to hear, let him hear." And He said to them, "Take heed, therefore, how and what ye hear. With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you, and there shall be added to you. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, even what he seemeth to have shall be taken from him."

THE EARTH BRINGING FORTH FRUIT OF ITSELF (Mk. 4:26-29):—And He said, "So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast the seed upon the earth, and should sleep and rise, night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow up, he knoweth not how. The earth yieldeth fruit of her own accord: first a blade, then an ear, then full grain in the ear. But when the fruit appeareth, immediately he sendeth forth the sickle, because the harvest hath come."

PARABLE OF THE TARES (Mat. 13:24-30):—Another parable He set before them, saying, "The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field. But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares in the midst of the wheat and went away. But when the blade came up and produced fruit, then appeared also the tares. And the servants of the householder came and said to him, 'Master, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? Whence then hath it tares?' And he said to them, 'An enemy did this.' And the servants said to him, 'Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?' But he said, 'Nay, lest in gathering up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest; and in time of the harvest, I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn'."

PARABLES OF THE MUSTARD SEED AND OF THE LEAVEN (Mat. 13:31-35; Mk. 4:30-34):—Another parable He set before them, saying, "How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we represent it? The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field; which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, yet when it is sown, it groweth up and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and lodge under its shadow, in its branches."

Another parable spake He to them: "The kingdom of heaven is like leaven which a woman took and mixed into three measures of meal until it was all leavened."

All these things spake Jesus in parables to the multitudes. And with many such parables, He spake the word to them as they were able to hear it; but without a parable He spake nothing to them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

"I will open my mouth in parables;
I will utter things hidden from the beginning."

But privately He explained all things to His disciples.

PARABLE OF THE TARES EXPLAINED (Mat. 13:36-43):—Then, having dismissed the multitudes, Jesus went into the house. And His disciples came to Him saying, "Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field." And He, answering, said, "He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; but the tares are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are angels. As, therefore, the tares are gathered up and burned with fire, so it shall be in the end of the age. The Son of man will send forth His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and those that commit sin, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth. Then the righteous shall shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear."

ADDITIONAL PARABLES: (1) THE HIDDEN TREASURE; (2) PEARL OF GREAT PRICE; (3) THE NET; (4) THE HOUSEHOLDER (Mat. 13:44-53:—(1) "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to treasure hidden in the field, which a man found and concealed; and because of his joy, he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

(2) "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a man who is a merchant seeking beautiful pearls: and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had and bought it.

(3) "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a drag-net, cast into the sea and gathering together of every kind; which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and, sitting down, they gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. So shall it be in the end of the age. The angels shall go forth and shall separate the wicked from the midst of the righteous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there will be the lamentation and the gnashing of the teeth."

"Have ye understood all these things?" They say to Him, "Yea."

(4) And He said to them, "Therefore every scribe who hath been discipled to the kingdom of heaven, is like to a man, master of a household, who bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old." And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, He departed thence.

JESUS STILLS A TEMPEST (Mat. 8:18, 23-27; Mk. 4:35-41; Lu. 8:22-25):—Now it came to pass on that day, when evening came and Jesus saw great multitudes around Him, He commanded His disciples to depart, and saith to them, "Let us cross over unto the other side of the lake." And dismissing the multitude, they take Him with them as He was; and when He had entered into a boat, His disciples followed Him, and they set sail. And other boats were with Him. And behold, a great storm of wind arose on the lake, and the waves were dashing into the boat, so that it was already being covered and filled by them, and they were in danger. But He was asleep on the cushion in the stern. And they came to Him and awoke Him, saying, "Master, Master, we perish!" "Lord, save us!" "Teacher, carest Thou not that we perish?" And He saith to them, "Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?" Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the raging of the water, and said to the sea, "Peace, be still." And they ceased, and there was a great calm. And He said to them, "Why are ye fearful? Where is your faith? Have ye yet no faith?" And they feared exceedingly and wondered, saying to one another, "Who then is this? What manner of man is this? For He commandeth even the winds and the sea, and they obey Him."

A LEGION OF DEMONS CAST OUT (Mat. 8:28-34; Mk. 5:1-20; Lu. 8:26-39):—And they came unto the other side of the sea to the territory of the Gadarenes and landed in the district of the Gerasenes, which is opposite Galilee. And when He came forth out of the boat on the land, there met Him two men possessed with demons, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no one could pass along that way. And behold, they cried out, saying, "What business hast Thou with us, Jesus, Thou Son of the Most High God? Hast Thou come here to torment us before the appointed time?" One man [of the two], from the city [of Gadara], with an unclean spirit, had for a long time worn no clothing, and he abode not in a house, but had his dwelling in the tombs; and no one could any more bind him, not even with a chain: because many times it had seized him, and he had often been kept under guard, bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been burst asunder by him and the fetters broken in pieces, and he was driven by the demon into the deserts; and no one was able to subdue him. And continually, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. But when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and prostrated himself before Him; and crying out with a loud voice, he said, "What business hast Thou with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beseech Thee and adjure Thee by God, torment me not." For He was charging the unclean spirit to come out of the man and was saying to him, "Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man." Then Jesus asked him, "What is thy name?" And he saith to Him, "My name is Legion; because we are many:" for many demons had entered into him. And he besought Him much that He would not send them away out of the country. And they entreated Him that He would not command them to depart into the abyss. Now there was at a distance from them on the mountain side, a great herd of many swine feeding. And the demons besought Him, saying, "If Thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine, that we may enter into them." And He gave them leave, and said to them, "Go." Then the demons, going out from the man, entered into the swine; and behold, the whole herd, about two thousand, rushed down the steep into the lake and perished in the waters. Now when those who fed them saw what had taken place, they fled, and going away into the city, they reported everything in the city and in the country, and what had befallen them that were possessed with demons. And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus and to see what it was that had taken place. And they came to Jesus and found the man, him that had the legion, from whom the demons had gone out, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. And they who saw it related to them how he who had been possessed with demons was delivered, also concerning the swine. And all the multitude of the surrounding region of the Gerasenes besought Him to depart from their borders, for they were seized with great terror. And as He was entering into the boat, the man from whom the demons had gone out begged Him that he might be with Him. But He sent him away and suffered him not, saying to him, "Go, return to thy house, to thy own people, and tell them how great things God hath done for thee, and how the Lord had compassion on thee." And he departed and began to publish in Decapolis, and throughout the whole city, how great things Jesus had done for him; and all wondered.

JESUS RETURNS TO CAPERNAUM, AND TO NAZARETH WHERE HE IS AGAIN REJECTED (Mat. 9:1; 13:54-58; Mk. 5:21; 6:1-6; Lu. 8:40):—Now Jesus, having crossed over again in the boat to the other side, came unto His own city. And when Jesus returned, a great multitude was gathered to Him and welcomed Him, for they were all waiting for Him: and He was by the sea. And He went forth from thence and cometh into His own country, and His disciples follow Him. And when the Sabbath came, He began to teach them in their synagogues, so that many hearing Him were astonished, saying, "Whence hath this man these things?" and "What is the wisdom that is given to this man, that even such deeds of power are done by His hands? Is not this the carpenter, the son of the carpenter, Joseph? Is not His mother called Mary? Are not James and Joseph and Simon and Judas His brothers? And His sisters, are they not with us? Whence then hath this Man all these things?" And they were offended at Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and among his own kindred, and in his own house." And He was not able to do any deeds of power there, on account of their want of faith; except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them. And He wondered at their unbelief.

JESUS, JOURNEYING ABOUT GALILEE, INSTRUCTS THE TWELVE AND SENDS THEM FORTH (Mat.9:35—10:1; 10:5–11:1; Mk. 6:6-13; Lu. 9:1-6):—And Jesus went about all the cities and all the villages in a circle, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity. But seeing the multitudes, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed and scattered, as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith He to His disciples, "The harvest, indeed, is abundant, but the laborers few: pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest."

Then He called together His twelve disciples to Him, and gave them power and authority over all demons, unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every infirmity; and began to send them forth by two and two, to preach the kingdom of God and to heal the sick. And He charged the twelve, saying: "Go not into any way of the Gentiles and enter not into any city of the Samaritans, but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, 'The kingdom of heaven hath come near.' Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, cast out demons; freely ye have received, freely give. Take nothing for the journey. Provide no money: neither gold, nor silver, nor brass, in your belts; nor staff, except one staff only; nor shoes (but be shod with sandals); no provision-wallet nor bread, for the laborer is worthy of his food; and put not on two coats. And into whatsoever city or village ye enter, inquire who in it is worthy. And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide until ye depart. But when ye enter into the house, salute it. And if, indeed, the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever, or whatsoever place will not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

"Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye, therefore, wise as serpents and blameless as doves. But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you. And before governors also and kings ye shall be brought on My account, for a testimony to them and to the nations. But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what you shall speak; for it will be given you in that hour what ye shall speak: for it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you. But brother shall deliver up his brother to death, and father his child; and children shall rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated by all for My name's sake; but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next; for verily I say to you, ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.

"A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a slave above his master. It is sufficient for the disciple that he become as his teacher, and the slave as his master. If they called the Master of the house Beelzebub, how much more those of His household! Fear them not therefore; for there is nothing covered that shall not be uncovered, and secret that shall not be known. What I say to you in privacy, speak in public; and what ye hear in the ear, preach on the housetops. And be not afraid of those that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul; but fear Him rather, Who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? And not one of them shall fall to the ground without your Father's consent. But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows. Every one, therefore, who shall confess Me before men, I also will confess him before My Father Who is in heaven; but whosoever shall deny Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father Who is in heaven.

"Do not think that I came to bring peace upon the earth: I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I came to set at variance a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: and a man's foes shall be his own household. He that loveth father or mother more than Me, is not worthy of Me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than Me, is not worthy of Me: and he that doth not take his cross and follow after Me, is not worthy of Me. He that findeth his life, shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for My sake, shall find it. He that receiveth you, receiveth Me; and he that receiveth Me, receiveth Him Who sent Me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous man's reward. And whosoever shall give to drink to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say to you, he shall not lose his reward."

And it came to pass, when Jesus finished commanding His twelve disciples, He departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities; and they, going forth, passed along through the villages, preaching the gospel and healing in every place. And they preached that men should repent; and they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many sick persons and healed them.

HEROD'S FEAST AND THE DEATH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST (Mat. 14:6-12; Mk. 6:21-29):—Now when Herod's birthday was celebrated, an opportune day came [for Herodias to accomplish her desire—Mark 6:19]. At that time, Herod made a supper for his princes, and the military chiefs, and the leading men of Galilee. And the daughter of Herodias herself, coming in and dancing in the midst, pleased Herod and those reclining at table with him. And the king said to the maid, "Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee." And he swore to her: "Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, even to half of my kingdom." And going out, she said to her mother, "What shall I ask?" And she said, "The head of John the Baptist." And entering in immediately with haste to the king, she asked, saying, "I desire that thou give me here at once on a dish the head of John the Baptist." And the king was grieved and became exceedingly sorrowful; but for the sake of his oaths, and those that reclined at table with him, he would not refuse her, and commanded it be given her. And immediately the king sent one of his body-guard and ordered him to bring his head. And he went and beheaded John in prison, and brought his head on a dish and gave it to the maid, and the maid gave it to her mother. And his disciples hearing of it, came and took up his corpse and buried it in a tomb; and they went and told Jesus.

HEROD HEARS OF THE WORKS OF JESUS, THE APOSTLES RETURN AND REPORT, AND JESUS LEAVES GALILEE (Mat. 14:1, 2, 13; Mk. 6:14-16, 30-32; Lu. 9:7-10; Jno. 6:1):—Now at that time king Herod, the tetrarch, heard the report concerning Jesus, of all the things that were being done; for His name had become well known. And he was thoroughly perplexed, because it was said by some that John had risen from the dead; and by some that Elijah had appeared; and by others that one of the old prophets had risen: but Herod said, "John I beheaded; but who is This, about Whom I hear such things?" And he sought to see Him. And he said to his servants, "This is John the Baptist, whom I beheaded; he is risen from the dead, and on this account the powers work through him."

After these things the apostles, having returned, came together to Jesus and reported to Him all things whatsoever they had done and whatsoever they had taught. And Jesus having heard of the death of John, saith to them, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest a little while." For many were coming and going, and they had no opportunity even to eat. And taking them with Him, He went away in a boat to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias, to a desert place, and retired privately into a city called Bethsaida.

JESUS FEEDS THE FIVE THOUSAND (Mat. 14:13-21; Mk. 6:33-44; Lu. 9:11-17; Jno. 6:2-14):—But many saw them going and knew Him. And when the multitudes heard of it, they followed Him and ran together there on foot from all the cities and outwent them; because they beheld the signs which He did on the sick. And when Jesus came forth, He went up into the mountain and sat there with His disciples. Now the passover was near, the feast of the Jews. Then Jesus lifted up His eyes and saw a great multitude coming to Him; and He had compassion on them, because they were as sheep having no shepherd. And He welcomed them; and He began to teach them many things, and spake to them about the kingdom of God. And their sick that had need of healing, he cured. Now when evening was come and the day began to decline, it being already a late hour, the twelve disciples came to Him, saying, "The place is desert, it is already a late hour and the time is passed by; send the multitudes away that they may go into the surrounding country and villages and lodge and buy themselves something to eat." But Jesus answered and said to them, "They have no need to go away; give ye them to eat." And they say to Him, "Shall we go and buy two hundred shillings' worth of loaves and give them to eat?" Then He saith to them, "How many loaves have ye? Go and see." He saith to Philip, "Whence shall we buy bread that we may eat?" Now this He said to try him; for He Himself knew what He was about to do. Philip answered Him, "Two hundred shillings' worth of loaves is not sufficient for them, that each one may take a little." One of His disciples, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, saith to Him, "There is a lad here, who hath five barley loaves and two small fishes; but what are these to so many?" And when the disciples knew, they said to Him, "We have here no more than five loaves and two fishes; unless we should go and buy food for all these people." And He said, "Bring them here to Me." Now there was much grass in the place. Then He said to His disciples, "Make the people recline on the green grass in companies, by fifties." And they did so, and made them all recline in ranks by hundreds and by fifties. And the men were in number about five thousand. Jesus, therefore, took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke the loaves, and kept giving to the disciples to set before the multitude. And the two fishes divided He likewise among them all, as much as they wished. And they all ate and were satisfied. And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides women and children. Now when they were filled, He saith to His disciples, "Gather up the broken pieces that are left over, that nothing may be lost." So they gathered them up and filled twelve baskets with pieces from the five barley loaves and from the fishes, that were left over by those who had eaten. The men, therefore, seeing the sign that he did, said, "This is truly the Prophet who cometh into the world."

JESUS WALKS ON THE WATER (Mat. 14:22-33; Mk. 6:45-52; Jno. 6:15-21):—Jesus therefore knowing that they were about to come and take Him by force to make Him king, immediately constrained His disciples to enter into the boat and go before Him to the other side, to Bethsaida, while He Himself dismissed the multitude. And having taken leave of them and sent them away, He withdrew again into the mountain Himself alone to pray. But His disciples, as it grew late, went down to the sea, and, entering into a boat, were going over the sea to Capernaum. And it was already dark and Jesus had not yet come to them; and the sea was agitated by a strong wind that was blowing. And when the boat was in the midst of the sea, tossed by the waves, He was alone upon the land. When, therefore, they had rowed about twenty-five or thirty furlongs, seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary to them, He came to them, about the fourth watch of the night, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them. But when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea and coming near the boat, they cried out for fear, saying, "It is a ghost"; for they all saw Him and were troubled. But immediately Jesus spake to them, saying, "Be of good courage; it is I; be not afraid." Then they were willing to receive Him into the boat. But Peter, answering Him, said, "Lord, if it be Thou, bid me come to Thee on the waters." And He said, "Come." And, descending from the boat, Peter walked upon the waters to go to Jesus. But seeing the wind, he was frightened; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, "Lord, save me!" And immediately Jesus, stretching forth His hand, took hold of him and saith to him, "O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?" And when they were gone up to them into the boat, the wind ceased; and they that were in the boat worshipped Him, saying, "Truly Thou art the Son of God." And they were exceedingly amazed beyond measure in themselves; for they did not understand concerning the loaves, because their heart was hardened. And immediately the boat was at the land whither they were going.

JESUS PERFORMS MIRACLES AT GENNESARET (Mat. 14:34-36; Mk. 6:53-56):—Now when they had crossed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret and drew to shore. And when they had come out of the boat, immediately the men of that place, having recognized Him, sent messengers into all that country around and brought to Him all that were sick. And they besought Him that they might touch only the borders of His garment, and as many as touched were wholly healed. And running about through that whole region, they began to carry about on their pallets those who were sick, wherever they heard He was. And wheresoever He entered, into villages or into cities or into fields, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought Him that they might touch if but the border of His garment, and as many as touched Him were healed.

DISCOURSE AT CAPERNAUM (Jno. 6:22-59):—On the next day, the multitude that stood on the other side of the sea saw that no other boat was there except one, and that Jesus went not with His disciples into the boat, but His disciples went away alone (however there came boats from Tiberias near to the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks); when therefore the multitude saw that Jesus was not there, neither His disciples, they themselves entered into the boats and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. And when they found Him on the other side of the sea, they said to Him, "Rabbi, when camest Thou hither?" Jesus answered them and said, "Verily, verily, I say to you, Ye seek Me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves and were filled. Labor not for the food that perisheth, but for the food that abideth unto life everlasting, which the Son of man shall give to you; for Him hath God, the Father, sealed." They said therefore to Him, "What must we do that we may work the works of God?" Jesus answered and said to them, "This is the work of God, that ye believe on Him whom He sent." They said therefore to Him, "What doest Thou then as a sign, that we may see, and believe Thee? What doest Thou? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, 'He gave them bread out of heaven to eat.'" Jesus, therefore, said to them, "Verily, verily, I say to you, It was not that Moses gave you the bread out of heaven; but My Father giveth you the true Bread out of heaven. For the Bread of God is He Who cometh down out of heaven and giveth life to the world." They said therefore to Him, "Lord, evermore give us this Bread." Jesus said to them, "I am the Bread of life. He that cometh to Me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst. But I said to you that ye have even seen Me and believe not. All that the Father giveth to Me, shall come to Me; and him that cometh to Me, I will by no means cast out. For I came down from heaven, not to do My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me. And this is the will of Him who sent Me, that of all that He has given Me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. For this is the will of My Father, that every one that seeth the Son and believeth on Him should have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day." The Jews, therefore, murmured against Him, because He said, "I am the Bread that cometh down out of heaven." And they said, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How doth He now say, 'I have come down out of heaven?'" Jesus answered and said to them, "Murmur not among yourselves. No one can come to Me, unless the Father who sent Me draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, 'And they shall all be taught of God.' Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh to Me. Not that any one hath seen the Father, except He who is from God, He hath seen the Father. Verily, verily, I say to you, He that believeth on Me, hath everlasting life. I am the Bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness and died. This is the Bread that cometh down out of heaven, that any one may eat of it and not die. I am the living Bread that came down out of heaven. If any one eat of this Bread, he shall live forever; and moreover the Bread which I will give is My flesh, for the life of the world." The Jews, therefore, contended with one another, saying, "How can this Man give us His flesh to eat?" Jesus therefore said to them, "Verily, verily, I say to you, unless ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink His blood, ye have no life in yourselves. He that eateth My flesh and drinketh My blood, hath everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day: for My flesh is the true food and My blood is the true drink. He that eateth My flesh and drinketh My blood, abideth in Me and I in him. As the living Father sent Me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth Me, he also shall live because of Me. This is the Bread that came down out of heaven. Not as the fathers ate and died; he that eateth this Bread shall live forever." These things said He while teaching in a synagogue in Capernaum.

MANY DISCIPLES FORSAKE HIM (Jno. 6:60–7:1):—Then many of His disciples, when they heard Him, said, "This saying is hard; who is able to hear it?" But Jesus, knowing in Himself that His disciples are murmuring at this, said to them, "Do ye stumble at this? What, then, if I say, Ye shall see the Son of man ascending to where He was before? It is the spirit that maketh alive; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words which I have spoken to you, they are spirit and they are life. But there are some of you who believe not." For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that should betray Him. And He said, "Because of this I said to you, that no one can come to Me, unless it be given him from the Father." From this time many of His disciples went back and walked with Him no more. Jesus, therefore, said to the twelve, "Ye are not also wishing to go away?" Simon Peter answered Him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast words of everlasting life. And we have believed and know that Thou art the Holy One of God." Jesus answered them, "Did not I choose you, the twelve? And one of you is a devil!" Now He spake of Judas, son of Simon Iscariot; for he, one of the twelve, was about to betray Him. After these things, Jesus continued to sojourn in Galilee; for He did not choose to sojourn in Judæa, because the Jews were seeking to kill him.

THE TRADITIONS OF MEN (Mat. 15: 1-20; Mk. 7:1-23):—Then came together to Jesus the Pharisees and some of the scribes from Jerusalem. And they saw that some of His disciples ate their bread with the defiled, that is unwashed, hands. (For the Pharisees and all the Jews, unless they wash their hands thoroughly, do not eat, holding the tradition of the elders. And on coming from market, unless they bathe themselves, they do not eat. And there are many other things which they have received to hold: washings of cups and pots and brazen vessels and couches.) And the Pharisees and the scribes ask Him, saying, "Why do Thy disciples transgress, and walk not according to the traditions of the elders? For they wash not their hands when they eat bread, but eat it with unclean hands." But He, answering, said to them, "Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, as it is written, saying,

'This people honoreth Me with their lips,
But their heart is far from Me.
But in vain they worship Me,
Teaching as doctrines precepts of men.'

Why do ye also transgress the commandments of God for the sake of your tradition? For leaving the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men." And He said to them, "Well do ye set aside the commandment of God, that ye may observe your tradition. For God said through Moses, 'Honor thy father and thy mother,' and 'He that revileth father or mother, let him be put to death.' But ye say, 'If a man say to his father or mother, "What might benefit you from me is Corban" (that is, an offering to God), he shall not honor his father;' and ye no longer permit him to do anything for his father or his mother, making void the word of God by your tradition which ye have delivered: and many similar things of this kind ye do." And again calling to Him the multitude, He said, "Hear Me, all ye, and understand. Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man. There is nothing from without the man that going into him can defile him; but the things that go out of the mouth of the man are those that defile the man." And when He went into the house from the multitude, His disciples came and said to Him, "Knowest Thou that the Pharisees, when they heard the word, were offended?" But He answered and said, "Every plant which My heavenly Father did not plant, shall be rooted up. Let them alone; they are blind guides of the blind. And if a blind man guide a blind man, both will fall into a pit." Then Peter answered and said to Him, "Explain to us the parable." And He said to them, "Are ye also still without understanding? Do ye not perceive that whatever from without goeth into a man, it cannot defile him, because it entereth not into his heart? But whatsoever entereth into the mouth, passeth into the bowels, and goeth out into the drain"—making all food clean. Then He said, "That which proceedeth out of the mouth of man, that defileth the man; for the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart. For from within, out of the heart of men, come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witnessings, blasphemies, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lewdness, an evil eye, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come forth from within and defile the man; but to eat with unwashed hands doth not defile the man."

THE SYROPHŒNICIAN WOMAN (Mat. 15:21-28; Mk. 7:24-30):—Then Jesus arose and went away from thence into the frontiers of Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a Canaanitish woman, having heard of Him, came out from those borders and cried, saying, "Have mercy on me, O Lord, Thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously possessed with a demon!" But He answered her not a word. And His disciples came and besought Him, saying, "Send her away; for she crieth after us." But He, answering, said, "I was not sent, except only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." And He entered into a house and wished no one to know it. And He could not be hid; but immediately the woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, came in and fell down at His feet. (Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophœnician by race.) And she kept beseeching Him that He would cast forth the demon out of her daughter, and worshipped Him, saying, "Lord, help me!" But He, answering, said to her, "Let the children first be satisfied; for it is not good to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs." Then she answered and said to Him, "Yea, Lord, help me; for even the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs that fall from their master's table." Then Jesus answered and said to her, "O woman, great is thy faith; because of this saying, go thy way; be it to thee as thou wilt: the demon has gone forth out of thy daughter." And her daughter was healed from that hour. And going back to her house, she found the child laid upon the bed, and the demon gone out.

JESUS, HAVING RETURNED, HEALS MANY IN DECAPOLIS (Mat. 15:29-31; Mk. 7:31-37):—And departing thence, Jesus went out of the borders of Tyre and came through Sidon, through the midst of the borders of Decapolis, near to the sea of Galilee. And He went up into the mountain and sat down there. And they bring to Him a deaf man, a stammerer, and beseech Him that He would lay His hand upon him. And taking him away apart from the multitude, He put His fingers into his ears, and spitting, touched his tongue; and looking up into heaven, he sighed, and saith to him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened." And his ears were opened, and the cord of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plainly. And He charged them that they tell no one; but the more He charged them, so much more abundantly did they publish it. And there came to Him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others; and they laid them down at His feet, and he healed them: so that the multitude wondered and were astonished beyond measure, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed well, the lame walking, and the blind seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel, saying, "He hath done all things well; He maketh even the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak."

JESUS FEEDS FOUR THOUSAND (Mat. 15:32-39; Mk. 8:1-10):—In those days, when there was again a great multitude and they had nothing to eat, Jesus called to Him His disciples and said, "I have compassion on the multitude, because they have been with Me already three days and have nothing to eat. And I am not willing to send them away fasting to their homes, lest they faint on the way: and some of them have come from afar." And His disciples answered and said to Him, "Whence should we have so many loaves as to satisfy so great a multitude here in a desert place?" And Jesus asked them, "How many loaves have ye?" Then they said, "Seven, and a few small fishes." And He commanded the multitude to recline on the ground. And He took the seven loaves and the fishes, and, having given thanks, He broke and gave to His disciples to set before them; and they set them before the multitude. And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up of the broken pieces that remained over, seven baskets full. Now those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children. And He sent the multitudes away, and immediately entering into the boat with His disciples, He came into the limits of Magadan, in the province of Dalmanutha.

JESUS, AFTER A BRIEF VISIT TO GALILEE, RETURNS TO BETHSAIDA JULIAS (Mat. 16:1-4; Mk. 8:11-13):—Then the Pharisees and Sadducees came forth and began to dispute with Him, and tempting Him, asked Him to show them a sign out of heaven. But He answered and said to them, "When it is evening, ye say, 'It will be fair weather, for the heaven is red;' and in the morning, 'It will be stormy weather today, for the heaven is red and lowering.' Ye know, indeed, how to discern the face of the heaven, can ye not then discern the signs of the times? An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign." And sighing deeply in His Spirit, He saith, "Why doth this generation seek a sign? Verily I say to you, No sign shall be given to this generation but the sign of Jonah." And leaving them, He embarked again and went away to the other side.

JESUS WARNS HIS DISCIPLES AGAINST THE LEAVEN OF THE PHARISEES AND SADDUCEES, AND HEALS A BLIND MAN AT BETHSAIDA JULIAS (Mat. 16:5-12; Mk. 8:14-26):—Now when the disciples departed to the other side, they forgot to take bread; and except one loaf, they had none with them in the boat. And Jesus charged them, saying, "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the leaven of Herod." And they reasoned with one another, saying, "It is because we have no bread." Then Jesus, perceiving it, said to them, "Why reason ye among yourselves, O ye of little faith, because ye have no bread? Do ye not yet consider nor understand? Have ye your heart hardened? Having eyes, do ye not see? And having ears, do ye not hear? And do ye not remember? When I broke the five loaves to the five thousand, how many baskets full of pieces did ye take up?" They say to Him, "Twelve." "And when the seven to the four thousand, how many baskets full of pieces did ye take up?" And they said, "Seven." And He said to them, "How is it that ye do not perceive that I did not speak to you about bread, but, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees? Do ye not yet understand?" Then they understood that He did not say to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

And they come to Bethsaida. And they bring to Him a blind man and beseech Him to touch him. And taking hold of the hand of the blind man, He led him forth out of the village. And spitting into his eyes and laying His hands upon him, He asked him, "Seest thou anything?" And looking up, he said, "I see men; for I see them as trees walking." Then He laid His hands again upon his eyes; and he looked steadily, and was restored and saw all things clearly. And He sent him away to his house, saying, "Do not even go into the village."

NEAR CÆSAREA PHILIPPI THE DISCIPLES CONFESS JESUS AS THE MESSIAH (Mat. 16:13-20; Mk. 8:27-30; Lu. 9:18-21):—Now Jesus, having come into the regions of Cæsarea Philippi, went forth, with His disciples, into the villages. And it came to pass, on the way, as He was praying in private, the disciples were with Him; and He asked them, saying, "Who do the multitudes say that I, the Son of man, am?" And they, answering, said, "Some say John the Baptist, but others, Elijah, and others, Jeremiah, and others that some one of the old prophets hath risen again." Then He asked them, "But who do ye say that I am?" And Simon Peter, answering, said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Then Jesus, answering, said to him, "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah; for flesh and blood did not reveal it to thee, but my Father who is in heaven. And also I say to thee that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on the earth shall be loosed in heaven." Then He earnestly charged the disciples and commanded them that they should tell no one concerning Him, that He is the Christ.

JESUS FORETELLS HIS DEATH AND RESURRECTION, REBUKES PETER, AND SHOWS THE SACRIFICE AND REWARDS OF FOLLOWING HIM (Mat. 16:21-28; Mk. 8:31–9:1; Lu. 9:22-27):— From that time Jesus began to show His disciples and to teach them that He must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be put to death, and be raised up on the third day; saying, "The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised up." And He spake this word openly. And Peter, taking Him aside, began to rebuke Him, saying, "Mercy on Thee, Lord! this shall never be done to Thee." But He, turning around and looking upon His disciples, rebuked Peter, and said to him, "Get thee behind Me, Satan: thou art an offense to Me; for thou considerest not the things of God, but the things of men."

Then Jesus, calling to Him the multitude with His disciples, said to them, "If any one would come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross every day, and follow Me. For whosoever would save his life, shall lose it; but whosoever would lose his life for My sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. For what is a man profited, if he has gained the whole world, but has lost or forfeited himself, even his life? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life? For whosoever shall be ashamed of Me and of My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when He cometh in His glory and in the glory of His Father with the holy angels. For the Son of man will surely come in the glory of His Father with His angels; and then He shall render to each one according to his deeds." And He said to them, "Verily I say to you, and tell you of a truth, there are some of these standing here, who shall not even taste of death till they see the kingdom of God come in power, even the Son of man coming in His kingdom."

THE TRANSFIGURATION OF JESUS (Mat. 17:1-13; Mk. 9:2-13; Lu. 9:28-36):— Now it came to pass, about six or eight days after these words, Jesus taketh with Him Peter, and James, and John his brother, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves to pray. And it came to pass, while He was praying, He was transfigured before them. The appearance of His countenance was changed, and His face did shine like the sun; and His garments became resplendent, glittering, exceedingly white as the light, as no fuller on earth can whiten. And, behold, there appeared to them two men, Moses and Elijah, talking with Jesus; who, appearing in glory, spake of His departure which He was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. Now Peter and those with him were heavy with sleep, but becoming fully awake, they saw His glory and the two men who stood with Him. And it came to pass, as they were departing from Him, Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, my Master, it is good for us to be here. If Thou wilt, let us make here three booths: one for Thee, one for Moses, and one for Elijah:" not knowing what he said; because he knew not what he should answer, for they became greatly terrified. While he was yet speaking, a bright cloud came and overshadowed them, and as they entered into the cloud, they feared: and behold, there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, "This is My beloved Son, My Chosen, in Whom I am delighted; hear ye Him." And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face and were exceedingly afraid. And when the voice was past, Jesus came and touched them and said, "Arise, and be not afraid." Then suddenly lifting up their eyes and looking around, they no longer saw any one, but Jesus only with themselves. Now as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus charged them that they should tell no one what they had seen until the Son of man should have arisen from the dead, saying, "Tell the vision to no one, till the Son of man be raised from the dead." And they kept silent, and told no one in those days anything of what they had seen, and kept the saying, questioning among themselves, "What is the rising from the dead?" And His disciples asked Him, saying, "Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?" And He answered and said to them, "Elijah, indeed, coming first, restoreth all things. And how is it written concerning the Son of man? That He should suffer many things and be set at naught. But I say to you, that Elijah hath already come, and they knew him not, but did to him whatsoever they wished, as it is written of him. So also the Son of man is about to suffer by them." Then the disciples understood that He spake to them of John the Baptist.

JESUS HEALS A DEMONIAC BOY (Mat. 17:14-21; Mk. 9:14-29; Lu. 9:37-43):— And it came to pass, on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain and were come to the disciples, they saw a great multitude around them and scribes questioning with them. And immediately all the multitude, when they saw Him, were greatly astonished, and running to Him saluted Him. And He asked them, "What are ye discussing with them?" And, behold, there came to Him a man from the multitude, kneeling down to Him, and saying, "Lord, have mercy! I beseech Thee, look upon my son: for he is my only child. He is lunatic, and suffereth grievously, having a dumb spirit. And wherever it seizeth him, he crieth out suddenly, and it convulseth him and dasheth him down; and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away; and having prostrated him, it with difficulty departeth from him; indeed, he often falleth into the fire and often into the water. And I brought him to Thy disciples and besought them to cast it out, and they were not able to heal him." Then Jesus, answering, said, "O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? Bring hither thy son to Me." And they brought him to Him. Now while he was yet coming, the demon, seeing Jesus, immediately threw him down and convulsed him grievously: and falling on the ground, he rolled foaming. And He asked his father, "How long a time is it since this began with him?" And he said, "From childhood. And often it hath cast him into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him. But if Thou canst do anything, help us—have compassion on us!" Then Jesus said to him, "If thou canst! All things are possible to him that believeth." Immediately the father of the child cried out and said, "I believe! help Thou my unbelief." Then Jesus, seeing that the multitude came running together, rebuked the unclean spirit and healed the boy, saying to it, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter into him no more." And the demon, having cried out and convulsed him greatly, came out; and the boy was as if dead, so that the greater part said, "He is dead." But Jesus, taking him by his hand, raised him up, and he stood; and He gave him back to his father. And the boy was healed from that time. And they were all astonished at the majesty of God. Then when Jesus had come into a house, His disciples came to Him and asked Him privately, "Why were we not able to cast it out?" And He saith to them, "Because of your little faith. For verily I say to you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say to this mountain, 'Remove hence to yonder place,' and it will remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you. But this kind can be cast out in no way except through prayer (and fasting)."

JESUS AGAIN FORETELLS HIS DEATH AND RESURRECTION (Mat. 17: 22, 23; Mk. 9:30-32; Lu. 9:43-45):—And going forth from thence, they passed through Galilee; and He would not that any one should know it. But while they were sojourning in Galilee, and all were wondering at all the things that He did, Jesus said to His disciples, "Lay ye up these words in your ears; for the Son of man is about to be delivered into the hands of men; and they will put Him to death; and after He is killed, on the third day He shall be raised up." But they did not understand this saying; and it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it. And they were exceedingly grieved; and they were afraid to ask Him about this saying.

JESUS PAYS TRIBUTE (Mat. 17:24-27; Mk. 9:33):—Now they came to Capernaum. And when they were come, those who received the half-shekel came to Peter, and said, "Doth not your Teacher pay the half-shekel?" He saith, "Yea." And when he came into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What thinkest thou, Simon? The kings of the earth, from whom do they collect custom or tribute? from their own citizens, or from foreigners?" Now when he said, "From foreigners," Jesus said to him, "Then indeed are the citizens free. But that we may not offend them, go to the sea and cast a hook, and take the fish that first cometh up; and opening its mouth, thou shalt find a shekel; take that and give to them for Me and thee."

JESUS SHOWS WHO IS GREATEST IN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN (Mat. 18:1-14; Mk. 9:33-50; Lu. 9:46-50):—Now there arose a contention among the disciples as to which of them might be the greatest. And in that hour, while Jesus was in the house, He asked them, "What were ye discussing in the way?" But they were silent; because they had been disputing with one another in the way, who was the greatest. And sitting down, He called the twelve. And they came to Him, saying, "Who then is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" But Jesus, perceiving the reasoning of their heart, called a little child to Him, and took it and set it by Him in their midst, and said to them, "If any one wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all, and servant of all." And taking the child in His arms, He said to them, "Verily I say to you, except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall by no means enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever, therefore, shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whosoever shall receive this little child or one of such little children in My name, receiveth Me; and whosoever receiveth Me, receiveth not Me, but Him who sent Me: for he that is least among you all, the same is great. But whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe in Me to stumble, it were better for him that a great millstone should be hanged about his neck and he be sunk in the depth of the sea. Woe to the world because of the stumbling-blocks! For it it necessary for the stumbling-blocks to come, nevertheless woe to the man through whom the stumbling-block cometh. But if thy hand or thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off and cast it from thee. It is good for thee to enter into life maimed or lame, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into hell, into the everlasting, unquenchable fire. And if thy eye cause thee to stumble, pluck it out and cast it from thee. It is good for thee to enter into life, into the kingdom of God, with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire, where their worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched. For every one shall be salted with fire. Salt is good; but if the salt becometh saltless, with what will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another. See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say to you, that their angels in heaven do always see the face of My Father who is in heaven. What think ye? If any man hath a hundred sheep, and one of them goeth astray, doth he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains and go and seek that which is gone astray? And if it be that he find it, verily I say to you, that he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety-nine that have not gone astray. Even so it is not the will of your Father Who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish."

Then John answered and said to Him, "Master, we saw one casting out demons in Thy name and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us." But Jesus said to him, "Forbid him not; for there is no one who shall work a miracle in My name and be able hastily to speak evil of Me; for he that is not against us is for us. For whosoever shall give you to drink a cup of water in My name, because ye are Christ's, verily I say to you, he shall by no means lose his reward."

THE DUTY OF FORGIVENESS; OR, HOW TO TREAT A BROTHER WHO HAS WRONGED YOU (Mat. 18:15-35):—"But if thy brother sin against thee, go, show him his fault between thee and him alone. If he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. Then if he refuse to listen to them, tell it to the church. But if he refuse to listen to the church also, let him be to thee as the heathen and the taxgatherer. Verily I say to you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

"Again I say to you, that if two of you shall agree on earth about any matter whatever they shall ask, it shall be done for them by My Father Who is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in My name, there am I in their midst."

Then came Peter and said to Him, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Until seven times?" Jesus saith to him, "I say not to thee 'until seven times;' but 'until seventy times seven.' Therefore the kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man, a king, who would have a reckoning with his servants. Now when he began to reckon, there was brought to him one who owed him ten thousand talents. But as he had nothing to pay with, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and the children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. The servant, therefore, falling down, prostrated himself before him, saying, 'Have patience with me and I will pay thee all.' Then the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him and forgave him the debt. But that servant went out and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred shillings. And he laid hold of him and seized him by the throat, saying, 'Pay whatever thou owest!' His fellow-servant, therefore, falling down, besought him, saying, 'Have patience with me and I will pay thee.' And he would not; but went and cast him into prison until he should pay what was due. Now his fellow-servants, seeing what took place, were greatly grieved, and they came and told their lord all that was done. Then his lord, having called him to him, saith to him, 'Thou wicked servant! I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me. Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had compassion on thee?' And his lord was angry, and delivered him to the tormentors until he should pay all that was due to him. Thus also shall My heavenly Father do to you, unless ye, from your hearts, forgive each one his brother."

JESUS GOES TO THE FEAST OF THE TABERNACLES (Lu. 9:51-56; Jno. 7:2-10):—Now it came to pass, when the days for His being received up were drawing near, and the Tabernacles, the feast of the Jews, was at hand, then His brothers said to Him, "Depart hence and go into Judæa, that Thy disciples also may see Thy works which Thou doest. For no one doeth anything in secret, and himself seeketh to be known openly. If Thou doest these things, manifest Thyself to the world." For even His brothers did not believe in Him. Jesus, therefore, saith to them, "My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready. The world cannot hate you; but it hateth Me, because I testify concerning it, that its works are evil. Go ye up to the feast. I am not yet going up to this feast; because My time has not yet been fulfilled." Having said these things to them, He continued in Galilee. But when His brothers were gone up to the feast, He steadfastly set His face to go up to Jerusalem, and went up, not openly, but as it were in secret. And He sent messengers before His face, and they went and entered into a Samaritan village, so as to prepare for Him. And they did not receive Him, because His face was as if He were going to Jerusalem. But when His disciples, James and John, saw it, they said, "Lord, wilt Thou that we command fire to come down from heaven and consume them (even as Elijah did)?" But He turned and rebuked them, (and said, "Ye know not of what spirit ye are; for the Son of man did not come to destroy, but to save men's lives"). And they went to another village.

MEN MUST GIVE UP EVERYTHING TO FOLLOW JESUS (Mat. 8:19-22; Lu. 9:57-62):—Now as they were going on the way, a certain one, a scribe, came and said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow Thee whithersoever Thou goest." And Jesus said to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay His head." And He said to another of the disciples, "Follow Me." But he said to Him, "Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father." Then Jesus said to him, "Follow Me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and preach the kingdom of God." And another also said, "I will follow Thee, Lord; but first permit me to bid farewell to those in my house." But Jesus said to him, "No one, having put his hand on a plow and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God."

JESUS, AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES, TEACHES IN THE TEMPLE (Jno. 7:11-30):—Now the Jews were seeking Jesus at the feast, and said, "Where is He?" There was much stir about Him in the multitudes. Some said, "He is a good man;" others said, "Nay, but He misleadeth the multitude." No one, however, spake openly about Him, for fear of the Jews. But when it was already the middle of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught. The Jews, therefore, wondered, saying, "How knoweth this Fellow letters, having never learned?" Jesus, therefore, answered them and said, "My teaching is not Mine, but His who sent Me. If any one desireth to do His will, he shall know the teaching, whether it is from God, or whether I speak from Myself. He that speaketh from himself, seeketh his own glory; but He that seeketh the glory of Him that sent Him, He is true, and there is no unrighteousness in Him. Did not Moses give you the law? and not one of you keepeth the law? Why do ye seek to kill Me?" The multitude answered, "Thou hast a demon: who seeketh to kill Thee?" Jesus answered and said to them, "I did one work and ye all wonder because of it. Moses hath given you circumcision, (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers,) and on the Sabbath, ye circumcise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the Sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye angry with Me, because I made a man entirely sound on the Sabbath? Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment." Therefore some of those of Jerusalem said, "Is not this He whom they are seeking to kill? And behold, He speaketh publicly and they say nothing to Him. Do the rulers then certainly know that This is the Christ? but we know this man, whence He is; but the Christ, when He cometh, no one knoweth whence He is." Jesus, therefore, cried aloud in the temple, teaching and saying, "Ye both know Me, and know whence I am; and I have not come of Myself, but He is true Who sent Me, Whom ye know not. I know Him, because I am from Him and He sent Me." They sought therefore to take Him, and no one laid his hand upon Him, because His hour had not yet come.

THE CHIEF PRIESTS AND PHARISEES ATTEMPT TO ARREST JESUS (Jno. 7:31–8:1):—Now of the multitude, many believed in Him, and said, "When the Christ shall come, will He do more signs than those which this man hath done?" The Pharisees heard of the multitude rumoring these things concerning Him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to arrest Him. Jesus therefore said, "Yet a little while am I with you, and I go to Him Who sent Me. Ye shall seek Me and shall not find Me; and where I am, ye cannot come." The Jews therefore said among themselves, "Where is This Man about to go, that we shall not find Him? Is He about to go to the dispersion among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What is this word that He said, 'Ye shall seek Me, and shall not find Me; and where I am, ye cannot come'?"

Now in the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried aloud, saying, "If any one thirst, let him come to Me and drink. He that believeth on Me, as the Scripture hath said, from within him shall flow rivers of living water." Now this He spake concerning the Spirit, Whom those believing on Him were about to receive; for the Spirit was not yet come, because Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude, therefore, having heard these words, said, "This is truly the Prophet." Others said, "This is the Christ." But others said, "Surely the Christ cometh not out of Galilee: hath not the Scripture said, that out of the offspring of David, and from the village of Bethlehem, where David was, the Christ cometh?" A division therefore arose in the multitude because of Him. Then some of them desired to arrest Him, but no one laid hands upon Him.

The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said to them, "Why did ye not bring Him?" The officers answered, "Never man so spake (as this Man speaks)." Then the Pharisees answered them, "Have ye also been deceived? Hath any one of the rulers believed on Him, or of the Pharisees? But this multitude that knoweth not the law are accursed." Nicodemus saith to them (he that came to Him before, being one of them), "Doth our law judge any man, until it first hear from himself and know what he doeth?" They answered and said to him, "Art thou also of Galilee? Search and see that out of Galilee no prophet ariseth." (And each went to his house. But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.)

THE ADULTERESS BROUGHT TO JESUS (Jno. 8:2-11):—Now early in the morning, Jesus came again into the temple. And all the people came to Him, and He sat down and was teaching them. Then the scribes and the Pharisees bring to Him a woman taken in adultery; and having placed her in the midst, they say to Him, "Teacher, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. Now in the law, Moses commanded us to stone such: so what dost Thou say (of her)?" But this they said trying Him, that they might have something of which to accuse Him. But Jesus, having stooped down, was writing with His finger on the ground. Now, as they continued asking Him, He raised Himself up and said to them, "Let the sinless one among you, first cast the stone at her." And again stooping down, He wrote on the ground. Then they, hearing it (and being reproved by their conscience), went out, one by one, beginning with the eldest ones even to the last; and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. Then Jesus, rising up (and seeing no one but the woman), said to her, "Woman, where are they, thy accusers? Did no one condemn thee?" And she said, "No one, Lord." Then Jesus said to her, "Neither do I condemn thee. Go, and from henceforth sin no more."

JESUS IN CONTROVERSY WITH THE JEWS; THEY ATTEMPT TO STONE HIM (Jno. 8:12-59)—(Jesus the Light, etc., vers. 12-20):—Again therefore Jesus spake to them, saying, "I am the Light of the world. He that followeth Me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life." The Pharisees therefore said to Him, "Thou bearest testimony of Thyself; Thy testimony is not true." Jesus answered and said to them, "Even if I bear testimony of Myself, My testimony is true; because I know whence I came and whither I go: but ye know not whence I come or whither I go. Ye judge according to the flesh; I judge no one. But even if I judge, My judgment is true; because I am not alone, but I and the Father Who sent Me. And in your law also it is written, 'The testimony of two men is true.' I am one that beareth witness of Myself, and the Father Who sent Me, beareth witness of Me." They said therefore to Him, "Where is Thy Father?" Jesus answered, "Ye know neither Me, nor My Father. If ye knew Me, ye would know My Father also." These words He spake in the treasury, while teaching in the temple; and no one arrested Him, because His hour had not yet come.

He said therefore again to them, "I go away, and ye shall seek Me, and ye shall die in your sin. Whither I go, ye cannot come." The Jews therefore said, "Will He kill Himself; for He saith, 'Whither I go, ye cannot come'?" And He said to them, "Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world. I said therefore to you, that ye shall die in your sins; for if ye believe not that I AM, ye shall die in your sins." They said therefore to Him, "Who art Thou?" Jesus said to them, "Even that which I am telling you from the first. I have many things to say and to judge concerning you. But He Who sent Me is true; and what I heard from Him, these things I speak to the world." They did not understand that He was speaking to them of the Father. Jesus therefore said, "When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then ye shall know that I AM: and I do nothing of Myself, but I am speaking these things as the Father taught Me. And He Who sent Me is with Me. He hath not left Me alone, because I always do the things that are pleasing to Him." As He spake these things, many believed on Him.

Jesus, therefore, said to those Jews that had believed Him, "If ye abide in My word, ye are truly My disciples. And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free." They answered Him, "We are the offspring of Abraham, and have never yet been in bondage to any one: how sayest Thou, 'Ye shall become free'?" Jesus answered them, "Verily, verily, I say to you, every one that committeth sin is the slave of sin. Now the slave abideth not in the house forever: the Son abideth forever. If, therefore, the Son shall set you free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's offspring; yet ye seek to kill Me, because My word hath no place in you. I speak what I have seen with My Father; and ye also do what ye have heard from your father." They answered and said to Him, "Abraham is our father." Jesus saith to them, "If ye are children of Abraham, do the works of Abraham. But now ye seek to kill Me, a Man Who hath spoken to you the truth, which I heard from God: Abraham did not do this. Ye are doing the works of your father." They said to Him, "We were not born of fornication; we have one father—God." Jesus said to them, "If God were your father, ye would love Me; for I was sent forth and am come from God: for not even have I come of Myself, but He sent Me. Why do ye not understand My speech? Because ye cannot hear My word. Ye are of your father, the devil; and the lustful desires of your father, ye are eager to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and standeth not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. Whenever he speaketh a lie, he speaketh out of his own resources; because he is a liar, and the father of it. Now because I speak the truth, ye do not believe Me. Which of you convicteth Me of sin? If I speak the truth, why do ye not believe Me? He that is of God, heareth the words of God; for this reason ye hear them not, because ye are not of God." The Jews answered and said to Him, "Do we not say truly, that Thou art a Samaritan, and hath a demon?" Jesus answered, "I have no demon; but I honor My Father, and ye dishonor Me. But I seek not My own glory: there is One Who seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I say to you, If any one keep My word, he shall not see death, forever." The Jews said to Him, "Now we know that Thou hast a demon. Abraham died, also the prophets; and Thou sayest, 'If any one keep My word, he shall not taste of death, forever.' Art Thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? and the prophets died; Whom makest Thou Thyself?" Jesus answered, "If I glorify Myself, My glory is nothing. He that glorifieth Me is My Father, of Whom ye say, that He is your God. And ye have not known Him, but I know Him. And if I should say that I know Him not, I shall be like you, a liar; but I know Him and keep His word. Abraham, your father, rejoiced to see My day; and he saw it and was glad." The Jews therefore said to Him, "Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast Thou seen Abraham?" Jesus said to them, "Verily, verily, I say to you, before Abraham existed, I AM." Then they took up stones to cast at Him; but Jesus concealed Himself and went forth out of the temple (going through the midst of them, and thus passed on).

JESUS GIVES SIGHT TO A MAN BORN BLIND (Jno. 9:1-41):—And Jesus, as He passed along, saw a man blind from birth. And His disciples asked Him, saying, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he should be born blind?" Jesus answered, "Neither this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God might be manifested in him. We must work the works of Him Who sent Me, while it is day: night is coming, when no man can work. While I am in the world, I am the light of the world." Having said these things, He spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blind with clay, and said to him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam," (which is interpreted, Sent). He went therefore, and washed, and came seeing. The neighbors, therefore, and those who saw him before that he was a beggar, said, "Is not this he that was sitting and begging?" Some said, "This is he;" others said, "No, but he is like him;" he said, "I am he." They said therefore to him, "How were thy eyes opened?" He answered, "The man called Jesus made clay and anointed my eyes, and said to me, 'Go to Siloam and wash.' I went therefore, and washed, and I received sight." And they said to him, "Where is He?" He saith, "I do not know."

They bring him, who was formerly blind, to the Pharisees. Now it was a Sabbath, in which day Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. Again, therefore, the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said to them, "He put clay on my eyes, and I washed, and I see." Thereupon some of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from God, because He keepeth not the Sabbath." Others said, "How can a man, if a sinner, do such miracles?" And there was a division among them. So they say to the man again, "What sayest thou about Him, since He opened thy eyes?" Then he said, "He is a Prophet." The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and had received sight, until they called the parents of him that had received sight, and asked them, saying, "Is this your son, who, ye say, was born blind? How then doth he now see?" His parents answered and said, "We know that this is our son and that he was born blind: but how he now seeth we do not know; or who opened his eyes, we do not know. Ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself." These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had already agreed together, that if any one should confess Him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. For this reason his parents said, "He is of age; ask him." So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said to him, "Give glory to God: we know that this Man is a sinner." Then he answered, "Whether He is a sinner, I do not know: one thing I do know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see." So they said to him again, "What did He to thee? How opened He thine eyes?" He answered them, "I told you already, and ye did not hear; why would ye hear it again? would ye also become His disciples?" And they reviled him, and said, "Thou art His disciple; but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken to Moses; but this fellow, we know not whence He is." The man answered and said to them, "Why, herein is the wonder, that ye know not whence He is, yet He opened my eyes! We know that God heareth not sinners; but if any one be a worshipper of God and do His will, him He heareth. From the beginning of time, it hath never been heard that any one opened the eyes of one born blind. If this man were not from God, He could do nothing." They answered and said to him, "Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us?" And they drove him out.

Jesus heard that they had driven him out; and finding him, He said, "Dost thou believe on the Son of God?" He answered and said, "Who is He, Lord, that I may believe on Him?" Jesus said to him, "Thou hast indeed seen Him, and He it is that is speaking with thee." Then he said, "Lord, I believe." And he worshipped Him. And Jesus said, "For judgment I came into this world; that they who see not, may see; and they who see, may become blind." Those of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these things, and said to Him, "Are we also blind?" Jesus said to them, "If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, 'We see:' your sin abideth."

THE GOOD SHEPHERD (Jno. 10:1-21):—First Parable: The Shepherd, vers. 1-6:—"Verily, verily, I say to you: He that entereth not through the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up from another place, that man is a thief and a robber; but he that entereth in through the door is a shepherd of the sheep. To him the doorkeeper openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. When he hath driven out all his own sheep, he goeth before them; and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice. But a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him; because they do not know the voice of strangers." This parable spake Jesus to them; but they did not understand what those things meant that He spake to them.

Second Parable: The Gate, vers. 7-10:—Jesus, therefore, said to them again, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the Door of the sheep. All who came before Me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not listen to them. I am the Door. By Me, if any man enter in, he shall be saved; and he shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly."

Third Parable: The Good Shepherd, vers. 11-18:—"I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd layeth down His life for the sheep. But the hired-servant, who is not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep and fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep: and the wolf seizeth them and scattereth them. I am the Good Shepherd; and I know those that are Mine, and those that are Mine know Me, even as the Father knoweth Me and I know the Father: and I lay down My life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold. Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice: and there shall be one flock, one Shepherd. Therefore the Father loveth Me, because I lay down My life, that I may take it again. No one taketh it away from Me, but I lay it down of Myself. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again: this commandment I received from My Father."

Historical Conclusion: vers. 19-21:—Again there arose a division among the Jews because of these words. Now many of them said, "He hath a demon and is mad: why listen to Him?" Others said, "These are not the sayings of one possessed with a demon. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?"

JESUS SENDS FORTH THE SEVENTY (Lu. 10:1-16):—Now after these things, the Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them, two and two, before His face, into every city and place whither He Himself was about to come. And He said to them, "The harvest indeed is great, but the laborers are few. Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that He may send forth laborers into His harvest. Go your ways; behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. Carry neither a purse, nor a wallet, nor sandals; and salute no one by the way. And into whatever house ye may enter, first say, 'Peace to this house.' And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it; but if not so, it shall return to you. And in the same house abide, eating and drinking the things given by them; for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. And into whatever city ye enter and they receive you, eat the things set before you, and heal the sick therein, and say to them, 'The kingdom of God has come to you.' But into whatever city ye enter, and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, 'Even the dust from your city which adhereth to our feet, we wipe off against you; nevertheless know ye this, that the kingdom of God has come.' I say to you, that it will be more tolerable for Sodom in that day, than for that city. He that heareth you, heareth Me; and he that rejecteth you, rejecteth Me; and he that rejecteth Me, rejecteth Him Who sent Me.

"Woe to thee, Chorazin! Woe to thee, Bethsaida! for if the miracles had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment, than for you. And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted to heaven? Thou shalt be brought down to Hades!"

JESUS ANSWERS A LAWYER; PARABLE OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN (Lu. 10:25-37):—And behold, a certain lawyer stood up trying Him, saying, "Teacher, what shall I do to inherit everlasting life?" And He said to him, "What is written in the law? How readest thou?" And he, answering, said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." Then He said to him, "Thou hast answered correctly; do this, and thou shalt live." But he, wishing to justify himself, said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?"

Then Jesus, taking up the question, said, "A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, who, having both stripped and beaten him, departed, leaving him half dead. Now by chance, a certain priest was going down on that road, and seeing him, he passed by on the other side. Then in like manner, a Levite also, coming to the place and seeing him, passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, passing along the road, came to him; and seeing him, he was moved with compassion. And coming to him, he bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine. Then putting him on his own beast, he brought him to an inn and took care of him. And on the morrow, taking out two shillings, he gave them to the innkeeper and said, 'Take care of him; whatsoever thou spendest more, I, on my return, will repay thee.' Which of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor to him who fell among the robbers?" And he said, "He that did kindness to him." Then Jesus said to him, "Go, and do thou likewise."

JESUS THE GUEST OF MARTHA AND MARY (Lu. 10:38-42):—Now as they went on their way, He entered into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received Him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord's feet, and was listening to His discourse. But Martha was exceedingly worried on account of much serving; and coming up quickly to them, she said, "Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister left me to serve alone? Speak to her then, that she help me." But Jesus answered and said to her, "Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things. There is need of but one thing: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken from her."

JESUS TEACHES HIS DISCIPLES TO PRAY (Lu. 11:1-13):—And it came to pass, as Jesus was praying in a certain place, when He ceased, one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples." Then He saith to them, "When ye pray, say, Father, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Give us day by day, our needful bread. And forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation." And He said to them, "Who, of you, shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, and say to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine is come from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him;' and he, answering from within, shall say, 'Do not trouble me; the door is already shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot arise to give thee.' I say to you, Even though he will not arise and give to him because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity, he will arise and give him as many as he needeth. Also I say to you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you. For every one that asketh, receiveth; and he that seeketh, findeth; and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened. And which of you that is a father, if his son ask a loaf, will give him a stone? or a fish, and instead of a fish, will give him a serpent? or also if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? If therefore ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him!"

JESUS CASTS OUT A DUMB DEMON: A BLASPHEMOUS ACCUSATION (Lu. 11:14-28):—Now He was casting out a dumb demon. And it came to pass, when the demon was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitude wondered. But some of them said, "By Beelzebub, chief of the demons, He casteth out the demons." And others, trying Him, sought of Him a sign from heaven. But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth. Now if Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? For ye say that I am casting out the demons by Beelzebub. And if I by Beelzebub cast out the demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges. But if I by God's finger cast out demons, then the kingdom of God is come among you.

"When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own mansion, his goods are in safety; but when a stronger than he, coming upon him, shall overcome him, he taketh away his complete armor upon which he relied, and distributeth his spoils. He that is not with Me, is against Me; and he that gathereth not with Me, scattereth.

"When the unclean spirit is gone out from the man, it goeth through waterless places, seeking rest; and not finding it, it saith, 'I will return into my house, whence I came out.' And when it cometh, it findeth it swept and put in order. Then it goeth and taketh to itself seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and, entering in, they dwell there. And the last state of that man becometh worse than the first."

Now it came to pass, as He was saying these things, a certain woman lifting up her voice from among the crowd, said to Him, "Blessed is the womb that carried Thee, and the breasts which Thou didst suck." But He said, "Yea rather, blessed are they who hear the word of God and keep it."

THE SIGN OF JONAH (Lu. 11:29-32):—Now as the multitudes were coming together, He began to say, "This generation is a wicked generation. It seeketh after a sign, and no sign shall be given to it, except the sign of Jonah. For as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so also shall the Son of man be to this generation. The southern queen shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here. Men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; because they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here."

THE LIGHTED LAMP (Lu. 11:33-36):—"No one, having lighted a lamp, putteth it in a hidden place or under the measure, but upon the lampstand, that those who come in may have light. The lamp of thy body is the eye. When thine eye is clear, thy whole body is full of light; but when it is evil, thy body is dark. Take heed, therefore, lest the light in thee be darkness. If, therefore, thy whole body is enlightened, not having any part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the lamp with its brightness giveth thee light."

JESUS, DINING WITH A PHARISEE, PRONOUNCES WOES UPON THEM (Lu. 11:37-54):—Now as Jesus was speaking, a Pharisee asketh Him to dine with him. And He entered and reclined at table. But when the Pharisee saw it, he wondered that He had not first bathed Himself before dinner. Then the Lord said to him, "Now ye, the Pharisees, cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish; but your inside is full with rapacity and wickedness. Ye foolish ones, did not He Who made the outside, make the inside also? Nevertheless give as alms the things within, and behold all things are clean to you. But woe to you Pharisees! for ye pay tithes of the mint, and the rue, and every herb; and ye pass by judgment and the love of God. But these things ye ought to have done, and not to leave those undone. Woe to you Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seat in the synagogues and the salutations in the marketplaces. Woe to you! for ye are as the unseen graves, and the men that walk over them know it not."

Then one of the lawyers, answering, saith to Him, "Teacher, in saying these things, Thou denouncest us also." And He said, "Woe to you lawyers also! for ye load men with burdens grievous to bear, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. Woe to you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. Therefore, ye are witnesses and consent to the works of your fathers; because they indeed killed them, and ye build their tombs. For this reason also the Wisdom of God said, 'I will send to them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute;' that the blood of all the prophets which hath been shed from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation: from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the altar and the holy house; yea, I say to you, It shall be required of this generation. Woe to you lawyers! for ye took away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and those who were entering in ye hindered."

And as He went out thence, the scribes and the Pharisees began to press Him hard, and to question Him artfully about many things, lying in wait for Him, to catch something out of His mouth (that they might accuse Him).

JESUS WARNS AGAINST HYPOCRISY, AND EXHORTS TO FEAR AND TRUST GOD (Lu. 12:1-12):—During these events, when tens of thousands of the multitude were gathered together, so that they trod upon one another, Jesus began to say in the first place to His disciples, "Guard yourselves from the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be uncovered; and hidden that shall not be known. Wherefore, whatsoever ye said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye spake in the ear in the private chambers shall be proclaimed from the housetops. But I say to you, My friends, Fear not because of those who kill the body, and after that are not able to do anything more. But I will show you Whom ye should fear: fear Him Who, after He hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say to you, fear Him.

Are not five sparrows sold for two pence? and not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. But even the hairs of your head have all been numbered. Fear not; ye are of more value than many sparrows. And I say to you, Every one that shall confess Me before men, him also shall the Son of man confess before the angels of God; but he that hath denied Me in the presence of men, shall be denied before the angels of God. And every one that shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but to him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven. And when they bring you before the synagogues and the rulers and the authorities, be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say; for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say."

THE FOLLY OF COVETOUSNESS (Lu. 12:13-21):—Then one of the multitude said to Jesus, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me." But He said to him, "Man, who appointed Me a judge or divider over you?" Then He said to them, "Beware, and keep yourselves from all covetousness; for not in the abundance that any one hath, of what he possesseth, is his life." And He spake a parable to them, saying, "The land of a certain rich man brought forth bountifully. And he reasoned within himself, saying, 'What shall I do, since I have not where to store my fruits?' And he said, 'This will I do: I will pull down my barns and build greater; and there will I store my produce and my good things. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast many good things laid up for many years; take thy rest, eat, drink, be merry.' But God said to him, 'Thou fool! this night they require thy soul of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be?' So is he who is laying up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God."

WE SHOULD YIELD NOT TO ANXIETY, BUT TRUST GOD'S CARE (Lu. 12:22-34):—Then Jesus said to His disciples, "For this reason I say to you, Be not anxious as to your life, what ye shall eat; nor as to your body, what ye shall put on. For the life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. Consider the ravens, how they neither sow nor reap, which have neither storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them. How much more valuable are ye than the birds! Now which of you, by being anxious, is able to add a cubit to his stature? If then ye are not even able to do the least thing, why are ye anxious about the rest? Consider the lilies, how they grow: they labor not, nor spin; yet I say to you, Not even Solomon, in all his glory, was clothed as one of these. Now if God thus clothes the grass, which today is in the field, and tomorrow is cast into an oven, by how much more will He clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek ye not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, and be not in anxious suspense; for the nations of the world seek after all these things. But your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. Nevertheless seek ye His kingdom, and these things shall be added to you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good will to give you the kingdom. Sell the things ye have, and give alms; make for yourselves purses that grow not old, an unfailing treasure in the heavens, where no thief draweth near, nor moth destroyeth. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

FAITHFUL AND UNFAITHFUL SERVANTS (Lu. 12:35-48):—"Let your loins be girded about, and the lamps be burning, and be ye yourselves like men waiting for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open to him immediately. Blessed are those servants whom the lord, when he cometh, shall find watching. Verily, I say to you, that he will gird himself and will make them recline at table, and he will come and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, or if in the third, and find them thus, blessed are those servants. But know this, that if the master of the house had known at what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have permitted his house to be dug through. Be ye also ready; for in the hour that ye think not, the Son of man cometh."

Then Peter said, "Lord, speakest Thou this parable to us, or even to all?" And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful, the wise steward, whom the lord shall set over his household to give the allowance of food at the set time? Blessed is that servant whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing. Of a truth I say to you, that he will set him over all his possessions. But if that servant say in his heart, 'My lord is delaying to come,' and begin to beat the men-servants and the maid-servants, and to eat and to drink and to be drunken; the lord of that servant shall come in a day when he doth not expect him, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unbelievers. But that servant who knew his lord's will, and prepared not, nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes; but he that knew not, yet did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few. And every one to whom much was given, much will be required of him; and to whom they committed much, of him will they ask the more."

JESUS CAME NOT TO SEND PEACE ON EARTH (Lu. 12:49-59):—"I came to cast fire upon the earth, and how I wish that it were already kindled! But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how I am straitened until it be accomplished! Think ye that I came to give peace in the earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. They shall be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law."

Then said He also to the multitude, "When ye see a cloud rising up out of the west, immediately ye say, 'A shower is coming;' and so it cometh to pass. And when it is blowing a south wind, ye say, 'There will be hot weather;' and it cometh to pass. Hypocrites! ye know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and of the heaven; but how is it, ye know not how to interpret this time? And why, even of yourselves, do ye not judge what is right? For as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, give diligence on the way to be set free from him; lest he drag thee along to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison. I say to thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid even the last mite."

THE SEVENTY RETURN AND REPORT (Lu. 10:17-24):—Now the seventy returned with joy, saying, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us in Thy name!" And He said to them, "I beheld Satan fallen as lightning out of the heaven. Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall in any wise injure you. Yet rejoice not in this, that the spirits are subject to you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven." In the same hour, Jesus rejoiced greatly in the Holy Spirit, and said, "I thank Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou didst hide these things from wise and sagacious men and didst reveal them to babes: yea, Father, for so it was well pleasing in Thy sight. All things were delivered to Me by My Father; and no one knoweth who the Son is, but the Father, and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son may choose to reveal Him." And turning to the disciples privately, He said, "Blessed are the eyes that see what ye are seeing. For I say to you, that many prophets and kings desired to see what ye are seeing, and saw them not, and to hear what ye are hearing, and heard them not!"

THE NECESSITY OF REPENTANCE (Lu. 13:1-9):—Now there were some present at the same time, who told Jesus about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate mingled with their sacrifices. And answering, He said to them, "Do ye think that these Galileans were sinners more than all the other Galileans, because they have suffered these things? I tell you, Nay; but unless ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. Or those eighteen upon whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them; think ye that they were offenders more than all the men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay; but unless ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish."

Then He spake this parable: "A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none. Then he said to the vinedresser, 'Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree and find none: cut it down; why should it make the ground also fruitless?' But he, answering, saith to him, 'Lord, let it alone this year also, until I shall dig around it and cast in manure; and if, indeed, it bear fruit in future, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down."

JESUS HEALS A WOMAN ON THE SABBATH (Lu. 13:10-17):—Now Jesus was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. And behold, a woman that had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bent double and wholly unable to lift herself up. Then Jesus, seeing her, called to her and said, "Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity." And He laid His hands upon her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. But the ruler of the synagogue, being angry because Jesus healed on the Sabbath, said to the congregation, "There are six days in which men ought to work; in them, therefore, come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day." Then the Lord answered him and said, "Hypocrites! doth not each one of you loose his ox or ass from the stall and lead him away to give him water? And this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, eighteen years, ought she not to be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?" And when He said these things, all those opposing Him were ashamed; and all the multitude rejoiced at all the glorious things that were done by Him.

PARABLES OF THE MUSTARD SEED AND OF THE LEAVEN (Lu. 13:18-21):—He said therefore, "To what is the kingdom of God like? And to what shall I liken it? It is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his garden, and it grew and came to be a tree, and the birds of heaven rested on its branches." And again He said, "To what shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until it was all leavened."

JESUS ATTENDS THE FEAST OF DEDICATION (Lu. 13:22; Jno. 10:22-42):—Now the feast of Dedication in Jerusalem came on. And Jesus passed along through cities and villages teaching, and went on His way into Jerusalem. It was winter; and Jesus was walking in the temple, in Solomon's porch. The Jews therefore came around Him and said to Him, "How long dost Thou hold our minds in suspense? If Thou art the Christ, tell us plainly." Jesus answered them, "I told you, and ye do not believe. The works that I do in the name of My Father; these bear witness of Me. But ye do not believe, because ye are not of My sheep. My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me; and I give to them everlasting life, and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of My hand. My Father Who has given them to Me is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. I and the Father are one." Then the Jews took up stones again to stone Him. Jesus answered them, "Many good works have I shown you from the Father: for which of those works do ye stone Me?" The Jews answered Him, "We do not stone Thee for a good work, but for blasphemy; even because Thou, being a man, makest Thyself God." Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your law, 'I said, Ye are gods?' If He called them gods to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture cannot be broken), do ye say of Him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, 'Thou blasphemest,' because I said, 'I am the Son of God'? If I do not the works of My Father, believe Me not; but if I do them, even though ye believe Me not, believe the works; that ye may know and understand that the Father is in Me and I in the Father." Again they sought to take Him; and He went forth out of their hand.

And He went away again beyond the Jordan, to the place where John was at first baptizing, and abode there. And many came to Him; and they said, "John indeed did no sign; but all things whatsoever John said concerning this Man were true." And many believed on Him there.

ON THE DEATH OF LAZARUS, JESUS RETURNS TO JUDÆA: HE RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD (Jno. 11:1-46):—Now a certain man, Lazarus, of Bethany, the village of Mary and Martha her sister, was sick. (Now it was the Mary who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.) The sisters therefore sent to Jesus, saying, "Lord, behold, he whom Thou lovest is sick." But when Jesus heard it, He said, "This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified through it." Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. When, therefore, He heard that he was sick, even then He remained two days in the place where He was. Then, after this, He saith to the disciples, "Let us go into Judæa again." The disciples say to Him, "Rabbi, the Jews were lately seeking to stone Thee, and goest Thou thither again?" Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any one walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of the world. But if any one walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him." These things spake He, and after this He saith to them, "Lazarus, our friend, hath fallen asleep; but I am going that I may awake him." The disciples therefore said to Him, "Lord, if he hath fallen asleep, he will get well." Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that He was speaking of taking rest in sleep. Then therefore Jesus said to them plainly, "Lazarus is dead. And I rejoice for your sakes that I was not there, in order that ye may believe; but let us go to him." Thereupon Thomas, called Didymus, said to his fellow-disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with Him."

So when Jesus came, He found that he had already been in the tomb four days. Now Bethany was near to Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off. And many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to comfort them concerning their brother. Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went to meet Him; but Mary sat in the house. Martha therefore said to Jesus, "Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother would not have died; but even now I know that whatsoever Thou mayest ask of God, God will give to Thee." Jesus saith to her, "Thy brother shall rise again." Martha saith to Him, "I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day." Jesus saith to her, "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth on Me, though he be dead, he shall live; and whosoever liveth and believeth on Me shall never die. Believest thou this?" She saith to Him, "Yea, Lord; I have believed that Thou art the Christ, the Son of God, Who cometh into the world." And having said this, she went away and called Mary, her sister, secretly, saying, "The Teacher has come, and calleth for thee." Then she, as soon as she heard it, rose up hastily and went to Him. Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met Him. The Jews therefore who were with her in the house and comforting her, when they saw that Mary rose up hastily and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there. Then Mary, when she came where Jesus was, and saw Him, fell at His feet, saying to Him, "Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother would not have died." Jesus, therefore, when He saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her weeping, was greatly moved in spirit, and distressed; and He said, "Where have ye laid him?" They say to Him, "Lord, come and see." Jesus wept. The Jews therefore said, "Behold, how He loved him!" But some of them said, "Could not this Man, Who opened the eyes of the blind man, have caused that this one also should not die?" Jesus, therefore, again greatly moved within Himself, cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay upon it. Jesus saith, "Take ye away the stone." Martha, the sister of the dead man, saith to Him, "Lord, already the odor is offensive, for it is the fourth day since he was buried." Jesus saith to her, "Did I not say to thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?" Then they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up His eyes, and said, "Father, I thank Thee that Thou heardest Me. And I knew that Thou hearest Me always; but for the sake of the multitude that standeth around, I said it, that they may believe that Thou didst send Me." And having spoken these words, He cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth!" He that was dead came forth, bound hands and feet with grave-bandages, and his face bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith to them, "Loose him, and let him go." Many therefore of the Jews who came to Mary and saw what He did, believed on Him. But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus did.

THE JEWS PLOT AGAINST JESUS AND HE GOES TO EPHRAIM (Jno. 11:47-54):—The chief priests and the Pharisees therefore assembled the Sanhedrin, and said, "What are we doing? for this Man is doing many signs. If we let Him thus alone, all will believe on Him; and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation." But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, "Ye know nothing at all, nor do ye consider that it is expedient for you, that one man should die for the people, and not the whole nation perish." Now he did not say this of himself; but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation; and not for the nation only, but that He might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. Therefore from that day they took counsel that they might put Him to death. So Jesus no longer walked about publicly among the Jews, but went away thence into the country near the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there He abode with the disciples.

JESUS, JOURNEYING THROUGH SAMARIA AND GALILEE, HEALS TEN LEPERS (Lu. 17:11-19):—Now it came to pass on the journey to Jerusalem, that He passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. And on His entering into a certain village, ten leprous men met Him, who stood afar off. And they lifted up their voice, saying, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us." And when He saw them, He said to them, "Go, show yourselves to the priests." And it came to pass that as they were going, they were cleansed. Then one of them, seeing that he was healed, turned back, glorifying God in a loud voice; and he fell on his face at His feet, giving thanks to Him: and he was a Samaritan. Then Jesus answering said, "Were not the ten cleansed? Where are the nine? Are none found returning to give glory to God, except this stranger?" And He said to him, "Arise and go; thy faith hath saved thee."

JESUS ANSWERS THE PHARISEES ABOUT THE KINGDOM—HIS SECOND COMING WILL BE UNEXPECTED (Lu. 17:20-37):—Now being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God cometh, Jesus answered them and said, "The kingdom of God cometh not with an outward appearance, nor shall they say, 'Lo, here!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is now in your midst." Then He said to His disciples, "There will come days when ye shall long to see one of the days of the Son of man, and shall not see it. And they shall say to you, 'Lo, here,' or 'Lo, there;' go not forth, nor follow them. For as the lightning flashing from the one side under heaven shineth to the other under heaven, so shall the Son of man be (in His day). But first it is necessary that He suffer many things and be rejected by this generation. And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They ate, they drank, they married, they gave in marriage, until the day Noah entered into the ark and the flood came and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot: they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but on the day that Lot went forth from Sodom, it rained fire and sulphur from heaven and destroyed them all. In the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed. In that day, he who shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away. And likewise he that is in the field, let him not return back. Remember Lot's wife. Whosoever shall seek to gain his life, shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose it, shall preserve it. I say to you, In that night, two will be upon one bed; one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. Two women shall be grinding together; one shall be taken and the other left." And answering, they say to Him, "Where, Lord?" And He said to them, "Where the body is, there will the eagles be gathered together."

"ARE THERE FEW THAT BE SAVED?"—JESUS WARNED AGAINST HEROD (Lu. 13:23-33):—Now a certain one said to Him, "Lord, are there few that are saved?" Then He said to them, "Strive earnestly to enter in through the narrow door: for many, I say to you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able —when the Master of the house hath risen up and shut the door, and ye begin, as ye stand outside and knock, to say, 'Lord, open to us;' and He shall answer and say to you, 'I know you not, nor whence ye are.' Then shall ye begin to say, 'We ate and drank in Thy presence, and Thou didst teach in our streets.' And He shall say, 'I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart from Me, all ye workers of iniquity.' There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, while ye yourselves are cast forth without the door. And they shall come from east and west and north and south, and shall recline at table in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last that shall be first, and there are first that shall be last."

In that very hour certain Pharisees came, saying to Him, "Get Thee out, and go hence; for Herod wishes to kill Thee." And He said to them, "Go your way and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I finish My work; but it is necessary that I go on My way today, and tomorrow, and the day following: for it is not possible that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem."

JESUS, WHILE DINING WITH A PHARISEE, HEALS ON THE SABBATH —PARABLE TO THE GUESTS—ADVICE TO HIS HOST (Lu. 14:1-14):—And it came to pass when Jesus went into the house of one of the chief of the Pharisees, on a Sabbath, to eat bread, that they were watching Him. And behold, a certain man with dropsy was before Him. And Jesus answering spake to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?" But they were silent. And taking hold of the man, He healed him and let him go. Then He said to them, "Which of you, if his ass or ox fall into a well on the Sabbath day, will not immediately draw him out?" And they could not reply to these things.

Then He spake a parable to those who were invited, when He marked how they were selecting the chief places, saying to them, "When thou art invited by any one to a marriage feast, do not recline in the chief place, lest one more honorable than thou may have been invited by him, and he who invited thee and him come and say to thee, 'Give place to this man;' and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art invited, go and recline in the lowest place; that when he who hath invited thee cometh, he may say to thee, 'Friend, go up higher.' Then shalt thou have honor in the presence of all those who recline at table with thee. For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

Then He said also to him who had invited Him, "When thou makest a breakfast or dinner, call not thy friends, nor thy brothers, nor thy kindred, nor rich neighbors; lest they also invite thee in return and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, maimed, lame, blind: and blessed shalt thou be; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for it shall be recompensed to thee at the resurrection of the just."

PARABLE OF THE GREAT BANQUET: EXCUSES (Lu. 14:15-24):—Now when one of those reclining at table with Him heard these things, he said to Him, "Blessed is he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God." Then He said to him, "A certain man made a great banquet, and invited many. And he sent his servants at the hour of the banquet, to say to those invited, 'Come, for all things are now ready.' And they all alike began to excuse themselves. The first said to him, 'I have bought a field, and I must of necessity go out and see it; I pray thee, excuse me.' And another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to try them; I pray thee, excuse me.' And another said, 'I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.' And the servant came and reported these things to his lord. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, 'Go out quickly into the streets and alleys of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame.' And the servant said, 'Lord, what thou didst command, hath been done, and still there is room.' And the lord said to the servant, 'Go out into the highway and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled; for I say to you, that not one of those men who were invited shall taste of my banquet.'"

THE CONDITIONS AND COST OF DISCIPLESHIP (Lu. 14:25-35):—Now great multitudes were accompanying Jesus; and turning, He said to them, "If any one cometh to Me and hateth not his father and mother, and wife and children, and brothers and sisters, and even his own life also, he cannot be My disciple. For which of you, wishing to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he hath enough to finish it? Lest perhaps, having laid its foundation, and not being able to finish it, all who see it begin to mock him, saying, 'This man began to build and was not able to finish.' Or what king, going forth to engage in war with another king, will not first sit down and take counsel, whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who cometh against him with twenty thousand. And if not, while he is yet far away, he sendeth an embassy and asketh the conditions of peace. So, therefore, whoever of you doth not forsake all that he hath, cannot be My disciple. Salt is good; but even if the salt hath become tasteless, with what shall it be seasoned? It is fit neither for earth nor for manure: they cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

PARABLES OF THE LOST SHEEP AND THE LOST PIECE OF SILVER (Lu. 15:1-10):—Now all the tax-collectors and sinners were drawing near to Him to hear Him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes kept murmuring, saying, "This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them." Then He spake this parable to them, saying, "What man of you having a hundred sheep and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the one that is lost, until he find it? And having found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And coming to his house, he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying, 'Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost.' I say to you, that likewise there shall be joy in heaven over one repenting sinner, more than over ninety-nine righteous persons who have no need of repentance.

"Or what woman having ten silver coins, if she lose one coin, doth not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek diligently till she find it? And having found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbors, saying, 'Rejoice with me; for I have found the coin which I lost.' Likewise, I say to you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one repenting sinner."

PARABLE OF THE PRODIGAL SON (Lu. 15:11-32):—Then He said, "A certain man had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of the property that falleth to me.' And he divided to them his substance. And not many days after, having gathered all together, the younger son went away into a far country, and there wasted his property, living dissolutely. Now when he had spent all, there arose a severe famine in that country, and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he longed to fill himself from the carob-pods which the swine were eating; and no one gave to him. But when he came to himself, he said, 'How many hired servants of my father's have more than enough bread, and I am perishing here with hunger. I will arise and go to my father, and will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee. I am no longer worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.' And he arose and came to his father. Now while he was yet far distant, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him repeatedly. Then the son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee, and am no longer worthy to be called thy son.' But the father said to his servants, 'Bring forth quickly a robe, the best one, and put it on him; and put a ring upon his hand, and sandals on his feet; and bring the fatted calf and kill it, and let us eat and be merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive again, was lost and is found.' And they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field; and as he was coming and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. And calling one of the servants to him, he inquired what these things meant. And he said to him, 'Thy brother is come: and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him back safe and sound.' Then he was angry, and would not go in. Now his father came out and entreated him. But he answered and said to his father, 'Behold, so many years have I served thee, and I never transgressed thy commandment; and to me thou didst never give a kid, that I might make merry with my friends. But when this thy son, who hath squandered thy substance with harlots, came, thou didst kill for him the fatted calf.' Then he said to him, 'Child, thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. But we ought to make merry and rejoice; because this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.' "

PARABLE OF THE DISHONEST STEWARD (Lu. 16:1-13):—Then Jesus said also to the disciples, "There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and the same was accused to him as wasting his goods. And having called him, he said to him, 'What is this I hear about thee? Render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be steward no longer.' Then the steward said within himself, 'What shall I do? for my lord taketh away the stewardship from me. I am not able to dig; I am ashamed to beg. I know what I will do, that, when I am discharged from the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.' And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, 'How much owest thou my lord?' And he said, 'A hundred baths of oil.' And he said to him, 'Take thy accounts, sit down quickly, and write fifty.' Then he said to another, 'And how much owest thou?' And he said, 'A hundred cors of wheat.' He saith to him, 'Take thy accounts and write eighty.' And the lord praised the unrighteous steward, in that he had acted prudently: for the sons of this age are more provident in their own generation than the sons of Light. And I say to you, Make to yourselves friends by means of wealth, unrighteous as it is, that when it shall fail, they may receive you into the everlasting tabernacles. He that is faithful in very little, is faithful also in much; and he that is unfaithful in very little, is unfaithful also in much. If, therefore, ye have not been faithful in unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true? And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give to you your own? No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and wealth."

THE SCOFFING PHARISEES REPROVED (Lu. 16:14-18):—Now the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things, and they scoffed at Him. And He said to them, "Ye are they who justify yourselves before men, but God knoweth your hearts; for that which is highly esteemed among men, is an abomination in the sight of God. The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every one is making an assault against it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fail.

"Every one who divorceth his wife and marrieth another, committeth adultery; and he who marrieth her that is divorced, committeth adultery."

DIVES AND LAZARUS (Lu. 16:19-31):—"Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, making merry in splendor every day. And a certain poor man, named Lazarus, full of sores, was laid at his gate, craving to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. Yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. Now it came to pass that the poor man died; and he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom. Then the rich man also died and was buried. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and seeth Abraham afar off and Lazarus on his bosom. And he cried out and said, 'Father Abraham, have compassion on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am suffering torture in this flame.' But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that thou didst fully receive thy good things in thy lifetime, and Lazarus, likewise, evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art suffering torture. And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm hath been fixed; so that they who would cross over from hence to you may not be able, neither can they cross over from thence to us.' Then he said, 'I pray thee then, father, that thou wouldst send him to my father's house; for I have five brothers; that he may earnestly testify to them, that they may not also come into this place of torment.' But Abraham saith, 'They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.' But he said, 'Nay, father Abraham; but if one from the dead go to them, they will repent.' Then he saith to him, 'If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither would they be persuaded, though one should rise from the dead.'"

JESUS TEACHES HIS DISCIPLES (Lu. 17:1-10):—Then Jesus said to His disciples, "It is impossible but that snares should come, but woe to him through whom they come. It were well for him, if a great millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should be a snare to one of these little ones. Take heed to yourselves. If thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if seven times in the day he sin against thee, and seven times return to thee, saying, 'I repent,' thou shalt forgive him."

And the apostles said to the Lord, "Give us more faith." Then the Lord said, "If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye could say to this sycamine tree, 'Be thou rooted up, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you. But which of you, having a servant plowing or tending sheep, will say to him when he is come in from the field, 'Come at once and recline at table?' Yea, will he not rather say to him, 'Make ready that on which I may dine, and gird thyself and serve me while I eat and drink, and afterward thou shalt eat and drink.' Doth he thank the servant because he did the things that were commanded? So also ye, when ye have done all the things commanded you, say, 'We are unprofitable servants; we have done what was our duty to do.'"

PARABLES CONCERNING PRAYER: THE IMPORTUNATE WIDOW, THE PHARISEE AND PUBLICAN (Lu. 18:1-14):—Then Jesus spake a parable to them to the end that they ought always to pray and not to faint, saying, "There was in a certain city a judge who feared not God and regarded not man. Now there was a widow in that city, who kept coming to him, saying, 'Avenge me of my adversary.' And he would not, for a time; but afterward, he said within himself, 'Though I fear not God nor regard man, yet because this widow giveth me trouble, I will avenge her, lest she harass me by continually coming.' Then the Lord said, 'Hear what the unrighteous judge saith. Now shall not God avenge His elect, who cry to Him day and night, though He exercise forbearance over them?' I tell you, that He shall avenge them speedily. But when the Son of man cometh, shall He find faith on the earth?"

Then He spake also this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised the rest: "Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a tax-collector. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself: 'God, I thank Thee that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this tax-collector. I fast twice in the week; I tithe all that I gain.' But the tax-collector, standing afar off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but smote his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, the sinner.' I say to you, This man went down to his house justified, rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

JESUS, RETURNING TO JUDÆA, ANSWERS THE PHARISEES CONCERNING DIVORCE (Mat. 19:1-12; Mk. 10:1-12):—Now it came to pass, when Jesus finished these words, arising from thence, He departed from Galilee and came into the borders of Judæa, beyond the Jordan. And great multitudes came together unto Him again and followed Him; and, as was His custom, He taught them once more and healed them there. And there came to Him the Pharisees, tempting Him, and asked Him, "Is it lawful for a husband to put away his wife for every cause?" Then He answered and said to them, "What did Moses command you?" And they said, "Moses permitted him to write a bill of divorcement and to put her away." Then said Jesus to them, "Have ye not read that He who made them at the beginning of creation, made them male and female, and said, 'For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother and shall cling to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh'? So that they are no longer two, but one flesh. What, therefore, God hath joined together, let not man separate." They say to Him, "Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement and to put her away?" He saith to them, "Moses, because of the hardness of your heart, wrote you this commandment and permitted you to put away your wives; but from the beginning it hath not been so. Therefore I say to you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery; (and he that marrieth her that is put away, committeth adultery.)"

And in the house, the disciples asked Him again about this matter. And He saith to them, "Whosoever shall put away his wife and marry another, committeth adultery against her; and if she herself shall put away her husband and marry another, she committeth adultery." The disciples say to Him, "If the case of the man with his wife is so, it is not expedient to marry." But He said to them, "Not all can receive this saying, but those to whom it hath been given; for there are eunuchs who were born such from their mother's womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it."

JESUS BLESSES LITTLE CHILDREN (Mat. 19:13-15; Mk. 10:13-16; Lu. 18:15-17):—Then were brought to Him little children, that He might lay His hands on them and pray. But when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. Then Jesus, seeing this, was much displeased, and calling them to Him, said to them, "Suffer the little children to come to Me; hinder them not; for of such is the kingdom of heaven—the kingdom of God. Verily I say to you, whosoever doth not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall surely not enter therein." And embracing them in His arms and laying His hands on them, He blessed them and departed thence.

THE RICH YOUNG RULER: THE DANGER OF RICHES (Mat. 19:16-26; Mk. 10:17-27; Lu. 18:18-27):—Now as Jesus was going forth on the way, a certain ruler ran to Him, and kneeling down to Him asked Him, saying, "Good Teacher, what good thing shall I do that I may obtain everlasting life?" But Jesus said to him, "Why askest thou Me about the good? Why dost thou call Me good? No one is good but one—God. But if thou wouldst enter into life, keep the commandments. Thou knowest the commandments." He saith to Him, "Which?" Then Jesus said, " 'Thou shalt not kill;' 'Thou shalt not commit adultery;' 'Thou shalt not steal;' 'Thou shalt not bear false witness;' 'Thou shalt not defraud;' 'Honor thy father and thy mother;' and 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' " The young man saith to Him, "Teacher, all these have I kept from my youth: what do I lack?" Then Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said to him, "One thing thou lackest yet. If thou wouldst be perfect, go, sell all that thou hast and distribute it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow Me." But when the young man heard these words, he became gloomy, and went away exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich, having many possessions.

Then Jesus, seeing him, looked around and said to His disciples, "How hardly shall those having riches enter into the kingdom of God! Verily, I say to you, With difficulty shall a rich man enter into the kingdom of heaven." Now the disciples were astonished at His words. But Jesus, answering again, saith to them, "Children, how difficult it is (for those who trust in riches) to enter into the kingdom of God! And again I say to you, It is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God." Now when the disciples heard this, they were astonished exceedingly; and those who heard it said to Him, "Who then can be saved?" But Jesus looking upon them, said, "With men this is impossible; but not with God. Things impossible with men, are possible with God; for with God all things are possible."

THE DISCIPLE'S REWARD (Mat. 19:27-30; Mk. 10:28-31; Lu. 18:28-30):—Then Peter answering said to Jesus, "Behold, we have left all our own and followed Thee; what then shall we have?" And Jesus said to them, "Verily I say to you, that ye who have followed Me, when the Son of man, in the restoration, shall sit upon the throne of His glory, ye also shall sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. And every one that hath left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for My name's sake, and for the gospel's sake, and for the sake of the kingdom of God, shall receive a hundredfold more in this time: houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions, and, in the age to come, shall inherit everlasting life. But many first shall be last, and the last first."

PARABLE OF THE HOUSEHOLDER AND LABORERS (Mat. 20:1-16):—"For the kingdom of heaven is like to a man, a householder, who went out at dawn to hire laborers for his vineyard. And having agreed with the laborers for a shilling a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And going out about the third hour, he saw others standing in the marketplace idle; and he said to them, 'Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever may be right, I will give you.' And they went forth. Again going out about the sixth and the ninth hour, he did likewise. Now about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing idle, and he saith to them, 'Why stand ye all the day idle?' They say to him, 'Because no one hath hired us.' He saith to them, 'Go ye also into the vineyard.' Now when evening was come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward, 'Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last to the first.' And when those hired about the eleventh hour came, they each received a shilling. But when the first came, they thought that they should receive more; and they also received, each one, a shilling. And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, saying, 'These last have worked one hour, and thou hast made them equal with us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.' But he answered and said to one of them, 'Friend, I do thee no wrong. Didst thou not agree with me for a shilling? Take thine own, and go. But I will give to this last, even as to thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own? Or is thine eye evil because I am good?' So the last shall be first, and the first last."

JESUS FORETELLS HIS DEATH AND RESURRECTION (Mat. 20:17-19; Mk. 10:32-34; Lu. 18:31-34):—Now they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going on before them. And they were astonished, and those following Him were afraid. And He again took the twelve disciples apart and began to tell them the things that were about to happen to Him. And He said to them, "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem: and all the things which have been written by the prophets shall be fulfilled in the Son of man. For He shall be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes, and they shall condemn Him to death, and shall deliver Him up to the Gentiles. And they shall mock Him, and shall spit upon Him, and shall scourge Him, and shall treat Him shamefully, and crucify Him: and on the third day, He shall be raised up." And they understood none of these things; and this saying was hidden from them, and they did not comprehend the things that were said.

SALOME AND HER SONS COME TO JESUS (Mat. 20:20-28; Mk. 10:35-45):—Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee, James and John, came to Him with her sons, bowing down to Him and asking a certain thing of Him, saying to Him, "Teacher, we desire that Thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall ask of Thee." Then He said to her, "What dost thou wish? What would ye that I should do for you?" She saith to Him, "Command that these my two sons may sit, one on Thy right hand and one on Thy left, in Thy kingdom." And her sons said to Him, "Grant to us that we may sit, one on Thy right hand and one on Thy left, in Thy glory." But Jesus answered and said to them, "Ye know not what ye are asking. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? or to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?" And they said to Him, "We are able." Then Jesus said to them, "Ye shall indeed drink My cup that I drink, and ye shall be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with; but to sit at My right hand, or at My left, is not Mine to give; but it is for those for whom it hath been prepared by My Father." Now the ten, hearing this, began to be indignant at the two brothers, James and John; but Jesus, calling them to Him, said to them, "Ye know that the rulers of the nations lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you; but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your minister; and whosoever would be first among you, shall be servant of all: for even the Son of man came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

BARTIMÆUS AND HIS COMPANION HEALED (Mat. 20:29-34; Mk. 10:46-52; Lu. 18:35-43):—Then they came to old Jericho; and when He went forth from Jericho with His disciples, a great multitude followed Him. And it came to pass, as He drew near to [the new city of] Jericho, behold, two blind men were sitting by the road begging. Then one of them, Bartimæus, the son of Timæus, hearing a multitude passing by, asked what this meant. And they told him, "Jesus the Nazarene is passing by." Now when they heard that Jesus was passing by, they cried out, saying, "Lord Jesus, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us!" But the multitude rebuked them, that they should be silent. But they cried out the more, saying, "Lord, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us!" And Jesus, standing still, said, "Call them." And He commanded them to be brought to Him. And they called the blind men, saying, "Be of good cheer; arise, He calleth you." And Bartimæus, casting away his garment, sprang up, and they came to Jesus. And when they came near, Jesus, answering, said, "What do ye wish that I should do to you?" They say to Him, "Lord, that our eyes may be opened." Then Jesus, moved with compassion, touched their eyes, and said to them, "Receive your sight; go your way; your faith hath saved you." And immediately they received their sight, and followed Him in the way, glorifying God. And all the people, when they saw it, gave praise to God.

ZACCHÆUS ENTERTAINS JESUS (Lu. 19:1-10):—Then Jesus entered and was passing through new Jericho. And behold, a man called by name, Zacchæus, and he was a chief tax-collector; also he was rich. And he was seeking to see Jesus, what sort of man He is; but he could not on account of the multitude, because he was small in stature. And he ran on before and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see Him; because He was about to pass along that way. And Jesus, when He came to the place, looked up, and said to him, "Zacchæus, make haste and come down; for today I must abide in thy house." And making haste, he came down and received Him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, "He hath gone in to lodge with a sinful man." But Zacchæus stood up and said to the Lord, "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have exacted anything wrongfully of any one, I restore fourfold." Then Jesus said to him, "Today hath salvation come to this house, inasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham. For the Son of man came to seek and to save the lost."

PARABLE OF THE TEN POUNDS (Lu. 19:11-28):—Now as they listened to these things, Jesus added and spake a parable, because He was near Jerusalem, and they thought that the kingdom of God would immediately appear. He said, therefore, "A certain nobleman went into a distant country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return. And having called ten of his servants, he delivered to them ten pounds, and said to them, 'Trade, till I return.' But his citizens hated him and sent an embassy after him, saying, 'We will not have this man to reign over us.' Now it came to pass when he returned, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants to whom he had delivered the money to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. Then the first came before him, saying, 'Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.' And he said to him, 'Well done, good servant; because thou wast found faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.' And the second came, saying, 'Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.' Then he said to this one, 'Be thou likewise over five cities.' And the next came, saying, 'Lord, behold thy pound, which I kept laid away in a napkin: for I feared thee, because thou art a harsh man. Thou takest up that thou didst not lay down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.' He saith to him, 'Out of thy own mouth I will judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I am a harsh man: taking up what I did not lay down, and gathering what I did not sow. Then why didst thou not deposit my money in a bank, and I, at my coming, could have required it with interest?' Then he said to those standing by, 'Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath the ten pounds.' And they say to him, 'Lord, he hath ten pounds.' 'I say to you, that to every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. But these, my enemies, who would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me.'" And when He had spoken these things, He went on before, going up to Jerusalem.

JESUS, SOUGHT AT JERUSALEM, ARRIVES AT BETHANY (Jno. 11:55–12:1, 9-11):—Now the passover of the Jews was near; and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, that they might purify themselves. They, therefore, were seeking Jesus and saying to one another, while standing in the temple, "What do you think? that He will not come to the feast?" Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if any one should find out where He is, he should make it known, that they might take Him. Now Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. A great multitude of the Jews, therefore, found out that He was there; and they came, not because of Jesus only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom He raised from the dead. But the chief priests determined to put Lazarus to death also; because many of the Jews, by reason of him, were going away and believing on Jesus.

JESUS RIDES IN TRIUMPH INTO JERUSALEM AND ENTERS INTO THE TEMPLE (Mat. 21:1-11, 14-17; Mk. 11:1-11; Lu. 19:29-44; Jno. 12:12-19):—And it came to pass, on the next day, when they came near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two of His disciples, saying to them, "Go your way into the village that is opposite you, and immediately upon entering into it, ye shall find an ass tied and a colt tied with her upon which no man has ever yet sat: loose them and bring them to Me. And if any one ask you, 'Why do ye loose them?' thus shall ye say, 'The Lord hath need of them'; and immediately he will send them hither." Then the disciples that were sent went and found even as He said to them, and they did even as Jesus directed them. And as they were loosing the colt, some of those standing there, the owners of it, said to them, "What are ye doing, loosing the colt?" and they said to them even as Jesus had said: "The Lord hath need of him"; and they let them go. And they led the ass and the colt to Jesus, and having cast their garments upon the colt, they set Jesus upon him. Now this came to pass that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

"Say ye to the daughter of Zion,
Behold, thy King cometh to thee—
Meek, and riding upon an ass,
And upon a colt, the foal of an ass."

These things His disciples understood not at first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written of Him, and that they did these things to Him.

Now a great multitude that had come to the feast, having heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took the branches of the palm-trees and went forth to meet Him. Moreover the multitude that was with Him when He called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead, was bearing testimony. On this account also the multitude went to meet Him, because they heard that He had done this sign. Now as He went on His way, the most of the multitude spread their own garments in the road, and others cut branches from the trees of the fields and strewed them in the road. Now as He was already drawing near to the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works which they had seen. And they that went before and they that followed, cried, saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel! Blessed be the coming kingdom of our father David: Hosanna in the highest! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!" And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said to Him, "Teacher, rebuke Thy disciples." And answering, He said, "I tell you, that if these shall be silent, the stones will cry out." The Pharisees, therefore, said among themselves, "Behold how ye gain nothing! lo, the world is gone after Him."

And as He came near, He saw the city and wept over it, saying, "If thou hadst known, even thou, in this thy day, the things concerning thy peace! But now they are hidden from thine eyes. For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies shall cast up an embankment around thee, and shall surround thee and shut thee in on every side, and shall level thee with the ground and overthrow thy children in thee, and shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy deliverance."

And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple. And when He was come into Jerusalem, all the city was agitated, saying, "Who is this?" Then the multitude said, "This is the Prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee." And the blind and lame came to Him in the temple and He healed them. But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things which He did, and the children who were crying in the temple and saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" they were indignant, and said to Him, "Hearest Thou what these are saying?" Then Jesus saith to them, "Yea; did ye never read, 'Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings Thou hast perfected praise?'" And when He had looked around on all things, the hour being already late, He left them and went forth out of the city to Bethany with the twelve, and passed the night there.

THE BARREN FIG-TREE CURSED AND THE TEMPLE CLEANSED (Mat. 21:18, 19, 12, 13; Mk. 11:12-18; Lu. 19:45-47):—Now on the next day, in the morning, when they had come forth from Bethany, returning to the city, He was hungry. And seeing a single fig-tree afar off by the road, having leaves, He went to it, if perhaps He might find something on it. But when He came to it, He found nothing but leaves; for it was not the season of figs. And He answered and said to it, "Let no more fruit come from thee, let no one eat fruit of thee henceforth forever." And His disciples heard Him. And immediately the fig-tree withered away.

And they came to Jerusalem; and Jesus, entering into the temple (of God), began to cast out those who sold and those who bought in the temple, and He overthrew the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who sold doves; and would not allow that any one should carry a vessel through the temple. And He taught and said to them, "It is written, is it not, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations'? But ye have made it a den of robbers." And the chief priests and the scribes heard this and sought how they might destroy Him; for they feared Him, because all the multitude were astonished at His teaching. And he was teaching daily in the temple.

GREEKS DESIRE TO SEE JESUS: HIS DISCOURSE (Jno. 12:20-36, 44-50):—Now there were some Greeks among those who came up to worship at the feast. So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida, of Galilee, and asked him, saying, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus." Philip cometh and telleth Andrew; and Andrew and Philip come and tell Jesus. Then Jesus answered them, saying, "The hour hath come when the Son of man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say to you, Unless the grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it remaineth alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his life, loseth it; and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it to life everlasting. If any one would serve Me, let him follow Me; and where I am, there also shall My servant be. If any one serve Me, him will the Father honor. Now is My soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour? But for this cause I came to this hour. Father, glorify Thy name." Whereupon there came a voice out of heaven, "I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again." The multitude therefore that stood by heard it. Some said, "It thundered." Others said, "An angel hath spoken to Him." Jesus answered and said, "This voice hath come, not for My sake, but for your sakes. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to Myself." But this He said, signifying by what kind of death He was about to die. The multitude therefore answered Him, "We have heard out of the law, that the Christ abideth forever; and why sayest Thou, 'The Son of man must be lifted up'? Who is this Son of man?" Jesus therefore said to them, "Yet a little while is the Light with you. Walk while ye have the Light, that darkness may not overtake you: and he that walketh in the darkness, knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have the Light, believe on the Light, that ye may become the sons of Light." These things spake Jesus, and departing, hid Himself from them.

And Jesus cried and said, "He that believeth on Me, believeth not on Me, but on Him Who sent Me; and He that seeth Me, seeth Him Who sent Me. I have come a Light into the world, that every one that believeth on Me, may not abide in the darkness. And if any one heareth My words and keepeth them not, I do not judge him; for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. He that rejecteth Me and receiveth not my words, hath One that judgeth him: the word which I spake, that shall judge him in the last day. Because I spake not from Myself; but the Father Who sent Me, Himself hath given Me commandment, what I should say and what I should speak: and I know that His commandment is life everlasting. What, therefore, I speak, as the Father hath said to Me, so I speak."

THE STUBBORN UNBELIEF OF THE RULERS (Mk. 11:19; Lu. 19:47, 48; Jno. 12:37-43):—Now, though Jesus had done so many signs before them, they did not believe on Him: that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake:

"Lord, who hath believed our report?
And to whom hath the Arm of the Lord been revealed?"

On this account they could not believe, because, Isaiah said again,

"He hath blinded their eyes,
And He hardened their heart;
That they should not see with their eyes,
And understand with their heart,
And turn back,
And I should heal them."

These things said Isaiah, because he saw His glory, and spake concerning Him. But the chief priests and the scribes and the leaders of the people were seeking to destroy Him, but could not find anything they could do; for all the people were hanging upon Him listening. Nevertheless, even among the rulers, many believed on Him; but on account of the Pharisees, they did not confess Him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory that is of men, rather than the glory that is of God. And whenever evening came, He went forth out of the city.

THE FIG-TREE IS FOUND WITHERED: A LESSON OF FAITH AND PRAYER (Mat. 21:20-22; Mk. 11:20-26):—Now as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots. And when the disciples saw it, they wondered, saying, "How did the fig-tree so quickly dry up?" And Peter, calling it to mind, saith to Him, "Rabbi, behold, the fig-tree which Thou didst curse is dried up." And Jesus, answering, saith to them, "Have faith in God. Verily I say to you, If ye have faith and do not doubt, not only can ye do what is done to the fig-tree, but whosoever shall say to this mountain, 'Be thou taken up and cast into the sea'; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass, he shall have it: it shall be done. Therefore I say to you, All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye have received, and ye shall have them. And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have any thing against any one; that your Father Who is in heaven may also forgive you your transgressions. (But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father Who is in heaven forgive your transgressions.)"

THE JEWISH RULERS QUESTION CHRIST'S AUTHORITY (Mat. 21:23-27; Mk. 11:27-33; Lu. 20:1-8; 21:37, 38):— Now every day Jesus was teaching in the temple, but every night He went out and lodged on the mount called Olivet. And all the people used to come to Him early in the morning in the temple to hear Him. So it came to pass on one of the days, they came again to Jerusalem; and when He came into the temple, He taught the people and preached the gospel. And as He was walking about in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people came to Him, and said to Him, "Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things, or who is it that gave Thee this authority to do these things?" Then Jesus answered and said to them, "I also will ask you one question, and answer Me; and if ye tell Me, I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or from men? Answer Me." Then they reasoned with themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say to us, 'Why then did ye not believe him?' But if we say, 'From men,' we fear the multitude: all the people will stone us; for they are all persuaded and hold that John was a prophet." And they answered Jesus and said, "We do not know." And Jesus saith to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

THE TWO SONS (Mat. 21:28-32):— "But what think ye? A man had two children, and he came to the first and said, 'Child, go work today in the vineyard.' And he answering said, 'I will not'; but he afterwards repented and went. Then he came to the second and said likewise. And he answering said, 'I go, sir'; and went not. Which of the two did the will of the father?" They say, "The first." Jesus saith to them, "Verily, I say to you, that the tax-collectors and the harlots go before you into the kingdom of God: for John came to you in the way of righteousness, and ye did not believe him; but the tax-collectors and the harlots believed him; and ye, when ye saw it, did not repent afterwards, that ye might believe him."

THE WICKED HUSBANDMEN (Mat. 21:33-46; Mk. 12:1-12; Lu. 20:9-19):— Then Jesus began to speak to the people in parables, saying, "Hear another parable: There was a man, a householder, who planted a vineyard, and put a fence around it, and dug an upper and lower wine-vat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went abroad for a long time. Now when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent a servant to the husbandmen that he might receive from them of the fruits of the vineyard. But the husbandmen took him and beat him and sent him away empty. And again he sent to them another servant, but they beat him, and wounded him on the head, and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. And he sent still a third, and they wounded him also and cast him out and killed him. And so the husbandmen taking his servants, beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent many other servants, more than the first, and they did to them likewise. Now the lord of the vineyard had yet one beloved son. And he said, 'What shall I do? I will send my beloved son; perhaps they will reverence him.' So he sent him last to them. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they reasoned with one another, saying among themselves, 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.' And they took him and cast him forth out of the vineyard and killed him. When, therefore, the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?" They say to Him, "He will come and miserably destroy those wicked husbandmen, and will let out the vineyard to other husbandmen who shall render to him the fruits in their seasons." But when some heard it, they said, "May it not be!" But Jesus, looking at them, said to them, "What then is this that is written? Have ye not even read this scripture?—

'A stone which the builders rejected,
The same became head of a corner;
This was from the Lord,
And it is wonderful in our eyes.'

Therefore, I say to you, The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you and given to a people bringing forth the fruits thereof. And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as chaff." Now when the scribes and the chief priests and the Pharisees heard His parables, they knew that He spake of them. But when, in that very hour, they sought to lay hands on Him, they feared the multitudes, because they held Him as a Prophet.

PARABLE OF THE MARRIAGE FEAST OF THE KING'S SON (Mat. 22:1-14):—Then Jesus, answering, spake to them again in parables saying, "The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man, a king, who made a marriage feast for his son. And he sent his servants to call those who had been invited to the marriage feast, and they would not come. Again he sent other servants, saying, 'Say to those who have been invited, Behold, I have prepared my dinner, my oxen and fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast.' But they were careless and went their ways, one to his farm, and another to his merchandise: but the others laid hold of his servants and treated them shamefully and killed them. The king was enraged; and sending his armies, he destroyed those murderers and burned their city. Then he saith to his servants, 'The marriage feast, indeed, is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. Go ye, therefore, along the thoroughfares of the streets, and as many as ye shall find, invite to the marriage feast.' And those servants went out into the streets, and brought together all, as many as they found, both bad and good; and the marriage was provided with guests. Now when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man not clothed with a wedding garment. And he saith to him, 'Friend, how didst thou enter here, not having on a wedding garment?' But he was speechless. Then the king said to the attendants, 'Bind his feet and hands, and cast him forth into the outer darkness:' there shall be weeping and the gnashing of the teeth. For many are called, but few chosen."

PAYING TRIBUTE TO CÆSAR (Mat. 22:15-22; Mk. 12:13-17; Lu. 20:20-26):—Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they might ensnare Him in speech. And they watched Him, and sent spies, their disciples, with the Herodians, who feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might catch Him in His discourse, so as to deliver Him to the power and jurisdiction of the governor. Now when they were come, they asked Him, saying, "Teacher, we know that Thou art true, that Thou sayest and teachest rightly, and teachest the way of God in truth; and Thou carest for no one, for Thou lookest not on the outward appearance of man. Tell us, therefore, what thinkest Thou? Is it lawful to pay tribute to Cæsar, or not? Shall we pay, or shall we not pay?" But Jesus, knowing their wickedness and hypocrisy, and perceiving their craftiness, said to them, "Why do ye try Me, ye hypocrites? Show Me the tribute money, that I may see it." Then they brought to Him a shilling. And He saith to them, "Whose image and inscription hath it?" And they said to Him, "Cæsar's." Then Jesus saith to them, "Render then to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and to God, the things that are God's." And when they heard this, they could not take hold of what He said before the people. And being astonished at His answer, they kept silent and left Him and went away.

A QUESTION CONCERNING THE RESURRECTION (Mat. 22:23-33; Mk. 12:18-27; Lu. 20:27-39):—On the same day there came to Jesus some of the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection; and they asked Him, saying, "Teacher, Moses wrote to us, 'If any man's brother die and leave a wife behind, and leave no child, that his brother shall take his wife and raise up seed to his brother.' Now there were with us seven brothers; and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed; and the third likewise took her, and in like manner the seven took her and died and left no children. Then last of all the woman died. In the resurrection, therefore, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her to wife." Then Jesus answering, said to them, "Ye err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God. The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage; but those who are accounted worthy to attain to that age, and the resurrection from the dead, when they shall rise from the dead, neither marry nor are given in marriage; for neither can they die any more; for they are similar to angels in heaven, and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection.

"But concerning the dead that they are raised; have ye not read that which was spoken to you by God in the book of Moses, how, at the bush, God spake to him, saying, 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'? Now He is not a God of dead men, but of the living; for all live to Him. Ye do greatly err." Then some of the scribes answering said, "Teacher, Thou hast spoken well." And the multitudes, having heard it, were astonished at His teaching.

THE GREAT COMMANDMENTS (Mat. 22:34-40; Mk. 12:28-34):—Now the Pharisees, when they heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, gathered themselves together. And one of them, a lawyer, one of the scribes, having heard Jesus and the Sadducees reasoning together, perceived that He had answered them well. And he asked, trying Him, "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law—the first of all?" Jesus answered, "The first is, 'Hear, O Israel; the Lord our God, the Lord, is one: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.' This is the great and first commandment. And a second like it is this, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' There is no other commandment greater than these. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." And the scribe said to Him, "Well, Teacher, Thou hast said truly that He is One, and there is no other beside Him; and to love Him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as himself, is much more than all the whole burnt offerings and sacrifices." And Jesus perceiving that he answered intelligently, said to him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God."

"WHAT THINK YE OF THE CHRIST?" (Mat. 22:41-46; Mk. 12:34-37; Lu. 20:40-44):—Now while the Pharisees were assembled together, Jesus questioned them, as He taught in the temple, saying, "How say the scribes that the Christ is David's Son? What think ye of the Christ? Whose Son is He?" They say to Him, "David's." He saith to them, "Why then doth David himself in the Holy Spirit call Him Lord, saying,

'The Lord said to my Lord,
Sit Thou on My right hand,
Till I make Thine enemies a footstool for Thy feet'?

If David, therefore, calleth Him Lord, how is He his Son?" And no one was able to answer Him a word; nor dared any one from that day to question Him any more. Nevertheless the great multitudes heard Him gladly.

OUR SAVIOR'S LAST PUBLIC DISCOURSE: HE DENOUNCES THE SCRIBES AND THE PHARISEES (Mat. 23:1-36; Mk. 12:38-40; Lu. 20:45-47):—Then Jesus, in His teaching, said, in the hearing of all the people, to the multitudes and to His disciples, "Beware of the scribes. The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat. All, therefore, whatsoever they bid you, do and observe; but do not ye according to their works, for they say and do not. But they bind heavy burdens (and oppressive), and lay them upon men's shoulders; but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. But all their works they do to be seen by men; for they make broad their phylacteries and enlarge their fringes, and delight to walk in flowing robes, and love the first place at the feasts and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the market places, and to be called of men, 'Rabbi.' But be not ye called Rabbi; for One is your Teacher, and all ye are brethren. And call no one your father on the earth; for One is your Father, the One in the heaven. Neither be ye called masters; for One is your Master, the Christ: but the greater of you shall be your servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

"But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men; for ye do not enter in, neither do ye suffer those who are entering to go in. These are they who devour widow's houses, and for a pretense make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he has become so, ye make him twofold more a son of hell than yourselves.

"Woe to you, ye blind guides, who say, 'Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is bound.' Ye fools and blind! for which is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctified the gold? And ye say, 'Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is on it, he is bound.' Ye blind! for which is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? He, therefore, that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it and all the things that are upon it. And he that sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it and by Him Who dwelleth in it. And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God and by Him who sitteth upon it.

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye pay tithes of the mint and the dill and the cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, justice and mercy and faith; these ye ought to have done, and not to have left those undone. Blind guides, who filter out the gnat, but swallow the camel!

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but within they are full of rapacity and excess. Blind Pharisees! cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the dish, that its outside may also become clean.

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye are like whitewashed sepulchres, that outwardly, indeed, appear beautiful, but within are full of bones of the dead and of all uncleanness. So ye also outwardly, indeed, appear righteous to men, but within are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the sepulchres of the prophets and decorate the tombs of the righteous; and ye say, 'If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.' So then ye bear witness to yourselves, that ye are sons of those who murdered the prophets: and ye, fill ye up the measure of your fathers! Serpents! Offspring of vipers! How can ye escape the condemnation of hell?

"Therefore, behold, I send to you prophets and wise men, and scribes: some of them ye will kill and crucify, and some of them ye will scourge in your synagogues, and will persecute from city to city; so that upon you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of Abel, the righteous, to the blood of Zachariah, son of Barachiah, whom ye murdered between the temple and the altar. Verily I say to you, All these things shall come upon this generation."

JESUS LAMENTS OVER JERUSALEM (Mat. 23:37-39; Lu. 13:34, 35):—"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets and stonest those who are sent to thee! How often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left to you desolate. For I say to you, Ye shall not see Me henceforth, till ye shall say, 'Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord.' "

THE WIDOW'S MITES (Mk. 12:41-44; Lu. 21:1-4):—And Jesus, sitting opposite the treasury, saw how the multitude cast money into the treasury. Then looking up, He saw the rich casting their gifts into the treasury; and many of them cast in much. Then He saw one poor widow that came and cast in two mites, that is, a farthing. And calling to Him His disciples, He said to them, "Verily I say to you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they who are casting into the treasury: for they all cast into the gifts out of their overabundance, but she out of her poverty did cast in all the living that she had."

FINAL DEPARTURE OF OUR LORD FROM THE TEMPLE AND HIS GREAT PROPHECY (Mat. 24:1-51; Mk. 13:1-37; Lu. 21:5-36):—Now Jesus departed from the temple and went on His way. And as He was going forth, some spake of the temple, that it was adorned with beautiful stones and offerings. And His disciples came to Him to direct His attention to the buildings of the temple, and one of them saith to Him, "Teacher, behold what manner of stones and what manner of buildings!" But He answered and saith to them, "See ye not all these things, these great buildings? As for these things which ye see, verily I say to you, the days will come in which there will not be left here one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down." And as He was sitting upon the mount of Olives, opposite the temple, the disciples, Peter and James and John and Andrew, came to Him privately and asked Him, saying, "Teacher, tell us when shall these things be? Also what shall be the sign when these things are about to be accomplished? And what shall be the sign of Thy coming, and of the end of the age?" And Jesus answered and said to them, "Take heed that no one lead you astray. For many shall come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and 'The time hath come,' and shall lead many astray; go not after them. But take ye heed to yourselves; for before all these things, they shall lay their hands upon you and persecute you, and deliver you up to tribulation and to councils and to synagogues and to prison; and ye shall stand before governors and kings for My name's sake, for a testimony to them. And ye shall be beaten in synagogues, and they shall kill you; but it shall turn out to you for a testimony. And when they lead you away to deliver you up, settle it in your hearts not to meditate beforehand how to make defense, nor be anxious what ye shall speak; but whatever may be given you in that hour, that speak ye; for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or to answer: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Spirit. And then shall many become offended, and shall deliver up one another, and hate one another. And ye shall be delivered up even by parents and brothers and kindred and friends; and some of you, they will put to death. Yea, brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father his child; and children shall rise up against parents and put them to death. And ye shall be hated of all men of all the nations for My name's sake. But not a hair from your head shall perish. In your patient endurance, ye shall gain your souls.

"But when ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place, where it should not (let him that readeth understand), and when ye see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, know then that her desolation hath come. Then let those in Judæa flee to the mountains, and let those in her midst depart out; and let not those in the country enter into her; and let not him that is upon the house-top go down nor enter in to take anything out of his house; and he that is in the field, let him not turn back to take his garment. For these are days of vengeance, that all things that are written may be fulfilled. But woe to them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days. And pray ye that your flight may not be in winter, nor on the Sabbath. For those days shall be a time of great tribulation, such as there hath not been the like from the beginning of the creation which God created until this time, nor ever shall be again. And unless the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh would have been saved; but for the sake of the elect, whom He chose, He shortened the days. Also many false prophets shall arise, and shall lead many astray. And then if any one say to you, 'Lo, here is the Christ,' or 'Lo, there'; believe it not: for false Christs and false prophets shall arise and shall show great signs and wonders so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. If, therefore, they shall say to you, 'Behold, he is in the wilderness'; go not forth: 'Behold, he is in the private chambers'; believe it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east and is seen even unto the west, so shall be the coming of the Son of man.

"But take ye heed; behold, I have told you all beforehand. Wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together. For there shall be great distress upon the land, and wrath to this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all the nations; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down by the Gentiles, till the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

"Now when ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars and tumults, be not troubled nor terrified; for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not immediately. Verily the gospel must first be preached to all the nations."

Then He said to them, "Nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be great earthquakes, and in various places famines and pestilences; and there shall be terrible sights and great signs from heaven. Now all these are a beginning of calamities. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near. Then, because lawlessness shall be increased, the love of the greater number will grow cold; but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole inhabited earth, for a testimony to all the nations; and then shall the end come.

"But immediately after the tribulation of those days, there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars: the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heaven shall be shaken. And upon the earth there shall be distress of nations, in perplexity at the roaring of the sea and the billows; men fainting from fear and expectation of the things that are coming on the inhabited earth. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the earth lament, and they shall see the Son of man coming upon the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And then He shall send forth His angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they will gather together His elect from the four winds, from the end of the earth, from one end of the heavens to the other."

And He spake a parable to them: "Behold the fig-tree, and all the trees; and learn the parable from the fig-tree. When her branch is already become tender and putteth forth leaves, seeing it, ye know of yourselves the summer is near. So also ye, when ye see all these things coming to pass; know ye that the kingdom of God is near, at the doors. Verily I say to you, this race shall not become extinct till all these things are accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.

"But of that day or the hour knoweth no one, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only. But as the days of Noah were, so will it be at the coming of the Son of man. For as in the days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and they knew not till the flood came and took them all away; so will it be at the coming of the Son of man. Then two men shall be in the field, one is taken and one is left; two women grinding at the mill, one is taken and one is left. But take heed to yourselves, watch (and pray), lest perhaps your hearts be burdened with surfeiting and drunkenness and anxieties of life, and that day come upon you suddenly as a snare; for ye know not when the time is; for it shall come upon all that dwell upon the face of all the earth. As a man going abroad left his house and gave authority to his servants, to each one his work, and commanded the doorkeeper to watch, therefore watch ye, for ye know not on what day your Lord, the Master of the house, cometh, nor whether at evening, or at midnight, or at cockcrowing, or in the morning: lest coming suddenly, He find you sleeping. And what I say to you, I say to all, Watch. But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. Therefore, be ye also ready; for in an hour that ye think not, the Son of man cometh.

"Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath set over his household to give them their food in season? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. Verily I say to you, he will set him over all that he hath. But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, 'My lord delayeth,' and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and shall eat and drink with the drunken; the lord of that servant shall come in a day when he is not expecting him, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall cut him asunder and appoint his portion with the hypocrites. There shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth!"

PARABLE OF THE TEN VIRGINS (Mat. 25:1-13):—Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened to ten virgins, who took their lamps and went forth to meet the bridegroom. But five of them were foolish and five were wise: for the foolish, taking their lamps, took no oil with them; but the wise took oil in the vessels with their lamps. Now while the bridegroom tarried, they all became drowsy and slept. But at midnight, there is a cry, 'Behold the bridegroom! come ye out to meet him.' Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us of your oil; for our lamps are going out.' But the wise answered, saying, 'By no means: there may not be enough for us and you. Go ye rather to those who sell and buy for yourselves.' But while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage feast; and the door was shut. And afterward came also the other virgins, saying, 'Lord, lord, open to us.' But he, answering, said, 'Verily I say to you, I do not know you.' Watch, therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour."

PARABLE OF THE TALENTS (Mat. 25:14-30):—"For the kingdom of God is as a man going abroad, who called his own servants and delivered to them his goods. And to one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to each according to his own ability; and he went abroad. Immediately he that received the five talents went and traded with them and gained five other talents. Likewise he also that received the two gained other two. But he that received the one went away and dug in the earth and hid his lord's money. Now after a long time, the lord of those servants cometh and maketh a reckoning with them, and he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, 'Lord, thou didst deliver to me five talents; behold, I have gained other five talents.' His lord said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.' He also that received the two talents came and said, 'Lord, thou didst deliver to me two talents; behold, I have gained other two talents.' His lord said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.' Then he also that had received the one talent came and said, 'Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter; and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine own.' But his lord answered and said to him, 'Thou wicked and slothful servant! Thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter. Thou shouldest, therefore, have deposited my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received my own with interest. Take, therefore, the talent from him, and give it to him that hath the ten talents. For to every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. And cast ye out the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.' "

THE JUDGMENT OF THE NATIONS (Mat. 25:31-46):—"But when the Son of man shall come in His glory, and all the angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the throne of His glory; and before Him shall be gathered all the nations: and He shall separate them from one another, as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And He shall set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on His left. Then shall the King say to those on His right hand, 'Come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry, and ye gave Me to eat; I was thirsty, and ye gave Me drink; I was a Stranger, and ye took Me in; naked, and ye clothed Me; I was sick, and ye visited Me; I was in prison, and ye came to Me.' Then shall the righteous answer Him, saying, 'Lord, when saw we Thee hungry and fed Thee, or thirsty and gave Thee drink? And when saw we Thee a Stranger and took Thee in, or naked, and clothed Thee? And when saw we Thee sick or in prison and came to Thee?' And the King shall answer and say to them, 'Verily I say to you, Inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, My brethren, ye did it to Me.' Then shall He also say to those on His left, 'Depart from Me, ye cursed, into the everlasting fire, which hath been prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry, and ye did not give Me to eat; I was thirsty, and ye did not give Me drink; I was a Stranger, and ye did not take Me in; naked, and ye did not clothe Me; sick, and in prison, and ye did not visit Me.' Then shall they also answer, saying, 'Lord, when did we see Thee hungry, or thirsty, or a Stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to Thee?' Then shall He answer them, saying, 'Verily I say to you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to Me.' And these shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into everlasting life."

JESUS PREDICTS AND THE RULERS PLOT HIS DEATH (Mat. 26:1-5; Mk. 14:1, 2; Lu. 22:1, 2):—Now the feast of unleavened bread, called the Passover, was drawing near; and it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, He said to His disciples, "Ye know that after two days the Passover cometh, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified."

Then the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people were gathered together in the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas; and they consulted together and sought how they might take Jesus by stratagem and put Him to death. But they said, "Not during the feast, lest a tumult should arise among the people."

MARY ANOINTS JESUS AT THE FEAST IN BETHANY (Mat. 26:6-13; Mk. 14:3-9; Jno. 12:2-8):—Now while Jesus was in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, they made Him a feast there. And Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those that reclined at table with Him. Then Mary took an alabaster jar of a pound of ointment, pure spikenard, very costly, and breaking the alabaster, she anointed the feet of Jesus, and poured it on His head as He reclined at table. And she wiped His feet with her hair; and the house was filled with the odor of the ointment. But Judas Iscariot, one of His disciples, who was about to betray Him, saith, "Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred shillings and given to the poor?" Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the purse, was taking away what was put into it. Then some of the disciples seeing it, became indignant, saying, "Why hath this waste of ointment been made? For this might have been sold for much more than three hundred shillings, and given to the poor." And they upbraided her. But Jesus perceiving it, said to them, "Let her alone. Why do ye trouble the woman? For she hath wrought a good work on Me. For ye have the poor always with you, and whenever ye wish ye can do them good; but Me ye have not always. For the day of My burial she kept it. She hath done what she could. She hath come beforehand to anoint My body for the burial: for she, in pouring this ointment on My body, did it to prepare Me for burial. And verily I say to you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached, in the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her."

JUDAS COVENANTS TO BETRAY HIS LORD (Mat. 26:14-16; Mk. 14:10, 11; Lu. 22:3-6):—Then Satan entered into Judas, who is called Iscariot, being one of the number of the twelve; and he went away to the chief priests, and consulted with the chief priests and captains as to how he might deliver up Jesus to them; and he said, "What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver Him up to you?" and they, when they heard it, rejoiced, and covenanted to give him money: and he agreed. Then they weighed out for him thirty pieces of silver, and from that time, he sought a favorable opportunity to deliver Him up to them in the absence of a multitude.

PREPARATION MADE TO EAT THE PASSOVER (Mat. 26:17-20; Mk. 14:12-17; Lu. 22:7-16):—Now on the first day of the unleavened bread, on which the passover must be sacrificed, the disciples came to Jesus, saying, "Where wilt Thou that we go and prepare for Thee to eat the passover?" And He sendeth two of His disciples, Peter and John, and saith to them, "Go, and prepare the passover for us, that we may eat." Then they said to Him, "Where wilt Thou that we prepare it?" And He said to them, "Go into the city, and behold, when ye have entered into it, there shall meet you a man carrying a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he entereth. And ye shall say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher saith to thee, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover with thee, together with My disciples. Where is the guest chamber where I may eat the passover with My disciples?' And he himself will show you a large upper room furnished, ready: and there prepare for us." And the disciples went forth and came into the city, and found as He had said to them; and they prepared the passover, as Jesus directed them. Now when evening came, He cometh with the twelve; and when the hour came, He reclined at table, and the apostles with Him. And He said to them, "Earnestly have I desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say to you, I will eat it no more till it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God."

CONTENTION AMONG THE TWELVE —JESUS WASHES THEIR FEET (Lu. 22:24-30; Jno. 13:1-20):—Now there arose a contention among them, which of them was to be regarded as the greatest. But He said to them, "The kings of the nations rule over them, and those having authority over them are called Benefactors. But ye are not so; but let the greater among you be as the younger, and he that rules as he that serves. For which is greater, he that reclines at table, or he that serves? But I am in the midst of you as He that serves. But ye are they who have continued with Me in My temptations: and I appoint to you a kingdom, even as My Father appointed to Me, that ye may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom; and ye shall sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus, knowing that His hour had come that He should depart out of this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end. And during supper (the devil having already put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray Him), knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He came forth from God and goeth to God; Jesus riseth from the supper, and layeth aside His garments, and taking a towel He girded Himself. Then He poureth water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded. He cometh, then, to Simon Peter. He saith to Him, "Lord, dost Thou wash my feet?" Jesus answered and said to him, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt understand it hereafter." Peter saith to Him, "Thou shalt never wash my feet!" Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash thee, thou hast no part with Me." Simon Peter saith to Him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head." Jesus saith to him, "He that hath bathed, hath no need to wash except the feet, but is wholly clean: and ye are clean, but not all." For He knew him who was betraying Him; therefore He said, "Ye are not all clean." So when He had washed their feet and taken His garments and reclined again, He said to them, "Do ye know what I have done to you? Ye call Me 'the Teacher' and 'the Lord,' and ye say well; for so I am. If therefore I, 'the Teacher' and 'the Lord,' washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that as I did to you, ye also should do. Verily, verily, I say to you, A servant is not greater than his lord, nor an apostle greater than He who sent him. If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them. I speak not concerning all of you; I know whom I chose. But that the scripture may be fulfilled, 'He that eateth My bread lifted up his heel against Me.' Even now I tell you before it cometh to pass, that when it cometh to pass, ye may believe that I am He. Verily, verily, I say to you, He that receiveth whomsoever I shall send, receiveth Me; and he that receiveth Me, receiveth Him Who sent Me."

JESUS FORETELLS HIS BETRAYAL AND JUDAS GOES OUT (Mat. 26:21-25; Mk. 14:18-21; Lu. 22:21-23; Jno. 13:21-30):—When Jesus had said these things, as they reclined at table and were eating, He was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, "Behold, the hand of him that betrayeth Me is with Me on the table. Verily, verily, I say to you, that one of you that eateth with Me, will betray Me. The Son of man goeth, indeed, as it hath been appointed; but woe to that man by whom He is betrayed!" The disciples looked, one upon another, doubting of whom He spake. And they began to question among themselves, which of them it could be that was about to do this thing. And they were exceedingly sorrowful, and began to say to Him, every one, one by one, "Is it I, Lord?" Then He answered and said, "It is one of the twelve: he that dipped his hand with Me in the dish, that one of you will betray Me. The Son of man, indeed, goeth as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It were good for that man if he had not been born."

There was reclining at table in Jesus' bosom, one of His disciples whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter, therefore, beckoneth to him and saith to him, "Ask who it is, of whom He speaketh." Leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' breast, he saith to Him, "Lord, who is it?" Jesus, therefore, answereth, "He it is, for whom I shall dip the morsel and give it to him." Then having dipped the morsel, He taketh and giveth it to Judas, Simon Iscariot's son. And Judas, who was betraying Him, answered and said, "Is it I, Rabbi?" He saith to him, "Thou hast said." Now after the morsel, immediately Satan entered into him. Jesus therefore saith to him, "What thou doest, do quickly." But no one of those reclining at table knew why He spake this to him. For some thought, since Judas had the purse, that Jesus said to him, "Buy what we have need of for the feast"; or that he should give something to the poor. He then, having received the morsel, went out immediately; and it was night.

THE NEW COMMANDMENT (Jno. 13:31-35):—When, therefore, he was gone out, Jesus saith, "Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in Him. And God shall glorify Him in Himself, and shall glorify Him immediately. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek Me; and as I said to the Jews, 'Whither I go, ye cannot come'; so now I say it to you. A new commandment I give to you, that ye love one another; even as I loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all know that ye are My disciples, if ye have love one to another."

THE LORD'S SUPPER INSTITUTED (Mat. 26:26-29; Mk. 14:22-25; Lu. 22:17-20):—And having received a cup and given thanks, Jesus said, "Take this and divide it among yourselves; for I say to you, I will not drink henceforth of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God be come." Then, as they were eating, Jesus took a loaf, and when He had given thanks, and blessed it, He broke it and gave to His disciples, saying, "Take, eat; this is My body, which is given for you: this do in remembrance of Me." In like manner also He took the cup after the paschal supper, and when He had given thanks, He gave to them, saying, "Drink all ye of it": and they all drank of it. And He said to them, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is poured out for you and in behalf of many, for remission of sins. This do, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of Me. Verily I say to you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of God My Father."

PETER'S DENIAL FORETOLD (Mat. 26:31-35; Mk. 14:27-31; Lu. 22:31-34; Jno. 13:36-38):—Simon Peter saith to Him, "Lord, whither goest Thou?" Jesus answered, "Whither I am going thou canst not follow Me now, but thou shalt follow Me afterwards. Simon, Simon, behold, Satan asked for you all, to sift you as wheat; but I prayed for thee, that thy faith might not fail: and do thou, when thou hast turned again, confirm thy brethren." Peter saith to Him, "Lord, why cannot I follow Thee even now? I am ready to go with Thee both to prison and to death. I will lay down my life for Thee." Jesus answereth, "Wilt thou lay down thy life for Me? Verily, verily, I say to thee, the cock shall not crow till thou hast denied Me three times." Then Jesus saith to His disciples, "All ye shall be caused to forsake Me this night: for it is written, 'I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.' But after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee." But Peter answered and said to Him, "Although all shall be made to forsake Thee, yet will not I forsake Thee." Jesus saith to him, "I tell thee, Peter, verily today, this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt three times deny that thou knowest Me." But Peter kept saying the more vehemently to Him, "Even if I must die with Thee, I will not deny Thee." Likewise also said all the disciples.

PURSE, SATCHEL AND SWORD TO BE PROVIDED (Lu. 22:35-38):—And He said to them, "When I sent you forth without purse and provision-satchel and sandals, did ye lack anything?" And they said, "Nothing." Then He said to them, "But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it; likewise also a provision-satchel; and he that hath none, let him sell his garment and buy a sword. For I say to you, that this that is written must be fulfilled in Me: 'And He was numbered with the lawless'; for that which concerneth Me is coming to an end." Then they said, "Lord, behold, here are two swords." And He said to them, "It is enough."

OUR LORD'S FAREWELL DISCOURSE (Jno. 14:1–16:33):—"Let not your heart be troubled: believe in God; believe also in Me. In My Father's house there are many dwelling-places; if it were not so, I would have told you: for I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I am coming again, and will take you to Myself; that where I am, ye may be also. And whither I am going, ye know the way." Thomas saith to Him, "Lord, we know not whither Thou art going; how do we know the way?" Jesus saith to him, "I am the Way and the Truth and the Life: no one cometh to the Father but by Me. If ye had known Me, ye would have known My Father also. From henceforth ye know Him, and have seen Him." Philip saith to him, "Lord, show us the Father, and it is enough for us." Jesus saith to him, "So long a time I am with you, and thou hast not known Me, Philip? He that hath seen Me, hath seen the Father: how then sayest thou, 'Show us the Father'? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and that the Father is in Me? The words that I speak to you, I speak not from Myself; but the Father abiding in Me, doeth His works. Believe Me, that I am in the Father and the Father in Me; but if not, believe Me for the sake of the works themselves. Verily, verily, I say to you, he that believeth on Me, the works that I do, he shall do also; and greater than these shall he do, because I am going to the Father. And whatsoever ye may ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye ask anything in My name, I will do it.

"If ye love Me, ye will keep My commandments. And I will ask the Father and He shall give you another Advocate, that He may be with you forever: the Spirit of Truth, Whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him. Ye know Him, because He abideth with you and is in you. I will not leave you orphans; I am coming to you. Yet a little while, and the world seeth Me no more; but ye see Me: because I live, ye shall live also. In that day ye shall know that I am in My Father, and ye in Me, and I in you. He that hath My commandments and keepeth them, he it is that loveth Me; and he that loveth Me shall be loved by My Father, and I will love him, and will manifest Myself to him." Judas (not Iscariot) saith to Him, "Lord, what has come to pass, that Thou art about to manifest Thyself to us and not to the world?" Jesus answered and said to him, "If any one love Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and make Our abode with him. He that loveth Me not, keepeth not My words; and the word which ye hear is not Mine, but the Father's Who sent Me.

"These things I have spoken to you while abiding with you. But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, Whom the Father will send in My name, He shall teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all things that I said to you. Peace I leave to you; My own peace I give to you: not as the world giveth do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Ye heard that I said to you, 'I am going away,' and 'I am coming to you.' If ye loved Me, ye would have rejoiced because I am going to the Father; for the Father is greater than I. And now I have told you before it cometh to pass, that when it cometh to pass, ye may believe.

I shall no longer talk much with you; for the prince of the world cometh, and he hath nothing in Me. But that the world may know that I love the Father, even as the Father commanded Me, so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

"I am the true Vine, and My Father is the Vine-Dresser. Every branch in Me that beareth not fruit, He taketh it away; and every one that beareth fruit, He cleanseth it that it may bear more fruit. Ye are clean already, through the word which I have spoken to you. Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abide in the vine, so neither can ye unless ye abide in Me. I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: because apart from Me ye can do nothing. Unless one abide in Me, he is cast forth as a branch and is dried up; and they gather them together and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ask whatever ye wish, and it shall be done for you. In this is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, and become My disciples. As the Father loved Me, I also love you; abide in My love. If ye keep My commandments, ye shall abide in My love; even as I have kept My Father's commandments and abide in His love. These things have I spoken to you, that My joy may be in you, and that your joy may be complete.

"This is My commandment, that ye love one another as I have loved you. Greater love hath no one than this, that one lay down his life for his friends. Ye are My friends, if ye do what I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant knoweth not what his master doeth. But I have called you friends, because all things that I heard from My Father I made known to you. Ye did not choose Me, but I chose you and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide; that whatsoever ye may ask the Father in My name, He may give it to you. These things I command you, in order that ye may love one another.

"If the world hateth you, ye know that it hath hated Me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but because ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. Remember the word that I said to you, 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted Me, they will also persecute you; if they kept My word, they will keep yours also. But all these things will they do to you for My name's sake, because they know not Him Who sent Me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have had sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin. He that hateth Me, hateth My Father also. If I had not done among them works which none other did, they would not have had sin; but now they have seen and also have hated both Me and My Father: so that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law: 'They hated Me without cause.' But when the Advocate shall come, Whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of Truth Who goeth forth from the Father, He will testify concerning Me; and ye also testify, because ye are with Me from the beginning.

"These things I have spoken to you that ye may not be led astray. They shall put you out of the synagogues; yea, an hour is coming when any one that killeth you shall think that he rendereth service to God: and these things they will do, because they have not known the Father nor Me. But I have spoken to you these things, that when their hour shall come, ye may remember them, that I told you. But I did not tell you these things at the beginning, because I was with you.

"But now I go to Him Who sent Me, and none of you asketh Me, 'Whither goest Thou?' But because I have said these things to you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Advocate will not come to you; but if I go, I will send Him to you. And when He cometh, He will convict the world respecting sin and righteousness and judgment: respecting sin, because they believe not in Me; respecting righteousness, because I go to the Father and ye see Me no more; respecting judgment, because the prince of this world hath been judged.

"I have yet many things to say to you, but ye cannot bear them now. But when He, the Spirit of Truth, shall have come, He shall guide you into all the truth; for He shall not speak from Himself, but whatever He shall hear, He shall speak; and He shall declare to you the things to come. He shall glorify Me; for He shall receive of Mine and declare it to you. All things whatsoever the Father hath are Mine; for this reason, I said, that He receiveth of Mine and will declare it to you.

"A little while and ye see Me no more; and again a little while and ye shall see Me (because I go to the Father)." Therefore, some of His disciples said to one another, "What is this He saith to us, 'A little while, and ye see Me not, and again a little while and ye shall see Me'; and 'Because I go to the Father'?" They were saying therefore, "What is this which He saith, 'A little while'? We do not understand what He saith." Jesus knew that they wished to ask Him, and He said to them, "Do ye inquire among yourselves about this that I said, 'A little while and ye see Me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see Me'? Verily, verily, I say to you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be changed into joy. A woman, when she is in travail, hath sorrow, because her hour hath come; but when she hath borne the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man hath been born into the world. And ye also now have sorrow indeed; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one shall take from you.

"And in that day ye shall ask Me nothing. Verily, verily, I say to you, If ye shall ask the Father anything, He will give it you in My name. Hitherto ye have asked nothing in My name. Ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be complete. These things have I spoken to you in parables. An hour is coming when I will speak to you no more in parables, but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day, ye shall ask in My name. And I do not say to you that I will pray the Father for you; for the Father Himself loveth you, because ye have loved Me and have believed that I came forth from the Father. I came forth from the Father and have come into the world; again, I leave the world and go to the Father." His disciples say, "Behold, now Thou speakest plainly, and speakest no parable. Now we know that Thou knowest all things, and hath no need that any one should question Thee. By this we believe that Thou comest forth from God." Jesus answered them, "Do ye now believe? Behold an hour is coming, yea, hath come, when ye shall be scattered, each one to his own place, and shall leave Me alone: yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me. I have spoken these things to you, that in Me ye may have peace. In the world ye have tribulation; but be of good courage; I have overcome the world."

JESUS PRAYS FOR HIS PEOPLE (Jno. 17:1-26):—These things spake Jesus; then, lifting up His eyes to heaven, He said, "Father, the hour hath come; glorify Thy Son, that the Son may also glorify Thee: even as Thou gavest Him authority over all flesh, that He should give everlasting life to all those whom Thou hast given Him. And this is the everlasting life, that they know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ Whom Thou didst send. I glorified Thee on earth, having finished the work which Thou hast given Me to do. And now, Father, glorify Thou Me with Thyself with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was. I manifested Thy name to the men whom Thou gavest Me out of the world. Thine they were, and Thou gavest them to Me; and they have kept Thy word. Now they know that all things whatsoever Thou hast given Me are from Thee; because the words which Thou gavest Me, I have given to them, and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from Thee, and believed that Thou didst send Me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for those whom Thou hast given Me; because they are Thine. And all things that are Mine are Thine, and Thine are Mine; and I am glorified in them. And I am no longer in the world; and these are in the world, and I come to Thee. Holy Father, keep in Thy name those whom Thou hast given Me, that they may be one, even as We. While I was with them, I kept them in Thy name, which Thou hast given Me; and I guarded them, and not one of them is lost—only the son of perdition, that the scripture might be fulfilled. But now I come to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have My joy completed in themselves. I have given them Thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I pray not that Thou shouldest take them from the world; but that Thou shouldest keep them from the evil. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth: Thy word is truth. Even as Thou didst send Me into the world, I also sent them into the world; and I sanctify Myself on their account, that they also may be sanctified in truth. But I pray not for these only, but for those also who believe on Me through their word; that they may all be one, even as Thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee, that they also may be in Us: that the world may believe that Thou didst send Me. And the glory that Thou hast given Me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as We are one; I in them, and Thou in Me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that Thou didst send me, and lovest them, even as Thou lovedst Me. Father, those whom Thou hast given Me, I will that they also may be with Me where I am, that they may behold My glory which Thou hast given Me; because Thou lovedst Me before the foundation of the world. Righteous Father, the world indeed knew Thee not, but I knew Thee, and these knew that Thou didst send Me. I also made known to them Thy name, and I will make it known: that the love with which Thou lovedst Me may be in them, and I in them."

JESUS GOES WITH HIS DISCIPLES TO GETHSEMANE AT THE MOUNT OF OLIVES (Mat. 26:30, 36; Mk. 14:26, 32; Lu. 22:39, 40; Jno. 18:1, 2):—When Jesus had said these things, and they had sung a hymn, He came out and went forth with His disciples, according to His custom, beyond the brook Kedron, to the mount of Olives, where there was a garden called Gethsemane, into which He entered, Himself and His disciples. And having arrived at the place, He said to them, "Pray that ye enter not into temptation. Sit here while I go yonder and pray." Now Judas also, who was betraying Him, knew the place, because Jesus often resorted thither with His disciples.

THE AGONY IN THE GARDEN (Mat. 26:37-46; Mk. 14:33-42; Lu. 22:41-46):—And Jesus took with Him Peter, and James and John, the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be greatly distressed in mind and sorrowful and deeply depressed. Then He saith to them, "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death: stay here, and watch with Me." And going forward a little from them, about a stone's throw, He kneeled down and fell upon His face upon the earth, and prayed, saying, "Abba, Father, all things are possible to Thee: if Thou be willing, remove this cup from Me; nevertheless not My will, but Thine be done." Then there appeared to Him an angel from heaven, strengthening Him. And being in agony, He prayed more earnestly; and His sweat became as great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. And rising up from His prayer, He came to the disciples and found them sleeping from sorrow; and He saith to Peter, "Simon, sleepest thou? What! couldst thou not watch with Me one hour?" Also He said to them, "Why sleep ye? Arise, watch ye, and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." And He went away again the second time and prayed, saying, "My Father, if this cannot pass away, but that I drink it, Thy will be done." And He came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy, and they knew not what to answer Him. And leaving them again, He went away and prayed the third time, saying again the same words. Then He cometh to the disciples the third time, and saith to them, "Sleep on the remaining time, and take your rest. It is enough; the hour hath come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Arise, let us be going; behold, he that betrayeth Me hath come."

BETRAYAL AND ARREST OF JESUS (Mat. 26:47-56; Mk. 14:43-52; Lu. 22:47-53; Jno. 18:3-12):—Now Judas, one of the twelve, having received the company of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees and scribes and elders of the people, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. And immediately, while Jesus was yet speaking, behold Judas approacheth, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs. Jesus, therefore, knowing all things that were coming upon Him, went forth and saith to them, "Whom seek ye?" They answered Him, "Jesus the Nazarene." Jesus saith to them, "I am He." Now Judas also, who was betraying Him, was standing with them. When, therefore, He said to them, "I am He," they went backward and fell to the ground. Again therefore He asked them, "Whom seek ye?" And they said, "Jesus the Nazarene." Jesus answered, "I told you that I am He. If then ye seek Me, let these go their way:" that the word might be fulfilled which He spake, "Of those whom Thou hast given Me, I lost not one." Now he that was betraying Him had given them a sign, saying, "Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is He; lay hold of Him and lead Him away securely." And when he was come, immediately he came to Jesus to kiss Him, and said, "Hail, Rabbi!" and kissed Him repeatedly. But Jesus said to him, "Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss!" And those around Him, seeing what was about to happen, said, "Lord, shall we smite with the sword?" And behold, one of them that were with Jesus, Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it and struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear. Now the servant's name was Malchus. Then Jesus answered and said, "Suffer ye thus far." And He touched his ear and healed him. Jesus therefore said to Peter, "Put up the sword into the sheath; for all who take a sword will perish by a sword. The cup which the Father hath given Me, shall I not drink it? Or thinkest thou that I cannot call upon My Father and He will even now send Me more than twelve legions of angels? How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?" Then Jesus said to Judas, "Friend, do that for which thou art come." Then they came and laid hands on Jesus and took Him. In that hour, Jesus said to the chief priests and captains of the temple and elders, and the crowds that were come against Him, "Have ye come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs, to arrest Me? When I sat daily with you in the temple teaching, ye stretched not forth your hands against Me; but this is your hour and the power of darkness. But all this hath come to pass that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled." Then the disciples all left Him and fled. And a certain young man accompanied Him, having a linen cloth wrapped around his naked body, and they seize him; but leaving the linen cloth behind he fled from them naked.

JESUS BEFORE THE HIGH PRIESTS, AND PETER'S DENIALS

BEFORE ANNAS (Jno. 18:12-14, 19-24):—So the company of soldiers, and the chief captain and the officers of the Jews, took Jesus and bound Him and led Him first to Annas, for he was father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. (Now it was Caiaphas who gave counsel to the Jews, that 'it is expedient for one man to die for the people.') The high priest therefore asked Jesus about His disciples and His teaching. Jesus answered him, "I have spoken openly to the world; I always taught in a synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews assemble; and I spake nothing in secret. Why dost thou ask Me? Ask those who heard, what I spake to them: behold, these know what I said." But when He had said these things, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus with his open hand, saying, "Answerest Thou the high priest so?" Jesus answered him, "If I spake evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why dost thou smite Me?" Then Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

BEFORE CAIAPHAS AND THE SANHEDRIN (Mat. 26:57-63; Mk. 14:53, 55-61; Lu. 22:54):—Now they that had taken Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, and brought Him into his house, where were assembled together all the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. Then the chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin sought false testimony against Jesus, so that they might put Him to death; and they found it not, though many false witnesses came and bore false testimony against Him: but their testimonies did not agree. But at last two came forward, who stood up and bare false testimony against Him: saying, "We heard this man say, 'I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands,' " and, "This man said, 'I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to rebuild it in three days.' " And not even were their testimonies alike. And the high priest, standing up in the midst, questioned Jesus, saying, "Answerest Thou nothing? What is it that these are testifying against Thee?" But He was silent and answered nothing.

PETER DENIES HIS LORD THREE TIMES (Mat. 26:58, 69-75; Mk. 14:54, 66-72; Lu. 22:54-62; Jno. 18:15-18, 25-27):—And Simon Peter followed Jesus afar off; also another disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; but Peter stood at the door on the outside. So the other disciple, the one known to the high priest, went out and spake to her that kept the door, and brought in Peter into the court of the high priest. Now the servants and officers, having made a fire of coals, for it was cold, were standing and warming themselves; and Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself. Now after they had kindled fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Simon Peter sat in the midst of the officers to see the end. And as Peter was below in the court, there cometh one of the maid-servants of the high priest, that kept the door, and seeing Peter warming himself, came to him, saying, "Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean: art thou not also one of His disciples?" And looking intently on him, she said, "This man also was with the Nazarene, Jesus." They said, therefore, to him, "Art thou also one of His disciples?" But he denied before them all, saying, "I am not. Woman, I do not know Him. I neither know nor understand what thou sayest." And he went out into the porch, and a cock crew.

And when he had gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith to those that were there, "This man also was with Jesus the Nazarene." The other maid also seeing him, began again to say to those standing near, "This is one of them." And after a little while, another (a man) looking at him, said, "Thou also art one of them." But Peter denied it again with an oath, and said, "Man, I am not. I do not know the Man."

Now after a short time, about one hour, another man confidently affirmed, saying, "Of a truth this man also was with Him; for he also is a Galilean." But Peter said, "Man, I know not what thou sayest." One of the servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, saith, "Did not I see thee in the garden with Him?" And they that stood by came and said to Peter, "Truly thou also art one of them; for thou art a Galilean; for even thy speech maketh thee known." Then he began to curse and to swear, "I know not this Man, of Whom ye speak." And immediately, while he was yet speaking, a second time a cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked at Peter; and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that Jesus said to him, "Before a cock crow twice today, thou shalt deny Me three times." And as he thought thereon, he went out and wept bitterly.

JESUS CONDEMNED BY THE SANHEDRIN (Mat. 26:63-68; 27:1; Mk. 14:61-65; 15:1; Lu. 22:63-71:—Now when morning came, as soon as it was day, the elders of the people were assembled together with the chief priests and scribes, and the whole Sanhedrin took counsel against Jesus to put Him to death. And they brought Him into the Sanhedrin, saying, "If Thou art the Christ, tell us." But He said to them, "If I tell you, ye will not believe; and if I question you, ye will not answer." Again the high priest asked Him, and said to Him, "I adjure Thee by the living God that Thou tell us whether Thou art the Christ, the Son of God: art Thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?"

And they all said, "Art Thou then the Son of God?" Then Jesus said to them, "Ye say so: I am. Furthermore, I say to you, Hereafter ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of the power of God, and coming upon the clouds of heaven." Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, "He blasphemed! what further need have we of witnesses? Behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye?" Then they answered and said, "Why need we any further testimony? for we ourselves heard it from His own mouth." And they all condemned Him, and said, "He is deserving of death." Then the men that held Jesus mocked Him, and spat in His face, and they beat Him, and blindfolding Him they smote Him on His face with the palms of their hands, saying, "Prophesy to us, Thou Christ, who is he that struck Thee?" And many other things they said against Him blasphemously. Even the officers received Him with blows.

REMORSE AND SUICIDE OF JUDAS THE TRAITOR (Mat. 27:3-10):—Then Judas who betrayed Jesus, when he saw that He was condemned, moved with remorse, brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, "I have sinned, in betraying innocent blood." But they said, "What is it to us? see thou to that!" And throwing the pieces of silver down in the temple, he departed, and went away and hanged himself (and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out). But the chief priests took the pieces of silver and said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood." Then they held a consultation, and bought with them the potter's field, for a burial-place for strangers. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

"And I took the thirty pieces of silver,
The price of Him Who was priced,
Whom they of the sons of Israel priced,
And gave them for the potter's field,
Even as the Lord directed me."

JESUS' TRIALS BEFORE PILATE AND HEROD

THE FIRST TRIAL OF JESUS BEFORE PILATE (Mat. 27:2, 11-14; Mk. 15:1-5; Lu. 23:1-7; Jno. 18:28-38):—Then the whole multitude of them arose and bound Jesus, and led Him away from Caiaphas into the palace, and delivered Him up to Pilate the governor. Now it was early; and they entered not into the palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover. Pilate therefore went out to them, and saith, "What accusation do ye bring against this Man?" They answered and said to him, "If this Man were not an evil-doer, we would not have delivered Him up to thee." Then they began to accuse Him, saying, "We found this Man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that He Himself is Christ a King." Pilate, therefore, said to them, "Take Him yourselves, and judge Him according to your laws." The Jews said to him, "It is not lawful for us to put any one to death;" that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which He spake, signifying by what sort of death He was about to die. Pilate, therefore, entered again into the palace and summoned Jesus. Then Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked Him, saying, "Art Thou the King of the Jews?" And Jesus said to him, "Thou sayest it. Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell thee about Me?" Pilate answered, "Am I a Jew? Thy own people and the chief priests delivered Thee up to me. What hast Thou done?" Jesus answered, "My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, My servants would fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now My kingdom is not from hence." Pilate, therefore, said to Him, "Art Thou a King then?" Jesus answered, "Thou sayest it, I am a King. For this end have I been born, and for this came I into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Every one that is of the truth, heareth My voice." Pilate saith to Him, "What is truth?" And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to the chief priests and to the multitudes, "I find no fault in this man." Now when He was accused of many things by the chief priests and elders, He answered nothing. Then saith Pilate to Him, "Hearest Thou not how many things they testify against Thee?" And He made him no answer, not even to one word. Then Pilate again asked Him, saying, "Answerest Thou nothing? Behold, how many things they accuse Thee of." But Jesus no longer answered anything, so that the governor wondered exceedingly. But the chief priests were the more urgent, saying, "He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judæa, beginning from Galilee even to this place." Now when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the Man were a Galilean. And learning that He was from Herod's jurisdiction, he sent Him up to Herod, who also was in Jerusalem in these days.

JESUS BEFORE HEROD ANTIPAS (Lu. 23:8-12):—Now when Herod saw Jesus, he rejoiced greatly; for he had often wished to see Him, because he had heard about Him, and he hoped to see some miracle done by Him. And he asked Him many questions, but He answered him nothing. Now the chief priests and the scribes stood accusing Him vehemently. Then Herod with his guards set Him at naught; and having mocked Him and put on Him a gorgeous robe, he sent Him back to Pilate. Now Herod and Pilate became friends with each other on that very day; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

SECOND TRIAL BEFORE PILATE (Mat. 27:15-26; Mk. 15:6-15; Lu. 23:13-25; Jno. 18:39–19:16):—Now at the feast, the governor was accustomed to release one prisoner to the multitude, whomsoever they asked. And they had a notable prisoner called Barabbas, a robber, who, on account of a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison, bound with those who had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder. And the multitude coming up, began to ask him to do as he always did for them. Then Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers of the people. When therefore they were gathered together, he said to them, "Ye brought this Man to me as one perverting the people; and behold, I, having examined Him before you, found no fault in this Man touching the things whereof ye accuse Him: no, nor yet Herod, for he sent Him back to us; and behold, nothing deserving death hath been done by Him. I will, therefore, chastise Him and release Him. But ye have a custom that I should release one to you at the passover: will ye, therefore, that I should release to you the King of the Jews? Whom do ye wish that I should release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus Who is called Christ?" For he knew that through envy the chief priests had delivered Him up.

Now as Pilate was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Have thou nothing to do with that righteous Man; for I suffered much today in a dream because of Him."

But the chief priests and elders stirred up the multitude and persuaded them that they should ask for Barabbas and destroy Jesus. Then the governor, answering, said to them, "Which of the two do ye wish that I release to you?" Then they cried out all together, saying, "Not this Man, but Barabbas. Away with this Man, and release to us Barabbas!" But Pilate, wishing to release Jesus, spake to them again and said to them, "What then shall I do with Jesus, Who is called Christ—Whom ye call the King of the Jews?" And they all cried out again, saying, "Crucify Him! crucify Him! let Him be crucified!" Then Pilate said to them the third time, "Why, what evil hath this Man done? I found no cause for death in Him. I will chastise Him, therefore, and release Him." But they were importunate and cried out exceedingly with loud voices, "Crucify Him! Let Him be crucified!"

Then Pilate took Jesus, therefore, and scourged Him. And the soldiers, having platted a crown of thorns, put it on His head, and put on Him a purple robe, and kept coming to Him and saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!" and they gave Him blows with their hands. Then Pilate went out again and saith to them, "Behold, I bring Him out to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in Him." Jesus therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. And Pilate saith to them, "Behold, the Man!" When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw Him, they cried out, saying, "Crucify! crucify!" Pilate saith to them, "Take Him yourselves and crucify Him; for I find no fault in Him." The Jews answered him, "We have a law, and according to that law He ought to die, because He made Himself the Son of God." When therefore Pilate heard this statement, he was the more afraid; and he entered into the palace again and saith to Jesus, "Whence art Thou?" But Jesus gave him no answer. Pilate therefore saith to Him, "Dost Thou not speak to me? Knowest Thou not that I have the power to release Thee, and have power to crucify Thee?" Jesus answered him, "Thou wouldst have no power over Me if it were not given thee from above; on this account he that delivered Me up to thee hath greater sin." From this, Pilate sought to release Him; but the Jews cried out, saying, "If Thou release this Man, thou art not Cæsar's friend. Every one that maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar." When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down upon the judgment seat in a place called "Pavement," but in Hebrew, "Gabbatha." Now it was the preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith to the Jews, "Behold, your King!" They, therefore, cried out, "Away with Him! away with Him! crucify Him!" Pilate saith to them, "Shall I crucify your King?" The chief priests answered, "We have no king but Cæsar." So when Pilate saw that he gained nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this righteous Man. See ye to it." And all the people answered and said, "His blood be on us and on our children!" Now Pilate wished to satisfy the multitude, and their voices prevailed; and he gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. Then he released to them Barabbas, who for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will, to be crucified.

JESUS IS MOCKED BY THE SOLDIERS AND TAKEN TO GOLGOTHA (Mat. 27: 27-33; Mk. 15:16-22; Lu. 23:26-33; Jno. 19:16, 17):—Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the palace, within the court, and gathered to Him the whole band. And they stripped Him and clothed Him with purple and put on Him a scarlet robe. And having platted a crown of thorns, they put it on His head, and a reed in His right hand. And they began to salute Him, and kneeling down before Him, they mocked Him, saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!" And they spat upon Him, and took the reed and smote Him on His head, and bowing their knees did homage to Him. And when they had mocked Him, they took off from Him the robe and the purple and put on Him His own garments, and led Him forth to crucify Him.

Jesus, therefore, went forth bearing the cross for Himself. Now as they went out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name, the father of Alexander and Rufus, coming from a field: him they compelled to go and carry His cross; and they laid the cross on him to bear it after Jesus.

Now there followed Him a great multitude of the people, and of women who were bewailing and lamenting Him. But Jesus turning to them, said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for Me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. For behold, the days are coming, in which they will say, 'Happy are the barren, and the wombs that did not bear, and the breasts that gave not suck.' Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, 'Fall on us'; and to the hills, 'Cover us.' For if they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry?" Now there were also led with Him two others, malefactors, to be put to death. And they bring Him to the place which is called in Hebrew, "Golgotha"; which is, being interpreted, "Place of a skull"; there they crucified Him.

JESUS' DEATH, BURIAL, RESURRECTION AND ASCENSION

THE CRUCIFIXION (Mat. 27:34-38; Mk. 15:23-28; Lu. 23:33, 34, 38; Jno. 19: 18-24):—Now it was the third hour when they crucified Him. And they offered Him wine mingled with myrrh to drink, but when He had tasted it, He would not drink it. And with Him, they crucify two robbers, one on His right hand and one on His left, and Jesus in the midst. (And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, "And He was reckoned with the lawless.") Then Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took His garments and made four parts, to each soldier a part; also the coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. They said therefore to one another, "Let us not rend it; but let us cast lots for it, whose it shall be": that the scripture might be fulfilled which saith,

"They divided My garments among them,
And upon My vesture did they cast lots."

The soldiers therefore did these things: and sitting down they watched Him there.

Now Pilate also wrote a title and superscription of His accusation, and put it on the cross over His head. And there was written: "THIS IS JESUS THE NAZARENE, THE KING OF THE JEWS." This title, therefore, many of the Jews read; for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city, and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek. Therefore the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate, "Do not write, 'The King of the Jews'; but that He said, I am the King of the Jews." Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

(Jno. 19:25-27.) Now there stood by the cross of Jesus His mother, and His mother's sister, and Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary the Magdalene. Then Jesus, seeing His mother and the disciple whom He loved standing by, saith to His mother, "Woman, behold thy son!" Then He saith to the disciple, "Behold thy mother!" And from that hour, the disciple took her to his own home.

(Mat. 27:39-44; Mk. 15:29-32; Lu. 23: 35-37.) And the people stood looking on. And they that passed by railed at Him, wagging their heads, and saying, "Aha! Thou that destroyest the temple and rebuildest it in three days, save Thyself. If Thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross." Likewise also the chief priests, mocking among themselves, with the scribes and elders, said, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save. If This is the Christ of God, His chosen, let Him save Himself. Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see, and we will believe on Him. He trusteth on God; let Him deliver Him now, if He delighteth in Him: for He said, 'I am the Son of God.'" And the robbers also who were crucified with Him reproached Him with the same thing. And the soldiers also mocked Him, coming to Him and offering Him vinegar, and saying, "If Thou art the King of the Jews, save Thyself."

SALVATION OF THE PENITENT ROBBER (Lu. 23:39-43):—Moreover, one of the malefactors who were crucified railed at Him, saying, "Art not Thou the Christ? Save Thyself and us." But the other answered, and rebuking him said, "Dost thou not even fear God, seeing that thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we are receiving a due reward of what we did. But this Man did nothing amiss." Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when Thou comest in Thy kingdom." And He said to him, "Verily I say to thee, Today thou shalt be with Me in Paradise."

DEATH OF JESUS AND THE STRANGE EVENTS ATTENDING IT (Mat. 27:45-56; Mk. 15:33-41; Lu. 23:44-49; Jno. 19:28-30):—It was now about the sixth hour. And when the sixth hour came, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour, the sun failing to give light. And at the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which is, being interpreted, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" And some of those standing there, when they heard it, said, "Behold, this Man called Elijah." After this, Jesus, knowing that all things have now been finished, that the scripture might be completely fulfilled, saith, "I thirst." There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: and immediately one of them ran and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar and put it on a hyssop reed, and gave Him to drink. But the rest said, "Let Him alone! Let us see if Elijah is coming to save Him." When Jesus, therefore, received the vinegar, He cried again with a loud voice and said, "It is finished: Father, into Thy hands I commit My spirit." And having said this, He bowed His head and gave up His spirit. And behold, the veil of the temple was rent into two parts, from top to bottom. And the earth quaked, and the rocks were rent, and the tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised; and going forth out of the tombs after His resurrection, they entered into the holy city and appeared to many.

Now the centurion who stood near, opposite Him, and they that were with him keeping guard over Jesus, when they saw that He thus died, and the earthquake and the things that took place, feared exceedingly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God." And the centurion glorified God, saying, "Certainly this Man was righteous!" And all the multitude that came together to this sight, having seen the things that took place, returned beating their breasts. And all those who knew Him, and many women who followed Him from Galilee, ministering to Him, were there seeing these things from afar: among whom were Mary the Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the younger and Joses, and Salome the mother of the sons of Zebedee, who, when He was in Galilee, followed Him and ministered to Him; and many other women who came up with Him to Jerusalem.

JESUS TAKEN FROM THE CROSS AND BURIED AND A GUARD SET OVER THE TOMB (Mat. 27:57-66; Mk. 15:42-47; Lu. 23:50-56; Jno. 19:31-42):—The Jews, therefore, since it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the Sabbath, that the bodies might not remain upon the cross on the Sabbath (for the day of that Sabbath was a great day), asked Pilate that their legs might be broken and they be taken away. The soldiers therefore came and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with Him; but when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs. But one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear, and immediately there came out blood and water. And he who saw it hath testified, and his testimony is true, and he knoweth that what he saith is true, that ye may believe. For these things came to pass that the scripture might be fulfilled: "Not a bone of Him shall be broken." And again another scripture saith, "They shall look on Him whom they pierced."

JOSEPH OF ARIMATHEA AND NICODEMUS BURY JESUS (Mat. 27:57-61; Mk. 15:42-47; Lu. 23:50-56; Jno. 19:38-42):—Now when evening was come, Joseph of Arimathea, a city of the Jews,—a rich man, a good and just man, an honorable counsellor (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God, and was a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews,—boldly went in to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus, that he might take it away. But Pilate wondered if He were already dead; and calling to him the centurion, he asked him whether He were already dead. And having learned it from the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph and commanded it to be given up to him. He came, therefore, and took away His body. Then came also Nicodemus, he who formerly came to Jesus by night, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about one hundred pounds. And Joseph bought a clean linen cloth, and they took the body of Jesus and bound it in linen cloths with the aromatics, as is customary among the Jews to prepare for burial. Now in the place where He was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden, Joseph's own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock, in which no one was ever yet laid; there then, because it was the day of the Jews' Preparation and the sabbath began to dawn, and because the tomb was near, they laid Jesus; and rolled a great stone against the door of the tomb and departed. And the women, Mary the Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses, who had come with Him out of Galilee, followed after; and sitting opposite the sepulchre, they saw the tomb where He was laid, and how His body was placed. Then they returned and rested on the Sabbath, according to the commandment.

A GUARD SET OVER THE TOMB (Mat. 27:62-66):—Now on the following day, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered together to Pilate, saying, "Sir, we remember that the deceiver said, while He was yet alive, 'After three days I arise from the dead.' Command, therefore, that the sepulchre be made secure until the third day; lest His disciples come and steal Him away, and say to the people, 'He is risen from the dead'; and the last error will be worse than the first." Pilate said to them, "Ye have a guard; go, make it secure as ye know how." Then they went and made the sepulchre secure, by sealing the stone and with the guard.

THE MARYS VISIT THE SEPULCHRE, INTENDING TO ANOINT THE LORD'S BODY (Mat. 28:1; Mk. 16:1):—Now when the Sabbath was past, Mary the Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, brought aromatics, that they might come and anoint Him. And late after the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day after the Sabbath, Mary the Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the sepulchre.

THE RESURRECTION (Mat. 28:2-4):—And behold, there was a great earthquake: for an angel of the Lord, descending out of heaven, came and rolled away the stone and sat on it. Now his appearance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow; and from fear of him, the guards trembled violently and became as dead men.

MARY THE MAGDALENE COMES TO THE TOMB, AND FINDING IT EMPTY RUNS AND TELLS PETER AND JOHN, WHO RUN TO THE TOMB (Lu. 24:12; Jno. 20:1-10):—Now on the first day of the week, Mary the Magdalene cometh early while it is yet dark, to the tomb, and seeth the stone taken away from the tomb. She runneth, therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith to them, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid Him." Then Peter went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. And the two ran together, and the other disciple outran Peter and came first to the tomb. And stooping down, he seeth the linen cloths lying there, but he entered not in. Then cometh Simon Peter also, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he observeth the linen cloths lying there, and the napkin that was upon His head lying, not with the linen cloths, but folded up in a place by itself. Then entered, therefore, the other disciple also, who came first to the tomb; and he saw and believed: for they did not yet know the scripture, that He must rise from among the dead. Then the disciples went away again to their own home.

JESUS APPEARS FIRST TO MARY THE MAGDALENE, WHO FOLLOWING PETER AND JOHN RETURNED TO THE TOMB (Mk. 16:9-11; Jno. 20:11-18):—And Jesus, when He was risen, early on the first day of the week, appeared first to Mary the Magdalene, from whom He had cast out seven demons. Now Mary was standing outside the tomb weeping. So, as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say to her, "Woman, why weepest thou?" She saith to them, "Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him." When she had said this, she turned back, and beholdeth Jesus standing by, and knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith to her, "Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?" She, thinking that He is the gardener, saith to Him, "Sir, if thou didst bear Him hence, tell me where thou didst lay Him, and I will take Him away." Jesus saith to her, "Mary!" Turning around, she saith to Him in Hebrew, "Rabboni!" which is to say, Teacher! Jesus saith to her, "Cling not to Me; for I have not yet ascended to My Father. But go to My brethren, and say to them, I ascend to My Father and your Father, and My God and your God." Mary the Magdalene went and told those who had been with Him, as they were moaning and weeping, "I have seen the Lord"; and that He said these things to her. But they, when they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, would not believe.

THE OTHER WOMEN VISIT THE TOMB, SEE ANGELS AND MEET JESUS (Mat. 28:5-10; Mk. 16:2-8; Lu. 24:1-11):—Now very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb, when the sun was risen, bearing the aromatics which they had prepared. And they were saying among themselves, "Who will roll away the stone for us from the door of the tomb?" (For it was very great.) And looking up, they see that the stone has been rolled back from the tomb. And entering into the tomb, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus; they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a white robe: and they were astonished. But the angel answered and said to the women, "Be not astonished; fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus the Nazarene, who was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said.

Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly and tell His disciples and Peter, He is risen from the dead; and behold, He goeth before you into Galilee: there ye shall see Him, as He said unto you. Behold, I have told you."

And it came to pass, as they were perplexed about this, behold, two men stood by them in dazzling raiment. Then as they were filled with fear and bowed their faces to the earth, the men said to them, "Why do ye seek the Living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen. Remember how He spake to you, while He was yet in Galilee, saying, 'The Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and arise on the third day.'". And they remembered His words. And they went out quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to tell His disciples; for trembling and astonishment seized them, and they said nothing to any one, for they were afraid.

And behold, Jesus met them, saying, "Hail to you!" Then they came and laid hold of His feet and worshipped Him. Then Jesus saith to them, "Fear not: go tell My brethren to depart into Galilee, and there they shall see Me." And returning from the tomb, they related all these things to the eleven and to all the rest. Now they were Mary the Magdalene and Joanna and Mary the mother of James and the other women with them, that told these things to the apostles. But these words appeared to them as idle talk, and they did not believe them.

THE GUARD REPORTS TO THE JEWS (Mat. 28:11-15):—Now as the women were going on their way, behold, some of the guard, having come into the city, reported to the chief priests all things that had taken place. And when they had come together with the elders and had taken counsel, they gave much money to the soldiers, saying, "Say ye, 'His disciples came by night and took Him away secretly while we slept.' And if this should be heard by the governor, we will persuade him and make you secure." Then they took the money and did as they were taught. And this report spread abroad among the Jews, even to the present day.

JESUS APPEARS TO TWO OF HIS DISCIPLES ON THEIR WAY TO EMMAUS (Mk. 16:12, 13; Lu. 24:13-35; I Co. 15:5):—Then, after these things, Jesus was manifested in another form to two of His disciples, as they walked, on their way into the country. Now behold, two of them were going on that very day to a village named Emmaus, distant sixty furlongs from Jerusalem. And they were conversing with each other about all these things that had taken place. And it came to pass as they were conversing and reasoning together, that Jesus Himself drew near and went with them. But their eyes were holden, that they should not recognize Him. And He said to them, "What matters are these that ye are discussing with one another as ye walk?" And they stood still, looking sad. Then one of them named Cleopas, answering, said to Him, "Dost Thou sojourn alone in Jerusalem, and dost not know the things which have come to pass there in these days?" And He said to them, "What things?" And they said to Him, "The things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, Who was a Prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; and how the chief priests and all our rulers delivered Him up to condemnation to death, and crucified Him. But we were hoping that it was He Who was about to redeem Israel. Yea indeed, besides all these things, it is now the third day since these things came to pass. Yea also certain women of our company astonished us. Having gone early to the tomb, and not finding His body, they came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that He is alive. And some of those with us went to the tomb and found it even so as the women said; but they did not see Him." And He said to them, "O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets spake! Was it not necessary for the Christ to suffer these things and to enter into His glory?" And beginning with Moses and with all the prophets, He explained to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself. And they drew near to the village whither they were going; and He made as if He were going further. And they constrained Him, saying, "Abide with us; for it is towards the evening, and the day has already declined." And He went in to abide with them. And it came to pass, as He reclined at table with them, He took the bread and blessed it and broke it, and gave to them. Then their eyes were opened and they knew Him; and He disappeared from them. And they said one to another, "Was not our heart burning in us as He was speaking to us in the way, as He was opening the Scriptures to us?" And rising up in that very hour, they returned to Jerusalem. And they found the eleven and those with them assembled, saying, "The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon." And they told them the things that took place in the way, and how He was known to them in the breaking of the bread: but they did not believe them.

JESUS APPEARS TO TEN OF THE APOSTLES, THOMAS BEING ABSENT (Lu. 24:36-43; Jno. 20:19-25):—Now as they were telling these things, it being now evening on that day, the first day of the week, and the doors being shut where the disciples were, through fear of the Jews, Jesus Himself came and stood in their midst, and saith to them, "Peace be to you." But being in consternation and filled with fear, they thought they saw a spirit. And He said to them, "Why are ye troubled? And wherefore do doubts arise in your hearts? See My hands and My feet, that it is I Myself. Handle Me and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see that I have." And when He had said this, He showed them His hands and His side and His feet. Now while they still could not believe for joy and were wondering, He said to them, "Have ye anything here to eat?" And they gave Him a piece of broiled fish; and He took it and ate before them. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord. Then Jesus said to them again, "Peace be to you. Even as the Father hath sent Me, I also send you." And having said this, He breathed upon them, and said to them, "Receive ye the Holy Spirit. Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted to them; whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained."

But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said to him, "We have seen the Lord." But he said to them, "Unless I see in His hands the print of the nails and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into His side, I will not believe."

A WEEK LATER JESUS APPEARS TO THE ELEVEN, THOMAS BEING PRESENT (Mk. 16:14; Jno. 20:26-29):—Now after eight days, again His disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst as they reclined at table, and said, "Peace be to you." Then He saith to Thomas, "Reach hither thy finger, and see My hands; and reach out thy hand and put it into My side: and be not faithless, but believing." Thomas answered and said to Him, "My Lord and my God!" Jesus saith to him, "Because thou hast seen Me, thou hast believed; blessed are they who have not seen, yet have believed." Then He reproved their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not those who saw Him after He was risen.

JESUS APPEARS TO SEVEN DISCIPLES AT THE SEA OF TIBERIAS (Jno. 21:1-24):—After these things, Jesus manifested Himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and He appeared in this way. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael from Cana of Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of His disciples. Simon Peter saith to them, "I am going a fishing." They say to him, "We also go with thee." They went forth and entered into the boat; and during the night, they caught nothing. But when morning was now beginning to dawn, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disciples did not know that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith to them, "Children, have ye anything to eat?" They answered Him, "No." Then He said to them, "Cast the net to the right side of the boat, and ye shall find." They cast it, therefore, and they were no longer able to draw it, on account of the multitude of fishes. That disciple whom Jesus loved saith therefore to Peter, "It is the Lord." Then Simon Peter, hearing that it is the Lord, girded on his outer garment, for he was naked, and cast himself into the sea. But the other disciples came in the small boat (for they were not far from the land, but off about two hundred cubits), dragging the net of fishes. So when they got out on the land, they see a fire of charcoal there, and a fish lying thereon, and bread. Jesus saith to them, "Bring of the fishes which ye caught just now." Simon Peter therefore went aboard and drew the net to land, full of large fishes, a hundred and fifty-three; and though there were so many, the net was not rent. Jesus saith to them, "Come, take breakfast." Now none of the disciples had courage to ask Him, "Who art Thou?" knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh and taketh the bread and giveth to them, and the fish likewise. This was now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples after He was risen from among the dead.

When, therefore, they had breakfasted, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of John, lovest thou Me more than these?" He saith to Him, "Yea, Lord; Thou knowest that I love Thee." He saith to him, "Feed My lambs." He saith to him again a second time, "Simon, son of John, lovest thou Me?" He saith to Him, "Yea, Lord; Thou knowest that I love Thee." He saith to him, "Shepherd My sheep." He saith to him the third time, "Simon, son of John, lovest thou Me?" Peter was grieved because He said to him the third time, "Lovest thou Me?" and said to Him, "Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee." Jesus saith to him, "Feed My sheep. Verily, verily, I say to thee, When thou wast younger, thou didst gird thyself and walk whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands and another shall gird thee, and conduct thee whither thou wouldest not." Now this He said, signifying by what sort of death he should glorify God. And when He had spoken this, He saith to him, "Follow Me." Peter, turning around, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; who also at the supper reclined on His breast, and said, "Lord, who is it that betrayeth Thee?" Peter, therefore, seeing him, saith to Jesus, "Lord, but this man, what shall befall him?" Jesus saith to him, "If I will that he remain till I come, what is it to thee? Follow thou Me." This report went out therefore among the brethren, that that disciple should not die. But Jesus did not say to him that he should not die; but, "If I will that he remain till I come, what is it to thee?" This is the disciple who testifieth concerning these things and who wrote these things; and we know that his testimony is true.

JESUS GIVES THE GREAT COMMISSION (Mat. 28:16-20; Mk. 16:15-18):—Now the eleven disciples went to the mountain in Galilee, where Jesus appointed them. (There He appeared to more than five hundred brethren at once [I Co. 15:6]). And when they saw Him, they worshipped Him: but some doubted. And Jesus came to them and spake to them, saying, "All authority in heaven and on earth hath been given to Me. Go ye, therefore, into all the world and preach the gospel to every human creature, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be condemned. And these signs shall accompany those who have believed: in My name they shall cast out demons; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them: they shall lay hands upon the sick, and they shall recover. And behold, I am with you all the days, even to the end of the age."

OTHER APPEARANCES AND COMMANDS OF OUR SAVIOR (Lu. 24:44-49; Acts 1:2, 3; I Co. 15:7; Jno. 20:30, 31; 21:25):—After this Jesus appeared to James; then to all the apostles, to whom He also exhibited Himself alive, after He had suffered, by many proofs, appearing to them through forty days, and speaking the things concerning the kingdom of God, until the day in which He was received up, after He had given commandment through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom He had chosen. Now He said to them, "These are My words which I spake to you, being yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled that are written in the law of Moses and the prophets and psalms concerning Me." Then He opened their mind that they might understand the Scriptures. And He said to them, "Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and rise from among the dead on the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. Ye are witnesses of these things. And behold, I send the promise of My Father upon you. But continue in the city, till ye be clothed with power from on high." Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; which, if they should be written one by one, I suppose that not even the world itself would contain the books that would be written. But these have been written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing, ye may have life in His name.

THE ASCENSION OF OUR SAVIOR (Mk. 16:19; Lu. 24:50-52; Acts 1:4-12):—Now Jesus, being assembled with the disciples, commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, "Which," He said, "ye heard from Me: for John indeed baptized in water, but ye shall be baptized in the Holy Spirit not many days hence." When therefore they had come together, they asked Him, saying, "Lord, dost Thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?" He said to them, "It is not for you to know the times or seasons which the Father hath reserved in His own authority. But ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit shall come upon you; and ye shall be My witnesses, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and Samaria, and to the extreme limit of the earth." So then the Lord Jesus, after He had spoken these things to them, led them forth till they were opposite Bethany; and He lifted up His hands and blessed them. And it came to pass, as He was blessing them and they were looking at Him, He was parted from them and taken up, and a cloud bore Him up from their sight: and He was carried up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. And while they were gazing intently into the heaven as He was going away, behold, two men stood by them in white raiment; who also said, "Ye men of Galilee, why do ye stand looking into heaven? This Jesus, Who was taken up from you into heaven, shall so return in the manner that ye saw Him going into heaven." Then they worshipped Him and returned to Jerusalem with great joy, from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath's journey away.

THE NEW CHURCH

THE FIRST CHURCH PRAYER MEETING AND CONFERENCE—MATTHIAS ELECTED AN APOSTLE (Acts 1:13-26):—And when they had returned, they went up into the upper chamber, where were abiding both Peter and John, and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphæus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the brother of James. These all were continuing steadfastly with one accord in prayer, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers.

Now in these days, Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren (and there was a crowd of persons come together, about a hundred and twenty) and said, "Brethren, it was necessary that the scripture should be fulfilled which the Holy Spirit spake before through the mouth of David concerning Judas, who became guide to them that took Jesus; because he was numbered with us and obtained a share in this ministry. For it is written in the book of the Psalms,

'Let his habitation become desolate
And let no one dwell therein:'

and

'His office let another take.'

It is necessary, therefore, that of the men associated with us during all the time in which the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, beginning from the baptism of John unto the day in which He was taken up from us, one of these should become a witness together with us of His resurrection." And they made choice of two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. Then they prayed, and said, "Thou, Lord, Who knowest the hearts of all men, show of these two the one whom Thou hast chosen to take the part in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place." And they cast lots for them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

THE FIRST CHURCH REVIVAL—THE DAY OF PENTECOST (Acts 2:1-41):—Now when the day of Pentecost had fully come, they were all together in the same place. And suddenly there came out of the heaven a sound as of a rushing wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. And there appeared to them tongues as of fire, distributing themselves, and sat one upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

Now there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. And when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were perplexed, because each one heard them speaking in his own language. And they were astonished and wondered, saying, "Behold, are not all these who speak Galileans? Then how is it we hear, each one in our own language wherein we were born? Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, Judæa and also Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, both Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabians, we hear them speaking in our own tongues the wonderful things of God." Now they were all astonished and perplexed, saying one to another, "What meaneth this?" But others mocking said, "They are full of sweet wine."

Then Peter standing up with the eleven raised his voice and spake to them, "Ye men of Judæa and all ye that dwell in Jerusalem, be this known to you and give heed to my words; for these are not drunken, as ye suppose, since it is only the third hour of the day. But this is that which was spoken through the prophet Joel:

'It shall be in the last days, saith God,
I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh;
And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams;
And even upon My servants and on My handmaids
Will I pour out My Spirit in those days,
And they shall prophesy.
And I will perform wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath:
Blood and fire and vapor of smoke.
The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the day of the Lord come,
The great and memorable day;
And it shall be, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.'

Ye men of Israel, hear these words. Jesus the Nazarene, a man accredited to you from God by miracles and wonders and signs which God did through Him in your midst, even as ye yourselves know: this Man, being delivered up by the fixed counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye, by the hand of lawless men did crucify and put to death; Whom God raised up, having loosed the bands of death; because it was not possible that He should be held by it: for David saith concerning Him,

'I saw the Lord before me continually;
Because He is at my right hand,
That I should not be moved.
Therefore my heart was glad,
And my tongue brake forth into singing;
Moreover my flesh shall also rest in hope:
Because Thou wilt not leave My soul in Hades,
Nor permit Thy Holy One to see corruption.
Thou didst make known to Me paths of life;
Thou wilt fill Me with joy, in Thy presence.'

Brethren, I may say to you freely concerning the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is amongst us to this day. Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn to him with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins, One should sit on his throne, he, foreseeing this, spake concerning the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was He left in Hades, nor did His flesh see corruption. This Jesus God raised up, of which we all are witnesses. Being exalted, therefore, to the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, He hath poured forth this which ye see and hear. For David ascended not into the heavens; but he himself saith,

'The Lord said to my Lord,
Sit Thou at My right hand,
Until I make thine enemies a footstool for thy feet.'

Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made Him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus Whom ye crucified."

Now when they heard this, they were pierced in their heart, and said to Peter and the other apostles, "Brethren, what shall we do?" Then Peter said to them, "Repent, and be baptized, each one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, unto remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. For the promise is to you, and to your children, and to all those afar off, as many as the Lord our God shall call to Himself." And with many other words he testified and exhorted them, saying, "Save yourselves from this crooked generation." Then those who received his word were baptized; and there were added in that day about three thousand souls.

THE CHURCH PROSPERS AND WORLD-WIDE MISSION WORK BEGINS (Mk. 16:20; Lu. 24:53; Acts 2:42-47):—Now the disciples continued steadfastly in the teaching of the apostles, and in the fellowship, in the breaking of the bread, and in the prayers. Then fear came to every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the apostles. And all that believed were together and had all things in common. And their goods and possessions they sold, and distributed them to all, according as any one had need. And day by day they continued steadfastly with one accord in the temple, blessing God; and breaking bread at home, they partook of food with gladness and sincerity of heart, praising God and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to them day by day those who were being saved. And the disciples went forth and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word through the signs that followed. Amen.

TEACHINGS OF JESUS IN SUBJECTS

All the Recorded Words of the Teacher of Teachers, the Divine Philosopher

BY

COLONEL CHARLES W. LARNED, U. S. A.

REVISED AND ENLARGED

BY THE LATE

FREDERICK D. HUNTINGTON

APOLOGIA

THIS work is the outcome of my own search for spirit and life,—a labor so fruitful in peace, so decisive in result, that I have been led to hope it might have a use beyond my personal needs.

I desired to approach spiritual truth from its spiritual side,—to acquaint myself fully with Christ's doctrine in His own words apart from consideration of the narrative context, taking it directly from the lips of the Master, and meditating upon it in the quiet of my own soul. I could not find all His words thus separated, classified and arranged in subjects, in any printed form, although many volumes of excerpts had been published, and I was therefore compelled to write them out in form here given.

In nothing else have I seen realized so fully the sublime conciseness of this delivery of truth to man,—the holy grandeur of its reticence and completeness. The great silences are no less imposing and overwhelming than the terrible directness and simplicity of its rhetoric. In both, the soul of man stands naked before its Maker, abashed and conscience-smitten as in the first day of sin, but to receive, instead of a curse, the absolution; instead of rejection, reconciliation; instead of forfeiture, the promise.

The method in the analysis here presented has been a very simple one:—

First, I have thought best to retain every recorded word attributed to Christ as a direct utterance in the books of the New Testament.

Second, I have concluded to use the accepted version rather than the revised, for the simple reason that it is the familiar one.

Third, I have designated the topics after a careful study of each text many times gone over, assigning every text to as many topics as its construction would in my judgment fairly justify.

Fourth, I have studied under each topic the mutual relation of all the texts assigned to it, and endeavored to arrange them to form a coherent discourse upon that topic, retaining the references to locate their true position in the gospel narrative.

Fifth, I have endeavored to arrange the topics in a scheme of relation which shall bring kindred topics into proper association, and all into due subordination.

Above all, let it not be inferred that anything in the purpose of this work tends to discredit the pre-eminence of the Gospels in their integrity, or the glory of the Supreme epic of that life of sacrificial love. This is an attempt only to make clearer the way by which to approach that life through the words of Him who is the way, the truth, and the life.

Happy the man who in humility and purity of purpose brings his heart to the feet of the Master, and in doing the will of the Father learns of this doctrine, whether it be of God or of man.

TEACHINGS OF JESUS IN SUBJECTS

SPIRIT AND LIFE

THE GODHEAD.

I.

THE FATHER.

I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.—Mat. 22:32.

I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living.—Mk. 12:26, 27.

Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord.—Mk. 12:29.

The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.—Lu. 20:37, 38.

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—Jno. 4:24.

Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.—Mat. 19:17.

Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.—Mk. 10:18.

Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.—Lu. 18:19.

Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I.—Jno. 14:28.

All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.—Mat. 11:27.

All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.—Lu. 10:22.

Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.—Jno. 6:46.

My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.—Jno. 10:29.

And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.—Jno. 5:37.

My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.—Jno. 5:17.

But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do.—Jno. 14:31.

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.—Jno. 15:8.

And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.—Mat. 23:9.

The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.—Lu. 18:27.

With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.—Mat. 19:26.

With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.—Mk. 10:27.

II.

THE SON.

HIS DIVINITY.

I and my Father are one.—Jno. 10:30.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.—Jno. 8:58.

If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me.—Jno. 8:42.

And he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.—Jno. 12:45.

If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.—Jno. 14:7.

Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?—Jno. 14:9.

I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.—Jno. 16:28.

Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.—Jno. 17:1, 2.

And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.—Jno. 17:3.

And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.—Jno. 17:5.

For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.—Jno. 17:8.

And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.—Jno. 17:10, 11.

That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.—Jno. 17: 21-24.

Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

But I know him; for I am from him, and he hath sent me.—Jno. 7:28, 29.

I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.—Jno. 14:6.

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.—Jno. 14:10.

He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.—Jno. 12:44.

Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.—Jno. 14:11.

If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works; that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.—Jno. 10:37, 38.

All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.—Mat. 11:27.

All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.—Lu. 10:22.

Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.—Jno. 6:46.

Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.—Jno. 8:19.

Dost thou believe on the Son of God?—Jno. 9:35.

I that speak unto thee am he.—Jno. 4:26.

Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.—Jno. 9:37.

Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.—Jno. 8:25.

All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.—Jno. 16:15.

For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.—Jno. 5:21.

For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.—Jno. 5:26, 27.

For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.—Jno. 5:22, 23.

All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.—Mat. 28:18.

For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works.—Mat. 16:27.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.—Jno. 1:51.

Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.—Lu. 22:69.

Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mat. 26:64.

I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mk. 14:62.

At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.—Jno. 14:20.

Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.—Mat. 10:32, 33.

He that hateth me hateth my Father also.—Jno. 15:23.

This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.—Jno. 6:29.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.—Jno. 14:1.

For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.—Jno. 16:27.

And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.—Mat. 11:6.

And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.—Lu. 7:23.

I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.—Jno. 5:30.

And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.—Jno. 8:16.

And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.—Jno. 8:29.

And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.—Jno. 8:50.

Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.—Jno. 13:31, 32.

If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.—Jno. 5:31, 32.

If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.—Jno. 7:17, 18.

If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:

Yet ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.—Jno. 8:54, 55.

I receive not honour from men.—Jno. 5:41.

But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.—Jno. 5:34.

But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.—Jno. 5:36, 37.

Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.—Jno. 5:39.

Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.—Jno. 8:56.

Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.—Jno. 8:14.

It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.—Jno. 8:17, 18.

I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.—Jno. 10:25.

Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see:

The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them.—Mat. 11:4, 5.

Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.—Lu. 7:22.

Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world.—Jno. 8:23.

And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.—Jno. 3:13.

What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?—Jno. 6:62.

I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.—Jno. 6:35.

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.—Jno. 6:51.

I am that bread of life.—Jno. 6:48.

I have meat to eat that ye know not of.—Jno. 4:32.

Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?—Jno. 10:34.

If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken;

Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?—Jno. 10:35, 36.

My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.—Jno. 5:17.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.—Jno. 5:19.

For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.—Jno. 5:20.

What think ye of Christ? whose son is he?

How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?—Mat. 22:42-45.

How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David?

For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son?—Mk. 12:35-37.

How say they that Christ is David's son?

And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?—Lu. 20:41-44.

Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am?—Mat. 16:13.

Whom do men say that I am?—Mk. 8:27.

Whom say the people that I am?—Lu. 9:18.

But whom say ye that I am?—Mat. 16:15.

But whom say ye that I am?—Mk. 8:29.

But whom say ye that I am?—Lu. 9:20.

Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.—Mat. 16:17.

Did ye never read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?—Mat. 21:42.

And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.—Mat. 21:44.

And have ye not read this Scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?—Mk. 12:10, 11.

What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.—Lu. 20:17, 18.

But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple.—Mat. 12:6.

I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.—Lu. 19:40.

But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.—Lu. 11:20.

Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.—Mk. 2:28.

That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.—Lu. 6:5.

If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.—Jno. 4:10.

The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.—Mat. 12:41, 42.

The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

The men of Nineveh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.—Lu. 11:31, 32.

For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.—Mat. 9:5, 6.

Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins,

I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.—Mk. 2:9-11.

Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.—Lu. 5:23, 24.

Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.—Mat. 23:10.

This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.—Jno. 12:30.

Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.—Jno. 18:37.

My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.—Jno. 18:36.

Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?—Mat. 26:53.

Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.—Jno. 19:11.

Thou sayest.—Mat. 27:11.

Thou sayest it.—Mk. 15:2.

Thou sayest it.—Lu. 23:3.

Ye say that I am.—Lu. 22:70.

For him hath God the Father sealed.—Jno. 6:27.

HIS HUMANITY.

Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness.—Mat. 3:15.

The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.—Mat. 8:20.

Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.—Lu. 9:58.

Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.—Mat. 26:10.

Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.—Mk. 14:6.

Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.—Jno. 12:7.

For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always.—Mat. 26:11.

For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.—Mk. 14:7.

For the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.—Jno. 12:8.

For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.—Mat. 26:12.

She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.—Mk. 14:8.

Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.—Mat. 26:13.

Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.—Mk. 14:9.

The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.—Mat. 11:19.

The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!—Lu. 7:34.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.—Mat. 26:38.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.—Mk. 14:34.

Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.—Lu. 22:28.

Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.—Mat. 26:45.

Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.—Mk. 14:41.

O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.—Mat. 26:39.

O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.—Mat. 26:42.

Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.—Mk. 14:36.

Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done.—Lu. 22:42.

Woman, behold thy son!—Jno. 19:26.

I thirst.—Jno. 19:28.

Eli, Eli, lama Sabachthani? My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?—Mat. 27:46.

Eloi, Eloi, lama Sabachthani? My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?—Mk. 15:34.

Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.—Lu. 24:39.

Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.—Jno. 20:27.

Have ye here any meat?—Lu. 24:41.

Children, have ye any meat?—Jno. 21:5.

Come and dine.—Jno. 21:12.

Give me to drink.—Jno. 4:7.

HIS MISSION.

He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.—Mat. 11:15.

If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.—Mk. 7:16.

For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.—Mk. 4:22.

For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.—Lu. 8:17.

For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.—Lu. 12:2.

Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.—Lu. 12:3.

Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?—Mk. 4:21.

No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.—Lu. 8:16.

No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.—Lu. 11:33.

I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.—Jno. 8:12.

I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.—Jno. 12:46.

As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.—Jno. 9:5.

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.—Jno. 3:19-21.

To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.—Jno. 18:37.

And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.—Jno. 12:47.

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.—Jno. 3:17.

Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man.

And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.—Jno. 8:15, 16.

He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.—Jno. 12:48-50.

I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.—Jno. 5:30.

For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.—Jno. 6:38-40.

For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.—Jno. 9:39.

Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.—Jno. 11:9, 10.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.—Jno. 10:1-5.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.—Jno. 10:7.

I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.—Jno. 10:9.

The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.—Jno. 10:10.

I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.—Jno. 10:11.

But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.—Jno. 10:12.

The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine.

As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.

And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.—Jno. 10:9-18.

My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me.

And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.—Jno. 10:27-29.

Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.—Mat. 5:17.

For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them.—Lu. 9:56.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.—Jno. 5:25.

Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.—Jno. 5:28, 29.

They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.—Mat. 9:12, 13.

They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.—Mk. 2:17.

They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.—Lu. 5:31, 32.

For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.—Mat. 18:11.

For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.—Lu. 19:10.

How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.—Mat. 18:12, 13.

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.—Mat. 10:34-36.

Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division:

For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. Lu. 12:51-53.

I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled?—Lu. 12:49.

The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.—Jno. 7:7.

How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? —Lu. 2:49.

I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.—Jno. 9:4.

But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!—Lu. 12:50.

Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. —Jno. 12:27.

My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.—Jno. 4:34.

My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.—Jno. 7:16.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.—Jno. 13:20.

It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.—Mat. 4:4.

It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.—Lu. 4:4.

This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.—Jno. 6:50.

This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.—Jno. 6:58.

For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.—Jno. 6:55, 56.

Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.—Jno. 4:13, 14.

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.—Lu. 4:18, 19.

This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears.—Lu. 4:21.

Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.

But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land;

But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.—Lu. 4:23-27.

I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.—Jno. 8:26.

It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.—Mat. 15:26.

Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.—Mk. 7:27.

Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.—Mk. 1:38.

I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent. —Lu. 4:43.

Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.—Jno. 9:3.

This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.—Jno. 11:4.

Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.—Lu. 13:32, 33.

For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.—Lu. 11:30.

Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?—Lu. 12:14.

Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:

And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?—Mat. 21:33-40.

A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

Having yet therefore one son, his well beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.—Mk. 12:1-9.

A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others.—Lu. 20:9-16.

HIS MINISTRY.

Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.—Jno. 2:4.

For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Mk. 10:45.

Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Mat. 20:28.

Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light.—Jno. 12:35, 36.

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.—Jno. 3:11.

The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few;

Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.—Mat. 9:37, 38.

The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.—Lu. 10:2.

Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.

And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.—Jno. 4:35-38.

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.—Mat. 12:25.

And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.—Mk. 3:24, 25.

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.—Lu. 11:17.

And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?—Mat. 12:26.

How can Satan cast out Satan?—Mk. 3:23.

And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.—Mk. 3:26.

If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.—Lu. 11:18.

And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.—Mat. 12:27.

And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.—Lu. 11:19.

But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.—Mat. 12:28.

But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.—Lu. 11:20.

Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.—Mat. 12:29.

No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.—Mk. 3:27.

When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:

But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.—Lu. 11:21, 22.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.—Mat. 12:30.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.—Lu. 11:23.

Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.—Mat. 9:15.

Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.—Mk. 2:19.

Can ye make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?—Lu. 5:34.

MEDIATOR, CONSOLER, INTERCESSOR, REDEEMER.

I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.—Jno. 14:6.

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.—Jno. 15:1, 2.

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing.

If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.—Jno. 15:4-6.

As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.—Jno. 15:9-11.

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.—Jno. 15:15, 16.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.—Jno. 10:7.

I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.—Jno. 10:9.

Weep not.—Lu. 8:52.

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.—Mat. 11:28-30.

All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—Jno. 6:37.

If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.—Jno. 7:37.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.—Jno. 14:1.

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.—Jno. 14:27.

In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.—Jno. 14:2.

And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it.—Jno. 14:13, 14.

And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever.—Jno. 14:16.

And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.—Jno. 16:23, 24.

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.—Lu. 4:18, 19.

This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears.—Lu. 4:21.

And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.—Jno. 12:32.

These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.—Jno. 16:1.

But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.—Jno. 16:4.

These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.—Jno. 16:33.

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?—Jno. 11:25, 26.

If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.—Jno. 15:18, 19.

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.—Mat. 10: 29-31.

III.

THE HOLY GHOST.

And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.—Jno. 14:16, 17.

But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.—Jno. 14:26.

But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.—Jno. 15:26.

Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.—Jno. 16:7.

And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

Of sin, because they believe not on me;

Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.—Jno. 16:8-11.

Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself: but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.—Jno. 16:13, 14.

But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.—Acts 1:8.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.—Mat. 28:19.

And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say.—Lu. 12:11.

But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.—Mat. 10:19.

For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.—Lu. 12:12.

For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.—Mat. 10:20.

It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.—Jno. 6:63.

Receive ye the Holy Ghost.—Jno. 20:22.

Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme:

But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation.—Mk. 3:28, 29.

Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.—Mat. 12:31, 32.

And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven.—Lu. 12:10.

The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.—Jno. 3:8.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD AND OF HEAVEN.

The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you.—Lu. 17:20, 21.

The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.—Mk. 1:15.

Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.—Mat. 4:17.

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.—Mat. 10:7.

For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.—Mat. 11:13.

And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.—Mat. 11:12.

And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.—Lu. 13:29.

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.—Mat. 8:11.

Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.—Mat. 16:28.

Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.—Mk. 9:1.

But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.—Lu. 9:27.

But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.—Lu. 11:20.

So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.—Lu. 21:31.

Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.—Lu. 10:11.

But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Lu. 12:31.

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Mat. 6:33.

For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.—Mat. 5:20.

Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.—Mk. 4:30-32.

The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.—Mat. 13:31, 32.

Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.—Lu. 13:18, 19.

The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.—Mat. 13:24-30.

He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;

The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.—Mat. 13:37-43.

So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;

And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.—Mk. 4:26-29.

Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.—Lu. 13:20, 21.

The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.—Mat. 13:33.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchantman, seeking goodly pearls:

Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:

Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.—Mat. 13:44-50.

Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.—Mat. 13:52.

For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.

His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beside them.

His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strewed:

And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewed:

Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.—Mat. 25:14-30.

A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

(And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.—Lu. 19:12-27.

Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.—Mat. 13:3-8.

Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.—Mat. 13:11.

Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it;

Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.—Mat. 13:18-23.

Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred.—Mk. 4:3-8.

And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?—Mk. 4:13.

Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

The sower soweth the word.—Mk. 4:11, 14.

And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time; afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,

And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred.—Mk. 4:15-20.

A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundredfold. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.—Lu. 8:5:15.

The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

For many are called, but few are chosen. —Mat. 22:2-14.

And, behold, there are last which shall be first; and there are first which shall be last.—Lu. 13:30.

Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.—Mat. 11:11.

But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.—Mat. 26:29.

Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.—Mk. 14:25.

For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.—Lu. 22:18.

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.—Mat. 7:21.

THE KINGDOM ON EARTH.

I.

THE CHURCH.

Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

Behold my mother and my brethren!—Mat. 12:48, 49.

My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.—Lu. 8:21.

For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.—Mat. 12:50.

Who is my mother, or my brethren?

Behold my mother and my brethren!

For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.—Mk. 3:33-35.

But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. —Jno. 4:23, 24.

By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another. —Jno. 13:35.

Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.—Lu. 12:32.

Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.—Mat. 5:13, 14.

Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.—Mat. 18:18.

Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.—Jno. 20:23.

Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.—Mat. 18:19, 20.

Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. —Mat. 5:15.

And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.—Mat. 16:18, 19.

And have ye not read this Scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner.—Mk. 12:10.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. —Lu. 11:23.

Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.—Jno. 17:20, 21.

And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.—Mat. 24:22.

And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.—Mat. 24:31.

And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.—Mk. 13:20.

And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.—Mk. 13:27.

And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.—Mat. 18:17.

THE HOUSE.

It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.—Mat. 21:13.

Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves.—Mk. 11:17.

Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.—Jno. 2:16.

It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.—Lu. 19:46.

Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!

Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty.

Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.—Mat. 23:16-21.

II.

THE LAW, THE SCRIPTURES, AND THE PROPHETS.

The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.—Lu. 16:16.

For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.—Mat. 11:13.

Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.—Mat. 5:17, 18.

And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.—Lu. 16:17.

For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.—Lu. 22:37.

But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?—Mat. 26:54.

The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.—Mk. 14:21.

And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!—Lu. 22:22.

But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.—Jno. 15:25.

Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day.—Lu. 24:46.

O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken.—Lu. 24:25.

Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken;

Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?—Jno. 10:34-36.

It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

I am one that bear witness of myself; and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.—Jno. 8:17, 18.

Did ye never read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?—Mat. 21:42.

And have ye not read this Scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner?—Mk. 12:10.

What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?—Lu. 20:17.

This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?—Mk. 12:11.

Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.—Jno. 5:39.

Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?—Jno. 5:45-47.

These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.—Lu. 24:44.

Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?—Jno. 7:19.

I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the Scriptures must be fulfilled.—Mk. 14:49.

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.—Lu. 18:31.

Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?—Lu. 24:26.

What is written in the law? how readest thou?—Lu. 10:26.

Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.—Lu. 10:28.

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets. —Mat. 7:12.

See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Mat. 8:4.

See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Mk. 1:44.

But go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Lu. 5:14.

Go shew yourselves unto the priests.—Lu. 17:14.

Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.—Lu. 16:29-31.

For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.—Lu. 21:22.

While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the Scripture might be fulfilled.—Jno. 17:12.

III.

THE OLD AND NEW DISPENSATIONS.

Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.—Mat. 5:17.

The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.—Lu. 16:16.

Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.—Jno. 6:49.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.—Jno. 6:32, 33.

This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.—Jno. 6:58.

But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.—Jno. 4:23.

Drink ye all of it;

For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.—Mat. 26:27, 28.

This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.—Mk. 14:24.

This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.—Lu. 22:20.

This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.—I Co. 11:25.

All things are delivered unto me of my Father.—Mat. 11:27.

All things are delivered to me of my Father.—Lu. 10:22.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.—Jno. 5:25.

THE FORERUNNER
(John the Baptist).

Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.—Mat. 17:11.

And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come.—Mat. 11:14.

But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him. —Mk. 9:13.

Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.—Jno. 5:33.

He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.—Jno. 5:35.

What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.

For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.—Mat. 11: 7-11.

What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts.

But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

This is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.—Lu. 7:24-28.

The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men?—Mat. 21:25.

The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.—Mk. 11:30.

The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?—Lu. 20:4.

For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.—Mat. 11:18.

For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.—Lu. 7:33.

LIFE.

MINISTRY AND PASSION.

I.

THE DISCIPLES.

Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.—Lu. 22:28.

Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.—Lu. 22:29, 30.

Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.—Mat. 18:18.

Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.—Jno. 20:23.

And ye are witnesses of these things.—Lu. 24:48.

And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.—Jno. 15:27.

Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.—Mat. 13:11.

Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.—Mk. 4:11, 12.

Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.—Lu. 8:10.

This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.—Jno. 12:30.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.—Mat. 13:16, 17.

For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.—Jno. 16:27.

Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see:

For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.—Lu. 10:23, 24.

Have ye understood all these things?—Mat. 13:51.

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

These things I command you, that ye love one another.

If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.—Jno. 15:16-19.

O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?—Mat. 16:8.

Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?

Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?—Mk. 8:17, 18.

How is it that ye do not understand?—Mk. 8:21.

Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?—Mat. 16:9, 10.

When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up?

And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up?—Mk. 8:19, 20.

How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees?—Mat. 16:11.

I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.—Jno. 16:12.

Doth this offend you?—Jno. 6:61.

Will ye also go away?—Jno. 6:67.

Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?—Jno. 6:70.

Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.—Mat. 21:2.

Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him.—Mk. 11:2.

Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.—Lu. 19:30.

And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.—Mat. 21:3.

And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.—Mk. 11:3.

And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.—Lu. 19:31.

These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.—Jno. 14:25.

Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.—Mat. 23:10.

When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing?

But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.—Lu. 22:35, 36.

Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.

But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.—Jno. 15:20, 21.

Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.—Mat. 24:9.

They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.—Jno. 16:2, 3.

But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.—Mk. 13:9.

And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.—Lu. 21:16, 17.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.—Mk. 13:13.

But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

In your patience possess ye your souls.—Lu. 21:18, 19.

But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.—Mk. 13:11.

Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.—Lu. 21:14, 15.

All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.—Mk. 14:27.

Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.—Jno. 16:32.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.—Mat. 26:38.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.—Mk. 14:34.

Sit ye here, while I shall pray.—Mk. 14:32.

What, could ye not watch with me one hour?—Mat. 26:40.

Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.—Mat. 26:45.

Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.—Mk. 14:41.

Let us pass over unto the other side.—Mk. 4:35.

Let us go over unto the other side of the lake.—Lu. 8:22.

Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while.—Mk. 6:31.

Let us go into Judea again.—Jno. 11:7.

Arise, and be not afraid.—Mat. 17:7.

Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

Receive ye the Holy Ghost.—Jno. 20:21, 22.

Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.—Lu. 24:49.

It is enough.—Lu. 22:38.

Arise, let us go hence.—Jno. 14:31.

PETER AND ANDREW.

Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.—Mat. 4:19.

Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.—Mk. 1:17.

MATTHEW.

Follow me.—Mat. 9:9.
Follow me.—Mk. 2:14.

PETER.

Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas.—Jno. 1:42.

Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.—Lu. 5:4.

Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men.—Lu. 5:10.

Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.—Mat. 16:17-19.

What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

Then are the children free.

Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.—Mat. 17:25-27.

Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.—Mat. 16:23.

Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.—Mk. 8:33.

Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:

But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.—Lu. 22:31, 32.

What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.

If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.—Jno. 13:7, 8.

He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all.—Jno. 13:10.

Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards.—Jno. 13:36.

Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.—Jno. 13:38.

Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.—Mat. 26:34.

Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.—Mk. 14:30.

I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.—Lu. 22:34.

Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?—Mk. 14:37.

Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?—Jno. 18:11.

Suffer ye thus far.—Lu. 22:51.

Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? Feed my lambs.

Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Feed my sheep.

Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Feed my sheep.

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

Follow me.—Jno. 21:15-19.

If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.—Jno. 21:22.

THOMAS.

Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.—Jno. 20:27.

Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.—Jno. 20:29.

PHILIP.

Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?—Jno. 14:9.

JUDAS ISCARIOT.

That thou doest, do quickly.—Jno. 13:27.

II.

MIRACLES.

FEEDING.

Marriage in Cana.

Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.—Jno. 2:4.

Fill the waterpots with water.

Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast.—Jno. 2:7, 8.

The Five Thousand.

Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?—Jno. 6:5.

They need not depart; give ye them to eat.—Mat. 14:16.

Give ye them to eat.—Mk. 6:37.

Give ye them to eat.—Lu. 9:13.

Bring them hither to me.—Mat. 14:18.

Make the men sit down.—Jno. 6:10.

Make them sit down by fifties in a company.—Lu. 9:14.

How many loaves have ye? go and see.—Mk. 6:38.

Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.—Jno. 6:12.

The Four Thousand.

I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.—Mat. 15:32.

I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.—Mk. 8:2, 3.

How many loaves have ye?—Mat. 15:34.

How many loaves have ye?—Mk. 8:5.

HEALING.

The Son of the Nobleman from Capernaum.

Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.—Jno. 4:48.

Go thy way; thy son liveth.—Jno. 4:50.

The Man with the Unclean Spirit.

Hold thy peace, and come out of him.—Mk. 1:25.

Hold thy peace, and come out of him.—Lu. 4:35.

The Leper.

I will; be thou clean.

See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Mat. 8:3, 4.

I will; be thou clean.—Mk. 1:41.

See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Mk. 1:44.

I will: be thou clean.

Tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.—Lu. 5:13, 14.

The Paralytic.

Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.—Mat. 9:2.

Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.—Mk. 2:5.

Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.—Lu. 5:20.

The Impotent Man.

Wilt thou be made whole?—Jno. 5:6.

Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.—Jno. 5:8.

Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.—Jno. 5:14.

The Withered Hand.

Stand forth.—Mk. 3:3.

Rise up, and stand forth in the midst.—Lu. 6:8.

Stretch forth thine hand.—Mat. 12:13.

Stretch forth thine hand.—Mk. 3:5.

Stretch forth thy hand.—Lu. 6:10.

The Centurion's Son.

I will come and heal him.—Mat. 8:7.

Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.—Mat. 8:10.

I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.—Lu. 7:9.

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee.—Mat. 8:11-13.

The Legion of Devils.

Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

What is thy name?—Mk. 5:8, 9.

What is thy name?—Lu. 8:30.

Go.—Mat. 8:32.

Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. Mk. 5:19.

Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee.—Lu. 8:39.

The Woman with the Issue.

Who touched my clothes?—Mk. 5:30.

Who touched me?

Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.—Lu. 8:45, 46.

Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole.—Mat. 9:22.

Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.—Mk. 5:34.

Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.—Lu. 8:48.

The Two Blind Men.

Believe ye that I am able to do this?

According to your faith be it unto you.

See that no man know it.—Mat. 9:28-30.

The Daughter of the Canaanite Woman.

It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.—Mat. 15:26.

O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.—Mat. 15:28.

Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.—Mk. 7:27.

For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.—Mk. 7:29.

The Deaf and Dumb Man of Decapolis.

Ephphatha, Be opened.—Mk. 7:34.

The Blind Man at Bethsaida.

Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.—Mk. 8:26.

The Lunatic Son.

O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.—Mat. 17:17.

O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.—Mk. 9:19.

O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.—Lu. 9:41.

How long is it ago since this came unto him?—Mk. 9:21.

If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.—Mk. 9:23.

Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.—Mk. 9:25.

The Man Blind from Birth.

Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.—Jno. 9:3-5.

Go, wash in the pool of Siloam.—Jno. 9:7.

The Woman Bowed Down with a Spirit of Infirmity.

Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.—Lu. 13:12.

The Ten Lepers of Samaria and Galilee.

Go shew yourselves unto the priests.—Lu. 17:14.

Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.—Lu. 17:17-19.

The Blind Men at Jericho.

What will ye that I shall do unto you?—Mat. 20:32.

What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?—Mk. 10:51.

What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?—Lu. 18:41.

Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole.—Mk. 10:52.

Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.—Lu. 18:42.

Servant of the High Priest.

Suffer ye thus far.—Lu. 22:51.

RAISING FROM THE DEAD.

Widow's Son at Nain.

Weep not.

Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.—Lu. 7:13, 14.

Daughter of Jairus.

Be not afraid, only believe.—Mk. 5:36.

Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole.—Lu. 8:50.

Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth.—Mat. 9:24.

Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.—Mk. 5:39.

Weep not; she is not dead, but sleepeth.—Lu. 8:52.

Talitha cumi; Damsel, (I say unto thee,) arise.—Mk. 5:41.

Maid, arise.—Lu. 8:54.

Lazarus.

Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.—Jno. 11:11.

Lazarus is dead.

And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.—Jno. 11:14, 15.

Thy brother shall rise again.—Jno. 11:23.

Where have ye laid him?—Jno. 11:34.

Take ye away the stone.

Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?—Jno. 11:39, 40.

Lazarus, come forth.—Jno. 11:43.

Loose him, and let him go.—Jno. 11:44.

CIRCUMSTANCE.

First Miraculous Draught of Fishes.

Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.—Lu. 5:4.

Stilling of the Tempest.

Peace, be still.—Mk. 4:39.

Walking on the Sea.

Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.—Mat. 14:27.

Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.—Mk. 6:50.

It is I; be not afraid.—Jno. 6:20.

Come.—Mat. 14:29.

O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?—Mat. 14:31.

Finding of the Tribute Money.

Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.—Mat. 17:27.

Cursing of the Fig Tree.

Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever.—Mat. 21:19.

No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever.—Mk. 11:14.

Second Miraculous Draught of Fishes.

Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find.—Jno. 21:6.

III.

SENDING OF THE DISCIPLES.

THE TWELVE APOSTLES.

Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not:

But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.

Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses;

Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat.—Mat. 10:5-10.

Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.—Lu. 9:3.

And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.—Mat. 10:11.

In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place.—Mk. 6:10.

And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.—Lu. 9:4.

And when ye come into a house, salute it.

And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.—Mat. 10:12-14.

And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.—Lu. 9:5.

Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.—Mat. 10:15.

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.—Mk. 6:11.

Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues;

And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.

The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household?

Fear them not therefore; for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops.

And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.

He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.

And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward.

And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.—Mat. 10:16-42.

THE SEVENTY.

Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city.—Lu. 10:3-12.

He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.—Lu. 10:16.

Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.—Lu. 10:19, 20.

IV.

SUFFERINGS AND TEMPTATIONS.

The Son of man must suffer many things.—Lu. 9:22.

But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.—Lu. 17:25.

Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.—Mk. 9:12.

But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.—Mat. 17:12.

Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer.—Lu. 24:46.

A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.—Mat. 13:57.

A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.—Mk. 6:4.

Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.—Lu. 4:24.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.—Mat. 26:38.

My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.—Mk. 14:34.

Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.—Lu. 22:28.

V.

CHRIST'S PRAYERS.

Father, glorify thy name.—Jno. 12:28.

Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.—Jno. 11:41, 42.

I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.—Mat. 11:25, 26.

I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.—Lu. 10:21.

Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.

And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.

I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou has given me are of thee.

For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.—Jno. 17:1-26.

Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. —Mat. 26:36.

O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.—Mat. 26:39.

O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.—Mat. 26:42.

Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.—Mk. 14:36.

Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done.—Lu. 22:42.

After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.—Mat. 6:9-13.

When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

Give us day by day our daily bread.

And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.—Lu. 11:2-4.

VI.

THE LAST SUPPER.

Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.—Lu. 22:8.

Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? —Mk. 14:13, 14.

Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in.

And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?—Lu. 22:10, 11.

Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.—Mat. 26:18.

And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.—Mk. 14:15.

And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.—Lu. 22:12.

With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:

For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.—Lu. 22:15, 16.

Take, eat; this is my body.—Mat. 26:26.

Take, eat; this is my body.—Mk. 14:22.

This is my body which is given for you:

this do in remembrance of me.—Lu. 22:19.

Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.—I Co. 11:24.

This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.—Lu. 22:20.

Take this, and divide it among yourselves.—Lu. 22:17.

This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.—I Co. 11:25.

Drink ye all of it;

For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.—Mat. 26:27, 28.

This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.—Mk. 14:24.

But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.—Mat. 26:29.

Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.—Mk. 14:25.

For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.—Lu. 22:18.

VII.

THE BETRAYAL.

The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men.—Mat. 17:22.

Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.—Mat. 26:2.

Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.—Mat. 26:21.

I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.—Jno. 13:18, 19.

Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.—Mk. 14:18.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.—Jno. 13:21.

But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.—Lu. 22:21.

He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.—Mat. 26:23.

It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.—Mk. 14:20.

He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it.—Jno. 13:26.

Thou hast said.—Mat. 26:25.

That thou doest, do quickly.—Jno. 13:27.

The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.—Mat. 26:24.

The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him; but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.—Mk. 14:21.

And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!—Lu. 22:22.

Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.—Mat. 26:46.

Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.—Mk. 14:42.

Friend, wherefore art thou come?—Mat. 26:50.

Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?—Lu. 22:48.

Whom seek ye?

I am he.

Whom seek ye?

I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way.—Jno. 18:4, 5, 7, 8.

Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.—Mat. 26:55.

Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the Scriptures must be fulfilled.—Mk. 14:48, 49.

Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves?

When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.—Lu. 22:52, 53.

If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?—Jno. 18:23.

VIII.

THE CRUCIFIXION.

Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.—Jno. 12:31.

Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.—Lu. 9:44.

For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.—Lu. 22:37.

And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up.—Jno. 3:14.

And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.—Jno. 12:32.

When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.—Jno. 8:28.

IX.

WORDS ON THE CROSS.

Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do.—Lu. 23:34.

Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.—Lu. 23:43.

Woman, behold thy son!

Behold thy mother!—Jno. 19:26, 27.

Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?—Mat. 27:46.

Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?—Mk. 15: 34.

I thirst.—Jno. 19:28.

It is finished.—Jno. 19:30.

Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit.—Lu. 23:46.

X.

DEATH, RESURRECTION, AND ASCENSION.

The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.—Jno. 12:23, 24.

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.—Lu. 18:31.

The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.—Lu. 9:22.

For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

And they shall scourge him, and put him to death; and the third day he shall rise again.—Lu. 18:32, 33.

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.—Mat. 20:18, 19.

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:

And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him; and the third day he shall rise again.—Mk. 10:33, 34.

The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.—Mk. 9:31.

The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again.—Mat. 17: 22, 23.

But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.—Mat. 26:32.

But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.—Mk. 14:28.

Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.—Mat. 17:9.

For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.—Mat. 12:40.

Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.—Jno. 2:19.

A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.—Jno. 16: 16.

Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.—Jno. 16:19-22.

These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you.—Jno. 16:25, 26.

Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.—Jno. 7:33, 34.

I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.—Jno. 8:21.

Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.—Jno. 13:33.

Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.—Jno. 12:7.

For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.—Mat. 26:12.

She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.—Mk. 14:8.

But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.—Lu. 5:35.

But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.—Jno. 16:5-7.

Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.—Jno. 14:19.

And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.—Jno. 14:29.

But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!—Lu. 12:50.

Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.—Jno. 10:17, 18.

Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.—Jno. 16:32.

All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.—Mat. 26:31.

All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. —Mk. 14:27.

Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards. —Jno. 13:36.

What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?—Jno. 6: 62.

And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.—Jno. 3:13.

Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.—Jno. 20:17.

XI.

UTTERANCES AFTER THE RESURRECTION.

Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou?

Mary.

Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.—Jno. 20:15-17.

All hail.

Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.—Mat. 28:9, 10.

What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?—Lu. 24:17.

What things?—Lu. 24:19.

O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?—Lu. 24:25, 26.

Peace be unto you.—Lu. 24:36.

Peace be unto you.—Jno. 20:19.

Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.—Jno. 20:21.

Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.—Lu. 24:38, 39.

Have ye here any meat?—Lu. 24:41.

These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.—Lu. 24:44.

Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

And ye are witnesses of these things.

And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.—Lu. 24:46-49.

Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.—Jno. 20: 22, 23.

Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;

They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.—Mk. 16:15-18.

Peace be unto you.

Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.—Jno. 20:26, 27.

Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.—Jno. 20: 29.

Children, have ye any meat?

Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find.—Jno. 21:5, 6.

Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.—Jno. 21:10.

Come and dine.—Jno. 21:12.

Follow me.—Jno. 21:19.

If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.—Jno. 21: 22.

Wait for the promise of the Father, which ye have heard of me.—Acts 1:4.

All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.—Mat. 28:18.

For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.—Acts 1:5.

It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. —Acts 1:7, 8.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.—Mat. 28:19, 20.

THE PROPHECIES.

I.

SECOND COMING, AND EVENTS PRECEDING.

Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mat. 26:64.

I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.—Mk. 14: 62.

Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.—Lu. 22:69.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.—Jno. 1:51.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out.

But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.—Mat. 25:1-13.

And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

All these are the beginning of sorrows.

Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand,)

Then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains:

Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house:

Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

Behold, I have told you before.

Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark,

And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.—Mat. 24:6-47.

But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.—Mk. 2:20.

And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains:

And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take anything out of his house:

And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.

But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not:

For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,

And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.

And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

Now learn a parable of the fig tree: When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:

So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.

Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.

Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning:

Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.—Mk. 13:7-36.

For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day.—Lu. 17:24.

And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.—Lu. 17:26.

But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.—Lu. 17:25.

They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded;

But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.

In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

Remember Lot's wife.—Lu. 17:27-32.

I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.—Lu. 17:34-37.

As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.—Lu. 21:6.

Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.

But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by.

Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:

And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.

But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.

And it shall turn to you for a testimony.

Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

In your patience possess ye your souls.

And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.

For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

Behold the fig tree, and all the trees;

When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.—Lu. 21:8-36.

Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning;

And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.—Lu. 12:35-40.

Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.—Lu. 12:42-48.

Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.—Mk. 8:38.

For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.—Lu. 9:26.

Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?—Lu. 18:8.

II.

JERUSALEM.

O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!

Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Mat. 23:37-39.

If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side.

And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.—Lu. 19:42-44.

O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Lu. 13:34, 35.

See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.—Mat. 24:2.

Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.—Mk. 13:2.

Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?—Lu. 23: 28-31.

Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.—Jno. 4:21.

And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.

For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.—Lu. 21:20-24.

But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne:

Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King.—Mat. 5:34, 35.

III.

THE JEWS.

I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.—Mat. 15:24.

But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.—Mat. 10:6.

It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.—Mat. 15:26.

Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.—Mk. 7:27.

Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews.—Jno. 4:22.

And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.—Mat. 8:11, 12.

And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.—Lu. 21:24.

Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?—Jno. 7:19.

I have done one work, and ye all marvel.—Jno. 7:21.

I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.—Jno. 8:37.

Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?—Jno. 10:32.

I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

Ye do the deeds of your father.

If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God: neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.—Jno. 8:38-47.

I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.—Jno. 8:49.

If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.—Jno. 9:41.

But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.—Jno. 10:26.

Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.—Mat. 21:31, 32.

If I tell you, ye will not believe:

And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.—Lu. 22:67, 68.

But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows,

And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.—Mat. 11:16-19.

Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.

The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!

But wisdom is justified of all her children.—Lu. 7:31-35.

My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.—Jno. 18:36.

I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.—Jno. 18:20.

The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.—Mat. 22:2-7.

IV.

THE SCRIBES, PHARISEES, AND SADDUCEES.

The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not. Mat. 23:2, 3.

Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the marketplaces,

And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts.—Mk. 12:38, 39.

Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts;

Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.—Lu. 20:46, 47.

Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.—Mk. 12:40.

Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.—Lu. 12:1.

For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.—Mat. 23:4-7.

Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.—Mat. 15:14.

Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.—Mk. 8:15.

Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.—Mat. 16:6.

But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.—Mat. 23:13-15.

Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.—Lu. 11:46.

Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.—Lu. 11:52.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess.—Mat. 23:25.

Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.—Lu. 11:39.

Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.—Mat. 23:26.

Ye fools, did not he, that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

But woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.—Lu. 11:40-43.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.—Mat. 23:27.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.—Lu. 11:44.

Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.—Mat. 23:28.

But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.—Jno. 5:42.

Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,

This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.—Mat. 15:7-9.

Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.—Mk. 7:6.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,

And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.—Mat. 23:29-31.

Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.—Lu. 11:47, 48.

Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.—Mat. 23:32.

O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.—Mat. 12:34.

Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city.—Mat. 23:33, 34.

Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute.—Lu. 11:49.

That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.—Mat. 23:35.
